QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Reform of the Police Department.

1. *MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) for what purpose the C. I. D. exists in the Police Force in the State;

(b) whether it is on the population or on the taluk basis that the number in the Police is fixed at present; and

(c) if it is on the population basis, the percentage of population for every Constable, the percentage of Head Constables to Constables and the percentage of Inspectors to Head Constables, respectively?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): (a) To help the regular force in investigation and detection.

(b) According to public necessities.

(c) Does not arise in view of answer to (b) above.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): With reference to part (a), may I know the nature of the cases or offences which are being entrusted to the C. I. D. for investigation and detection?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Almost all kinds of cases calling for investigation by the Police.

PRESIDENT: Will the honourable member kindly raise his voice?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): There are several cases in which the uniformed Police are confronted with special difficulties in investigation. All such cases have now been taken up by the C. I. D.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether official corruption also is to be investigated by the C. I. D.?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): That is confidential.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether at any time the C. I. D. has been entrusted with that work?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): I have already given my answer, Sir.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know.....

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I have not finished yet.

PRESIDENT: Honourable members have no right to restrain each other. That is the prerogative of the Chair.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): When was the Police Force first organised in Travancore?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): About 50 years ago.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know the number of Constables, Head Constables and Inspectors at that time?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): I claim notice.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedunangad): May I know the system of working in England?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): I am not aware of the system of working in England.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedunangad): May I know whether the Government are aware of the system obtaining in respect of the Police force in any of the civilised countries in Europe?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): I believe that what is happening in Travancore is happening in other parts also.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedunangad): May I know whether the member can say that crime increases with the increase of population in a country?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): There is a general tendency for crime to increase with the increase of population.

PRESIDENT: Honourable members must remember that philosophical disquisitions and abstract questions do not form appropriate themes for questions and answers.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedunangad): May I know whether Government are aware that population has increased in the State subsequent to the reorganisation of the Police force?

PRESIDENT: The question need not be answered.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know whether the C. I. D. was reorganised recently?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Yes, Sir.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): When was it reorganised?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): In the middle of last year.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): What were the circumstances that necessitated such a reorganisation in the middle of last year?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): There were a large number of Known Depredators who had gone out of view. Several cases of thefts and burglaries remained undetected. Counterfeit coins and forged currency were in wide circulation. There were political agitations, labour movements, meetings and conferences, and special observations had to be kept unobtrusively on the movements of those engaged in these troublesome activities involving breach of public peace and tranquillity. All this required the services of a strong body of C. I. D. Officers. Hence there was urgent necessity to reorganise the force.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know whether the reorganisation has entailed additional expenditure?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): It has.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): What is the amount?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): About Rs. 82,000.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know whether this House was consulted before the reorganisation was effected?

PRESIDENT: The honourable member knows the answer to the question himself.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know why that was not placed before this House.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): I was not considered necessary.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know, Sir, why it was not considered necessary when all supplementary grants are being placed before this House?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Because it was an emergent measure.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know why Government cannot call a special session for the purpose.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): I have no answer for that question.

M. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether instances of corruption among officials are included in the scope of enquiry by the C. I. D.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): I have given my answer already.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether C. I. D. Inspectors are given separate stations?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): There are no separate Stations. While certain Officers have jurisdiction all over the State, others have only district jurisdiction.

Inferior servants qualified for promotion in the Land Revenue Department.

2. *MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government be pleased to state the number of permanent hands in the inferior service in the Revenue Department qualified for promotion to the superior service?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): Thirty.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the permanent hands employed in the inferior service of the Revenue Department are being given promotions?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): Sometimes they are given acting promotions.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether those persons who have been given acting promotions have been confirmed?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): I claim notice.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether new persons have been recruited ignoring the claims of acting persons?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): Better qualified persons have been recruited in preference to persons having inferior qualifications.

Minor Irrigation works in the Nedumangal taluk.

3. * MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether they are aware that the people have petitioned that the Kulavikottu chira and Kalathottil ana, as they exist now, are not at all useful for paddy cultivation;

(b) whether water cess is being collected for the chira and the ana from the owners of paddy fields and garden lands in Karipon and Nedumangal etc;

(c) whether the Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner has not personally inspected both the chira and the ana;

(d) when he inspected them;

(e) what his recommendation was;

(f) whether the Government have accepted his recommendation; and

(g) whether Minor Irrigation officers have inspected both the chira and the ana?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): (a) Yes.

(b) Half contribution is being realised from the ryots on account of the works.

(c) Yes.

(d) On 27-8-1934.

(e) The recommendations of Heads of Departments to Government are confidential and cannot be disclosed.

(f) Government after consideration of his report have ordered to stop the excess collection of the cess and to rectify the mistakes in the list.

(g) Yes.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal): May I know when the chira and ana referred to in part (a) of the question were executed?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): In 1106 and 1108, respectively.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal): May I know whether the officer in charge of it just before and after the completion of that work said that the work will not be useful? Was there any representation from the ryots about this?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): No.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal): May I know whether there was any representation from the public?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Yes. There was a representation from Mr. S. J. Nair also.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal): May I know the date of that representation?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): The honourable member himself can answer the question. He should know when he sent the representation.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): A word of explanation. I do not know when the chira and ana were completed. I ask whether there was representation to the effect that the work will not be useful.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I have not the information here and therefore I requested the member to answer the question himself.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): A point of explanation, Sir. I never asked any question whether I made any representation. My question was whether the Government or the Chief Engineer had received any representation either prior to or after the execution of the work to the effect that it will be useless.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I have not the materials to furnish the answer ready here, Sir.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): With reference to part (b) of the answer, may I know why in the face of the answer to part (a) that the chira and ana will be useless, half contribution is being realised from the ryots?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): The member is referred to the answer to part (f) where it is stated that the collection of the cess has been stopped. I am not sure that the honourable member is correct when he says that the chira is useless. It is understood that it could be improved.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, I rise to a point of order. It has already been answered in part (a) that the chira is useless. Now the member does not admit it.

PRESIDENT: That is not a point of order.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): It is a point of explanation. I repeat my question.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): The question in part (a) is whether the people have petitioned that this chira as it exists now is not useful for paddy cultivation. The answer is that they have petitioned. That does not mean that the Government admit that the chira is useless.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the Government have realised that the chira and ana are useless now?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): That is a matter of opinion.

Magistrate's Court in Nedumangad.

4. * MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether a site has already been selected to construct the proposed building to locate the Magistrate's Court at Nedumangad; and

(b) whether the estimate has already been called for and sanctioned for the construction of the building?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) Yes.

(b) Yes.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know the amount sanctioned for the construction of the Magistrate's Court.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Rs. 7,330.

Kandiagar—Mascot Hotel Road.

5. * MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the length of the road between the Kandiagar Palace Gate and the Mascot Hotel near the Chief Engineer's Office;

(b) under the Town-Planning system, whether the repair and improvement of the road has been completed;

(c) the amount that has been spent for the purpose up to the end of Edavam 1111;

(d) when the work began;

(e) when it was completed; and

(f) if it is not yet completed, how much more time and money would it require for its completion?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): (a) 8895 Rft.

(b) No.

(c) Rs. 3,28,432 including the land compensation to the extent of Rs. 75,188.

(d) In Kanni 1109.

(e) This does not arise in view of the answer to part (b).

(f) It may be completed this year at a further approximate cost of Rs. 1,22,000.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): With reference to parts (b) and (f) may I know the reason for the delay in completing this work?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): We are awaiting instructions from Government to carry on the work.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the sum of Rs. 3,28,432 has been actually expended for the purpose of this road?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Yes.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know the amount of waste on the part of the P. W. D. that will come under that?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): It is an improper question.

PRESIDENT: You are at liberty to answer that. I am not disallowing the question.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): There is no waste.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know from Government how many times the road was partly completed, again dug up and again completed?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I have not got the information.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the Chief Engineer conducted proper inspection when the work was in progress?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Yes, Sir.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the Chief Engineer has brought to the notice of Government that there was absolute waste in the construction of the work?

PRESIDENT: Having regard to the answer of the Chief Engineer that there is no waste, this question does not arise.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the Government will be pleased to appoint an expert committee to go into the expenditure incurred on that road till now?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): There is no need to do so.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether the expenditure of Rs. 1,22,000 referred to in part (f) of the question will not be decreased under the Town Planning Scheme?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): This is part and parcel of the Town Planning Scheme.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): May I know the original estimated amount of the road?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I claim notice.

Office of the Curator for the Publication of Oriental Manuscripts.

6. *MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the number of applications received offering buildings for the location of the Office of the Curator for the Publication of Oriental Manuscripts;

(b) whether all the buildings so offered were inspected and the amount of rent for each ascertained;

(c) if the answer to part (b) is in the negative, the reason for the same; and

(d) whether the building now taken up for the purpose was found to be useless both by the Excise and the Devaswom Departments in recent times to locate their offices?

RAO BANADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) Seven

(b) and (c) Yes ; except one which was found to be out of the way and difficult of access.

(d) It was found unsuitable to hold the Office of the Assistant Devaswom Commissioner and the Excise Division and the Range Offices, Trivandrum.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal) : May I know why in the face of the answer to part (d) this building was selected for the location of the office of the Curator ?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government) : The building was found unsuitable for the office of the Assistant Devaswom Commissioner and the Excise Division and Range Offices. But it was found suitable for the Curator's office and so it was selected.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal) : May I know the amount of rent that is being paid ?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government) : Rs. 25 per mensem.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal) : May I know the amount of rent for the buildings that were offered ?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government) : Rs. 10, Rs. 30, Rs. 20, Rs. 35 and Rs. 35 respectively for the first five buildings ; no rent was specified for the sixth ; and Rs. 25 was demanded for the seventh which has been selected.

7. *MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal) : Will the Government be pleased to state :

(a) whether there is any representation for the construction of the Valliyarappamoodu Estate road ;

(b) whether Mr. Thommien Joseph and the inhabitants of the Pullampara, Manikal, Vembayam and Anadu pukuthies have already constructed a village road from Tembammoodu to a distance of about five miles ; and

(c) whether the Government are aware that the construction and extension of the above road would connect the Anadu-Vembayam road at Tembammoodu and Nedumangal-Vembayam road at Tannimoodu ?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation) : (a) Yes.

(b) Only one and a half miles have been improved by the owner of the estate.

(c) Yes.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal) : May I know what action has been taken on the representation referred to in part (a) of the question ?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation) : Government orders are that the improvements to the road etc. are to be taken up only after the people have done their portion according to the Ryots Road Rules.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangudi): May I know whether the Government are aware that the road in question has already been partly constructed under the Ryots Road Rules by the people themselves?

Mr. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): No, Sir.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangudi): Is there not a provision to say that whenever there is necessity for certain roads to be constructed by the people, the Government must view with sympathy the work that has to be carried out by the latter.

PRESIDENT: Is it the honourable member's interpretation that the rules regarding the ryots road should be viewed with sympathy by Government?

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangudi): My question is this. Is it not the duty of the P. W. D. to consider about construction of the road and not wait until the rules are carried out by the people themselves?

Mr. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): There are certain definite rules on the subject, and those rules have to be carried out.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangudi): Do Government think that they are necessary rules?

Mr. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): It is a matter of opinion. Government do not make unnecessary rules.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangudi): Then may I know whether the Government would take up the construction of useful roads?

Mr. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Government do not take up any other than useful roads.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangudi): Then may I know why this useful road has not been taken up for construction?

Mr. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): There are more important roads waiting for provision of funds.

Plumbago Powder.

8. *Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangudi): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) how many tons or cwts. of plumbago powder are required for the use of the foundry work in the P. W. D. Workshop at Trivandrum;

(b) whether the plumbago powder is being obtained from contractors;

(c) whether the order for the powder is given on contract;

(d) whether tenders are being called for, for the giving of the said contract;

(e) from where the powder is being got down or purchased at present;

(f) whether Travancoreans have offered to supply the powder from Travancore;

(g) what has become of the application of the Travancoreans ;
and

(h) why the order is not given to a Travancorean ?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation) :

(a) About 9 cwt. per year.

(b) Yes.

(c) and (d) As the quantity required from time to time is small, quotations are called for.

(e) From the contractor whose quotation is the lowest, either in Travancore or outside.

(f) Yes.

(g) The applications of Travancoreans are given due consideration and orders for the supply are placed with them if the sample supplied by them is found, on testing, not inferior in quality to that supplied by outsiders.

(h) Does not arise in view of answer to (g).

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal) : In answer to part (e) may I know, how many contractors have submitted quotations to supply plumbago powder in the years 1110 and 1111 ?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation) : I have no information.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal) : May I know the exact nature of the quotation submitted by outsiders and Travancoreans on the subject ?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation) : The contract given will depend upon the quality as well as the price of the article.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal) : May I know the names of the contractors as well as the amounts offered for the supply of plumbago during the year 1111 ?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation) : I claim notice.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal) : Sir, in the face of a very clear question put to the Government, it is not quite reasonable that the Government member should ask for notice,

PRESIDENT : The honourable member must be aware that the question may be very clear but the answer may require preparation.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal) : In the face of the answer to part (c) of the question may I know whether the Government are aware that the quotation given by the Travancorean was the lowest in the matter of supply of plumbago ?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation) : It is not only the lowest tender or quotation that has to be considered. The quality of the material has to be considered also. Though it is a very small thing it is very important for the workshops to have good quality.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the Government are aware that plumbago is now being brought down by an outside contractor?

Mr. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): It is quite possible.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the Government are aware that year before the last, a Travancorean was supplying plumbago to the workshops which is now being done by an outsider?

Mr. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): It may be so.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Then may I know why in the face of the existence of Travancoreans who are prepared to supply plumbago for the lowest rate, preference has been given to an outsider?

Mr. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): It depends upon the quality as well as the price offered.

Water-tax and house-tax in Trivandrum town.

9. *Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the rate at which and the date from which water-tax is collected from houses in the Trivandrum town;

(b) whether the water-tax will be collected from houses which are vacant;

(c) whether remission of water-tax and house-tax cannot be granted to vacant houses which are intended to be let out but are not actually let out; and

(d) the number of applications from the people of various localities for constructing fountains on by-lanes, the number sanctioned, and the number rejected, with reasons for the same?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA Dr. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) From 1-1-1111 M. B., at the rate of three per cent of the net rental value of buildings.

(b) Yes.

(c) Yes. (Under Sections 73 and 93 of the Travancore Municipal Regulation).

(d) No separate list is being maintained of the applications for erecting stand posts in by-lanes. From the available statistics it is seen that 35 applications were received, of which 18 were complied with. Eight applications were rejected; six for the reason that they did not satisfy the conditions mentioned in paragraph 24 of the printed report on the Willingdon Water Works and two because they related to private lanes. Of the remaining nine applications, three relate to the area under the second stage works now in progress, and one has already been sanctioned but is awaiting execution. The remaining five applications are pending consideration.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangudi): In answer to part (i) may I know whether the Government are aware that the collection of water-tax is causing hardship to the people?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Yes, but they can get refund or remission by applying for it in proper time.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangudi): May I know how many applications were submitted for remission and how many granted last year?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I claim notice.

The College for Women.

10 *MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the number of students in each class in His Highness the Maha Raja's College for Women;

(b) the number of students in the History Section in the Junior Intermediate, Senior Intermediate, Junior B. A. and Senior B. A. classes; and

(c) the number of students in the Botany section in each class?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction):

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): In answer to part (b) may I know the number of applications received for admission?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): The number varies from year to year. There were 7 applicants this year and 6 of them were admitted.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): May I know whether any selection was made from among those applications?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Sir, I have just said that there were 7 applicants and 6 of them were given admission.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): May I know whether there was sufficient room in the Arts College to admit those students?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Yes, Sir.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): May I know whether they have any objection in closing the History section of the Women's College?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): It is a suggestion for future action.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know why when there were 7 applicants only 6 of them were admitted?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): One was not eligible under the rules for admission, because, she had made more than three attempts for passing the Intermediate examination.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know whether all the 7 applicants were entitled to get admission under the Rules prescribed by the University?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Yes, Sir.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Then may I know, under what rule admission was refused to the particular candidate?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Under Rules issued by the Travancore Government for admission to the Government Colleges.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know why the Travancore Government have issued fresh rules restricting admissions even when there is plenty of accommodation?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Sir, I submit that these questions do not arise at all out of this particular question.

PRESIDENT: Since the honourable member has begun to answer such questions I cannot rule them out. But if the honourable member has materials on the point, he can answer this question.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): The general principle of these restrictions is that only students who possess average fitness for University studies should be admitted. A student who has made more than 3 attempts to pass the Intermediate examination is not considered fit for higher University studies.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Am I to understand then that the Travancore Government is in a position to say that the University has not been able to frame rules for regulating admissions in relation to the fitness of candidates.

PRESIDENT: I disallow that question.

MR. K. KUNJURKISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know whether the Government have deviated from the principle of fitness in the case of admissions of candidates that are backward in education?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): To some extent exemptions have been given to members of backward communities and women.

MR. K. KUNJURKISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know whether any such action was taken with regard to the admission of women in the Junior B. A. Class?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): No.

MR. K. KUNJURKISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know why?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Because it was considered that it was going too far to make an exemption in that case.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know whether anybody who has taken more than three years for passing the Intermediate examination has been admitted either in the Science College or Arts College or Women's College?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Yes, Sir, I think there were one or two cases.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Toraval): Is it the position of Government that in spite of accommodation these rules will be strictly enforced?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): The rules will be enforced but exemptions may be given in the most deserving cases.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kollam I): May I know the reason for giving exemptions to the few cases referred to?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Because they belonged to backward and depressed classes mainly.

NOTICES OF ADJOURNMENT MOTIONS.

PRESIDENT: I have received notice of three motions for adjournment of the business of the Assembly. I shall read them one by one. The text of the first motion is this:

"the serious situation that has arisen to the political rights of several citizens in the State in not respecting the Government Order in 1940 to conduct Pokuvavva of all partition deeds and sale deeds from 1101 M. E. up to the end of 1110 M. E. by the Taluk Tahsildars, thereby denying the right of voting to thousands of persons in the State, who pay land tax of Rupee one and above, in the coming elections to the Travancore Legislative Bodies."

I disallow this motion as it does not come in any manner within the scope of the rules governing the subject.

The next motion reads thus:

".....the recent apprehension among the masses of people and in commercial centres that the Rupee coin bearing the effigy of Queen Victoria is not legal currency and the consequent dislocation of commercial business and hardship to the public".

That is not a matter of recent occurrence and so that is disallowed.

The third motion reads thus:

".....the desirability of either fixing the date or dates of the coming elections to the Travancore Legislative Bodies, either before the 10th of Madom 1112 M. E., or postponing it to a convenient date, so that the elections be conducted in the summer season, instead of in the winter season."

This motion is allowed and discussion will take place at the appointed time on Wednesday.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Muzhikara): Before fixing the time is it not necessary that the leave of the House should be obtained?

PRESIDENT: Yes. Those in favour of the motion will please signify their assent.

(None stood up.)

PRESIDENT: As there is no one in favour of the motion, the motion is disallowed.

WELCOME TO THE NEW PRESIDENT.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Tiracandrum-Urban): This meeting of the Sri Mulam Assembly luckily synchronises with the happy week when the festivities connected with the birthday of His Highness the Maharaja, Sri Chitra Thirunal, are being kept up with joyous enthusiasm throughout the State and beyond it. The very elements revel in happiness. Humanity leaps in joy, for, the excesses which hitherto prevented the natural development of social justice, the incrustations of time which kept a large portion of the subjects of His Highness the Maharaja, along with their brethren in other parts of India, smothered under the ban of untouchability and unapproachability, have been removed by the recent Royal Proclamation, that great instalment of benevolent legislation, which has made His Highness' twenty-fourth birthday a most remarkable and momentous event in the history of modern India. From the Himalayas to Cape Comorin the whole continent is in ecstasy. The atmosphere resounds with the praises of our beloved Sovereign who, in the short space of five years, has vindicated the noble traditions of his dynasty and justified the expectations of an admiring world by a series of beneficent measures. The star which shines so bright when it has but begun its course in the firmament must needs bathe this ancient land in splendour in the steady progress to culmination. This House offers its loyal and respectful congratulations to His Highness the Maharaja on his birthday. May His Highness' reign be long, happy and glorious.

On behalf of this Assembly I tender you, Sir, a hearty welcome. Your name is being associated with that of His Highness the Maharaja in the great chapters in the history of freedom which are being shaped in Travancore. We see the accelerated momentum of progress in this State after you became the Dewan. You have had such great opportunities of doing public work and public good as few Indians have ever had. You came to Travancore after winning renown in numerous fields of human endeavour, after compelling the admiration of friends and opponents alike. Your contribution to Indian political thought and your share in the development of New India have been remarkable. "District problems" were for a long time your special study, but you looked at them from the beginning with an eye to their proper place in a scheme of federated effort for making India strong and rich and great. The public works inaugurated in the Madras Presidency under your fostering care are becoming the sources of the streams of plenty in South India. It is only work of a solid character which brings a man an Indian reputation. You did that work and you earned that reputation. Your bold advocacy of the rights of Indian States, and Travancore in particular, in the Round Table Conference has resulted in immense good. This House, which owes its origin and its powers in large measure to your advice is therefore happy to welcome you as its President.

Sir, the Dewanship of Travancore is a great trust, a severe responsibility. The area of this State may not be very large; but we the people of Travancore have a continuity of tradition, a breadth of outlook and an enlightened judgment which is the fruit of long years of good administration under the guidance of an illustrious line of Maharajahs assisted by a succession of Dewans some of whom were men of outstanding eminence. No Dewan has hitherto entered Bhaktivilas with better credentials or with greater loyalty than your esteemed self. And you have entered upon your duties with an open mind on public questions, with a judicial impartiality, and a genuine desire to solve them for the public good. Your utterances bespeak a correct and sympathetic appreciation of the intelligence of the people of Travancore, their ardent love of country and their ingrained loyalty to the throne and person of the Sovereign. Seventy years ago Lord Napier, who was then Governor of Fort St. George, addressing one of your great predecessors Dewan T. Madhava Rao (afterwards Rajah Sir T. Madhava Rao) while investing him with the insignia of the Order of Knighthood of the Star of India, said: "Continue to serve the Maharaja industriously and wisely, reflecting the intelligence and virtues of His Highness faithfully to his people. The mission in which you are engaged has more than a local and transitory significance. Remember that the spectacle of a good Indian Minister serving a good Indian Sovereign is one which may have a lasting influence on the policy of England and the future of Native Governments". This is the true ideal. The distinguished order to which His Highness the Maharaja was pleased to admit you at the Birthday Durbar is an eloquent testimony to your devotion to His Highness the Maharaja, the prestige of royalty, and your solicitude for the good of the people.

Sir, from the pinnacle of prominence to which you had raised yourself by dint of talent and industry, supported by an all-round culture and generous impulse, you have accepted in a graceful manner and without parading any sacrifice the high office which His Highness the Maharaja who knew you so long and so intimately was pleased to offer you. Having come here, you have set yourself to the task of improving the material and moral condition of the people, improving agriculture, industry and trade, enhancing the cultural value of our institutions and making our life fuller, richer and happier. In all this noble effort your joy is to glorify His Highness the Maharaja and to display the beauty, the magnificence and the harmony of His Highness' intentions.

I assure you Sir, that in this noble endeavour this House composed of representatives of various classes and interests will give you all legitimate co-operation, all legitimate assistance. I make bold to say that you have every reason to feel that the larger rights conferred on the Legislature by the Reforms have been fully justified by the wisdom, the sobriety and the dignity of its deliberations. Your predecessors have treated the Assembly with becoming courtesy and regard. And I am sure that with your broad vision and phenomenal knowledge and experience of public bodies, provincial and imperial, you will maintain our rights, safeguard our privileges, and facilitate its dignified association with His Highness' Government in working for the good of the State and the well-being of the people. This House welcomes you Sir, with open hands and with the warmest feelings of pleasure. (Applause).

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkeezh): I wish to associate myself with the sentiments of congratulation given expression to by my esteemed friend Mr. T. K. Velu Pillai. The very large number of receptions accorded to you on your way to the capital city to take up your new portfolio bear ample testimony to the jubilant spirit in which this country welcomed your Dewanship. Your intimate association with Travancore and its Royal House for the past several years, we are sure, will stand in good stead in understanding and appreciating the various internal and external problems that confront the State. Your varied and wide experience of life and your unparalleled devotion to the Throne and person of His Highness the Maharaja will enable you to tackle all these problems with a degree of success unachieved by several others.

The problem of depressed classes has been, for ages long, the greatest impediment to the progress of Indian society and polity. You have rightly laid your finger on that crucial question and I must say that you have taken a very bold step in advising His Highness the Maharaja who has been graciously pleased to allow Temple entry to all Hindus (Applause), an act which has added lustre to His Highness who is already a brilliant luminary in the firmament of Indian Princes. We hope that you will spare no pains in securing and safeguarding the due rights and privileges of this State in the new federal State which is being evolved in British India. The Birthday title 'Sachivorthama' which His Highness the Maharaja has been pleased to confer upon you is but a token of His Highness's warm appreciation of your loyalty and devotion to his person. I take this opportunity to congratulate His Highness as well as his Minister.

MR. K. C. ABRAHAM (Kottayam): Sir, permit me to associate myself heartily with all that has been said by the Deputy President with reference to the Dewan-President of the day.

I have the privilege to speak on behalf of a not inconsiderable section, the Liberal party in the Assembly, under the distinguished leadership of Mr. P. K. Narayana Pillai, in whose unavoidable absence it devolves upon me, Sir, to extend to you, our hearty felicitations on the discriminating choice made by His Highness the Maharaja to the most responsible office in this ancient and far off State of Travancore.

As we are well aware you have been associated with this State's interests for a long time now; and we believe your masterful hand has had a great share in shaping a constitutional scheme, I mean the bicameral system of legislature in this State and in revising it, as requirements necessitated, much in advance of the systems obtaining elsewhere in the British Indian provinces or in other Indian States.

Thanks to that bold stroke of policy, fears have all been laid low, and a most intricate problem practically solved for the present. Those that have helped the Government to work it up and promise to continue that work deserve gratitude. I will not say more. Though the life of this Assembly is waning short, we assure you, Sir, that you can count on our utmost help and support in keeping up the tone and the dignity, the force and independence of the House which you shall guide far beyond our term of work.

As the Legal and Constitutional Adviser to His Highness, you have spared no pains and stinted no labour to bring this illustrious State and our beloved Sovereign to the forefront in the world's recognition and of illustrious circles; and we are proud of the discriminating choice of His Highness in entrusting to your hands the destinies of this land for, we believe, a number of years to come.

We want you Sir, during this period of evolution through distress. For, are we not seeing around us all throughout the world a wide and wild awakening of which the ultimate results are shrouded in breathless suspense? Are we not passing through a crisis of social and political and economic upheaval of which the far reaching consequences demand a far seeing eye? Imperial interests interwined with the interests of this State now demand a mutual settlement on a firm basis for ordered progress in all directions; and we can look up to no man other than yourself with your love and admiration for this country to tide us safely over the ruffles that are presently to overtake us. Since you have been appointed to this high place, we have been watching with rapt anxiety your utterances and writings concerning the interests of this State, both external and internal, and we are glad to assure you Sir, that every problem that you have touched, whether it be political or administrative, social or economic, religious or communal, has been handled under the masterful guidance of His Highness with a characteristic foresight and energy that have not failed to evoke the genuine admiration and sympathy of all who wish well of their King and their Country.

Let me not make any particular reference to the various deputations that waited upon you with important matters of public interest, or to your speeches and writings in the public and the Press. For, they all point to one end; your earnest endeavour to give self expression to this country's cause, and to bring the State into the van of the most forward peoples of the Empire; and may we hope, knowing as we do your signal services to its cause, that the courageous and energetic policy which you have set out will grow from more to more, and gather strength to strength that in the fulness of time His Highness's reign may well be renowned in the story of this land, as an era of unparalleled peace, progress and plenty. We extend to you our sincere co-operation, and wish you all success.

RAO SAHIB MAHA KAVI S. PARAMESWARA AIYAR (Nominated): Pray permit me, Sir, to add my tribute of cordial and respectful felicitations to His Gracious Highness the Maha Raja and to yourself, to those which have already flowed with such significant spontaneity from this side of the House. Great occasions need great men, and at a time like this Travancore requires a "Sachivohama" of your physical strength, mental equipment and moral stamina, to deal with the several problems, administrative, political, social and constitutional that confront her. A true and tried son of Mother India, a stalwart among stalwarts in the fields of administration and politics, of literature and law, gifted with an eloquence which is forcefully reminiscent of Dr. Annie Besant, an intellectual giant who has won fadefless laurels in several spheres of public usefulness not only in India but also in Great Britain, the trusted friend, philosopher, and guide of our ruling family in Travancore for many years now, you have been, if I may say so, with due respect and becoming submission, rightly selected by His Highness the Maharaja to fill the office of Dewan and you have accepted that office, at great personal sacrifice, impelled by a dominating sense of duty.

Sir, in former times we had a Rama as our Prime Minister, the Great Ramayyan Dalawa. We had also a "Valia Divanji" the equally great "Raja Kesava Das." Allow me, Sir, to assure you that it is not merely our fervent prayer, eager hope or our confident belief, but our firm expectation that, as the watchful guardian of the ever expanding interests of our dear motherland in the eventful years to come, it will be given to you to so distinguish yourself and to leave such an illustrious and enduring record behind as to enable a grateful posterity to count your name with those of Ramayyan Dalawa and Raja Kesava Das and to remember you for ever as Valiya Divanji Rameswami Aiyar of Travancore.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Opposition): Sir, I too wish to associate myself with the sentiments already expressed by the previous speakers and to join in the felicitations. During the banquet given recently by the Indian princes in honour of His Excellency Lord Willingdon, the then Viceroy of India, it was His Highness Sri Chitra Tirunal who said that Native States were no anachronism, but that they were an essential ingredient of the Indian polity who could contribute much to the progress and well-being of the country. To-day His Highness has more than justified the claim he then made. What British Indian politicians could not achieve by years of agitation and what was still considered to be a goal not to be realised in the near future, has been achieved by His Highness in the twinkling of an eye. Sir, by the Temple Entry Proclamation His Highness has not merely removed a great blot on Hinduism, but he has actually removed a great blot from Indian material life and laid the foundation for the complete unification of India.

Having said this much I would request you, Sir, to so frame the rules as to make it possible for all subjects of His Highness the Maha Raja, irrespective of caste or creed, to derive what spiritual benefits they can from the temples now thrown open.

Sir, the granting of temple entry to non-caste Hindus of His Highness the Maharaja has certainly removed a blot from Hinduism. Personally I think that His Highness will be adding more lustre to his name if the non-Hindus of the State are also allowed temple entry. (No, No, No). So I request you Sir, to convey to His Highness the request of this House to make the recent Proclamation still more comprehensive by throwing open the temples not only to all his Hindu subjects but to the non-Hindus also (No, No).

PRESIDENT: Order, order.

Mr. P. C. KURIAN (Kottayam I): Sir, Hinduism as I understand is so liberal that it has in its fold every form of worshippers from the higher Sanathanaist to those who follow a low and crude form of worship and I do not see any reason why Christians who were Hindus about five hundred years ago are not brought under this Proclamation. Sir, my question is why a distinction is made in the matter of Christians and other non-Hindus entering the temples.

PRESIDENT: Honourable member should confine his speech to the motion under consideration.

Mr. P. C. KURIAN (Kottayam I): Sir, I have seen temples in British India and they are really temples of beauty, more so than most of the Museums we find.

Mr. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Sir, I rise to a point of order. Is the hon'ble member privileged to make random attacks on Hinduism in the guise of offering a few words of congratulation to the new President?

PRESIDENT: I have been watching the hon'ble member's speech and if I find any reflection on the beliefs of other sections of the House I will stop him. But I take it that the hon'ble member who is now on his legs does not intend to cast any reflection on any section of belief in the State.

Mr. P. C. KURIAN (Kottayam I): Sir, I was making only an appeal that other non-Hindu Christians may also be allowed the opportunity of seeing and appreciating the beauty of the Hindu temples in our State.

PRESIDENT: The hon'ble member will now turn to some other topics.

Mr. P. C. KURIAN (Kottayam I): Sir, I also heartily welcome you as the President of this Assembly.

MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): Meeting as we do during the birthday festivities of His Highness the Maharaja, I deem it my paramount duty to offer my heartfelt and loyal felicitations to His Gracious Highness the Maharaja on His Highness's 24th birthday. At the same time I have great pleasure in according to you Sir, a most cordial welcome as the President of this august Assembly. Sir, it has been pointed out by my predecessors that this bicameral legislature is a product of your intelligence. Hence it is only appropriate that we express our feelings of gratitude and congratulation to you on this occasion when you preside for the first time. Sir, it is no exaggeration to say that few Dewans have had such varied experience both as an official and as a non-official, as you possess. Whether as a distinguished member of the Bar, or as a member of the World Economic Conference or of the Round Table Conference in London or as a member of the Federal Structure Sub-Committee or as a member of the Executive Council, you have left an indelible impression and have earned an undying reputation. Your wide experience of men and things, your thorough mastery of political and economic questions, your forensic ability, your versatile talents, and above all, your wonderful capacity to work hard, will stand you in good stead in carrying on the administration of this enlightened State to the maximum benefit of its people. Sir, you have been chosen as the trusted Minister of our beloved Sovereign at a most critical juncture in the annals of Travancore history when she is contemplating to join the Federation. Sir, there are very many problems to be solved and which require your immediate attention and we legitimately hope that your past record of glorious achievements will enable you to tackle these problems most successfully, so that when this period of the history of Travancore comes to be written, your name would find a place in the forefront among the distinguished galaxy of Travancore's Ministers.

Sir, let your strenuous efforts, let your wise utterances result in materialisation and beneficial action; let your efforts be crowned with success; that is my humble prayer. I once again extend to you, Sir, our warmest felicitations and congratulations.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tamil): Sir, I have great pleasure in associating myself with the sentiments expressed by the honourable members on this side of the House. It is not certainly exaggeration to say that words fail me to give adequate expression to the feelings that are urging uppermost in my mind at present. A great event of far reaching importance has been made possible to be associated with the celebration of His Highness's birthday. This day of jubilation and rejoicing is doubly blessed for this great Proclamation of granting temple-entry to those hitherto prohibited. This is really appreciated in the whole of this country and outside. Sir, I am just now reminded of the saying of that great Philosopher Poet that "great wits jumpeth", which simply means that great men agree. Am I wrong to say that this great Proclamation proves the truth of this statement. Obviously our great Maharaja was awaiting a great man's arrival as his Minister, to agree on the promulgation of this bold, high-minded and patriotic Proclamation of cutting asunder this touch of untouchability which is a blot on Hindunism. Sir, it appears to me that it may be very easily likened to the great sermon on the Mount. It means that in future there shall not be any distinction between man and man and that there shall not be any inequality in respect of the worship of their creator in temples. I may say that this great thing for which the greatest man of the present day world works hard, and lives and once even swore to die, had been done by our benevolent Maharaja. Sir, it has given a sigh of relief to the millions of our fellow countrymen both here as well as outside. Not only is this a question of venturesome expression of a feeling for humanity but it is going to result in the salvation of future India. Not only it is a question of freedom for religious worship here in our State; but the cause of great relief to the feelings of the people of British India also as evidence of which I may refer to the so many messages that have been published day-to-day in the Dailies of British India. Sir, really speaking, this Proclamation, none of us who have been working for the removal of untouchability expected so soon; and if I have the permission, even to such of those who might know you intimately, any other thing would not have been a surprise; but this daring Proclamation even to them is a bolt from the blue.

Ever since your assumption of the administration, I have been watching you, though at a distance and listening to your replies to the several deputations that waited on you with very important representations. I noticed from them that you are all-absorbed and extremely anxious to promote the prestige of our State and thereby serve well by our king. Now I ask you, Sir, whether this Proclamation has not already vouchsafed for our State, abundance of prestige for which you dream day in and day out. I ask you, Sir, could prestige for our State go further? Our State by this one noble act of our Maharaja has already secured an abiding place in the hearts of millions and has been acclaimed to be a model for others to follow. The prestige of our State is safe in your hands. Sir, our feelings of heart felt welcome burst forth to you spontaneously on this celebration of the birthday of our Maharaja, the emancipator and the deliverer of God's creatures on earth who have been hitherto trodden underneath. But now they can stand erect as men relieved, as people freed and they could breathe freely having been restored to God-given self-respect. Sir, I stop here and wish you all success.

MR. P. CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI (Commerce and Industry, South): Sir, on behalf of the National Party which represents the youth of the country and as the representative of Commerce and Industry I beg to offer the Party's welcome to you. First of all let me be permitted to place on record our heartfelt feelings of loyalty to His Highness the Maharaja. In recent years, we people in Travancore have become dull and unimaginative. What the country's commerce and industries specially wanted was neglected and when we heard about the forward policy, which you initiated as regards the industries of this country, we foresaw a bright future for the country. I am able to count that in the past there are so many achievements which are standing to your credit. We expect and we hope for a very successful administration.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated) : On my behalf and on behalf of the backward communities which I represent I take it as a privilege to associate myself with what has been said by the previous speakers, especially with what has been so feelingly put by my friend on the right side. No person is better fitted to be welcomed as the President of this Assembly with sincerity and warmth of feeling than your worthy self in virtue of the fact that our legislative reforms of which this Assembly is the most important item have been brought into existence under your inspiring constitutional advice and of the fact that it prepares the State of ours to take its legitimate part in the all-India Federation in the scheme of which you have taken not an unimportant part. Under you it is hoped that the legislative bodies will be more and more liberalised as our Hindu Religion purged of its unapproachability and untouchability has been liberalised and beautified. Sir, I cannot miss this opportunity to request you to communicate the profound feeling of gratitude of the backward communities to the noble sovereign for bringing out a person of your eminence to become the President of this Assembly, your handiwork and school of politics in which all classes of His Highness's subjects are trained in political education. I also request you to convey to His Gracious Highness that the members of the backward communities to whom the consolation and solace of Hindu faith has been denied hitherto, will, when standing before the Deities, first offer their prayers not for their own salvation, but for His Highness's longlife and prosperity and the glory of His Highness, for the promulgation of the Temple Entry Proclamation, which is going to truly spiritualise the Hindus. They are also thankful to the Minister who has wholeheartedly supported His Highness in this noble endeavour.

SRIMATHI T. NARAYANI AMMA (Nominated) : Sir, I have very great pleasure in supporting the motion and associating myself with the sentiments expressed by the previous speakers. The appointment of your esteemed self, as the Dewan of our State, has already been abundantly justified. We are now witnessing the dawn of a new era of all-round reforms, the most important of which is the Temple Entry Proclamation. We, the loyal subjects of His Gracious Highness the Maharaja, have to be profoundly grateful to His Highness for the very happy selection made for the Dewanship of our State. May His Highness live long to reign from more to more. With these words I extend to you, Sir, a very hearty welcome.

MR. T. T. KESAVAN SASTRI (Nominated) : ഞാൻ വളരെ സന്തോഷത്തോടും ആഹ്ലാദത്തോടുംകൂടി അഭിനന്ദനം രേഖപ്പെടുത്തിക്കൊള്ളുന്നു.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Untranslated): Sir, on my own behalf and on behalf of the Independent Party of this House, I have great pleasure in endorsing fully the sentiments of appreciation and felicitation expressed on the floor of this House. Sir, we also welcome you as the new President of this House. We are to-day meeting here at the ninth session of this Assembly; and this is the first session under your presidency. The number nine is a very good number; it has got very many good things in store. We are now meeting amidst the rejoicings in connection with the birthday of His Highness the Maha Raja. Our feelings of joy have been heightened by the fact that, in connection with the birthday celebrations, the momentous Proclamation, throwing open all the temples under the control of the Government to all classes of people, has marked another mile stone in the progress of Travancore. Sir, we are all aware of the famous Pattom Proclamation of the year 1940 A. D. That has been rightly called the Magna Charta of the Travancore ryot. Sir, if that is the Magna Charta of the Travancore ryot, this recent Proclamation, which His Highness has been graciously pleased to issue and in framing which you were privileged to tender proper advice to His Highness, is, in its wide sweep, in its far-reaching effect and in its humanitarian appeal, worthy of being placed side by side with some of the famous edicts of the Emperor Asoka the Great. Sir, this Proclamation is not only of Travancore importance. It will have repercussions in the whole of the sub-continent of India, nay, in the whole world.

Sir, permit us to judge you and your work on another occasion. Now we have only to welcome you since this is the first occasion when you preside over the deliberations of this House. As you yourself have observed on another occasion, when you lay down your office, that will be the proper time and occasion for us to judge your work.

I request you, Sir, to convey our respectful felicitations to His Highness the Maha Raja.

PRESIDENT : The words to which I have listened and the manner in which the sentiments that have been uttered were conveyed, have filled me with an overwhelming sense of gratitude as also of embarrassment. But, in one matter, I have no sense of uneasiness or dubiety or embarrassment and that relates to the unanimous, contemporaneous desire on the part of all sections of this House, which is an embodiment and a microcosm of the State of Travancore, to felicitate His Highness the Maha Raja on this happy and auspicious occasion of His birthday. It will be my privilege, as it will be my very great pleasure, to convey to His Highness those sentiments which have been so well expressed.

The occasion has also been taken to refer to a very momentous and far-reaching act by which His Highness has signalised his reign. His Highness has thereby ranged himself by the side of the great helpers of humanity who have raised the self-respect and elevated the status of the masses of this country. (Hear, hear. Cheers.) The problems of the world to-day in essence are not political; they are really social and economical. In the rehabilitation of the self-respect of every component part of humanity, and in the vindication of their self-respect, in the granting of equality of opportunity and of aspiration, a great service has been done. It will be my duty as well as my privilege to communicate to His Highness the general sentiment throughout India of which you have voiced the expression.

Now, turning to the remarks that have been made about me, I may without reserve voice my feelings of embarrassment. This is the first time that I have been called upon to fill the presidential chair of any Assembly. It has been given to me to be a non-official member of every kind of chamber in India. I have been a non-official member of the Madras Legislative Council; I have been a non-official member of the Council of State; I have also been a non-official member of the Legislative Assembly. It has also been my privilege to be the Leader of every kind of Assembly in India. But there are two offices which I have not filled till now, namely, the Judgeship of a High Court and the Presidentship of an Assembly. Fifteen years ago, the honour was done to me of offering a Judgeship in the Madras High Court. At the risk of appearing somewhat trivial and frivolous, I may mention to you the answer I gave. I said, I preferred to talk nonsense for a few hours every day than to hear nonsense all day long. (Laughter.) But, that is a pure digression. As I have stated, I have not occupied the presidential chair of any Assembly and from the mistake in procedure that I made this morning, you can well realise that this is my "prentice" effort. (Laughter.)

[President.]

In my tenure of this seat, I crave your indulgence and your forbearance. But I know that the seat that I occupy is one charged with great responsibilities and great duties. This Assembly has already established fine traditions. My predecessor, Sir Mahomed Habibullah, my great friend, who was also my colleague in the Madras Executive Council and in other spheres, has set an example which may be hard to follow. There are few things in which he excelled more than in the suavity of his manner, the way in which he dealt with opposition, in the way in which he brought together and harmonised various people. May it be given to me to emulate those qualities of my predecessor. As I said elsewhere, Travancore is a country where the people are highly educated and alert and watchful. And may I say, Travancore has a very "curious" legislature, curious not in the ordinary sense, but curious in the sense that it is full of curiosity as I found this morning when listening to the interpellations and supplementary questions. (Laughter) It will be my duty to help you in every possible way. It will be my privilege to uphold your privileges. It will be my constant preoccupation to bring into existence traditions which will make the Travancore Legislature the equal of any legislature in this country.

Now, various administrative and other problems have been referred to. But the answer that I shall give is the answer which has already been forestalled by the last speaker. You have spoken of what I have done in the past. I do not propose to refer to that aspect of the matter. I should only refer to the opportunity that has been given to me to be of service to His Highness and to the people of Travancore. I shall only advert to my earnest and abiding desire to render such service and to devote such energies as I have at my disposal (the whole of my energies and time are now pledged to Travancore and to His Highness the Maha Raja of Travancore) for the solution of the problem before me. You and I are confronted with many difficult problems, problems which are domestic, problems which are economic and problems of wider application. There is the question of the rehabilitation of the industries of this country, of making it something more than purely an agricultural country, of supplementing and augmenting its resources. There is the other problem of the Federation. Our entry into it is fraught with great consequences. It is not a subject which can be dealt with summarily. There are many points to be considered, many circumstances to be kept in mind, many aspects which cannot be ignored or forgotten.

If, some time later, you can say that, under the guidance of His Highness the Maha Raja, I was able to safeguard the interests of Travancore, uphold its position, make its status, vis-à-vis other States and Provinces in India, worthy of its past and of its possibilities, then shall I have justified myself; and not till then; (Heur, hear,) and, moreover, in all that I do, believe me when I affirm most sincerely that I shall endeavour to take the Legislature with me, that I shall endeavour our whenever possible to take the Legislature into confidence. It will be my ambition to make this Legislature a vital element of the body politic of Travancore. (Hear, hear.) It is in that hope and in that expectation, with those aspirations and with those ideals, that I shall occupy this Chair.

I thank you fervently and from the bottom of my heart for the very kindly sentiments to which I have listened with gratitude and pleasure, with pride and with humility. (Cheers.)

STATEMENT Laid ON THE TABLE.

PANEL OF CHAIRMEN.

PRESIDENT: Under Rule 3, sub-rule (2) of the Travancore Legislative Rules, I nominate Mr. K. C. Abraham and Mr. Paccode A. Narayana Pillai to the Panel of Chairmen for this session of the Assembly.

LEGISLATIVE BUSINESS.

THE TRAVANCORE AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF BILL.

PRESIDENT: We shall now take up the consideration of the Travancore Agriculturists' Relief Bill.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Paddy): Sir, we are at the third reading stage of the Agriculturists' Relief Bill. Before I make the motion for passing the Bill, I have certain amendments to place before this House and shall proceed to move them one by one.

The first amendment I move is as follows:

"I. Clause 3, omit the proviso to sub-clause (x) (b)."

The Proviso in question reads as follows:—

"Provided that the jurisdiction of the Boards established under Section 3, sub-clause (1) (a) shall be so defined and adjusted as to include the whole State."

[Mr. Kayalam Paramesvaran Pillai.]

It is not perhaps necessary for me to recall to honourable members of this House the effect of this Proviso or the object with which it was introduced by an amendment at the second reading of the Bill. I may however recapitulate briefly, so that honourable members may appreciate the necessity for omitting this Proviso. The proposal contained in the Bill was to the effect that Government may establish Conciliation Boards and the Government should be given power to determine and adjust the local limits of the jurisdiction of each Board. I have expressed more than once, in this House, this conciliation scheme should be treated as an experimental measure and we should proceed cautiously by establishing one or two Boards and trying to limit the jurisdiction of each to a very compact area.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Barati): I rise to a point of order. This is a very important matter and I wish to have a definite ruling on it. As the Law Member has just now told us, this proviso is the result of an amendment moved by this House at the second reading stage. The matter was fully discussed and this Proviso was adopted by this House. I wish to know whether under such circumstances an amendment can be moved at the third reading to nullify the effect of what has already been done. I can understand that an amendment can be moved to a clause which has not been discussed or if the amendment was constitutionally necessitated. I wish to know whether in this case an amendment can be moved at the third reading stage.

PRESIDENT: A point of order has been raised with regard to the amendment now sought to be moved by the Law Member. Honourable members will see that Standing Order 46 (4) says,—

“At this stage of the motion for passing the Bill, and prior to the making of the motion, the Assembly shall consider the amendments, if any, moved on behalf of Government. No amendments other than those connected with the amendments moved on behalf of Government shall, without the special permission of the Dewan, be brought up for consideration at this stage.”

My ruling is that at this stage it is open to the Law Member to move the amendment which he is now making. As a matter of fact, so long as the amendment is in order under the rules appertaining to amendments, no objection can be taken to the contents or form of the amendment that can be moved at this stage. For that reason I allow the amendment to be moved.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I had expressed more than once in this House that this conciliation should be treated as an experimental step. In view of that and to some extent on financial considerations also the idea of Government is to establish one or two boards at the outset and gradually to extend the boards throughout the State.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittu): How long will it take to extend the Boards throughout the State?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): That will be done gradually.

It has also been my idea that the jurisdiction of the Board should be compact so that the conciliation officer may have a grip of each case and be enabled to deal with each adequately and to the satisfaction of the parties. The criticism was however levelled against the Government proposal that under that the benefits of conciliation would not be available to all the subjects of the State. That criticism was no doubt true. As a matter of fact that criticism was even a compliment to my Bill in that it implies conciliation boards are useful and necessary. But, I felt, and I do feel now also, that the amendment suggested was such that it will compel Government to establish a very large number of Boards operating throughout the whole State. The amendment was to the effect that the jurisdiction of all the Boards together should extend throughout the State. It was not apparently possible to move an amendment to the effect that Government should establish a specific number of boards. So the same thing was sought to be achieved by this amendment, namely, that even though there be but one or two boards, these boards should together have jurisdiction throughout the whole State. This I felt was an impracticable proposition. To establish a few boards with such extensive jurisdiction extending throughout the State would be worse than useless. I deliberately say 'worse than useless' because conciliation will not be done effectively or expeditiously and at the same time there will be a complete paralysis of the administrations of justice through the civil courts. The House did not accept my views and passed this amendment. I have taken time to reconsider this matter; and I am prepared to meet the views of the House to some extent, though I cannot even now agree to the amendment. It may be possible for Government to establish a larger number of boards, say five or six or even seven or eight, so that a larger area may at the same time be under the operation of the Boards. In saying that I am not committing myself to any specific number. All that I say is that it is possible to increase the number of boards. That would be one way of meeting to some extent the desire of the House. Another way would be to enlarge the local jurisdiction of the Boards. My idea at one time was that the local jurisdiction of the boards should be very small and should never be the same as that of a civil court. I am prepared to suggest that Government may give a larger local jurisdiction to each board. Government may do all these. But still I find myself unable to accept the proposal in the proviso, namely, that the entire State should be the jurisdiction of all the boards together and that Government should be committed to it statutorily.

Sir, I do not want to repeat all the arguments that I advanced at the second reading stage of the Bill. But I do wish to say that the local jurisdiction of the Boards should be compact. It cannot be suggested that the local jurisdiction of a Board should be anything like that of a court. The civil courts administer justice according to law.

[Mr. Kayalam Paramesvaran Pillai.]

Honourable members, particularly those who are lawyers, will understand the meaning of the phrase 'administer justice according to law.' To illustrate it, if a promissory note is executed for Rs. 100, the Court should according to law order the payment of Rs. 100. That is the law. But the Conciliation Boards are not bound by any such law: they judge according to the discretion and according to the varying circumstances. So, the administration of justice, if I may say so, through these Boards is entirely and fundamentally different from the administration of justice as administered by the civil courts. This makes it difficult for the conciliation officer to determine what would be right in each case. He has to exercise greater care than the civil courts. He has to act as the friend, philosopher and guide of the contending parties before him. I may also say that one of the instruments for effecting conciliation between the parties would be the advancing of money by some recognised bank to pay off the conciliated debts. This would require the valuation of the assets of the debtor and naturally it will take the conciliation officer a long time for a correct valuation of the assets of the debtor. So he should not be made to function in a very large area. He must also function very expeditiously because certain other provisions of this Bill require that so long as the Board is seized of a case the civil court proceedings in respect thereof should be stopped. I may mention that there is an amendment proposed in regard to that also later on. However, it is necessary that if the civil court proceedings are to be stayed because conciliation proceedings are pending the conciliation should be carried on expeditiously.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankud): May I know whether it is intended to make these Boards itinerant bodies?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Not quite itinerant bodies. My idea is that if a conciliation Board finishes its work in one particular area, it may be transferred to another area. What I mean by that is, if the Board established in a particular place is able to finish, say, 900 cases out of 1,000, then, the question of transferring the Board to another jurisdiction can be considered and it could be established in a different area. I trust that the House will appreciate the fact that the Board has to function as expeditiously as possible both in the interest of the debtor as well as the creditor and also on grounds of public policy, so that the civil court proceedings may not be stayed indefinitely. If the proceedings of the civil courts are to be thus stayed indefinitely, it will not only do injustice to the creditor classes but it will affect the fabric of the general credit system of the State as a whole.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pettamantilla): Is it the opinion of the member that this Bill is unworkable?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): It will be workable if it is amended as I suggest.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamuttitta): Is it just to ascertain the workability of this new Bill that this amendment is suggested by the Law Member?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): No, not merely to ascertain. I am saying that the Bill will be workable if it is amended as I suggest. Conciliation must be considered to some extent as an experimental measure, because it has not been tried yet. Therefore we have to proceed very cautiously. The field of conciliation is an unexplored ground and let us go cautiously.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamuttitta): Is it not possible to make it applicable throughout the whole State?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): It would not be practicable. I can say that firstly there must be a very large number of proper men to be appointed as Conciliation Officers if the whole State is to be operated by conciliation. Then we must have rules or procedure. This again is a new ground. We have to experiment and experiment and make it a success.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamuttitta): That is why I ask whether this Bill is to be tried as an experiment?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I have no objection if the member wants to put it like that. I have mentioned all the facts. The idea is to appoint four or five Boards and see how it works. We have also to look to the financial aspects of it.

PRESIDENT: The House will now adjourn and meet again at 2 o'clock.

The House adjourned at 1. 2. P. M. and met again at 2 P. M. with the President in the Chair.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): When the House rose for lunch I was trying to explain what I meant by saying that conciliation should be treated as an experimental measure. When I said that, I did not mean that the whole Bill is to be tried as an experiment. What I meant by that was that the principle of conciliation is an untried measure and in that sense an experiment; we have not any example of conciliation having been worked for any considerable time in any place. And also, we do not know whether it has worked effectively wherever it was tried and it has not been tried in many parts of India. We have therefore to go very cautiously, and we have necessarily to watch how conciliation works before extending it. It may not be possible for the Government to appoint as many Boards as are necessary to serve the whole State at the same time, though it is the intention of Government to bring the relief by conciliation to the home of every debtor and creditor. We may establish some seven or eight or say nine, Boards having jurisdiction over some limited areas in the State. It is not possible however to cover the whole State within its jurisdiction. There must be some limit to the extent of jurisdiction.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): By establishing eight or nine Boards may I know what portion of Travancore will be covered as their jurisdiction?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): That is a very difficult question to answer just now. Any way the whole of Travancore cannot be covered.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Then may I know how many Boards will have to be established in that manner?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I can only guess and that roughly. About sixty Boards may be necessary if the whole State is to be served. Nobody knows what is conciliation and how it has to be worked, and all that. It may look all right on paper but when it begins to be put into action difficulty will arise.

MR. S. J. WAIR (Nedumangudi): Then may I ask the member to delete the whole of that para 2 of that amendment?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): My amendment is not that.

Conciliation is a new measure and we cannot dogmatise on it too much. It may appear very well on paper, but in practice, we cannot be too sure.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): May I know whether the Boards are working satisfactorily in other parts of India?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): So far as reports go, there are different opinions. One opinion is that they are not working satisfactorily.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Is not the working of Conciliation Boards further extended in places such as Madras and Mysore?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I do not think so. In Madras, the Act was only passed just now and the Rules have not been finally issued.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know whether they have been increasing the number of Boards or reducing them?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I am not quite sure. In Madras, it is not even started. That however, is not the real point here. So far as Travancore is concerned the measure of conciliation is a new step and we must proceed cautiously and our conciliation scheme is more comprehensive than anywhere else. In Madras, the whole province is not to be served by Conciliation Boards at the same time. Same is the case in Punjab and Central Provinces. Therefore I am asking the House to consider whether they will advise Government to cover up the whole State with Boards, to start with.

MR. K. C. ABRAHAM (Kottayam II): Is it the opinion of the member that the Government should declare which area to be governed by the Conciliation Board?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Yes. The whole of Travancore can be so declared to come under Conciliation Boards, not now, but only after seeing how far conciliation works successfully in the jurisdictions to which they have been extended. If for instance Mr. S. J. Nair's constituency is to be brought under one particular Conciliation Board and if the work proves successful then I should not come back to the Assembly to ask their permission for transferring that Board to or establishing another Board in another centre, say Neyyattinkara. All that I want the House to do is that Government should be given power to establish Boards with limited local jurisdiction.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Marehikkara): Am I to understand the member to mean that it is on the principle of basic necessity or ambition that Boards are established in different centres of the State?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Government feel that the present deplorable condition of the debtors is sufficient justification for appointing Boards. But that does not mean that it can be extended to every debtor, to start with.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): May I know whether in case the few Boards that are set up prove successful, Government will undertake to provide Conciliation Boards for the entire State?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): That again is a difficult question to answer categorically. If the Boards established prove successful, Government will certainly extend it to other parts of the State. Even then the whole State may not be brought in at once. It is the ambition of Government to have Boards over the entire State but the principle of conciliation has to be tried, to start with. The simple question for determination is whether there should be a limited number of Boards having jurisdiction over closely defined areas in the State or over the State as a whole. I have said that Government can provide only a limited number of Boards. That discretion of Government remains unchallenged and there is no attempt to compel Government to establish any specific number of Boards. That being so, is it right to compel Government to make the whole State the local jurisdiction of these few Boards?

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Urban): Is it due to want of sufficient funds that there is difficulty for establishing sufficient number of Boards?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): That is also one aspect of the matter to be considered though that is not the main objection. The Board Officers are not honorary men; they are to be Government servants and that means that they must be paid. They should then have each a staff. Then we want registers, summons forms and so on. Copying staff will have to be engaged. Notices will have to be served. All these require money. And all this is to be spent on an experiment. Therefore, there should be some limit to the money to be spent.

[Mr. Kayalam Paramesvaran Pillai.]

I make bold to say that the House will decide that it is not at all desirable that the few Boards should have the whole State as their local jurisdiction.

I may add that it is with some hesitation I move this amendment which is really to ask the House to review the decision it gave at its second reading. But I have done so with a full sense of my responsibility and perhaps, I must say unambiguously that I may find it impossible to take the responsibility for carrying out this measure or to take this Bill to another stage if the Bill is to contain the proviso which I seek to omit. The House should not misunderstand me. I must say what is in my mind. I would appeal to the House to appreciate my difficulty.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikkara): Is it because that the Government are unable to proceed with the Bill?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Not, quite like that.

As mover of the Bill I say that I may find it impossible to take the responsibility for carrying out the scheme of conciliation or even to proceed with the Bill.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): If the Government establish a limited number of Boards having certain jurisdiction throughout the State and if it proves successful is it not possible to increase the number of such Boards if they find the work becoming heavy as and when they are convinced, just as is being done in the case of civil courts?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Yes. It is quite possible. That arrangement is quite acceptable to me and that is what I am suggesting myself.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): May I know the number of Boards that is proposed to be established by Government?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): About seven to ten.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second the amendment.

MR. PUTHUPALLY S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Sir, I feel constrained to observe that it has become the duty on the part of the members on this side of the House to oppose this amendment. The various arguments advanced by the Law Member in support of the amendment that is proposed are to my mind not very convincing. In Mysore and other places power has been conferred on the Government for the establishment of Boards as and when Government deem it fit to do so. I quite agree with him there. In the Madras Act, it is stated that the Local Government may establish Debt Conciliation Boards for a district or part of a district. A similar provision is found in the Mysore Regulation also. I agree that we shall not as a rule impose compulsory obligations on Government. I accept that it is correct on principle. But it will be remembered that this amendment was moved by my honourable friend Mr. T. P. Velayudhan Pillai under rather peculiar circumstances. There was a rumour here set afloat when the Select Committee report was discussed that Government had no idea at that time of establishing more than three or four Boards, and its effect was understood by the members of the Assembly only a little before that discussion. There was no talk about it at the first reading of the Bill or at the discussion in the Select Committee. But when we were summoned to discuss this Bill it was understood that that was what the Government contemplated. It will be found on a perusal of the provisions of the Bill that if Conciliation Boards are to be established only for limited areas it would be conferring upon the debtors of the whole State no appreciable benefit. It was found on a careful analysis of the provisions of the Bill that beyond the Board there was no proposal conferring any substantial benefit on the indebted agricultural population of the State. It was as a result of this idea, it was, as it were, that we were impelled by this dominating idea that various amendments were proposed. The chapter on the establishment of Conciliation Boards deals fairly with the powers that have to be conferred upon the Boards which, according to our opinion, would give the debtors some adequate relief. There is a provision for scaling down interest or principal for payment in fixed instalments and various other kinds of reliefs. That would be a proper relief so far as the general agriculturists are concerned. Probably it might have been with the idea that Government will not be able to establish the necessary number of Conciliation Boards that the mover of the Bill thought it fit to include certain temporary provisions. I find that they are dealt with in Chapter III of the Bill. But it is submitted that these provisions are thoroughly inadequate. I find that relief to the debtors may be given by reduction in interest as well as principal, direction to pay in instalments and advancing money at cheaper rate of interest. These are some of the accepted methods of relief to the debtors. All these three are available to the debtors when the Conciliation Boards are worked. In areas where Conciliation Boards do not exist, the proposed reliefs are to be sought for in Chapter III. Clause 33 deals with instalment payments; but a careful reading of it would show that that provision is thoroughly inadequate because every creditor, who I find is dead against this law, can evade the operation of the Section. What we find is that the court executing a decree may direct that the amount may be paid in instalments. That order can be passed by the execution court only if there is an application pending execution. This direction to pay in instalments can be given by the execution court only if an application is made by the creditor to execute his decree. What will happen if he does not care to execute the decree that he has already obtained. Have the execution courts any power to say that these decree amounts shall be paid in a particular period or is it open to the judgment debtor to request the court to call for such decrees and pray for proper orders. The execution courts, under the provisions, are competent to pass orders for the payment of the amount in instalments only when the judgment creditor applies for the execution of the decree and not at the request of the judgment debtor. In the case of holders of registered decrees

they have got the privilege to wait for six years. This provision confers power on the execution court only for a period of three years from the commencement of this Regulation. Those who have obtained registered decrees can very well wait without applying for execution. The Law Member may say that the debtor thereby gets a period of three years. But the interest will be accumulating in the mean time. If he does not go to execute the decree within three years it may be possible for the decree holder to prevent the judgment debtor from claiming the benefit of clause 33. The power conferred can be exercised only when the court is executing the decree. Clauses 34 to 36 relate to the reduction of interest from 1105 till the passing of this Regulation and thereafter for a period of three years. The provision relating to the reduction of interest for the period between 1105 and 1112 was one that was introduced in this House at the second reading of the Bill. It was very stoutly opposed by the Law Member, but it was passed because the majority of the members were for the amendment. If the Board is not established and if the decree holder does not go to execute the decree there is no benefit available to the debtor whose burden had already become unbearable. The provision relating to reduction in the rate of interest from the commencement of the Regulation for a period of three years was nothing. So clauses 34 and 36 were passed as they now stand. Now I find that these provisions are also sought to be deleted by certain amendments brought forward by the Law Member. If those amendments are accepted the position will be this. In the first place we must agree that the Government shall have power to establish only a few Conciliation Boards which would be operating only in a very limited area of the State. It clearly shows that a vast majority of the agriculturists will be left without the help that will be afforded by the Conciliation Boards. Let us see what help is rendered to those debtors. In clause 33 it is stated that power conferred upon the execution courts can be made available only when the court is executing the decree. It can be granted by the court only if the creditor presses his claims. What will happen if the creditor does not do it? Clauses 34 and 36 as they now stand would have conferred some benefit on all debtors even if they did not get the benefit of the Board or the facilities for payment in instalments under clause 33. The Law Member's amendment takes away this benefit also. A good portion of the debts that are now in existence and that have become unbearable will not be covered by the provisions of this Bill. In that case what the Dewan said to the representatives of the debtors who waited on deputation on him cannot be correct. I may be permitted to refer to his observations. It is stated—"the Government are particularly anxious that the agriculturist should not feel that the burden is so heavy upon him that there is no incentive to toil and no stimulus to redemption. It would be an evil day when the small agriculturist feels that his future is so dismal and dark that it is hardly worth his while to toil in the field, that the burden of his debts is so terrible and crushing that without its being lifted to a certain extent his self-respect will not be restored and his incentive to work will not come back to him." If that is the principle that has to be borne in mind in accepting the amendments that have been brought forward by the Honourable Law Member, can it be said that we are offering even a fraction of what the Dewan has promised? I want the honourable members of this House to understand the exact import of the Bill when it is passed after accepting the amendments proposed by the Law Member. It made me a little nervous when I listened to the last statement because the Law Member.....

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Bura): Why should the member apprehend that all the amendments of the Law Member will be carried?

MR. PUTHUPALLY S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): That is a very pertinent question. Experience Sir; experience. That is all. It is an acknowledged truth, a forcible statement that the debtors are not confined to particular areas in Travancore. The report of the Agricultural Debt Redemption Committee tells us in bold terms that debt problem is a problem which affects the whole of Travancore. There is no particular areas as we find elsewhere where the agricultural indebtedness is more acute than in other places. It is a general problem affecting the whole State. If that is so what is the benefit that the Government is going to confer upon the debtors as a class. Let them have one benefit available to all alike. The least harmful, the least objectionable is the Conciliation Board. Why not this house make at least that available to all debtors? Even if the Government object, it is our duty to protest.

I can understand why the learned Law Member has told the House that if this amendment is not accepted he will not be responsible if the Bill disappears. I do not presume as my learned friend Mr. Thanu Pillai said that this or any other amendment will or will not be accepted by this House. But I am not so sanguine as my learned friend to think that this amendment will not be accepted. There is the fact that we cannot ignore the principle or the strong force of the principle underlying the amendment. The Law Member wants these Boards to be appointed in an experimental way as a means of relief to debtors. The impossibility of appointing more Boards was caused, he argued, by two facts. Firstly, lack of proper men to be appointed as members of the Board and secondly, lack of funds to meet establishment charges. Now, Sir, if it is a necessity which demands prompt action and attention, a necessity which is felt by the bulk of the population of the State, is it a matter in which Government could stint? In matters where Government have been less convinced of the necessity they have contributed ample funds. For the settlement of Jenmom lands Government did not grudge spending money. Are we not faced with a graver danger here? Is not our responsibility more serious here? There are not many who are not debtors in Travancore. More than 90 per cent of the people are agricultural debtors. Is it not the duty of Government to find funds for a purpose which will serve such a vast majority? Therefore the argument that the Government find it difficult to finance is not a convincing one. I am quite sure that no liberal Government would find any difficulty in finding funds to meet the cost of such ameliorative institutions. The learned Law Member is convinced that the necessity can be safely met by the establishment of only five or six Conciliation Boards in the State. What is implied in that is that Government have not been convinced of the principle underlying or the efficacy of the provision. It was only a half hearted attempt. Here is a Bill with 38 Sections mostly dealing with Conciliation Boards, conferring powers to Conciliation Officers, enabling them to pass orders and record certificates. My learned friend says that the Government are not convinced of the propriety or the practicability or the workability of the present Conciliation Scheme. Sir, conciliation is founded on agreement and failing agreement, the Board can issue a certificate, a sharp weapon in the hands of an honest debtor. Why should Government hesitate to drop the scheme if they are not convinced of its utility? No doubt in Madras and Mysore, establishment of Boards is only permissive; but it must be remembered that there are more substantial provisions conferring benefit on debtors. The new amendments made by these legislatures are all with a view to confer benefit on all debtors. The Madras Act provides that not more than the principal amount by way of interest can be recovered from the debtor. Power is conferred on courts in Mysore to refuse to award any interest. They are not temporary powers, but permanent powers. Is there a single provision in the Bill conferring a permanent power on courts to do justice in cases as and when they come up? The Boards even though small in number may be established in such a manner that the benefit may reach each and every debtor. During the second reading of the Bill in this House this fact was plainly shown. Now it is going to be taken away. And I may say, Sir, that this is the juicy pulp of the Bill, but if the amendment is accepted the shell only will be left behind without the pulp. If the Bill is to be accepted and passed I have great doubt whether its beneficent provisions will reach one and all alike and whether any permanent benefit will be rendered to them. There must be a guarantee that all debtors would be treated alike, and that the relief measures would reach each and every indebted agriculturist. If the Law Member is going to move all the amendments tabled for discussion I should very vehemently oppose such amendments, since I am afraid that they will eventually be harmful to debtors, a vast majority of whom would go without any relief at all. If on the other hand the learned Law Member would assure this House that he is not very keen in moving all the amendments I am prepared to withdraw the opposition. Otherwise, I would oppose this amendment and commend my submission for the earnest consideration of this House.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): In opposing the amendment I have to add only a few words to what my predecessors have said. The only valid argument the Law Member has brought forward is that the Government will find it impossible if any obligation is imposed on them to appoint a larger number of Boards than they think it proper and necessary. The argument that the Board ought to be set up in such a way that it should enable the Conciliation Officer to have his jurisdiction only in a compact area and that this proviso would stand in its way is brought forward by the Law Member. The original proviso it could be clearly seen, does not at all in any way stand against the appointment of a larger number of Boards. In a scheme which contemplates relief for a very large section of the people, in a scheme which has emerged out of an extraordinary situation to provide relief in the best manner possible for the indebted agriculturist I ask whether expenditure of a lakh or two lakhs of rupees for a large number of Boards will be an expenditure which cannot be justified. Sir, we on this side of the House are very anxious that the relief which is afforded by such a measure should be conferred upon all people who are really and heavily indebted. The Law Member if I remember correct when the second reading of the Bill was going on made us understand that the Boards will be established on an experimental basis and that they may number about four or five. To-day the Law Member says that about ten or twelve Boards will be established and that if the whole State should simultaneously enjoy the benefit of Boards we must have at least 60 (sixty) Boards. Sir, the civil courts in the State which do not number 60 are dealing with all kinds of civil suits including money transactions. So I cannot endorse the Law Member's view that for giving compact areas for the jurisdiction of Boards as many as sixty Boards would be necessary. Some twenty Boards or a Board for each constituency as it is newly constituted will be quite sufficient. If only few areas are to get the benefit, the member who cries the loudest will get a Board for his constituency whether that area needs more than one or not. Sir, my submission is that if the benefit of the Bill is to reach all the debtors, Boards should be established in larger numbers as to have jurisdiction throughout the State.

With these observations I oppose the amendment.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Uaseli-kara): Sir, I also oppose the amendment. The two means by which relief is intended to be given to the agriculturists are by lightening his burden and by giving time for discharging his liabilities. This Bill as was stated by Mr. Krishna Pillai, gives only discretionary powers if all the amendments of the learned Law Member are to be accepted by this House. Part III enables the courts to give time to deserving debtors for discharging their debts. Part II, the main part in the Bill, relates to conciliation. As was stated by the Law Member when he introduced this Bill, the chief part of the devices adopted for the purpose of giving relief to the agriculturist debtor is conciliation. What he says now is that the Government are not in a position to assure the establishment of Boards throughout the State. That means that the Government are not prepared to grant the chief form of relief to all the subjects of His Highness the Maharaja. Sir, I do not in the least take seriously the threat held out by the Law Member. It comes a few minutes after the assurance from the Chair that the Legislature of this country will have a due part in its administration and that its wishes and opinions will be duly respected. I do not believe that any weight need be attached to the Law Member's statement that he does not take any responsibility for the further progress of the Bill if his amendment is not accepted.

Sir, the objections raised by the Law Member are three in number. One is that it is an experimental measure; that is to say the establishment of Conciliation Boards. If it is an experimental measure it must either fail or succeed. If it fails he does not say that these Boards would be scrapped. If it succeeds he does not assure the House that it will be extended throughout the State. Then, I do not understand what he means by saying that it is an experimental measure. The only ground for saying that it is an experimental measure is that it is a new thing.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): May I know what would be the number of conciliation officers that would be required to effectively serve the whole State?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I would come to that point. If this is to be considered as an experimental measure all the new innovations must also be experimental. Debt conciliation is not a new thing. In Mysore at first it was started in Malanad and subsequently it was extended to other parts of the country.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): May I know whether it was extended to all the parts of the country and what was the amount of the debt that would come under conciliation?

PRESIDENT: The Law Member may ask for the right to reply.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): In Mysore there was this distinction. With regard to the debts due to secured creditors much latitude was not given by the Conciliation Boards. Anyhow the Law Member has not cared to import that provision into our Bill. What I was referring to is that it was not a new thing. In almost all the Presidencies in British India this conciliation affair has been begun long before and to say that, because it is an experiment, it should not be extended throughout the country, is not acceptable. I am putting the further question whether he is serious when he says that it is an experiment; whether he is going to start this in small localities where large interests are not involved. The experiment should not be tried where there will be great risks in the matter. This objection on the ground of experimental measure does not appear to be a sound one.

Another point that has been raised is the question of cost. Sir, the Government admits that relief is needed to the debtor. The Government are prepared to tell the creditor to sacrifice a portion of his dues because the debtor must be given relief. But they say we cannot find persons to direct the creditor to do that. There must be somebody to direct the creditor and ask him to forego a portion of the debt. For this, there must be some conciliation officers. For want of this the Government are delaying this relief. So I would think that the Government are not fair in their dealings to the creditors. The Government have already, by rejecting the amendment to Clause II, stated, that as creditors they are not prepared to give much concession to the debtors. Now, when we come to the question of putting at least an agency for giving relief to the debtors, the Government say, that it is a question of cost. Moreover the Law Member is not in a position to tell this House as to what would be the cost that has to be met by Government for this purpose. He is not in a position to say anything about the number of officers that will be needed for the whole State. At first he said that it was three, now he says that there should be eight. It is my firm conviction that it does not redound to the credit of the Government to say that on financial grounds the Government are unable to create enough number of Boards in this country.

Sir, a third ground advanced is that the proceedings in the civil courts will be suspended. The proceedings there are carried on in the interests of the parties. There is no religious obligation on the part of Government to have a large number of civil courts. If the parties before the civil courts go to conciliation officers and Boards to clear their debts I wonder why Government should feel nervous on the ground that the establishment of Conciliation Boards would diminish the work of the court.

Another ground advanced by the learned Law Member was that it will be rather difficult to get sufficient number of proper officers to discharge this work. Sir, if that ground is advanced in a country like Travancore, which boasts of having any number of qualified hands for high posts and with so much literacy to its credit, I do not think that any member of this House will accept that ground. What I am saying is that a ground like that comes with little grace from the Government side. Sir, though you are new to this office you are not new to this country. I may say this. If the Government are not careful to choose proper persons there will be real paucity. The real paucity as I find is in the exercise of proper discretion in the choice of proper persons and there is absolutely no difficulty on the ground of paucity of hands.

Then, Sir, I would like to bring one or two points for the consideration of this House. The Bill at first introduced did not disclose the fact that the Government had no intention to establish Boards throughout the State. Of course, discretion was left with the Government and it was expected that the discretion would be properly exercised. But when an amendment of Mr. Veiyudhan Pillai was passed last year, the Law Member made it clear that it was not possible to establish Boards throughout the State. Now we are assured that the Government will not establish Boards even in all centres where there is need. What is the condition if Boards are established only in a few centres? As was humourously put by my friend Mr. Elenkath the man who cries loudest will get what he wants. The debtors who are able to make their voices heard by Government will be able to establish Boards in their centres. With regard to the poor ordinary agriculturists whose debts do not rise to high sums there will be no relief, and I may say that their condition will be worse than what it is to-day, because here we find that there is some sort of understanding or assurance from the Government side that an effort will be made to advance loans from Land Mortgage Banks for discharging all conciliated debts.

It was stated that the applications from such debtors will have preference over others. If that be the case, the debtors who are living in the conciliated areas will alone be able to get relief through the Land Mortgage Bank. Am I not therefore right in saying that the condition of the bulk of the agriculturist debtors in the country will be much worse after this measure? Even accepting the figures given by the Law Member, about 60 Boards will be necessary. But the Law Member is not prepared to start more than 8 or 10. That means that five-sixths of the State will be denied the benefit of conciliation. In addition, on account of the provision that the Land Mortgage Bank should give preference to the debtors belonging to the localities where Conciliation Boards are established, the benefits out of the Land Mortgage Banks also will be denied to those areas. This House should therefore consider twice before they accept this amendment. We are not at all afraid of the statement made by the Law Member that the whole Bill will be wrecked if this amendment were not accepted; because we are sure that if the Bill is to be wrecked, the responsibility on the Government will be very heavy. I do not think the Government will adopt such a course.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I oppose the amendment. About two years ago, the Government appointed what was called the Agricultural Debt Redemption Committee to go into the question of agricultural indebtedness. That Committee was composed of seven members, of whom 5 were very responsible officials of the State. Let us see what the Committee has said about these Boards and their jurisdiction. In page 105 of their Report, it is stated:

"Ordinarily there should be one board for each taluk. But there should be no objection, if circumstances require it, to one board being given jurisdiction over more taluks than one or to have more than one board for the same taluk. The boards may be authorised to hold its sittings at convenient centres within its jurisdiction."

This was the unanimous opinion of the Committee. Even the official members were not against this. The Law Member also was one of the members of the Committee. If really he was against this opinion, if his idea was that this would involve serious financial implications, he ought to have written a dissenting minute in the report of that Committee. He did not do so. It is not, therefore, justifiable on his part now to bring in this amendment which almost negates the purpose of Conciliation Boards. This is really very hard. Government ought not have permitted the Law Member to bring in this amendment.

The recent census of 1931 shows that the population of this State is 50,95,973. Out of this, 29,01,085 are following occupations of various kinds. Out of such people, 11,67,451 people are engaged in agriculture; and it is for the benefit of these people that the present Bill is introduced.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Maesthara): Is the definition of agriculturist as we find in the Bill the same as the idea of the census authorities when they prepared this figure of agriculturists in the State?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nehumengad): I am only pointing out that the number of people who are sought to be afforded relief by this measure is large enough to warrant any expenditure of money. It is not at all fair on the part of the Law Member to have brought in this amendment at this stage of the Bill. Government ought not have permitted him to do it. The agriculturists are at their wits' end. I would appeal to the Law Member, as well as to the Government who have permitted him to bring in this amendment, on behalf of the numerous suffering agriculturists of Travancore who are steeped in debt as it were, that this is not a matter for the Government to conduct experiments and to wait for the results of such experiments.

I therefore oppose the amendment.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Karat): Sir, I support the amendment. I am not for denying the advantages contemplated in this Bill to any agriculturist debtor. At the same time, I would like to say that Government are not compelled to incur expenditure on a large scale on what I consider to be a scheme of doubtful success. It cannot be denied that, if after all the Conciliation Boards are going to be institutions which have to be tried, there is no use in spending large sums of money in making the trial or the experiment in each and every taluk in the State. My friends will agree that there is no sanction compelling the parties that appear before a Conciliation Board to abide by the award of the Board. Therefore it remains to be seen how far the scheme is going to be successful. It is quite natural that many parties would wish to resort to courts whose decisions are certainly binding on all the parties concerned. Therefore, if eventually the parties are not going to accept the award of the Board, all the time, money and energy spent on the Board would be absolute waste. What I would therefore propose is that a few Boards, say half a dozen, should be established in suitable localities, and worked for a sufficiently long period, say six months. If it is found that they work successfully, Government must necessarily set up as many Boards as are required throughout the State. I cannot agree to the Law Member's suggestion.

[Mr. A. Thann Pillai.]

that the Government cannot undertake to set up Boards in all places where they are necessary even after it is found that the Boards work satisfactorily and successfully. If the Boards work successfully, what would be the result? A large number of cases would be withdrawn from the courts and it would be possible to reduce the number of judicial officers and the staff attached to the courts. Government can save some money in that direction, and it would be possible for the Government to adjust their finances suitably in order to provide the necessary funds for establishing Conciliation Boards in all places where they are necessary. Instead of doing that, if several Boards are established throughout the State even now and it is found that they do not work well, the result would certainly be calamitous. I am not at all for that. As regards the finances, the Law Member said that the Government may not be in a position to find the finances necessary. I do not agree.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): On a point of personal explanation, Sir. Although I do not remember the exact words I used, I did not mean to say that even if the Boards are found to work successfully they would not be extended. What I meant was that after a few Boards are tried and if they are found successful others also would be established.

MR. A. THANN PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): If I remember right, he said that the Government cannot undertake to provide Boards for the entire State even if the Boards are found to work successfully, although it would be the policy of the Government to do it. My submission is that that would not do: Government must undertake to do it if they find that the Boards work successfully.

My friend Mr. Krishna Pillai said that there is a danger of the other amendments being carried, and that that fact should weigh with us in disposing of this amendment. I cannot agree with that observation. I do not see why our disposal of this amendment should in any way affect our disposal of other amendments. As far as this amendment is concerned, it is my opinion that Boards need not be established throughout the State all at once. We should give the Government the discretion to select suitable areas, set up Boards there and wait and watch their working. In regard to the other amendments, it is open to us to throw them out if we are convinced that they are not desirable.

Mr. Asan said that if this amendment was carried the Land Mortgage Bank would cease to be of service to the debtors in localities where Boards are not set up. I cannot agree to that argument either.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Did not the Law Member say that preference will be given to debtors who want to clear conciliated debts?

MR. A. THANN PILLAI (Trivandrum-Lural): What I understood was that if from a locality where a Board has been set up two debtors apply for loans from the Land Mortgage Bank, the one who wants the loan for the purpose of paying off a conciliated debt will be preferred to the other. I do not think it is the idea that if in Trivandrum no Board is established and an agriculturist debtor applies to the Land Mortgage Bank here for a loan, he would be refused the loan merely because there is another application from Alappay, where a Board is established for a loan to pay off a conciliated debt.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know whether the resources of the Land Mortgage Bank are unlimited?

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): That question does not arise so far as this issue is concerned. We all know that the resources of our Land Mortgage Bank are not unlimited and that that bank cannot serve the needs of all our agriculturist debtors, even such of them as are going to have their debts conciliated.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): In view of Clause 15 (1) (a), can it be said that preference cannot be given in all cases, to debtors who want to pay off their conciliated debts and who want, for that purpose, a loan from the Land Mortgage Bank?

PRESIDENT: That is a matter for construction of the provision, and not for a question.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): I was asking whether the member was aware of the statutory recognition of that fact.

PRESIDENT: The honourable member will proceed.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): I do not think so, Sir, Therefore, now also I take the stand I took at the second reading. I would give the Government the discretion to set up a few Boards and try them first, and then to establish Boards throughout the State if it is found that they work successfully. With these words I support the amendment.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): I strongly oppose the amendment moved by the Law Member on behalf of Government.

In the first place, the amendment discloses a lack of principle; because, if it is accepted, the agriculturist debtors in certain localities alone will get the benefit of this measure, while their brethren in the other parts of the State will be deprived of such benefits. I am emphatically of the opinion that this Bill must contain specific provision making it obligatory on the part of Government to establish Boards and to define the local limits of the jurisdiction of the various Boards in such a way and in such numbers as not to exclude any part of the State from the operation of the beneficial provisions of this measure.

In the second place, there must be some necessity for this amendment. So far as I am aware, even though there were serious differences of opinion with regard to certain provisions of the Bill, there was absolutely none with regard to the retention of this provision. It is obvious therefore that even according to public opinion there is no case for the deletion of this proviso. I ask Government whether it is not their duty to respect the recommendations of a responsible Committee appointed by Government for the purpose. The Committee clearly states that Boards should be established throughout the State.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): May I know from the member whether, he is in favour of Government accepting all the recommendations of the Committee?

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Trivandrum Hill): I am of opinion that there is at least a moral obligation on the part of the Government to accept the major recommendations of the Committee. I ask whether it is not the duty of the Government to respect public opinion. If it is so, this proviso was included in the Bill as the result of an amendment which was passed in this House by an overwhelming majority. That shows that public opinion is for the retention of this proviso. It is quite clear, Sir, from all these circumstances that it is absolutely necessary for retaining the provision of this Bill as settled by this House.

I would earnestly appeal to the honourable members on this side of the House that it is their duty to make the public feel that we have got a continuity of policy in our actions as representatives of the public. I would earnestly request the non official members of this House to reject this amendment.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): Sir, in the nature of the opposition the amendment has met within this House I thought I should not rise from my seat to speak, but the opinions expressed by Messrs. Thanu Pillai and Velayudhan Pillai have induced me to change my mind. Mr. Thanu Pillai said that he wished to give the law a limited operation, as limited as possible.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): On a word of personal explanation. I did not say that the Bill was unsatisfactory. What I said was that the Conciliation Board was unsatisfactory.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): My friend does not believe in the Conciliation Boards. On the other hand, Sir, I believe that conciliation will be a beneficial process of settling disputes between creditors and debtors.

Mr. Velayudhan Pillai's point was that because public opinion has expressed itself in unmistakable terms, the Government had no option to come to their own decision even when they differed from what is called public opinion. Sir, I do respect public opinion. But we cannot always ascertain exactly what public opinion is on a certain question. I am merely pointing out that Government has a duty to take into consideration public opinion. At the same time they have got the right, if I may say so, to decide for themselves. But in this particular case, Sir, I am sorry to find that the officers of Government were trying to whittle down the intentions of Government at every stage of this Bill. (Hear hear). I have got in my hands the report of the Agricultural Debt Redemption Committee. The report shows that relief was intended for all agriculturists. The words are 'for the relief of the agricultural indebtedness in general'. I am greatly reinforced by the passage that my friend Mr. Puthupalli Krishna Pillai read out from the speech made by the Dewan in answer to a deputation. That statement is in general terms. I raise this simple issue for the consideration of the House whether a member representing Government has got the option to say that while the Dewan representing Government takes one view—the same liability. When the people are asking for help and when it is found necessary by an important Committee, I do not see the reason why the intentions of the Government expressed and reaffirmed should not give the benefit to all persons.

There is one more point on which I wish to say a word. I put this question to the Law Member whether after all this is a question of funds. While recognising that the Government have got a duty to expend their funds on proper objects in order to help the people who stand in need of relief, I am prepared to concede that there is a question of expediency, a question of possibility and probability as well. I do not want that the Bill should be dropped merely for the argument that there are no funds. Funds must be forthcoming and the Travancore Government which happily has got a reputation in the money market, will have no difficulty in raising the funds.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Fakil): May I ask one question, Sir?

PRESIDENT: Please do.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Fakil): Is it the honourable member's suggestion that Government must establish Conciliation Boards financed by borrowed funds?

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Circulation--Urban): That is a question which I am prepared to answer. So far as the Government are concerned, borrowing is an old habit. All through the world's history Governments have borrowed money and the Travancore Government happily possesses knowledge in these matters. For that reason I say that if it is absolutely necessary Government may even borrow. Do not make some people miserable while others are happy. I do not see any reason why, when the Travancore Government wants to give a suitable remedy to the bulk of the people, this relief of agricultural indebtedness alone should be confined to particular localities. It will be wrong.

It will be wrong on the part of my friend the Law Member, if he does not make a distinction between principle and expediency. The principle certainly can be accepted as healthy. But if a wrong view of expediency is accepted and interpreted in such a manner as to affect the principle, it will be something like a pathological condition in a healthy body. My submission therefore before the House is, that taking advantage of the statement made on behalf of Government from time to time, at first 2 or 3 Boards, later on it was 5 to 6 Boards, and further it became 7 or 8 and so on, let us have a large number of Boards. Should we not appreciate the opinion of the Committee? At the risk of repetition I would cite one interesting piece of information from the report. It is not a hypothetical conclusion arrived at. The Committee collected information in an exhaustive manner. This is what they "Ordinarily there should be one Board for each taluk. But there should be no objection if circumstances permit it, to one Board being the same liability. When the people are asking for help and when it is found necessary by an important Committee, I do not see the reason why the intentions of the Government expressed and reaffirmed should not give the benefit to all persons.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): May I ask one question, Sir?

PRESIDENT: Please do.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Is it the honourable member's suggestion that Government must establish Conciliation Boards financed by borrowed funds?

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum.—Urban): That is a question which I am prepared to answer. So far as the Government are concerned, borrowing is an old habit. All through the world's history Governments have borrowed money and the Travancore Government happily possesses knowledge in these matters. For that reason I say that if it is absolutely necessary Government may even borrow. Do not make some people miserable while others are happy. My submission therefore before the House is, that taking advantage of the statement made on behalf of Government from time to time, at first 2 or 3 Boards, later on it was 5 to 6 Boards, and further it became 7 or 8 and so on, let us have a large number of Boards. Should we not appreciate the opinion of the Committee? At the risk of repetition I would cite one interesting piece of information from the report. It is not a hypothetical conclusion arrived at. The Committee collected information in an exhaustive manner. This is what they "Ordinarily there should be one Board for each taluk. But there should be no objection if circumstances permit it, to one Board being given jurisdiction over more taluks than one or two have mere than one Board for the same taluk". After all this information was collected, to say that one Board shall have jurisdiction over a particular area alone does not appeal to me. When officials with experience of revenue and other matters in Travancore collect information from debtors as well as creditors, when the Government have made repeated utterances from time to time, to say that the establishment of Boards shall wait because of want of funds—I cannot see eye to eye with that. I fully appreciate the position of the Law Member. The question of funds is for the Government to solve. So then, Sir, I am obliged to oppose the amendment.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): To me, Sir, the most substantial relief proposed to be given to the agriculturist debtor by this Bill is the benefit that he is likely to get from the conciliation proceedings. Of course the Law Member would have been justified in bringing this amendment if he had convinced the House that the agriculturist's indebtedness is confined to particular localities only. For the sake of emphasis I may also repeat that the Agricultural Debt Redemption Committee, in which the honourable Law Member was himself a member, as well as other Committees of enquiry which had directly or indirectly to enquire into the agricultural indebtedness of the State, have expressed in clear terms that indebtedness among the agriculturists is so universal and not limited to any one particular locality alone. This Bill has been brought forward with the object of giving relief to the agriculturists as a whole, and as such I do not find any reason for limiting the establishment of the Boards to particular localities alone. Further, we will be setting up a bad precedent quite contrary to our tradition if we thus give power to Government to create such invidious distinction between one locality and another. To say that the Bill should be proceeded with cautiously and slowly does not appear to me to be a reasonable proposition at this time of day. Now this cannot be considered as a matter of mere experiment. It is rather a matter of conviction attempted to be carried into practice through law.

The Law Member was stressing the point that we must see that the Board function expeditiously. Answer to this is simple. If efficient officers are selected and controlled properly I am quite sure that much of the apprehended dilatoriness can be avoided. I am convinced, Sir, that a piecemeal execution of a measure of the kind will not be of any good to the agriculturists of our State. Unquestionably, this measure is intended to give relief to the agriculturists of the land as a whole. The earlier the agriculturists recover the better it is for the State. Without such a specific provision in the Bill affording opportunities for every agriculturist debtor to get the benefit of the conciliation proceedings, the Bill with its dignified and dandified title, would make confusion worse confounded among the agriculturists, on whose prosperity and well-being alone rests the financial prosperity of our country.

With these words, I oppose the amendment.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): Sir, I was rather surprised to hear the honourable Law Member say that proper persons will not be available to act as Conciliation Officers and that that was one of the reasons which induced him to come forward with this amendment. That argument does not, in my opinion, stand to reason. There are large numbers of qualified and competent men in Travancore, from whom a suitable selection may be made. Another point that I want to urge is that I agree with the view that the provision of conciliation should not be restricted to any particular area or areas, merely because the Government have not got sufficient funds at their command. Adequate funds should be forthcoming for a landable object such as this. It is found from the report of the Agricultural Debt Redemption Committee that no one particular part of Travancore is more affected than another and that all parts of the State are equally liable to agricultural indebtedness. Therefore it seems to me that no invidious distinction should be made in the matter of giving this relief. If any such distinction is made there will be a scramble from persons of different taluks for Conciliation Boards and the Government themselves will find it very difficult to solve the question to the satisfaction of all concerned. I can, however, understand the position that we cannot at this stage, gauge how far the Boards will be a success. It is true, that some Boards will have to be set up as an experimental measure. So, what I would suggest is that there should be at least one Board for every general constituency to start with, and that if it is found from experience that this experiment results in success, more Boards might be constituted as the measure progresses. In that manner, much of the difficulty may be removed. At any rate it should be possible for the Law Member to assure the House that—

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): Does the honourable member refer to constituencies relating to this House?

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): I am not concerned with any House other than this for the time being. It must be possible for the Law Member to assure this House now, and not after waiting for three or six months, that a reasonable number of Boards will be constituted to start with.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): I would like to speak a word in support of the amendment moved by the Law Member. I am prepared to support the amendment on one of the grounds. In supporting that, it should not be misunderstood that I am not for affording relief to the agriculturists. My apprehension is that with the kind of Boards contemplated in the Bill it is not possible to afford relief to the agricultural debtors. The Law Member stated that the institution of Boards should be considered as an experimental measure atleast so far as Travancore is concerned. We have no knowing as to what kind of officers are to function as members of the Board. There is no well-defined provision in the Bill fixing the requisite qualification and training for these officers. No clear rules have been laid down in the present Bill in regard to the procedure that is to be followed by the Boards and as such we do not know the result that will accrue out of the working of these Boards. Further, there is no legal sanction behind the decisions of the Boards. Under such circumstances I would ask whether it is wise to compel Government to flood the whole country with Boards? Why not we allow a sound discretion to Government in the matter of setting up Boards? As a beginning, let the Government start with Boards in a few places. If they say that the Boards will not be extended to other places after seeing that they work successfully it is a different matter. The honourable Law Member was saying that a few experimental Boards will be set up and after watching their successful working Government will consider the question of extending them to other areas as well. Under such circumstances, my conviction is that the amendment of the Law Member has to be accepted. With these words, I support the amendment.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla II): I also oppose the amendment. From the very start when the Bill was published in the Gazette there was doubt in my mind as to the benefits that will accrue to the agriculturists by the provisions of the Bill. Certain amendments were proposed by me in the Select Committee. Those amendments were refused by the majority of the members. After considering the amendment as adopted by the Select Committee I had the painful necessity to add a dissenting note that the provisions of the Bill are too inadequate to meet the requirements of the agriculturists and that they do not serve to give the necessary relief to the agriculturists in general. But during the second reading of the Bill certain amendments were moved and carried. In my opinion those amendments that are carried by the majority of the Assembly are most essential to meet the requirements of the present time. These are, firstly that the jurisdiction of the Conciliation Boards should be extended throughout Travancore, secondly that retrospective effect should be given for the reduction of interest from 1105 and a few other things. If these amendments that were carried by the majority of the House are to be deleted from the provisions of the Bill, I do not know how the title of the Bill as it is framed will hold good. The title of the Bill is "The Travancore Agriculturists' Relief Bill." So, whatever provisions are made in the Bill it should apply to all the agriculturists of Travancore. When I read all the amendments together moved by my honourable friend the Law Member, I must say with some hesitation that I suspect the sincerity of the Government in handling the situation. I suspect the sincerity for several reasons. The measure ought to have been passed into law much earlier. The situation is such that some sort of relief must be given immediately. The longer it is delayed the more dangerous it will be both to the debtors as well as to the creditors. It is more than three years since the Government undertook to solve this problem. When this House has expressed its opinion that there should be certain provisions in the Bill to benefit the agriculturists, to come again to the House and seek permission for deleting those provisions which were deliberately included in the Bill is very suspicious. I think that Government want to make a show that they are also trying to do something for the amelioration of the poor agriculturists. But they are not doing anything to solve the real problem. That suspicion in the minds of the people does not go to the credit of Travancore. Suppose an epidemic such as cholera or smallpox breaks throughout all the taluks and the Government is only contemplating to establish a dispensary or a relief centre at Trivandrum. In the first place it is not possible for all the inhabitants of Travancore to run to Trivandrum for help. It is very difficult. Supposing the Government were to issue an order that only inhabitants of Trivandrum taluk should seek relief at the dispensary at Trivandrum, how painful it would be? Government cannot contemplate such an injustice as to give relief only to the people of Trivandrum. Sir, the effects of depression are worse than pestilence. By pestilence many people cease to exist. By the burden of depression they live dying. They are living in debt. So I appeal to the Government that they must find funds to establish as many Conciliation Boards as are necessary to solve this problem as expeditiously as possible. Never mind the number. Let it go even to hundred. It must be expeditiously solved. Delay is dangerous. Every business is in suspense. Both the creditor and the debtor do not know what to do next. It is more dangerous to the debtors. If this measure is to be adopted it must be applicable throughout the State. So I appeal to the House to throw out the amendment.

MR. P. CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI (Commerce and Industry, South): Sir, I rise to support the amendment. One of my hon'ble friends said that he doubted the sincerity of Government in bringing forward this amendment. I also suspect the Government in prolonging this Bill. Speaking for the commercial community I may say that they are dead against the Bill because the Bill was necessitated only because of exceptional circumstances which prevailed in the country on account of economic depression. The price of cocoanut is going up as also that of rubber and therefore we are now in a position somewhat different from some time back.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Malabar): Leaving alone the price, may I know whether the number of cocoanuts is not going down?

MR. P. CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI (Commerce and Industry, South): That is where I cannot agree with my hon'ble friends.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): What about the price of paddy?

MR. P. CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI (Commerce and Industry, South): Whenever there is a competition the best way to face it is to produce more. What we did with cocoanut is the same thing. When we found that the prices were going down we did not spend enough money upon cocoanut and meet our competitors.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalikulam I): May I know from where the money is to be found for that?

MR. P. CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI (Commerce and Industry, South): Therefore the question before the House, so far as this amendment is concerned, is whether we should have these Conciliation Boards all at once throughout the State or only in certain specified areas. From the speech of several members it looks as though it is the birthright and privilege of every Travancorean to be conciliated. (Laughter.) It reduces to that. Even though the conditions have improved or might improve in future he still must be conciliated. That seems to be the attitude of some of my friends. Of course I can explain that attitude because our days are numbered. We have shortly to meet the electorate. For years we had been living with this problem of agricultural indebtedness. That has been our life work. If that problem is solved that means that will have no platform hereafter.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalikulam I): May I know whether any facility has been afforded for that? Is it fair to deny facilities to some?

MR. P. CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI (Commerce and Industry, South): What more can an ordinary citizen require? The thing is that as I stated at the outset I am supporting the amendment not for the reason given by the learned Law Member. I take it, Sir, that the Government is trying by this amendment to get out of the commitment made by Government in introducing the Bill itself. For the sake of saving their own face they may undertake to introduce three or four Boards and find them working not successfully and then there must be an end. Sir, we cannot be living in perpetual insolvency. The poor are always indebted. Now there is absolutely nothing bad in commerce or industry to proclaim to the whole world that we are a set of paupers. As a matter of fact this situation is only temporary. If things brighten in the near future we might drop the whole thing. Therefore I would support the amendment and place it as a reasonable proposition for the acceptance of this House. Bright rays are already to be found in the horizon and we shall once again be going on in our routine way. Our politicians can think of some other platform for their electioneering campaign. With these words I support the amendment.

MR. KAYYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirhar Vakil): Sir, having considered the speeches made by the hon'ble members opposing the amendment, I must say that they are all based on a thorough misconception. The main point that they stressed was that the benefits of conciliation available under the Bill should be extended to everybody, and that no one should be denied it. Sir, I never said that my idea was to deny the benefit to anybody. What I said was that we must try the Boards' actual working and then gradually extend. I never said that the benefits will be denied to anybody. There may only be some little delay for some to get benefit. To start with it is going to be only an experiment and in that experimental stage the whole State cannot be brought under the conciliation scheme. If it is going to be a success, by and by, the whole State will be given the benefit by extending the Boards' activities to other areas also.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether any legislation can hold Government responsible when once they have passed law?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirhar Vakil): I shall answer it later on. The legislature is a business like body and the Government do not want to achieve things in a crooked way. Government, having considered the matter, stated that they may appoint some seven or eight Boards. The House may think that sixty boards must be established. But the House must accept the position that it is the right of Government to determine the number of Boards and Government propose to appoint only say five Boards then is it right to tell Government that the jurisdiction of these five Boards together should be the whole State? That is the question. The present question is not whether Government should establish 50 Boards or 5 Boards. The legislature has given complete discretion to Government to determine the number of Boards. Keeping that in mind, answer the question. The Government propose to appoint only, say five Boards. If that be so, what would be the effect of the clause.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kakkulam I): May I know apart from financial considerations whether there is anything which stands against Government making the jurisdiction of the Boards less compact?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Faki): There is. If, say ten Boards are to be given a local jurisdiction of over 7000 square miles, will it serve the purpose of real conciliation? Secondly, owing to certain other provisions of the Bill viz., that civil court proceedings must be stayed during conciliation proceedings, the result will be that all monetary activities will become still. Does the House want to do that? My object never was to deny the benefit to any body. Let us try the scheme and when it is successful its operation can be extended. I believe the word I used even at the outset was that it was the ambition of Government to bring the benefit of the provisions of the Bill to every body. I said that I will start five or say ten Boards and that these can not effectively comprise within their jurisdiction in the whole State. The reply to this should be "Allright, you can have 7000 square miles as the local jurisdiction". I never heard any honourable member say that because it would be preposterous to say so. The House cannot increase the number of Boards because the House has already given Government the discretion to fix the number of Boards. The House must assume the fact that we can have only five or seven Boards. That fact can not be interfered with. That fact assumed, the only question is whether the five or seven Boards can be given 7000 square miles as local jurisdiction.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): May I know whether it is for the whole province or for different areas?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Faki): May be different areas; but the whole for the different Boards together. I would appeal to the House to bear in mind that the real question is not the possibility of the appointment of either say ten or say sixty Boards but that the simple question is, assuming that the Government will appoint only say ten boards, whether it is right or desirable to tell the Government that you need appoint only ten Boards but give them the entire 7000 square miles as their local jurisdiction.

MR. A. S. DANODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know whether the Law Member is in a position to assure the House that after six months these Boards will be established?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Faki): I will not say definitely. It may even be three months or four months or eight months. It will all depend, as I said, on the ambition of Government to extend the Boards to the whole State.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): Will it not depend upon the success of the experiment?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Yes; on that also mainly. Now the House will see the real position. Let us look at it from a practical point of view.

MR. K. C. ABRAHAM (Ko'tayam II): May I know whether 50 or 60 Boards is the maximum on the basis of 7,000 square miles?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I put only an approximate figure, just to illustrate the real position.

MR. K. C. ABRAHAM (Ko'tayam II): May I know whether several areas require different requirements?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Yes.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quinn II): May I know what is the total area in Madras allotted?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): In Madras the Boards have not come yet. Further, the conditions are different there. There the two classes, the debtor and creditor, are clearly distinct classes. Most of the agriculturists may be debtors but the creditors form mostly a separate distinct class, the money lender class. Here every debtor may be a creditor as well.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trinandran. Urban): Has the Government finally rejected the number suggested by the Committee, thirty or so i. e., one in each taluk?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): They have not rejected, so to say.

MR. V. K. VELPPA NAIK (Vaikom): Is it the member's view that all the debts should go for conciliation?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): All kinds of debts would go in, provided of course a Board is established for the area.

PRESIDENT: The House will now adjourn to meet again at 11 A. M. to-morrow.

The House adjourned at 4.30. P. M.

THE TRAVANCORE SRI MULAM ASSEMBLY.

(OFFICIAL REPORT.)

FIRST ASSEMBLY.

NINTH SESSION.

Tuesday, the 17th November 1936/2nd Vrischikam 1112.

The Assembly met again in the Victoria Jubilee Town Hall at Eleven of the Clock, with the President in the Chair.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Extension of service in the P. W. D.

11. * Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement of clerks in the P. W. D. who were given extension of service in 1108, 1109, 1110 and 1111 (till 6-3-1111) and the reasons therefor?

Mr. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): The *statement is laid on the table.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, with reference to the answer given at page 5, Appendix I, may I know from the Government whether it is the same clerk who has been given extension in the years 1108 to 1111?

Mr. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): No, Sir, I do not think it is.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know why that clerk was given extension for all these years?

Mr. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I do not say that he was given extension for all these years.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know from the Government whether the Government are aware that many of the clerks who have retired during these years were found fit for active service?

Mr. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): No.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know from the Government whether any certificate was obtained from the clerk in question?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): The Division Officer granted the clerk an extension of nine months between 1109 -1110.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Am I then to understand that the question depends upon the favour of the Division Officers?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): No.

PRESIDENT: Mr. S. J. Nair, next question, please.

Minor Irrigation in the Nedumangad taluk.

12. MR. S. J. - (a) whether the list would be placed on the table;
- (b) what works in the list were executed formerly;
- (c) what works are under execution;
- (d) why irrigation works are not undertaken in the Nedumangad taluk; and
- (e) whether the "Parandottukarathu chira" in the Kulathummel pakuthi, and the "Kulavikarathu chira" in the Nedumangad town, which were restored formerly, remain completely useless for paddy cultivation?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation):

(a) The list is placed on the table of the Assembly Secretary for reference.

(b) (i) Restoring Parandottukonathu chiras in Kulathummel pakuthi.

(ii) Restoring Kulavikonathu chira in Nedumangad town,

(c) None at present.

(d) As many of the tanks mentioned in the list, come under petty irrigation, they have to be improved by the ryots as per the Irrigation Regulation. Regarding Minor Irrigation works included in it, no requisitions for the improvements of any particular tank have been made by the ryots.

(e) No; but some additional works are found necessary and these are being investigated and estimated for. The correct names of the tanks are Parandottukonathu chira and Kulavikonathu chira.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know from the Government whether the Chief Engineer has inspected these two chiras and has come to the conclusion that these two chiras are not useless?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads Buildings and Irrigation): The report of the Division Officer concerned was considered.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know when the Division Officer inspected these two chiras?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings, and Irrigation): I cannot say the date.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know from the Government whether the Government are aware that the Revenue Commissioner has inspected "Parandottukarathu chira" and that he has reported that that chira is useless for paddy cultivation?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I have no information.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the Government are aware that the tax on the "Parandottukarathu chira" is now being stopped on account of its uselessness.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings, and Irrigation): The irrigation tax is being stopped in the case of Kulavikonathu chira.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): What is the reason for stopping it?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): The Government are enquiring into the matter.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether it has been stopped as the result of the uselessness of the chira?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I have already replied to that question.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether Government are aware that no work of minor irrigation has been started in Nedumangad taluk?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I claim notice.

PRESIDENT: The official member demands time to answer the question.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, when I put the question plainly he evades the answer. I am explaining—

PRESIDENT: Order, order. That personal explanation is required from the officer and not from you.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I have not completed the supplementary questions. With regard to answer (c), may I know whether the Government are aware that the people of Nedumangad have submitted petitions praying for improvement of the chiras in their localities.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Many of the tanks in Nedumangad come under petty irrigation and if the honourable member would refer to the Regulation he will see that most of the tanks should be repaired by the ryots concerned. Ryots should petition for other tanks to be repaired for which they have to contribute half the cost.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether any work with regard to the improvement of the major tanks has been taken up by Government.

Mr. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): No petition to that effect has been received by me.

PRESIDENT : The honourable member may possibly take advantage of the offer.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara) : May I know why the salary is unsettled ? May I know why it was reduced from Rs. 50 to Rs. 40 after the standardisation ?

MR. E. K. KUNJURAMAN (No notes): ഈ അപേക്ഷ അയച്ചു ആൾ വിഷവൈദ്യശാസ്ത്രവിശാരദ എന്ന പരിഷ്ക പാസ്സായിട്ടുണ്ട് എന്നുള്ള വിവരം അറിയാമോ?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): Yes; the matter is under consideration.

MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): May I know whether the proposal to levy fees for medicine is for the General Hospital alone or for all the hospitals in the State?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): The question is under the consideration of Government. I do not know if I will be correct in answering this before any decision is come to.

MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): That is not my point. May I know whether it is the proposal to levy fees in the General Hospital alone or for all the hospitals in the State?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): The whole question is under the consideration of Government.

MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): May I know whether such a course is in vogue in any part of British India?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangudi): May I know whether a Committee has been appointed to go into the whole question and see whether it is feasible or not to levy fees for the supply of medicines?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): I think this question was discussed by the Retrenchment Committee three years ago.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Muvattupuzha II): Then may I know whether the number of questions that are admitted by the President and answered in the House are not usually published every year in the administration report of the Government?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA Dr. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): They are published in the administration report.

PRESIDENT: Certain information is asked for from departments by Government and it is supplied by the heads of departments. They are treated for certain purposes as members of this House. The question of admission of interpellations and the question of dealing with the answers furnished by the heads of departments are matters for the President. Once they come into this Assembly the sole jurisdiction vests with the President and the Assembly.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA Dr. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): No, Sir. There were other occasions also.

PRESIDENT: Before proceeding with the Agriculturists Relief Bill I may ask whether it will be convenient for the Honourable Members of the House if the House adjourns at half-past one, that is to say, to sit half an hour longer than the usual time to-day and then adjourn. If there is any note of dissent I would not press the point.

LEGISLATIVE BUSINESS.

THE TRAVANCORE AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF

BILL—(contd.).

Clause 3.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, last evening I was dealing with the nature and position of Conciliation Boards in other places in India. A large volume of criticism against my amendment was based on the position supposed to exist in other Provinces of India and in some Native States. I would say at once that our scheme of conciliation is much more ambitious than the schemes formulated anywhere in India. Both the debtors and creditors have of course to be brought together for conciliation. The number of persons thus have thus to be brought would be much larger here and I may also add that the scope of our conciliation is also much larger both in regard to quality and quantity of debts. In regard to the quantity of debts to be brought under conciliation, a minimum as well as a maximum are very often fixed elsewhere. For example in the Central Provinces sums below Rs. 150 would not be conciliated. In Madras no amount below Rs. 100 would be conciliated. This is one side of the matter. In some other places a maximum is fixed. In Punjab it is Rs. 10,000 and in the Central Provinces it is Rs. 25,000, and amounts above these will not be conciliated. Thus a limitation exists as to the volume of the debts that will come in for conciliation.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Then may I know why is it such a limitation was not fixed so far as our legislation goes? May I know whether anybody objected to it?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): That question does not arise. The fact is there and nobody has objected to it till now. We must take the Bill as it is. It provides for conciliation of all debts, be the amount Rs. 1 or Rs. 10 or Rs. 10,000 or even lakhs. There is no limit as regards the volume of debt to be brought under conciliation. This comprehensive scale of operation has not been tried elsewhere in India.

Again in regard to the quality also of the debts there is difference. We are bringing within its scope all kinds of debts. Trade debts, debts due to co-operative societies, rent debts, etc.—all these come within the ambit of conciliation. These are not allowed elsewhere in India. Thus then, it must be noted, that practically all kinds of monetary transactions are to be brought in for conciliation. That necessarily involves a large volume of work. We cannot now say where we would stand.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikkara): May I know from the Law Member, if this Bill is more beneficent to the agricultural population than other legislations of similar kind in British India, why he is denying it to some persons?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): For the hundredth time let me say that I am not denying the benefit to any agriculturist. I am only saying that we have to be very cautious and that therefore there may be some delay in bringing the benefit to some.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Then may I know—

PRESIDENT: The honourable members must remember that this is not question time.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Does not the member think that the delay in giving relief is tantamount to denial?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): No, Sir. I will never admit that, because that is not a fact. Sir, I was saying that the volume of the work that would go before the Board under our scheme is unlimited. Those responsible for this Bill believe that the Bill would prove to the benefit of the agriculturist in general and they do not want to curtail its scope as by limiting the volume of the debt that may be allowed to go before the Board. In regard to the nature of the debts too, we are not excluding any kind of debts such as trade debts or rent or debts due to co-operative societies. Practically therefore every kind of debt and that to any amount can be brought before the Board. Again if you look at the definition of the term 'agriculturists' you will find that it includes practically everybody. If you look at similar enactments in other places you will find that that it is not so. There are considerable limitations as to who alone would be an agriculturist. Again there is what may be called a money-lending class or sowcar class in other places, who form the bulk of the creditors. Here you can hardly find a limited class as the money-lending class except in one or two places. Yesterday some honourable member said here that about 20 lakhs of people in Travancore are debtors. I should add that if so there would be 20 lakhs of creditors also. The example of Bhavnagar was quoted.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I ask whether it has been found by the A. D. R. Committee that 50 per cent of the total debt in Travancore is owned by the creditors?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): It may be. But it cannot be said that when we are trying to conciliate debts this fifty per cent. can be excluded. The House itself and those responsible for the Bill did not try to exclude any debts. If you exclude debts, say below Rs. 150, or above, say Rs. 5,000, there will be a large exclusion.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether at the time of making the rules it will not be possible to limit the amount?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I do not know. However, I will bear in mind the member's suggestions if necessary.

Sir, the fact remains that there is no limitation under our scheme in regard to volume of the debts that could be conciliated. In regard to the number of creditors too it is much larger here than elsewhere, there being no particular class of people here as the money-lending class. I was referring to Bhavnagar which was cited very often in this House. There, the agricultural debt has been reduced, it was stated, by about 25 per cent. or so. The number of people dealt with there was very limited. If you could get hold of some 25 or 30 creditors there and their books, you would have got practically all transactions and you can easily deal with these 25 or 30 or say even 100 persons. The total debt here may amount to some 30 crores and the debtors and creditors will number about 20 lakhs of people each, though of course the debtor may be a creditor also, so that the number and the nature of debts and debtors and creditors will be much larger here. That is why I say that we are trying an experiment, an ambitious experiment. I do not want to dilate on this. I will just quote the words of the Dewan—I think it is permissible for me to do so—given in reply to a Deputation that recently waited on him on this Bill. He said:

"I was struck by certain features of the Bill which in my opinion is more comprehensive than any other that I have seen—I have studied the Punjab Legislation, the Central Provinces Legislation and the Madras Legislation—I think it would be correct to say that this Bill is wider in scope than any legislation that I have studied".

It is rather embarrassing to compliment or evaluate the Dewan who is presiding just now. But may I not say, that in him you have a very eminent lawyer, a far seeing statesman and a shrewd economist, and that there is none more competent than he to. ....

PRESIDENT: Order, order. I think the honourable member's observation is not relevant.

MR. SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Triandrum-Urian): I wish to put one question. With reference to the passage read by the Law Member I am asking this question. Does the Dewan say that the relief shall not be given to any set of people?

PRESIDENT: It is not permissible for the honourable member to interrogate the Dewan indirectly in this manner (Laughter).

MR. SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Triandrum-Urian): A word of personal explanation, Sir.

PRESIDENT: It is not necessary. The President does not need any personal explanation on a matter which concerns the Dewan. The Law Member will now proceed.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I was trying to explain that our scheme is much more ambitious and comprehensive than those inaugurated elsewhere, and let us hope that by the grace of God we will succeed.

Having regard to the magnitude of this experiment, the House will I dare say expect the Government to proceed cautiously and step by step.

Now in regard to the nature of the proposals contained in this Bill, I may perhaps refer also to the opinion of the High Court which was given very recently, which has been placed in the library of the House.

PRESIDENT: Has the honourable member placed the opinion of the High Court on the table of the House?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): It is being placed. The High Court say:

"The definition of the term 'agriculturists' in the Bill is far too wide so as to take in practically most of the non-agriculturist debtors of the State. The definition of the term 'debt' is also equally wide so as to include commercial debts, debts incurred for marriages, house-building, or for extravagance and speculation, incurred by agriculturists for non-agricultural purposes".

PRESIDENT: Order, order. The general principle is that when members representing any departments of Government refer to documents, they should have been placed on the table of the House for some time before the reference is made in order to enable the members of the House to have an idea of the contents of those documents. I make an exception in this case. Hereafter the members representing departments of Government will take note of this fact.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, it will thus be seen that our scheme is much more ambitious and comprehensive than that elsewhere and therefore the work that will fall to the Board here will be much larger in volume and extent. It is but right that this House should allow Government to proceed cautiously and step by step.

I said that the scope of debt conciliation in the Central Provinces is limited. Yet what is it that was done there? In spite of limitations there, they appointed but two boards at the outset and added six more after some time. Honourable members may see it from the Agricultural Debt Redemption Committee's report, page 88, which says:

"The Central Provinces Debt Conciliation Act was passed in 1933 and, so far, eight Debt Conciliation Boards have been established under the Act. The work began with two Boards only in areas where indebtedness was very heavy and the chances of settlement favourable".

In Madras, the Boards have not yet been established. The law was passed some time ago; but they have only just now published the draft rules. The author of the Bill that became the law made a criticism of this tardiness, at the seventh annual conference of the Primary Land Mortgage Banks held recently in Madras. He complained that the Government did not yet bring the Boards into operation. The Honourable Sir Geoffrey Bracken, the Madras Finance Member, who opened the conference replied that that was due to the fact that Government had to proceed cautiously and without creating any alarm to the creditor classes. It may be interesting to the House to hear what the Honourable Finance Member said. I shall read it:

"There remains the Debt Conciliation Bill for which your President is mainly responsible. A beginning will shortly be made with Debt Conciliation Board. Now, however desirable the scaling down of debts may be, I must sound a nate of caution. It is an extraordinary remedy devised to meet the extraordinary situation created by the world wide economic depression and it has its disadvantages and dangers. I have already alluded to the danger of destroying the delicate fabric of credit. That this danger is real can be illustrated by the experience of some of the Loans Officers now engaged in scaling down debts as a preliminary to the grant of loans. Though the arrangements made between creditors and debtors are purely voluntary, it has been reported that some debtors are reluctant to come forward to get their debts scaled down, because they fear that their creditors who generally speaking have treated them fairly will hesitate, if debts are once scaled down, to make any further advances. Evidently the rural population is more alive to the realities of the situation than some of our doctrinaire socialists. If such is the case with the voluntary scaling down of debts, I leave it to you to consider what will happen if an element of compulsion is introduced. It is for this reason that Government have to be cautious in framing rules for Debt Conciliation Boards. Actually the Special Loans Officers have been doing debt conciliation work by scaling down debts before granting loans. The experience gained will be valuable in framing rules, but, as you know, the time most of the Loans Officers have been engaged in the work has been short. This explains the delay in bringing the Debt Conciliation Act into operation."

Sir, the fear alluded to is a natural fear felt by the creditor as well as by the debtor. At the same time I must say that Government are convinced that the debtors do stand in need of relief and we cannot allow any feelings of alarm to stand in the way of the relief being given. We must therefore proceed cautiously and make conciliation to scale down the debts without creating any alarm in the minds of the creditors. That is why I say, let us go step by step. I may mention that, so far as I have been able to ascertain, there is no place in India where Conciliation Boards have been set up to function throughout the Province or State. Mysore was quoted yesterday. So far as I have been able to ascertain, only certain portions of the State are under conciliation. That is the case in other places too. It will be a dangerous proceeding if all at once we bring the whole of Travancore within the jurisdiction of the Conciliation Boards. Let us start with a few Boards and then extend.

Once again, let me repeat that my object is not to deny the benefit of conciliation to anybody. Government only want permission to extend it gradually. To accept the present provision in the Bill will result in starting all the Boards together simultaneously and throughout the State or, in the alternative, in not starting any board at all. As the Bill stands, Government are not bound to establish any Boards. Starting any Board is left to the discretion of Government. But Government do want to establish boards and try them; they cannot however establish many Boards and that throughout the State. Will the House give reasonable facilities to Government to establish some Boards to start with and then extend? Or, rather would the House see that the Government do not start any Boards at all? That is the question. The amendment was then put and carried.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): I demand a poll. A poll was taken and the House divided as follows:—

This is also intended to correct a clerical error.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

The amendment was put to vote and carried.

Clause 20.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar): I beg to move the following amendment:—

In Clause 20, number the existing Clause as sub-clause (1), and add the following as sub-clause (2), namely:—

Although my amendment to Clause 3, has been carried, I may frankly tell the House that it is the desire of the Government to establish as many Conciliation Boards as possible. But such a course may very likely result in the Boards in not being able to dispose of their work very expeditiously. And the result of such delay will be that Court proceedings in respect of money claims will stop indefinitely. Such an eventuality is undesirable as it is against public policy. It will also injure credit transactions in the State. There are people in Travancore who have got money to lend. It is desirable to see that they do not become reluctant to lend their moneys, and they will become reluctant if Courts are at a standstill.

There are two ways of preventing the Court proceedings being stayed indefinitely by reason of the pendency of conciliation proceedings. One is to lay down that the proceedings in Courts shall not be stayed at all, or, if they are to be stayed, they may be stayed only for a limited period. The other alternative is to lay down that the cases before the Board shall be deemed to have been dismissed if they are not actually disposed of within a prescribed period.

[Mr. Kayalain Paramesvaran Pillai.]

During the second reading of this Bill, when Clause 28 was under debate Mr. Damodaran Asan suggested that it would be desirable to amend Clause 20 to the effect that applications for conciliations before the Board shall be deemed to have been dismissed if they are not actually disposed of within a specified period. With a view to ascertain whether the House would be prepared to accept that suggestion, and in order to give the House an opportunity to express its opinion on the suggestion of Mr. Asan, I am placing this amendment before the House. I have given notice of an amendment to Clause 28 also.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I oppose this amendment. There seems to be other amendments also.

PRESIDENT: I have received notices of the following amendments:—

By MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR :

"In amendment No. 8 to Clause 20 for the words occurring after 'sub-section (1) substitute' 'all applications pending on the file of the Board on the date of its dissolution shall be deemed to be dismissed on such date.'"

In amendment No. 9 to Clause 28 for "for the prescribed period" substitute "till the dissolution of the Board."

In amendment No. 11 to Clause 26 omit the words "and in existence on such date."

In amendment No. 12 to Clause 33 after the word "treated" insert the following viz., "for the purpose of this Regulation."

By MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN :

In line 4 between the words "dismissed" and "if" insert the words "for purposes of Clause 26" and add at the end as a separate paragraph :

"Provided that this sub-section shall not apply for a period of three months after the prescribed date where the Conciliation Officer, for reasons to be recorded in writing, orders that an extension of the prescribed period is necessary in the general interests of the parties before him."

In line 5 of Clause 33 between the words "date" and "as" insert the words "for purpose of fixing the annual pattern for such period."

By MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI :

In line 4 delete the words "prescribed period," and substitute "period of twelve months from the date of the presentation of the application under Section 4."

Under Standing Order No. 43, notice of six clear days has to be given in regard to these amendments. Of these amendments, those by Mr. Sivaraman Nair were received on the 12th; Mr. Asan's amendments were received on the 16th; and Mr. Puthupalli Krishna Pillai's was received only at 11-15 this morning. I shall take up these amendments and put them, one after another, to the House to see whether there is any member objecting to it on the ground of want of notice.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikkara): I would submit one point for the consideration of the Chair. These are amendments to amendments. At the third reading of Bills we are entitled to bring forward amendments only to the amendments brought forward by the Government. Under the Standing Orders, even for the amendments to be brought forward by the Government at the third reading, the prescribed notice is only six clear days. It is therefore not possible for us who have to propose amendments to amendments of which we get only six days' notice, to give notice of our amendments. Therefore the Standing Order referred to by the Chair applies only to the original amendments themselves and not to the amendments to those amendments.

PRESIDENT : Is it the honourable member's contention that the Standing Order 46 does not apply at this stage? The Standing Order 46 is:—

".....No amendments other than those connected with the amendments moved on behalf of Government shall, without the special permission of the Dewan, be brought up for the consideration at this stage."

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara) : So amendments connected with the amendment moved by the Government can be moved without the special permission of the Dewan.

".....No amendments other than those connected with the amendments moved on behalf of Government shall, without the special permission of the Dewan, be brought up for consideration at this stage."

PRESIDENT : I think the honourable member is right. I allow the amendment to be moved.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil) : Sir, with regard to Mr. Sivaraman Nayar's amendment I have got an objection. It is really a negative of the Clause.

PRESIDENT : Let him move it.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II) : I move that —

"In amendment No. 8, to Clause 20 for the words occurring after sub-section (1) substitute "all applications pending on the file of the Board on the date of its dissolution shall be deemed to be dismissed on such date."

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil) : That is really a negative of the Clause and not any amendment at all.

PRESIDENT : Does the honourable member Mr. Sivaraman Nair wish to say anything on that matter?

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II) : The Law Member's amendment says that all applications pending after a prescribed period shall be dismissed. My amendment is connected with that.

PRESIDENT : In substance it negatives the Clause. Therefore I hold that it is not admissible.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara) : Sir, I move that —

In line 4 between the words "dismissed" and "If" insert the words "for purpose of Clause 28" and add at the end as a separate paragraph:

"Provided that this sub-section shall not apply for a period of three months after the prescribed date where the Conciliation Officer, for reasons to be recorded in writing, orders that an extension of the prescribed period is necessary in the general interests of the parties before him."

[Mr. A. S. Damodaran Asan.]

I shall briefly explain the object of my amendment. The Law Member has said that his object in bringing forward this amendment is to see that the proceedings before the Civil Courts are not indefinitely held up owing to the pendency of the proceedings before a Conciliation Officer. Proceedings before a Civil Court are held up under the provisions of Clause 28 of the Bill. Under Clause 28, the proceedings have to be suspended unless for special reasons to be recorded in writing, the Court feels that such suspension is not desirable. The only ground that has been brought forward by the Law Member in support of his amendment is that the proceedings should not be suspended. If the amendment of the Law Member as now brought forward is accepted the application will be dismissed for all purposes. That is to say, even if conciliation proceedings have advanced to a fairly successful stage and some more time is required during which the conciliation could be effected, automatically at the close of the prescribed period the application has to be deemed to be dismissed. That means that the work of the Conciliation Officer for such a long time, the expectations raised in the parties, and the suspension of the proceedings by the Civil Courts will all be useless, because on a particular date the conciliation proceedings have not been completed. So, I am suggesting in the first part of my amendment that the dismissal must be only for purposes of Clause 28, i. e., only as far as the suspension of the proceedings of the Civil Courts is concerned.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Tricandrum-Rural): May I know whether it is the suggestion of the member that proceedings may go on simultaneously before the Board and the Court on the same matter?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I think that there is no serious objection in having proceedings before a Civil Court with regard to a debt that is being sought to be conciliated by a Conciliation Board, because proceedings in the two places are entirely different. Proceedings before a Conciliation Officer are to be fruitful only if there is agreement between the parties and the agreement is arrived at on principles of equity as well.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamtilta): Will not the admission made in the Board by parties affect the decision by the Civil Court?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I do not think so. What are the admissions made by the parties? I do not fully grasp the question.

PRESIDENT: If the honourable member does not understand the question he need not answer it.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamtilta): To explain my question, suppose a party admits the existence of a debt in the Conciliation Board which he is not under any obligation to admit before a Civil Court. In such circumstances will it not affect the decision of the Civil Court?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): If there is a real debt that is due and it is admitted before a Conciliation Officer, I do not think that any party will deny the existence of such a debt before the Civil Court?

PRESIDENT: The honourable member may resume his argument.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I was answering Mr. Thanu Pillai's question and submitting that there is no serious objection with regard to continuing the proceedings before the Conciliation Officer even though there is an application before the Civil Court.

The second part of my amendment is brought forward with this object. Proceedings before a Civil Court are suspended under Section 28 owing to the pendency of the proceedings before a Conciliation Officer. On the day on which the prescribed period expires, if the Conciliation Officer feels that there is every chance of his amicably settling the whole dispute within a short time it is not fair to drive the parties to continue the proceedings before the Civil Court. Moreover we will find that owing to the existence of Clause 28, there is another provision in Clause 30 saying that the period of limitation as well will be extended. So if one of the creditors feels that the whole thing could be settled before the Conciliation Officer within a short period and the Conciliation Officer also hopes to conclude his proceedings within a short period it is only fair that both the debtor as well as the creditor should be given the benefit of the Clauses 28 and 30. That is why I wish to add that the sub-section (3) shall not apply if the Conciliation Officer, for reasons to be recorded in writing, orders that the extension of the prescribed period is necessary. There also it will be observed that I do not give an unlimited period. I extend it only to three months. Even the powers of the Conciliation Officer for extending the period are limited to three months. So I do not think that there will be any difficulty by the acceptance of these amendments. On the other hand, it will only advance the interest of parties who have proceedings before a Conciliation Board. If there is no such provision both the debtors and creditors will be very reluctant to go before a Conciliation Officer for relief, because for no fault of theirs, the Conciliation Officer will not be in a position to dispose of the petition within the prescribed period. With these words I commend the amendment to the acceptance of the House.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): What will be the position—

PRESIDENT: The honourable member has sat down.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Thiruvalla II): I second the amendment. An application may be dismissed when the applicant fails to pursue his application with due diligence and when there is fraud. Now the present amendment seems to imply that all applications will be dismissed which have not been disposed of within a prescribed period. We are not sure what will be the prescribed period. It may be three months, it may be six months or it may be one year. If that be so, in such cases it may not be due to the want of diligence or due to fraud that the application is dismissed by the Board. By the provisions of the Regulation we know that several notices have to be given to the creditors and debtors as the case may be. In some cases evidence has to be taken, witnesses to be examined and there is a lot of complicated procedure. We know that in the disposal of the application the Board has more to use its discretion rather than the application of any code. As the honourable Law Member remarked, it is quite possible that the Board may take some time. It may take more time than even a Court to dispose of a case. By prescribing a period some of the applications may be dismissed automatically for no fault of the parties. It indirectly gives power to the Board to arbitrarily dispose of some applications. If a Board is of opinion that some applications need not be disposed of, it has only to keep that application without taking any action on it. If a Board does not want to deal with the application of a particular debtor or a creditor it need only keep the application pending till the end of the prescribed period. At the end of that period the application is dismissed automatically. So it gives arbitrary power to the Board.

It may also become necessary by this amendment to dismiss some applications after taking the whole evidence, say on the eve of the prescribed period. If it is two months, under the present amendment, on the 60th day the application automatically goes whether the whole evidence and other materials have already been taken or not. The Board even if it wants cannot keep it pending even a day more, though all the facts necessary for the disposal of the application may be with the Board itself. But the present amendment gives power to the Board to extend the time in such cases when the Board feels that within a little more time the application can be disposed of. So, Sir, I support the amendment moved by Mr. Asan.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum Rural): Sir, I rise to oppose both the amendments. I am not at all satisfied of the necessity.....

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pathan mthitta): Sir, a point of order. Has the Law Member moved his amendment? Mr. Thanu Pillai said that he is opposing both the amendments. My submission is that the Law Member has not moved his amendment.

PRESIDENT: He has moved. I heard him moving the amendment.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum Rural): The Conciliation Boards are proposed to be established on the basis that they are good enough at least for a trial. Now if these Boards are expected to form a satisfactory and desirable means of conciliating debts, why not allow the Board the time required to conciliate a particular debt? Now the Law Member has not advanced any reason for his amendment except this that the proceedings before the Board may not be expeditious and thereby the sources of our credit may be dried. That object I understand. But he has also advanced as a reason to establish Boards that the will form a useful means of conciliating debts. Then I ask why not give them sufficient time for this? Now Sir, let us see how delay is caused in the disposal of conciliation. The delay may be due to the negligence of parties or may be due to other proper and valid reasons. In the latter case I do not see any justification for taking away these cases from the Boards, simply because a particular matter requires more than six months to be disposed of. There may be a large number of creditors and several parties to be consulted, statements must be taken, and all these things may take more than six months or even a year. In that case the Law Member says, at the close of three months, the whole proceedings, should drop. I think it will be quite unwise to adopt this amendment. The Law Member is also not in a position to give us the exact period for the conciliation of a particularly complicated case. He said more time was required only in very exceptional cases. Then I ask is it not just and fair that for such cases a little more time should be allowed? To deal with normal cases we have already made ample provision in Clause 20. The Clause reads thus :

"An application under Section 4 may be dismissed by the Board at any stage of the proceedings—

- (a) if, in the opinion of the Board, the applicant fails to pursue his application with due diligence :

Provided that, when such applicant is a creditor, the Board, instead of dismissing such application, may substitute the debtor or any other creditor, who shall thereafter be deemed to be the applicant for the purposes of this legislation ; or

- (b) if, for reasons to be stated in writing, the Board considers it not desirable or practicable to effect a conciliation ; or

- (c) if the application includes a claim which, in the opinion of the Board, is collusive and intended to defraud any creditor".

To me it appears Sir, everything necessary is provided for in this Clause. If the party is negligent the application goes. If the Board thinks it impracticable the application goes and if the Board thinks that the application is not a bona fide one it goes. What more do we want? Why not vest the Board with the discretion of fixing the period according to the merits of each case and why this arbitrary time fixed by the rule. I strongly oppose the amendments put forward by the Law Member and Mr. Asan.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon D) : Sir, I also rise to oppose both the amendments. In principle, I do not find there is much difference between the two amendments. The amendment of the Law Member is, I think, highly objectionable. Firstly, Sir, under Standing Order 46 there is a provision, I might submit, that at the third reading of a Bill, only the Government can bring in an amendment. Therefore one can understand the necessity of Government bringing in amendments at this stage to see that the provisions of the Bill as proposed by Government are restored, when that is deemed absolutely necessary. But my submission is that the Law Member without availing himself of the opportunity during the second reading of the Bill is now putting forth his amendment when the Bill is about to be passed into law, thus making a substantial change in the Bill as introduced by him. If the amendments were brought under such exceptional circumstances, with the permission of the Dewan, to restore any provision of the Government Bill I can understand him. But Sir, the Law Member's amendment has never been suggested during the course of the whole discussion during the sittings of the Select Committee. It has not been brought up by him during the second reading. The reasons for this amendment were not given at the Select Committee. To bring in such an amendment during the third reading is to abuse the special powers given under Standing Order 46. I may also be permitted to say that an amendment akin to this was put forward by Mr. Sambasiva Aiyar, but the Chairman did not admit that amendment. Mr. Aiyar had specified six months to dismiss an application. Now, Sir, this House is not made aware of the period. Sir, it is a very serious objection to give Government such rule making powers when it could be avoided. Every body can understand that there must be residuary powers for Government for making rules. What is the difficulty to prescribe the period here and now?

I oppose Mr. Asan's amendment because it accepts the principle of the amendment of the Law Member to prescribe any period that they like, but he asks for only three months more. Now the Government are put in possession of the effect of Mr. Asan's amendment. If Mr. Asan's amendment is carried, there would be the likelihood of the Conciliation Officer asking for an extension of time and Government may fix the period accordingly. The whole effect of the amendment of Mr. Asan is thus nullified. The A. D. R. Committee themselves have recommended that only persons of eminence and character should be entrusted with this delicate and important piece of work. I see no reason why the Government should be invested with such powers. This power will work incalculable hardship to the parties who come for conciliation and would take away the benefit given by these provisions. The Law Member was very eloquent when he said that the Bill would provide relief to every kind of debtor. But if this amendment is carried this object will be frustrated. So this amendment is highly objectionable and harmful to the objects of the Bill. As my honourable friend Mr. Thann Pillai pointed out, every possible facility is given for dismissing an application which is frivolous or collusive or which might cause undue delay. If the Conciliation Officer deems that a particular debtor who has put in an application takes an unduly long time there is provision in the Bill to dismiss his application. Therefore I do not see any reason why there should be any of these amendments. If the Government had fixed a period, a reasonable period—say three years, then I can understand this provision. One fails to understand, the justification or usefulness of these amendments, nor am I able to see any urgency for this amendment. Hence I oppose both the amendments.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I rise to oppose both the amendments. From the arguments advanced by the Law Member at the instance of Government, it appears to me at least that the Government is not willing to render relief to the suffering inhabitants of the State.

Whatever may be the view of the eminent Law Member, so far as this Bill is concerned, it is my humble submission that it would render no substantial help to the suffering inhabitants of the country. As a result of the amendments that are being brought forward, it appears to me that the Government want to deprive the agriculturists even of the little benefit that they would have otherwise obtained. Sir, it seems to me, from the provisions of the Bill, that the member of the Board is to be a Government servant and that he is to be appointed by Government. The Board would also be an one member Board. Such being the case, we find that there are wide powers, and wide scope with the Government to see that proper persons are appointed to work out effectively the conciliation process. In the face of such provisions it passes the comprehension of any wise man to understand why this amendment must be brought forward by the Law Member at this final stage of the Bill, so that the purpose of conciliation might be frustrated. Sir, if delay is caused in the matter of conciliation it would be under three circumstances, viz., either due to negligence on the part of the party or due to the difficulty of summoning ever so many debtors and creditors for conciliation purposes and for the purpose of properly disposing of the conciliation applications due to the inefficiency of the Conciliation Officer. For that purpose it is enough if the Government takes the responsibility of appointing efficient officers for conciliation. There is no use of appointing any person—any Tom, Dick or Harry—as the Conciliation Officer. There must be responsible men, men who feel the responsibility, men who have sympathy, imagination, and men who are experienced in this line of conciliation. Then, I am sure, that this conciliation purpose would not be frustrated, and it would not be delayed. Such being the case, the Government even at this stage, long before the appointment of the Conciliation Board, feel frightened that the conciliation process would be delayed. Sir, if these two amendments are carried, I am sure, the purpose of conciliation would be entirely frustrated and for that reason I oppose both the amendments.

MR. POTTAYIL S. KRISHNA PANICKAR (Sherala I): I rise to oppose both the amendments proposed by the Law Member and by my honourable friend Mr. Asan. I wish to draw the attention of the House to the fact that the duties proposed to be assigned to these officers are hard to be performed in accordance with this Regulation. The Conciliation Officer is not called upon to adjudicate the various claims between the parties like the ordinary judicial officers. The most important work of the Conciliation Officer is the determining or ascertaining the exact amount of liabilities and assets of the debtors who are appearing before the court and in the process of ascertaining all the assets of the debtors one cannot be so sure that it will be finished within the prescribed period of time. Perhaps he will have personally to supervise the valuation of very many properties involving lakhs and lakhs of rupees and at the same time he will have to examine many accounts and documents in order to ascertain the exact amount of the liability of the debtor. All these matters cannot, and could not be hoped to be effectively achieved within a prescribed period of time. Viewing the matter from this stand point, I think it is highly objectionable to fix a period before which every Conciliation Officer should perform all the duties assigned to him. If he fails to perform that and he is called upon to reject the application, then I submit that the time and energy spent upon the application becomes wasted. Moreover, I cannot understand the anxiety of the Law Member to fix a period, as if the Conciliation Board were a non-official court of more than one member. Sir, the Conciliation Officer, according to the present Bill, is to be an officer appointed by Government. The choice of the person lies with Government. He is completely under the control and supervision of the Government. If he is incompetent or if he is neglectful of the duties that are assigned to him, the Government can dispense with the services of the person and appoint a competent man instead. So, viewing this matter from that aspect, the amendment proposed by the Law Member is highly objectionable. Even if a period is prescribed my humble submission is that it is wrong both on principle and on practice.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Sir, I have been listening to the speeches of the honourable members opposing the Law Member. I have sent up an amendment to the amendment proposed by the Law Member, and therefore I have stated.....

PRESIDENT: Are you moving it?

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Yes, Sir I would like to move it.

PRESIDENT: I think it will be convenient if all the amendments of which notice is given are moved and discussed. I therefore allow Mr. Puthupalli Krishna Pillai to move this amendment.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, we have no copies supplied.

PRESIDENT: This is the 11.15 o'clock amendment. I shall read it:

"Delete the words "prescribed period" in line 4 and substitute the following, viz., period of 12 months from the date of the presentation of the application under Section 4".

The honourable members will notice that I have a reserve power in accordance with the Standing Orders for the conduct of the business to admit late amendments. I have relaxed the rule in this respect because the matter is important. But I find now that about 5 minutes ago some other amendment has been put in, I do not propose to allow any other amendments to be moved. This would be the last, Mr. Puthupalli Krishna Pillai.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Sir, I beg to move the amendment just read out. And I may be permitted to explain the implication contained in it. It does not introduce any vast change. It merely prescribes or enables this House to prescribe the rules. If this House is in a position to come to an agreement on the period that might be fixed, this House would feel convinced that it has considered the decision. Personally, I think that this matter of prescription, as far as possible, will not be left to the discretion of the Government. I think it might be safer to consider the question here, rather than leave it to Government to consider when the rules are framed. Sir, what the learned Law Member said, is no doubt correct. Under Clause 28, whenever an application is presented to the court in proper form and the court entertains the application, it operates automatically as a stay of all proceedings against the applicant in the Civil Courts. In the discussion and acceptance of Clause 28 we agreed upon the principle that there shall not be simultaneous proceedings in two courts relating to one matter. It embarrasses the debtor and prevents amicable settlement. At the same time it is necessary that debtors should not get the liberty to postpone civil proceedings indefinitely.

Now, we are giving concessions and facilities to both creditors and debtors and it is in the interests of both parties that they expedite their business, settle their debts and enable the court to come to a decision. At any rate, when one party creates obstructions, it must be made obligatory on the part of the Board to come to a decision forthwith. If it does not do this, it shall not be the fault of the Legislature. Now, Sir, our experience in courts of law would certainly embolden us to make the statement that all sorts of dilatory methods are being adopted by the clients for the purpose of gaining time. We are often made victims of the practice and are led on to participate in such practice. In some cases, Sir, the courts themselves take advantage of this method of the litigants. They themselves feel the anxiety for granting adjournments. Sometimes, when they are otherwise inclined they change their opinion after hearing the Vakils and then grant adjournment. Similarly, or under such circumstances, cases are liable to be postponed without any definiteness and if that were so, it will certainly affect the creditor interests and also the credit of the country. We can very well see that if by presentation of the petition before the Board, you could get an automatic stay of the proceedings in regard to the debt, a debtor who wants only the postponement of payments of the debt due from him can very well achieve his object by concentrating his attention on the Board. This will certainly embarrass the creditors. It is therefore necessary that a time limit should be fixed within which the Board, if it does not pass final orders, should become functus officio. Such a provision will induce the debtor to be keen and watchful in the progress of the matter. It will cast a duty on the Board to be expeditious in the disposal. The combined influence of both would bring about a fruitful mentality in the creditor. It has been pointed out by the member for Nedumangad that the Government do not appear to show as much sympathy in this matter as they seem to express. I am certainly not in a position to agree with that. I distinctly remember the Law Member's speech on Clause 3 of the Bill when the amendment was moved at the second reading. He said that Government do not hope to give us more than one or two Boards. When he opened his speech yesterday, he started with 5 or 6, and ultimately went up to 10. That is how he has been progressing. That indicates the attitude of the Government now. And to day, the amendment has been carried by an over-whelming majority. I may point out that this Bill is not intended for the convenience of the debtors; it is intended for the amelioration of their condition. The debtors must get the maximum benefit out of this measure while causing minimum disadvantage to the creditors. It is for that that I propose the time limit within which the Boards should dispose of applications filed before them.

Sir, there is nothing novel in this amendment. It has been discussed at great length in other Legislatures. In the Madras Act XI of 1936, in Section 17 we find a provision similar to the one that I now propose, although it is slightly different. There, a period of 12 months has been prescribed for this purpose. Certainly there must have been very good reasons for the Madras Legislature coming to that conclusion. Therefore I contend that a time limit must be fixed here also.

But, if the Law Member would assure us that the Government would fix any period more than 12 months, I am prepared to leave it to the Government to fix such period.

In reply to Mr. S. J. Nair, the Law Member said that, under this Bill the pecuniary jurisdiction of the Boards is unlimited and that it may extend from one cash to Rs. 100 lakhs. I wish to draw the attention of the Law Member to Clause 3 which we have already passed in which it is stated that the pecuniary jurisdiction of the Boards shall be fixed by the Government. It does not say that any amount, from one cash to a hundred lakhs of rupees, may be conciliated by the Boards. It is open to the Government to limit the pecuniary jurisdiction of the Boards.

Now, are we to leave this matter also in the hands of Government? They may conveniently or inconveniently forget it. Why not we also, as they have done in Madras, fix a period of 12 months. My humble submission is that it is better to fix a time limit; and, if the Law Member would give us the assurance that the period that he would fix would be more than 12 months, I am quite prepared to leave the period to be fixed by the Government.

With these words, I support the Law Member's motion with the amendment that I have made to it.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): I oppose all the amendments.

The only argument advanced by Mr. Puthupalli S. Krishna Pillai in support of his amendment is that if a debtor takes it into his head to evade the proceedings before the Conciliation Officer and prolong the period of disposal it is very easy for him to do it. Of course he bases his argument on his experience with his clients. Now, Sir, is it not open to the creditor also, if he takes it into his head to do likewise? He also can prolong the proceedings before the Board merely to see that under the provision now proposed by Mr. Krishna Pillai the application before the Board is deemed to have been disposed of and the matter is taken up by the Courts of Law. Therefore, that is no argument. I am not for fixing any definite period for this purpose.

There are ample provisions in Section 20 to deal with such of the debtors and creditors as are not sincere in their application to the Conciliation Boards. There is no necessity to fix any period. Further, any such provision, fixing a period, would be inconsistent with the spirit of conciliation as it was explained by the Law Member himself. The idea is that there should be the spirit of friendship, of give and take, of compromise. If Mr. Krishna Pillai was able to convince the House that twelve months' period was sufficient to dispose of any case, I could have understood him. Having failed in that, I do not find any reason to support him. I therefore oppose all those amendments. What is necessary is that arrangements should be made to see that the Boards dispose of these applications in as short a time as possible.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla II): I am not in complete agreement with the amendment moved by the Law Member. My position is this. If that amendment is accepted at all it should be made subject to the conditions contained in the amendment proposed by Mr. Asan.

Clause 16 of the Bill prescribes one of the methods of disposal of these applications before the Boards. That Clause says—

"If the debtor and the creditor or the creditors appearing before the Board agree to the conciliation proposed by the Board, it shall be reduced to writing in the form of an agreement and shall be signed by the debtor and the creditor or creditors and shall also be signed or otherwise authenticated by the Board....."

Two conditions are necessary; the parties must express their consent, and an agreement should be prepared and signed by them as well as by the Conciliation Officer. In some cases, the parties might have consented; but the prescribed time might expire before the preparation of the agreement and execution of it. I am of opinion that it is only fair, under such special circumstances, to authorise the Conciliation Officer to extend the time and to record in writing his reasons for so extending the time. If necessary, it may be prescribed that in no case shall an extension be granted for more than three months.

With these conditions, I support Mr. Asan's amendment to the Law Member's amendment.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankud): I oppose the original amendment moved by the learned Law Member as well as the various amendments to that amendment, the by-products as it were, of the original amendment. This amendment involves a very important principle. It has been fully discussed in the Select Committee as well as in this House during the second reading. Clause 20 is the result of such anxious consideration on the part of this House. Sub-clauses (a),

[Pacode A. Narayana Pillai]

(b) and (c) of Clause 20 lay down the various reasons for which an application can be dismissed by the Board. These reasons are comprehensive enough even to serve the object of the Law Member's present amendment. I would particularly refer to sub-clause (b) which vests the Board with sufficient power to deal with cases where it is not practicable or desirable to proceed with conciliation proceedings.

Secondly, Sir, this method of legislation by means of executive orders, especially on important matters like conciliation proceedings, is reprehensible on principle and must be condemned. It is not fair on the part of the Law Member, at this stage, to smuggle into the Bill a provision which was considered and thrown out at an earlier stage.

Lastly, Sir, in moving this amendment, the Law Member is out for mischief. It will be seen that the term he used in the amendment is 'prescribed'.

PRESIDENT : I take it that the honourable member uses the term 'mischief' in the parliamentary sense.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilarankol) : Of course I am using the term 'mischief' in the parliamentary sense.

Sir, the term 'prescribed' is used in the amendment and Clause 2 sub-clause (g) defines 'prescribed' as prescribed by rules. And the Clause which empowers the Government to pass rules relating to conciliation is Clause 32. It will be seen that in Clause 32 there is no specific provision enabling Government to pass rules prescribing a period. That is a very important matter. My submission is that it will be ultra vires of the Government, when Clause 15 makes provision for laying down the reasons for the dismissal of an application, to dismiss an application because the period has lapsed. When such rules are passed they will be met by this plea of ultra vires and there will be a lot of mischief and trouble in the interpretation of the various Sections.

Lastly, Sir, I would submit that this is a case of vicarious punishment. I can understand parties being punished for their laches. But here for the laches of the officers, parties are sought to be punished. We have heard of legislation in other places in which fathers are being punished for the sins of commission or omission of their sons.

PRESIDENT : The honourable member should not make reflections on other legislatures.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavancode) : Not in the least. I am saying this only by way of analogy. Under Section 15, the proceedings before the Board are judicial proceedings. The Board can take evidence. It is invested with sufficient powers as a Civil Court. So this will be something like a sword of Damocles hanging over the head of the Conciliation Officer. If the Conciliation Officer fails to dispose of the application within a particular time why should the poor debtor be punished? In my humble opinion that is a very mischievous provision—again I use the word 'mischievous' in a parliamentary sense. So I oppose the amendment of the Law Member and the other consequential amendments.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I may say at once that I am prepared to accept the latter portion of Mr. Asan's amendment which reads as follows:—

"Provided that this sub-section shall not apply for a period of three months after the prescribed date where the Conciliation Officer, for reasons to be recorded in writing, orders that an extension of the prescribed period is necessary in the general interests of the parties before him."

I cannot accept the first portion of the amendment which requires the insertion of the words "for purposes of Clause 28". I am also opposing all the other amendments.

Sir, it does not require much argument to show that the conciliation proceedings should be expeditious. For one thing, the Civil Court proceedings cannot be allowed to be kept stayed indefinitely as would be the result if conciliation proceedings go on indefinitely. There is another important reason also why the conciliation proceedings must end soon. The amicable settlement which conciliation is, must be arrived at in the very nature of things as early as possible. If that settlement is not arrived at, the Conciliation Board proceedings will be but a replica of the Civil Court proceedings. Conciliation must be expeditious. That is a principle which must be borne in mind.

MR. K. C. ABRAHAM (Kottayam T): Is there anything in principle that the proceedings in Courts should not be expeditious?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): No, nothing at all.

Sir, I said at the outset that one reason why I brought in my amendment was that Government might establish more Boards than one or two which was all that they intended originally. Mr. Puthupalli Krishna Pillai says that in this, Government yielded to the House. Yes, that is so. I claim it as a privilege to yield to the views of this House; and of course the House will also share the responsibility for the action taken accordingly. I do not certainly go back upon what I said that the number of Boards would be increased. But if the number of Boards is increased, the House must give discretion to the Government to prescribe a particular period within which each Board should dispose of the conciliation applications. It may not be possible for this House itself to lay down the period specifically; that must be left to be prescribed by Government.

MR. K. KUNJAKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon T): May I know from the member whether the number of Boards will determine the period of time.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Yes to some extent. That is why I say that this House may not be able to specify a time.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam T): May I ask the member to let me know what provision there is for cases in which some delay is necessary?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): That is perhaps covered by Mr. Asan's amendment and I accepted it. I am not suggesting that the applications for conciliation should be disposed of summarily. If there is a reasonable chance of any agreement being arrived at it will be better by all means. But the Board should not feel that they can keep the application pending indefinitely. For statistical purposes too, a time limit may be useful.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): May I know from the Law Member what according to him is the maximum period that could be granted from the date of the first hearing?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I cannot say it without deciding on the details of procedure. But on first impressions I may say that six months from the date of the first hearing should ordinarily be enough. I entirely agree with Mr. Krishna Pillai that the applications should be disposed of expeditiously.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Mural): I want to know from the member whether he thinks that proceedings should be dropped in cases where all parties agree that the prescribed time limit may be exceeded.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I am glad of the suggestion contained in that question. That suggestion will be borne in mind when the rules are made.

I trust that the House will accept my amendment as amended by the latter part of Mr. Asan's amendment.

PRESIDENT: The amendment moved by the Law Member is as follows:—

In Clause 20 number the existing Clause as sub-clause (1) and add the following as sub-clause (2), namely:—

"(2) Notwithstanding anything in sub-section (1), the application shall be deemed to have been dismissed if within the prescribed period the application has not been disposed of by the Board."

I propose to put the amendment to Clause 20 one by one to vote. First is Mr. Asan's amendment.

It reads as follows:—

In line 4 between the words "dismissed" and "if" insert the words "for purposes of Clause 28" and add at the close as a separate paragraph:

"Provided that this sub-section shall not apply for a period of three months after the prescribed date when the Conciliation Officer, for reasons to be recorded in writing, orders that an extension of the prescribed period is necessary in the general interests of the parties before him."

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Maralikkara): I do not press the first part in view of the fact that the second part of it has been accepted by the Law Member.

PRESIDENT: Has Mr. Asan the leave of the House to withdraw the first part of the amendment?

The first part of the amendment was, by leave of the House, withdrawn.

The next is Mr. Pathupalli Krishna Pillai's amendment. It reads thus:—

"In line 4, delete the words "prescribed period" and substitute "period of twelve months from the date of the presentation of the application under Section 4".

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): In view of what the Law Member has stated I do not press it.

The amendment was, by leave of the House, withdrawn.

PRESIDENT: Next I will put the amendment of the Law Member with the proviso, which was the second part of Mr. Asan's amendment. It reads as follows:

"Notwithstanding anything in sub-section (1), the application shall be deemed to have been dismissed if within the prescribed period the application has not been disposed of by the Board:

Provided that this sub-section shall not apply for a period of three months after the prescribed date where the Conciliation Officer, for reasons to be recorded in writing, orders that an extension of the prescribed period is necessary in the general interests of the parties before him."

The amendment, with Mr. Asan's amendment, was put to vote and carried.

Clause 28.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I beg to move: that for clause 28 the following shall be substituted namely:

"For the prescribed period from the date of the presentation of an application under Section 4, no Court shall, except for special reasons to be recorded in writing, entertain, or allow to be prosecuted, any suit, application for the execution of a decree or other proceedings, for the recovery of any debt covered by the application."

This amendment is more or less connected with the amendment to Clause 20 that has been accepted just now by the House. A question may legitimately be asked why this amendment is considered necessary. It may perhaps be argued that if an application is to be deemed to be dismissed if not disposed of within a particular period, there is no purpose in the present amendment. That is true to some extent. But a view may be taken that even though proceedings before the Board may continue or be allowed to continue for any length of time it may not be necessary to stay the proceedings of the Civil Court during all that time. The Board may go on with conciliation proceedings and come to a settlement if possible and at the same time the Civil Court proceedings also may go on. Such a view may be taken. Therefore I think it is better that Government is given a discretion in this matter. They will lay down a rule within which an application should be disposed of. They might also lay down another rule to limit the period during which alone the Civil Court proceedings may stand stayed for the reason of the conciliation proceedings.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): In view of the amendment accepted by the House is it necessary to enact a further amendment of the kind?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Perhaps not. A view may possibly be taken that an application before the Board may be kept alive for a longer period than that during which the Civil Court proceedings may be stayed. Therefore

[Mr. Kayalam Paramesvaran Pillai.]

Government may be given power to make rules in the matter, so that one period may be fixed for the stay of the Court proceedings and another for the disposal of the conciliation application by the Board.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quitem II): Is it the view of the Law Member that simultaneous proceedings can go on?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Yes.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Is it the idea of the Law Member to prescribe another period under Section 28?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Yes.

RAO SAHIB MAHA KAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nammanal): Has the Law Member taken into consideration the hardship that the parties will have to undergo such as expenses, etc. before two tribunals?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Yes. Normally the proper course will be to allow proceedings only in one place at a time. As I said, it may perhaps be necessary to make a rule that, though one period is prescribed for the proceedings before the Board, another period will be allowed for the stay of the Court proceedings. In that view, may not a power to fix different periods be safely be given to Government? I leave it to the House. I am not very particular.

MR. K. C. ABRAHAM (Kottayam II): Am I right in understanding that when in respect of a debt covered by the application of one creditor the affairs of the debtor are before the Board for conciliation proceedings against that debtor, a suit by other creditors may go on indefinitely in a court?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): No, not indefinitely.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second the amendment.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Sir, I oppose the amendment.

PRESIDENT: Is there any amendment to the proposed amendment of the Law Member.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): No, Sir.

Under Section 20 a period is prescribed for the pendency of the application before the Board. That is to say, after the prescribed period the application will be deemed to have been dismissed. By the present proviso the Law Member wants to prescribe another period for the suspension of proceedings before the Civil Court. Such a period prescribed may be either longer or shorter.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittu): How can that be?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): The point is this. I am suggesting that, if it is a longer period, there is no meaning in it. If it is a shorter period then during the interval between the termination of the two periods, proceedings will be conducted before the Conciliation Officer as well as the Civil Court simultaneously. When my previous amendment was moved the main objection voiced here was that it will not be proper to have the proceedings with regard to the same subject matter conducted by two tribunals. My argument that there is not much difficulty in permitting the same did not appeal very much to the House, because I did not hear many persons supporting me. Now the Law Member wants the same thing to be brought into existence by means of another amendment. Anyhow, the wisdom of prescribing another period and complicating matters still farther is not clear to me. I would say that there is absolutely no necessity for this amendment and that Clause 28 as it stands now sufficiently safeguards the interests of the parties.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Sir, I would like to speak one word by way of opposition to the amendment of the Law Member. In the third reading stage, amendments are moved only when absolutely necessary. There is no use in moving amendments in anticipation of embarrassments or by way of abundant caution. It is very clearly stated in the Clause that the proceedings will be stayed only for the settlement of the application that is pending before the Board. It is only till settlement that those proceedings are to be stayed. That point is made clear in the Clause itself. How long can an application be pending before Boards. I suggested the period as 12 months and the Law Member proposed 6 months. So then, we have now fixed a period and that is the only period within which an application can be kept pending. It is only up to that period stay of the proceedings could be made. What is the fun of raising a stay when proceedings are going on and why should Civil Court proceedings be stayed after the application stands dismissed by efflux of time? The Clause that has just been passed serves the purpose in issue. No superfluous provision is necessary. We want to have the proceedings stayed only if the petition is pending. If the petition stands dismissed, the stay must automatically cease. Until it ceases no Government order shall interfere with the necessary right of stay. I therefore oppose the amendment.

The amendment was put to vote and lost.

The House adjourned at 1-30 P. M. to meet again the next day at 11 A. M.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): No, Sir.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know who has supplied the answer to the Government that the road is not dirty and is not in a useless condition now?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads Buildings and Irrigation): The Division Officer.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know the date on which the Division Officer has inspected the road?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): The Division Officer has reported on 2-7-1936.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know from the Government whether the Government are aware that the Chief Engineer or the Division Officer or the Sub-Division Officer has inspected the road after I had sent up the question?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): No, sir.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the Government will be pleased to order the Chief Engineer or any other responsible officer of the Engineering Department to look into the present condition of the road and improve it?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): The road has been inspected and from the report it is seen that the condition of the road is not as the member states.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): With reference to answer to part (d) may I know whether the allotment for the Vembayam road is not sufficient?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): It is a question of opinion. The allotment can be said to be insufficient only when we compare the importance of the road and the allotments for other roads.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know from the Government whether they are aware that vehicles that pass through that road are compelled to pay two different P. W. D. tolls in two different places?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I accept that statement from the hon'ble member.

Maintenance of roads in the Nedumangad taluk.

29. *MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government be pleased to state the rate, per mile, of annual allotment for the maintenance of the following roads in the Nedumangad taluk, viz.:

(v) Kottloor road (Kattichal-Poovachal road (11½ miles to 14 miles at Rs. 200 per mile.

(vi) & (vii) Arianad-Palode road (Pacha-Vidura road and Arianad Vidura road) 1 to 14 miles at Rs. 100 per mile.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the roads that are mentioned have been maintained last year?

Mr. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Yes.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the Government have got any complaint from the hon'ble member for Nedumangad that those roads were not maintained last year?

Mr. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Many complaints have been received from the hon'ble member.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the Government have received such a complaint from me?

Mr. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Yes.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know from the Government whether the Chief Engineer or any other responsible officer has inspected those roads as a result of those complaints?

Mr. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Yes, Sir.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know the date on which the Chief Engineer has inspected the roads?

Mr. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): The Chief Engineer has not inspected those roads.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know who has inspected the roads as a result of the complaint lodged by the member for Nedumangad?

Mr. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): The Division and the Sub-Division Officers have inspected the roads.

Improvement of a chira in the Nellanadu pakuthi.

30. Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether sixteen cents of land in the survey No. 903/3 in the Nellanadu pakuthi, Nedumangad taluk, is a chira poramboke;

(b) whether the above chira was used for paddy cultivation before;

(c) whether any persons have encroached upon the chira and begun to cultivate it;

(d) whether anybody has applied for the registry of the chira;

(e) whether the Government are aware that the chira, if improved, would be of use for cultivating about 1,000 paras of paddy fields; and

(f) whether the Minor Irrigation Department has taken up the work of the improvement of the above chira?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): (a) Yes.

(b) This can be replied only after an investigation.

(c) and (d) Yes the matter has been brought to the notice of the P. W. D. by the Revenue authorities.

(e) No, the exact ayacut can be ascertained only after an investigation.

(f) No.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): With reference to answer to part (b) may I know whether there is any tank or kulam adjacent to this chira?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I have no information.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the Government will be pleased to enquire whether there is any tank adjacent to the chira which is useful for cultivation of paddy if it is improved.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): That is a question of future action.

The Anchal Test.

81. *MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) when the Anchal Department Test was introduced by the Government;

(b) when it was stopped;

(c) why it was introduced and why it was stopped;

(d) the total number of people who have passed that test;

(e) the number of such people who are now permanently employed in the department;

(f) whether there are any permanent hands in the department now (on 25-8-36) who have not passed the test but appointed since the test was introduced;

(g) if the answer to part (f) is in the affirmative, the dates on which they were appointed and the dates on which they were confirmed;

(h) whether any special sanction of the Government was obtained to appoint and confirm them;

(i) the number of acting hands and volunteers in the department now (on 25-8-36);

(j) whether there are any acting hands with Anchal Test in the department now (on 25-8-36) and

(k) if the answer to part (j) is in the affirmative, the dates on which each was first entertained in the department and the duration of service of each till 1st Chingam 1112?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (A. P. Secretary to Government): (a) The Anchal Departmental Test was introduced by Government in 1907.

(b) 1104.

(c) The examination was introduced so that the candidates seeking employment in the Anchal Department may have a practical knowledge of the Travancore Anchal Regulation, Rules and Orders at the time they are recruited. The same was not conducted after 1103 since a large number of candidates with the Anchal Test were then without employment.

(d) 197.

(e) The total number of such people who are permanently employed in the department is 115.

(f) Yes.

(g) Vide *statement A appended.

(h) Yes, for items from 1 to 15.

(i) The total number of volunteers in the department is 295 and they are distributed among different Divisions and acting appointments are given when vacancies arise.

(j) Yes.

(k) Vide *statement B appended.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): With reference to answer to part (h) may I know why the special sanction of the Government was necessary?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Of those, six were ladies and eight were graduates.

PRESIDENT: Will the hon'ble member raise his voice a little louder?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Of those who were appointed, six were ladies and eight were graduates.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): That is not my question. My question is why special sanction was necessary?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Because they had not passed the Anchal Test.

MR. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): May I know whether, in the order instituting the examination there was an order that only people who have passed the Anchal Test will be appointed in the department?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): It was not in the order instituting the examination; but the rules regarding appointment require that candidates before confirmation must have passed the Anchal Test Examination. But subsequent to 1103, there was no Anchal Test Examination; and these people were confirmed between 1102 and 1109 even though they had not passed the Anchal Test.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): May I know why these people who have not passed the test were confirmed when there were acting hands who have passed the test and who have got more service?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): There were in the department at that time about 19 people who had passed the Anchal Test Examination. Fifteen of them have been confirmed subsequently and there are four who cannot be confirmed because of the G. O. regarding Public Service Recruitment. They have not got a total service of three years.

Mr. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): May I know whether the present Anchal Superintendent has recommended another list of persons to be confirmed irrespective of the qualification of the Anchal Test Examination?

PRESIDENT: Is it a public document that the honourable member is referring to?

Mr. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): No, Sir. I was ascertaining whether that is a fact.

PRESIDENT: Is it the honourable member's question whether it is a fact that one officer of the department has sent a confidential list of persons to another officer of the Government for appointment? Is that the question?

Mr. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know why ladies without qualifications were appointed when there were qualified men for the same post?

Mr. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): No lady without qualifications was appointed.

Mr. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): It has been stated that ladies who have not passed the Anchal Test Examination were confirmed earlier than men who have passed the Anchal Test Examination. I wish to know whether there is any rule which justifies such a preference in the Anchal Department alone?

Mr. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): They could not be compelled to pass the test because there was no examination between 1103 and 1109.

Mr. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): What I want to know is whether there is any rule or order which gives preference to ladies who have not passed a particular test over men who have passed that test?

Mr. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Everybody is aware that preference is being given to ladies in several departments recently.

Mr. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): What I wish to know is whether it is left to the sweet will and pleasure of the head of the department or whether there is any rule issued to the effect?

Mr. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): They have been appointed with the sanction of Government.

Mr. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): It has been stated that there is difficulty to confirm four volunteers because of the Public Service G. O. I wish to know why persons without qualifications were confirmed before the Public Service G. O. while men who have passed the Anchal Test were available?

Mr. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Obviously there were no vacancies because those people were confirmed earlier.

Mr. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know why they were not confirmed before the Public Service G. O. was issued?

Mr. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Because there were no permanent vacancies, as the vacancies were filled by these ladies and graduates.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know why the rule laid down with reference to part (c) was not adhered to? In part (c) of the answer it is stated:—

"The examination was introduced so that the candidates seeking employment in the Anchal Department may have a practical knowledge of the Travancore Anchal Regulation, Rules and Orders at the time they are recruited. The same was not conducted after 1108 since a large number of candidates with the Anchal Test were then without employment."

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): It was in order to afford employment for ladies.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know whether it has been subsequently found out that graduates and ladies would do better than those who have passed the departmental test?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): The inference does not follow. But I may say for the information of the member that the Anchal Test Examination will be held again and those who have not passed the examination will be given a chance to do so.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know whether.....

PRESIDENT: Will the honourable member allow another member to satisfy his query?

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether, out of the 82 persons who have passed the examination and who have not been entertained, there are not graduates possessing at least equal qualifications as those who have been confirmed?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Only 115 candidates out of 197 deposited the security and entered service. The others might have sought their fortune elsewhere. That is why they were not employed.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether when vacancies arose Government sent orders to them and they have declined to accept it? It was said that they might have been absorbed in other departments. I would like to know whether the Government enquired into the question and satisfied themselves that they had already been absorbed in other departments or sought their fortunes elsewhere?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): If the member would refer to Appendix I he will find that the last name, G. Krishna Pillai, who is a graduate and who has passed the Anchal Test in 1102 entered service on 8-7-1101. He waited eight years before he came to the department. There is no bar to anyone who has passed the Anchal test volunteering after furnishing the deposit.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know from Government whether there are persons with equal qualifications and who have not passed the Anchal test in the waiting list?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): I claim notice, Sir.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Is there anything to prevent the holding of examination for ladies in the Anchal Department before they were appointed even if Government thought some test was necessary?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): No examination was held.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know the reason why?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): It was thought necessary that some consideration should be shown to the ladies.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know why concession could not be shown to ladies by giving them an opportunity of passing the Anchal Test?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): There were no examinations held subsequent to 1103.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know whether the reason for the examination not being held was that there were too many people waiting who have passed the Anchal Test and may I know whether it is not the policy of the Government to appoint people who have passed the Anchal Test?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): The policy of Government is to appoint people who have passed the test but no examination was held subsequent to 1103 and it was not necessary to institute a special test for ladies. Another ground is the fact that the Anchal Manual and the rules are now under revision and only after that work is completed further examinations could be held.

92. *MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) why the Anchal Superintendent's Office had been shifted from its old site opposite the Public Offices;

(b) whether it is now (on 25-8-1936) located in a rented building or a Government building; and

(c) if the answer to part (b) is "rented building", the rent per mensem?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government):

(a) The Chief Engineer suggested that the further continuance of office in the old building would be risky.

(b) Rented building.

(c) Bh. Rs. (80) eighty.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelakkara): With regard to part (a) of the answer may I know why the Chief Engineer found the building to be not strong enough?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): The building is about 60 years old and the walls have cracked and it was thought necessary that the office should be shifted.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelakkara): Is there any office now in the place of the Superintendent's former office?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Sir, there is a small office, the Humanitarian Society Office and the Anchal

Inspector's Office. The Anchal Superintendent's Office has to accommodate about 40 clerks and a large number of chairs and tables. The Humanitarian Society Office has only a table and a chair.

Mr. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Is there any instruction given to the Humanitarian Society Office that they are not to bring in heavy furniture.

Mr. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): They are not likely to bring.

Scholarship for Ayurvedic studies.

33. *Mr. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvallu II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether they give any scholarship, allowance or other pecuniary aid to one Mr. Dwarakanath Aiyangar for higher studies in Ayurveda;

(b) If the answer to part (a) is in the affirmative, the amount;

(c) his native place and age; and

(d) his present qualifications?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA Dr. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government):

(a) Yes.

(b) Financial aid to the extent of rupees one thousand and five hundred.

(c) Salem. Thirty years.

(d) L. I. M. of the Government School of Indian Medicine, Madras. He is also a scholarship-holder for research work in Ayurveda from the German (Deutsche) Academy tenable at the Faculty of Medicine, Hamburg University.

Mr. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know from Government what post is going to be offered to the candidate who is sent for higher studies for Ayurveda?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA Dr. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): It has not been decided.

Mr. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know from Government whether Government have promised him any particular post?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA Dr. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): No, Sir. On his return, Government may appoint him to any post which they consider suitable.

Mr. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know from Government whether there are any other Travancoreans who possess the L. I. M. Diploma?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA Dr. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I believe, Sir, there is one as far as I am aware.

Mr. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): Has he applied for any scholarship?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA Dr. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): No, Sir.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Is there any understanding as regards the post or the pay to be offered to the candidate who has been selected by Government?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA Dr. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): No, Sir.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Is he bound to accept any post on any amount of pay?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA Dr. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Yes, Sir.

Punishment of Excise Inspectors.

34. *MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvallis II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether any Excise Inspector was punished departmentally or otherwise during 1111; and

(b) if the answer to part (a) is in the affirmative, the number of such Inspectors, the offences done by each, the nature of the enquiry and the punishment in each case?

MR. C. D. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner):

(a) Yes. Five Inspectors were punished by Government in 1111.

(b) "A statement furnishing the required information is laid on the table."

Volunteers in the Anchal Department.

35. *MR. E. K. KUNJURAMAN (Nominated): Will the Government be pleased to place on the table a statement showing by caste the number of volunteering clerks and Anchal men in the Anchal Department?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government):

† A statement is laid on the table.

The Chittar Road.

36. *MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): With reference to answers given to question No. 89 at the Eighth Session of the First Assembly answered on the 29th July 1986, that an estimate for the completion of the incomplete portion of the above road has been under preparation in the Chief Engineer's Office, will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether the estimate that was under preparation in the Chief Engineer's Office has been completed;

(b) whether it was submitted to Government;

(c) when it was submitted;

(d) if not yet submitted, why it is being delayed; and

(e) whether they are aware that the completion of the road is very urgent?

† Vide Appendix III—page 120.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): (a) Yes.

(b) Yes.

(c) In July 1986.

(d) This does not arise.

(e) No.

Importation of Ganja.

37. *MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): Will the Government be pleased to state the quantity and value of ganja imported during the years 1109, 1110 and 1111?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): A * statement containing the required information is laid on the table.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): May I know from Government whether it is a fact that the ganja brought down from Madras is of a very inferior quality?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): No, Sir. The quality is good.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): May I know, Sir, who is the officer responsible for selecting and purchasing ganja?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): One of the Inspectors is deputed for this.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): May I know, Sir, whether these officers hold any special skill or knowledge in the line?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): No special skill or knowledge is required to select good ganja from bad. These officers are well experienced in the line.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): May I know, Sir, whether it is not an additional unnecessary expenditure to depute an officer to Madras for this purpose?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Good ganja should be selected and the stuff should be taken proper care of in transit.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): May I know from Government the cost of the commodity brought down from Madras during 1111?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): I claim notice, Sir.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): May I know from Government whether there was not a fall in the consumption in 1111 compared with 1110?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): There was a fall.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): If there was a fall may I know from Government what was the reason for that?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Mainly due to economic depression. It is also due to the fact that the number of people who use Ganja is dwindling.

Cultivation of Ganja.

38. *MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): Will the Government be pleased to state whether there are places in Travancore suitable for the cultivation of ganja?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Yes.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): May I know, Sir, whether there is any special reason for importing ganja from outside when that can be cultivated in the State itself?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): We are getting down ganja from Madras in accordance with an agreement entered into with the Government of Madras.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know from the member whether there is any period fixed for this agreement?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Five years is the term for the agreement and the agreement was renewed during 1935.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know whether any rules have been framed for the cultivation of ganja in Travancore?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): No, Sir.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittai): May I know from Government whether any representation was made to Government in the matter of cultivating ganja in the State?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): No representation has been received in recent times.

Budget Demands for 1112.

39. *MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether there is any difference between the amounts voted by this House and by the Sri Chitra State Council in the Budget Demands for 1112; and

(b) if the answer to part (a) is in the affirmative, whether this difference has been placed before a Joint Committee and, if not, the reason for the same?

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASWAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): (a) Yes.

(b) No, because the Dewan declared under Section 31 of the Travancore Legislative Reforms Regulation II of 1109, that he was satisfied that the reductions made by the Assembly under demands Nos. X—Forest (Rs. 7,756 under C. Protection of game—Salary etc. of Game-warden, his staff etc.) and XII Registration (Rs. 2,400 under A. Direction—Salaries) were essential to the discharge of the responsibilities of Government. Please see G. O. No. F1. 8876, dated 25-8-1936, published in the Travancore Government Gazette dated 1-9-1936.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know why Section 29 of the Legislative Council Regulation has not been complied with before resorting to Section 31?

PRESIDENT: You are referring to Joint Committee procedure.

Mr. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Yes, Sir.

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): Section 29 applies when the whole demand is disallowed. Section 30 applies when a portion of the grant is reduced.

Mr. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): As it is admitted in answer to part (a), may I know whether there is any difference between the amounts voted by this House and by the Sri Chitra State Council in the Budget Demands for 1112.

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): Here only a portion of the grant is reduced and the Dewan has certified the expenditure.

Mr. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know from Government whether on a previous occasion when there was a reduction in the demand the matter was referred to a Joint Committee?

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): Not so far as I know.

Mr. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I refer to the instance when the allotment was reduced?

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): It is left to the discretion of the Dewan under Section 30 of the Legislative Regulation.

Mr. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know whether the discretion is exercised on any uniform principle?

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): Well, the Dewan considered each case on its merits.

Mr. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Should not the rules be followed?

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): Section 30 leaves the matter to the decision of the Dewan. If a dispute arises as to the interpretation, the decision of the Dewan is final under Section 39.

Cart-roads in the Ambalapuzha taluk.

40. *Mr. K. M. KRISHNAN (Ambalapuzha II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the total length of cartable roads in the Ambalapuzha taluk, excluding the roads in the Alleppey Municipality;

(b) the names of cross-roads that meet the main road in the Ambalapuzha taluk and the length of each such cross-road;

(c) whether any of these cross-roads are cartable ones;

(d) if so, the name of such roads;

(e) whether there are any poramboke lands available for the construction of cross-roads; and

(f) whether any estimate has been prepared in connection with any of these cross-roads, and if so, the cost estimated for each of such roads?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): (a) 35 miles 4 furlongs and 592 ft.

(b) A list containing the information is placed on the table.

(c) Yes, all except a portion of item (1) in the list.

(d) This is given in the list.

(e) It is not clear which cross-roads are meant.

(f) No.

MR. K. M. KRISHNAN (Ambalapuzha II): May I know from Government whether there are poramboke lands for the construction of the road from Paravur market to the beach?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I claim notice, Sir. I have not the information here now.

LEGISLATIVE BUSINESS.

TRAVANCORE AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF
BILL.—(contd.)

Clause 34.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I beg to move the following amendment:—

In Clause 34, for the first paragraph substitute the following, namely:—

"Notwithstanding anything in any law, contract or decree or order of Court, no interest shall accrue, or be permitted to be recovered as accruing, for a period of three years from the date of the commencement of this Regulation, in respect of any debt (not due in paddy or grain) in existence on such date, at any rate exceeding six per cent. per annum."

Sir, this clause is identical with the Clause that found a place in the Bill as recommended by the Select Committee for the consideration of this House. At the second reading of the Bill this House adopted the Clause that now finds a place in the Bill and that reads thus:—

"Notwithstanding anything in any law, contract, decree or order of Court, no interest shall accrue, or be permitted to be recovered as accruing from and after the first of Chingam 1105 up to the termination of three years from the date of the commencement of this Regulation, in respect of any debt (not due in paddy or grain) in existence on the date of the commencement of this Regulation at any rate exceeding six per cent. per annum."

The House must be aware of the difference between the two provisions. The one object of both the Clauses is that the interest should be reduced to 6 per cent. The Select Committee recommended the reduction of interest with effect from the commencement of the Regulation, to operate for a period of three years thereafter. But by the amendment passed at the second reading stage, it is to take effect from 1105 Chingam and to operate therefrom till the passing of the Regulation and for a period of three years thereafter. It is also perhaps the intention of those who favour this amendment that whatever amount might have been paid by a debtor to a creditor by way of interest till the passing of the Regulation must be refunded by the creditor to the debtor. (A voice, No) I hear a "No." I am prepared to accept that that was not the intention perhaps of those responsible for the amended provision. But the amended Clause is perfectly capable of the construction that I put on it; and, therefore, irrespective of the actual intention, the effect of the Clause may be that the creditor will have to make a refund of interest received. If the law lays down that no interest has accrued beyond a certain figure, for the period from 1105 Chingam, the money that was given to the debtor, though by way of interest, would be money given for nothing and may be claimed back. This construction has necessarily to be put if this Clause is not to lead to certain anomalies. If this construction is not put, the man who was regular in paying the interest could not get back his money; and the man who defaulted to pay interest need not pay it. So it comes to this. The man who was punctual in payment turns out to be a fool, and he who tried to defeat or delay his obligations turns out to be a wise man. I do not think that such a construction would be put on the Clause. However the two Clauses are there and they are fundamentally different. And the Clause that finds a place in the Bill is retrospective. I shall not dilate on this point as I had fully explained it to the House when this Clause was under debate on the last occasion. I think that it must be quite clear that this provision is expropriatory. It may be that such expropriation is justifiable or not justifiable. That may be a matter of opinion. But there can be no doubt about the actual fact that it is expropriation and expropriation too without even a pretext of compensation. Whether it should be supported as just or condemned as unjust may depend upon other considerations and may be a matter on which there is difference of opinion. It seems to me Sir, that it is a provision for expropriation without any justification. I had stated at length on the last occasion that it is unjust and I shall not proceed to reiterate all that I said. It is particularly unjust because there is no assurance of even the reduced interests or at least a portion of it being paid forthwith. During the period under reference there has been a fall in commodity prices and therefore it may be urged as reasonable that a proportionate reduction should be made on the money that is payable as interest on a loan. This by itself cannot be said to be a sufficient reason. In any event, it does not take notice of the fact that the argument cannot apply unless the money was actually paid during the period and was available to the creditor for the purchase of commodity. When that money was not paid at that time for use it does not look reasonable that he should accept a reduced amount now, simply because there was a fall in commodity prices at that time. Even if it be urged that there is fall in prices now the reduction cannot be insisted on unless you actually pay the money now. Further; we cannot overlook the fact that many people need the money for other purposes than purchase of commodities and therefore the argument of fall in commodity prices cannot be of general application. At this point, the House will remember that many people might have received deposits of moneys from other people and may have already paid interest. The Banks for instance take deposits of money from various people and pay interest. Now they are to be asked to accept a lesser rate of interest from their debtors, while they paid a higher rate. I think therefore that if it is a question of justice between party and party, between creditor and creditor, the provision of a general rule as embodied in the clause Cannot be supported as just.

Examples of Provinces in British India are cited in this connection and perhaps that may be one of the reasons which might weigh with the honourable members in coming to a conclusion on the motion now before the House. The situation there is really different. There is no law in British India to limit the rate of the interest that may be charged as between creditor and debtor. And as a matter of fact interest ranging up to even 50 per cent. is charged by creditors. The only legal provision that affords protection against this is what is called the Usurious Loans Act. Every rate of interest is legal there and will be upheld unless the Usurious Loans Act is applied. Whatever might be the rate of interest charged by the creditor the only way to get it reduced is to move the court in the appropriate proceedings and prove to the court that the rate is usurious in the actual circumstances. It is all a matter of pleading and proof. Now, in the case of the poor illiterate cultivators it may not be possible for them to take this procedure and get the interest reduced. The protection under the Usurious Loans Act was but a mere theory therefore. Therefore the Legislature has stepped in to say that they will bring about the reduction by some mechanical method; and thereby they did not really do anything more than what the usury law would have done if pursued in proper form. Really the law reducing interest was only an application of the law against usury and that is very well understood and recognised there. Recently a Leader writer in India writing on this subject wrote:

"Now, if any, of the legislative measures hitherto undertaken in the various Provinces of India and the States make conscious provision in respect of the claim for relief arising from the fall in prices violently disturbing the relations between debtor and creditor. Most of the legislative measures hitherto undertaken are based either on the principle on which the law regarding usurious loans and money-lending is based or on the principle of bankruptcy legislation."

I am reading from the "Hindu" of November 12, 1936 and the leader was on the subject of the Travancore Bill. I entirely adopt this argument. As a matter of fact, the remedy proposed by our Bill falls into two classes. One is based on the bankruptcy principles and the other on the principle of the law against usury. Conciliation of debts falls under the former class, as it seeks to adjust the liability to the assets. The other is the compulsory reduction of interest and is based on the principle that usurious interest will not be allowed. In the British Indian Provinces the reduced interest is as high as twelve per cent and more, and never is so low as six per cent. proposed here and that reduction was in fact a reduction from a 40 or 50 per cent. rate prevalent there.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know whether it went up to 40 or 50 per cent?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Yes, it did.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know whether the usual rate of interest ranges very high?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sometimes it did; and that is because there is no statutory provision there to limit the rate of interest except the Usurious Loans Act. What that Act would have given by appropriate proceedings was given by the Legislature when it fixed the rate of interest. I can quote a case where the High Court of Allahabad fixed that 24 per cent. rate was an usurious rate of interest. There was no statutory limitation to the interest; it was left to the judgment of a court.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I) : May I know whether the Usurious Loans Act is expropriation.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil) : No, it is not.

Now what are the conditions here?

Here, the law said, you may put the interest up to 12 per cent. The law guaranteed that such a rate was lawful and was not usurious. The Legislature said it. Now the Legislature comes in and wants to say that that rate should be reduced. The 12 per cent. rate was ordinary; and it was called asahala, or "standard interest." Now, is it right for you to say that you will not allow that rate to be recovered even though you allowed it to accrue? That is the real point in reducing the interest for a past period.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittita) : By this Bill you are to a certain extent depriving the creditor of the interest that is due to him in future.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil) : Yes, to some extent. That too may be considered expropriatory, perhaps; but there is a difference. It is open to the creditor to demand the principal at once and recover it by all means available under law and keep back the money unless he is satisfied with the rate of interest.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittita) : Suppose he makes delay and the debtor fails to pay. In that case is he not liable to penalisation?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil) : May be. But that is always incident to loan transactions. Therefore a reduction of interest for a future period may be justified; but a retrospective reduction would be unjustifiable. The agriculturists are no doubt in distress. I can understand that. But sitting here as Legislators we can act only on certain principles; and our heads must get the better of our hearts.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittita) : Was it not because he was unable to pay the interest that he was not doing so last year?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil) : It may or may not be. Assume that it was so.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittita) : Is it not on the principle of inability that this provision is made here?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil) : No, it is not. That is my point. I will show presently that for that man who was not able to pay there is provision in the Bill already and that the Clause 34 as introduced at the second reading goes to benefit that man who is not prepared to show he was not able to pay.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittita) : Why then has the provision for future reduction made here? Is it not on the principle that the agriculturist is not able to pay the present heavy interest?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): That may be; but it must be noted that it is open to the creditor to recover the principal itself forthwith on the ground that the rate of future interest has been reduced. We are only telling him by this enactment that if he wants the debtor to retain the money the creditor will get only a lower rate of interest. If the creditor is not prepared to accept such lower rate of interest in future he has got the opportunity and the right to recover the principal itself.

PRESIDENT: I think it will be conducive to our convenience if the honourable member is allowed to finish. It is a very important point that we are now discussing, and I do not want the discussion to be restricted. Frequent interrogation may interrupt the train of the Law Member's argument. It is open to the other members to put forth their points of view after the Law Member has finished.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I was trying, Sir, to point out that while our law expressly guaranteed a particular rate of interest, while the creditor and the debtor entered into the transaction relying on that statutory guarantee, it would be entirely unjust to the creditor, not to speak of its being opposed to public policy, now to step in and tell him that we withdraw the guarantee and reduce the rate of interest with effect from a past date.

I quite realise, Sir, that the agriculturist is in distress, and I am prepared to admit that he is in need of relief. But legislators, that we are, have a larger duty here than the protection of some individuals merely because their present condition deserves our sympathy. The responsibility of this House centres on a much larger principle than the safeguarding of the pecuniary interest of some individuals. In a legislation of this kind, it is the head that should control us more than the heart. I would therefore appeal to the House not to be carried away by sentiment or by feelings and to consider carefully whether there is any justification for our withdrawing now the guarantee to which statutory recognition had been given.

Sir, I shall not dilate further on this point as I have already dealt with it at length at the second reading. I shall draw attention to just one or two points which I did not perhaps emphasise on the previous occasion. Firstly, let me say that it would be absolutely unwise on our part to embark on a piece of legislation which will shatter credit in the State. The House will remember that in the Madras Finance Member's speech that I quoted yesterday, credit has been referred to as a "delicate fabric". I suppose that it is admitted by all that credit is absolutely essential for a society such as ours is. In olden days there was no social dependence as there is at present. Each man was living on his own exertions and depended on himself only for every thing, and if anybody had money in excess or to spare he would rather keep it buried in the ground underneath his cot than let another man make use of it on credit. Gradually, in more recent years, people began to lend, that is to say to let others use the money, but it was done on pledge of gold. But now lakhs and lakhs of rupees are lent freely. For instance they flow into the numerous banks in the country in return for a mere scrap of paper, and large amounts are being lent between party and party on mere signed paper, say a promissory note. It is undoubtedly recognised that such credit facilities are absolutely necessary for the economic growth of our society. In Travancore, Sir, especially now when the Government are trying to industrialise the country, it is very necessary that credit facilities are available to the people. We must see that the written and signed word of everyone in the country would be honoured and that law will compel it to be honoured. Unless that is assured, it will be a bad day for us; the delicate fabric of credit will be torn asunder. It would be very unwise on our part to allow it.

Yesterday, I was quoting the experiences of the Madras Special Loans Officer. He has said that there, in many cases, the debtors themselves were against the scaling down of the debts, in spite of the fact that such scaling down was absolutely voluntary, for fear that their creditors who have all along been helping them with loans may not do so hereafter. That shows, Sir, how much credit facilities are being valued by the debtors themselves. I would therefore appeal to the House not to be a party to anything that would tend to shatter credit, not merely the credit of the State as such but also the credit between party and party, between private individuals within the State.

When I speak of the shattering of credit, it is not mere theory, Sir. It is a hard fact. The House will remember that when the Government introduced this Bill, and later even when the Select Committee made very drastic changes in it supposed to affect the creditors, the creditors in the country did not raise their voice of protest, since evidently they also knew that the condition of the agriculturists deserved some consideration. But the moment that this House passed the provision reducing the interest that had already accrued, they got alarmed and submitted memorials to the Palace and petitions to the Government; they waited in deputation upon the Dewan.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedunangad): May I know whether it is as a result of such deputations by the creditors that the Law Member is now proposing his present amendment?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Siriar Vakil): No. Not at all. Government feel, as they all along felt, that the right thing to do is to reduce interest only for a future period. If the honourable member would kindly refer to my speech at the second reading which was before the creditors memorialised the Government, he would find that my condemnation of the proposal to reduce past interest was much stronger than the words I used to-day.

The alarm that the retrospective provision caused in the minds of the creditors in the country will show how much reliance they had placed on the statutory assurance that they had in regard to the rate of interest. Sir, our provision regarding interest has been in force for more than a century. It would be entirely suicidal on our part to shatter the credit in the country for the sake of helping some individuals. It will be like cutting one's nose to spite the face as it were, like losing a bigger thing in attempting to catch a smaller one.

There is no doubt, Sir, as I have already stated, that the agriculturist needs relief, and relief has been provided in the Bill by the conciliation provisions. And, as I said yesterday, Government are prepared to go to establish a large number of Boards even to start with. In regard to the relief to the individual debtors, it must be done having regard to the circumstances of each case. If a man is fully able to pay, why should he be given the same relief that we extend to another who is not really able to pay?

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): May I ask whether the idea of the Law Member is that the relief to be given is also to be only experimental?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Padi): The question is not clear to me.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): The Law Member said yesterday that the Boards are to be tried as an experimental measure and now he says that the Boards are the only kind of relief that he would give to the agriculturists. Therefore I am asking whether he would give to the agriculturists only an experimental kind of relief.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Padi): No, Sir. The relief is not experimental. It is the method adopted that is experimental. I suppose we are not playing upon words now. If, in the case of a debt of say, Rs. 1,000, the Conciliation Board may reduce it to Rs. 500, certainly that will be substantial relief to the debtor and not experimental. It will be felt by him. There is no experiment involved in it. It is an actual saving that he gets. What I suggest is that if conciliation is not found to work satisfactorily, other methods may be tried.

Sir, I would at this stage draw the attention of the House to Clause 19 of the Bill which does provide for the reduction of interest even from 1105 Chingam in deserving cases. If the parties are agreeable to go to conciliation, and if the conciliation fails it is open to the court, when the matter goes there, to consider the circumstances of the case and, if necessary, to reduce the rate of interest even retrospectively from the very 1105 Chingam, that is in the Clause adopted at the second reading. That is a very safe provision; because it will be available in appropriate cases and not in others. It will not help the rich man who wants to conceal his assets, one who is not prepared to place all his cards before the Conciliation Board and to prove that he deserves the relief. Clause 19 is based on recognised principles of bankruptcy legislation and applies to deserving cases. Why reduce the rate of interest when the man is able to pay? That is the question, I ask. The Clause that I now seek to delete may be availed of by everybody alike, and that is why creditors are alarmed. So then the position is this; for the poor man there is provision in Clause 19; for the rich man we ought not to make a provision which is expiatory.

I want the House to realise also, Sir, that this provision for retrospective reduction of interest is absolutely useless to the bulk or the debtors, those who really need relief, and that this provision will benefit only the rich man. Sir, for the ordinary poor debtor, a mere reduction of the interest is not going to be any relief at all. Of course, one side of the House may score a spectacular victory if the provision in the Bill is allowed to stand as it is. But, certainly, that is not going to afford any real relief to the bulk of the agriculturist debtors of the country. There is a Malayalam saying:—

I do not know Sir, if you understood the meaning of this Malayalam saying. It means that if the level of the water in a river goes beyond the level of the nostrils of a man who is caught in it, it does not matter whether it goes up by three men's height or four men's height and that therefore it is no relief to him if water to a depth equal to, say a man's height, is removed from above him. Similarly, for the ordinary agriculturist what does it matter if interest alone is reduced? It would be like removing a few inches of water from above him while there is many feet of water above him. He would not get any relief; he would still be under the pressure of debt. To give him relief, not merely interest but also a portion of the principal must be reduced. Then only can he stand up. And that would be done by the Conciliation Officer who examines the debtor and the creditor and their affairs and then proposes a proper adjustment of their affairs.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will not the creditor also be affected by the Conciliation Board?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Yes. He will be affected exactly as in bankruptcy proceedings.

MR. K. C. ABRAHAM (Kottayam II): Does it not mean that we will have to look into the condition of the party—whether he is able to pay his debt or not?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Yes, that will have to be looked into.

What I want the House to consider is that the Bill provides for the reduction of interest in deserving cases, and I do not object to it. All that I object to is that there should not be a uniform reduction of interest as in Clause 34 irrespective of the ability of the debtor to pay or not.

MR. K. C. ABRAHAM (Kottayam II): Am I to understand from the speech of the Law Member that there are two classes of debtors, the first who are able to pay, and the second, those who are unable to pay?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Yes, there are.

MR. K. C. ABRAHAM (Kottayam II): Am I to understand then that the Law Member wants this Clause to apply only to those who are unable to pay because of improvidence?

MR KAYALAM PHRAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Yes. We need not provide relief for the rich debtor who is able to pay. It is believed that the agitation for this reduction of interest comes from the class of debtor who is able to pay. I ask the House not to be influenced by the crocodile tears of this class of people, who are well able to pay. The House should provide relief for those debtors who are really unable to pay their debts. This provision in Clause 31, as it is, is worse than useless. Therefore let us substitute the Clause that I propose.

PRESIDENT: I have received notice of certain amendments. I think it will conduce to the convenience of the House if the amendments are moved now and discussion takes place generally on them and then the final voting can take place according to convenience.

MR. R. SAMBASIVA AIYAR (Kunnathad II): Sir, I move the following amendment:

In amendment No. 10 to Clause 31 for the words 'Notwithstanding any thing in any law, contract, decree or order of court, no interest shall accrue or be permitted to be recovered as accruing' substitute the words 'No court shall by its decree or order allow interest to be recovered'.

My object in moving this amendment is to see that the credit of the State is not impaired as much as it is sought to be done by the present amendment. According to the language of the present amendment, interest cannot accrue at any rate exceeding 6 per cent in spite of contract to the contrary. Even if a party agrees to pay interest at the rate of 9 per cent, and actually pays the interest, he can, after this law is passed sue the creditor for the refund of interest because according to the law that we are enacting interest cannot even accrue at a rate exceeding 6 per cent per annum. That is an unfortunate position. There are many persons who are able and willing to borrow money at a higher rate of interest than 6 per cent. Most of the agriculturists in the State are persons who have subsidiary occupations such as trade. The definition of 'agriculturist' is so wide that it will embrace almost 85 per cent of the people of the State. It will include agriculturists with subsidiary occupations such as trade, business, and cottage industries. Many of these people borrow money pledging pepper or other agricultural products. During the agricultural season they carry on agricultural operations and at other times they take to trade or business. Such persons have to borrow money from banks pledging their goods. Hereafter the banks will not lend money to such people because they are agriculturists though they agree to pay higher rates of interest. I submit, Sir, that the language of Section 31 of the Civil Procedure Code, which prohibits courts of law from interest at more than 12 per cent, may be followed in this case also. The prohibition there is that the court cannot decree more than 12 per cent. It is left to the parties themselves to agree to pay more than 12 per cent. A similar procedure should be adopted here also. Why should we say that no interest shall accrue at more than 6 per cent notwithstanding anything in any law, contract, decree or order of court? If the party is agreeable to pay and does pay more than 6 per cent, why should we prohibit that?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Palkit): On this principle will the member advocate the recovery of even more than 12 per cent if it is agreed to?

MR. R. SAMBASIVA AIYAR (Kannathud Il): If the parties agree to that, it should be done. Even if it is cent per cent it should be allowed. Nobody is prejudiced by that.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Palkit): Is the member then criticising the existing law which limits interest to 12 per cent?

MR. R. SAMBASIVA AIYAR (Kannathud Il): The existing law does not limit interest to that extent. It only says that no court shall allow more than 12 per cent. The people may pay or receive more, if they so choose. That is the effect of the present law. That has stood the test of more than a century. I submit, Sir, that for the next three years the law should be so modified that the courts could not enforce more than 6 per cent interest. But if the parties are willing to pay more than 6 per cent, then the creditors should not be asked to refund the interest paid.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mucelikkara): Is there any provision for refunding the amount by the creditor after the transaction is closed?

MR. R. SAMBASIVA AIYAR (Kannathud Il): I submit that it is the effect of the language used in the Clause. The Clause says that no interest shall accrue in spite of any contract, and if the creditor receives such higher interest, it will certainly be considered as a mistake. I submit that it is the effect of the law. In this connection I would refer the House to para 26 of the memorandum of the High Court.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavel kare): Sir, I rise to a point of order. The memorandum has not been supplied to any of us.

PRESIDENT: I am told by the Secretary that it has been placed on the table. When this question was raised in another form yesterday, I was informed that it would be immediately placed on the table of the House. I understand that it has been so placed.

MR. R. SAMBASIVA AIYAR (Kannathud Il): The honourable judges of the High Court observe:

"The provision that no contract will be enforced beyond 6 per cent interest will considerably affect the credit not only of agriculturists, but of business men and individuals in the whole State."

I submit, Sir, that there are agriculturists who are prepared to borrow at a rate exceeding 6 per cent. They should not be prevented from getting loans at such interest if they want the same. Again, the definition of the term 'agriculturist' is so wide as to embrace all persons even though they are not ordinarily agriculturists. If a person has a subsidiary occupation, that person also will come under this provision. So I submit that the language of the Clause should be so amended as to be in consonance with the old Regulation I of 1010 reenacted in Section 81 of the C. P. C. With these words I move the amendment.

Sir, the next two amendments are consequential to this and I may be permitted to move them now.

PRESIDENT: Yes.

MR. R. SAMBASIVA AIYAR (Kunnathnad II): I move :

"In the Explanation to Clause 31. (connected with amendment No. 10) for the words 'interest shall accrue and be permitted to be recovered as accruing' substitute the words "interest shall be allowed to be recovered."

In Clause 35 (connected with amendment No. 10) for the words "Notwithstanding anything in any law, contract, decree or order of Court, no interest shall accrue or be permitted to be recovered as accruing" substitute the words "No Court shall by its decree or order allow interest to be recovered". "

MR. T. S. JAYANTAN NAMBOOTIRI (Jemmis, North): I second the amendments.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): The Law Member wants to have the Section 34 amended. But Mr. Sambasiva Aiyar wants to amend Section 35 by moving his amendments to Section 34. He simply says that it is connected with the other amendments.

PRESIDENT: At the present moment we are dealing with Clause 34 and for the present only amendments to Clause 34 will be moved and debated. Therefore I take it that Mr. Sambasiva Aiyar has moved the amendments to Clause 34 and to the Explanation thereof.

MR. R. SAMBASIVA AIYAR (Kunnathnad II): The Standing Order concerned is this:

No amendments other than those connected with the amendments moved on behalf of Government shall, without the special permission of the Dewan, be brought up for consideration at this stage.

My amendment therefore is connected with the amendment to Clause 34.

PRESIDENT: We are now discussing Clause 34. After Clause 34 has been disposed of, it is open to the honourable member to say what he desires to observe with regard to Clause 35. At the present moment all that is permissible is the consideration of amendment to Clause 34. I take it that those amendments have been moved and seconded.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumargad): Sir, I oppose the amendments moved both by the Law Member and Mr. Sambasiva Aiyar to Clause 34. I oppose these amendments with a feeling of despair and despondency. I emphatically and purposely submit that I oppose these amendments with a feeling of despair and despondency. Whatever be my advocacy for the ease of the poor agricultural debtors of the State, I know for certain that their interests will be frustrated by the Government at this rate. The poor agriculturists would be reduced to a position of landless and helpless people in the State and it is not far off when this may lead to an economic and social revolution at this rate. Sir, I find the Law Member submitted that the creditors were alarmed and the Government also say that the creditor class is alarmed. That being so, the Government are compelled to bring forth such amendments to safeguard the interests of the creditors and to negative the Bill that has already taken shape at its second reading here. From the Census of 1931 we find that the bankers, money-lenders and such Shylock class of people number about 2,825 persons out of a population of 50 lakhs and odd of people. The agricultural population comes to more than 11 lakhs of people. From the statement made by Government it seems that the Government are prepared to surrender or fall at the feet of the creditor classes of the State. A microscopic minority amongst the population of the State who number about 2,000 and mainly composed of pensioned officers belong to the category of money-lenders. They have no real stake in the State and they have not done any assistance to the poor agriculturists. The bankers in the State have been a set of cutthroats and they have not done any good to the poor agriculturists. I am really sorry that the Government at this stage has come to the rescue of these bankers and money-lenders.]

PRESIDENT: Order, order. The honourable member must remember that his speech should not comprise words that are either defamatory or seditious.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangudi): I never mentioned any names, Sir.

PRESIDENT: I heard the member saying that there will be an economic and social revolution in the country. Those words are seditious.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangudi): Then I withdraw those words. I never meant sedition when I used those expressions. I will be the last person to use such seditious words. I am the most loyal of all loyal citizens. I am sorry that the President has understood that word like that.

PRESIDENT: Order, order. I definitely heard the honourable member say that the landless classes will rise in revolution.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangudi): I said that it might lead at this rate to revolution.

PRESIDENT: Order, order. Unless the honourable member withdraws that expression I shall have to take steps.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangudi): I have withdrawn that expression. And, I withdrew it unconditionally, Sir.

PRESIDENT: I am glad, Mr. S. J. Nair will now proceed.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangudi): Coming to the amendment, what I wish to submit is this. A Committee was appointed to go into the question of indebtedness of the agriculturists in the State. The Committee was composed of responsible members of the Legislature and after a detailed enquiry of the pros and cons they have submitted a report. The Committee have recorded on page 112 of the Report their considered opinion, on the question of interest as follows:—

"In the case of debt transactions entered into before 1105, whether a decree be passed thereon or not, the interest payable thereon for the period from 1106 up to the date of any enactment passed for the purpose should be at one-half of the rate of interest payable if the enactment had not been passed or at 4 per cent. whichever is larger, provided that payment of interest is made before such date as Government may fix from time to time. If the agreed rate is less than 4 per cent. such rate should prevail."

[Mr. S. J. Nair.]

Further the Committee recorded their opinion as follows:—

"The interest allowable on transactions entered into by agriculturists from and after 1105 up to the date of any enactment that may be passed for the purpose or some other specified date, should in no case exceed 6 per cent. (Sir, I emphasise the words, should in no case exceed 6 per cent) whether the debt be secured or unsecured, if payment is made within three years from the date of the enactment, provided however, that in the case of banks which have been receiving deposits in the regular course of business and have been issuing loans, it should be in the discretion of the court to allow interest up to 8 per cent. instead of 6 per cent."

The Bill is said have been drawn up after the recommendations of the Committee. When this Bill came up for the second reading this House passed amendments in accordance with the recommendations of the Committee. Now it surpasses my imagination why the Law Member has come forward with the present amendment to negative the usefulness of the Bill. If his amendment is carried, and I hope Government may succeed to carry through this amendment, the agriculturists will be doomed. So I request the Government, in all earnestness and sincerity, to withdraw even the Bill itself. Why should a Bill bearing the name of "the Travancore Agriculturists' Relief Bill" be brought forward if such amendments are to be carried out and the good results of the Bill are nullified? Why should this Bill find a place in the Statute Book of the State? I challenge the Law Member to point out to me one provision at least in this Bill which would show that the Government are safeguarding substantially the interests of the agriculturist debtors in the State. There is absolutely no provision in this Bill to help the agriculturists. If such amendments are carried, the agriculturists will be hard hit. I appeal in all sincerity on behalf of the dumb and helpless millions of agriculturists in this country to withdraw this amendment. I also appeal to the non-official members of the House to throw out this amendment and come to the rescue of the poor agriculturists of the State.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittai): Sir, I oppose both the amendments before the House. To meet the points urged by the Law Member we should go to the first principles which gave birth to such a measure. It is rather an extraordinary measure, an abnormal legislation which under normal circumstances the Government or any other responsible body would not have thought of. It is a very extraordinary measure to a certain extent, more or less interfering with the legal rights of certain parties. There is the Conciliation Board proposed to be created. Over and above this there are courts in the land. Under normal times there is no necessity for the creation of Boards. Then there is a suggestion for instalment payments and also the Land Mortgage Bank coming to the aid of the debtors. These are measures which can be characterised as rather extraordinary. Why should Government think of launching upon a measure so extraordinary in character at the present time? It was because the Government felt convinced that the circumstances are rather extraordinary. The Committee which enquired into the details of these abnormal circumstances have given expression to that in their Report. The Government therefore felt convinced that the poor agriculturists in the State stood in need of some kind of relief. This is the basic point on which we have to consider the provisions of the Bill.

It is stated by the Law Member in very strong language that if this amendment is not carried we would not be helping those who are rather improvident and who wanted to evade the payment of interest. That pre-supposes the existence of a set of people who wanted really to evade payment. That is an argument which would go against those who did not want this amendment. Were there such people in the lands? Has that come to the notice of the Committee that enquired into the condition of the agriculturists? Was there a considerable section of people coming under that category? At page 10 of the Committee's report to which the Law Member also has subscribed, the statement made is this;—

“There is a tendency in certain quarters to hold the agriculturists entirely responsible for the plight in which he finds himself at the present day. We do not think that it is just to ascribe the whole situation to the extravagances, imprudences, speculative dealings and unproductive borrowings of the agriculturists. It may be admitted that most agriculturists in this country have a great partiality for investments in land and sometimes they purchase land not for its economic value but at fancy prices. We are, however, inclined to the view that the agriculturists no more deserve these charges than the other classes of producers in the country. We find that, in this view, we are supported by the Banking Enquiry Committee who have recorded their considered opinion that the agriculturists of Travancore are not extravagant, as a rule.”

That is the condition of the agriculturists of Travancore as described by the most authoritative Committee that enquired into the matter. Therefore if there was any failure on the part of the poor Travancore agriculturists to meet those obligations during these seven years commencing from 1105, it is to be taken for absolute truth that it was not because they wanted to avoid payment of interest, but because they were quite unable to pay. In spite of his very high personal honour and integrity he found himself quite unable to meet the situation. Therefore a measure proposed by the Government ought to help the agriculturists. So the argument that there was any wilful evasion on the part of the agriculturists to meet their obligations fails to the ground. We are now by this measure helping these agriculturists to tide over the extraordinary situation created here due to circumstances over which we had no control. If the agriculturist is asked to go forward with this heavy burden of seven years on him he is certainly helpless. It is for the purpose of saving him from the plight to which he has been reduced on account of the abnormal fall of the price of agricultural produce that this measure is sought to be introduced. It was stated by Mr. Sambasiva Aiyar that the agriculturists have got other subsidiary sources of income.

Mr. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Then why not ask these men to prove their inability before a Conciliation Board?

Mr. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Dattamuttu): Because an investigation was made by a responsible body and it is found by the Government that no such proof is necessary and that the agriculturists as a rule are honest men who keep up their personal honour and who are desirous of meeting their liabilities. Therefore it would detract from the workable nature of the legislation if such a proof is thrust upon the agriculturists for getting relief. It is suggested that there are agriculturists, probably according to their fancy and imagination, of a considerable number who are having subsidiary occupations. I submit that if it is found other by the Board or by the court or by any other institution instituted for the carrying out of this legislation that the main source of income of a person is not from agriculture, certainly he should be necked out. No relief need be given to him. But if it is found that his main source of income is from agriculture then he is certainly entitled to the relief measures suggested in this provision. Therefore if we mean business and if we want to help the agriculturists to tide over this extraordinary situation the most important provision that is to be made here is contained in this Clause. It is stated that in the case of bankers they had been paying interest on the deposits received by them. They were paying it because they could afford to do it. They were not depending upon the prices of agricultural products. They were depending upon some other source of income. It cannot be said that the bankers are honest people simply because they were paying interest, and agriculturists dishonest because they were not paying the interest. These conclusions should not prejudice our judgment.

Then there is a threat held out both by the Law Member and Mr. Sambasiva Aiyar that if this measure is carried, the credit of the whole society would be shaken and that it would affect very prejudicially the interests of the agriculturists because they would not be able to receive loans from banks or other credit agencies. What would the credit agencies do with the money hoarded by them? If they find that they cannot make profit out of the money in their possession, certainly they would come down. They would say that they are satisfied with even one per cent. interest. That would certainly materialise and so this consideration also should not affect us when we are dealing with this point. Therefore it would certainly be in consonance with the spirit of the legislation if we maintain the original provision contained in the Bill as revised by the Select Committee and throw out this amendment.

Mr. M. K. JANARDHANA KAMMATH (Commerce and Industries, North): Sir, I oppose the amendment. From the standpoint of creditors it is not fair to give retrospective effect to this Regulation. The amendment will work a great hardship on creditors. Transactions entered into till the date on which this Regulation comes into force should not be affected. Creditors who have advanced money could never have expected that such a Regulation as this would come into operation affecting their right to realise the rate of interest agreed upon. Further, it should not be ignored that creditors themselves may owe larger sums to persons living outside Travancore and they would be liable to pay interest to them. Will it not be a great hardship to such creditors if they are debarred from realising interest from their debtors in Travancore from 1105 onwards? My only submission is that in giving relief to the agricultural debtors we should be very careful to see that no unnecessary trouble or hardship is caused to the creditors. With these words I support this amendment.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I support the amendment moved by the Law Member and oppose the amendment of Mr. Sambasiva Aiyar. Sir, when this House accepted the principles of this Bill it was admitted on all hands that some relief is necessary to the agriculturist in difficulties. The two ways in which he could be given relief are, one by lightening his burden, and the other by giving some time to pay up his debts. With regard to the question of giving him time for discharging his debts we have the provisions in Part II as well as III. With regard to lightening the burden of the agriculturists in difficulties there is provision in Part II of the Bill. In Part III which concerns with the reduction of interest the original provision in the Bill and that contained in the Select Committee Report is with regard to the future interest on existing liabilities and future debts. This House has, by an amendment, altered the date for the reduction of interest from the commencement of the Regulation to first Chingam 1105. The ground that has been advanced in favour of this change at that time was that the prices of the agricultural produce have gone down and on that account the agriculturists are not in a position to discharge their liabilities. In this country we do not find two entirely distinct classes as creditors and debtors, nor could we find two entirely distinct classes as agriculturists and non agriculturists. It is open to any person to become an agriculturist under this Regulation by becoming a servant of an agriculturist or if by purchasing an inch of land anywhere. In a short time we will find that there will be many agriculturists by purchase of some lands in the court sale. Even if they are not willing they will become agriculturists out of necessity. That is why, even when this Bill was introduced, I wanted to make it as comprehensive as possible. If owing to the fall in the price of produce the country has suffered as a whole there is no reason why a Bill which is brought forward with the intention of helping one section of the agriculturists should prejudice another section of them. The definition of agriculturists has been widened to the utmost possible extent. Even a surety of an agriculturist or the member of a family of agriculturists though he may be a Government servant or not, becomes an agriculturist under our definition. What is it that Clause 34, as it stands at present, enacts? It says that from first Chingam 1105 interest shall accrue and shall be allowed to be recovered only at 6 per cent. or one-half of the customary rate whichever is higher.

[Mr. A. S. Damodaran Asan.]

An attempt is made to unsettle all transactions which have come into existence during the last seven years. All expectations that have been legitimately raised on the guaranteed protection of the law of the land should be frustrated. If this amendment is passed there is no question as to the debtor or creditor being protected by the nature of the debt. Sir, with regard to the debts that were due before 1105, and are yet to be discharged we can more or less infer why those debts still remain unpaid. For seven years have elapsed: either the creditor was indulgent enough to give the debtor sufficient time or the creditor is a poor man without sufficient resources to recover the debt from the debtor who might be in a much better position. Under those circumstances is it proper now to say that those creditors who have not yet realised their dues on account of leniency or on account of helplessness should suffer now? Sir, the credit in this country has suffered very much after the introduction of this Bill. (Hear, hear.)

Not that I am speaking on behalf of either creditor or debtor, but in such matters it is absolutely necessary that no delay should be caused. I might also be permitted to say, to quote your own statement, that "delay means denial". Under the conciliation chapter there is ample provision to give relief to all deserving debtors. When an amendment was moved for limiting the area of operation of Boards, I very vehemently opposed that amendment, because I was very anxious that that form of relief must be extended to all deserving persons. Though unfortunately I was defeated, there is the promise of the Law Member that Boards would be extended throughout the State without much delay. Whatever that be there are those provisions. If there is any delay in the establishment of Boards, there is this Assembly to press upon Government the necessity of establishing Boards throughout the State; it would be found that under the conciliation chapter power is given to the Conciliating Officer to reduce the interest as well as the principal. And an objection might be stated that that is a voluntary affair and if any creditor refuses to accept conciliation he will not be bound by it. But there is another Section in the same Part I, c. Section 19 which says that if a creditor without caring for the decision of the Conciliation Officer rushes into the court, the court is competent to reduce the interest on that sum from 1st Chingam 1105 to 4 per cent.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): So, that question settles the State's guarantee?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Yes, to the extent that is proper. The creditor as well as the debtor are given sufficient opportunity to place their cases before the Conciliation Officer for decision. My friend should understand the distinction between subjecting to the decision of two tribunals and asking the Legislature to lay down a law to affect all persons. There is much difference between the two, Sir. Equitable relief should be given to deserving cases. What I was submitting is that under Section 19 power is given to reduce interest from 1st Chingam 1105 to four per cent. So there is that provision under Section 19. What is wanted by this amendment is that a debtor who does not go before a Conciliation Board and convince the Board of the grounds on which he is entitled to concession, must be given a relief. Sir, is it not an accepted principle that when a legislation is enacted retrospective effect should be given only where there are very important grounds of public utility? Is there any such thing here? I do not think there is any ground for laying down as a provision of law that interest from 1105 should be reduced in all cases. Consider the case, Sir, where a comparatively poor person has advanced some money to his rich neighbour who happened to be an agriculturist. He must have given the money in the hope that after some years he will be able to recover the interest and the principal to give his daughter in marriage. Now when this poor man is expecting that he will get the whole amount to discharge his liability, both religious and social, he will be told, there is the law under which you are entitled to get only half of the interest. What the reason is for enacting this Clause I am unable to understand. As the learned Law Member observed, the only ground is that the debtors who are in affluent circumstances and are not prepared to go before a Conciliation Officer should get some relief. Is it proper that such a legislation should be enacted in this Legislature? Sir, I am firmly of the opinion that it will be inadvisable for this Legislature to adopt such a measure.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, I rise to oppose the amendment moved by the Law Member as well as the amendments moved by Mr. Sambasiva Aiyar. Sir, the Law Member began by saying that he proposes this amendment with a view to take away an amendment that has been incorporated by this House at the second reading stage and to bring the Bill back to its original position. He also pointed out that that Bill as reported by the Select Committee did not contain any provision for giving retrospective effect to the rate of interest from and after 1105. I am sure, Sir, that this House will remember the Law Member sticking to the opinion expounded by the Select Committee strictly. He advocated and trotted it out in season and out of season. Even some changes of a minor nature, which were suggested, were opposed by him on the sole ground that it was not proposed by the Select Committee. But some amendments were proposed by him at the third reading stage and he got them passed by this House yesterday. Sir, this amendment involves a question of giving relief with regard to the rate of interest accrued during the period of depression, and the period of depression was brought into existence by factors absolutely beyond the control of agriculturists' poverty. The forces were beyond his control. It was not his fault that he became incapable of discharging his obligations. According to the opinion of the Banking Enquiry Committee and the Economic Depression Enquiry Committee, normally the agriculturist in Travancore is a man of self-respect, and would not try to evade obligations. Sir, it has been recognised by the A. D. R. Committee to which the Law Member himself was a party, that the agriculturist stands in need of relief. Substantial relief can be brought to him only if the rate of interest is reduced substantially during the period of depression. I refer to page 63, paragraph 2 of the Report :

"After giving the subject our most anxious and careful consideration, the committee found that they were left with no alternative but to take the view that no proposal for the relief of agricultural debt, would be adequate to meet the present situation if it did not include a reduction of the rate of interest yet remaining unpaid on past transactions, during the period of the depression."

That is the opinion that has been recorded by an expert Committee specially appointed for the purpose of investigating this problem. It may be said that that reduction was to be given only to those who pay down cash. It is not the fault of this House nor is it the fault of any of us that provisions enabling that has not been made in the Bill. As a matter of fact the Bill has not made provisions for many of the ameliorative recommendations made with the best of intentions by the A. D. R. Committee. Now, the Law Member goes to move this amendment forgetting the whole history behind the investigation, the whole evidence collected by the Committee and the conclusions reached by them. These recommendations had the unqualified support of the Law Member as an individual member of the Committee.

Sir, there is no reason why this House should be influenced by the suggestion that the Select Committee did not incorporate the amendment that the House incorporated during the second reading. This House had to reconsider the recommendations of the Select Committee and as a result of deliberations came to definite conclusions. This provision was passed by a majority and was then incorporated into this Bill. This is the only amendment which is going to give substantial relief to the agriculturists.

PRESIDENT: Will the Honourable Member take some time?

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I may.

PRESIDENT: Now the House will adjourn to meet again at 2.

The House adjourned at 1 p. m. and met again at 2 p. m. with the President in the Chair.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, the question is whether the agriculturists stand in need of relief. Even the Law Member admits that he stands in need of relief. His only argument was that even without the provision for the reduction of interest from 1105, there is ample provision in the Bill to give him substantial relief. But the Committee which went into the question and weighed evidence came to a different conclusion. The Committee said nothing short of a substantial reduction of interest during the period of depression will be an adequate relief to the agriculturists. We know that the Committee consisted not merely of hair-splitting lawyers but of economists and experts and representatives of all interests. Whatever that be, let us consider this. There is after all no substantial relief in the Bill if this amendment is not passed and relief given with regard to the accruing interest during the period of depression, that is, from 1929 downwards.

We found now how this question has been answered by the Law Member. He says there is the Conciliation Board. Sir, the provision of conciliation in this Bill is purely optional and it can become effective only if the creditors and debtors come to an agreement. If one small creditor stands up and says "no, I am not willing to stand by the decision of the Conciliation Officer", the whole conciliation fails. Then of course, it is said that there is the power of issuing a certificate which will be considered by the court. But how far will that be helpful? I think the agriculturists know the attitude which courts now take regarding the conditions of the agriculturists. We were not supplied with the memorandum of the High Court, although it is said that it is laid on the table. It should have been supplied sufficiently early for us to enable us to study it carefully. At any rate, it has not been possible. So, we do not know what valuable arguments the High Court has advanced; whether it is in favour of the retrospective effect or not, I am not at present able to understand. Quotations taken from here and there would not, I believe, guide the House so long as they are not in possession of the whole of the arguments set out by the High Court in their memorandum. According to me, the criticism that the definition of agriculturists in the Bill is all comprehensive and that it includes all kinds of debtors and creditors and that there is no restriction with regard to them, should not be allowed to be put both ways. When the question of this Conciliation Board was raised the Law Member used the very same argument to support his position that the Bill is designed in a manner that will be comprehensive and is going to relieve the agriculturists. Now he says that because this will include all kinds of debtors including also the big debtors, whom everybody looks upon with an eye of envy, he says that this relief should not be given. This is not fair argument. I doubt whether it is fair to create a serious split between classes. All sorts of arguments are conjured up in despair.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): The word that I used was 'rich debtor' and not 'big debtor'!

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I feel sure that the Law Member meant a particular class of people to whom I am referring. If that is what he means, I cannot understand the distinction. Everybody in this country knows whom he refers to by saying the rich debtor. I mean he refers to the rich planters of Kanjirapally and the speculators of Kuttanad. I say that this House should not be guided away by this and that this should not be the logic for winning the votes for his amendment. An amendment has to be voted upon by this House purely upon its merits. It is not fair, nor is it just for the Law Member representing Government to put forward such arguments to raise animosities to catch a victory by a member's vote.

Sir, with regard to the British Indian legislation he said that in British India, there are not very many provisions which are more advantageous than the provisions contained in this Bill. Even with regard to the conciliation, we find that in Madras if the majority creditors agree to the decision of the Conciliation Officer they take effect as a decree. There is no provision like that here so that the effect of conciliation as such is problematic. Every creditor has to agree to the decision of the Conciliation Officer if the Conciliation Officer's decision is to take effect. This is an impossibility. At any rate it will be a very rare phenomenon. There may be one person who says that he is not going to agree to that. He can do that by the indirect inducement from other creditors. Then the whole conciliation proceedings could be stopped. Of course they issue the certificate. Only the man with ten or twelve rupees debt who is put up as the obstructor will come in for the penalty. Then the whole purpose and work of conciliation can be nullified and after all it will be found in practice that the work of conciliation is not going to bring substantial relief. I am prepared to say that these are extraordinary measures intended to meet an extraordinary situation. And I cannot be bluffed by saying that this is rather expropriatory and illegal. In Europe even in countries that have not turned socialist, they have taken much stronger measures than this for debt relief. Recently the very same piece of legislation was adopted in Manitoba against which a comment appeared in the editorial columns of "the Hindu" which the learned Law Member may use to controvert me by quoting as an authority. It was a right policy and it was the necessary policy of a Government to put the agriculturist on his feet and to protect him because he is the basis of society which supports a well constituted Government. That fact has been admitted ever so many times by eminent men in all countries and that fact has been admitted by the authors of the Agricultural Debt Redemption Committee. The Law Member asks us to take off our hearts and consider this question with the aid of the intellect only. It is impossible, neither is it desirable. It was not possible for the A. D. R. Committee to keep away their heart and consider this question with their brains only. It is impossible to look at it from an intellectual point of view only. The whole weakness of the argument of the Law Member lies there. Sir, I feel confident that this House will not view this from the point of view of a pettifogging lawyer. I do not believe that they will view contractual obligations with a cruel mentality. The whole problem has to be looked from the point of view of a statesman. The Legislature has to decide this question with the far sighted vision of a statesman.

Then it is said, as it has been said very often, may ad nanscam, from every part of the country wherever such legislation had been introduced, that credit would be destroyed. It is a ground that will not bamboozle this House, because they are very much accustomed to this cry. What is credit? Credit is the capacity to meet obligations. If the agriculturist should have credit, he must be enabled to meet his obligations. He must be put on his feet. That is why Government are introducing these relief measures, and trying to ameliorate his condition. It is to resuscitate his credit.

The Madras Debt Relief Commissioner has stated that such people, for whom the Law Member poured forth his sympathy, are doomed for ever, and they cannot be rescued. The ameliorative measures are intended for the protection of debtors who happened to be debtors for no fault of theirs, but on account of the phenomenal fall in the commodity prices and who may recover if some help is given. They must be helped. They ask you, "how are you going to help us"? Will you give us a short respite, an opportunity to find the money? The bright hopes of the agriculturists have been ruined on account of the fall in prices on account of the general economic depression. Nobody can be held responsible for that. Why should you not sympathise with them? I cannot understand it if you say that it was due to the fault of the rich agriculturists that he became unable to meet the obligations.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Even in that case should he not be put on his feet?

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): By all means do that if you can. But let that not be an argument against those who deserve help and who with a little help that the State can afford to give will revive and prosper, and will be a useful member of society. They must be helped. Then what are these legal obligations? Are they the ten commandments I ask?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): The principle is the ability of the debtor to pay his debt.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Civilised States have come to the conclusion that such reliefs are necessary. Even in India many Provinces and States took action long before the Law Member came forward with this legislation. The Law Member says that in those parts usurious interest was levied, and so that may be justified. There is no such thing in Travancore because there was the restriction of 12 per cent interest. But as a matter of fact, banks and chitties and various other bodies do collect more than 12 per cent. This fact has been found, and has been recorded by the Banking Enquiry Committee. You cannot get out of that.

There is no use trying to dispute it at this late stage. These are arguments which I am sure will not weigh with the House in changing a decision which has been arrived at by an overwhelming majority. Sir, this is the only provision in the Bill which will benefit every one of the debtors. It has been conceded by Mr. Aann, who supported the Law Member, that in Travancore no distinction can be drawn between creditors and debtors—every one is a debtor and every one is a creditor—that no distinction could be drawn between agriculturists and non-agriculturists. That shows, Sir, that every one in the country has been hit by the fall in the prices of commodities, and therefore stands in need of relief. And, as I said, this is the only provision which will bring relief to every section of the people.

The argument has been advanced by the Law Member that there have been memorials and deputations from the creditors, and that they would not have agitated like that unless they had a real grievance. Sir, if that argument can be advanced in support of the amendment, it can be said with equal force that the moment the agriculturists heard the rumour that the Government had an idea of not pushing through the Bill as it is, immediately they also sent letters and telegrams, and waited in deputation upon the Government. They would do all that lay in their power. So, Sir, deputations and representations caused each other. I do not think the House need be guided by the kind of paper used by one party or the other. The bankers might have printed their memorandum on very good paper. The agricultural debtors might have typewritten theirs on cheap paper. The House will not be guided by these considerations. But that cannot affect the validity of the arguments advanced. We should not be guided by such superficial things. Let us consider the questions on its merits.

I know, Sir, there is a fear in the mind of some members of this House that unless this amendment of the Law Member is accepted, the Government may drop this Bill. There is a feeling like that, so that I fear that, irrespective of the merits of the question, some members may fall into this net and vote for the amendment. For a moment I do not believe that the Government will throw out the Bill merely because we throw out this amendment. We know our duty. We have considered this question. It was fully discussed on the last occasion itself. No new argument has now been brought forward in support of the position taken up by the Law Member. Therefore if we go back upon our decision and now support the Law Member's amendment, we would be committing two blunders. On the one hand, we would be deciding the issue against our conviction; and on the other hand, since the Law Member has not now added any new argument, we would be admitting that on the last occasion we did not consider the question properly.

Sir, if the Government really feel very strongly that the provision that we have passed must be changed, they have got the power to do it themselves. Why should we do it? I am sure the Government will not wreck the Bill on the ground that we do not accept the Law Member's amendment; because, as I said, they have ample powers to make any amendment they like. Under Section 27, I think, of the Regulation, they have got the power to do it. Therefore the Government will never wreck this Bill. I am emboldened to say that. They will not do it.

The issue has, therefore, to be decided purely on its merits. If the Law Member has brought in any new convincing arguments to make us change our decision, well and good; we can vote for the amendment. But, I have not found a single argument in his speech which would justify our changing our former decision. Nothing new has been said or done. I therefore hope that the House will vote down all these amendments and stick to its original stand.

Mr. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla 114): I support the amendment moved by the learned Law Member, and oppose the amendment moved by the honourable member Mr. Sambasiva Aiyar. In doing so I have three arguments in support of my position.

As it is, the provision now sought to be amended by the Law Member is inconsistent with Clause 19 of the Bill. That Clause contains very effective provisions to make the parties that appear before the Board, wherever such Boards are to be established, accept the decision of the Board. I am of the opinion that, if the Law Member's amendment is not accepted, there will be no obligation on the part of the parties to accept the decision of the Board. That is one reason why we should accept the Law Member's amendment. If not nobody will be willing and prepared to face the Debt Conciliation Boards through which the main source of relief is sought to be conferred on the agricultural debtors in the State.

In the second place, Clause 34 of the Bill will be a dead letter so far as the period between the 1st Chingam 1105 up to the end of Kanni 1112 is concerned, unless the Law Member's present amendment is accepted. Under the law now in force, no creditor will be entitled to recover interest amounting to more than half of the principal. Now the interest due from 1108 Tuluam till the date on which this Bill becomes law will alone be taken into account for the purpose of finding out whether it amounts to half of the principal or more and for this period alone the interest at 12 per cent. will amount to one half of the principal. That is why I say that Clause 34 will be a dead letter. I find no necessity to keep in the Statute Book a provision which is in part a dead letter in its operation.

My third point is this. As a matter of fact most of our Joint Stock Banks are being run at present with the money deposited with them by others and such deposits carry interest at the rate ranging from 9 per cent to 12 per cent per annum. The banks are therefore debtors to the depositors so far as the total amount of deposit is concerned. The provisions of this Bill will not help the banks so long as they are made inapplicable to all except the agricultural debtors. They have to pay interest at 9 per cent. or more. On the other hand the parties to whom they have lent money will, under the provision now sought to be amended, be bound to pay them only at 6 per cent. even from 1-1-1105. Therefore, the whole of the banking business in the State will be paralysed if the present amendment of the Law Member is not accepted. I therefore support it. I fully endorse all grounds mentioned by the honourable Law Member in support of his motion.

MR. CHANGANACHERY K. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Kannattur cum Pattanamparam): As one of the movers of the amendment which is now sought to be cancelled or set aside, I wish to say a few words on this matter. At the very outset, let me say that I oppose both the amendments, the one proposed by the Law Member as well as the one by my friend Mr. Sambasiva Aiyar.

[Changanachery K. Pamune-varan Pillai.]

In my opinion, the Law Member has adopted a very curious, an extraordinary, procedure in coming to this House with this amendment asking this House to review a decision which it reached after due deliberation. To me it appears, Sir, that, that attitude on the part of the Law Member, is based on one of two assumptions, namely, either that the House does not reflect public opinion properly or that the Bill was rushed through hastily. I contend that neither of these assumptions is justified.

Assuming for a moment, that both these assumptions are justified, what is the proper procedure to be adopted? One can understand the present course of action if, as it was till recently, our Legislature consisted of only one Chamber. But now, fortunately, we have two Houses. There is the Upper House to correct the errors, if any, of this House.

Even for a review, Sir, there must be some new argument or fact which had been lost sight of on the former occasion. I ask, has the Law Member been able to place before the House a single new argument or fact. So far as I could see, there was nothing but a reiteration of his stock arguments.

Even at the start, the Law Member began with contradictory statements. He said that the provision involved refunding of interest already paid and was therefore unfair and unjust. When he said this one member interjected that the provision did not contemplate any such thing. Immediately the Law Member turned round and argued that, that was still more unjust since that would involve the penalising of the debtor who had been paying promptly, and rewarding the debtor who had been unpunctual or had been dishonestly evading payment. These positions are inconsistent. I submit again that to say that non-payment of interest is in all cases due to dishonesty or a desire to evade payment is hardly true or just to the debtor. I do not deny that there may be such cases also. But that cannot be said to be the rule. Generally speaking it is sheer inability and not unwillingness or dishonesty that is the cause of non-payment.

The next argument of the Law Member is, that the Clause is expropriatory. This argument was dwelt upon by him for more than half an hour on the last occasion. The only change in the argument on this occasion was that he did not qualify it with the words 'unrepentant' and 'unabashed' as he did on the former occasion. It appears to me that this word 'expropriation' has been used in order to overawe the members of this House. This is an expression which can be understood only by lawyers. As most of the members of this House are not lawyers, probably the Law Member thinks that by using this word, which cannot even be easily pronounced, he can overawe the members of this House. Now, Sir, speaking of expropriation, I should say that every Section in this legislation is expropriatory in one sense. Conciliation itself involves a very large amount of expropriation. It may be said that conciliation is voluntary and is effected with the consent of the creditor. But it has to be remembered that the Conciliation Board has the power of giving a certificate in case of disagreement. If a certificate is given, then there are sanctions provided in the Bill against recalcitrant creditors. The court can refuse to decree costs to such creditors and also reduce the rate of interest to 4 per cent. from 1105 to the date of the decree. Therefore it is compulsory expropriation. Adding one more piece of expropriation, to the several cases allowed by the Law Member, will not I think, do much harm. But I do not think that it is expropriation. We are not taking away anything from people who have morally earned it. Sir, we are not here to administer law. We are here to legislate. We are therefore entitled to consider whether a debtor who fails to obtain sufficient profits out of the investments he makes, so as to enable him to pay more than six per cent. interest is not entitled to claim a reduction in the rate. If the investment does not bring insufficient profits, then I submit the money-lenders have not morally earned the interest. If they have not morally earned it, then there is nothing immoral in asking them to forego a part of the interest. It is then said that credit will be destroyed. This is also an argument which was repeated ad nauseam on the last occasion. Now, Sir, if the credit of the country is ever destroyed, it will not be on account of this provision which relates to past interest only, but to the other provision which has already received the blessing of the Law Member and this House, viz., that future interest shall only be chargeable at 6 per cent. What is it that has been provided for, in respect of past interest from 1105? All that has been said is that the Legislature might interfere and reduce the rate of interest, to 6 per cent. in respect of past debt. The amendment does not involve future transactions at all. On the other hand, the Section as it stands says that, so far as interest from the date of commencement of this Regulation and for three years subsequent to that is concerned, no interest shall be levied at a rate higher than six per cent. That is the provision which, if at all, affects the credit of the country because that relates to future transactions. But the present provision will only relate to past interest which cannot in any way affect the future credit of the country.

Again the people who are affected by this legislation put forward the interest of the opposite side and not their own as the reason for the amendment. They are more anxious to safeguard the credit of the agriculturist than their own selfish interest. This is sheer hypocrisy. The other day, at a meeting of the Educational Advisory Committee, we heard a similar argument. The question was whether fee concession should be allowed to those depressed class pupils who have failed in an examination. It was contended, not in the interests of the Government exchequer but in the interests of the depressed classes themselves, that that this concession should not be allowed as that would encourage idle men among the pupils. I think that that is an argument which is not likely to be accepted by any reasonable people.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Premadura—Rural): May I know from the member whether that argument in the Educational Advisory Board succeeded or not?

MR. CHANGANACHERY K. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Kunna'ur cum Pattanamparam): Yes. That is the trouble.

It is said that capital ists will leave the country and the agriculturists will suffer for want of capital. In Bhavanagar and other countries money-lenders are a professional class who can easily migrate from one country to another. Can we say the same thing of our country? It has been stated, over and over again, by the Law Member himself that the creditors in this country are not professional money-lenders, but agriculturists. The majority of the creditors are agriculturists themselves who have some spare money to lend to neighbouring agriculturists. If that is so, what are the agriculturist money-lenders going to do with their money? Are they going to migrate to the neighbouring British Districts? They are usually shy of investing money in property in their neighbouring village. Is it likely then that they would migrate to Madras or Tinnevely with the small amount of capital at their disposal? I do not think that this argument about loss of credit has any force at all.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkas Vakil): One question. Should not a distinction be made between an agriculturist who is able to pay his debts and another who is unable to pay his debts?

MR. CHANGANACHERY K. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Ammattar cum Pattanamparam): No. It is not expedient. The expression that "a man is able to pay his debt" is a very vague one. It may be that a man may have sufficient property by selling which he will be able to pay his debts. But I ask the question why should he be thus compelled to sell his property. If the relief is necessitated by circumstances which are not in his control, he is just as much entitled to relief as any other person.

Again it has been said, relief was given in other countries. because usury existed in those countries. Usury is a comparative term. What is usury in one country may not be so in Travancore. In Travancore where the law prohibits the awarding of interest at a higher rate than 13 per cent. it would be usury to claim anything more. But in British India and other states it may be different. There is no law in those countries restricting the rate of interest. But our agriculturists are very poor. So far as I have been able to study the conditions in this country, our agriculturists are very much poorer than in other countries. The standard of living is very much lower and in every way our condition is very much worse than the condition elsewhere. Therefore our agriculturists will not be able to pay as high a rate of interest as the people in other parts.

Another argument advanced by the learned Law Member was that the banks in many cases have taken deposits at a higher rate of interest and therefore they will lose that interest. This statement cannot be accepted without proof even though it comes from the Law Member. I challenge this statement and affirm that, to my knowledge, the banks have not been paying interest at a rate higher than 6 per cent. In some cases they have been only paying even less.

Even assuming that the bankers have paid interest or dividend at a higher rate than 6 per cent., I may say that the Banking Enquiry Committee as well as the Agricultural Debt Redemption Committee, after careful enquiry, have come to the conclusion that the money-lenders have been receiving a higher rate of interest, 25 to 30 per cent., and even 50 per cent. in some cases, during the years of prosperity. We are now asking them only to disgorge a small portion of the illegal gains which they made during years of prosperity to save the poor agriculturists from ruin during this period of depression and low prices. This is but justice.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I ask the member whether it is only such persons who have received 30 per cent. interest are now asked to disgorge interest?

MR. CHANGANACHERY K. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Kunnattur cum Pattanamparam): Yes.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Does not this statement require proof?

MR. CHANGANACHERY K. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Kunnattur cum Pattanamparam): Yes. I have already referred to the Report of the Banking Enquiry Committee in proof of this statement. I have quoted the relevant passage from the report in my speech on the last occasion and I would refer the Law Member to that. The Enquiry Committee have unhesitatingly come to the conclusion after due enquiry and after taking evidence that the interest which these money lenders and bankers have received, has come to even 50 per cent. at times.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know whether it is the case with all the bankers or with some bankers that the report refers to?

MR. CHANGANACHERY K. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Kunnattur cum Pattanamparam): It is so generally. The member may refer to the Report.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I ask one question?

PRESIDENT: Instead of allowing such questions to be asked, is it not far better to allow the speaker to finish his remarks?

MR. CHANGANACHERY K. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Kunnattur cum Pattanamparam): These are the arguments of the Law Member, in support of the amendment which he proposes to move, and I have dealt with them. I have submitted that none of them is new to this House. The only new fact urged in support of this amendment, not in this House but outside, is that prices of agricultural products have improved. That is a statement made before the Dewan by the members of the deputation who waited on him to represent the cause of the bankers and money-lenders. They say that the prices of coconut and rubber have improved and there is no need therefore to give further relief to agriculturists. With regard to rubber what I have to say is that this argument is entirely irrelevant so far as the present amendment is concerned. We are not now dealing with the ability of the agriculturists to pay higher rate of interest to-day or in future. Nobody can deny the fact that the years between 1105 and 1110 were years of depression, during which the prices of agricultural products were admittedly very low. It is at that time great difficulty was felt by the agriculturists for payment of interest. The improvement in prices to-day does not enable the agriculturists to pay a high rate of interest in the past. Now let us examine the argument on its merits. It is true that, in regard to coconuts, the prices have registered a slight increase but this improvement has not benefited the coconut planters because owing to bad seasons and the inability of the agriculturists to manure coconut trees, the yield from coconut gardens have fallen by more than 50 per cent. In proof of this, I would invite the attention of the house to a few sentences from the address delivered by Mr. Pollard as Chairman of the Annual General Meeting of the Travancore Chamber of Commerce held in December 1935. He says -

"Doubtless the prices of coconuts have registered a marked improvement this year, but owing to unfavourable seasons and the inability of the coconut cultivator to give greater attention to the palms the yield has diminished considerably which is soon reflected in the fall in the exports of copra and coconut oil. If, with the prices, production also had improved, the cultivator would have been benefited. That unfortunately is not the case. Give below the figures for exports of coconut oil.

|       | 1934/35 | 1935/36 | Decrease per cent. |
| Gwts. | 366,768 | 153,804 | 58.1               |

By the improvement in the prices of rubber, to some extent, the rubber planters have been benefited. There again, I cannot say, that they have been benefited to the same extent as is ordinarily supposed. To appreciate this statement, it is necessary to understand the nature of the restriction scheme. Under this, each producing country is allowed an exportable quota which is generally a certain percentage of the production in that country. The total production is estimated by an expert body and what is known as basic quota is fixed for each country and the percentage allowed to be exported is called the exportable quota. For the latter, a license is issued by the Committee, and rubber can be exported only under this license. The basic quota was determined on the basis of such accounts. The native planters unfortunately had no audited accounts. The determination of the quota in their case was made by an officer and he fixed it actually at 50 per cent of the yield. It was only a rough calculation. We are not therefore able to export more than 25 per cent of our actual production. Again 60 per cent of rubber plantation belong to the Europeans and the rest only to non-Europeans. That is the position of rubber. This is the only new fact alleged by the bankers in support of the amendment under consideration. There is absolutely no justification, therefore, in asking this Assembly, to reconsider its decision that was arrived at after due deliberation. With these words I oppose the amendment moved by the Law Member.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruralla III): Have not the Agricultural Debt Redemption Committee recommended a preferential treatment being granted in regard to rubber?

PRESIDENT: I disallow that question.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Urban): The House has been listening to a good deal of eloquence on both sides in respect of this amendment. My friend, Mr. Kunjukurishna Pillai told the House not to be influenced by considerations of what the Government might do with regard to this Bill. I am glad, Sir, that he said so; but for a different reason. I consider the possibility of Government doing this or that, entirely irrelevant to our discussion on this matter before the House, so that I do not take into consideration the fact that Government is going to do anything at all against what we are attempting to do. (Hear, hear) What the Government will do later on, is a point that should concern ourselves only if any discussion becomes necessary hereafter, a contingency which I for one do not apprehend.

I may assure my friend who made an appeal to the heart that I am talking on this motion in entire possession of my heart, but a heart controlled by the head. There is absolutely no necessity why a man should brave such a volume of public opinion unless he feels that it is his duty to put before the House certain aspects which occur to his mind. Now, Sir, guided by that sense of sacred responsibility, I am proceeding to offer a few remarks.

My friend, Mr. Changanachery Paramesvaran Pillai, asked the House why we should review a decision which has already been passed. My argument is this. There are two reasons, and according to me, two important reasons. I claim that I am not a "hair-splitting and pettifogging lawyer". As a lawyer but without forgetting economics, politics and such like things I have learned, and only taking a relevant view of the principles of economics as a lawyer, I am saying this. It is not fair to say that all lawyers are hair-splitting and pettifogging. Sir, I claim that the greatest statesmen all over the country were often lawyers.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): May I know whether the member opposes or supports the amendment?

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Urban): I am very sorry that my friend Mr. Pacode A. Narayana Pillai, who certainly knows things very well, is not in a position to understand this simple matter. Is it the position that I should categorically say that I support or oppose the motion? I may tell him that in order to help the play of his intelligence on this question that I am supporting the amendment.

Two reasons I wish to detail. Mr. T. P. Velayudhan Pillai, who made a very short speech, one which was impressive and convincing in its brevity. Some time ago, this House had to throw out a measure because a Bill which was passed in 1111 had the year 1110 in the title. Let us keep that and the reasons for that in our minds. The year 1105 is an important epoch in the history of this Bill. I understand the argument of Mr. Velayudhan Pillai to be this. If a certain sum of money is invested at interest, the interest in 50 months at 12 per cent, will amount to half the principal. According to the Clause of the Bill with which we are now concerned it is only 6% maximum which can be given. So if a person contracted a debt in 1104, by 1108 the interest will so accrue that it would amount to half the principal. According to the law, as now incorporated, in the Civil Procedure Code, a court will allow interest amounting only to half of the principal.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Trivandrum): Is the hon'ble member aware that parties, in order to avoid this law of interest accumulating to half the principal, very often renew their contract and start with a fresh contract?

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): That is a point I am prepared to answer. That makes my position stronger for, if interest is calculated and every year a renewal is effected and we are asked to go back upon those documents, that will mean the loss of the rights of property. While we are helping them only with regard to the interest for a certain period, say for four years, we take the credit for giving that protection for a longer period. That is wrong. That is neither straight nor honest. We are a responsible body and we should not proclaim things which have no substance.

The second reason is also equally important, and still more important, because it was Mr. Changanachery Paramesvaran Pillai who proposed this amendment on the last occasion. If it were any other member, probably I would not have emphasised it to the degree that I am going to do.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittila): May I know why?

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): If I am to give my opinion on this point at every stage.....

PRESIDENT: The hon'ble member will continue.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittila): Sir, I rise to a point of order. The member has been paying compliments and appreciation in such a high measure.

PRESIDENT: Paying of compliments is not a point of order.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): Without answering that question, permit me to say, that I am prepared to make this statement that the amendment which was passed in the last session was moved by one who has got considerable knowledge of the country, one who has got considerable judicial experience as a Judge, and that after having bestowed considerable thought to all aspects, in this responsible Assembly, he had moved this amendment.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I correct the member? This amendment was moved by me.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): I do not mean any disrespect to anybody. But the records will show that Mr. Changanachery Paramesvaran Pillai's name was in the agenda as the mover of the amendment.

PRESIDENT: The hon'ble member will go on with discussing the amendment.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): I am concerned with the present amendment only. I am very thankful to the Chair. On page 172 of the Report of the Agricultural Debt Redemption Committee it is said:—

“The evidence of disinterested witnesses like Messrs. Changanachery Paramesvaran Pillai, M. A. and M. L., K. G. Seshu Aiyar, M. A. and M. L., retired High Court Judges and Mr. Pattam A. Thann Pillai, M. A. and M. L., High Court Vakil shows that the object of legislation should be to exclude relief to the imprudent debtors and grant relief, if any, to debtors incurred purely for purposes of cultivation as distinguished from capital and speculative investments—”

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know whether...

PRESIDENT: I must say that interpellations should be avoided unless they arise by way of correction of an obvious mistake or anything like that.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, I was going to ask whether a member who changes his opinion from the last session to this session can question the right of other members to change their views.

PRESIDENT: That question is a psychological problem and not really a point of order nor is it a legitimate criticism of the hon'ble member who is now on his legs.

The hon'ble member will proceed.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): I had to deeply ponder over this subject because a review is always a difficult process. But discovery of new and important matter is very important so far as the credit of a country is concerned. I am prepared to accept the position that, like other people, I may change my opinion as more light is brought to bear upon these questions. Therefore anybody who changes his opinion on proper grounds must deserve congratulations. (Hear, hear). I am at the amendment, Sir. The agriculturist requires protection. He has been always unfortunate in the history of the world. Even if he clears his debt one year he is obliged to borrow next year. I was saying that the agriculturists must always depend upon the facilities for getting credit. The root ideas of credit were analysed by Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai. Credit, I take it, is to enable persons to borrow at reasonable rate of interest. And unless the creditor feels that there is no extra-hazardous risk and unless the money is secured properly, he will not advance it as a loan. There is one other extract which I would like to quote. That Travancore is a poor country, is a position which I accept. That the Travancore agriculturists require help is a contention to which I will whole-heartedly subscribe. But in order that they may get money, in order that credit may be available to them for cultivating their lands, I say that persons who deny.....

Mr. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know the document the member is referring to?

SADASIYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum Urban): It is from the Travancore Banking Enquiry Committee Report. On page 54 paragraph 68, it is stated:

|                               | Number of loans. | AmountRs.      |
|-------------------------------|------------------|--------------------|
| Joint Stock Bank              | ...              | 2,467 15,63,994    |
| Co-operative societies        | ...              | 1,709 5,60,178     |
| Money-lenders                 | ...              | 50,986 1,52,71,138 |
| Government Agricultural loans | 280              | 1,50,015           |

It is a patent fact that every agriculturist is a lender and also a borrower. There are banks functioning well. Mr. Kamath raised an important point. Travancore is not an isolated plot of land. Now, on account of the facilities afforded people can come and invest their money here. We can also go outside to invest our money. It is practically open to us to take advantage of every thing that goes on in the outside world. When the Government were obliged to borrow, outsiders lent money. Now we should not create the impression to the outside world that our security is in a haphazard condition. People in Alleppey, Cochin, Nagercoil and other places cannot get on. They cannot get on with their agriculture unless they borrow money on reasonable terms. While I maintain that the agriculturist is entitled to help, I do maintain that distribution is as important as production. I do not want to take more of the time of the Assembly by quoting passages. Even the Agricultural Debt Redemption Committee has arrived at the conclusion that the traders are as much indebted as the agriculturists. If it was a general law that all debtors should get relief, the position would have been different. I take the view that the help that the agriculturists require is not such help as is now intended to be given to them. That would not only prevent borrowing but will also help dishonesty and fraud. If there is a bad creditor and a helpless debtor, what will be done is to make him renew the agreement. A prudent creditor, on the other hand, will keep quiet for a time. He will allow the interest to accumulate and then, all of a sudden, file a suit and get a decree for the whole amount. Therefore to say that a good creditor, a bad creditor, a prudent creditor all these people should be treated similarly is not quite fair. In the light of the fact which I afforded in the beginning with particular reference to the arguments of Mr. T. P. Velayudhan Pillai and with reference also to the fact given by the reports of expert committees, I have no hesitation in saying that the very scheme and frame work of the legislation will be disturbed. If all are treated in the same manner, why should anybody go to a Conciliation Board.

The agriculturist is entitled to get the relief he wants by the provisions in the Bill. So in the larger interest of our reputation and the security of the State, especially in economic matters, I am justified in supporting the amendment.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Sir, in supporting the amendment, I may say that Mr. T. K. Velu Pillai has given me the lead in changing my opinion. Mr. T. K. Velu Pillai has expounded the theory that the sanctity of contract can never be securely kept. In the civilised countries of Europe almost all the Nations have violated the sanctity of contract and treaties.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Tiruvallur-Urban): I certainly maintain even to-day that there is no security in the sanctity of contract.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Sir, I am a young man who has come to the Assembly for the first time and naturally I was carried away by the precious arguments of our Deputy President. I find it difficult to make up my mind one way or other on a matter on which seniors like Mr. Changanachery and Mr. Velu Pillai changed views so often.

PRESIDENT: Elaborate explanations for changing one's mind are not needed. Has the honourable member finished?

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Sir, I have not got anything more to say (laughter).

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): Sir, I rise to oppose the amendment. I look at this question firstly as an agriculturist, secondly as a villager, and lastly as a Travancorean. Sir, this question has been threshed out at the time of the second reading of the Bill. Deliberately we came to the conclusion that retrospective effect should be given in the calculation of interest and that it should be incorporated in the Bill. Now after hearing the arguments of the learned Law Member I am not the least inclined to change my position which I adopted and as one who moved for such an amendment in the Bill before us I still maintain my position. Sir, much had been talked on the sanctity of contract and such other things. We read and we know how contracts and agreements are treated in western countries from where we have more or less studied our principles of law. May I remind the Law Member that he has got a Bill, viz., the Rubber Control Bill which is likely to come up for second reading in this House? What sort of a law is the Rubber Restriction Law? Sir, every proprietor has a right to cultivate anything he likes in his land. Has he that freedom under that law? Except my friend Mr. S. J. Nair, all honourable members of the select committee have strongly recommended the adoption of the Bill without the alteration of a single letter. So what I say is, when emergent requirement necessitates changing or adopting laws which are against common jurisprudence, it is the duty of the Legislature to accept those changes. Is it fair for the Legislature to say that a particular law is expropriatory at one time and to say that the same is not expropriatory at another time? Is it just for the Legislature to accept one opinion at a time and after a few minutes to say just against that opinion? Another point I like to bring to the notice of the House is that the argument advanced by the learned Law Member for deleting the provision in the Bill relating to the reduction of the rate of interest from 1105 will apply equally to the provision respecting the rate of future interest. If the principle advanced by the Law Member for deleting the portion relating to past interest is accepted, they are equally valid for deleting the provision relating to future interest. So, if the learned Law Member can incorporate a provision for reducing the future interest, equally on that very same ground, the reduction of interest from 1105 is acceptable. Sir, this extraordinary measure is dependant on extraordinary circumstances. Ordinary rules of jurisprudence, ordinary laws of contract, are not generally to be applied in cases like this. It is admitted on all hands that Travancore is an agricultural country. More than 80 per cent of the population are agriculturists. And now this majority of the population are in need of substantial help. I ask this House what substantial help is going to be rendered to them but for this small item of concession in this Bill. This Bill is not worth its name, viz., the Travancore Agriculturists' Relief Bill, if this amendment is adopted in it (Hear, hear). So I appeal to the House to throw out the amendment.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Travancore): I was anxiously following the arguments advanced by the learned Law Member when he moved this amendment to take away what has been done with regard to this matter during the second reading of the Bill. Sir, I thought I could get some fresh light justifying a change of position with regard to this matter. But I am sorry to tell you that I do not find anything in the speech of the learned Law Member which would influence the members on this side of the House to take a different view from what we took during the second reading stage. Sir, with regard to the arguments advanced in support of the amendment they have all been categorically answered by Mr. Changanachery Paramesvaran Pillai. I don't propose to cover the same ground except to touch upon one or two points. I am quite prepared to give credit to the forensic ability of the learned Law Member, but I am rather chary in giving credit to the Law Member for his knowledge of economics. The stock arguments which the learned Law Member advanced during the second reading stage as well as in the course of his speech to-day are that this is an expropriatory provision. The honourable member Mr. Changanachery Paramesvaran Pillai justified this by admitting that the provision is a bit expropriatory. I wish to say that there is absolutely no expropriation so far as this provision is concerned. Expropriation implies existence of some vested right of property. I ask honourable members of this House whether there is any property in accumulated interest. Sir, every student of economics knows that interest is only unearned increment just like the income which a rich Zemindar gets from his extensive lands by the labour of his toiling tenants. Interest is earned not by the sweat of brow.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): May I know from the member whether that definition is correct?

PRESIDENT: Questions of political economy raised by Mr. Narayana Pillai need not be discussed.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): May I know whether the honourable member can quote one economist in support of his view?

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): I may submit that I studied a bit of economies at the feet of my revered professor, none other than, Mr. C. V. Chandrasekharan (Laughter).

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Sir, I disclaim entire responsibility for this.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): My learned professor might have changed his view as the others are doing now. My position is this. I am sure that there is absolutely no question of expropriation so far as this Clause is concerned. Many eminent judges have held that the agreement to pay the interest is only subject to certain conditions prevailing at the time of the contract. When those conditions cease to exist, the parties are at liberty to take a different view altogether. That is the right view with regard to the sanctity of contract, with regard to expropriation and all those things that courts of law take. If the courts release parties from contracts solemnly entered into by them on such grounds, I ask the honourable members of this House where is the difficulty for a Legislature which is to lay down the law. The courts are to administer law. Where is the difficulty for a solemn Legislature to pass a measure, wherever the conditions prevailing require such ameliorative measures? So the argument of expropriation goes. My honourable friend, Mr. Changanachery Paramesvaran Pillai, was referring to the practice of certain class of money-lenders in Travancore realising very exorbitant rate of interest. The correctness of the statement was questioned. I have got in my hands the report of the Banking Enquiry Committee in Travancore. In paragraph 67 this is what they say:

"Except from Government and Co-operative Societies the conditions of borrowing are adverse to the ryots and in some cases even ruinous. Agricultural loans are issued at the rate of 6 per cent per annum and the Co-operative Societies lend at 10½ per cent. The Joint Stock Companies start from 12 to 15 per cent. The professional money-lenders however start with high rates of interest ranging from 18 to 50 per cent. In Nadjinal the ryots are inconvenienced by the private money-lenders who charge up to 75 per cent."

This is the recorded opinion of an expert committee. It has recorded the evidence from persons representing different interests.

MR. P. CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI (Commerce and Industry, South): May I know in what year the report was published.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): I do not exactly remember the year. I believe it was some 5 or 6 years since the report was published.

[Mr. Paeode A. Narayana Pillai.]

Sir, that is the view of the Banking Enquiry Committee that went into this question some years ago. In the face of this opinion it is idle to contend that there is no case for the reduction of interest so far as agricultural debts are concerned.

Sir, another point that I would wish to bring to the notice of the honourable members of this House is this. This is not the first time that the Legislature intervened in order to give the needed relief to the agricultural debtor. The question of the rate of interest charged on loans engaged the attention of the Travancore Legislature some hundred years ago. It was the only kind of legislation that we had in those days. I refer back to 1010 A. D. When the condition of the agriculturists was distressing, the Legislature stepped in since exorbitant rates of interests were being charged and levied by creditors. The then Legislature was not such a popular body as we have now. To-day we have got sufficient popular element in our Assembly. In those days they had their own procedure. We are bound by those laws and those laws are still in force. Sir, it is idle to contend, as I submitted a little while ago, that the Legislature has no power to interfere with this question of interest. Sir, with regard to the reduction of interest, it has been admitted by both the supporters and the opponents that relief is absolutely necessary and that relief ought to be given. Then, the only question is from what period this reduction should be made applicable. Sir, the amendment that was carried out on the floor of this House during the second reading stated that since there was an unprecedented fall of commodity prices from the beginning of the year 1105, it was an equitable relief that that should be the period during which this reduction of interest should operate. This is the raison-de-être of this new change. Sir, with regard to giving retrospective effect to such reduction, this is not a novel thing. I refer to Section 30 of the United Provinces Agriculturalists' Relief Act that was passed in the year 1934. Section 30 of that Act gives this reduction of interest retrospective effect from the 1st January 1930. In the United Provinces the reduction is made applicable and it is to operate from 1st January 1930 though the law was actually passed in the Council in 1934. Even otherwise my submission is that this House has got ample powers.

Another misunderstanding that seems to be entertained by some people is this, that this is a piece of class legislation. Sir, this is far from the truth. It is not class legislation. Of course, all that proceeds from the assumption that we have got in Travancore two water-tight-compartments, a creditor class and a debtor class. I submit that there is no such thing as many of the supporters of the amendment themselves admitted that in Travancore every person is at the same time a creditor as well as debtor. So, who are the creditors to whom these agriculturists owe money? They are none other than the agriculturists themselves. We have two classes of agriculturists in Travancore, one with money ready in their hands to lend out and the other without ready cash who want to rely upon their neighbours, the moneyed agriculturists, for their agricultural operations. So, by passing a measure like this, we are not discriminating, we are not legislating against one class or in favour of the other. The general benefit that will accrue from these salutary measures will be advantageous to all people, irrespective of their being debtors or creditors. So, Sir, the argument that this will work hardship on one class of people cannot hold good.

Again, there is another misconception that seems to be entertained by the learned Law Member. According to the economists what is the function of money? Money pre-eminently is only a medium of exchange. It is not property. In order to stabilise currency and in order to bring about a sort of economic equilibrium, we find that the State intervenes. Witness, Sir, the various National Recovery Acts passed by President Roosevelt of America, the farm mortgages introduced by him in order to help the agriculturists out of difficulty. In recent times, we have heard so much about the devaluation schemes in several countries. What is the object? It is to stabilise the currency. So, when there is no normal relationship between commodity and the medium of exchange that is money—when this is disturbed, the State intervenes. Sir, this measure, with this provision, is intended to restore the economic equilibrium, which has been sorely upset by the economic depression prevailing in the last six or seven years. Sir, on this ground I oppose the amendment. And before I conclude, I would refer to a passage. These are the noble words of our Gracious Highness the Maharaja contained in the memorable message sent to the members of this House on the very inauguration of the new Legislature. Sir, I refer to Volume I of the Assembly proceedings, page 5. I simply refer to one sentence in His Gracious Highness's message:—

"I feel sure that the various interests represented by election and nomination, will realise that the world is passing through a critical period, that in Travancore as elsewhere politics are but a means to an end and that ..... and the general levelling of all standards....."

Mark these memorable words "the general levelling of all standards".

Sir, I appeal to the honourable members of this House to bear in mind the noble words of His Gracious Highness and see that this modest relief is given to the Travancore ryots.

MR. M. CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI (Commerce and Industry, South): Sir, I beg to support the amendment. Of course, Sir, I represent the Commerce and Industry Constituency. So many hard words were said about my constituency; I am not going to defend it. For that matter I am not aggrieved either, (Laughter) because words break no bones. But, Sir, attempt is now being made to drive out all commercial people from this State, and the question is being discussed on the floor of this House as to what should be done with these commercial people, whether to drown them in the Arabian Sea or to drive them out of the country, the so-called capitalists who are really poor. Sir, what I would say is that these people have got the life of a cat. Even if you drown them, they will go to Africa and thrive there. The only result will be that we would be left without help as Robinson Crusoe was left in olden days. This House must remember that Travancore owes its material prosperity to these commercial and industrial people. Let us not forget that. The 25 lakhs of acres of land now under cultivation in Travancore, we owe to these people whom we now condemn. Sir, I am also a debtor. I also sympathise with the people who have had on some occasions to enter into transactions with the people called creditors. But, that does not mean that we should forget the very simple fact that the prosperity of our country depends on our commerce and industries. It was stated that whatever be the hardship that we may impose on these people, they will not leave the country. That is a huge blunder. As a matter of fact the apprehensions caused by this Bill have already made two well-established banks leave Travancore and establish their business outside this State. Certainly we should not allow such a thing to happen. We should give all encouragements to our capitalists, to our merchants, to our financiers.

My submission is that Clause 34 of the Bill, as it now stands, is a very dangerous provision. The Law Member was very reasonable when he wanted to change it to what it was before it was amended at the second reading.

Further, as a matter of fact, this measure is more or less an economic experiment. In matters connected with economics, each one has got his own views and opinions. No two people have hitherto agreed on any economic question whatsoever. We are now going through a very exceptional period. The circumstances also are very exceptional. But that does not mean that we should go on taking leap after leap in the dark. For an extraordinary situation, one leap in the dark may be tried; that will quite suffice. But why two or three or more? Sir, I am reminded of a story which I have heard about what happened some forty years ago.

Plague broke out in Bombay or Poona. Even here efforts were made to prevent the disease entering Travancore. A Plague Hospital under a medical officer with minor qualifications, was established at Aramboly near Nagercoil, at the South Travancore frontier. The doctor waited for three or four months; he could not find a single case of plague. One day he found two coolies working in a paddy field near-by. They had swollen legs. The doctor immediately caught hold of them and wired to the authorities here that he had come across two plague patients and asked for instructions as to whether he could take them over or send them to Trivandrum. (Laughter) The authorities here wired back saying 'please do not send them here; keep them there'. But the doctor himself was afraid lest he should contract the disease. He locked up the patients in a room and made arrangements for their being fed with bread and milk. He went about saying that he could not do anything for them as they were untouchables. After one month the doctor was anxious to ascertain whether the two fellows were alive or not. He had the room opened and discovered that, with all the milk and bread that he had given them, they had grown stout and strong.

Sir, after all we are only trying an experiment. Therefore it is better that we proceed very slowly in this matter. If we are going to provide for the refunding of interest that has already been paid, surely, there would be absolutely no credit whatsoever in the country.

The learned Law Member put it very clearly indeed, and that was one of those points of his which were very convincing—that in this country every one was an agriculturist, and every one was also a non-agriculturist. Who is an agriculturist? Who is not an agriculturist? Who is a creditor; who is not a creditor? Who is a debtor; who is not a debtor? That is where the whole trouble starts. Sir, commercial credit is altogether different from the credit which the agriculturist usually commands. As a debtor, I would naturally be happy if I am told that I need not pay my debts at all. I would feel extremely glad. But the difficulty will be that we have got to keep things going only by means of credit. I cannot get along for twenty-four hours without having to go to somebody or other for a loan. Those who are engaged in political life know how the elections usually cost a lot of money. In one of the elections, I borrowed a large amount of money and spent it all on the election, and ultimately lost it also. (Laughter.) But when the money-lender comes and asks me his money back, can I tell him I have spent your money on an election which I have lost? (Laughter.) That will not be fair. I know I will have to stand for election again and may have to borrow money for that. The case of the businessman is not like that of the agriculturist who can say 'I do not want your money. I will quietly cultivate my land and live upon what I can get from it.' The business man cannot manage like that. If I have borrowed Rs. 1,000 at 12 per cent and if that debt is conciliated under this Bill to my advantage, naturally, when I approach the money-lender again for a loan, he will surely remind me of the old affair. I cannot say 'let us forget the past.'

The provision is therefore extremely injurious to the interests of trade, commerce and industries in the country. Anyhow, since we have mixed together trade also with agriculture, let us scale down the rate of interest; but let us not make any attempt to get back what has already been paid. That is a great hardship and will injuriously affect all the commercial interests in the country. I therefore appeal to the House to accept the amendment of the Law Member.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Sir, the last opportunity to speak a few words on the amendments now before the House has, so far as the non-official side is concerned, I fear, has devolved upon me because I do not find any one else eager to speak now. I would like to remind the honourable members of this House of their very serious responsibility in this matter. Scarcely four months have elapsed since this House, by an overwhelming majority, passed Clause 34 which is now sought to be amended. That Clause, as it is, has been the result of an amendment introduced at the second reading of this Bill. There was very heated debate at that stage. The learned Law Member himself made use of all his ingenuity and skill to see that the provision is retained as it was settled by the Select Committee. In spite of all that, it was decided to change it to what it is now. This House maintains that this was the minimum demand that the debtors would make, the minimum relief that they should get. Now, although only a few months have elapsed since then, the Law Member has come forward with an amendment asking us to go back upon our own decision. Every member of this House living at the responsibility to see that the decisions arrived at here after due deliberation, are maintained as such. It is the duty of every one of us to stand by the decision of the House. (Mr. K. Kupukrishnan Pillai: Heur, heur.) The opinion expressed by this House ought not to be flouted. Even now, Sir, we hear criticisms that this House is passing legislative enactments in an irresponsible manner. I am referring to the cry against the Improvements Valuation Bill. Now, if we go back upon our own decisions arrived at after due deliberation, we stand the risk of being attacked further that we did not feel our responsibility and that we did not realize fully the import of the provisions we enacted. If we are to be faithful to our own opinion, to our own decision, let us not allow this amendment to be passed.

Sir, a review lies when a new and important matter has been discovered. So far as I have been able to see and I have been able to hear from other honourable members, only two new and important things have occurred since the second reading of this Bill. One of them I discovered myself, viz., the re-election of President Roosevelt.

The second thing is that there was a deputation of capitalists waiting on the Dewan. These are the two important matters, which I have been able to discover, as having transpired in the meanwhile.

PRESIDENT: The election of the President of the United States of America is not a matter before the House.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Sir, these are the two important matters that I have been able to see. The first does not in any way weigh with us. The second does not, and need not, weigh with us because it was in the teeth of the opposition raised by these creditors that this House came to this decision. Apart from the deputation of the capitalists which waited on the Dewan and their agitation, I submit, that there was no new matter because of which this House should reconsider this Clause. We fully discussed this matter and came to this conclusion. (Mr. A. S. Damodaran Asan: question.) My learned friend Mr. Damodaran Asan questions that statement.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Vavilakara): On a point of personal explanation, Sir, I wish to say that I had no opportunity to speak on that occasion.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): No one was denied the right of speech.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Vavilakara): I was denied that right.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): I am very sorry, Sir, that he was denied that right. Anyhow that was not brought to the notice of the President.

As matters stand now, I feel convinced that every argument that might have been advanced was advanced, and every fact that could be placed was placed and considered by the House. Then where is the new point on which we are to come to a decision? As pointed out by Mr. Changanachery Paramesvaran Pillai, the learned Law Member placed at that time all arguments that he has now placed before us. The Law Member is always expected to bring forward amendments on behalf of Government. I am afraid, honourable members, when advancing arguments in support of the amendments, forget one thing, and that is the basic fact on which Government proceeded. That fact was that, long after the depression commenced, which, it is accepted on all hands, commenced in 1105, various representations were made to Government that agricultural indebtedness has become so heavy that it is impossible for agriculturists to live. The representation was that the burden had become unbearable and not that the burden would become unbearable after 1112. The Committee made the following statement:

"It is admitted on all hands that the interest had mostly remained unpaid."

It was this fact, Sir, that struck the Committee, and the honourable Law Member was also convinced of the fact. It was on the basis of this that the Committee made its recommendations. The point was that the accumulated arrears of interest had become unbearable. So they recommended that the interest might be reduced from 1105. It was not contemplated by any member of the Committee that the burden of the agriculturist will become unbearable from 1112 or for three years after 1112. That was not the position taken by the Committee. If that was the position of the Committee, I humbly submit that they would not have submitted this recommendation.

The Committee wanted to lighten the burden of interest which existed at the time the report was drafted and which continues to exist even to-day.

The Law Member advanced the argument that there are hundreds of dishonest debtors who do not want to pay interest. He asked, whether we are to legislate and protect them. I wonder where the learned Law Member had this information from. Is this an argument which will be accepted by the House which knows something about the position in the country? Is there a sufficient number of honest debtors who are unable to pay interest? I admit that there may be a few dishonest debtors who may be able to pay. This is the stock argument which

[Mr. Puthupalli S. Krishna Pillai.]

Government always advance against us. Some time ago when this House moved for a reduction of land tax the Government members said by way of objection that there are hundreds of persons who can pay and who do pay their tax, that there are several Government servants who get fat salaries and who will also get the benefit. We are not very much concerned if they also get the benefit. We always look to the interests of the majority of people. The Committee was of opinion that the majority of the people are unable to pay. If that is the opinion of the Committee, this House should be loath to attach importance to what the Law Member has said. If any dishonest debtor gets the benefit of it, let him have it. If the tax can conveniently distinguish the one from the other, let that be done. But there is no possibility of doing so. Let not one innocent man be convicted rather than allow one hundred guilty persons to go scot free. Here the position is more favourable to justice being done. Let one dishonest debtor be benefited, but let not hundred honest debtors go without substantial relief. Therefore, Sir, that argument of the Law Member does not carry much weight with us.

The next argument was that this legislation is expropriatory in its tendency. This argument was advanced on the former occasion also. I do not want to dilate upon that. I only want to point out one matter. He who condemns the principle of expropriation in legislation must condemn it entirely. Now, what is the idea contained in this amendment? Is it not expropriatory in effect? One defect in the existing Clause is that it is somewhat bald in its expropriatoriness. In this particular amendment, it is rather subdued. According to the amendment, interest shall not be charged on existing and future debts for the next three years at more than six per cent. I can understand the Law Member if he has brought forward an amendment to the effect that hereafter no one shall be entitled to claim more than six per cent. interest on loans that are taken after the Regulation. If that was the position I can understand. Now, half the expropriation which my learned friend condemns is already in it. It only relates to the other half and that is the expropriation of interest for the past seven years.

It was stated that all other Legislatures condemned this procedure. Sir, Section 12 of the Mysore Act says:

"The Court may at any time direct that the amount of any decrees passed, whether before or after this Regulation comes into force against an agriculturist, shall be paid in instalments with or without interest."

Now what does the Clause mean? It confers power upon the court in regard to decrees that have already been passed and that will be passed hereafter, to direct that the amount shall be paid in instalments without interest. What does it mean? Is that legislation expropriatory in effect?

There are similar provisions of a more comprehensive nature in other acts also. I shall refer to two such enactments which deal with expropriatory provisions. One is Section 31 of the Civil Procedure Code. My friend, Mr. Sambasiva Aiyar, while reading out that Section, referred only to two of the sub-sections. Till that Civil Procedure Code came into force, that is to say for about 90 years, the law was that, till the date of the institution of suit, whatever may be the time which has elapsed, only half the principal by way of interest could be recovered by the creditor. The accumulation of interest was limited to this even during the pendency of the litigation; whether it is one year or ten years it did not matter. Nothing more than aravasi till date of decree was the general rule. Another aravasi from date of decree till date of recovery and that only at 6%. Just consider what far reaching results were brought by the new Section 31 of the C. P. C. It enables accumulation of interest to twice or three times during the pendency of the litigation, even though the aravasi interest was reached before date of suit. This was so, not only with regard to future loans, but with regard to loans in existence about which suits were pending. The Section further provided that interest shall be calculated on the aggregate amount of all the debts at a rate not exceeding 9 per cent. This extraordinary provision was brought to favour the capitalists. What I ask therefore is, how the principle of expropriation was considered then. The present burden to some extent is a contribution made by that Section. What about the Jenmi Nidian Regulation. That came into force for the first time in 1071. On the basis of the provisions in that, every Jenmi entered into transactions with his tenants. Properties were demised on kannapattom on the agreement that the Jenmi shall have renewal every twelve years and a right to enhancement of raichavaram. Eviction and surrender were also possible. Thousands of kannapattom deeds came into existence on the above basis. The principle of expropriation was not stressed when the Jenmi Kudiyan Amendment Regulation was passed. Same was the case with the Chitty Regulation Amendment Bill. Under Section 52, every foreman was enabled to postpone chitties for a period of one year. Under Section 53 of that Regulation every honest man, who paid his share of the amount anticipating that he will get back his money, was denied that amount. Many more instances, where the principle of retrospection was upheld, could be quoted. What I am aiming at is to show that it is no new principle which appears to have been discovered especially in connection with the Debt Relief Bill. Every legislation contains retrospective provisions in one way or other. Unfortunately the amendment accepted by the House last time contains a retrospective Clause in all its nakedness. If the expression 1105 is deleted out of it, the theory of expropriation could not have been advanced with much force. We were honest in our amendment and that is the only mistake about it.

The Law Member stated that the Conciliation Board is the only salvation for the debtor. It was contended by him yesterday that they should be tried as experiments. He also said that we would be risking a good deal if we place too much reliance on the various provisions of the Relief Bill. The non-officials contended that, if that is so, the Board must be made available to all the debtors enabling them to present the case before that tribunal. We demanded that justice be done to all debtors. The Law Member said no. It could be given only in small doses according to him. To-day his arguments have entirely changed. He says that, now that the debtors have been given the Boards that they desire, nothing more could be given as it would offend the principle of retrospection and expropriation. Let us not twist our argument in this manner.

In conclusion my submission is that the Clause which is now sought to be deleted does not offend any legal principles so far as I can see. It completely offends the morals of the House in the sense that the House is now called upon to go back upon the decision once arrived at scarcely three months ago. It appears to me that this move is as a result of the agitation of the creditors and some newspaper criticisms read out by the Law Member. Those circumstances ought not to weigh with us now. What the Government are expected to do is to lighten the burden of the agriculturists that is recognised as heavy. That is not achieved by lightening the burden that will hereafter come into existence. It is his past burden that requires relief and that is what is embodied in the Committee's recommendation. With these words I oppose the amendment.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Clerk Vakil) Sir, I am afraid that although many speeches have been made in opposition to my amendment, the real point I urged has not been canvassed at all except by one or two. Even they did not try to meet my argument; there was only a mere denial. I agree with everybody in this House that every agriculturist who deserves relief should be helped, and I am prepared to give it. There is no need of any argument on that point; for, on that point there is no difference at all. What I urged was that Government ought not to extend relief to that agriculturist who is really able to pay his debts, it being admitted that he who is unable to pay up his debts requires relief. This was my point and no honourable member has met it. Mr. E. V. Krishna Pillai said that every debtor is unable to pay and Mr. Changanachery Paramesvaran Pillai said that every debtor must be given relief irrespective of his ability to pay up his debts. This is no doubt a reply, but does not represent the view expressed by the majority of the speakers who spoke on this motion. However, I shall deal with them. First in regard to what Mr. Changanachery Paramesvaran Pillai said. It will be interesting to recall what he said on a Debt Relief Proclamation. In 1935 a Royal Proclamation relieving the agriculturist debtors against execution for decree debts was issued. When the Assembly met after that, an adjournment motion was tabled to discuss it. The criticism then levelled against the Proclamation was that the Government did not discriminate between an agriculturist who was able to pay and one who was not able to pay his debts and that the Proclamation extended relief to both alike. This point was pressed by Mr. Changanachery Paramesvaran Pillai too, and in answer to a specific question from me he said that relief should be given only to deserving agriculturists who are unable to pay up their debts and that a distinction should be made between one who is able to pay and one who is unable to pay his debts. This may be seen from the debates of 23rd May 1935. That is exactly my position to-day. When Government take that position, then Mr. Changanachery Paramesvaran Pillai would dissent, even though it was his own view a few months ago. Everybody can change views. There can be no doubt about it. But it is surprising that on an identical subject-matter there should be such a volte face. He must have his own reasons for it. I will not dig into them. I will only throw his own words at his face and ask him to eat them if he dares do so. Then in regard to Mr. M. V. Krishna Pillai whose point was that every debtor is unable to pay. If that be so, I simply ask him, "Go to a Conciliation Board and prove it, and you will get reduction of interest ultimately". I do not deny relief to anybody. I am for giving relief to everybody, even to the planters as well. I am quite prepared to extend relief to the small debtor and to the big debtor provided he is not a rich debtor. By rich debtor I mean one who is really able to pay up his debts, one whose debts are well within the limits of his assets. The real question that I asked was, if a debtor be a rich debtor, why allow him a reduction of interest retrospectively. It is to that question that I wanted an answer.

PRESIDENT: The House will now adjourn to meet again to-morrow at 11 A. M.

The House adjourned at 4-47 P. M.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I have at least an approximate idea according to the rules?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): According to the rules it should not exceed 50.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): That is a surprise for me also, Sir. We have to consider the exigencies of accommodation.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I take it that the Director will please take immediate steps to rectify this evil?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Yes, Sir, steps are in progress.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know whether the member is aware that the school itself was built by the general public and handed over to the department?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I accept the honourable member's information.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know whether the member is aware that this is the only school for more than six kuras in the pukuthy?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): No, Sir.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know whether this shield is a permanent one or a rotating one?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): That has not been decided.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kulikulam I): May I know from the member whether the want of accommodation was brought to the notice of the Director?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Yes, it has been brought to my notice and action is being taken.

Acting Graduate Teachers.

42. *MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the names of the acting graduate teachers with more than seven years' acting service in the Education Department still acting in temporary vacancies;

(b) whether, in confirming acting teachers or in appointing them in permanent vacancies, the duration of the acting period and the date of first entertainment are taken into consideration; and

(c) whether any acting teacher with shorter service than those referred to in part (a) has been confirmed or appointed in permanent vacancies, and, if so, the reasons for the same?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction):

(a) Nil.

(b) No.

(c) This does not arise, in view of the answer to part (a).

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): With reference to answer to part (a) may I know the names of the acting graduate teachers with more than seven years' acting service and who are still acting in temporary vacancies?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): There are about 20 names.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): With reference to part (b) may I know whether there is any other standard adopted for the purpose of confirmation other than the date of first entertainment and the duration of the acting period?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): The fact is that by the application of several principles a seniority list has been prepared in the department. Appointments are made in permanent vacancies in accordance with the rank in the seniority list.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know whether in fixing the seniority list the date of first entertainment and the total acting service of the particular incumbent are considered.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I shall read to the member the rules regarding the preparation of the seniority list if that will satisfy him. The following principles have been followed with the approval of Government in the preparation of the seniority list:—

(1) Date of first appointment to the second grade;

(2) Date of first appointment as acting graduate teacher or date of graduation while in continuous service whichever is earlier;

(3) Graduates who have not substantive posts but who are acting in graduate scale and who hold permanent places on non-graduate scales, and so on. In accordance with these principles the seniority list has been prepared.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I wish to know whether when persons who have been entertained in the same grade with the same qualifications are to be confirmed the date of first entertainment is to prevail?

MR. C. V. CHANDARASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Yes, Sir.

The Kuripoor Tract.

43. *MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): With reference to question No. 42 at the Eighth Session of the Assembly, answered on the 29th July 1936, will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) why  $1\frac{1}{2}$  miles road alone out of  $3\frac{1}{2}$  miles distance been completed and the remaining 2 miles are left incomplete;

(b) whether the investigation for the completion of the remaining 2 miles that was said to be in progress was completed;

(c) if the answer to part (b) is in the affirmative, what is the amount of expenditure to execute the work; and

(d) if the answer to part (b) is in the negative, why delay is caused in completing the investigation?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): (a) This portion demanded preference as the people sought accommodation on both sides of it.

(b) Yes.

(c) About Rs. 5,400.

(d) This does not arise.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): With reference to answer to part (b) may I know when the investigation was completed?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I claim notice.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know from the Government why the work was not expedited after the investigation was over?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Due to shortage of funds.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know from the Government whether they intend executing the work at any time?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): That is a question of future action.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the construction of the bridge on that road has been completed?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): No.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, before my question was completed the Government member said "No."

PRESIDENT: The honourable member may repeat the question more slowly and wait for the answer.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the bridge that existed in the portion of one and a half miles that was completed has been removed from there?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): The bridge was of cocoanut post erected for the convenience of the coolies engaged in constructing the road. That bridge has decayed and fallen down. An estimate has now been sanctioned for the construction of a permanent bridge there.

Fee Concessions to Muslims.

44. *MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): Will the Government be pleased to state whether the Government or the Director of Public Instruction, has issued instructions to the effect that the new converts to Islam should not be given the fee concessions or other privileges enjoyed by Muslim students in general in the educational institutions in the State?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Yes.

MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): May I know at whose instance these instructions were issued?

PRESIDENT: Will the honourable member please raise his voice?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Instructions were issued by the Director of Public Instruction on the basis of the principle enunciated by the Government.

MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): May I know what were the reasons that compelled the Government to adopt this course?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): The underlying object of the fee concession scheme is to assist communities which are backward economically and educationally. It is not meant to give assistance to religious organisations in the work of proselytisation.

MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): May I know from the member whether similar instructions are issued in the case of converts to other communities also?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Yes, Sir, it applies to all conversions.

MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): May I know how many cases of new conversions to Islam seeking fee concession has been brought to the notice of the Director?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Remember two cases of Ezhava pupils who had become Muslims claiming concession.

MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): May I know whether that was the reason why this step was taken?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): The principle was enunciated more than ten years ago.

MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): Is the member aware that there is wide spread feeling of discontent in the Muslim community on account of this?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I am not aware.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): May I know on what consideration fee-concession is given? Is it with regard to the religion to which the applicant belonged previously or to the present religion?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): That is a very complicated matter. If Mr. Abdur Rahiman Sahib's suggestion is adopted the problem of Mr. Abdullah Ghandi, if he happened to be a student in Travancore, will be very difficult. For the purpose of fee concession the community to which the pupil originally belonged will alone be considered.

Posting of Vernacular School Teachers.

45. *MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): Will the Government be pleased to state whether they are aware that in spite of instructions from them that vernacular school teachers should be posted, as far as possible, in or near their native villages, a large number of them are not given the benefit of these instructions?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): The answer is in the negative.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): Am I to understand that almost all the vernacular school teachers are posted in their native places?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): There are grievances, but we do our best.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether instructions are issued to the effect that primary school teachers, as far as possible, should be posted in or near their native places?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): A circular to that effect has been issued by the Director.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether any complaint has been received by the Director saying that the teachers are not transferred to their native places?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): As I said there are complaints and grievances as there is such a large number of teachers. But we are trying our best to post primary school teachers to the localities to which they belong.

Mamam River.

16. *MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkeezh II): With reference to the Mamam river, will the Government be pleased to state whether there is a proposal to straighten or widen the course of the river from just below the Mamam bridge?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Yes.

Control of Traffic on main trunk roads.

47. *MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether they have recently constituted a committee for submitting to the Government the recommendations for controlling and regulating the traffic on the main trunk roads, etc;

(b) the members appointed to work on the said committee; and

(c) the object with which this committee has been constituted?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): (a), (b) and (c) A copy of a Press Communiqué published on the subject is placed on the table. It contains the information asked for by the member.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know from the Government whether there is any non-official member on the Board?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): No, Sir. It is a departmental committee.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know the reason why no non-official has been appointed?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): As I said, it is purely a departmental committee. Government considered the question of appointing non-officials, but they thought it was not necessary as it was only a departmental committee to advise the Government.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know the number and value of buses and lorries owned by private individuals which are now used for traffic on public roads?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): I claim notice.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know whether the Banking Enquiry Committee has recommended the constitution of such a Board?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): The member is right.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know the nature and the suggestions made by the Banking Enquiry Committee with regard to the constitution of the Board?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): The recommendations made by the Banking Enquiry Committee with regard to the Motor Transport Industry, whatever they be, will certainly be considered by this committee.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): My question is with regard to the nature of the recommendations with regard to the constitution of the Traffic Board.

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): I am afraid the member is labouring under a misapprehension. It is only a departmental committee to advise Government with regard to the measures for the co-ordination of transport. What the member refers to is the Transport Board for the regulation of traffic after the scheme is settled.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know what are the steps taken by the Government on the recommendations of the Banking Enquiry Committee with regard to the constitution of the Board?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): The member may view this as one of the steps in pursuance of that.

Cultivation of Tobacco in Travancore.

18. *MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether they have considered the question of allowing the people to start tobacco cultivation in the State; and

(b) the decision, if any, arrived at in the matter?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): (a) Yes.

(b) Draft rules for regulating the cultivation of tobacco in Travancore are under the consideration of Government.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know from the Government the extent of the loss of revenue under tobacco in 1110?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): I may confess that I don't understand what the honourable member means by loss.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): I mean the amount of decrease in revenue as compared to 1110?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): I refer the honourable member to the Administration Report supplied to him.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know from Government member whether he is now able to supply the figure?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): The information is supplied in the Administration Report for 1110 which I have not got with me now.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know from Government the reason for the decrease of a lakh and ninety-three thousand rupees under revenue from tobacco?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Consumption varies from year to year. The purchasing power of the people has declined very much owing to economic depression. Moreover, there are over so many factors which cause variation in the consumption of tobacco.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know from Government whether the fall was due to decrease in consumption as a result of a rise in the price of foreign tobacco?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): It was partly due to that cause also.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know from the member the reason for the rise in the price of foreign tobacco?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): It was reported that there was a failure of crop in Coimbatore, hence the price of tobacco rose higher.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): With regard to the answer to part (b) of the question, may I know whether Government have passed the final rules?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): The rules have not been finally passed. They are under consideration with Government.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know the date on which the draft rules were published in the Gazette?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): July 1935.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know the reason why the rules were not finally passed?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Sir, I submitted the draft rules to Government and the Government referred the rules to their law officers which resulted in some new proposals. The references between the law officers, the Government and the Excise Commissioner take time.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know whether the Government have ascertained the approximate extent of land suitable for tobacco cultivation?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): We have not ascertained the extent of land. But we know there is land suitable for tobacco cultivation.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know from the member whether he has ascertained the causes that have led to the fall in revenue?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Sir, I think, I have answered that question.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Sir, the Excise Commissioner has said that it was due to a number of causes. My question is whether the Excise Commissioner has ascertained the causes that has led to the fall in revenue?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Sir, the causes which I have mentioned were found out as a result of enquiry.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know from the member whether the number of smuggling cases detected is on the increase or decrease?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): They are on the increase. This is due to the economic depression. More people are taking to the smuggling of tobacco from Cochin to Travancore.

Collection of fees in Schools.

49. MR. K. M. KRISHNAN (Ambalapuzha II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether fees in Sirkar schools are being collected in British rupees, annas, pies or in Sirkar rupees, chackrams, cash;

(b) whether they are aware that, in any aided school in the State, fees are being collected in British rupees, annas, pies; and

(c) if the answer to part (b) is in the negative, will they be pleased to ascertain whether any aided school in the State is collecting school fees in British rupees, annas, pies?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction):

(a) Both.

(b) Yes.

(c) This does not arise in view of the answer to part (b).

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): May I know from Government whether school fees fixed for particular classes do vary in aided schools?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): The school fees fixed for departmental schools and the private schools follow the same rate. The private schools usually follow the same rate but in some cases long established practice or usage allows them to levy fees slightly different from the fixed rate.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): With regard to part (a) of the answer may I know from the member whether he refers to kind or amount?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I have answered the question with reference to coin.

Cattle Farms.

50. *MR. K. M. KRISHNAN (Ambalapuzha II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether there are any cattle farms in the State maintained by the Government; and

(b) if so, how many and where?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): (a) Yes.

(b) Only one. The Cattle Farm at Trivandrum.

MR. K. M. KRISHNAN (Ambalapuzha II): May I know the number of cattle kept in the Cattle Farm?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): There are 57 head of cattle of various breeds.

MR. K. M. KRISHNAN (Ambalapuzha II): When was the Cattle Farm started?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): About 24 years ago.

MR. A. EASWARA PILLAI (Kalkulam II): May I know whether the Cattle Farm is maintained for demonstration only?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): That is one of the objects.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): May I know whether the Cattle Farm exists as a Cattle Farm or a Dairy Farm?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): It exists as a Cattle Farm and as a Dairy Farm?

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Then what is the meaning in saying that it is a Cattle Farm?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): It serves also the purpose of a Cattle Farm.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): May I know from the member whether the Government make a distinction between a Cattle Farm and a Dairy Farm?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): They do make a distinction. Originally it was mainly a Cattle Farm, now it is run as a Dairy Farm.

The Minor Irrigation Department.

51. * MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Will the Government be pleased to state whether there is any proposal before the Government for abolishing the Minor Irrigation Department?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): No.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know whether Government are considering the question of revising the Minor Irrigation Rules on account of the impracticability of working the scheme?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Yes, Sir.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): How long since was it under the consideration of Government?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): When the Minor Irrigation Department was formed the Chief Engineer was told that he should send up proposals for amending the Minor Irrigation Regulation and the rules thereunder.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know whether Government are convinced of the impracticability and the uselessness of the department?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): No, Sir.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): What was the necessity of revising the rules?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The rules require revision. That does not mean that the department is useless.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Are the rules going to be revised thoroughly or only slightly amended?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The rules will be revised wherever necessary.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know from Government whether the Minor Irrigation Department is not functioning?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Yes, Sir, it is functioning.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know from the member whether he is aware that the work done by the department is not even equal to the pay that the several officers are drawing?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): It is a new department formed very recently. Investigations had to be made and estimates prepared by the department which took sometime and actual work will be turned out in a larger measure hereafter.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha I): May I know from Government whether they have received complaints from officers of the department to the effect that the rules make it difficult for the work to be carried out?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Government have not received any such complaint.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangudi): For whose benefit was the Minor Irrigation Department formed?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): It was formed for the benefit of the cultivators.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangudi): May I know why that department has not been brought under the Land Revenue Commissioner?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Government did not think it necessary to do so.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangudi): Are the Government aware that the department as constituted at present is not at all beneficial to the interest of the cultivators.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): No, Sir.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangudi): Will the Government look into the question that the department is functioning uselessly and it must be made to function so as to be of use to cultivators?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): There is no necessity to look into the question because the Government are not aware of the uselessness of the department.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangudi): Is there any objection in placing that department under the control of the Land Revenue Commissioner?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Legitimately this department must be under the Public Works Department and not under the Land Revenue Department.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether the department is to operate in a particular area of the State or throughout the State?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The department operates throughout the State except in South Travancore which is served by the Kodayar Project.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether there is any separate officer appointed to look to the minor irrigation works in the areas served by the Kodayar Project?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The officer in charge of Public Works is in charge of the Kodayar Project also.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether Government are aware that due to the want of a responsible officer to look exclusively to this work the ryots are put to difficulties?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I don't think that any serious hardship is being experienced by the ryots. There may be some complaints here and there.

Muslim Lady Graduate teacher.

52. MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether there is any Muslim lady graduate teacher in the Education Department at present; and

(b) what is her total service?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction):

(a) The answer is in the negative.

(b) This does not arise in view of the answer to part (a).

MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): May I know from Government whether there was a Muslim lady graduate teacher in the Education Department?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Yes, Sir.

MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): What is her total service?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I am not quite sure. I think a few months.

MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): May I know whether she was sent for the L. T. course with the understanding that she will be re-entertained?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Yes, Sir. The department is waiting for her passing the L. T. examination.

MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): Is there any rule that one must pass the L. T. examination to get a teacher's post in the department?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): No rule, Sir. She insisted on observing purdha. We sent her to the Lady Willingdon Training College in Madras on a stipend of Rs. 50 per mensem but she failed in the L. T. Examination.

MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): Is the member aware that she is the only Muslim lady graduate in the whole of Kerala?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Yes, Sir.

The Franchise Question

53. * MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether they had received representations from the public or public bodies to the effect that final orders on the franchise question should be passed only after giving an opportunity to the public to express their views on the Franchise Report; and

(b) if the answer to part (a) is in the affirmative, the action taken by them on the same?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) Yes.

(b) The Government did not think it necessary to publish the report.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know from Government whether they have taken any action on the representation made by the people and whether they have published their proposals with regard to that?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Government did not think it necessary to publish the report and invite public criticism. The representation was recorded.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know from Government the reasons which weighed with Government in not giving an opportunity to the public to be in the know of things?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): By taking into consideration all the circumstances Government thought that it was not necessary to publish the report.

Classification of roads for bus service.

54. * MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether there has been any classification of roads, according to the heavy and light bus traffic thereon, made by the P. W. D. or the Traffic Superintendent; and

(b) the date, nature and details of such classification, if any?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads Buildings and Irrigation): (a) Yes, by the P. W. D.

(b) (1) Date 1-9-1930. (2) The classification is made on the basis of maximum weight that can be permitted on a road. (3) As regards the details of classification, the member is referred to page 20 of the P. W. D. sheet of the Government Gazette dated 9-9-1930.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): Sir, before asking supplementary questions I wish to raise a point of order. In answer to part (b) it is stated "as regards the details of classification, the member is referred to page 20 of the P. W. D. sheet of the Government Gazette dated 9-9-1930 " Is it right on the part of the official member to refer another member to a document which he has not been supplied with?

PRESIDENT : The honourable member's question refers to the date, nature and details of such classification, if any. It is a course open to the head of the department to copy the P. W. D. sheet of the Government Gazette and to supply him with that. But as the honourable member is keenly interested on the subject, the official member knew that he would be in possession of all the information. So he referred him to the departmental sheet of the Gazette itself. Now what is the point of order?

Mr. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): Sir, is it in order for the official member to refer another member to a document that has not been supplied? I have no time to make any reference to that.

PRESIDENT : Order, order. Is it the honourable member's point that he cannot find the document at this time? Do you mean from that sent? Does the honourable member think that he cannot get this document sitting where he does, or that he has applied for it and did not get it? If that is so the matter is worth looking into.

Mr. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): I point out that I am unable to ask any supplementary questions with regard to the details of classification.

May I know from the Government whether one and one and a half ton buses are declared as heavy or light motor vehicles under the Rules?

Mr. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Sir, the buses are grouped as one and a half, one, three-fourth, and half ton buses and accommodate 24, 20, 16 and 9 persons respectively. Usually the one and a half ton bus is styled as heavy.

Mr. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): My question is whether, under the rules, the one and one and a half ton buses are declared heavy or light?

Mr. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I cannot say that we have declared any particular bus as heavy. We have not made any definite statement. Usually we speak of the half ton buses as light and the one and a half ton buses as heavy.

Mr. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know whether the Chief Engineer has in his letter, dated 13-5-1933 No. 750, permitted one ton bus plying from here in the Quilon-Alleppey road?

Mr. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I believe it may be so. I am not in possession of the letter now.

Mr. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know whether the Quilon-Alleppey road was declared fit for one and one and a half ton buses?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I believe at one time special permission was granted limiting the number of passengers to 16.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know whether the permits of one and a half ton buses on the Quilon-Alleppey roads have been subsequently withdrawn.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Yes.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know the reason for doing so?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): They were found too heavy for the road.

The Revenue Settlement Memorandum.

55. *MR. M. MAHOMED HANEEF (Nominated): Will the Government be pleased to state whether they have taken any action on the Revenue Settlement Memorandum submitted by the Special Officer Mr. N. Nilakanta Pillai, the retired Division Peishkar?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The Revenue Settlement Memorandum submitted by Mr. N. Nilakanta Pillai is under the consideration of Government.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know the date on which Mr. Nilakanta Pillai submitted his memorandum?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): In August 1934.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether the Government are contemplating a reconsideration of the Memorandum in the near future?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): It is under consideration.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): May I know whether Government have received any representation that the Settlement should be undertaken at once or within a short time?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): No, Sir.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankud): May I know whether Government will take this matter very urgently?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I have stated already that it is now under consideration and Government have not decided whether it is to be treated as urgent or not.

COMMUNIQUE.

The Government of Travancore are convinced that for the speedy recovery and growth of trade and as a condition precedent to agricultural and industrial prosperity, a reorganisation of the system of transport in the State is urgently called for. The improvement of the waterways, making full use of the natural facilities afforded by the backwaters and canals and the employment of motor tugs and motor boats for speeding up the conveyance of passengers and goods are a prime necessity and the cheapness of this system of transport is a great factor in its favour. In practically every part of the State that is not served by waterways and as a parallel development, a very widespread net-work of roads is in existence and all that is necessary is to ensure the safety and comfort and the business needs and personal convenience of the passengers by means of a well-designed and co-ordinated system of motor vehicles which will be run in the interests of the people and the commerce of the State.

While it is not the policy of the Government to fetter or stifle private enterprise, they are nevertheless of opinion that, following the example of many countries which have tried various systems, it is the duty as well as the right of the Government to take into its own hands the control and regulation of public conveyances along the main trunk roads and in other selected localities in the State and to improve and organise the waterborne traffic, provided that care is taken to avoid some of the disadvantages which are often present in the case of State management of such enterprises. Such a step will not only conduce to the advantage of the people but will, directly and indirectly, enable Government to deal with the problems of unemployment and industrialisation; firstly, by gradually bringing into existence a set of trained engineers, mechanics and artisans; secondly, by stimulating the growth of many industries and trades allied to motor engineering and motor body building and by helping in the utilisation of some of the products of the State including rubber, coir and many varieties of wood; thirdly, by introducing, in course of time, the railless electric trolley system which is proving to be one of the cheapest and most efficient means of transport organisation, whose potentialities may be gauged from the circumstance that Travancore imports about fifty lakhs worth of petrol every year; and finally, by helping in the creation, as a necessary sequel, of a Technological Institute which will serve not only the motor industry but other industries which are expected to come into existence in the State as soon as cheap power becomes available as a result of the Pallivasal Scheme.

With this end in view, the Government are pleased to constitute a departmental committee consisting of the Chief Engineer, the Electrical Engineer, the Director of Industries, the Police Commissioner, the Head Sirkar Vakil, the Additional Head Sirkar Vakil, the Financial Secretary and the Secretary to Government in the Development Department. The committee will start work as soon as possible and report by the end of the year on the scheme indicated above and the best means of initiating it with due regard to all the interests concerned.

LEGISLATIVE BUSINESS.

THE TRAVANCORE AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF BILL—(contd.).

Clause 34—(contd.).

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, when we rose last evening I was telling the House that the most important point to be considered in the determination of the question now before the House was whether Clause 34 as it is now in the Bill is not intended, or at any date does not operate, for the benefit only of the rich debtor. By the rich debtor I mean that debtor who is really able to pay the debts out of his assets. I do not treat the planter as a rich debtor merely because he is a planter. The point to be considered is whether there should be any provision which is intended merely for the benefit of the rich debtor. I do not object to any benefit being conferred on the rich man too provided that it does not result in unmerited disadvantage to another man. What the House has to decide is whether it is necessary to put in an expropriatory provision which is only for the protection of the rich debtor? When there is another provision, which operates to give this retrospective reduction in the case of a poor debtor I ask what is the purpose of this new provision in clause 34 unless it is to be for the benefit of the rich debtor only. It is worth considering why, while we have already a provision in Section 19 which can be availed of by the poor debtor, there should be a provision like Section 34 with retrospective effect.

MR. K. KUNJAKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know whether the Law Member's amendment itself makes any distinction between the rich debtor and the poor debtor?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): No, Sir, my amendment does not, for the simple reason that it touches only future interest which is sought to be limited to six per cent. As for the matter of that, we have the century old law which limits interest to 12 per cent and that does not make any distinction between the rich and poor debtor. My provision is analogous and would operate only for a future three years. And it is not expropriatory in any sense. The Clause as it now is in the Bill is intended for the rich debtor only. That is what I want to make out.

MR. K. C. ABRAHAM (Kottayam II): Does this provision apply to every person?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I am glad that Mr. Abraham is coming round to my point of view. When Section 19 is there and will enable the poor debtor to prove his inability and claim reduction of past interest exactly as Clause 34 contemplates, what is the purpose of Clause 34 unless it be to profit the man who is able to pay his debts.

MR. K. C. ABRAHAM (Kottayam II): Why not Section 34 be scraped altogether?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): That is exactly what I propose. I want to lay down another rule to operate for the future only.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): In view of the amendment to Clause 3 which has been passed whether facility is given to the Conciliation Board?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Yes. The real point is that the rich debtor is not prepared to face the Conciliation Boards.

MR. K. C. ABRAHAM (Kottayam II): Is there any large section of the agriculturists who are not prepared to go before the Conciliation Board?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): No, Sir, unless he is afraid of disclosing his assets. Sir, I have been pointing out too that this provision in Clause 34 is expropriatory. One honourable member cited a number of statutes to say that this is not expropriation. By expropriatory provision we really mean that the Law by itself, of its own, deprives a man of his property. Further, I am sure that the honourable member who quoted these statutes will note that wherever there was expropriation, there was also a compensation for it. Here I contend that there is not even a pretext, or a shadow of compensation.

Sir, it was argued that even conciliation is expropriation. No, it is not. It is perfectly voluntary and by conciliation, the legislature is not taking away any property from the person who holds it. The property will be lost to him only when he agrees to the conciliation.

Sir, reference was made to the Agricultural Debt Redemption Committee's proposals. It was stated that they proposed reduction of interest with effect from 1105. But the members who cited that forgot or overlooked the fact that the Committee had put a condition to this recommendation and that may be seen on page 66. "The Committee propose that this concession rates should be available only to those who pay the rate within a fixed date fixed by the Government". On this Clause, I remember that Mr. Sambasiva Aiyar brought in at the second reading.

of the Bill an amendment to make this provision, namely that this reduction of interest should be available only to the man who was prepared to pay down the reduced interest. That was rejected by the House. Further the A. D. R. Committee made certain exceptions as regards banks and such other bodies. The original Bill that was introduced in this House did not contain any provision for the reduction of interest from 1105, whether with conditions or without conditions, and whether in favour of the rich debtor or the poor debtor. When the Bill went before the Select Committee of this House they wanted to make provision for the reduction of interest from 1105. I shall not disclose the discussions that took place in the Select Committee. The question must have naturally arisen there as to who should get the benefit of such retrospective reduction of interest. They must have found that the poor debtor must get the benefit and it was not practicable to saddle him with conditions. Therefore apparently the Select Committee put in the provision that we now find in Clause 19; and in accepting it the Government have practically accepted the suggestion made by the Debt Redemption Committee. The benefit of Clause 19 is clearly available to the poor debtor. Why then make another provision to help the rich debtor who is really able to pay? It was out of respect to the Select Committee that the Government accepted the provision contained in Clause 19; that was not originally their idea to have such a provision in the Bill.

MR. K. KUNJUVRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): No question of any distinction between the poor debtor and the rich debtor was brought in before the Select Committee of which I was also a member. It is an incorrect statement, a mis-statement, that the Law Member is now making to misguide the House.

PRESIDENT: I take it that honourable members on both sides of the House are aware that what passed in the Select Committee is not to be referred to here.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I was explaining the purport of the Clauses introduced by the Select Committee as anybody may read them and make inferences. I am not privileged, I am not entitled to refer to what actually took place in the Select Committee; if that were permissible I would challenge Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai.

PRESIDENT: Order, order.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, the object of the Select Committee could have been only that the poor debtor should get the benefit of the retrospective reduction of interest, and not the rich debtor who is able to pay but who does not apparently want to pay. It was only later, in this House, that those who were responsible for the provision now in the Bill, wanted to extend the same benefit to the rich debtor also.

In regard to the expropriatory nature of the provision, the chief defect is that it is highly unjust to the creditor. Even assuming that the individual creditor may be compelled to put up with it, there is the larger question of public interest because the credit within the country will suffer. As I said yesterday, immediately after this Clause was passed, the creditor class was up in alarm. It must not be understood that I am in any way suggesting that the Government were intimidated by them. I am referring to it only to show that the creditors must have honestly felt alarm in that they could not bear this unconditional reduction of interest. I do not think anybody will question the honesty of these people. It may be said that they are misguided, heartless and cruel and all that; but certainly, they are not dishonest. That shows the effect of the Clause on the creditor classes. It is clear that if we allow this provision to stand, none of them would in future be prepared to trust anybody else with their money. Mr. E. V. Krishna Pillai asked—'They have plenty of money. What will they do with it? They will be obliged to lend.' A scholar like Mr. E. V. Krishna Pillai need not be told പണം കയ്യൊട്ടു; that is known to everybody. Travancore is a small part of the world and there is ample room elsewhere for all this capital Mr. Chidambaram Pillai gave direct evidence that capital had already begun to fly away from Travancore. Credit is very important to every country, particularly to Travancore at the present moment. Agriculture has ceased to be a paying proposition. Some kind of subsidiary occupation has become an absolute necessity for the agriculturist and that has to be found. As the House knows, Government are taking steps to industrialise the country. Credit has therefore become even more necessary now than it was till now. We must have somebody to finance the agriculturist in his subsidiary industry or other occupation. Without that, where is the industry and where is the occupation?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Neduvangad): May I ask whether, in Travancore, at any time, the bankers have financed the agriculturists?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I should not be surprised if they refuse to do so if it so happens that this Clause is retained.

In my first speech itself, Sir, I tried to explain how this provision is not really useful to the bulk of the debtors, since any amount of reduction in the interest alone would not afford them adequate relief. They stand in need of the principal itself being cut down considerably. This provision will benefit only the rich debtor who is really able to pay but is not willing to pay. Sir, the sponsors of this provision, while benefitting the rich debtor, are doing their worst to the poor cultivator. That has been very clearly explained by Mr. T. P. Velayudhan Pillai; and I am not surprised that, as a result of the very shrewd observation made by him, Mr. T. K. Velu Pillai reconsidered his position and changed his opinion. The provisions relating to conciliation lay down that if a creditor does not accept the award of the Conciliation Board he may be mulcted with loss of interest from 1105 by the court. That is the penalty imposed for not accepting the award of the Conciliation Board. Now this Clause 34 says that all creditors, those who are agreeable to accept the award of the Conciliation Board, and those who are not agreeable should alike suffer loss of interest from 1105. If that is to be so, Mr. Velayudhan Pillai very rightly asks, which creditor will care to go before the Conciliation Board, to see what its award is like; because, whether he accepts it or rejects it, he is going to suffer loss of interest from 1105. This provision therefore would nullify all the provisions relating to conciliation and make conciliation provisions useless. What more harm can this House do to the agriculturists of the country? The only real and substantial remedy that the poor cultivator gets and can expect to get under this Bill is that his debts may be conciliated by the Conciliation Officer. If that provision is going to be made ineffective, if the creditor is going to be induced not to care a jot for the award of the Conciliation Officer, who is it that is going to suffer? Only the poor cultivator. Clause 19 is there already in the Bill. Why then incorporate an identical provision again in Clause 84, especially when it is likely that such a course of action will prejudicially affect the bulk of the agriculturist debtors in the country? Therefore, as very rightly pointed out by Mr. T. P. Velayudhan Pillai, those honourable members of this House who want to be friends of the rich debtor are actually turning out to be the worst enemies of the poor cultivator. Let it be on their conscience if by reason of their action, the poor cultivator suffers; it will not be on mine. I hope the House will bear this in mind when it divides on this amendment.

In regard to Mr. Sambasiva Aiyar's amendment, his point is that if an agriculturist is willing to pay additional interest in cash, he must be allowed to do it. No doubt, there is some principle in it. But having regard to the conditions here and having regard to the recommendations made by the Debt Redemption Committee, I am not prepared to accept Mr. Sambasiva Aiyar's amendment. I would rather protect the agriculturist even against himself. After all, the present measure is only for a period of three years.

MR. CHANGANACHERY K. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Kunnattur cum Pattanapuram): Before you put the question, Sir, permit me.....

PRESIDENT: I am rather surprised that the honourable member is not able to make himself heard.

MR. CHANGANACHERY K. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Kunnattur cum Pattanapuram): Allow me one minute, Sir, to explain an apparent inconsistency in my attitude, that has been pointed out by the Law Member. It was stated that on two former occasions I stated that some discrimination must be made between debtors who are able to pay and debtors who are not able to pay their debts and that now I have taken up a position altogether different. Sir, every one will admit that if a sentence or a line is taken out of its setting, it can be made to bear a meaning different from what it was intended to.

In regard to the Proclamation referred to by Mr. Kayalam Paramesvaran Pillai, it provided for the whole-sale staying of all decrees passed by courts against agriculturists, for three months. I said that in taking a step with such far-reaching effects, some discrimination should be made between those who are able to pay and those who are not able to pay. I do not see any contradiction between that and my present statement which relates to a small question of reduction of interest during a short period.

The report of the Debt Redemption Committee, which was referred to by Mr. T. K. Vela Pillai, makes various suggestions of a drastic nature. For instance, it was suggested that the principal itself must be scaled down to 60 per cent. Another suggestion was that hypothecatees should be satisfied with whatever they are able to realise by the sale of the security. There were also other suggestions of a similar nature under consideration. I said that when suggestions of such far reaching character are made, a certain amount of discrimination would not be out of place.

I do not understand, Sir, what connection there is between that and the present simple provision for reduction of interest from a certain period. The House will bear in mind.....

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I should think, Sir, that the personal explanation is over.

PRESIDENT: The honourable member will resume his seat.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I have not kept back anything. I shall read out in full the relevant portion from the proceedings of this House. That is at page 176 of the debates of 23rd May 1935.

"MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Is the member against the stay order irrespective of the decree amount?

MR. CHANGANACHERY K. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Kumattur cum Pattanapuram): In the case of agriculturists who are unable to pay their debts the decrees against them may be stayed whether charged on immovable property or merely personal. My point is, in the case of an agriculturist a distinction should be made between one who is able to pay and one who is unable to pay his debts.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): With reference to that, take the case of an agriculturist who, when his lands are sold, may be able to pay debts. Still he is an agriculturist. What does the member say to that?

MR. CHANGANACHERY K. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Kumattur cum Pattanapuram): That is rather a difficult point. If he is ruined by the sale of lands, he may have nothing to live upon. In such a case I would extend the benefit of the Proclamation to him. If without detriment to one's livelihood, if his debts could be discharged by executing the decree he should be excluded from the definition of 'agriculturist' for purposes of the Proclamation. Relief should be given only to deserving persons who are unable to pay debts."

It was only this that I was pointing out.

MR. CHANGANACHERY K. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Kumattur cum Pattanapuram): I cannot understand what these statements have to do with the present question. Again, the Law Member makes no discrimination between those who are able to pay and those who are unable to pay their debts in regard to the reduction of future interest for three years from the commencement of the Regulation.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikkara): I rise to a point of order. The member is entitled only to give a personal explanation. He cannot make a speech.

PRESIDENT: I have allowed the member to speak.

MR. CHANGANACHERY K. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Kunnattur enu Pattanapuram): So, I maintain that no such distinction need be made in regard to past interest also. I was therefore quite justified in saying that the past interest also should come within the scope of the Bill. I cannot understand when the Law Member does not make any such discrimination in respect of future interest. He can object to the giving of the benefit of the provision relating to past interest to all debtors irrespective of their ability to pay or not.

MR. R. SAMBASIVA AIYAR (Kunnamad II): In view of the fact that the Law Member does not want to accept my amendment, I do not press it.

The two amendments moved by Mr. Sambasiva Aiyar were, by leave, withdrawn.

The original amendment was then put and carried.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I demand a poll.

A poll was taken with the following result:

Clause 35.

PRESIDENT: To Clause 35, Mr. Sambasiva Aiyar has given notice of some amendments which are not connected with any amendment proposed by or on behalf of Government. I therefore rule them out of order.

Clause 36.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I beg to move:

“For the first paragraph of Clause 36, substitute the following, namely:—

“Notwithstanding anything in any law, contract, decree or order of Court, no interest shall accrue, or be permitted to be recovered as accruing, for a period of three years from the date of the commencement of this Regulation in respect of any debt, due in paddy or grain, and in existence on such date, at any rate exceeding nine per cent. per annum.”

Sir, I shall not speak at length on this amendment because its principle is really the same as of the amendment that has been carried just now. The only difference is that this applies to debts due on paddy while the other applies to money debts. This Clause, further, makes it quite clear that the interest that has been paid must be refunded. The present Clause 36 of the Bill reads:

[Mr. Kayalam Paramesvaran Pillai.]

"Notwithstanding anything in any law, contract, decree or order of Court, no interest shall be considered to have accrued or to accrue or be permitted to be recovered as accruing from and after the 1st of Chingam 1106 up to the termination of three years from the date of the commencement of this Regulation, in respect of any debt, due in paddy or grain, at any rate exceeding nine per cent. per annum."

So, according to this provision as it stands no interest can be considered to have accrued and therefore if any amount has been paid as interest it must be refunded. I commend my amendment to the acceptance of the House.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

The amendment was put and carried.

Clause 38.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I beg to move:—

For Clause 38, substitute the following, namely:—

"38. If any transaction which is in existence on the date of the commencement of this Regulation and which purports to be a usufructuary mortgage (Oti) is proved to have been intended to be only hypothecation, such transaction shall, notwithstanding any law or custom to the contrary be treated, for a period of three years from such date, as a hypothecation which came into existence on such date.

Illustration.—A lent Rs. 1,000 to B and took a usufructuary mortgage of B's property and leased the mortgaged property to B reserving an annual pottam of Rs. 120 intending to provide thereby for the interest due on the money lent and this transaction is in existence on the date of the commencement of this Regulation. This transaction may, for a period of three years from the date of the commencement of this Regulation be treated as a hypothecation that came into existence on such date and during that period the rights between the parties may be adjusted; on that basis".

Sir, this Clause is to be substituted for Clause 38 that now finds a place in the Bill. On a comparison of the two Clauses, it will be seen that considerable restrictions are proposed by the amendment that I move. I think I will be right in saying that the proposed Clause is intended only to carry out the intentions of the original Clause. The Clause as it stood originally applied to all transactions whether they were in existence on the date of the passing of this Regulation or whether they came into existence after that date. It was not the idea of those who supported the Clause to prohibit future transactions. They never wanted that future mortgages and leases back should be prohibited. A mortgage or lease back is considered to have some advantages because it would avoid protracted suits and will save interest from accumulating. In any event it was nobody's idea that such transaction should be prohibited in future. Therefore one of the provisions in the present amendment is that this law will apply only to transactions in existence on the date of commencement of this Regulation. Again, it was pointed out that it may lead to difficulties in regard to limitation and that poor creditors will be deprived of their moneys if it becomes a hypothecation with effect from the very date of the transaction. According to the law of limitation a hypothecation bond will be barred after 12 years. With a view to prevent such consequences I have put in a Clause to the effect that these mortgages will be treated as hypothecations that came into existence on the date of commencement of this Regulation.

Then again the object of this Bill is to give relief to the agriculturists because of the economic depression and attendant causes. The Clause should therefore operate only for a period of three years from the date of commencement of this Regulation.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): May I know from the member whether he means by the words "for a period of three years" in respect of a period of three years from such date or during a period of three years from such date?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): For a period of three years beginning with the commencement of this Regulation. After that, it will again become a mortgage. Sir, I do not intend that this law should operate for an indefinite period. Many other provisions of this Bill operate only for three years. During this period of three years the debtor will get all the benefits. If provided in respect of other transactions a suit is filed, for instance, he can get a decree for payment in instalments. The only remedy that the creditor will have will be a suit for money and not for recovery of property. If a suit is brought for money the debtor has the opportunity of claiming the benefits available under this measure. If he goes to the Conciliation Officer, he can get his debt conciliated. This amendment is therefore necessary and useful in order to bring out the original intention of the framers of this Clause. I commend this amendment to the acceptance of the House.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

PRESIDENT: To Clause 38 I have received notices of various amendments and one notice was given by Mr. Thanu Pillai at 12-10 P. M. to-day. I do not propose to shut it out. I allow that amendment. The next amendment stands in the name of Mr. R. Sivaraman Nair.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): Sir, I beg to move the following amendment:

In amendment No. 12 to Clause 38 after the word "treated" insert the following words, "for the purposes of this Regulation".

The amendment now brought forward by the Law Member was not present in the original Bill. But the Select Committee made certain recommendations of this sort. In North Travancore there are some mortgages which are said to be intended to be only hypothecation deeds. Arrangements are made in such a way that the mortgagor will be in possession of the property. The provision inserted by the Select Committee is as follows:—

"If any transaction which purports to be a usufructuary mortgage (add) is proved to have been intended to be only a hypothecation such transaction shall, notwithstanding any law or custom to the contrary, be treated as a hypothecation for the purpose of this Regulation".

All that the Select Committee wanted was that the usufructuary mortgages may be treated as hypothecation deeds for the purpose of this Regulation. After the Select Committee, in this House several amendments were moved and there was a good deal of discussion. The words "for the purpose of this Regulation" were retained even after that long discussion. The Law Member has deleted them now. If those words are there, the usufructuary mortgages may be treated as hypothecation deeds only so far as it concerns the purpose of this Regulation and not for other purposes. In cases where the question of limitation arises hardship may be caused to the creditor, I mean the mortgagee. If at the end of the term of the mortgage it is treated as hypothecation deed it is certainly a hardship. The Select Committee went into that question and decided to retain the words "for the purpose of this Regulation". By taking away those words, the general law which is now administered in courts of law will have to be suspended so far as those transactions are concerned for a period of three years.

MR. POTTAYIL S. KRISHNA PANICKAR (Sheriala II): May I know in what way is the general law offended by the deletion of those words?

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): What I said is, by the retention of those words in the Section the general law will be suspended only to the extent it is necessary for the purpose of carrying out the intention of this Regulation and not any further.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I do not propose to move my amendment. But I second the amendment of Mr. Sivaraman Nair.

PRESIDENT: Perhaps the best plan would be to allow the various members who have given notice of amendments to move them one by one and then have a discussion on the subject.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I will second the amendment of Mr. Sivaraman Nair instead of moving my amendment.

PRESIDENT: The honourable member is at liberty to speak after all the amendments have been moved on the subject.

MR. R. SAMBASIVA AIYAR (Kunnathnad II): I beg to move the amendment standing in my name. It reads as follows:—

"In amendment No. 12, to Clause 38 add the words "for the purpose of this Regulation".

I endorse all the points urged by Mr. Sivaraman Nair in this connection. One other point I have to state is this. This Bill practically is intended to meet an extraordinary situation. Part 3 of the Bill embodies certain temporary provisions relating to future interest for a period of three years. There is Section 33 which deals with instalment payments. Part 5 of the Bill i.e., Clause 38 should have found a place in Part 3 because according to the amendment now moved by the Law Member and according to the original intention of the Agricultural Debt Redemption Committee, all these relief measures are to be afforded to the agriculturists who have borrowed money that is to say, other than the class of debtors in the amendment of the Law Member. It is only just to confine relief to other debtors as well. Some debtors were given relief by way of reduction of future interest. Let these persons also be given some kind of relief, that is to say, let them be given reduction in part in the rate of interest to the extent of 6 per cent.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): May I know whether it is the member's idea that during this period it shall be open to the mortgagee to recover the property from the mortgagor.

MR. R. SAMBASIVA AIYAR (Kunnathnad II): The creditor can recover the property from the mortgagor.

MR. POTTAYIL S. KRISHNA PANICKAR (Sherata II): If the mortgagor is not allowed to have the property, then what is the meaning in saying that the rate of interest is reduced to 6 per cent.

MR. R. SAMBASIVA AIYAR (Kunnathnad II): There are occasions when property may be fetching more than 6 per cent interest. There is no question of rent at all. When the debtor has to pay interest certainly the property should be in his hands. There is no reason why one debtor should be asked to pay more interest than the other class of debtors. In view of the provision that we have passed it is only legitimate that they should also be afforded relief. In this connection I will refer to the recommendations of the Agricultural Debt Redemption Committee. This is what they say on page 87.

PRESIDENT: There is another amendment standing in the name of Mr. Sambasiva Aiyar.

MR. R. SAMBASIVA AIYAR (Kunnathnad II): That is only a consequential amendment.

PRESIDENT: The following is Mr. Thanu Pillai's amendment. I will read it for the information of the House.

Add the following after the words:

"On such date" in line 7: "provided that nothing in this Section shall exempt the mortgagor from liability for arrears of pottam, if any, due in respect of such transaction for any period previous to such date."

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Sir, the Law Member's amendment is to this effect:—

"If any transaction which is in existence on the date of the commencement of this Regulation and which purports to be a usufructuary mortgage (Outi) is proved to have been intended to be only a hypothecation, such transaction shall, notwithstanding any law or custom to the contrary, be treated, for a period of three years from such date, as a hypothecation which came into existence on such date."

He also says in the illustration that such transaction may be for a period of three years from the date of the commencement of the

[Mr. A. Thanu Pillai.]

Regulation be treated as a hypothecation that came into existence on such date and during that period the rights between the parties may be adjusted on that basis.

To me it appears, difficulties would arise in such cases where transactions are to be settled during a period of three years from the commencement of this Regulation in respect of arrears of rent due for a period previous to the commencement of the Regulation. This is because it is stated that for a period of three years from the date of the commencement of this Regulation this transaction may be treated as a hypothecation, etc., etc. To make the position clear and to avoid such difficulties I beg to move my amendment. Add the following words after the end of the Clause and before the illustration:

"Provided that nothing in this Section shall exempt the mortgagor from liability for arrears of patta if any, due in respect of such transaction for any period previous to such date."

After the period of three years there would be no difficulty because of the particular way in which it will be viewed and what it purports to be in the light of the document.

MR. POTTAYIL S. KRISHNA PANICKAR (Shertala II): In view of the amendment that has been moved by the Law Member and just now passed by this House I do not wish to move my amendment.

PRESIDENT: The amendments are now open to discussion.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Before the debate begins, I may say that I am prepared to accept Mr. Thanu Pillai's amendment.

MR. POTTAYIL S. KRISHNA PANICKAR (Shertala II): In opposing the amendment of Messrs. Sambasiva Aiyar and Sivaraman Nair I wish to offer a few remarks. I agree with the amendments of the Law Member and Mr. Thanu Pillai. This is a provision which did not find a place in the original Bill proposed by the Government. But it was thought necessary by the Select Committee that a provision analogous to the one that is now before the House should be introduced in the Bill in order that agriculturists especially of the northern half of Travancore might have the benefit of those reliefs which are conferred on agriculturists in other parts of Travancore. This kind of transaction is very prevalent in North Travancore. In order that the creditors might avoid the payment of income tax and to overreach the provision relating to the prohibition of compound interest they adopted a course of taking the mortgage of the property from the debtors and leasing it out again to the mortgagors themselves, on the condition that the stipulated rate of interest or pattam, as the case may be, be paid annually if not half-yearly. If this kind of transaction is allowed to be continued, the protection which is afforded to other kinds of agricultural debtors will be denied to those in North Travancore in toto. There are provisions in the Bill which would reduce the rate of interest to six per cent for a period of three years from the commencement of this Regulation. If this kind of transaction is allowed to continue in its present form the law applicable to reduction of interest would not be applicable to such transactions. Even if the law regulating the reduction of interest is to be applicable during the period of these three years the mortgagee, if he is so minded, can get back the property by suing in a court of law on the basis of the lease. There is no virtue in the amendments of Mr. Sambasiva Aiyar giving a reduction of interest for a period of three years. He is aware that that provision can be nullified by a suit in a court of law and getting a decree for the recovery of the property covered by the lease. Even though the intention of the parties was to treat this kind of transaction as purely hypothecations the rules of law and of evidence would not allow the mortgagor to set up this contention and to adduce evidence that the real intention was only to treat it as a hypothecation. It is to avoid this and to give an opportunity to such agricultural debtors who are so minded to set up a contention in the court of law and give evidence to show that the real intention of the party was only to treat it as a hypothecation that this provision is sought to be included. My friend Mr. Sivaraman Nair wants the words "for the purpose of this Regulation" to find a place in the present Section as sought to be amended by the Law Member. Even though it appears at the outset that the amendment of Mr. Sivaraman Nair is very innocent, my submission is that it cuts at the very root of the beneficial provision that is sought to be enacted for the benefit of this kind of agricultural debtors. According to the definition of debt those transactions which partake of the nature of a lease are specially mentioned to be excluded from the purview of debt except for a single purpose, and that is for the purpose of conciliation, even if it can be considered to be a debt. The most important grievance of the agricultural debtors who happen to enter into this kind of transactions is that their land will be recovered from them if they happen to make default in their payments of interest. When such transactions are entered into between parties the actual yield from the property is never taken into consideration simply because of the fact that it was never thought likely that the possession of the property would pass to the mortgagee. So, if in future, payment of rent or pattam is defaulted by the mortgagor and the properties are allowed to be recovered by the mortgagee, he will be able to realise 12 per cent, nay even 24 per cent by way of interest because it was never thought necessary by the parties to take into consideration and ascertain the actual yield from the property. And because they had no idea of handing over possession of the property to the mortgagee what the mortgagee would ordinarily look into in such cases is only as to whether the properties would be sufficient to cover the principal money lent and the probable arrears of interest and costs that could be obtained. In such transactions the mortgagor ordinarily would not care to ascertain the actual extent or the probable income from the property because he was quite sure that he will be able to meet the demand in time and so there will not be any necessity to hand over the property to the mortgagee. But unfortunately owing to the economic depression in most cases he had to make default in payment of interest. I am sure that many of the honourable members who happen to represent the northern taluks of Travancore would agree with me that hitherto many decrees have been obtained for the eviction of the mortgagor and as such even if this provision is passed I fear very many of the agricultural debtors would go without any remedy whatsoever. Thus to save at least those against whom no decrees have been obtained, in fairness and equity, this amendment should not be accepted by this House.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): I also support the amendments brought forward by the Law Member and Mr. Thanu Pillai. As has been remarked by Mr. Krishna Panickar the effect of the two amendments proposed by Mr. Sivaraman Nair and Mr. Sambasiva Aiyar will forfeit the very intention of the provision. This is a trick played to find a means to oust a debtor from the possession of his property by the easiest method. Sir, the debtors can be grouped under two categories. There is one set of people who are willing to hand over possession of their properties to the creditors for the mortgage amount to avoid the responsibility of paying interest. There is another set of people who are not willing to part with their properties out of self-respect. They do not want other people to know that they are debtors and they will not be willing to part with their properties, and hence they are willing to satisfy the creditors by giving abnormal rate of interest by way of pattom. As I said there is another set of people who are willing to dispose of their properties. But at the same time the creditors want to avoid the provisions of the income-tax law. According to the Income Tax Regulation, tax cannot be levied on pattom amounts, whereas if the interest is drawn by the creditor by means of a hypothecation deed the Income Tax Officer can catch hold of the creditor and levy income-tax on him. In order to avoid this the creditor himself demands such a procedure from the debtor and insists upon this condition by which the debtor seems to lose nothing. The result of it is that not only the creditor gets an abnormal rate of interest but Government also lose by way of loss in income tax collection. During my last discussion on the same subject I had brought to the notice of this House a specific instance of a case in which interest as high as 24 per cent. was drawn by a creditor with the help of such a document viz., "Mortgage and Lease Back."

Again, Sir, according to the rules of the Land Mortgage Bank this sort of transaction cannot be dealt with. This is very hard on the debtor who cannot get the benefit of the Land Mortgage Bank. Sir, an amendment like the one by the Law Member is quite necessary for the purpose of regulating these Regulations viz., the Agricultural Debt Relief Regulation and the Income Tax Regulation and also to satisfy the rules of the Land Mortgage Bank. Last time also this amendment was discussed at great length on the floor of the House. The effect of the amendments brought forward by Mr. Sambasiva Aiyar and Mr. Sivaraman Nair will be nullifying all these, because according to them only for the purpose of the Debt Relief Regulation for fixing the pattam can such documents be interpreted as an hypothecation deed. I submit Sir, that during last time also this question was elaborately discussed and a decision arrived at. By the amendments of Messrs. Sambasiva Aiyar and Sivaraman Nair that should not be set aside. Therefore I support the amendments brought forward by the Law Member and Mr. Thanu Pillai and oppose the other amendments.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I also wish to speak a few words on the amendment. The amendment of Mr. Kayalam Parameswaran Pillai appears to be defective in certain respects. That is why I thought that the amendment of Mr. Sivaraman Nair must be accepted by this House. That is to say the amendment as it stands, would throw a great deal of doubt upon the question as to whether the rent for the period prior to the commencement of this Regulation could be recovered by the hypothecatee. It is stated that the transaction must be treated to have come into force on the day of the commencement of the Regulation. The transaction includes the usufructuary mortgage as well as the lease. Both these have to be treated to have come into existence on the date of the commencement of the Regulation. If that be so, a suit for arrears of rent prior to the commencement of the Regulation does not arise.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESWARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Is it the member's opinion that that will be the position even if Mr. Thanu Pillai's amendment is accepted?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): This is why I thought that this amendment requires some amendment. Now I find that Mr. Thanu Pillai's amendment removes that difficulty. So the Law Member's amendment as amended by Mr. Thanu Pillai can be accepted.

PRESIDENT: The honourable member does not seem desirous to prolong the discussion. Now I call upon Mr. Krishna Panickar to move his amendment.

MR. POTTAYIL S. KRISHNA PANICKAR (Shertala II): Sir, I do not move the amendment.

MR. R. SAMBASIVA AIYAR (Kummadad II): In view of the fact that Government do not seem to find their way to accept the amendment, I do not wish to move my amendment.

PRESIDENT: I now put the amendment of Mr. Kayalam Parameswaran Pillai as amended by Mr. A. Thanu Pillai's amendment, to vote.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and carried.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESWARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I now move with great pleasure the last motion on this Bill, namely, that the Bill as amended be passed into law.

Mr. R. SAMBASIVA AIYAR (Kunnetnad II): I oppose the motion. In doing so I again appeal to Government that it ought not to become the law of the State. The Bill consists of five parts. Part I—Preliminary, consists of two Sections, short title and commencement. Part II deals with Debt Conciliation. Part III deals with temporary provisions regarding execution of decrees and interest. Part IV deals with the amendment of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1100, regarding execution of decrees, and Part V deals with mortgage and lease back.

With reference to Part I, Sir, my submission is that the definition of the term 'agriculturists' is too wide in scope to include almost all the sections of the population of the State and practically includes every person. The term 'agricultural debt' could include practically every kind of debt. Debts incurred for the purpose of trade, jennitharam dues, debts taken for the construction of palatial mansions, and debts incurred in connection with speculation in rubber industry, in short every kind of amount which a person owes to another is brought under this term. Sir, in no other part of India has a legislation been enacted without defining a term with due limitation. In this connection I should like to draw the attention to an observation made by the Honourable High Court to whom this Bill was referred only very recently. The High Court weighed with a larger judicial experience observed that the definition is very wide in range to include jennitharam arrears or rent due and other like debts. They further pointed out, Sir, that in Madras a sum of Rs. 200 is fixed as a limit to which that definition could be restricted. There is no reason why such a limit could not be placed in Travancore. The A. D. R. Committee themselves have observed on page 128 of their report that about 50 per cent of the total debt is owed by 10 per cent of all the debtors. It is the duty of the State to save this 10 per cent of debtors. Now we confine ourselves to 50 per cent of the debtors who have only 50 per cent of the debt. The advantage of adopting such a definition is very beneficial.

Part II of the Bill deals with Debt Conciliation Boards, a step which the Government can reasonably take. But they should see that conciliation goes hand in hand with redemption of debt. My serious objection, Sir, is that there is no means or agency by which conciliated debt could be paid in actual cash to the creditor. Pay the creditor cash and let him go. Do not tell him further to take it in instalments. That is not fair. What I submit Sir, is let us restrict the term "agriculturist" and "agricultural debt" as is done in other parts of British India and in Mysore. The total amount of actual debt would come to about 12 crores of rupees. It is estimated to be about 25 crores of rupees. The balance of 12 crores of rupees—by a sum of three crores of rupees it is possible to pay in cash to all the creditors: by this means everybody is satisfied, the creditor as well as the debtor. The State can realise the amount in instalments from the debtors at a reasonable rate of interest, say 4 per cent. It is very easy for the State to raise a loan. The property of the debtor should be kept as security. But in conciliating debts as provided in the Bill the creditor is compelled to satisfy himself with whatever amount is paid to him. What I submit is to pay him that amount in cash and not in instalments. By trying to help this small number of heavily indebted debtors it is not possible to undertake any measure to the satisfaction of both parties. That, Sir, is my chief objection. If however Government are not going to change the definition whatever relief is afforded will not be appreciably felt.

Part III of the Bill is a matter which has been discussed practically at sufficient length. Therefore I do not wish to take the time of the House. But I only submit that this proscription of interest i. e., 6 per cent. for three years would certainly affect the credit of the country. My view, Sir, is that the general question of credit has not been considered properly. I am fortified in this opinion by the authority of the High Court. It would have been good if Government had consulted economic experts to settle this question. Our High Court itself was consulted only very late. We are not aware that the question has been referred to any economic expert. If they were consulted I am sure everybody who knows something about economics would see that the credit of the State should be allowed to remain unimpaired.

Then about Part IV. I have no objection to this Part. Now with reference to Part V, I might say the Government ought not to have expanded the innocent amendment. Government should not interfere with the law of the land pertaining to the vested rights of people. By the process of usufructuary mortgage very many transactions have been entered into and such transactions were in force forty or fifty years back, and are even now in force. When the [mortgage] is in possession of a property to say suddenly that the transaction should be treated as hypothecation will introduce very many complications.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know from the member how the Bill will affect the man who is actually in possession?

MR. R. SAMBASIVA AIYAR (Kunnathnad II): I was submitting, Sir, that the mortgagor is in possession as a tenant of the mortgagee. In most of these cases creditors are mortgagees. The majority of them are Jenmis who are Nambudiri Brahmins. When any of a Jenmi's tenant wants money he goes to the Jenmi who gives him his land. Now suddenly we hear that they have got to be usufructuary properties and must be treated as hypothecated transactions. And I may as well say that this Bill will also affect the law of limitation. I submit Sir, that I would invite a reference to the last passage of the memorandum of the High Court.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, I rise to oppose the Bill. The condition of the agriculturists in this State is too hard. The estimate of the total debts comes to 25 crores of rupees according to the Banking Enquiry Committee's Report. It comes up to 20 crores of rupees according to the Census Commissioner's Report. It is 40 crores of rupees according to the Report of the Economic Depression Enquiry Committee. Therefore, roughly it amounts to 33 crores of rupees. The number of agricultural debtors is 2 lakhs and 66 thousand and the average debt of an agriculturist is 1,450 rupees. The debt per acre is Rs. 180. All these facts are evident from the Report of the Agricultural Debt Redemption Committee. It was as a result of the recommendation made by that expert and able Committee, which was composed of responsible Government officials, that this Bill was drawn up originally. But at the stage of the second reading of the Bill, the members of this House composed mainly of the representatives of the agriculturists passed some amendments. One of the beneficent amendments that was passed was Clause 3, appealing practically to Government to set up Conciliation Boards covering the jurisdiction of the whole State so that all the agricultural debtors in the State be equally and simultaneously be benefited by the presence of the Conciliation Boards.

Sir, from what I have just now said it would be evident that the debt of the agriculturists in this State is too heavy. He is not in a position to suffer his debt and it would have been the duty of Government to bring in some legislation which would substantially render help to those suffering agriculturists. Now, as a result of the amendments, especially No. 1 that was brought forward by the Law Member, on behalf of the Government—and that was carried out—I find that the effect of this legislation in the matter of decreasing the sufferings of the agriculturists has been nullified.

PRESIDENT: Will the honourable member take some time?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Yes, Sir.

PRESIDENT: Now the House will adjourn and meet again at 2 P. M.

The House rose for lunch at 1 P. M. and re-assembled at 2 P. M. with the President in the Chair.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): The agriculturist in this State is the backbone of the State. They are the main stay of our country. They are not merely knee-deep, but neck-deep involved in debt. This is the real situation to-day and this is evident from the Report of the A. D. R. Committee. The only remedy possible to save the agriculturists is the establishment of Debt Conciliation Boards. While carrying the amendment No. 1, that was brought forward by the Law Member at the instance of the Government, the expectations of the poor agriculturists in this State have been denied. I do not say it is totally denied, because as a result of this amendment there is no compulsion on the part of Government to establish different Conciliation Boards throughout the State so that the whole jurisdiction of the State may be covered by all the Boards. Now the agricultural debtors have no remedy to have their debts conciliated on reasonable grounds.

Again, another good feature of the Bill was the limitation of interest on past debts. Sir, as a result of the amendment that was carried on by this House that right has been denied to them. Now, practically the condition of the agriculturists is that of Antonio in Shakespeare's Merchant of Venice. (Laughter.) And the part that is being played by the money lending class in this State is that of Shylock. Well, the State has failed to play the part of Portia (Laughter), and the Shylock's propensities still continue and the helpless condition of the Antonios, the poor agriculturists in the State; continues and they are left helpless and the Bill does not help the interests of the agriculturists in the State at all. For these reasons I oppose the Bill.

MR. M. K. JANARDANA KAMATH (Commerces and Industry, North): Sir, I strongly support Mr. Sambasiva Aiyar. And in doing so I do not want to encroach upon the valuable time of this House by repeating what has already been said by him. The very words of Mr. Sambasiva Aiyar will prove that. If this Bill is enacted it will not afford any relief to debtors but will cause great hardship to the creditors as well as to the debtors. As a representative of the merchants I too insist that this Bill will no doubt go against all the interest of the commercial business; so I oppose this Bill.

"The Committee agree that debts due to Government, Land Revenue and such other items should be excluded altogether from the purview of this Regulation. In regard to the trade debts of an agriculturist, debts due to co-operative societies and debts of the nature of rent, it may be that they should not be treated like ordinary advances of loan made to an agriculturist. "The inclusion of rent due under Kanganattam and other leases, which are only the land-lord's share of the produce of the land enjoyed by the tenant, within the ambit of the debt conciliation, may ultimately work injury to the agriculturists themselves. After having enjoyed the full produce of the land, that the tenant should be allowed to dictate to the land-lord that his share of the produce, one which he subsists, may be collected by him in 12 years is certainly a Clause which would soon put an end to these leases."

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Sir, I support the motion made by the Law Member. It is only to the interests of the parties concerned that they make the best of a bad bargain. The creditors at the outset, are not satisfied with the Bill: the debtors, it would appear, are not completely satisfied with the provisions of the Bill. Whatever may be the level of satisfaction, so far as both parties are concerned, I submit that we must be in a position to level up our differences and accept what has been given to us and work out the intentions to the mutual benefits of the debtors and the creditors. In the first place, there is the provision relating to the Conciliation Boards and the principle involved in it has been well discussed in this House. I believe that the House is convinced of its utility. The Government, I hope will extend the operations of the Boards to all parts of the State, so that the debtors who want relief may appear before them and have their grievances redressed. Extensive and discretionary powers are conferred upon the Boards. If the proper sort of officers are also appointed I am certain the working of the Bill will confer much benefit upon the debtor class. No doubt, the debtors are not satisfied; and though they have claimed for more, the little that has been conferred must go to a great extent in ameliorating the present distress. With regard to the creditors it must not be complained that they have been in any way hard hit by the provisions. The States all over the world have always exercised control over the interest that may be accumulating upon loans advanced by the creditors. The Legislatures have always exercised some sort of control and fixed rates, pointed out the maximum realisable and after all in this Regulation, Clauses 34 to 36, deal only with future interest and that only for three years.

The apprehension that credit will take to wings and creditors will quit the country is a statement that has no meaning. It does not require serious notice. Even under Regulation IV of 1910 there was some sort of control. For more than one hundred years it has been working satisfactorily. By conferment of privileges on the creditors the debtors have not ceased to borrow from the creditors. Even though Banks and Hundi merchants were advancing loans at 8 per cent, Government were able to bring down the level of the ordinary rate of interest by working from through the State-aided Bank. This has not prevented other Banks carrying on their business. There is one Bank in Trivandrum, working side by side with the other Banks, which lends out money at reduced rates of interest. It advances loans at the rate of 6 per cent and they are working side by side with the other Banks which are giving loans at the rate of 12 per cent. I am sure that Government will more seriously take into consideration the idea of establishing a well-stocked Bank in the Trivandrum city.

MR. M. CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI (Commerce and Industry, South): May I know the name of the Bank?

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): It is the South Indian Bank. If, Sir, the Government would take a keen interest in the matter of preserving the credit of this country, of getting in more money into the State, I am quite sure that the alarm now set up could be easily met. What we want is more willing money.

We do not want money which clamours for accumulation in the shape of interest and that at exorbitant rates. We want modest money which would be satisfied with moderate rate of interest. Such money must be attracted into our country and retained here. This is a matter in which the Government also should take some interest. The non-officials in the country, the bankers, the borrowers and the creditors have all tried to create a dependable and helpful financing agency. But without Government co-operation, it is difficult to do anything effective in this direction. Therefore along with the very beneficent measure that is now being enacted, Government should also take steps to create a proper financing agency in the country. If that is done I am quite sure the alarm which the creditors threaten us with on the one hand, the dejection which the debtors feel on the other, will all be dispelled, and there will be better co-operation and a better feeling of cordiality among the people.

With these words I support the motion that the Bill be passed.

MR. R. RAMAN PILLAI (Changanachery cum Peermade II): Sir, I oppose the passing of this Bill. During the time of the second reading and also during the last two days I have been hearing of expropriation, appropriation and misappropriation. Sir, I do not belong to the legal profession. I am a pure layman. It may therefore be considered that my attempt to enter into this discussion is a trespass, a foolish trespass. Still, I cannot but speak a few words on this occasion.

When the Bill as revised by the Select Committee was placed before this House, we thought that we could get as many Boards as we would require. But the Government were not prepared to do it. Then we thought that the Boards that are established, whatever be their number, would cover the whole State. Even at the second reading the Law Member said that he would not accept that position. In spite of that Mr. T. P. Velayudhan Pillai's amendment, bringing the whole State under the Conciliation Boards, was carried. But now by an amendment, for which I also voted, even that position has been changed. I must explain why I voted for that amendment. Government have clearly stated that they would not constitute as many Boards as are necessary. In such circumstances if the whole State were to be brought under the jurisdiction of just a few Boards, surely the work would be too heavy for the few Boards that are brought into existence, and nothing useful could be expected of them.

I thought, Sir, that at least Clause 34 would be left as we had amended it at the second reading. If we are to be given all the Boards that we require for extending the benefit of conciliation to the whole State, I could have understood Clause 34 being amended as it has been now amended. But, Sir, now the position has been established that all the debtors in the country are not going to get the benefit of conciliation.

[Mr. R. Raman Pillai.]

Therefore it is only fair that such of the debtors as are not given the benefit of conciliation are enabled to get at least the benefit of reduction of interest from 1105.

As it is, Sir, the Bill has become entirely useless. It is nothing more than a mere scrap of paper. It does not benefit the debtor in any respect. But at the same time it has affected the creditor prejudicially since for a few years to come he cannot get his money. Ultimately the debtors are not going to get even a single cash reduced: they will lose their entire property.

Sir, the honourable Law Minister was referring to rich debtors. The sun does not shine for the sake of the good alone. He shines for the good as well as for the wicked. I am sorry the Law Member did not remember that.

I oppose the Bill and appeal to the honourable members of the House to throw it out.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): I support the motion, and in doing so I would submit a few words for the immediate consideration of Government.

In the first place, the whole trouble has arisen on account of the existing statutory provision regarding the rate of interest in the Interest Regulation i. e. Regulation I of 1910 M. v. My first submission therefore is that Government should take immediate steps to reduce as a general rule the rate of interest from 12 per cent to 6 per cent. Such a step will surely ameliorate the condition of the entire population of the State. This reduction of the rate of interest will obviously enhance the value of the landed property also.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): On a point of order, whether these grounds are relevant to the motion that the present Bill be passed.

PRESIDENT: Evidently, the honourable member thinks that this Bill may be passed provided the considerations that he is now putting forward are borne in mind.

The member will proceed.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): My second submission is that the Government should reduce as a general rule the rate of interest on deposits in their Savings Banks. Then only the moneyed people will be tempted to invest their money on the landed property. This also will indirectly operate as a substantial relief to the indebted agriculturists in the country.

With these words, I support the motion.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): I too wish to support the motion. I am very glad, Sir, that the Bill has reached its final stage. We have removed the retrospective provision; but we have retained Clause 19 which gives the power to the Board to reduce interest even from 1105 in deserving cases. Therefore, where necessary, relief has been given to the debtor; at the same time, no injustice has been done to the people who have invested their money. Therefore, there cannot be any question of credit flowing out of the country.

In this connection, I would remind the Government that the Law Member, when he introduced the Bill, said that the additional attraction for the creditor was that although the amount due to him would be reduced, he would get it in cash. But at the second reading of the Bill, when some honourable members proposed amendments to the effect that the State should undertake to advance the money necessary to pay off the conciliated debts, those amendments were ruled out on the ground that they would affect the revenues of the State. I would strongly emphasise that it is the duty of the Government to bring into being some efficient financing agency so that the provisions of the Bill may effectively help all sections of the people.

MR. A. ESWARA PILLAI (Kokkulam II): I support the motion moved by the learned Law Member to pass the Travancore Agriculturists' Relief Bill. I am conscious of the fact that the indebted agriculturist of Travancore does not get the full relief that he needs by this piece of legislation. To get the maximum benefit out of the provisions of this Bill, Conciliation Boards may be started as early as possible and adequate funds may be made available in the Land Mortgage Bank to pay off the conciliated debts. The agriculturists of the country are anxiously waiting for the disposal of this question. Therefore earlier this Bill is passed into law the better it is, for delay is dangerous.

MR. K. M. KRISHNAN (Ambalappuzha II): സർ, ഞാൻ ഈ പ്രമേയത്തെ അനുകൂലിക്കുന്നു. ഒന്നിലധികം തവണകൾ നഷ്ടം വല്ലതും കിട്ടുന്നതാണല്ലോ നല്ലത്. ഈ ബില്ലുകൊണ്ട് അല്പ നഷ്ടം ചില ഗുണങ്ങൾ മാത്രമേ അയമണ്ണനാക്കുള്ളൂ. കൂടുതൽ ഗുണം ഉത്തമണ്ണനാക്കാൻ കിട്ടുന്നതു്. ഏതായാലും അല്പഗുണം കിട്ടുന്നതു് കളയാതിരിക്കണമെന്നുള്ള വിചാരമത്താടു കൂടി ഞാൻ ഇതിനെ അനുകൂലിച്ചുകൊള്ളുന്നു.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vikaravankud): I support the motion. I have to make just one observation.

This Bill has had a rather chequered career. At this stage, when we are concluding our labours so far as this Bill is concerned, permit me, Sir, to pay our compliments to our learned Law Member.

Sir, whatever might have been the attitude he took—some might call him very hard hearted, others may say that he is viewing it through the spectacle of a lawyer—whatever it is, the consistency with which he has been piloting this Bill from the start has been marvellous. Sir, he never budged an inch. He stuck to his gun, right up to the last moment. A word of praise is really due to the Law Member for the consistent attitude he took in regard to this Bill. Before I conclude, I wish to bring to the notice of this House and through the House to the Government one point. Our legislative activity has been beset with one baneful result. We have been copying from British India several measures whether we wanted them or not. But after passing those measures we used to leave them severely alone. The various rules necessary for implementing these measures are never passed in time. As an instance I shall bring to your notice one outstanding measure which at the time of its passing was hailed with great jubilation. I refer to the Travancore Village Panchayat Regulation. This was passed as early as 1100. The authors of the Bill wanted to create Panchayats in every village in Travancore. But only a couple of years ago Government started four or five Panchayats as an experimental measure. That experimental stage is not yet over. If we pass laws like this and leave them alone without implementing the provisions of these measures, even what little good we hope to get out of them will not be available. So I appeal to this House and through this House to the Government that the necessary forms and rules prescribed by this legislation be immediately framed so that whatever benefit this Bill is intended to confer upon the people might be enjoyed by them at an early date.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Malabkura): Sir, I also wish to add a word in support of the motion. I join my friend in congratulating the Law Member for piloting a Bill of such a nature so successfully through this House. I have to add that this Bill calls for emergent action. I would request Government to see that this Bill is passed through the other House also at the earliest opportunity and that it is passed into law without any delay. The matter is very urgent and debtors, creditors and the general public are kept in suspense. I only request the Government to see that the Bill is brought into effect at the earliest possible opportunity.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): Sir, I oppose the motion. From the very start I took a pessimistic view about this matter. The provisions contained in the original Bill were quite inadequate to meet our wishes. I tried to move certain amendments in the Select Committee but I could not carry them. At the second reading stage I hoped that I would be able to do so. I had some hopes that the provisions of the Bill as altered at the second reading would give some relief to the agriculturists. But now the Bill has been restored to its original position. During the course of the discussion in this Assembly I am sorry I had to express an opinion that I suspect the sincerity of the Government in this matter. I may be pardoned for such an expression. If I have to repent for that expression, when it is ultimately found that I was mistaken, I will be the first to come forward and do so. The provisions concerning conciliation and the establishment of Conciliation Boards are not at all satisfactory. I have no faith in Conciliation Boards as I had stated in my note to the report of the Select Committee. I do not believe that the Bill as it stands now will be of any good to the agriculturists.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Tricomanerum—Urban): Sir as the Chairman of the Select Committee which sat on this Bill it is my duty to express my approbation and admiration of the manner in which the Law Member and the other members of the Select Committee did their work. As I said yesterday we had many prolonged sittings. We had to adjudicate upon conflicting principles without ignoring the claims of law, economics, politics, and every subject which came under the purview of this Bill. This Bill will emerge from this House in a form which I trust will meet with the approval of the world. As an equitable compromise between conflicting claims of creditors and debtors for the good of the country this measure will be approved by all. The Government has been anxious to push it through by convening emergent sessions of the Assembly. In this particular case the promptitude of Government is commendable. I would appeal to the House to pass this Bill.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I must at the outset express my sincere gratitude to the honourable members for their kind words in regard to me. It is not necessary for me to deal at length with the details of the Bill. I see that debtors as well as creditors are dissatisfied with this Bill. If both of them are dissatisfied, Government, I believe, must be right in getting this Bill passed. Some members were opposed to Clause 34 of the Bill and they went to the extent of saying that the Bill may be thrown out if Clause 34 is to remain. If my view is right, this Bill will help the poor man, the poor toiler who is the backbone of the country. And it is he that should be helped by this House. I hope the House will vote in favour of my motion.

The motion was put to vote and carried.

(At this stage the Deputy President took the Chair.)

THE TRAVANCORE BOILERS BILL.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, the Travancore Boilers Bill has passed the consideration stage and the motion for passing the Bill has not yet been passed. When I made the motion on the last occasion there was certain objection in regard to the short title of the Bill. I wish to discontinue that opposition by bringing a motion myself for amending the short title. In view to that, I beg to move the following amendment:

"In Clause 1, sub-clause (i), for the figure '1110' substitute the figure '1112'".

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

The motion was put to vote and carried.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I beg to move that the Bill as amended be passed into law.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

The motion was put to vote and carried.

THE TRAVANCORE RUBBER CONTROL BILL.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I beg to present the Report of the Select Committee on the Travancore Rubber Control Bill and move that the Bill as reported be taken into consideration.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

(At this stage the President took the Chair)

PRESIDENT: Moved and seconded that the Bill be taken up for consideration.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nadumangudi): I oppose the motion. I move that the Bill be dropped. This Bill is intended to control and regulate the extension of the cultivation of rubber in Travancore by a legislative enactment. If it is done in that manner it will cause a great deal of hardship to the ordinary poor agriculturists. In this connection I would like to quote a sentence from the booklet of His Excellency Marquis Linlithgow, the present Viceroy of India. It is contained in his recent booklet "The Indian Peasantry."

It runs as follows:

"India's" wealth in an overwhelming degree is her agriculture.....The peasant now as ever is the chief source and creator of both her wealth and her greatness."

If this is true of India it is equally true, perhaps more true, of Travancore. Travancore is purely an agricultural country. The major portion of the people of Travancore have only one profession to pursue, namely the agriculture. They pay tax for the enjoyment of their lands. The only independent profession they can pursue is agriculture. Every man though he is a trader or banker or an agriculturist he has to follow the profession of agriculture. In Travancore there is no special class as the money lending class or the banking class. Every citizen is an agriculturist. To deny an agriculturist the right to cultivate his land as he pleases, is denying his right of citizenship. He has been paying the tax for the enjoyment of land in the belief that his right to cultivate the land would never be curtailed. He has every right to enjoy the land as he pleases. To deny the right of cultivating rubber in such lands is very hard. I can even say that denial is equal to a high-handedness. This piece of legislation is illegal because it affects the right of a citizen. The right of the citizen to cultivate his land should not be curtailed by any sort of enactment. It is his birthright so to say. It is his birthright that he gets a right to cultivate the land for the tax he pays. The fact that he shall not cultivate such and such land for such and such purposes, in his enjoyment, is to deny the right of citizenship directly and indirectly. So I submit that it invades the right of the citizen of the State to a very great extent. This Bill if I may be permitted to say is intended to protect the special interest of a particular class of people in the State. Here in Travancore persons who follow agricultural pursuits as a result of their labour are not getting any remuneration worth the name excepting the planters. Some years back a few Europeans came to Travancore and began this planting business. They set an example and we are thankful to them for having demonstrated to us the usefulness and the profitable nature of rubber cultivation in the State. As years went on, some of our people also took advantage of that sort of avocation. Now they also have begun to be benefited as a result of this rubber planting. Due to various reasons, not only in the Indian market, but in the world market so to say for causes such as political, economic, social, agricultural, etc; that are beyond the control of individuals or particular nations the price of rubber also went down so much so that the rubber planters also found it very hard to continue their cultivation.

PRESIDENT : I did not quite catch what the honourable member was aiming at. Now I take it that he is moving his amendment I do not call it an amendment that the Bill be dropped. Under what provision of the Standing Orders does the honourable member move that?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad) : I am opposing the motion that is brought forward by the Law Member.

PRESIDENT : Under what provision of the Standing Orders does the honourable member move his amendment that the Bill be dropped? The honourable member must remember that after the presentation of the final report of the Select Committee on a Bill, the member in charge of the Bill may move that the Bill as reported by the Committee be taken up for consideration. The procedure is that any member may object to it or move certain amendments to the Bill.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad) : That this Bill may be sent back to the Select Committee is the conclusion I am going to arrive at.

PRESIDENT : But that is not the motion. The honourable member should realise that if that be so he might move a motion that the Bill be recommitted either without limitation or with respect to particular Clauses or amendments, etc., as is provided under the Rules. The motion that the Bill be dropped is not within the scope of the Rules. That being so how does the member justify his motion?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad) : I submit that in the conclusion that is going to be arrived at I will express in that manner.

PRESIDENT : But the honourable member is speaking on a motion that the Bill be dropped. I am asking how he justifies that particular motion.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad) : No, Sir; I do not justify that.

PRESIDENT : With great reluctance I must ask the honourable member to stop his remarks at this stage and wait for another occasion when he can say what he wants to say on this Bill. The motion now is that the Bill as reported by the Select Committee be taken into consideration.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad) : Sir, I oppose that motion. I submit that this Bill would cause great hardship to the interests of agriculture in the State. For various reasons in recent times considerable difficulty and loss are being caused to cultivation.

PRESIDENT : Again, does the honourable member move that the Bill be recommitted or does he oppose the motion?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I move that the Bill be recommended.

PRESIDENT: Then you may move it as a formal motion.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I oppose the motion of the Law Member and beg to move that the Bill be recommitted.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): I rise to a point of order. We are not supplied with copies of that motion.

PRESIDENT: The honourable member will see that if a member in charge of the Bill makes a motion that it be taken up for consideration any member can move an amendment that the Bill be recommitted according to the Standing Orders. Therefore Mr. S. J. Nair is in order.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): This Bill as it is framed denies the right of the citizens of the State to cultivate the lands within their hold and for which they pay land tax as they please. So long as they enjoy a right it shall not be open to deny cultivation by an enactment. It is harmful to the interest of the citizens. Such a denial of the birth-right is not at all conducive to the interest of the vast general masses. This would go to a great extent against the free enjoyment of lands. Secondly, in recent times due to fall in prices of agricultural products, rubber plantation alone has become a profitable concern and the people who think of benefiting themselves by this sort of cultivation is sought to be denied by a ruthless legislative enactment as this. Thirdly, so far as the scope for the cultivation of rubber is concerned, the State has abundant resources. In the Indian Empire, only Travancore, Cochin and Malabar have rubber plantations. In the near future there would be a great demand for rubber in India. In Travancore, thanks to the good work that the Government have done by starting a rubber factory, I understand rubber articles are being manufactured in plenty in our factory. There is greater scope for the development of that factory by starting fresh factories in other parts of the State. India is a vast continent and if Travancore produces finished articles on rubber such as, rubber tyres, tubes, sheetings etc., I am sure there would be great demand in the Indian Empire for these articles. Travancore will be in a position to advertise her products and thereby meet Indian demand. When that becomes an accomplished fact there is great scope for rubber and for establishing additional factories in the State.

By starting additional factories in the State a great portion of the rubber that we can produce in Travancore can be consumed. Moreover the Dunlop Company has already started a rubber factory at Calcutta with a capital of 50 crores of rupees. The Dunlop Company is one of the most famous companies in the whole world. They have got plenty of money to be spent for the purpose of working out that factory. Malabar coast being the only rubber producing country in the whole of the Indian Empire and Travancore being the first and foremost country in the matter of rubber production, I am sure there will be a great demand for rubber from the Dunlop Company. So, if we view things from any point of view I am sure that the rubber cultivation alone has got a wider scope so far as the agricultural pursuits in Travancore are concerned. And such being the case the people of Travancore should not be denied the right of cultivating rubber. Now I may be asked by the Law Member or by any other gentleman that, since our Government has entered into an agreement in the matter of International Rubber Restriction Scheme whether we are not by honour bound to adhere to this piece of legislation. My submission to that is this. Government has entered into such an agreement behind the back of this Legislature. Whatever might be the conditions under which Government has entered into that agreement, so long as it has entered we are prepared to support Government. Without this piece of legislation that agreement can very well be honoured and accepted. If certain provisions are adopted to the effect that in future those who plant rubber shall not have the right of getting "quota" for the purpose of exporting rubber to foreign countries that agreement could be honoured. As a result of the agreement that we have entered into we are given the right of certain quota for the purpose of exportation. Accepting that agreement, certain other provisions could be made in the Bill by a Select Committee if it is referred to another Select Committee, in such a way as to enable all the agriculturists in the State who are desirous of doing so to cultivate rubber. A condition may be imposed that those who cultivate in future or after such and such a date shall not have the right of demanding and getting "quota." Even without quota we will have a good market for the rubber that we will be producing if we are permitted to cultivate rubber in the State. So in the interest of the agricultural development in the State and to benefit the people I request that the Bill be recommitted to a second Select Committee.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know what is it that the honourable member wants the subsequent Select Committee to do with regard to this Bill? Has he got any further directions?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedunangad): The Select Committee should amend some of the provisions of this Bill in such a way as to permit the agriculturists in Travancore who are desirous of cultivating rubber not to have the right of claiming "quota" only in respect of future plantations.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Cannot that be done by moving amendments at the second reading of the Bill?

PRESIDENT: I think the honourable member has made it perfectly clear.

The motion is not seconded. So it falls to the ground.

CLAUSE I.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedunangad): Sir, I move that:—

"In Clause I, sub-clause (3), delete the words "and for such ..... Gazette" that occur after "December 1938".

By deleting the expression the sub-clause would read like this:—

"It shall come into force on such date as Our Government may appoint in that behalf by Notification in Our Government Gazette, and thereafter, shall remain in force up to the 31st day of December 1938".

[Mr. S. J. Nair]

The object of my motion is not to give this Bill a permanency but to see that this works only as a temporary measure. It is stated in the statement of objects and reasons that this Bill was brought forward for the first time by the Law Member because the Government has entered into an agreement in the matter of International Rubber Restriction Scheme. That condition can be adhered to even if this motion is accepted. By accepting this motion the right of the people of the State to cultivate rubber in future is not denied. In the interest of the agricultural population of the State, rubber cultivation being the only profitable agricultural pursuit in the State to-day as it was sometime back and as it would be in future, it is essential on the part of the Government to see that the right of cultivation is not restricted. For that reason I move this amendment and appeal to this House to accept it.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): I rise to second the amendment. The object of the scheme is to bring the Rubber Control Bill in conformity with the Rubber Control Act in British India. By adding the Clause as is provided in the Bill "and for such..... Gazette" the Legislature is deprived of the privilege of judging and deciding, after watching the conditions which may obtain hereafter, whether the same law should be continued or revised in the light of the possibilities for the extension of and to the advantage of rubber cultivation in the State. Mr. S. J. Nair referred to the enterprise of the Dunlop Company in North India. When their scheme materialises it is expected to be a very big concern and may consume a very large quantity of the rubber that is produced in this State. The provisions of the legislation which we are now going to make should be enacted only on consideration of the circumstances prevailing at the present time. There can be no doubt that the Rubber Control Bill is essential in so far as Government has already entered into an agreement with the International Rubber Control Committee and in view of the fact that our rubber cultivators have begun to enjoy the benefit of it by getting higher prices for their produce. As it is, the terms of the agreement should continue and it will be open for revision only in 1938. How can we anticipate the condition that may prevail after 1938? Why should not the Legislature be taken into confidence by the Government by calling upon it to perform its duty after the period for which the necessity for the present scheme has arisen? To me it seems that Government should take this Assembly into its confidence 'for advising it when such a necessity arises or a revision is found necessary.

On that ground I object to the Government taking into its hands powers for continuing the operation of this Regulation for any indefinite period according to its pleasure.

MR. J. W. TOLSON (Travancore Planters): I rise to oppose the amendment of Mr. S. J. Nair. To me it seems that the honourable member Mr. S. J. Nair wants to have his cake and to eat it at the same time. As you are all well aware restriction came into being at the mutual desire of all Rubber Growers in 1934 when the price of rubber had fallen to 2½ d. It is now 8½ d. This Bill is required to implement this agreement and by its introduction the Government are carrying out their promise to the International Rubber Regulation Committee. Owing to trade depression, restriction of output has been agreed to by the producers of tea, tin and copper as well as rubber and these agreements are made for the good of all. I ask this House in considering this Bill not to look to what they can do or get now but in the spirit of appreciation of the benefits accrued and to refuse the amendments and pass the Bill as it stands. I would draw the attention of the House to the present position in India where due to restriction the producers have virtually a tariff protection for their home market. If you do away with Rubber control where does India come in? Her potential basic crop is roughly 15,000 lbs. whereas the Dutch East Indies have produced 255,000 tons; Malay 455,000 tons and Ceylon 85,300 tons.

The position would be that Travancore with 95,000 acres would lose her home markets. The crop obtainable in Travancore is from 350/400 lbs. per acre against 1000/1500 lbs. per acre in Java and Sumatra.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankad): Is it a fact that the International Restriction Scheme works in the interest of the whole established growers against small growers?

MR. J. W. TOLSON (Travancore Planters): It is for the good of all. It is not against anybody. It is maintained in the interest of all growers of rubber. The question of cost of production would undoubtedly rule her out into a care and maintenance basis. Sir, I appeal to you and to this House to pass this Bill and by so doing show the appreciation of Travancore for the benefit which has accrued to her.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Sir, I support the amendment moved by Mr. S. J. Nair. I accept all that has been said by the honourable member for the Planters' constituency. I am of opinion that we must co-operate with the International Rubber Restriction Association. The present amendment does not refer to that. It is only for the deletion of certain words which delegates to the Government the functions of this Legislature. If this is allowed it will be open to the Government to extend the period of this law to any length of time. Sir, not that I mistrust Government—I am sure that the Government will look to the interest of the general public in the matter of the extension of the period. But it will always be better that Government afford a chance of ascertaining the views of the Legislature as well as the general public before granting any such extension.

[Mr. A. S. Damodaran Asan.]

All the sides of the question could be placed before the Government by this House and it is not very difficult for Government to get the period extended through the Legislature itself. I do not find any reason why this part of the Clause should not be allowed to stand. Sir, I shall draw the attention of the House to one or two of the Clauses to show that if the power to extend the period is given to Government it is bound to work prejudicially to the interests of the planters of the country.

In Clause 4 (2) it is stated: "The total area in Travancore in respect of which permission to plant rubber may be granted shall be such area, being as nearly as may be one quarter of one per cent of the total area in Travancore which was planted with rubber plants on the 1st day of June 1934, as Our Government by Notification in Our Government Gazette, may specify in this behalf." Probably, one quarter of one per cent of the total area was prescribed with the idea that the Bill is to remain in force till the 31st December 1938. If the period is farther extended power is not given to Government to change this Clause and to increase the percentage or to alter the date "1st June 1934."

Similarly in Clause 5 (b) also we find the following: "No person shall be permitted to replant more than twenty per cent of such area in or before the 31st day of December 1938." There the restriction with regard to planting only extends till 1938. Is the restriction on replanting not to be continued at least as far as that Clause goes, after that date. I find that these two Clauses support my position. If this Clause is allowed to be passed an explanation will have to be offered by the Government in bringing forward another Bill before 1938 for extending its provisions. So I am of opinion that it will be fair to delete that part of the Clause. I might once more assure the House as well as those who are specially interested in the rubber plantation that all the institutions in the country should co-operate for the promotion of our industries.

I am for co-operation with other institutions for the promotion of our industries.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): May I know whether Mr. Asan has looked into the British Indian Act?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): In the British Indian Act also we find the same Clause. That is why it occurs here. In the statement of objects and reasons it is stated that the Law Member has adopted the provisions of the British Indian Act. But there, we find so many other provisions with regard to the export of rubber.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamthitta): Suppose it is found that on the 31st of December 1938, for the purpose of respecting the agreement to which Travancore is a party, further extension of this restriction is necessary and then, is it the member's suggestion that Government will have to bring another Bill and pass that Bill through all these stages?

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): I raise a point of order. Is it up to this House to take an independent position in regard to the year 1938 in the matter of rubber restrictions.

PRESIDENT: It is not a point of order.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): My submission with regard to this point is this. The International Rubber Restriction Association will take into consideration whether the period has to be extended or not long before the 31st December 1938. There is absolutely no reason why they must wait till the 31st December 1938 for such a step. The Government of India imposed restriction on rubber export and plantation in 1934. We are considering the same thing only now. It has been urged nowhere, either by the Rubber Restriction Scheme or by the Government of India, that this very long delay of more than two years has very much prejudiced their calculations. The Rubber Restriction Scheme is intended to restrict the export of rubber. The restriction in regard to the plantation is only an incidental step taken to assure that increase in plantation will not lead to a further demand for increasing export. We are not concerned with the export of rubber, because the Government of India has passed Regulations and we are bound to follow. We are only concerned with the restrictions of planting and when that question was considered by the Legislative Assembly, it was made clear that the restriction on plantation is made for the further assurance of restricting the export.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamattila): If such a contingency occurred is it the member's opinion that another Bill should be sought?

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum - Urban): I wish to speak a few words. My friend Mr. Asan is apprehensive of the possible course of action taken by the Government. I should also have subscribed that opinion if the Government is to be invested with authority to pass a set of rules on the subject. The rule-making power of Government does not command the appreciation of any Legislature. A few years back Lord Hewart severely criticised that power. In England it has created a good deal of dissatisfaction as it has done in Travancore or in British India.

I oppose Mr. S. J. Nair's amendment for this reason, that fixing a time is only determining a question of fact. There is no question of principle involved in it. The Government is in a better position than the Legislature to find out the conditions of trade and to enter into negotiations with other Government. The presumption is that in a matter like this, where the sole interest of Government is to prevent losses to intending planters and to ensure some kind of relief to those who have committed to it their capital, I think there is nothing wrong in permitting Government to prescribe the date. In every civilized country the attempt seems to be to place some restriction on production and even on distribution. As regards marketing conditions I maintain that unless the State is prepared to put trade under regulation, the people are bound to suffer. A rule of the road "Keep to your left" does not mean that there is any infringement in the rules of locomotion. In the same way, Government realised that it is necessary to tell intending planters

[Sadasya Tilaka T. K. Velu Pillai.]

" well, look here, if you begin to plant now it would be detrimental to your interests and to the interests of the State. Do not spend your money. Do not borrow and invest in rubber plantations". I cannot forget that when the depression was acute people who were till then rolling in wealth, those who were at the pinnacle of opulence some time ago, were obliged to borrow money for meeting ordinary demands to pay their fare to keep life going. But after the rubber control I find their faces are a true index to their prosperity. I therefore once more say that if anybody in Travancore or any set of men in Travancore plant rubber as they like, they will lose heavily and the benevolent Government; I use the word in the technical sense of the term is certainly interested in finding the actual conditions. With regard to the time I think the authority to fix it is innocuous, it is wise, and it is absolutely necessary. Therefore, Sir, I oppose the amendment.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know whether it is not worse to allow the amendment of an Act than to allow a rule-making power to Government.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum Urban): If it is a rule-making power I should have opposed it.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): The reason for promoting this Bill is that Travancore has become a party to what is called the International Rubber Restriction Scheme. British India took part in this and acted also for Travancore. We have agreed to it. Certain legislation has already been enacted in British India in furtherance of the scheme. It is our duty to pass an identical legislation here. This scheme came into operation in June 1934. We are in 1936. Any further delay on our part would be viewed as lack of sincerity. It is therefore that we have to pass a legislation which is identical with that which has been enacted in British India. All the countries that are parties to the scheme have passed laws and it is one of the terms of the common agreement that we should also pass identical legislation.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedunungad): May I know whether as a result of the agreement the people who have not got the right quota could export rubber from Travancore to British India? The answer will be much useful. The copy of the scheme is with Government. So I put the question.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, under the International Rubber Restriction Agreement Travancore has undertaken certain obligations to limit its export to other countries. Travancore has undertaken also to enact legislation for restricting cultivation. Although Travancore began to get the benefit of the scheme from June 1934, it is now more than 2 years after that we are trying to legislate. It is necessary that we pass a legislation which is identical with that passed in British India.

Mr. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know what prevented Government from expeditiously passing the legislation in 1934 without giving room for suspicion?

Mr. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): We thought that the export quota allotted to Travancore was not adequate and we were attempting to get it revised. We succeeded and then introduced the Bill.

Mr. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): Is there any guarantee that the position of our problems with regard to this matter will be the same after Travancore has entered into Federation?

Mr. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): That is far out of the province of this Bill. I am concerned only with the International Rubber Scheme.

Mr. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): Sir, a word of explanation. Now the Government has taken a certain position with regard to the International Rubber Restriction Scheme. I want the Law Member to give us an assurance, before we are called upon to vote for this provision, that the position of our problems would be the same in the year 1939. Of course if every thing goes alright Travancore would be a party to the Federation. May I know that the position of Travancore will be the same then, as it is now?

PRESIDENT: Does the honourable member ask the question assuming the possible contingency of Travancore in the All India Federation? The honourable member may elucidate his statement.

Mr. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): It is not an assumption, Sir. We know the present position of Travancore. I want to know whether there will be any change in it when she becomes the partner of the All-India Federation?

PRESIDENT: The member will please make it clear what apprehension he is entertaining so that an answer might be given him.

Mr. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): I want to know whether the attitude of the Travancore Government in regard to International Rubber Restriction Scheme will change after Travancore becomes a partner of the All-India Federation.

PRESIDENT: Before the honourable member asks for the information, he should elucidate what alteration in the position can possibly ensue as a result of Travancore joining the Federation. Unless he makes that clear, how could he expect an answer for this question? The honourable member will please elucidate his point, if he wants an answer.

Mr. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): It is seen from the Statement of Objects and Reasons of this Bill that the idea is that Travancore should fall in a line with British India in enacting a measure like this. Clause I of this Bill says that this measure will operate only till the 1st of January 1939. What are we going to do from that date? Of course, there is provision enabling the Government to extend the period of operation of this measure.

PRESIDENT: Is it the member's apprehension that Travancore will give up her right of legislation to the Federation?

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): My apprehension is that the position of Travancore will change when she joins the Federation.

PRESIDENT: Is it the idea that Travancore will extinguish herself in the matter of legislation?

Law Member.....

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trirandran-Urban): I rise to a point of order.

PRESIDENT: Law Member.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Travancore will always honour her obligations, whether she joins the Federation or not. That is the answer that I have to give to Mr. Pacode Narayana Pillai.

I was saying, Sir, that Travancore became a party to the International Rubber Restriction Scheme; she has therefore to keep up her obligations. One of the obligations is to limit the export of rubber; another is to limit the cultivation of rubber. There was also the obligation that Travancore should enact a legislation on lines identical with the legislation elsewhere. Mr. Asan was perfectly right when he said that in this matter we have practically adopted the British Indian Enactment. Clause 1 (3), of the British Indian Enactment says —

"1 (3). It shall come into force on such date as the Governor-General in Council may, from time to time, by notification in the Gazette of India, appoint."

The scheme as at present will be in operation only till the end of 1938. It is however expected that it may be extended for further periods. If so the law must continue and Government must be given the power to extend the period of this law.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Is the Law Member sure that the present agreement will not be revised in any manner?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): We cannot say. If it is revised, surely, Government will come to this House for revised legislation.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether, if the conditions of the agreement are changed, there will be any necessity for the Government to come to this House again, in the light of the provisions of this Bill?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): There may be.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Is it obligatory on the part of the Government to come to this House for any legislation?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): If the identical conditions continue, there will be no necessity for the Government to come to this House for fresh legislation, since the Government are given the power to extend the period of the present law.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVAMIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I want to speak a few words in this connection. (Louder please). The International Rubber Restriction Scheme was brought into force because it was found that the production of rubber far exceeded the demand. There was a time when there was a boom in rubber and a large area was then brought under rubber cultivation in Travancore as well as in other countries. Thus the output of rubber went on increasing in excess of the demand. No doubt there was a slight and gradual increase in demand also but the increase in production was so rapid and large that it far exceeded even the increased demand. Naturally, the price of rubber which was Re. 1 and more per pound went down to about two annas or so. The cultivators found it absolutely useless to produce any rubber because the actual cost of production was itself two annas or more. It was under such circumstances that the International Rubber Restriction Scheme was brought into force with the object of restricting production as well as export. It is not the intention of the International Rubber Restriction Scheme to keep the restriction for ever. Under the present arrangement it will operate till the end of 1936; if necessary the period may be extended for another five years or more. The time will come when the supply will become equal to the demand and the price which now rules will be stabilised. The object of the restriction is to stabilise the price at a reasonable level so that the cultivator may have a decent margin of profit. Rubber now sells at about 7 annas a pound. I think that if it sells at anything between 7 and 8 annas per pound, the cultivator will be able to make a decent profit. It is to keep the price at this level that the cultivation and the export of rubber are sought to be restricted. If before the price is stabilised the restriction is removed and people are allowed to cultivate rubber as they like, as my friend Mr. S. J. Nair wants, the production of rubber will increase and world stocks will accumulate, and naturally, as soon as the restriction is removed, the price will fall and there will again be a slump. Therefore, until a stable equilibrium is established, the restriction may have to be continued. That is why provision is made in the Bill empowering the Government to extend the operation of this measure even after the 31st December 1936. But it will be done only if the International Rubber Restriction Committee extends the period of restriction. If they do it, naturally, Travancore will have to follow suit. If stable equilibrium is reached early, there will be no necessity to extend the period of restriction at all.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Is the member aware that outsiders now come here and purchase rubber not covered by the quota system, take it away to British India and make use of it?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVAMIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Yes, they do.

MR. CHANGANACHERY K. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Kunnathur cum Pullanapuram): I oppose the amendment.

(At this stage the President left the Hall and the Deputy President took the Chair.)

It is conceded by the mover as well as by the seconder of the amendment that at least till the end of 1938 this measure should be in force. No objection has been raised with regard to that. Objection has been taken to giving the Government the power to extend the period of operation of this measure still further. The only question is whether Government could be given that power or whether they should be compelled to come before this House again in case the period of operation of this measure has to be extended.

Now, Sir, what is the factor that should determine whether the period of the operation of this Bill is to be extended or not? Certainly, it is the decision of the International Rubber Restriction Committee. If they decide to extend the period, we have also got to do it. Therefore, I do not see any reason at all why the Government should be forced to come to us again for the purpose of extending the period of operation of the same measure.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Is it the member's position that we have no right to take an independent stand?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I did not hear you, Mr. Kuriyan.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Is it the member's view that Travancore cannot take an independent attitude in this matter?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: That is a matter of opinion anyhow. If the member is inclined, he may answer.

MR. CHANGANACHERY K. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Kunnathur cum Pullanapuram): The question will be whether there is necessity for extending the restriction. This will be decided by the restriction committee and not by us. We have only to fall into line with the International Committee's decision. Mr. S. J. Nair said that every land owner should have the right to cultivate his land with rubber when the price of rubber is high. Mr. S. J. Nair forgets that the price has increased on account of restriction and if we do anything which will in any way impair the scheme of restriction the prices will again fall and there will then be no use of extending our plantations. All that we should do is to support the scheme as much as possible. Otherwise we shall be losers.

In regard to the delay in passing this measure I must say that a deputation of rubber planters waited on the Dewan and prayed that no action be taken under the scheme until the quota for Travancore is revised. The quota has now been revised. At one time it stood at eight thousand tons. Now it has been raised to twelve thousand tons. So the rubber planters have been benefited. For these reasons I think the amendment should be rejected.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedunagad): Sir, I may be allowed to explain certain matters.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : If you think that an explanation is absolutely necessary I will allow you to speak once again.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad) : I do not think that the agreement that the Government of Travancore have entered into with British India for the restriction of export of rubber should be denied. We solemnly affirm it. But all that we say is that the restriction must be for the production and export of rubber. The agreement is not a permanent agreement. It will have force only till 1938. So if my amendment is accepted it will not in any way affect the agreement. On the other hand it will benefit the interests of thousands of cultivators in this State. So I appeal to this House to accept my amendment.

The amendment was put to vote and lost.

The question that Clause I do stand part of the Bill was then put to vote and carried.

The Clause was added to the Bill.

Clause 2.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad) : Sir, I move the following amendment.

In Clause 2, sub-clause (c), add the words 'owner or' between the words 'any' and 'agent'."

If the amendment is incorporated in the sub-clause it will read as follows :

"Owner includes owner or any agent of an owner."

It is not very clear whether the sub-clause as it stands now will include the owner himself. The definition is very vague. The definition should be definite.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : Unless the member can show the difference in sense between the clause as it stands and as he seeks to amend, I shall have to rule out the amendment.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad) : Sir, the definition 'owner' as it stands in the Bill may not include owner at all. It may exclude the owner. In order to make it definite such an amendment is necessary. It is found in other legislations also.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : The honourable member will realise that it will be an unnecessary duplication of words.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad) : Sir, a definition of an expression must be very clear, logical and definite. In order to do so, I move this amendment.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I) : May I know what the member means by owner including owner?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad) : I never said like that.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : To my mind there is no meaning in saying owner including owner. I call upon the Law Member to explain the position.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAY (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil) : Sir, the Clause as it stands is alright and no change is needed.

The amendment was with the leave of the House withdrawn.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): Sir, I move the following amendment:

"In Clause 2, sub-clause (e), delete the words 'to plant' means to propagate a rubber plant from seed or any living portion of the rubber plant that may be used to propagate it and" in lines 1 and 2.

My object in moving this amendment is to say that it is unnecessary to have any definition of the words 'to plant' in view of my amendment Nos. 12 and 19 to Clauses 3 and 6 respectively of the Bill. The amendment Nos. 12 and 19 are to the effect that the planting of rubber should be excluded from the operation of the provisions of this Bill. I submit that there should not be any provision in the Bill penalising the future or the past cultivation of rubber in Travancore. It is the legal right of an owner of land to raise any kind of cultivation he likes and also to exercise the rights of ownership in any way he likes without detriment to the enjoyment of the adjacent owner. Sir, in a land like Travancore where agriculture is the main occupation of the people I submit that there should not be any legislation to restrict the cultivation of rubber. Even if the Government wish to make any restriction they may do so in respect of the exportation of rubber from Travancore.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I rise to a point of order. I request a ruling on the question whether we are to decide this issue on this motion or whether we should take it up when we come to the Clauses relating to the planting of rubber. The present Clause relates only to the definition of the expression 'to plant'.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The definition of the words 'to plant' is in any view of the case necessary. But I consider that the appropriate place for discussing the matter of restriction of cultivation will be when the House takes up the Clause that deals with planting and the restriction to planting.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): Sir, I may be allowed to explain my position. If my amendment Nos. 12 and 19 are accepted there will be absolutely no necessity for having this definition.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: That would be a case of putting the cart before the horse. We do not know whether the House will accept the other amendments or not. In any view of the case there is no harm in defining the word "to plant". If planting is to be restricted a definition is necessary and I hold that this is not the proper place for Mr. T. P. Velayudhan Pillai's amendment.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Sir, I move the following amendment.

"In Clause 2, sub-clause (e), omit the words "carrying rubber plants on the 1st day of June 1934, more than thirty rubber plants in any one acre" and substitute the words "that was planted with rubber before the 1st day of June 1934 as proved by convincing evidence."

From the speeches of the Chief Secretary to Government and the Law Member the position has been made clear that already there is more rubber than what is necessary to meet the demand and hence the necessity for the restriction. Therefore there is no need to the provision for replanting unless it is to safeguard the interests of those who had invested money in rubber plantations but was unfortunate to lose them either by neglect or wilful destruction.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: My ruling to Mr. T. P. Velayudhan Pillai's amendment applies to this amendment also. There is a Clause dealing with replanting and that would be the proper place for discussing this.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): I beg to correct, Sir. There the terms of replanting are dealt with, while I want to change the definition of the word 'replanting' itself, which is defined as "to plant in any area carrying more than 30 rubber plants in any one acre." I want a change in the definition itself.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: In view of what fact?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): In view of the principle involved namely to give some help to the planter who had invested money on rubber planting but had unfortunately lost the same.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: That is to say, irrespective of the other Clauses you want this change.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Yes, Sir.

The very fact that replanting is allowed is evidence to show that some help should be rendered to the man who had invested some money in this concern. My point is why should there be a restriction to replanting rubber only in an area of 30 rubber trees per acre. Generally in an area of one acre 100 to 250 trees could be planted. Why should a minimum of 30 be fixed? Under what principle has that been done? To me it appears, Sir, that it has been fixed arbitrarily. Once it is conceded that some help should be given to the rubber planter who had invested money and lost it, this restriction is not necessary. The rubber concern was a losing concern for a long time and as such the planter should not be put to further loss by restricting his cultivation as far as possible. If in a rubber plantation an area has been completely destroyed by wild fire or neglect of the area and if this restriction is applied, then that planter is hard hit. According to this provision the man who lost everything does not get the benefit of the law but the man who has saved 30 trees per acre gets the benefit of the law. Suppose a man had 50 acres of rubber plantation of which 25 acres have been destroyed and the rest 25 acres alone are in safe condition. According to this law he cannot replant the portion destroyed because there was wholesale destruction while the law would have allowed him to replant if he could save 30 trees per acre. The man who has incurred heavy loss by wild fire or neglect of trees, as the case may be, must have convincing records to show to prove his case that there was a plantation in existence. From my own experience I can say that several estates have been destroyed by neglect or wild fire through the carelessness of the neighbours. There have been criminal suits and suits for compensation from the opposite party in such cases. Besides there are government records collected by the revenue officers to prove the existence of neglected areas and destroyed areas. Now all these are evidences enough to convince anybody of the facts of the case.

[Mr. K. M. Kuriakose.]

Again Sir, there is another side of the question. The law does not want fresh plantations except for experimental purposes. Now if a man had planted 30 trees only in any corner of his compound, then according to this provision he is free to plant one full acre including the existing plants inspite of the fact that he had not planted that one acre previously and lost nothing. Now is that the intention of the law? The law wants only to help those who had suffered loss, while the provision as it is does not help them but at the same time helps those who do not deserve help. To me it appears to be a very incongruous situation. I therefore appeal to this House to consider this question very seriously and commend my amendment for acceptance.

MR. K. MADHAVAN (Nominated) I second it.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I oppose the amendment. "Replanting" implies that the area concerned must have already a sufficient number of trees. If in an area of 1,000 acres there is only one plant left after the destruction of the planting of the area, such an area cannot be "replanted".

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha I): What is the intention of the Regulation?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): "Replant" means, plant in an area containing more than 30 rubber plants in one acre.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): What is the significance of the number 30?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): "To replant" means to plant in any area carrying rubber plants on the 1st day of June 1934..... If Mr. Kuriakose's amendment meant "that was planted with rubber before the 1st day of June 1934" I could have understood his position.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Could not the records of the planter show the area planted.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Yes.

But Mr. Kuriakose does not suggest that the area concerned is fully planted with rubber. Is it the member's point that in the area of, say 1,000 trees, if all the trees had been destroyed excepting one, such area would be open to "replanting"? That will mean that even after the Regulation is passed everybody must be given the right to plant. If all the trees have been destroyed, how can that area be treated as a rubber estate?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): For that matter how can an area containing 30 trees be considered an estate?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Yes. That minimum has been fixed by the International Rubber Restriction Committee. It is a Committee composed of experts. So we have adopted that formula.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Am I to take it then that we are not empowered to move any amendment because experts have come to an agreement?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT The Law Member's opinion on that point will not be of any advantage to you. That is a point for the Chair to rule.

The amendment was then put to vote and lost.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Sir, I beg to move the following amendment:—

"Substitute "31st day of December 1936" for the words "1st day of June 1934" in line" 3.

The Law Member has been emphasising that we are bound to accept word by word the British Indian Act and he has very much discouraged me by that statement. At the same time I am very anxious that when some conduct on the part of the Government has already generated suspicion in some quarters. ....

DEPUTY PRESIDENT. How is the suspicion of people relevant to the discussion on the present point?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I am saying that unless my amendment is accepted there is legitimate room to feel that we have enacted a law which cannot be effectively carried out. It is stated here that replanting means "to plant in any area of one acre where there were more than 30 plants on the first day of June 1934." So to regulate replanting there must be definite and reliable data with regard to the area carrying rubber plants on the first day of June 1934. In the absence of any such data on that question it is impossible to effectively carry out the provisions contained in Sections 4 and 5 of the Bill. With regard to our statistics of the cultivation of rubber we find that it is thoroughly unreliable. It is not proper to pass any legislation which would materially affect the parties on the basis of such statistics. I am just referring to the statistics of the Travancore Government for the years 1108 and 1109. In 1108 the area under rubber cultivation was 59,832 acres while in 1109 it was 95,832 acres and so there is a disparity of more than 36,000 acres, an error going up to about 60 or 70 per cent. This is not a matter which is strictly confidential. Even when the Rubber Control Bill was under discussion in the Legislative Assembly this incorrectness of the Travancore figures has been pointed out and that was advanced as a ground for revising the quota in South India. When that is the kind of accounts on which we have to proceed it is not proper that we must allow the first day of June 1934 to stand in the statute book. Much was heard with regard to giving retrospective operation in legislation. But here what we are asked to do is to forget for a moment or to forget for ever that on the first day of June 1934 a much larger area was brought under cultivation. That, I submit, will tell upon the good faith of the Travancore Government.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: You may be justified in questioning the correctness of the figures but not the good faith of the Government.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara) : Not that I am questioning. Somebody else is likely to question. That is what I am submitting. There is every reason to suspect that. When there were persons to suspect the good faith of the Government even for the delay in bringing forward this Bill, is it not possible that there would be so many other persons who entertain reasonable suspicions on the basis of the publications of the Travancore Government itself. Let us proceed upon facts and figures. So, my submission is that it is better to substitute 31st day of December 1936 instead of first day of June 1934.

MR. PACODE P. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod) : I second it.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additionel Head Sirkar Pukil) : I oppose this amendment. The effect of this amendment will be that plantations made after 1st June 1934 and before 1936 must be treated as legitimate plantations and it is also suggested that there are such plantations. That is a position which the Government cannot accept for a moment. The International Restriction Scheme was agreed to in May 1934 and came into operation on 1st June 1934. Therefore all the restrictions of production are sought to be related to that date. The restriction with regard to the cultivation of rubber is also sought to be related to the 1st of June 1934. If we have to conform to the agreement that Travancore Government has entered into we must legislate to the effect that replanting must be defined as relating to an area carrying 30 plants on the first of June 1934. That is the day that has been adopted in the Indian Act too even though the Indian Act was passed subsequent to that date. The Indian Act was passed on the 31st of August 1934. Even that Act has adopted 1st June 1934. The reason for that is obvious, because all the parties agreed that the scheme should come into operation on the first of June 1934 and that restriction with regard to cultivation also should come into operation on that date. That is the reason why we also adopt that date. The question of statistics has nothing to do with it. The Committee will enquire into each individual case; and see whether there were 30 plants or not in June 1934. On this point the statistics will not be of any use. When an application is made by an individual estate owner, an enquiry will be made with regard to that estate and if it is found that there were 30 trees on the specific date the application be allowed. As for the practical difficulty in ascertaining the number of trees on a previous date, that cannot be helped. But the members of the Committee are experts and they will ascertain it from the age of the trees perhaps. The important point to be borne in mind is that the scheme should come into operation with effect from the first day of June 1934 if we are to conform to the International Agreement.

MR. J. W. TOLSON (Travancore Planters) : The Rubber Restriction Scheme came into operation from the 1st day of June 1934. The Rubber Licensing Committee enquired into the acreage of rubber cultivation and on the figures supplied them quotas are assigned. Therefore although the Committee may be enquiring in 1936 they know exactly what area was planted in 1934.

The question of costs of production would undoubtedly rule her out into acre and maintenance basis.

Sir, I appeal to you and to this House to pass this Bill and by so doing show the appreciation of Travancore for the benefits which have accrued to her.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Muvetikara): I wish to withdraw the amendment.

The amendment by leave was withdrawn.

The question that Clause 2 do form part to the Bill was then put and carried.

The Clause was added to the Bill.

PART II.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, I move that — “in the heading under Part II, delete the word that exists between “Control” and “Extension” and add the word “over”.

The word that we find in the Bill is neither English, Latin nor Malayalam. The word as it stands is “over”.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I think it is a clear matter.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I want to make it clear.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): That is a clerical mistake and I accept the amendment with thanks.

Clause 3.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): Sir, I move that:—
In clause 3 delete the words “shall plant rubber plants in any land or” in lines 1 and 2.

My object in moving this amendment is that it is unnecessary to have any legislation restricting the cultivation of rubber plant. Amendment No. 19 is also to have the same effect.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: That is Clause 6. We are not concerned with that. Now proceed to Clause 3.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): Sir, my attempt is to exclude the cultivation of rubber from the operation of this Regulation. It is the legal right of the owner of every land to raise cultivation in his land in any way he likes. It is the legal right of the owner of every land to exercise the right of ownership as he likes. So there should not be any provision in the statute book restricting his right.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Sir, I rise to a point of order. Having agreed to the principle of the Bill can the House go back upon that?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I don't think there is any point of order in that. Mr. Velayudhan Pillai was advancing only a particular argument. He does not say that the House has no jurisdiction to take up this measure for discussion. And I rule that the amendment is in order.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): In a country like Travancore where agriculture is the main occupation of the people I believe that it is inequitable and unjust to legislate any provision restricting cultivation. That is my submission, Sir. If Government wish to make any restriction with regard to rubber cultivation they may do so by restricting the exportation of rubber from the newly planted area Sir, so far as I am aware the Rubber Restriction Scheme relates only to the exportation of rubber to foreign places from British India. So, I say there is no harm in allowing the land owner in Travancore to cultivate rubber in his land. If it is restricted much harm may be caused to many, because I know as a matter of fact that several people in Travancore have registered lands in their names and have also purchased land from others for the purpose of cultivation.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): Is there any other purpose served by rubber trees?

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): Rubber trees are made useful for growing pepper. Even for tapping the land owner may be allowed to grow rubber plants. He need not be given the quota certificate. He may get the benefit by selling the rubber in Travancore itself or in British India.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: May I know whether it will not affect the price?

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): No, Sir. It will not affect the price. Restriction applies only to exportation from British India to foreign places. Those who have registered lands in their name could not cultivate rubber in those lands on account of the prevailing economic depression. Now, days are better and they have got an idea to begin cultivation as originally desired.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Sir, the Restriction Scheme restricts only the export?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: It is not a matter of opinion. It is a matter of fact. Mr. Kuriyan will modify his question.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Sir, I want to know whether the Restriction Scheme restricts export or production?

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): If the scheme restricts production it is illegal. Sir, to continue what I was saying, Government are realising every year the tax on the lands registered or purchased for rubber plantation from the land owners. Now these lands are lying waste. People have of late found out that rubber cultivation is a profitable occupation. At such a juncture Government are going to enact a law restricting the citizens of the State from cultivating rubber in their own lands; it is highly unjust. I appeal to the members of this House to accept my amendment.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Is there any honourable member to second it?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I second it. In doing so, I submit for the information of this House that there are various instances where in certain compounds where there are no trees rubber plants are being planted and people grow pepper on those trees. So rubber plants are very useful in cultivating pepper vines. Sir, the Rubber Restriction applies only to the export of rubber and not production. Suppose a great European war breaks out to-morrow and we get a big demand then for our rubber and rubber articles. But if this Bill is passed into law we become unable to cope with that demand. Moreover there are Rubber Factories in British India besides one that we have got here. There is a Dunlop Factory in Calcutta; and in Mysore also there is a factory. We can supply the raw materials to these factories. And in India, only in the Malabar coast rubber is grown. We have to supply rubber for the whole of the Indian Empire. So my submission is that the cultivation of rubber should be respected and not restricted. Restriction should apply in regard only to the quota system. With these words I support the amendment.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I oppose this motion. At the outset I may say that restriction of planting is an integral part of the Agreement. The Rubber Restriction Scheme was brought into existence with the agreement of all the participating countries. The scheme is not merely to restrict exportation of rubber but also to restrict production of rubber. Unless that is also retained, the scheme will become fruitless. One object of the scheme is to bring down the stocks of rubber, so that prices may be remunerative. For that purpose too production must be restricted. And it is an essential part of the scheme that each country should export only a limited quantity and should not make any further fresh planting. To bring the scheme to a success Travancore also must respect it and pass suitable legislation.

MR. J. W. TOLSON (Travancore Planters): Sir, I think it is very unjust to keep away from the scheme of restriction of rubber by deleting this particular provision from the Bill. Travancore is a country which has benefited by restriction. It cannot stand aloof when the outside nations are combining for the common economic welfare of all. For the rubber industry prosperous days are ahead owing to the operation of the Rubber Restriction Scheme. We must be thankful to the Restriction Committee and agree to help and carry out the scheme which is for the good of all.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know from the member whether the general public are interested by the raising of the price of rubber?

MR. J. W. TOLSON (Travancore Planters): Certainly they will be benefited in an indirect way.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and lost.

Clause 3 was then put to vote and passed and was added to the Bill.

Clause 4.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, I move that:—

In clause 4, sub-clause (1), delete the words "intended for the cultivation of rubber plants for exclusively, experimental purposes and such area shall in every case be limited to the area necessary for such purposes", and add "under ten acres." If my amendment is accepted Clause 4 (1) would read like this:— "Permission under Section 3 to plant rubber plants shall be granted only in respect of an area under ten acres." As the Clause now stands only the existing rubber planters are permitted to continue rubber planting hereafter. In other words, all those people, who are not rubber planters at present are permanently excluded from cultivating rubber in future.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I raise a point of order. This is going against the substantial decision that the House has arrived at already.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): The House has not decided the point.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Yes, it has been substantially decided.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): In which amendment, Sir?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): In Clause 2.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The amendment may be new. But what is inside the amendment? It is not to restrict the production of rubber.

The member may have the opportunity to extend the scope of his opposition but it is now 5 O' clock. The House will now adjourn and meet again at 11 A. M. to-morrow as usual.

The House adjourned at 5'2 P. M.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Sale of timber by the Forest Department.

56. * MR. S. J. NAIR (Nelunangad): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether the system of the wholesale disposal of timber was in vogue in the Forest Department before the advent of the present Conservator of Forests;

(b) when the above system was introduced;

(c) whether, in the case of the wholesale disposal of timber, the contractors who bid the timber in auction pay up the whole amount before the auction is confirmed in their names;

(d) if the answer to part (c) is in the negative, why it is done so;

(e) how many contractors have given tender and how many of them bid the timber in wholesale auction in the Forest Department in the years 1105, 1106, 1107, 1108, 1109, 1110 and 1111 M. B.;

(f) the names of the above contractors; and

(g) whether those contractors are foreigners or Travancoreans?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): (a) Yes.

(b) About 50 years ago.

(c) Yes. The contractors pay up the amounts as per conditions of the sale notices and agreements entered into with them.

(d) In view of the answer to part (c), this does not arise.

(e) A *list containing the names of successful and unsuccessful tenderers as could be gathered from the records of the Conservator's Office is placed on the table.

(f) and (g) The details are given in the list placed on the table.

* Vide Appendix I—pages 244 to 246.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, with reference to the answer to part (e) given in Appendix I, may I know who are the persons in the list who bid timber in the wholesale auction?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Sir, the list contains the names of the persons who purchased the sale either by tender or by auction.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, my question is whether Government are in a position to tell me who are the persons who bid it in wholesale auction and not in tender.

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): It is for smaller areas that the right is sold in auction. It is not possible to collect separate statistics.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): The object of my question is not realised.

PRESIDENT: Questions are not to be asked for the purpose of showing anything other than elucidating information.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the Government are in a position to give me exactly the number of persons who bid the timber in the wholesale auction of the Forest Department?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): I claim notice.

Subordinates in the inferior service promoted to the superior service.

57. * MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government be pleased to state the names of the qualified permanent subordinates in the inferior service who were appointed in the superior service, whether acting or permanent, in the Revenue Department during 1111?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner):

A *statement containing the information is laid on the table.

Jurisdictions of the Alleppey and Ambalapuzha Munsiffs' Courts.

58. * MR. K. M. KRISHNAN (Ambalapuzha II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether any recommendations have been made to make changes in the present jurisdictions of the Alleppey and the Ambalapuzha Munsiffs' Courts;

(b) if the answer to part (a) is in the affirmative, what are the recommendations made;

(c) whether any representation has been made by the public of Vadakkal and other places in the Alleppey pakuthi protesting against the transfer of the Alleppey pakuthi from the jurisdiction of the Alleppey Munsiffs' Court to that of the Ambalapuzha Munsiffs' Court;

(d) the distance from Vadakkal and other places in the Alleppey pakuthi to the Alleppey Munsiffs' Court and the Ambalapuzha Munsiffs' Court, respectively; and * Vide Appendix II—pages 247 to 248.

(c) whether the transfer of the Alleppey pakuthi to the jurisdiction of the Ambalapuzha Munsiff's Court will not cause much inconvenience and trouble to the litigant public of that locality?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) Yes.

(b) The transfer of the Pulineunna pakuthi from the jurisdiction of the Ambalapuzha Munsiff's Court to that of the Alleppey Munsiff's Court.

(c) No.

(d) A *statement containing the information required is laid on the table.

(e) This does not arise in view of the fact that there is no proposal to transfer the Alleppey pakuthi to the jurisdiction of the Ambalapuzha Munsiff's Court.

MR. K. M. KRISHNAN (Ambalapuzha II): As regards the answer to part (b), may I know what order has been passed on the recommendation of the transfer of the Pulineunna pakuthi to the jurisdiction of the Alleppey Munsiff's Court?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The order has been passed that the matter will lie over.

MR. K. M. KRISHNAN (Ambalapuzha II): May I know why it is to lie over?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Because Government transferred the court to Ambalapuzha only very recently, and it is too early to think of making any change in the jurisdiction of that court.

Electric supply to Neyyattinkara municipal town.

59. * MR. N. K. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara I): Will the Government be pleased to state whether there is a proposal to transmit electric power from Trivandrum to the Neyyattinkara municipal area, and, if so, the particulars regarding the said proposal, and what stage the said proposal has reached?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Yes. The proposal is to transmit power from the Trivandrum Station by high tension overhead lines over a distance of eleven miles, step down the voltage at Neyyattinkara and construct about 10 miles of distribution lines in that town to cover many of the important routes. An estimate prepared by the Executive Engineer, Electrical Division, has been received by the Electrical Engineer to Government and is receiving his attention. The Electrical Engineer expects to submit his report to Government very shortly.

MR. N. K. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara I): May I know the amount of the estimate in the Electrical Engineer's proposal?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): I am not in a position to give the information as the estimate is only under preparation by the Electrical Engineer.

Deputation of Mr. Dwarakanath Aiyangar for higher studies in Ayurveda

60. *MR. N. K. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether they incur any expenditure and if so what, consequent on sending one Mr. Dwarakanath Aiyangar for higher studies in Ayurveda; and

(b) if the answer to part (a) is in the affirmative, (i) whether that individual is a Travancorean, (ii) his qualifications?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) Financial aid to the extent of Rs. 1,500 has been sanctioned to Mr. Dwarakanath Aiyangar.

(b) (i) No.

(ii) L. I. M., of the Government School of Indian Medicine, Madras. He is also a scholarship holder for research work in Ayurveda from the German (Deutsche) Academy tenable at the Faculty of Medicine, Hamburg University.

MR. N. K. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara I): May I know the special reasons for selecting an outsider for this purpose?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): There is no Travancorean who has the same qualifications and who has already undergone some training in Germany.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether Government took the initiative or himself applied for financial help?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): He applied and on enquiry Government were satisfied with his bona fides.

61. *MR. N. K. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether the fact that, near the 1st mile, 4th furlong in the Neyyattinkara-Poorar road, a portion of the road is from year to year submerged under water during the rains, causing considerable hardship to the public in general, has been brought to the notice of Government by means of interpellations in the Assembly and the Council and, if so, what action was taken in the matter; and

(b) whether an estimate was prepared, and, if so, when?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): (a) and (b) Yes. An estimate was sanctioned for the work in May 1936.

MR. N. K. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara I): May I know the amount of the estimate sanctioned for the work?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Rs. 4,580.

MR. N. K. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara I): May I know Sir, whether the work has been already started?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): No.

MR. N. K. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara I): May I know whether the work will be started this year?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Yes, if the lands are acquired and handed over.

The Pallikkal Traces.

62. *MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): With reference to the conversion of the trace from Pallikkal in the Chirayinkil taluk to Velinalloor in the Kottarakara taluk, into a cartable road, will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether the Chief Engineer or the Division Officer concerned has received any representation from the people during 1110 or 1111 M. B ;

(b) if so, the action taken on the representation; and

(c) whether the Division Officer concerned or the Assistant Engineer inspected the trace last year (1110) or this year (1111)?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): (a) Yes.

(b) As the work was ordered to lie over, no action was taken on the representation.

(c) No.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): With reference to answer (b) may I know why the work was ordered to be left over?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Because the estimated cost is very high.

Copyists in Magistrates' Courts.

63. *MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government be pleased to state the names of permanent copyists in the Magistrates' Courts included in the list of acting clerks?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Names of permanent copyists in the Magistrates' Courts are not included in the list of acting clerks, except the names of those who have been promoted as such.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the copyists in the Magistrates' Courts are promoted as clerks in the Department.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Yes, if they have the necessary qualifications.

Construction of culverts in Nooranañ.

64. *MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether the Government or the Chief Engineer has received a memorial dated 21-10-1111 from the inhabitants of Edappon, Palimel, etc., in Nooranañ, Mavelikara taluk, for the construction of a few culverts on a road that has been improved by them; and

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): We have to carry out some investigations for the work and for that we want boring tools that are being used at present elsewhere.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): May I know whether at any time an estimate was prepared?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): No, there has been a rough estimate in which it was stated that the cost would be something over 50,000 rupees. Moreover there is another crossing proposed to be bridged.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Rs. 2,33,000 is the reason. That was the amount of the estimate prepared and therefore the work has been allowed to lie over.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): It is proposed to shift all the courts to this site.

LEGISLATIVE BUSINESS.

THE TRAVANCORE RUBBER CONTROL BILL.—(concluded)

Clause 4.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedunungad):

I was speaking last evening on my amendment to sub-clause (1) of Clause 4.

The object of my amendment is that whenever one finds it necessary to cultivate rubber plants, he may get the necessary sanction to do so. This would give an equal chance for all cultivators of the State to take to the cultivation of rubber, whether he be a planter or not. Sir, according to the International Rubber Restriction Scheme, it is intended to regulate the production and export of rubber. Even if this clause is amended, as I propose it to be amended, it would not in any way infringe the conditions of that agreement at all. I find that it would help the ordinary cultivators in the State to continue cultivation of rubber in a moderate and modest scale. So I move this amendment for the acceptance of this House.

The amendment fell through for want of seconding.

The question that clause 4 do stand part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The Clause was added to the Bill.

Clause 5.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Neelumangudi): Sir, I move that—

Clause 5 be deleted and the subsequent clauses be re-numbered appropriately

Clause 5 in this Bill is capable of doing much mischief to the interests of the agriculturists in this State and also to the planters themselves. They are not given the freedom of choice to cultivate their lands as they please. In other words, this provision cuts the fundamental rights of the citizens to the root in their choice to cultivate their lands as they please, to plant any plant in their land as they desire. In Travancore the rubber plantation had been done in the first instance at the instance of the European Planters. They were the pioneers in the field of Rubber Plantations and we are much thankful for the demonstrations that they have set up in Travancore in this direction of agriculture. They have shown that there is the possibility of such an agricultural industry in this State. But when Travancoreans also found that of all the cultivations in the State rubber planting is the most profitable avocation in life, they too began to pursue that cultivation. But even now the major portion of the area under rubber plantations is in the hands of the European Planters. So in the interests of the ordinary agriculturists in the State, I humbly submit to this House that Clause 5 may be deleted from this Bill.

Mr. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Sir, I support the amendment, but on grounds different from those advanced by Mr. S. J. Nair. The House will remember that yesterday I moved an amendment to effect a modification in Clause 2, sub-clause (c), with regard to the provision for the explanation of the word "replant"? I would have opposed if all areas which were under cultivation at one time were allowed to be replanted according to the provision mentioned in Section 5. But that argument was opposed by saying that only areas consisting of thirty rubber plants per acre are to be considered as an estate. What is the meaning of the term "to replant"? Does it not presuppose that there was already an existing plantation? To say that only an area consisting of thirty rubber plants per acre alone should be permitted to be replanted seems to me, Sir, rather a very hard provision. It eventually brings out a case, wherein a man who has lost everything is not given any protection, whereas a man who has been able to save a few trees is given the benefit of the law.

As conditions now stand there is no necessity for any further extension of cultivation unless it be to give some help to those who suffered heavy loss during depression time owing to neglect or misfortune.

I could have supported a provision prohibiting replanting altogether. This provision enabling some persons to replant with permission, I take it, is intended, to safeguard the interests of those who have lost the money that they had invested. But the definition contained in Clause 2 (c) takes away that right so far as those persons who have unfortunately lost all their plants are concerned. Therefore I do not see why this Clause should find a place in this Bill.

Already we have more plants than we need, and we are thinking of restrictions. Therefore I do not see why there is any necessity to allow replanting at all. The provision appears to be a little bit incongruous. I would therefore oppose it.

With these words, I support the amendment.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I oppose this amendment. At the outset I may say that this amendment defeats the very object of this Bill. Clause 3 which has already formed part of the Bill says:

"So long as this Regulation remains in force, no person shall plant rubber plants in any land, or replant any land with rubber plants, save in pursuance of a written permission granted by or on behalf of the Committee under this Regulation".

So, unless there is a provision in this Bill for permission being granted for replanting, we would in effect be absolutely prohibiting replanting. Therefore, now that we have passed Clause 3, Clause 5 is absolutely necessary.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Luvaitupuzha II): When already we have enough of rubber plantations, where is the necessity to allow replanting?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): My friend should have proposed an amendment to Clause 3 when that was before the House. Now we have adopted Clause 3. Therefore Clause 5 is necessary.

Apart from that, replanting is to be allowed only subject to certain conditions. Those conditions are laid down in sub-clauses (a) and (b) of Clause 5. Those sub-clauses are mere reproductions of the terms of the agreement entered into under the International Rubber Restriction Scheme. Having been a party to that agreement, we have to enact the necessary legislative provisions to carry out the terms of the agreement. This is all that is proposed to be done. I may inform the House that the provision also is exactly the same as the one contained in the British Indian Enactment. I therefore oppose the amendment.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and lost.

The question that Clause 5 do stand part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The Clause was added to the Bill.

CLAUSES 6 TO 19.

The question that Clauses Nos. 6 to 19 do stand part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The Clauses were added to the Bill.

Preamble.

The question that the Preamble do stand part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The Preamble was added to the Bill.

Title.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangud): Sir, I move that:—

The word 'temporary' be added between the words 'the' and 'control' in line 1.

I want the Title to read as follows:—

"A Regulation to provide for the temporary control of the extension of the cultivation of rubber in Travancore and for certain connected matters."

As it is, it would appear that the enactment is a permanent measure, restricting the right of the people to cultivate rubber for all time to come. Sir, rubber cultivation, it has been found, is the only profitable agricultural pursuit in the State. It is therefore not desirable that the people are permanently shut out from it. That would be a great hardship and severe injustice and handicap.

It has been stated in the Reasons and Objects of this Bill that the Bill has been introduced on behalf of the Government in order to honour the agreement that the Government have entered into with the British Indian Government in the matter of the International Rubber Restriction Scheme. Certainly, that agreement must be honoured; and the Law Member was quite right in bringing forward this measure. We also agree. But once the agreement has been honoured, why should the rights of the people be restricted for ever?

PRESIDENT: Does the honourable member suggest that by changing the title of the Bill, as he now proposes, the provisions of the Bill would be altered?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangud): That is my humble view, Sir (Laughter).

The amendment fell through for want of seconding.

The question that the Title do stand part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The Title was added to the Bill.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): No amendment having been made at the second reading, I beg to move that the Bill be finally passed.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

The motion was put to vote and carried.

The Bill was passed.

THE TRAVANCORE ANCIENT MONUMENTS PRESERVATION BILL.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I beg to present the report of the Select Committee on the Travancore Ancient Monuments Preservation Bill, and beg to move that the Bill as reported be taken into consideration.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

The motion was carried.

Clauses 1 and 2.

The question that Clauses 1 and 2 do stand part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The Clauses were added to the Bill.

Clause 3.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I beg to move the following amendment:—

In Clause 3, sub-clause (3), add at the close and before the full stop "by publication in the Government Gazette and notice to the persons who have preferred objections to the notification under sub-section (2)".

Sir, sub-clause (2) of Clause 3 says:—

"(2) A copy of every notification published under sub-section (1) shall be fixed up in a conspicuous place on or near the monument, together with an intimation that any objections to the issue of the notification received by Our Government within one month from the date when it is so fixed up will be taken into consideration".

Sub-clause (1) says:—

"(1) Our Government may, by notification in Our Government Gazette, declare an ancient monument to be a protected monument within the meaning of this Regulation".

In sub-clause (3) of Clause 3, it is stated:—

"(3) On the expiry of the said period of one month, Our Government, after considering the objections, if any, shall confirm or withdraw the notification".

There is no direction that notice must be given to the persons who prefer objections, and to the public in general as to whether the notification under sub-clause (1) has been withdrawn or not.

Sir, this is a matter which is likely to affect vitally the interests of the owner as well as the general public. In sub-clause (4) it is stated that a notification published under sub-clause (1) shall, unless and until it is withdrawn, be conclusive evidence of the fact that the monument to which it relates is an ancient monument within the meaning of this Regulation. So, when the first notification which could be said only to be an interim-notification is to be published in the Government Gazette and objections are allowed to be put in, the final notification is not to be published in the Gazette. I think that this is a fundamental defect with regard to the publication of the notification. We find that under Clause 17 a penalty is imposed upon those who destroy, remove, injure, alter, deface or imperil a protected monument. When the rights of the public are generally restricted under Section 17, I feel that it is only advisable that a notification is published after the order is made absolute. With these words, I move the amendment.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I second it.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I have no serious objection to the amendment but I do not see the purpose of it. Mr. Damodaran Asan apprehends that the interest of the owner will be affected by a notification under Clause 3 (1). I do not know how it will be affected. He quoted Section 17 and said that it will be affected. That Section will come in only when the owner has given an agreement to the Government. Unless he has given an agreement, his interest will not be affected. If the House wants the amendment I am willing to accept it.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Does not Section 17 impose a penalty upon other persons as well?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): What Section 17 says is that any person other than the owner who destroys, removes, injures, alters, defaces or imperils a protected monument shall be punishable. Why does he go and injure another man's monument? It is not his property and he has nothing to do with it. The object of Clause 3 is only to give authority to the Division Peishkar.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know why the rights of ordinary citizens and of the owner be restricted in this manner?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): The rights are not restricted. Immediately the notification is issued, authority will be conferred on the Division Peishkar to negotiate with the owner. That is the effect of Clause 3.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and lost.

The question that Clause 3 do stand part of the Bill was then put to vote and carried.

Clause 4.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): Sir, I move the following amendment—

"In Clause 4, sub-clause (1) for the words 'Division Peishkar', substitute the word 'Commissioner'."

As amended, the sub-clause will read as follows:—

"The Commissioner, with the sanction of Our Government, may purchase or take a lease of any protected monument."

The word 'Commissioner' has been defined in Clause 2(3) as including an officer authorised by Our Government to perform the duties of a Commissioner under this Regulation. That sub-clause shows that Government propose to appoint or to invest the powers of a Commissioner in some officer or officers.

C.I. Coming to Clause 4, under the first sub-clause we see that the Division Peishkar is given power to purchase or take a lease of any protected monument. Again in sub-clause (2) the Division Peishkar is given power to accept a gift or bequest of any protected monument. Under sub-clause (3) the owner may constitute the Commissioner as the guardian of the monument. That is to say when the question of looking after the monument is taken up the Commissioner is given the power and not the Division Peishkar. Again under sub-clause (6) it is stated that where a protected monument is without an owner, the Commissioner may assume the guardianship of the monument.

Coming to the latter part of the Bill, we see that Clause 12 reads as follows:

"(1) The Commissioner shall maintain every monument in respect of which Our Government has acquired any of the rights mentioned in Section 4 or which Our Government has acquired under Section 10."

Again Clause 13 reads:

"The Commissioner may receive voluntary contributions towards the cost of maintaining a protected monument and may give orders as to the management and application of any funds so received by him."

Thus, throughout the Regulation the Commissioner appointed under the Regulation is invested with powers to maintain the monument and to accept the gift of a monument. Under Clause 4(3) the Commissioner is given power to accept the guardianship of the protected monument. Even when there is no owner it is the Commissioner that is the guardian and not the Division Peishkar. Thus a distinction is sought to be made in the Bill between the Commissioner and the Division Peishkar. I do not find any necessity for such a distinction. If the Government propose to appoint an officer as Commissioner or invest an officer with the powers of the Commissioner it is better that the Commissioner is given all those powers. He will have better knowledge than the Division Peishkar. The Division Peishkar, as seen to-day, has got manifold duties; he has his duties under the Criminal Procedure Code; he has to attend to the revenue matters of his Division. He will find no time or very little time to attend to these duties imposed on him under this Bill. So I think it is better that the powers invested in the Division Peishkar be given to the Commissioner. With these words, I move this amendment.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I second it.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I oppose the amendment. It will be seen from the Clauses referred to by Mr. Sivaraman Nair that the function of the Peishkar is to deal with the owners and other people in order that Government may get dominion over the monument. After the dominion is secured, the Commissioner comes in and deals with the other matters. The Commissioner is not a man who is expected to be conversant with the art of dealing with the people. The District Officer is to do that. The Commissioner is like a doctor or an engineer who has to do with the technical side. After the monument is secured by Government the Commissioner begins his function.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Is the Peishkar accustomed to do that until this Regulation comes into force?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): He is accustomed to deal with people. For instance he attends to leases and assignment of lands. At any rate the Division Peishkar is supposed to be competent to deal with the acquisition of land.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and lost.

The question that Clause 4 do stand part of the Bill was then put to vote and carried.

Clause 5.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Sir, I move the following amendment:—

"In Clause 5, omit sub-clause (8)".

Sub-clause (8) reads thus:

"Any rights acquired by Our Government in respect of expenses incurred in protecting or reserving a monument shall not be affected by the termination of an agreement under this Section."

Under the agreement as provided for in the previous sub-clause expenses might be incurred by the owner or by the Government. The agreement could be terminated either by the owner or by the Government. What is stated in sub-clause (8) is that where an agreement is terminated at the instance of the Government or at the instance of the party, Government could recover any expenses incurred by them. I do not know why a similar benefit should not be given to the owner. If the Government are particular of having this right it is better to have it entered in the agreement and not provide for it in the statute. It is usual that in all agreements entered into by Government, clauses favourable to Government and against the contracting party are put in. The attempt made here is to secure for Government all rights without making similar provision to safeguard the right of the private persons. My submission is that Government can secure their rights in the agreement itself. There is no necessity to have it in the clause which confers only a one-sided benefit upon the Government.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I second it.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I oppose the amendment. It is based on a mis-conception. On a careful perusal of sub-clause (8) it will be seen that it has to be proved that the Government had acquired a right. That right can be acquired only if there is a term in the agreement.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): If there is a term in the agreement then where is the necessity for this Section?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): To make the meaning of the Section more clear. Even though the agreement is terminated the right acquired by Government will not be lost. That is the idea.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): If there is a clause in the agreement that any right of the owner on account of the expenses incurred by him for the preservation of the monument can be insisted on, will that be enforceable by him? May I know whether that right should not be protected?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): It should be protected.

(At this stage the Deputy President took the Chair).

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Does not sub-clause (f) of Clause 5 refer to the owner incurring the expenses on behalf of the preservation of the monument?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I do not think it refers to the incurring of expenses under the agreement. If Mr. Asan would like to have a separate amendment for this purpose I have no objection.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Is there not one incongruity in enacting this sub-section (8) which reads as follows:—

“Any rights acquired by Our Government in respect of expenses incurred in protecting or preserving a monument shall not be affected by the termination of an agreement under this Section”.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): No. The object of this Section is to see that the right of Government is not lost even if it chooses to cancel the agreement.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Am I to understand that if an owner spends money for the preservation of a monument the Government can cancel their agreement on their own accord and not protect the citizen's right but take care to secure the Government's right? Is that the position?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): The position is this. There is the agreement between the Government and the owner of the monument. The agreement is for preserving the monument concerned. If at any time the agreement is cancelled and if even this clause does not find a place it is still open to Government to insist on their rights. For the sake of clearness such a clause is expressly put in to remove all doubts whatever. After the termination of the agreement the right of Government should not be lost.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Government will declare the monument to be a public one even if the owner has spent money for the preservation of it. Is that the position?

Further should it be open to Government who have contributed nothing for the preservation of the monument to terminate the agreement by giving notice to the owner? Is such a procedure proper for Government?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Though a private man has contributed something for the maintenance of the monument, protection work has to be done only by Government.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Am I to take it that the monument is to be declared as a public one at the expense of the owner?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I think there is some misconception so far as the position of Government is concerned.

If it is the desire of Mr. Asan to bring forward an amendment to protect the right of the owner I have no objection. Government are not anxious to put the owner to loss.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): I may be permitted to move the amendment No. 10.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Is that connected with this Clause?

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): Yes, Sir.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Then you can move the amendment.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): I move that:—

In Clause 5, sub-clause (3) insert after the word "Government" the words "or the owner".

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I second it.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I accept it provided the House agrees to it.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Does the House agree to this amendment?

The House agreed.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): I would like to move the amendment No. 6.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Yes.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): I move the following amendment:—

In Clause 5, sub-clause 2 (d), insert the words "or Commissioner" after the words "Division Peishkar".

With this amendment the Clause will read thus:—

"(d) the facilities of access to be permitted to the public or to any portion of the public and to persons deputed by the owner or the Division Peishkar or the Commissioner to inspect or maintain the monument".

This Clause relates to the agreement which will be entered into with the owners of the monument by the Government. The Law Member stated when the former amendment was moved that the Commissioner would be maintaining the monuments as soon as the agreement has been executed or after the monument has been taken up by the Government it will be the Commissioner who will be looking after the monument. It is so provided in this Bill. This Clause gives the particulars that is to be found in the agreement. Clause (d) relates to the facilities of access given to the public or to the Division Peishkar or to any of his nominees. But the Clause does not provide for the Commissioner or his nominees any facility to go and inspect the monument. After the agreement is entered into, the Division Peishkar will have nothing to do with the monument. But it is the Commissioner who has to maintain it. It is necessary therefore that the Commissioner or his nominee be given power to inspect the monument and see whether things are properly done.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I second it.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): So far as the Commissioner is concerned he will get all the powers under the Regulation. There is no necessity for providing powers to the Commissioner under the agreement. I therefore oppose it.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and lost.

The question that Clause 5 as amended do stand part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

Clause 5 as amended was added to the Bill.

Clause 6.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): I beg to move the following amendment:—

In Clause 6, sub-clause 3, line 3, omit the word "periodically".

This Clause relates to the power of making the agreement. When the owner is an infant or lunatic this Clause gives power to the guardian to enter into agreement with the Government as regards a protected monument. The Clause reads as follows:—

"If the owner is unable, by reason of infancy or other disability, to act for himself the person legally competent to act on his behalf may exercise the powers conferred upon an owner by Section 5.....".

I object to the word "periodically" occurring in Clause 6 (3). Even if that word is not there the Section will read well. The word periodically means at regular intervals. If a monument is not used for worship at regular intervals there is the likelihood of Government interfering. In whatever way and at whatever time a monument is used for worship, that is to say, whether it is used periodically or not for worship Government should not interfere. Such monuments should be exempted from the guardian's powers. Why should the guardian be empowered to enter into an agreement with the Government even though the monument is used only now and then for worship? That may lead to dangerous consequences.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I second it. The retention of the word "periodically" is dangerous because a monument may be worshipped daily or from day to day or always. That is not worshipping periodically. Such a monument ought to be considered more sacred than the one that is worshipped periodically. I think it is absolutely necessary to take away the word "periodically".

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I oppose it. The Clause as it is, is alright. Daily is also periodically in the year. It may be used as a place of worship either quarterly or once in six months or daily. What is meant thereby is, if it is only occasionally without any regularity it is not periodical.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): Even if that word be taken away will not Government be entitled to interfere?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): In that case why not retain that expression?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The question that I wish to place before the House is whether "religion" is a word capable of a definite meaning, for the owner of the property who is a minor may be a Thenkala Aiyangar and the person who is in charge may be a Vadakala Aiyangar, a Vaishnavite or a Shivite. So the word is not capable of conveying any definite meaning.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and lost.

Clause 6 was put to the vote of the House and carried.

The Clause was added to the Bill.

Clause 7.

Mr. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): Sir, I beg to move the following amendment:—

In Clause 7, sub-clause (3) omit the last word "final" and substitute in its place the words "subject to cancellation or modification by the decree of a competent Civil Court".

According to Clause 5 the Division Peishkar may enter into an agreement on giving six months' notice in writing to the owner. All such agreements have to be entered into with the previous sanction of the Government and for any act of omission or commission on the part of any one of the parties, another party who has also an interest in the agreement should not be given the authority to express a final word in the matter. In other words, the Dewan, as the executive head and as the person who gave the permission to enter into the contract, should not be vested with the final appellate authority in a dispute arising out of the agreement. On the other hand, an aggrieved party should be given the right to seek his remedy in a competent Civil Court.

Mr. K. P. KRISHNA MENON (Parur): I second it.

Mr. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I oppose the amendment. There is no necessity in this case for the intervention of a Civil Court. And in fact this provision is exactly what is found in the British Indian Act.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and lost.

Mr. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): The amendment which I wish to move reads thus:—

In Clause 7, add the following at the close as sub-clauses (4) and (5):—

(4) "A copy of the order directing recovery of the expenses from the owner under sub-section (2) shall be served upon him."

(5) "An appeal under sub-section (3) shall be preferred within sixty days of the date of service of the copy of the order under sub-section (4) except where he satisfies the Dewan that he had sufficient cause for not preferring the appeal within the prescribed period".

Clause 7 (2) gives wide powers to the Division Peishkar. It reads thus:—

(2) If an owner or other person who is bound by an agreement for the preservation or maintenance of a monument under Section 5 refuses to do any act which is in the opinion of the Division Peishkar necessary to such preservation or maintenance, or neglects to do any such act within such reasonable time as may be fixed by the Division Peishkar, the Division Peishkar may authorise any person to do any such act and the expense of doing any such act or such portion of the expense as the owner may be liable to pay under the agreement may be recovered from the owner as if it were an arrear of land revenue.

There the owner is not to be penalised only for the amount due under the agreement or for the breach of the agreement alone. It says further:—

".....refuses to do any act which is in the opinion of the Division Peishkar necessary to such preservation or maintenance....."

So a discretion is given to the Peishkar to decide whether a particular act is necessary for the preservation of the monument though that act is not included in the agreement. If there is a default the Division Peishkar is authorised to have the very same thing done by another person and recover the expenses from the party under the Revenue Recovery Regulation. I have not given any amendment with regard to that portion. Sometimes the Division Peishkars will have to resort to such steps when there is absolute necessity for the preservation of the monument. But there is no provision to give notice to the owner of any such steps taken by the Division Peishkar. He might know of it only when his property is brought to sale. A power of appeal is given under sub-clause (3). There also we do not find any specific period prescribed for preferring the appeal. Even if he prefers an appeal as soon as he gets notice of the sale without being negligent it might be said that he has not preferred the appeal within a reasonable time. By this amendment what I want is to be assured that if the Division Peishkar passes an order like that he must intimate it to the owner who has to pay the same by means of a notice. A period of sixty days must be granted for preferring an appeal against the order of the Division Peishkar. This is only a recognition of the fundamental rights of a citizen before he is divested of his vested rights. With these words I move the amendment for the acceptance of the House.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I second it.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Perhaps this amendment is not quite necessary in view of the fact that the amount has to be recovered under the Revenue Recovery Regulation. Before the recovery is made the first step would be to give notice to the party. Therefore this amendment does not seem to be necessary. But at the same time I do not want any power to be given to do anything behind the back of the parties. If Mr. Asan wants this amendment I am quite prepared to accept it.

The amendment was accepted by the House.

Clause 7, subject to the amendment of Mr. Damodaran Asan, was put to vote and carried.

The Clause was added to the Bill.

Clauses 8 to 18.

Clauses 8 to 18 were put to the vote of the House and carried.

Clauses 8 to 18 were added to the Bill.

Clause 19.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Sir, I beg to move the following amendment—

In Clause 19, add the following as sub-clause (4) and (5) and re-number the subsequent Clauses:

(4) A copy of the order of the Division Peishkar granting or refusing permission shall be served upon the person who has applied for such permission.

[Mr. A. S. Damodaran Asan]

(5) An appeal shall be preferred before the expiry of sixty days from the date of service of the copy of the order under sub-section (4) unless the appellant satisfies the Dewan that he had sufficient cause for not preferring the appeal within the prescribed period"

Here also it is found that some right is sought to be given. In sub-clause (1) it is stated :—

- (1) If Our Government consider that any sculptures, carvings, images, bas-reliefs, inscriptions or other like objects ought not to be moved from the place where they are with out the sanction of Our Government, Our Government may, by notification in Our Government Gazette, direct that any such object or any class of such object shall not be moved unless with the written permission of the Division Peishkar.

And sub-clause (2) says :—

- (2) A person applying for the permission mentioned in sub-section (1) shall specify the object or objects which he proposes to move, and shall furnish, in regard to such object or objects, any information which the Division Peishkar may require.

My submission is that there is no provision for intimating to the applicant the order passed on his application and a time is not fixed for preferring an appeal to the Division Peishkar under sub-clause (8). The arguments that I have to advance in support of this amendment are almost the same as those advanced in support of my former amendment.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I second it.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I have nothing to say. I would accept the amendment.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and carried.

Clause 19 as amended was put to vote and carried.

The Clause as amended was added to the Bill.

Clause 20

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The question is whether Clause 20 do stand part of the Bill.

Clause 20 was put to the vote of the House and carried.

The Clause was added to the Bill.

Clauses 21 and 22

Clauses 21 and 22 were put to the vote of the House and carried.

Clauses 21 and 22 were added to the Bill.

Clause 23

Clauses 23 to 25 were put to the vote of the House and carried.

Clauses 23 to 25 were added to the Bill.

Clause 26

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): Sir, I move that for Clause 26, the following shall be substituted :—

"No Court inferior to that of a Magistrate of the First Class shall try any offence under this Regulation."

Sir, in the Bill itself in Clause 17 the following penalties are prescribed:

"Any person other than the owner who destroys, removes, injures, alters, defaces or imperils a protected monument, and any owner who destroys, removes, injures, alters, defaces or imperils a monument maintained by Our Government under this Regulation or in respect of which an agreement has been executed under Section 5, and any owner or occupier who contravenes an order made under Section 7, sub-section (1), shall be punishable with fine which may extend to five thousand rupees, or with imprisonment which may extend to three months, or with both".

But Clause 26 of the Bill reads:—

"A Magistrate of the Third Class shall not have jurisdiction to try any person charged with an offence against this Regulation".

This implies Sir, that the Magistrate of the First Class and Second Class are entitled to try offences under this Regulation. I do not know why this particular distinction is made. In the several Bills which are brought forward in this Assembly, for example in the Co-operative Societies Regulation, the maximum penalty is a fine of Rs. 200. There in the Co-operative Societies Bill, in Clause 64, it is stated "No court inferior to that of a Magistrate of the First Class shall try any offence under this Regulation". Again in the Life Insurance Companies Regulation the fine imposed under Clause 35 is Rs. 1,000. But in Clause 37 of the same Bill, it is stated that no court inferior to that of a Magistrate of the First Class shall try any offence. Again in several other enactments, such as the Travancore Provident Fund Societies Regulation, though the maximum fine is fixed to be Rs. 5,000, Section 27 states that no court inferior to that of a Magistrate of the First Class shall try any offence. So my submission is that that it is necessary that no court inferior to that of a Magistrate of the First Class should be invested with powers to try offences under this Regulation.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): The ground on which Mr. Sivaraman Nair brings forward this amendment is that Second Class Magistrates have power to punish with fines only up to a particular limit. I oppose the amendment. I do not find any reason why a Second Class Magistrate who has got the same experience and training as a First Class Magistrate is denied this power. And I think that there will be no harm in giving this power to such a Magistrate. With these words I oppose the amendment.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and lost.

The question that Clause 26 do stand part of the Bill was put to the vote of the House and carried.

Clauses 27 and 28

The question that Clauses 27 and 28 do stand part of the Bill was put to the vote of the House and carried.

PREAMBLE AND TITLE.

The question that the Preamble and Title do stand part of the Bill was put to the vote of the House and carried.

THE TRAVANCORE CO-OPERATIVE SOCIETIES BILL.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I rise to present the Report of the Select Committee on the Travancore Co-operative Societies Bill and move that the Bill as reported be taken into consideration.

MR. M. GOVINDA PILLAI (Registrar of Co-operative Societies): I second it.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, the member was not at his seat while he seconded the motion.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The honourable member has changed his seat under orders of the President. Is there anybody speaking on the motion? Nobody seems to rise. The motion is therefore carried and we shall go on with the Bill Clause by Clause.

Clause 1.

Clause 1 was put to the vote of the House and carried.

Clause 2.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): I beg to move the following amendment.

In Clause 2, after sub-clause (h), insert the following as sub-clause (i):—

"Financing Bank" means a registered society the main object of which is to lend money to other registered societies."

This is to include a definition of a "Financing Bank," because I have made some other amendment relating to that matter. A Financing Bank is one which advances money to primary societies. As such the Financing Bank is interested in the working of the primary societies. If a society is not working properly and if a Financing Bank has advanced loans to it, it is the duty of the Bank to see that the primary society works properly and the Financing Bank should be aware when a society is not working properly so that it may be on the alert to realise its money. With regard to this I have made an amendment to Clause 43 of the Bill. Clause 43 of the Bill relates to enquiry by the Registrar. The Registrar is given power under that Clause to make enquiry when he thinks that there is something wrong with any primary society. As a sub-clause I have added the following:—

"When an enquiry is made under this Section the Registrar shall communicate the result of such enquiry to the Financing Bank, if any, to which the society is indebted."

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Which Clause are you reading?

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): Clause 42. I was saying that I propose to move an amendment to that Clause by adding a sub-clause.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: All that comes at a later stage. We are now concerned with Clause 2.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): Sir, I am at Clause 2, but I was dealing with an identical Clause.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Alright, you can go on.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): Again in Clause 44 which relates to the inspection of books by the Registrar it is provided that the Financing Bank may be sent a copy of the inspection report by the Registrar. Because the Financing Bank is very much interested in the working of the primary societies it is very much interested to know how the societies are working. That is why I have included a definition of the Financing Bank. As I said before, the working of the primary society may be by the money advanced by the Financing Bank. So, in view of my amendments to Clauses 43 and 44 a definition is necessary. Hence I move this.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): I second it.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT The amendment was moved and seconded. Now I call upon the Registrar of Co-operative Societies to speak.

MR. M. GOVINDA PILLAI (Registrar of Co-operative Societies): Sir, I oppose the amendment. In opposing the amendment I do not object to the definition proposed by the honourable member. From the definition, it will be found that a Financing Bank is an institution whose main object is to finance other institutions. On an examination of the condition of the existing taluk banks, which correspond to the Central Banks in the Madras Presidency, it will be seen that they mainly finance individuals and not societies. In all the taluk banks the majority of the members are individuals and the major portion of their working capital has been lent to individuals and not to societies. In the absence of taluk banks, corresponding to the definition which is now proposed to be included in the Bill, it would be unnecessary and premature to have such a provision introduced. As a matter of fact, even at the time when the Devadhar Committee's Report was discussed in this House, the honourable members might have remembered that the competition of the taluk banks and the central bank with the primary societies was the most disquieting feature in the co-operative finance in Travancore. Unless the difficulties are remedied it will not be practical to include this definition in the Bill and until we are in a position to establish real financing banks, I am of opinion that this proposal may lie over till the proper time comes. For this reason, I would oppose the amendment.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and lost.

Clause 2 was put to vote and added to the Bill.

Clause 3.

Clause 3 was put to the vote of the House and carried.

Clause 3 was added to the Bill.

Clause 4.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): Sir, I beg to move the following amendment —

In Clause 4, substitute the following for the first proviso (ii):—

"The liability of a society of which the primary object is the creation of funds to be lent to its members, of which the majority of the members are agriculturists and of which no member is a registered society, shall be limited or unlimited according to the option of the members applying for registration and the members of a society of unlimited liability shall on its liquidation be jointly and severally liable for and in respect of all its obligations."

Sir, under the present sub-clause the liability of a society, of which the primary object is the creation of funds and of which the majority of members are agriculturists, is unlimited and the members shall be jointly and severally responsible for all its obligations. In almost all co-operative societies which are registered in rural parts almost all the members are ryots. But the work there is being done by some rich and influential men who co-operate with the ryots and who are willing to give their support to these societies. The ryots, though they may form the majority of the members of these societies, may not be able to manage the society by themselves. But for proper working and for the welfare of such societies it is necessary that some of the non-agriculturists who may be rich and influential in that locality must take part in the work of these co-operative societies. Under the Clause as it stands in the Bill in such co-operative societies the liability must be unlimited. That means even if the society fails all the liability of the members will be unlimited. Suppose in a co-operative society of 10 members 8 are ryots and 2 rich men. If such a society fails and if it is wound up the liability will be upon the two members who joined the others mainly for the purpose of encouraging those eight ryots. No money may be coming from those ryots. There is in the existing Regulation a provision to alleviate the difficulty of these two non-agriculturist members, i. e., there is provision for a reserve fund created by subscribing one-third to half of the profits. But under the present Bill even the reserve fund of such societies has been reduced to a smaller amount so that the whole liability of the ryots members falls on the few rich members who might have joined such societies to help the ryots. In so far as the reserve fund has been reduced the liability becomes all the more hard. Sir, it comes to this, that if any rich man joins a society of the poor ryots, there is every likelihood of the whole liability falling on him and he will have to meet the whole liability of the society if it is wound up so much so that very few of the rich people will join any such society. It is said in the Devadhar Committee's Report that for the working of such agricultural societies the hearty co-operation of the non-agriculturists and the rich and influential men of the locality are very necessary. We find in Travancore wherever any co-operative society is being run, its work is being mainly conducted by the influential and rich people of the locality, and as such, every facility must be given to safeguard the interest of such rich members. I find that under the present Clause it is compulsory that in all such agricultural societies the liability must be unlimited, so much so that none of these rich people may join any society. The reduction of the reserve fund is also against the interests of such rich members. If it is necessary that we should get the co-operation and participation of least some rich men in the working of our co-operative societies,—if we think it essential that at least one or two rich men must join every ryots' society to guide and help them then we must make suitable safeguards for their interests. They may not stake everything they have got for the ryots. Why not we leave it to the members to have their society limited or unlimited as they please? Why should we make it compulsory for the agriculturist societies to have unlimited liability?

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): I have sent up almost an identical amendment to be moved. The Clause as it stands makes provision for registration of societies with only unlimited liability. Sir, of all financing institutions it is the co-operative societies that function to the greatest needs of the agriculturists. The rural population, the majority of whom are agriculturists, have to depend for their agricultural and other needs upon the funds that they are able to get advanced from the primary societies. The handicap that will arise if it is made obligatory that primary societies could get registered only if they are organised on the basis of unlimited liability would serve only to discourage the formation of useful societies. The movement is intended to serve all the people; the rich man should help the poor and the poor must be benefited by the co-operation between the rich and the poor. Now the rich would watch with suspicion and dread before being a party by entering the co-operative societies as a member, if the membership would involve a loss or risk of their personal properties. Now, Sir, the Banking Enquiry Committee in its Report said that only 8·5 per cent. of the needs of the villagers have been met by the funds provided by the society. Why is it, Sir, that even after the organisation of so much societies in this city the poor agriculturists should depend upon Joint Stock Banks and other institutions for their agricultural requirements? It is because the societies are not worked by proper men, by people who are willing and at the same time able to be partners in it and serve it usefully. The proper and needed men think that there is risk to them owing to the obligatory unlimited liability which may at any time carry away their own property and all their earnings for no obvious fault of theirs. Sir, the Devadhar Committee said that at the end of 1108 about Rs. 8 lakhs of the total working capital of the central bank was lying idle, while at the same time the primary societies and members of the same were put to the hardship of want of funds. So we see that it is not because we have no funds to finance primary societies and through them their members but because the primary societies are afraid to take loans from Banks for fear that they would be borrowing at the risk of the capital or property owned by the few rich and influential members who generally influence the decision of the committee and general body meetings, that these societies suffer from dearth of money. There should not be any restriction imposed by law with regard to the nature or basis for the formation of societies with limited or unlimited liability. It would not be to the interest of the agriculturists of this country to do so. With these words I second the amendment.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): I oppose the amendment. My position is this. If the amendment is accepted it will not safeguard public interests and it will stand in the way of the healthy growth of the societies. I think it is indispensable to make liability of the members of such societies unlimited. My grounds are two. In the first place, we are every day experiencing the faction and differences of opinion among the members and the difficulties and troubles in the management of societies of which the primary object is the creation of funds to be lent to its members. Sometimes, the members who have taken loans from the societies will themselves try their best to create difficulties in the working of the societies with the avowed object of evading repayment. Certainly, that must be put an end to and that can be done only by making the liability of the members unlimited so that each member will be jointly and severally liable for and in respect of all the obligations of the society.

In the second place, societies, the primary object of which is the creation of funds for lending to its members, usually take loans from other financial societies and agencies. Such bigger financing agencies will be prepared to advance money to the smaller lending societies only if the liability of the members of such societies is unlimited.

Then again, Sir, if after a society has been registered on the basis of unlimited liability the members think that the liabilities should be made limited, or vice versa, there is ample provision in Clause 5 of the Bill for changing the liabilities of the members of the society. There is therefore no necessity for this amendment.

I oppose it.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I also oppose the amendment. I do so because it is against the very fundamentals of the co-operative movement. It is not the object of co-operation to collect some funds somehow, with the help of a few rich and philanthropic men who have no real interest in the movement, to get some dividend or profit and rest content with that. In fact, Sir, I think it is this attitude towards the movement that has been mainly responsible for the failure of the movement in this country. This has been the main defect. If we find defalcation, mismanagement and misappropriation in our co-operative societies, the one reason for that according to me is this. Members who know that their liability is only limited, take some shares in most cases due to pressure put upon them by the organisers of the societies, and remain indifferent. They do not take any real, active interest in the working of the societies on proper lines, which is more important than the paltry sums which they have invested. Every member who takes shares in a society must do it with a full knowledge of the real, fundamental principle of the co-operative movement. He must accept the principle of "each for all, and all for each". If it is not possible for us to get enough of such men to organise co-operative societies, here it is better that we do not have any societies at all. The amendment, now proposed by my friend, negates the fundamental principles of the co-operative movement. That is my first objection to it.

Sir, the co-operative movement is not intended merely to make it possible to get cheap credit for the people of the country. It has got a more substantial object, a more worthy aim. The ideal of the movement is to create good human beings, self-respecting human beings, and to foster mutual trust. For all these, we must have the principles of unlimited liability. All the members of the societies, the rich and the poor alike, must work together on a basis of equality. Irrespective of the varying degrees of credit that the various members have, they must all work together with mutual trust for the purpose of doing business in the right manner, consistent with the ideals and the spirit of the co-operative movement. We should not be carried away by the fact that if the liability is made unlimited, we might not get financial aid from some of the rich men who might come forward with their money if the liability is made limited. I do not care for the paltry sums that may be forthcoming from the few rich men in our country. What we want is mutual trust, mutual co-operation and a feeling of equality and self-reliance. This amendment strikes at the root of all these ideals of the co-operative movement. Hence, I very strongly oppose it.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Is it the member's opinion that unlimited liability imposed by legislation will be an incentive to rich men joining the movement?

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I do not at all care whether the rich man is given any incentive to join the movement. I would much rather sacrifice the rich man's financial help. I care for the real spirit of the co-operative movement. I would rather pin my faith on the noble ideals of the movement. It would be enough if we have a small number of societies working on right lines. I have no glamour for the so-called rich man throwing out his money at the co-operative societies without any real interest in the movement.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know.....

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Order, order.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I have not yet finished my answer, Sir; I do not yield till I finish my answer.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: He has not yet finished his answer. Mr. Elenkath will please wait.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Rather than breaking the principle for the sake of the rich man's money I would be satisfied with a small number of genuine co-operative societies worked on proper lines.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I ask how, without the co-operation of the few moneyed men in the villages, the poor people, for whose benefit co-operative societies are organised, will find funds?

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): The poor people will start these societies with such funds as they have at their disposal; and if they do honest and good work, the bigger lending societies will have no hesitation whatsoever in giving them financial help. I do not think there is any restriction in regard to the membership of these societies. We do not exclude the rich man. It is open to him to join the societies in the right spirit. As I have already stated, Sir, I attach more value to the fundamental principles of the movement being upheld than to the few hundreds of rupees of the so-called rich man who has no interest in the movement.

There is also the other point, Sir, alluded to by my friend Mr. T. P. Velayudhan Pillai. Unless there is unlimited liability, the bigger financing agencies will not trust the smaller lending societies with their money. But, Sir, that is only a minor point so far as I am concerned. I want the real spirit of the movement to be upheld. Therefore I oppose the amendment vehemently.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I too oppose this amendment. If the co-operative movement in Travancore has any defect it is this; the societies have all tended to become lending societies. There is a feeling in the villages that these societies are becoming a plague to the people. As Mr. Kunjkrishna Pillai pointed out, every one of the members must have trust in every one else. Unless there is that mutual trust, there is no use in having co-operative societies.

Further, Sir, the bulk of the members of these societies are agriculturists. Especially in the light of the Agricultural Debt Relief Bill that we have passed, nobody would be prepared to finance these societies, composed as they are mostly of agriculturists, unless the liability is made unlimited.

Sir, I oppose the amendment.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and lost.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I beg to move that Part (ii) of the first proviso be omitted.

This measure gives the power to the Registrar to register a society either on the limited liability basis or on the unlimited liability basis. With regard to the limited liability basis the first part says.....

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): On a point of order, Sir. The object of Mr. Asan's amendment is to make a provision that the liability of a society may be limited or unlimited. Therefore it touches the decision that the House has already arrived at.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I shall explain, Sir.

Mr. Sivaraman Nair's amendment was to the effect that, in the case of societies with a majority of agriculturists, it shall be left to the members, who apply for the registration of the society, to determine the nature of their liability. The object of my amendment is that, irrespective of the question whether the majority of the members are agriculturists or not, it should always be left to the members of the society to determine the nature of their liability.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): To that extent, it goes against the decision we have already arrived at.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): My amendment is more comprehensive.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I really think that the amendment, sought to be moved by Mr. Damodaran Asan, in so far as it has been explained, goes against the decision already arrived at. I do not think the amendment can go on.

The question that Clause 4 do stand part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The Clause was added to the Bill.

Clauses 5 to 9.

The question that Clauses 5 to 9 do form part of the Bill was then put to vote and carried.

The House adjourned for lunch at 1-2 P. M. and reassembled at 2 P. M. with the President in the Chair.

Clause 10.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): I move the following amendment:—

In Clause 10, line 3, substitute the words "shall" for the words "may if he thinks fit."

The Clause as it stands vests a discretion in the Registrar to refuse the registration of a society even though the applicant has complied with all the provisions of this Regulation and the Rules that may be framed thereunder. I do not know why such a discretion is vested in him. It is true that provision has been made for an appeal to the Government. In so far as no provision is made in this Regulation asking the Registrar to state the reasons for the refusal of registration, it is not known how the appellate authority will proceed with the disposal of the appeals. One could understand the appellate authority interfering, if the Registrar refuses an application, because it is against the provisions of the Rules passed under this Regulation. But as the Clause stands it is a matter of arbitrary discretion vested in the Registrar. My amendment says that if an applicant has complied with the provisions of this Regulation and the Rules thereunder the Registrar must register that society. I will give no discretion to the Registrar if the applicant has complied with this Regulation and the Rules.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Sir, I rise to second the amendment. In regard to the co-operative societies, it is improper to invest authority in the Registrar to refuse registration of societies. As Mr. Sivaraman Nair has pointed out it is within the power of the Registrar to see whether the bye-laws of a society conform to the Regulation and the Rules thereunder or whether there is any possibility of infringement of the Rules by the societies. But in cases where there is no such infringement and the members of a village desire to form a society for the benefit of their village, it will be quite undesirable to leave the possibility of registration to the discretion of an officer, I mean the Registrar. Of course it may be that we are having a responsible officer to discharge that duty by using proper discretion. That apart I doubt very much whether it will be proper on principle to invest such a discretionary power with the Registrar. My view is that the co-operative movement is a preeminently non-official one. The persons who are willing to become members in an organisation of such a character, for doing useful service to a village should not be hampered by an act of the registering authority. With those words I support the motion.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I oppose the amendment. Mr. Sivaraman Nair and Mr. Elenkath seem to be under the impression that co-operative societies are like joint stock companies. In the case of joint stock companies, all that we want to achieve by registration is to give it a corporate status. We do not by means of the registration confer upon them special privileges or concessions. But in the case of co-operative societies they get by registration not merely a corporate status but also certain very valuable privileges. The object of according such concessions is to foster the co-operative movement. It is therefore necessary that before a society is registered the Registrar should be satisfied that there are reasonable chances of the society working successfully and that the members show a determination to carry on the work of the society according to co-operative principles. The Registrar has thus to satisfy himself not only that the society complies with the provisions of the Law and Rules, and that its bye-laws are not contrary to the Law or to the Rules, but also that it is a society fit to be registered; and the expression 'if he thinks fit' is meant to imply that the Registrar is satisfied that there are reasonable chances of success with reference to local conditions, i. e., that the members have a genuine need which they want to meet and that they have a determination to carry on the business of the society according to co-operative principles. The idea is that the Registrar must ensure the chances of success from the very beginning. The MacLagan Committee on co-operation says:

"The existence of faulty societies is generally due to hasty registration: and we would repeat that no pains should be spared to make a full enquiry into all applications. Full reports should always be required from the agency by which a society is organised and certain specified heads should be laid down on which information should be furnished. We hold it necessary, for instance that the Registrar should be able to ascertain (1) whether the proposed members have really assimilated the principles of co-operation, (2) whether they appear to be too involved in debt to make a society successful and for this purpose a statement showing though not in great detail, the assets and liabilities of intending members should be submitted, (3) whether adequate working capital is available in the movement, (4) whether the applicants are men of good character and the village as a whole free from the taint of litigiousness, (5) whether means are at hand to provide for the necessary supervision of the society when formed. Enquiry should also be made as to the suitability of the proposed secretary and committee".

It will thus be seen that a co-operative society is entirely different from a joint stock company. Though they are similar in respect of corporate status and may in that sense be deemed to be individuals having independence, the co-operative societies are really the pet children of the State and have to be fostered by the State. We have therefore to judge whether each applicant for registration would comply with the requisite conditions.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know the criterion of such a status among members who have not formed themselves into such a society?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar I'akiil): No criterion can be laid down by hard and fast rules. That is why it is proposed to be left to the judgment of the Registrar.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): Is the honourable member willing to accept my next amendment vis., the substitution of the words "shall unless for reasons given in the order he seems fit to refuse to" for the words "may if he thinks fit"?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar I'akiil): I will speak on it when it is moved.

The amendment was by leave withdrawn.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): Sir, I move the following amendment—

In Clause 10, line 3, substitute the words "shall unless for reasons given in the order he sees fit to refuse" for the words "may if he thinks fit":—

The advantage of this amendment is that a discretion is given to the Registrar. Only he has to record in writing his reasons for refusing registration so that the appellate authority may go into the question and decide the appeal. It meets the objections of the Law Member which he raised when I moved the former amendment. It makes the provision for appeal more useful and effective. It enables an applicant to know why registration is refused in any particular case.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Urban): Sir, I second the amendment. Mr. Sivaraman Nair concedes that a discretion should be vested in the Registrar. All that the amendment aims at is that, if on enquiry the Registrar is satisfied that a certain society is not fit to be registered, he should give those reasons and the appellate authority will be enabled to find whether the reasoning of the Registrar is correct or not. Sir, it is absolutely necessary to invest the Registrar with discretionary powers as he is the very soul of the co-operative movement. Mr. Sivaraman Nair's amendment is therefore well conceived because the discretion of the Registrar is not tampered with and the Government also is at an advantageous position.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar I'akiil): Sir, I oppose this amendment. I grant that there is a right of appeal to the Government. But this appeal to Government should not be confused with an appeal to the Civil Courts. In the Civil Courts the appeal is made on specified grounds arising out of a judgment. In an appeal to Government in cases of the kind now in question what happens is that upon the grounds urged by the appellant the Government will call for a report from the Registrar and his report will be considered before passing orders.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittai): Has the appellant any chance of criticising the Registrar's report to Government?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): The appellant puts forward his case before Government on which they consult the Registrar.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittai): How can the parties know the reasons urged by the Registrar?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): The appeal is filed by the applicant on various grounds. Those grounds are referred to the Registrar for report. And that report is considered by Government. Very often it may also be that the grounds mentioned by the Registrar must be treated as confidential as they would touch the individuals who applied for registration.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittai): I support the amendment for the very same reasons urged by the Law Member. We were left in doubt whether the reasons for rejecting an application for registration should be recorded in writing as required by common law and equity. Now the Law Member has made it clear that it is not the intention of the Bill that the Registrar should give any reason for refusing registration. It is said that, when the original applicant appeals to the Government, he will only have to repeat what he has stated before the Registrar. He is not left any choice to add to what he has stated in his application before the Registrar. Suppose there is a factious spirit among the applicants who want to organise a society, and the Registrar refuses registration on that ground. That reason will according to the Law Member be given only in the final report of the Registrar to Government to which alone the party is allowed access. Even that is doubtful.

On the other hand, if he knows beforehand that there is a remark in the Registrar's report or that is one of the grounds which weighed with the Registrar in refusing the application for registry, he would be giving information from his own stand point so that the Government could decide the question to the satisfaction of both the parties. Even if an appeal is filed, Government will be helped considerably in meeting out justice to the parties concerned. There is absolutely no ground in what was urged by the Law Member and it is against all fundamental principles of justice to refuse application for registry in this manner. The Law Member stated that we have to make a distinction between an appeal before a Civil Court and this. My submission is that justice requires that a party ought to be told what he has to answer. A party ought to be told why an application made by him is refused by the Registrar. I am quite sure that the House will be glad to support this amendment and thus see that the Registrar is obliged to state his reasons before he exercises his discretionary powers to refuse the application for registration.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon): Sir, I oppose the amendment. Anyhow, the discretionary authority vested in the Registrar for refusing the registry of a society should be kept in tact even though the society satisfies the ordinary rules. Due to a variety of reasons which it may not always be advantageous for the Registrar to expose, because he holds not merely his official position, but he is the friend, philosopher, and guide to the co-operative movement, it is necessary that this provision is kept as it is. Only in very rare cases the Registrar would be compelled to expose every thing when he has got to refuse the registry. In the practical working it will be difficult because in making allegations he has to adduce reasons which the societies or individuals composing it may not wish to be published. It is likely that the society itself may not be willing to publish it or it will not be in the interest of the society itself to get the reasons published. It must be remembered that the Registrar has to deal with the public in general. He should not be compelled unnecessarily to create ill-feeling in the society in which he has to work. I find there is absolutely no difficulty in practice, for, an appeal lies with Government and the party can state that his application was dismissed for no fault of his. On that application a report will be called for and, on that report, the Dewan himself may ask the party and find out the grounds for refusing the registry. It becomes necessary for the party to meet the charges only when so required. That is the appropriate time for the party to explain his position. So in the interests of a society itself, there need not be unnecessary publicity. The party need not be asked to explain versatim the reasons that weighed with the Registrar to refuse the registry of a society.

The main point centres round this. This question has to be decided and it will crop up in various other Sections that will come up for discussion. The question is whether we should vest some authority on a Government officer like the Registrar. If it is deemed necessary, in the present development of the co-operative movement and the present conditions that a substantial power of control and substantial powers of discretion have to be vested in the Registrar, the present provision is necessary. If you are going to put some power in the hands of the Registrar then the next question will be most easy. It will not be right to stress too much on mere theories and technical rights. If we are careful only to safeguard the interests of the development of the co-operative movement in the right spirit, I think, if that principle is conceded, there will not be a substantial objection to this provision. Hence I oppose the amendment.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I too oppose the amendment. The duty of the Registrar is to advance the co-operative movement in the State. We are sure that this measure is purely intended for the sole object of the advancement of the co-operative movement; and, if the society satisfies the provisions for registration of it, the Registrar would certainly register it. There will be certain special circumstances under which the Registrar shall have the power to refuse the registration of a society. If we look into the history of the co-operative societies in Travancore to-day a sad tale has to be told about their existing condition. I had something to do with the working of the co-operative societies in my own taluk. I know something about the actual working of those societies. The present working is not at all satisfactory. Such being the case the Registrar must be empowered with certain unfettered powers so far as the conduct, registration and supervision of the societies are concerned. Therefore I think the present provision, as it is, is correct and conducive to the best interests of the co-operative societies.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chiraginkil I): Sir, I rise to support the amendment. In my own view, the amendment suggested is quite necessary. Some reasonable facilities should be given to the aggrieved party to prefer appeals. The Registrar should be given full powers for refusing or allowing the applications for registration of societies. If the Registrar says arbitrarily that a particular society is not necessary in a locality, opportunity should be given for the applicant to explain his position. Unless the Registrar states the reasons upon which registration is refused it would not be possible for the person preferring an appeal to state the grounds upon which the decision of the Registrar has to be set aside. Only when both parties are heard one can judge whether what the Registrar has reported is true or not. It should be open to the aggrieved party to state his reasons for the existence of a society. It is only then that the appellate authority can reasonably form an opinion as to whether the existence of a society is in the interests of the public or not. On these grounds I support the amendment.

The amendment was then put to the vote of the House and lost.

The question that Clauses 10 to 21 do form part of the Bill was then put to vote and carried.

Clauses 10 to 21 were added to the Bill.

Clause 22.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvallur II): Sir, I move the following amendment:—

"In Clause 22, sub-clause (1), line 3, add the words "but no charge shall be made in respect of any audit under this Section" after the word "year".

Under Section 17 of the present Regulation there is a provision similar to this. It has been the practice from 1939 onwards, since the passing of the Co-operative Societies Regulation till to-day, that no fee is charged for departmental audit. We know, as a matter of fact, that many of these societies are working at a loss and they have not sufficient funds even for their ordinary routine work.

Particularly now, owing to the acute economic depression and other causes, very few societies earn profits worth the name and, to make them liable to payment for departmental audit in addition to their own audit in the present circumstances, will be very hard and a reversal of the beneficent policy hitherto followed by the Government.

It must be remembered in this connection that co-operative movement is necessarily a non-official movement. The service of these non-officials is honorary. A free departmental audit is one of the benefits which the Government can give to these poor societies. It may be said that some of these societies will be able to pay for their audit. But it must be remembered that such societies are very few. They can be counted on one's fingers.

My amendment is only that the practice which had been in existence since 1089 must be continued, i. e. departmental audit must be continued without charging the societies for the same.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): In seconding the amendment I would like to mention that the enactment with a provision giving power to the Government to levy a fee or not to levy the same for audit according to their discretion and not make it obligatory on the part of the Government or the department to conduct free audit is both undesirable in principle and disadvantageous to the interest of the societies. We know that one of the fundamental differences between Co-operative Societies and Joint Stock Companies in the matter of Government control and patronage is that co-operative institutions get many privileges and immunities, such as facilities for arbitration, exemption from stamp duty, advantages of free audit, etc. The Law Member had been pointing out in support of his argument for investing the Registrar with wider powers that the co-operative societies have greater advantages and privileges as against the joint stock companies and so he did not grudge wide powers being invested with the Registrar. I ask, Sir, why should one of such benefits, and that I should think a very important and beneficial privilege as right of free annual audit which had been conferred upon them, be taken away now. Auditing is one of the most important factors that go for the proper control and better management of the societies. This Clause ought to provide for free audit not merely at the option of the Government or the Registrar but for compulsory free audit in the interest of the co-operative societies. Section 17 in the existing Regulation specifically states that the annual audit should be conducted free of charge whereas in the present Bill the relative Clause deliberately omits to mention the same. Therefore I request the House to consider this matter with all seriousness and with the interest of the society at heart and see that this amendment is carried.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Is there any provision asking that fee should be levied for audit in all cases?

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): No, but while in the existing Regulation it was specifically laid down that no fee should be levied for audit, in the Bill under discussion that has been deliberately omitted thereby giving the discretionary power to levy fees or not at the option of the Registrar. By the amendment what is meant is to make it obligatory on the part of the department to conduct the annual audit free of charge.

PRESIDENT: Moved and seconded that in Clause 22, sub-clause (1), line 3, add the words "but no charge shall be made in respect of any audit under this Section" after the word "year".

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I oppose the amendment. It is not stated anywhere under this Section that any charge will be levied for an audit. The amendment says that in no case a charge shall be levied. Even in the case of societies that are able to pay for their audit no charge should be levied. That is what the amendment says. That will be the effect if this amendment is carried. Supervision, audit and inspection, are the important necessary duties in the functioning of co-operative societies. Government, for the purpose of helping the co-operative movement in its infancy, undertook these functions. Though Government was helping the co-operative movement by doing those functions in its initial stages I think that the principle underlying it is detrimental to the interest of the co-operative societies themselves because the co-operative society members may think that Government will do everything for them and so they need not look carefully into the transactions of the society. That will be cutting at the very root of the self-governing principles of societies. The co-operative movement to a very large extent is a non-official movement and as such it should stand upon its own legs whenever occasion arises. Of course there may be occasions when it may not be possible to do so, and in such circumstances there is nothing to prevent the Government to go to its help. But a society that is able to conduct audit out of its own funds should do it. In the larger interests of the societies it should do it and realise that it is one of its duties. Their duty is not merely to borrow money and become members of societies and carry the honour of being members thereof. They have got also obligations and responsibilities. Training in one's own responsibility is a spirit that is sought to be created by the co-operative movement. It is highly necessary that the members who watch the work of the societies should carry out their obligations and responsibilities carefully.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether the departmental audit is conducted by the paid servants of the Government?

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Yes, sometimes. I also know that it is conducted not only by paid servants.

MR. M. GOVINDA PILLAI (Registrar of Co-operative Societies): I have to point out one fundamental misconception on the part of the opponents of the Bill. In the existing Regulation there is a provision that no charge shall be levied for the audit of societies. In the present Bill this provision has been deliberately deleted. The co-operative movement has been in existence for over twenty years and the Government naturally thought that societies which are capable to pay towards the charge of audit should be made to pay it. It is not the intention of the Government to levy fee for the audit of all societies. It was stated by one of the honourable members that even primary societies will have to bear the audit fee. That is not the intention of the Government. As the members are aware, in Madras, fee is levied for audit in respect of societies whose working capital exceeds a certain amount. There the limit has been fixed at Rs. 20,000. There is no primary society, much less even taluk banks, which can boast of a working capital of over 20,000 rupees.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Then, may I know the necessity for such a Clause in this Bill?

MR. M. GOVINDA PILLAI (Registrar of Co-operative Societies): Government feel that the time has come when societies which are competent and capable are made to meet the expenses of audit. The intention of the Government is to levy a charge on societies that are capable of contributing that amount and it is certainly the intention of the Government to follow the precedent of Madras and other Provinces to levy fees in respect of societies whose working capital exceeds Rs. 20,000. If it is Rs. 20,000 in Madras, probably we will have to reduce it a little.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know the number of societies in Travancore whose capital exceeds Rs. 20,000?

MR. M. GOVINDA PILLAI (Registrar of Co-operative Societies): Very few societies. The definite number is not with me now. But I may say that the number will not exceed 10.

Therefore I oppose the amendment.
The amendment was put to vote and lost.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Sir, I beg to move the following amendment:—

"In Clause 22, substitute the words "to summon at the time any paid servant of the society" for sub-clause (4) (i)".

The Clause as it stands gives power to the Registrar to summon persons not very intimately connected with the society and whose services may not be quite useful for eliciting information on the audit or on any other enquiry. The books and records of the society can be made available from the paid servants and that would be quite sufficient for the purpose to which the Clause relates. But the power that is invested with the Registrar according to the present provision may lead to many hardships and inconveniences to persons in various avocations in life who may be residing even in distant places; for they are obliged to appear before the Registrar in response to his summons if the officer is of opinion that his evidence or statement would be of value. We are investing a very wide power with him by empowering him to summon any officer, agent, servant, or member of the society. Note that a person need only be a member for being summoned. He cannot but respond to the summons although his services may not be of any benefit or advantage in the matter of obtaining useful information. For serving the purpose of the provisions of the Bill and for the efficient auditing of the society I think that the power of summoning the servants only of the society is necessary, adequate and desirable.

MR. POTTAYIL S. KRISHNA PANICKAR (Shertala II): Is the Secretary a paid servant?

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): In some cases the Secretary is honorary and in some cases he is paid. It differs in accordance with the bye-laws or resolutions of particular societies on the matter.

The amendment fell through as it was not seconded.

Clause 22 was put to the vote of the House and carried.

The Clause was added to the Bill.

Clause 23-34.

Clauses 23 to 34 were put to the vote of the House and carried.

The Clauses were added to the Bill.

Clause 35.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): Sir, I beg to move that:—

"In Clause 35, sub-clause (3) may be deleted, and others re-numbered".

Sub-clause (3) reads "Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1) and (2), a registered society may make a loan to a depositor on the security of his deposit".

Sir, this provision empowers a society to give loans to people other than the members of the society itself, namely to those who make deposit in the society. This is against the elementary principles of co-operation. One of the main principles of co-operation is that the benefit of a co-operative society must be restricted as far as possible to the members of that society. It is said that a society could deal only with its own members. It is the duty of a society to confine its benefit to its members and its members only. Sir, restriction is made not without any reason. The learned author H. Calvert in his book on the Law of Co-operation, at page 151 says:—

"This prohibition against transactions with non-members is based upon two considerations. Firstly co-operative societies are associations for mutual help amongst members. They render the best possible service at the lowest possible rate and make no commercial profit. Any surplus is to be returned to the members either as a bonus upon their transactions or as an addition to the societies' reserve fund. If a society regularly deals with non-members it makes a commercial profit out of them and opens a door to grant for dividends....."

Secondly, co-operation stands for fair play all round. It is open to any body of men to associate together to improve their economic position by legitimate means but if they compete with private traders they lose their right to special privileges. The private traders have a right to insist that co-operative societies must not compete with them for custom of non-members."

Again on P. 248.

"The co-operative society excludes the public whenever it is possible to do so and conducts its operations as on a common account for the mutual benefit of members alone." Also on page 449, writing of Quebec it is said that "all the benefits of the association must be confined to members"

These are the principles on which transactions with non-members are restricted as far as possible. Under the existing Regulation loans to non-members are not allowed. If any one wants a loan he will have to become a shareholder of that society and then only he is entitled to get a loan. If non-members are allowed to take loans, that will lead to complications. If there is any dispute between the debtor member and a society the Registrar can arbitrate and the parties need not go to a civil court. In the case of a non-member who is a debtor to a society, if any dispute arises between him and the society he will drag the society to a civil court for the settlement of the dispute. This will greatly prejudice the working of that society. This Bill itself has made provisions to exempt the societies as far as possible from the jurisdiction of civil courts. Thus, Sir, we see that it will not be in the interest of societies to allow them to give loans to non-members. Hence my amendment.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I second it.

MR. M. GOVINDA PILLAI (Registrar of Co-operative Societies): While I do not demur to the general principles quoted by the honourable member, I have to oppose the amendment. This provision was inserted in the Bill after careful investigations were carried out by the Devadar Committee. The Committee collected evidence throughout the State which showed that the volume of opinion in favour of the change was great. We have the support for this change not only in the Madras Acts but also in similar enactments elsewhere. In Madras no prohibition is put on an outsider to deposit or take loans from a society. Loans were given to them on the security of their deposits, but to an ordinary member, on the strength of personal security or immovable property. I don't think that there is any great danger as my friend apprehends by the inclusion of this Clause in the Bill. The fact is that in Madras where an identical provision has been brought into effect no disastrous effects have followed. We must consider the inclusion of this provision as it will tend to induce more members to join the movement. I therefore oppose this amendment.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and lost.

The question that Clause 35 do stand part of the Bill was put to the vote of the House and carried.

Mr. M. Govinda Pillai.]

Clauses 36 to 38.

Clauses 36 to 38 were put to the vote of the House and carried. The Clauses were added to the Bill.

Clause 39.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Sir, I move the following amendment:—

"In Clause 39, for sub-clause (2), substitute the present law relating to reserve fund as contained in rule 14."

Sir, the report given by the Devadar Committee has made it clear that if there is any salvation to be attained by the co-operative movement, Reserve Fund should be maintained by every society.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Sir, on a point of order. I would like to know in what particular Clause the substitution should be made.

PRESIDENT: Order, order. The member is referring to Clause 39 and he is moving an amendment to substitute another provision from another law in the present Bill. I rule that amendment out of order.

Clause 39 was put to the vote of the House and carried.

The Clause was added to the Bill.

Clauses 40 to 46.

Clauses 40 to 46 were put to the vote of the House and carried.

The Clauses were added to the Bill.

Clause 47.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): I beg to move that Clause 47 be deleted.

Sir, this is the most objectionable provision in the whole Bill. By this provision the Registrar is given the power of superseding a committee which manages the affairs of a society. Sir, the co-operative movement is primarily a non-official one. And if it should work, the members of a society should be allowed to have an unfettered hand in the management of the society's affairs. If an authority, supreme and uncontrolled, is vested in the Registrar, it stands the risk of being abused and the result affects not only the members but also depositors who are non-members. This proviso is neither conducive to the betterment of the movement nor would it help to put faith in people who still keep outside it. The Registrar ought to be the friend, philosopher and guide to the movement. He should also work hand in hand with other co-operative workers but at the same time he should guide the broad policy of the movement by working through better and useful channels.

Now, Sir, this Clause is revolting to the sentiments and principles of nationalism and self-governing institutions. The primary societies are formed by voluntary consent of persons who constitute it, and under bye-laws which they have formed, in accordance with the Regulation. They elect their own committee who are persons in whom they have confidence and in whose capacity they have unflinching faith. Now, Sir, if the committee according to the opinion of the Registrar is found to be defective or faulty or if he thinks that he cannot make the society work with the committee, he is empowered to dissolve the whole committee after giving a chance to elect another committee which is liable to meet with the same fate. Sir, it must be remembered that, in such institutions as co-operative societies, one can take the horse to the pond but a thousand men cannot make it drink. In an area where a co-operative society or a co-operative bank works no body can strive for or move an inch towards the progress of the movement except its members, the villagers and the share holders. This fact has been lost sight of by the framers of this Bill, when they inserted their obnoxious Clauses. In support of the provision that has been inserted here it has been argued that in Madras and in Bombay and other Provinces, the Registrars have been given such powers. But it is forgotten that even in those Provinces where such powers have been invested some of the important co-operative institutions such as the Financing Banks and others have been omitted and brought outside the purview of the provision. I would object to even such a procedure of investing huge and varied powers with the Registrar. Now, Sir, the Bill as it is, has attracted the attention of not only Travancoreans but also outsiders. One of the resolutions passed in the committee meeting of the All India Co-operative Unions and banking institutions, held at Fyzabad recently, deserves great attention. It says as follows :—

"This committee is of opinion that the Travancore Co-operative Societies Bill tends to officialise unduly the movement and it should be so amended as to make it consistent with the ideals of co-operation as a 'popular movement.'"

Sir, one of the greatest co-operators in India who knows the working of almost all the big co-operative institutions, I mean Mr. V. Ramadas Pandalu Guru, has said that this Bill is the most retrospective of all Bills in the Provinces or States hitherto passed. Although we find certain similar provisions in this Bill as in British India, the Bill as it is, especially Clause 47 is not found in any other enactment in India. My appeal to the co-operators in this House is that they will as one body disapprove of all such arbitrary and wide powers being invested with an individual, as it is provoking and insulting to their self-respect and to the principles of co-operation.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovara) : Sir, I rise to second the motion moved by my honourable friend Mr. Elenkath. If in any particular place the managing board is not working properly to the interests of the society it is open to the general body meeting to revise the managing board and to bring in a new board. Here, according to this Clause, the managing board may be working properly to the liking and satisfaction of the general body. But if it does not work to the liking of the Registrar, the managing board goes. Thus, in other words, the managing boards according to this Clause, ought to exist with the distinct approval of the Registrar. If it does not get the stamp of approval of the Registrar that cannot function. Granting that the Registrar is a very responsible person, a friend, philosopher and guide why should he not give due consideration to the opinion of the general body meeting and dissolve a particular managing board, if it is not conducive to the interests of the members? If it is not for the good of the society for whose good is the managing board appointed? If it is not for the good of the society is it co-operation? If it is so, it is co-operation with a vengeance. There are other reasons for deleting this provision in respect of appointing the managing board. As my friend referred, even such powers may be exercised by the Registrar in respect of Taluk Boards and Financing Banks also. In other words the Registrar is trotted out as a supreme Demi-God. That is a thing which no real co-operator can accept. You will find from the provisions of the Bill that certain Clauses were copied from the Madras Act. But there are other provisions in the Bill which go against the provisions of the Madras Act but are taken from the Bombay Act, and certain other Clauses are taken from the Panjab Act. These are jumbled together and thrown up for this House to accept. I do not know whether the House has realised these inconsistencies in the Co-operative Bill as revised by the Select Committee. With this, Sir, I wind up that this is a highly retrograde step. If the particular managing board is not found working properly, why not liquidate the society or cancel it? For whose benefit does it exist? Why should there be the Registrar to come out and say "this is not good for you; but I will give you this Bill". Here is a question of co-operation highly questionable. A Co-operative society means that people have joined together voluntarily and have agreed to work for their mutual benefit. So this Clause as it stands militates against this fundamental principle of voluntary activities. If this Clause is retained the result will be that no man of self-respect and no believer of real democratic principles will ever be prepared to join or much less work a co-operative society. So I have absolutely no hesitation in condemning this Clause in the Bill.

MR. M. GOVINDA PILLAI (Registrar of Co-operative Societies). Sir, I oppose the amendment. The previous speaker has unfortunately omitted to mention a very pertinent circumstance. The existing provision in the Bill is neither a reproduction of any provision in any Act outside Travancore, nor is it the provision as it was originally inserted in the Bill when it was introduced into this House. The existing provision is entirely new, the result of considerable thought on the part of the Select Committee. It may also be said of the same provision that it is considerably less rigorous and more liberal than the provisions in Madras or Mysore or Bombay. Sir, this provision was first inserted in the Bill by the Devadar Committee. In their investigations, conducted throughout the State, there was an overwhelming majority in favour of the right of supersession being conferred on the Registrar. It was in pursuance of the expression of public opinion on the part of the majority of co-operators, that this provision was first introduced into this Bill. There was a conference of co-operators in Trivandrum presided by no less a personage than Mr. Ramadas Pantalu of Madras and under his presidency a resolution, which has been practically reproduced in this provision, was passed. It was passed by an overwhelming majority.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): May I know whether there is an exception with regard to the financing banks?

MR. M. GOVINDA PILLAI (Registrar of Co-operative Societies): The omission of financing banks was deliberately made because there was no financing bank in Travancore as in Madras. Hence the reference to financing bank was excluded.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkul I): May I know whether Mr. Ramadas Pantulu in his presidential address made any reference to this provision?

MR. M. GOVINDA PILLAI (Registrar of Co-operative Societies): He made no reference at all to the present Clause. In his opening address he dilated on the original Clause and severely criticised it. But in his concluding address, he made no reference to the resolution which was passed by a large majority and according to which the present Clause has been drafted. His silence may be construed as a tacit approval of the principle therein enunciated. Till now, I have not found any deprecatory reference to the present provision.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): May I know the date on which the conference was conducted?

MR. M. GOVINDA PILLAI (Registrar of Co-operative Societies): I believe, the Select Committee adopted this provision after the conference, because this provision is a mere reproduction of the resolution as it was passed and accepted by the conference held under the presidency of Mr. Ramadas Pantulu.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): May I ask whether Mr. Ramadas Pantulu, in his concluding address did not express regret at the Registrar's absence at the conference?

MR. M. GOVINDA PILLAI (Registrar of Co-operative Societies): He did. I was really surprised, Sir, that a man of his eminence and status should have indulged in those remarks. The Registrar was not bound to attend the conference. He had his own duties to attend to, duties entrusted to him by the Government.

PRESIDENT: Order, order: the question of the deletion of Clause 47 has no bearing on the Registrar attending that conference.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): May I know whether Mr. Ramadas Pantulu made any statement deprecating the Registrar being given too much power?

MR. M. GOVINDA PILLAI (Registrar of Co-operative Societies): I did not hear.

PRESIDENT: The honourable member will repeat his question.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): May I know whether Mr. Ramadas Pantulu made any observation deprecating the vesting on the Registrar too much power?

MR. M. GOVINDA PILLAI (Registrar of Co-operative Societies): Should I dilate upon that, Sir?

I was pointing out, Sir, that our provision is far more liberal and much less rigorous than the provision in British India.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): May I request the member to make a comparison between the provision here and the provisions in Madras and Mysore?

MR. M. GOVINDA PILLAI (Registrar of Co-operative Societies): This Bill has been published. The Madras and Mysore Acts are also published documents. It is open to the honourable member himself to institute the comparison if he wants. Anyhow, I can assure him that our provision is less rigorous and more liberal than the provision in Madras or in Mysore; it is open to him to satisfy himself about the correctness of my statement.

Sir, Mr. Sivatanu Pillai wants the Registrar to take the general bodies of the various societies into his confidence. I may say for the information of the House that in the case of several taluk banks and primary societies, during the past few years, the Registrar has been doing his best to remove some of the committee members, boards of managements and officers who have been mismanaging things. He has been appealing to the general bodies to see whether they would assist him in replacing unsatisfactory boards of management. But, unfortunately, there have been occasions when, due to the undue influence of and perversion of facts and figures by managements, they have succeeded in clinging to their office for years together in spite of all that the Registrar could do. In some cases the boards have continued for even 10 years and more; it has been impossible for the Department to dislodge them. The reason is not far to seek. The majority of the members of the general body are indebted to societies, and they feel they are obliged to the boards of managements for the loans that they have been able to get.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): For whose benefit is a society allowed to continue?

MR. M. GOVINDA PILLAI (Registrar of Co-operative Societies): I have no doubt that it is for the benefit of the majority of the members. But on account of their ignorance and their inability to assert themselves due to their indebtedness, they are not able to work against the boards of management. As I have already stated, Sir, in every case, the Registrar tries his best to improve the working of the society before he adopts the rigorous and extreme step of cancellation.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kallukulam I): May I correct the member? The Trivandrum Co-operative Conference took place in January 1936 whereas the Select Committee on this Bill held its meeting in April 1935.

MR. M. GOVINDA PILLAI (Registrar of Co-operative Societies): I only said, Sir, that that was my belief. If I am wrong I am open to correction. After all this is not a very material point.

As I have already stated, Sir, the Department has been trying its level best to remove unsatisfactory boards of management and to improve the working of the society, but our efforts have been in vain.

Sir, the Co-operative Societies Regulation has been in force from 1089; and in Madras, the Act has been working from 1912. Everywhere the necessity has been felt that the Department should be given more powers. It is not the desire here or elsewhere for the Government to interfere with this non-official activity. The only idea is that the movement should progress peacefully.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Is there any provision in the Bill to prevent the exercise of undue influence on the committee members by the Registrar?

MR. M. GOVINDA PILLAI (Registrar of Co-operative Societies): I do not understand the question.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): The Registrar stated that he had to interfere when the members go wrong due to the undue influence of the board of management. I am asking whether there is any provision in the Bill which guarantees protection from undue influence by the Registrar himself.

PRESIDENT: Order, order; the question does not arise out of any provision in the Bill.

MR. M. GOVINDA PILLAI (Registrar of Co-operative Societies): I would again point out to the House that the provision in our Bill is much less rigorous and far more liberal than the provision in similar enactments elsewhere. I therefore oppose the amendment.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, I also oppose the amendment. I am interested in the Bill, and interested in seeing that this Clause is retained, interested though not as much as my friend Mr. Sivatanu Pillai seems to be interested in seeing that this Clause is deleted. I rise to oppose this amendment for the deletion of the Clause because I feel that, unfortunately, in the co-operative movement in Travancore, at present, there are people who make it impossible for the societies to work on co-operative principles. The authorities have found it impossible to get rid of such people, to save the co-operative societies from them. In Travancore, Sir, unfortunately, occasions have arisen, even in regard to such purely self-governing institutions as municipalities, where finding that there were members in such bodies who were cantankerous and working against the corporate good but for aggrandisement of power, the authorities have found that the only remedy was not to do away with such institutions but to adopt other suitable means. There have been instances in the case of municipalities where the President and some members have been asked to quit and others have been substituted.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovara): May I ask whether in the case of such municipalities, the Government were bold enough to try a re-election?

Mr. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): My friend seems to be under a misapprehension. I am not referring to any particular municipality. I am not concerned with any particular municipality, and I do not know the details of the case which my friend seems to have in view. I was only making a general remark. I am not going to allow myself to be diverted from the point at issue.

Sir, occasions have arisen when, due to the perversity of human nature, it became impossible for self-governing institutions to work up to their high ideals. Even the greatest supporters of popular movements, people who are dead against self-governing and non-official institutions being interfered with by Government agencies—even they have had occasion to recognise that there is perversion in human nature and that there is necessity under certain circumstances for the Government to intervene and control the working even of such non-official institutions. Sir, my only point is that occasions have arisen in the past when such interference on the part of Government became inevitable.

I would request the House to bear in mind the fact that the history of the co-operative movement in India is quite different from its history in the West. There, in the West, the movement was started on account of non-official initiative; and in the beginning the Governments concerned were looking at it even with some suspicion; it was only later on that the Governments recognised the merits of the movement and began to help it. That has not been the case in India. Here, the movement has been made possible by the active help and support of the Governments. If the movement has now a hold in the country it is entirely due to the initiative and the generous support of the Government. The moment the Government withdraw its control from the movement its prestige is sure to fall to the ground. It is no use arguing merely on first principles. We have to face concrete facts.

Mr. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Does the member distinguish between control and dictatorship?

Mr. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): If the honourable member had understood the correct meaning of the word 'dictatorship' I am sure he would not have asked this question. The provision now in question does not provide for anything like dictatorship. It is control pure and simple that you find in it. I do not think, Sir, that I am now called upon to explain to my friend the distinction between control and dictatorship, which is so well-known. Of course, my honourable friend is at liberty to hold his own view. Only I beg of him not to impose, not to inflict upon me, his peculiar ideas, not to ask me to accept his wrong meaning—as I consider it—of words.

Sir, this provision was very carefully considered by the Select Committee. Some of us were of the opinion that there was necessity, owing to the existing conditions in Travancore, even for the more drastic provision that was in the Bill when it was introduced. Just then, the co-operative conference under the presidency of Mr. Ramdas Pantulu was held. He made certain remarks in his opening speech without knowing anything of the details of the working of co-operative societies here. He was invited by a particular set of people. Even the validity of the conference and its representative character were questioned at the conference. Well, he was invited. Nobody questions his eminence as a co-operator. But let me point out, Sir, that even his most ardent admirers will agree that, in the field of co-operation, India has none greater and more eminent than the late Mr. G. K. Devadhar, the President of the Servants of India Society.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Is the member aware that Mr. Ramdas Pantulu has been accusing Mr. G. K. Devadhar as belonging to the Bombay School of Co-operation? (Laugh'er.)

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I do not wish to answer that question, Sir. I have yet to learn that it is a crime to belong to the Bombay School of Co-operators.

But what I wish to say is that the opinion of Mr. G. K. Devadhar, whose experience of co-operative movement is second to none and who has studied the conditions accurately by touring throughout the country and mingling with the people, should weigh with the House considerably. He is not a man who will advocate official interference where it is not necessary. He is not one who has not understood the principles of the co-operative movement. If personalities have to be quoted and if we are to go on the weight of the opinions of great persons then I will say that this Clause has the authority of Mr. Devadhar against the opinion of Mr. Ramdas Pantulu who has not understood the co-operative movement in Travancore. Anybody who has had anything to do with co-operative societies, who has been able to understand the incurable nature of some of the officers of some of the societies and the difficulty of dispensing with them, will support not only this but will surely advocate a more rigorous Clause. I can say that this Clause is not intended to be used, without careful consideration. I understand that this is not in consonance with the principles of co-operation. But this Clause is necessary on account of extraordinary circumstances. This dose of bitter medicine is necessary because we want actual co-operation to work and not allow bogus personalities to parade under the name of co-operators. It is necessary to protect the ordinary simple guileless co-operator from the exploitation of pseudo-co-operators. With these words, Sir, I have great pleasure in opposing the amendment.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Sir, I too rise to oppose the amendment. It does not require a Devadhar or a Pantulu to study the conditions in Travancore. I am not a co-operator for very good reasons and my honest impression is that Travancore soil is not fertile for the co-operative movement. I would personally give the Registrar any amount of reserve powers. With these words I oppose the amendment.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Urban): Sir, the House has been taken through certain channels of controversy from which I had been trying to extricate myself. The opinion of other people does not count in the determination of this question. Opinions are certainly opinions, and this House should value them. But that does not mean that this House should follow anybody's opinion.

I wish to lay before the House one or two facts. The co-operative movement, Sir, has been brought into existence and nurtured carefully by the Government. I do not agree with Mr. Kuriyan that the soil is not fertile for the co-operative movement. I think that considerable wedding and manuring are necessary for the thriving of co-operation in Travancore.

There are two reasons why I oppose the amendment. Firstly, the Registrar who is appointed from time to time over the department, whom my friend Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai called as the friend, philosopher and guide of the co-operator, never remains there. Once they have been Registrars for some time they want to go out as Peishkars.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): May I know whether the member is aware that the previous Registrar was promoted as Division Peishkar?

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): I know very much more than my friend.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): I do not concede that position.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): As I am older than my friend I say that I know very much more than he.

My friend's question really supports me. That is why I would say rather than sending the Registrar away as Division Peishkar give him a decent pay.

Secondly, the Registrar is an innocuous man, an officer whose duty is quite different from that of District Superintendents of Police. Therefore, it was necessary after a careful examination of all the relevant facts to add to the powers of the Registrar. A conference sat in Trivandrum. How opinions can be manufactured in conferences is a matter known to everybody. If an able speaker puts a case before a multitude he will carry the day. I have travelled in various parts of the country and some months ago I had to open a co-operative conference in Perumpavur at which Mr. Govinda Pillai was also present. I asked many important persons of the locality about this increased power proposed to be given to the Registrar. I have not heard any man say that these powers should not be given.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): May I know, Sir, whether the testimony is relevant here?

PRESIDENT: The honourable member will proceed.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): Since the opinions of important persons have been placed before the House I thought I might refer to this. I am trying only to give moderate powers to the Registrar. These powers are necessary in the interests of the co-operative movement.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Sir, I oppose the amendment. My reasons are based on actual experience gathered during the last few years. The Registrar of Co-operative Societies is an officer with a lot of responsibilities and considerable power. But he has various disabilities. One of those is the absence of power to interfere in the management of societies whenever interference is called for. The result is that under the existing Regulation he can always pass orders, he can always advise the societies, but he cannot interfere and bring into effective force the advice he gives. The result was that he must use the penal powers of cancelling a Society, but he cannot use those powers as there may not be sufficient reasons for that course. My opinion is that he must have powers to admonish the committees, in regard to the audit report, in regard to the bye-laws, and in regard to the cancellation of orders passed by him. My submission is that this Clause is necessary in order to give powers to the Registrar over the committees. If the Registrar has to work properly and carry out the provisions of the Regulation, I submit that the provision similar to this is absolutely necessary. With these few words, I oppose the amendment.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, I too oppose the amendment. If there is any provision in this Bill that would advance the cause of co-operation, I humbly submit that it is this provision. By means of this provision the Registrar is not made a dictator or an autocrat. When the Registrar finds that the committee of a society is not functioning properly the best thing he can do is to give an opportunity for the committee to clean its own Augean stables. If the Registrar finds that the committee is either unwilling, or unable to do so, he can supersede that committee by appointing another. Suppose that committee also fails, then the Registrar has got power under this Clause to appoint another committee. He cannot appoint that committee as he pleases. He must appoint members of that committee from amongst the members of the particular society and not from outside.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I ask whether the Registrar is given powers even to nominate persons who are not members of the societies?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): The Registrar can only nominate members from the society, and not any one from outside the society. This is what the Clause says:

"He may, by order in writing, dissolve the committee and appoint a suitable committee consisting of as many members of that society as he may deem necessary to manage the affairs of the society for a specific period not exceeding one year."

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Is it obligatory on the part of the Registrar to nominate only members of the society?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): He cannot appoint any man from outside the society as he pleases. His powers are being restricted. The Registrar can ordinarily appoint them only for a period of one year. But he may extend that period from time to time provided that the total period shall not exceed two years.

[Mr. S. J. Nair.]

After the expiry of the appointed period that committee will have to convene a meeting of the society and the members of the society have got power to elect a new committee as they please. So by this provision in the Bill the Registrar is not given any unnecessary power at all, so that he could interfere with the workings of the principle of co-operation in regard to co-operative societies. He can only help the members of the society in order to advance the spirit of co-operation among themselves and safeguard the interests of the society. There is absolutely nothing, as some of my friends fear, that the Registrar may supersede societies and do this and that. He could not do so under the provisions of the Bill. So I oppose the amendment.

PRESIDENT : The amendment before the House is that Clause 47 be deleted.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and lost.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II) : I move the following amendment:—

"In Clause 47 add the following as sub-clause (6) :

Any person aggrieved by the order of the Registrar under sub-section (1) dissolving a committee and appointing a new committee may appeal to Our Government within two months from the date of the order."

This amendment incorporates a general provision for an appeal on the order of the Registrar superseding a society. There is a volume of public opinion against this Clause. It is said that this Clause is against even the very principles of co-operation. The amendment I have suggested is a very modest provision. It only gives power to the aggrieved party to appeal to the Government on the order of the Registrar. I don't propose to say anything more, since much about this, was said when the former amendment was moved.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala) : I second it.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil) : Sir, I oppose the amendment. It is quite unnecessary that orders under this Clause should be subject to appeal. It will be seen that the first order under this Clause is one calling upon the society to elect a new committee. Is it the opinion of the honourable members that this order should be appealed against? If so, who is the aggrieved party? Not the society. Because the society it is, that elects the committee. Then who is it that is aggrieved? The late committee? Why should that committee appeal against an order allowing the society to elect a committee? It is such committees that want to stick to office that ruin societies. Such committees should not be tolerated.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala) : But the committee also is a part of the society.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil) : But who is the aggrieved party, the society or the committee? And against whom is the appeal? Against the society?

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and lost.

The question that Clause 47 do stand part of the Bill was then put to vote and carried.

Clause 47 was added to the Bill.

The question that clauses 48 to 56 do stand part of the Bill was then put to vote and carried.

The Clauses were added to the Bill.

Clause 57.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Pakil): I move the following amendment:—

In Clause 57, sub-clause (1), add the following proviso, namely:—
"Provided that it shall be competent to Our Government, subject to rules, if any, as may be prescribed, to revise any decision passed by the Registrar under Clause (a) of sub-section (2) of Section 56.

The object of this Clause is to provide a supervising authority in respect of the decision of the Registrar when he is the first deciding authority. It is seen from Clause 57 that whenever a dispute arises the Registrar may either decide it himself or he may refer it to certain other authorities. If the Registrar himself takes the initiative and decides it there is nobody to supervise it. The existence of a supervising authority will act as an inducement to the first deciding authority, the Registrar in the present instance, to exercise greater care in the matter of his decisions. It is for this reason that I propose this amendment.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tonala): I oppose the amendment. There is no necessity to supervise the decision arrived at by the Registrar because the Registrar forms no part of the society. Besides it must be presumed that he is the agent of Government and as such no supervising authority is needed.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I also oppose the amendment. I am rather surprised that from the attitude that has been taken by the Government in regard to other provisions of a similar nature they should move this amendment. It seems to me to be inconsistent. After the other amendments of a similar nature were passed on behalf of Government so that there should not be any dilatoriness in the proceedings, appeals in such cases cause delay. If there is no substantial case an appeal should not be made to lie with the Dewan. Here the Government themselves bring an amendment that there must be an appeal from the decision of the Registrar. What will Government do if the Registrar himself does not refer the matter to any other body, because the Registrar has got that power? Then no appeal will lie. This amendment will be dangerous because the Registrar will see that he does not refer the matter to any authority fearing that he may have to sit in judgment over that and after that his judgment will be revised by Government. It will lead to unnecessary delay. What is wanted is that things should not be kept pending unnecessarily. How many appeals have been provided to Government? If an appeal is provided to Government in these matters it is likely to take longer time for decision, however vigilant a Government might be, because, appeals may be numerous. What is the good of that? Further the Registrar could circumvent this provision. He can at the first instance see that the matter is not referred to another authority and thus avoid an appeal on his decision. That will lead to further hardship, because, even in cases where he thinks there is necessity of referring the matter to another authority, he will not do it fearing that ultimately his decision might be overruled. I am rather surprised to find the Law Member taking this attitude when he comes to this Clause. I do not see and I am not convinced of the necessity for the provision of an appeal to Government in this matter. Therefore I oppose the amendment.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I also oppose the amendment on this ground. Section 65 gives power to Government to revise any order of the Registrar. The Section reads as follows:—

"Our Government or the Registrar may call for and examine the record of any enquiry or the proceedings of any officer subordinate to them or him for the purpose of satisfying themselves or himself as to the legality or propriety of any decision or order passed and as to the regularity of the proceedings of such officer. If in any case it shall appear to Our Government or the Registrar that any decision or order or proceedings so called for should be modified, annulled or reversed, Our Government or the Registrar, as the case may be, may pass such order thereon as to them or him may seem fit. The revising authority may also pass any interim order on such conditions or otherwise as it deems fit."

That is sufficiently comprehensive and I do not think why a proviso should be added to Clause 57.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nelumangad): I support the amendment of the Law Member. The reason is that under Clause 56 enormous powers have been vested with the Registrar. After all, the Registrar is only a human being. To err is human. To say that when once the Registrar, a human being, errs that there shall not be an appeal upon the wrong he has committed, is not doing justice to the parties who are aggrieved. Further, the amendment says that an appeal shall lie to Government. It does not say that an appeal shall lie to any individual or to the Chief Secretary to Government or to the Dewan. The proviso says:—

"provided that it shall be competent to Our Government subject to such rules if any—to revise any decision passed by the Registrar".

So an appellate authority is vested with the Government of Travancore and any society or party that is affected as a result of the decision of the Registrar has the right to appeal to the Government of Travancore. It is the greatest honour, nay, privilege and safety, that could be conferred on the aggrieved party. Therefore I support the amendment.

MR. POTTAYIL S. KRISHNA PANICKAR (Sherata II): I oppose the amendment. Under Section 56 the Registrar is constituted an arbitrator under the provisions of this Regulation.

(At this stage the Deputy President took the Chair).

Against the decision of an arbitrator nowhere in Civil law is an appeal allowed.

The award of an arbitrator is not a judicial decision and the Registrar is not called upon to make a judicial decision. Even though he is bound by certain rules of evidence, his decision is considered to be final and as such whether it is to Government or to some other extraneous body, an appeal against the award of the Registrar cannot be allowed. On that simple principle I oppose this amendment.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil) : Sir, the provision that I want to include is of the nature of a reserve power which may be exercised if it is thought fit.

The amendment was put to vote and carried.

Clause 57 as amended was put to vote and carried.

The Clause as amended was added to the Bill.

Clause 58.

Clause 58 was put to vote and carried.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil) : Sir, I beg to move the following amendment :—

"In Clause 59, line 3 after the figure 56 insert the following namely:—

"or by Our Government under the proviso to Section 57, Sub-Section (1)".

It is only a consequential amendment.

MR. M. GOVINDA PILLAI (Registrar of Co-operative Societies) : I second it.

The amendment was put to vote and carried.

Clause 59 as amended was put to vote and carried.

The Clause as amended was added to the Bill.

Clauses 60 to 72

Clauses 60 to 72 were put to vote and carried.

The Clauses were added to the Bill.

Clause 73

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil) : I beg to move the following amendment :—

"In Clause 73, 2nd para, lines 1 and 2, for the words "for which he purchased substitute the words "against the purchase".

In this Clause some how or other some words have been omitted or some mistakes committed. As it now stands it does not convey any meaning. The Clause as it stands now reads thus :—

"The sum due to the purchaser may be set off in whole or in part for which he purchased money ....."

To correct that mistake I have brought forward this amendment.

MR. M. GOVINDA PILLAI (Registrar of Co-operative Societies) : I second it.

The amendment was put to vote and carried.

The Clause as amended was put to vote and carried.

The Clause as amended was added to the Bill.

Clauses 74 and 75

Clauses 74 and 75 were put to vote and carried.
The Clauses were added to the Bill.

Preamble and Title.

The question that the Preamble and Title do form part of the Bill was then put to vote and carried.

The Preamble and Title were added to the Bill.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Fakiil): Sir, the next stage of this Bill is the third reading. As some amendments have been carried to-day, I propose to make the motion for passing the Bill only to-morrow.

THE TRAVANCORE TRADE UNIONS BILL.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Fakiil): Sir, I beg to present the report of the Select Committee on the Travancore Trade Unions Bill and beg to move that the Bill as reported by the Select Committee be taken into consideration.

MR. M. GOVINDA PILLAI (Registrar of Co-operative Societies): I second it.

The Clause was added to the Bill.

Clause 2.

MR. P. S. MAHOMED (Co-opted): സർ, ഞാൻ ഈ ഭേദഗതിയെ ഇവിടെ അവതരിപ്പിച്ചുകൊള്ളുന്നു :—

In clause 2, sub-clause (g), line 1, omit the word "or" between the words "trade" and "industry" and add the following after the word "industry" "or organised plantations."

"We now pass from industries properly so called to a branch of activity which, while it is predominantly agricultural, has many features in common with industry. The plantation represents the development of the agricultural resources of tropical countries in accordance with the methods of western industrialism. It is a larger scale enterprise in agriculture. The plantation system denotes the acquisition of a limited but fairly extensive area for the cultivation of a particular crop, the actual cultivation being done under the direct supervision of a Manager who in some cases may himself be the actual proprietor. A considerable number of persons (the number may run as high as 4000) are employed under his control in the same way as the factory workers are under the control of the factory Manager, but there is one important difference in that the work is essentially agricultural and is not concentrated in a large building."

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Anybody seconding the motion?

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkeezh I) : I second it.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I) : I oppose the amendment. The amendment was considered by the Select Committee and it was negatived by an overwhelming majority. There is nothing wrong in trying this law in the case of big labour organisations. Generally it is found in British Indian legislations that plantation labour is not included. I am afraid that by the inclusion of plantation labour, the very term is vague, we do not know how the scope of the Bill will extend. We do not know the exact import of the term plantation labour. What is a plantation? In fact the wording is vague. Moreover I think that in labour legislation we ought to care for a certain amount of uniformity. We find that even under the New Government of India Act, labour legislation is kept in the concurrent list. Though we can make special changes when it is absolutely necessary it has been found feasible on all hands to have a more or less similar legislation for the common good of labour throughout the world. Sir, the question of conferring certain privileges and framing certain pieces of legislation for the benefit of labour was brought to the forefront ever since the Treaty of Versailles. The preface of that treaty gave special emphasis on conferring special amenities to labour to all nations. In India many labour legislations were introduced after the passing of conventions by the International Labour Convention at Washington, and now we find a tendency of uniformity in organisation and in legislation so far as labour is concerned. It is highly prejudicial to the workers to make a distinction and to make this unnecessary difference. Sir, to make matters clear, it is better to have a separate legislation for plantation labour. That would be the best method for serving the purpose. This amendment in the legislation will merely complicate issues and will create difficulties in the practical working of the legislation and also the furtherance of the interests of labour. Therefore I oppose the amendment.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I support Mr. Kottur Kunjukrishna Pillai.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and lost.

MR. P. S. MAHOMED (Co-opted): Sir, I move the following amendment:—

"In Clause 2, sub-clause (h), add the following after the words "Trade Unions" at the end "or any association formed for the purpose of ameliorating the condition of working class."

സർ, ട്രേഡ് യൂണിയനുകൊണ്ടുള്ള ഉദ്ദേശം സാധിക്കാത്ത ആളുകൾക്ക് സംഘടിപ്പിക്കുന്ന അവരുടെ അഭിവൃദ്ധിക്കുവേണ്ടി പ്രവർത്തിക്കുന്ന വിഷയത്തിൽ ഗവണ്മെന്റിൽനിന്നും കൂടുതൽ സഹായം ലഭിക്കുക എന്നുള്ളതാണ്. സംഘടനയോടുകൂടി പ്രവൃത്തിക്കുന്നതായാൽ അവർക്കു ഇന്നത്തെതിൽനിന്നും കൂടുതൽ ശക്തിയുണ്ടാകുന്നതിനു വളരെ സൗകര്യം ലഭിക്കുന്നതാണ്. അല്ലാതെ ഇത് മതലാളിമാരോടു മൽസരിക്കുന്നതിനായി ഉദ്ദേശിക്കപ്പെട്ടിട്ടുള്ള ഒന്നല്ല. ഇതുകൊണ്ടു മഹനാത്മത്വം കൈവരേണ്ടതും വരുന്നില്ല. ഈ ബില്ലിന്റെ പരിധിയിൽ എല്ലാ തൊഴിലാളികളെയും ഉൾപ്പെടുത്തി അവരുടെ അഭിവൃദ്ധിക്കുവേണ്ടി പ്രവർത്തി

[Mr. P. S. Mahomed.]

അന്നതിനുവേണ്ട സൗകര്യം ഉണ്ടാക്കിക്കൊടുക്കേണ്ടതു അത്യാവശ്യമാണ്. ഫാക്ടറികളിൽ ജോലിചെയ്യുന്നവരെമാത്രം ഇതിൽ ഉൾപ്പെടുത്തിയാൽ പോരാ. എല്ലാ തൊഴിലാളികൾക്കും സംഘടിച്ചതിന് പ്രവൃത്തിക്കുന്നതിനുള്ള സൗകര്യം, ഉണ്ടാക്കിക്കൊടുക്കുക എന്നല്ലാതെ കറേപ്പേഷനാലും അതിനുള്ള സൗകര്യം വെയ്തുകൊടുക്കാമെന്ന നിലയിലെന്നതു ഒരിക്കലും ശരിയല്ല. അതുകൊണ്ട് ജോലിചെയ്തു ക്ലാർക്കുപോ കൂട്ടിക്കുന്ന എല്ലാവർക്കും അവരുടെ അഭിവൃദ്ധിയ്ക്കുവേണ്ടി സംഘടിച്ചതിന്നു പ്രവർത്തിക്കത്തക്കവിധത്തിൽ എല്ലാ സംഘങ്ങളേയും രജിസ്റ്റർചെയ്യുന്നതിനുള്ള അവകാശം ഈ ബില്ലുകൊണ്ടു ഉണ്ടായരിക്കണമെന്നാണ് എന്റെ അമൻറുമെൻറിന്റെ ഉദ്ദേശം.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: May I ask the honourable member what he means? Unless the amendment is accepted these people or any association formed for the purpose of ameliorating the condition of working class cannot come under this provision. The provision in the Clause is this:—

“Trade Union means any combination, whether temporary or permanent formed primarily for the purpose of regulating the relations between workmen and employers or between workmen and workmen or between employers and employees or for imposing restrictive conditions on the conduct of any trade or business and includes any federation of two or more Trade Unions”.

Is there anybody seconding the amendment?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Fovais): I second it.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangudi): Sir, I oppose the amendment. If the amendment is accepted it may include even associations formed for political or for any other purpose. I may say that any other association formed for the amelioration of the working classes may also be brought in by this amendment. There may be a political association the object of which is to work for the amelioration of the working classes. That association would also come under this category if the amendment is accepted.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Are you advancing arguments or an explanation?

MR. P. S. MAHOMED (Co-opted): പൊളിറ്റിക്കലായി പ്രവർത്തിക്കുന്ന സംഗതികൾ ഈ ബില്ലിൽ ലിമിറ്റഡ് ചെയ്തിട്ടുണ്ട് എന്നു അറിയാമോ?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangudi): ആ ഏകകാരണം കൊണ്ടാണ് ഈ അമൻറുമെൻറു സ്വീകരിക്കാൻ പാടില്ല എന്നു ഞാൻ പറയുന്നത്.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangudi): So, if this amendment is accepted, any association formed for any other purpose, if one of its objects is the promotion of the interest of the working classes, would come under this definition. That, in the long run, would work havoc so far as trade unions are concerned.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, I rise to oppose the amendment. I was not able to follow the explanation given by the mover for the amendment. The mover was explaining his reason saying that it sought to bring in under the Trade Union any organisation of workers temporary or permanent. The definition is this:—

“Trade Union” means any combination, whether temporary or permanent, formed primarily for the purpose of regulating the relations between workmen and employers, or between workmen and workmen or between employers and employers, or for imposing restrictive conditions on the conduct of any trade or business and includes any federation of two or more trade unions”.

The mover wants to add “or any association formed for the purpose of ameliorating the condition of working classes.”

Sir, this association which he means may be an association that has nothing to do with labour as it is understood. It may be an association of doctors or of philanthropic workers formed for the purpose of giving some relief to labourers, who may not have anything to do with factory or industrial labour as such. It is really strange to find such a thing included in the definition of Trade Unions. The definition will become incongruous with the amendment. I oppose the amendment.

MR. M. L. JANARDHANAN PILLAI (Co-opted): I oppose the amendment. It has been clearly explained in this House that there must be a definite function. When this becomes law, it allows a number of people, who have nothing else to do except to create agitation, to pretend themselves that they are benefactors?

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know whether the member can furnish one instance where such a body exists?

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Sir, I oppose the amendment. The amendment is not happily worded.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The honourable member seems to be dissatisfied with the English. This is a matter of opinion. After all, the excellence of English is not that which counts. You may explain the ambiguity in it.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): “The condition of the working class” is correct.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: You mean the plural, that is all your object.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Yes.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Anybody speaking?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I oppose.

The amendment was put to vote and lost.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Now the question before the House is that Clause 2 do stand part of the Bill.

The motion was carried and the Clause was added to the Bill.

Clauses 3 to 5.

Clauses 3, 4 and 5 were put to vote and carried, and the Clauses were added to the Bill.

Clause 6.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): I move the following amendment:—

In Clause 6, sub-clause (d), line 1, the word "adequate" be omitted.

Sir, the word is necessary here. This Clause relates to the provision to be contained in the rules of the Trade Unions. The sub-clause says, that such and such rules should be made for such and such purposes. Not only is the word unnecessary, to me it appears that it will cause positive danger if the word is left there. It gives the Registrar the discretion to say whether the rules framed are adequate or not.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Is it not also a matter of opinion?

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): That is my point. If a Registrar who is not well disposed towards the Trade Unions wants to stand in its way, this would be a very effective weapon in his hands to be used against them. He can very well say "your rules are not adequate." Why should such a power be given to him? Facility means reasonable facility i. e., adequate facility. Retention of the word is dangerous. If a Registrar is not well disposed towards the growth of Trade Unions, by the help of this word, he can cause unreasonable delay. When there is an application for registry, he can even inhibit the growth of Trade Unions in Travancore.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: According to the honourable member you will be improving the Clause if "facility" is left without the word "adequate."

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I second it.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I oppose. In the absence of the expression "adequate", the result would be as what the learned mover has understood it. The object of the amendment has been enunciated by him, that in the presence of the expression "adequate" the Registrar will have greater powers, etc. But the presence of the expression "adequate" will curtail his powers. This is my humble submission. The omission of the word might mean practically indefinite facilities. The presence of the word "adequate" means reasonable facilities. Thereby the power of the Registrar is curtailed.

I oppose the amendment.

The amendment was put to vote and lost.

Clause 6 was put to vote and carried and added to the Bill.

Clauses 7 to 10.

Clauses 7 to 10 were put to vote and carried, and the Clauses were added to the Bill.

Clause II

MR. P. S. MAHOMED (Co-opted): I move that in Clause II, sub-clause (i), line 3, delete the words "High Court" and insert the words "District Court in the District in which the registry is applied for."

രജിസ്ട്രാരുടെ ഉത്തരവിന്മേൽ ഹൈക്കോടതിയിൽ അപ്പീൽകൊടുക്കുക എന്നുള്ളത് തൊഴിലാളികൾക്കു വളരെ പ്രയാസമായിട്ടുള്ള ഒരു സംഗതിയാണ്. രജിസ്ട്രാരുടെ ആർഡറിന്മേൽ അപ്പീൽകേൾക്കുക എന്നുള്ളതിനും പുറമേ അത്യാവശ്യം വേണ്ട തെളിവുകൾക്കു അവിടെ സ്വീകരിക്കേണ്ടതു് അത്യാവശ്യമാണ്. ബ്രിട്ടീഷിൽ ഡ്യൂയിൽ അങ്ങനെ തെളിവുകൾ സ്വീകരിക്കുന്നണ്ടു്.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): ഹൈക്കോടതിയിൽ ഇങ്ങനെയുള്ള തെളിവുകൾ എടുക്കണമെന്നാണോ അഭിപ്രായപ്പെടുന്നത്?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I may just tell you for your information that the next sub-clause deals with that matter.

MR. P. S. MAHOMED (Co-opted): അപ്പീൽ സംബന്ധമായ സംഗതികളെപ്പറ്റിയല്ലാതെ കർമ്മനൽകേസിനെ സംബന്ധിച്ചു പറയുന്നില്ല.

ബ്രിട്ടീഷിൽ ഡ്യൂയിലെ കമ്പിഡ് യൂണിയൻ ബില്ലിൽ ഹൈക്കോടതിക്കു അത്യാവശ്യം വേണ്ട തെളിവുകൾ സ്വീകരിക്കാമെന്നു നശ്ചയിച്ചിട്ടുണ്ടു്. ഈ ബില്ലിലും അങ്ങനെ ഒരു വാചകം ആദ്യം വേർതിട്ടുണ്ടായിരുന്നു. ഇപ്പോൾ ആ വാചകം എടുത്തുകളഞ്ഞു. അതു വലിയ ദോഷമാണ്. അപ്പീൽ കേൾക്കുന്നതിനു ഡിസ്ട്രിക്ട് കോടതികൾക്കും അധികാരം നൽകേണ്ടതു അത്യാവശ്യമാണ്.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankud): രജിസ്ട്രാരുടെതിരുമാനത്തിന്മേൽ പുതിയ വ്യവഹാരം കൊടുക്കണമെന്നോ അതല്ല അതിന്മേൽ അപ്പീൽകൊടുക്കണമെന്നോ അഭിപ്രായം?

MR. P. S. MAHOMED (Co-opted): അപ്പീൽ കൊടുക്കണമെന്നാണ് എന്റെ അഭിപ്രായം.

MR. A. EASWARA PILLAI (Kalkulam II): I second the amendment.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, I oppose the amendment moved by Mr. P. S. Mahomed. In the Bill as it is passed, the question of getting a Trade Union registered is of very vital importance, so far as the industrial worker is concerned, because by the changes made by the Select Committee to Clause 14 of the Bill it has become impossible for any Trade Union to function without being registered. If any association of workers functions, that association and its members will be liable to a punishment under Clause 30, 'sub-clause (1) to a fine of 500 rupees or so. So, there is a penalty for any workers' union functioning under the Bill as it is, without registration. If for some reason or other a Registrar refuses to register a union of workers, or cancels a registered union, then it may be a question of life and death so far as that association is concerned.

No doubt, the Registrar is supposed to pass orders on evidence furnished to him. Sir, it is all very well to say that the right to adduce evidence has been taken away. But, what is the sort of evidence that is to be given? The Registrar has to make an enquiry before he registers a Trade Union. Certainly, he will have facts to go upon. He will be the original court for all practical purposes. Now, the question is whether the appellate court should be the High Court or the District Court. In a case where the Registrar, unjustly, let us take it, refuses to register a Trade Union, not only will the persons be not allowed to have a union, but if they form an association and do anything, they will be punished. That is the provision. So, the registration of a union is of vital importance under this Bill.

Sir, let us consider who will be the persons ordinarily interested in preventing the registration of these Trade Unions; of course, the rich employers, the influential capitalists, who in molassil parts...

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): May I know.....

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Let me finish my sentence.

It is not unlikely that the subordinate courts may be influenced by these rich and influential employers. That was the reason why the Select Committee provided that the appeal over the decision of the Registrar should lie with the the highest court in the land.

MR. P. S. MAHOMED (Co-opted): ഓരോവോളം.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Mr. Kuriyan stood up earlier to ask a question. Let him do it first.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will the member be satisfied if a further appeal, from the District Court to the High Court, is provided for?

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): It is not a question of my being satisfied. Why should there be that prolonged process of first appealing to the District Court and then to the High Court? We must remember that we are dealing with poor labourers.

MR. P. S. MAHOMED (Co-opted): ഡിസ്ട്രിക്ടുകോടതിയിലേക്കു കൊടുക്കുന്ന ഏവാൻസുകൾക്കു ബേക്കപ്പടുത്തുന്ന എന്നറിയാമോ?

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): അതിനാണു ഉത്തരം പറഞ്ഞിട്ടുള്ളതു്. I think the member understands English.

Even that is objectionable since it involves unnecessary expenditure and unnecessary delay. The House should remember that unlike in the British Indian Act, an extra restriction has been provided here. No Union can function without getting, itself registered. and if anything is done without registration, it is visited with punishment.

This Bill imposes a penalty also. Therefore it is I say that the appeal should lie with the High Court, regarding the registration of the Union.

I therefore oppose the amendment.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I also oppose the amendment. From the definition of the Trade Union we find that an association of employees and employers also constitutes a trade union. Who are these employers? The rich mill owners and factory owners, the influential capitalists? They are sure to influence the subordinate judiciary. In the interests of justice and fairness, it is better and safer that the High Court, the highest tribunal in the State is invested with appellate jurisdiction over the decisions of the Registrar.

MR. N. ABDUR RAHMAN SAHIB (Nominatad): Is it not cheaper and more convenient to appeal to the District Court?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): But, my fear is that some times justice may be denied in the lower courts. (Laughter.) It is only in the High Court that we can always expect the best form of justice. In local feuds between the poor employees, the bigwigs, after all, count, Sir. The Registrar is not such a big, rich man.....

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: That point has been sufficiently emphasised by the previous speaker.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): My friend Mr. K. Kunjukrishna Pillai emphasised more the poverty of the employees than the richness and influence of the employers, Sir. (Laughter.) I am referring to the affluent circumstances of the employers.

I also oppose the amendment, Sir.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Before I put the amendment to vote, I want to indicate to Mr. F. S. Mahomed that, under the law as it is, the appellate courts are empowered to direct the subordinate courts to take evidence.

The amendment was put to vote and lost.

The question that Clause 11 do stand part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The Clause was added to the Bill.

Clauses 12 and 13.

The question that Clauses 12 and 13 do stand part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The Clauses were added to the Bill.

Clause 14.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I beg to move that — In Clause 14, sub-clause (2) be deleted.

Sub-clause (2) says:—

"(2) No trade union shall be formed or shall function unless it is registered under the provisions of this Regulation".

There is a proviso, which also I seek to delete in my next amendment.

Sir, this provision has been incorporated by the Select Committee. It is provided that, unless an association gets itself registered, it cannot function; and unregistered associations will not only be not allowed to function, but, if they work, they will be visited with a penalty. Sir, this is a very strange and novel provision. No such provision is found in any Trade Union legislation elsewhere.

[Mr. K. Kunjukrishna Pillai.]

Sir, my first objection to this provision is that it is against the very object of this Bill as it was introduced, and beyond its scope. This Bill makes registration compulsory. It was stated by the Law Member, in the Statement of Objects and Reasons printed along with the Bill that this piece of legislation will be purely permissive. That was the fundamental condition which this House imposed when it accepted the principle of the Bill at the first reading. The object of the measure was to enable Trade Unions to be formed; and it was stipulated that there will be no manner of compulsion in the Bill. Therefore, in introducing this provision, the Select Committee has gone beyond the scope of the Bill as it was introduced.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The honourable member has raised a very important point. That can be considered by the House only if the result of the work of the Select Committee and the details of the reference made to it are made available to the House.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): My contention is that in the Statement of Objects and Reasons, a sentence occurred to the effect that the Bill was intended to be purely permissive. That was an unconditional statement. That was the condition under which this House accepted the principle of the Bill. Further, that was what the Law Member also said in his speech, while introducing the Bill. Now, here, a compulsory provision has been introduced by the Select Committee. It says that no Trade Union shall exist unless it is registered. In other words, registration has been made compulsory. That is, certainly, against the optional nature of the Bill.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I do not want this important discussion, about the jurisdiction of the Select Committee, to proceed unless more details about the reference to the Select Committee are made available. It is better the Law Member speaks now.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Certainly, the fundamental principle of a Bill cannot be overridden by the Select Committee. Speaking for myself, I never thought that this provision would go against the principle of this Bill.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I am not in a position to pronounce any definite ruling on the point since full details about the reference are not forthcoming; and it is nearly five o'clock.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I shall try and get the papers and proceed with the discussion to-morrow, if that would not be inconvenient.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Even otherwise, you have got the right to continue the discussion to-morrow.

The House adjourned at 5 p. m.

P. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI,
Secretary to the Sri Mulam Assembly.

PROCEEDINGS
THE TRAVANCORE SRI MULAM ASSEMBLY
OFFICIAL REPORT
FIRST ASSEMBLY
NINTH SESSION.

Saturday, the 21st November 1936/7th Vrischikam 1112.

The Assembly met again in the Victoria Jubilee Town Hall at Eleven of the Clock, with the President in the Chair.

NEW MEMBER SWORN IN.

Mr. G. Narayanan Tampi, President, Municipal Council, Trivandrum, took the oath and signed the rolls.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Road from Peyaud to Vellanad.

68. * MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether the road from Peyaud to Vellanad is completed; and

(b) if not, the reasons, if any, for the delay in completing the same?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): (a) No.

(b) For want of sanctioned estimate and funds.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): May I know the total length of the proposed road from Peyaud to Vellanad?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Six and a quarter miles.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): May I know whether any portion of this road has been completed?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Yes.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): May I know whether after the completion of the portion of the road the Chief Engineer has asked Government to sanction allotment for finishing the remaining portion of the road?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): No, owing to financial stringency funds are not available. But I may inform the honourable member that the work has not been dropped.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): May I ask whether the Government consider the amount spent on this road is a mere waste?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): No.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): May I know whether the Government have taken steps against the officer responsible for spending some amount for the completion of the road partially and leaving it half done without any use or advantage to the public?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I do not agree with that. As a matter of fact, the road is being done in sections according to the availability of funds. I cannot agree with the honourable member that the money has been wasted.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): In view of the fact that money has been spent for doing a portion of the road may I ask whether Government will consider the question of the completion of the road?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): That is a question of future action. As I told the honourable member just now the question has not been dropped. I hoped he would have been satisfied with that answer.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know in which years the portion was completed?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): In 1100 and 1107.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know why the P. W. D. has not submitted to Government any estimate for the completion of the remaining portion of the road?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): The Department know that funds will not be available and therefore they did not submit an estimate.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether it is not a penny-wise and pound-foolish policy to leave roads half completed?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): It is a matter of opinion.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know approximately the extent of road that has yet to be completed?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation):  $5\frac{1}{2}$  miles.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know how Government thought before such an estimate was prepared that funds will not be available?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Government thought that in proportion to the portion that has already been completed, the second portion also will cost much.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): What will be the cost approximately?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Rs. 10,000.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know the length of the incomplete road?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): The road is six and one-fourth miles long and about a half remains to be completed.

Kollakadavu Bridge on the Chengannur-Mavelikara Road.

69. *MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the action hitherto taken by them or the Department for the construction of the Kollakadavu Bridge on the Chengannur-Mavelikara road; and

(b) the observation made with regard to the construction of the above Bridge in the Administration Report of the P. W. D. for the year 1110?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): (a) The member is referred to the reply to the interpellation No. 284 on page 936 of the Sri Mulam Assembly Proceedings Volume VII, No. 12 dated 20-4-1936.

(b) He is referred to page 81 of the P. W. D. Administration Report for 1110.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know what action has been taken in respect of the observation made at page 81 of the P. W. D. Administration Report for 1110?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I have already answered that question on a previous occasion. I said then that the design for the bridge had been prepared.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know the action taken subsequent to the observation made in the Administration Report?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): We are awaiting instructions from Government with regard to certain proposals made to Government.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know from Government the amount required for the construction of the bridge at Kollakadavu?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): No estimate has been prepared.

The Puliur-Mannar Road.

70. *MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether the Assistant Engineer, Mavelikara, has submitted any scheme or report to the Chief Engineer or the Executive Engineer, Quilon, for the improvement of the Puliur-Mannar Road;

[Mr. T. P. Velayudhan Pillai.]

(b) if the answer to part (a) is in the affirmative, the action taken on the same; and

(c) whether the department (P. W. D.) has taken any steps for sanctioning a junghar service at the Ittinayar Kadavu ferry on the Puliur-Mannar Road?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation):

(a) Yes.

(b) & (c) The estimate submitted by the Division Officer, Quilon, in which a junghar service at the Ittinayar Kadavu crossing is included, is pending sanction for want of funds.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know the amount required for opening the junghar service at the Ittinayar Kadavu crossing?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): The opening of the road and junghar is estimated to cost Rs. 6,720.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know the length of this road?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I have not the materials at hand now to answer the question.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know the distance to go to Mannar from Puliur via Mavelikara?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I claim notice.

Water supply to the town of Alleppey.

71. *MR. K. M. KRISHNAN (Ambalapuzha II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) what the progress of the work in connection with the water supply to the town of Alleppey is;

(b) how many wells were bored till now (10-3-1112) for the purpose;

(c) whether water in all the wells bored is of the same quality; and

(d) what will be the further time required to finish the work?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government):

(a) The investigation works are very nearly completed and the estimates are being prepared.

(b) Four trial borings were made, of which two failed to strike the underground stream and so had to be abandoned. The other two borings (the first and the fourth) were successful and have been installed as bore wells.

(c) Yes, in the two successful wells.

(d) Fifteen months from the commencement of the construction work.

MR. K. M. KRISHNAN (Ambalapuzha II): May I know whether the wells will supply the necessary quantity of water?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): It is expected that they will.

MR. K. M. KRISHNAN (Ambalapuzha II): May I know when the work will be completed?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): The estimates are under preparation. The proposals for land acquisition are expected to reach Government next week. Land acquisition proceedings will be taken up soon. Administrative sanction has been accorded for the estimate, and tools and plants will be purchased immediately. The detailed estimates will reach the Government in about two months.

MR. EDAVANATT S. PADMANABHA MENON (Shertala I): May I know the total estimated amount for the scheme?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): A detailed estimate has not yet been prepared. The work is estimated to cost approximately Rs. 10 lakhs.

MR. EDAVANATT S. PADMANABHA MENON (Shertala I): What is the amount approximately spent till now?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Two estimates for investigation have been sanctioned—one for Rs. 10,000 and another for Rs. 25,000. The investigation is almost completed; but information about the expenditure actually incurred till now is not readily available.

The Land Mortgage Bank.

72. * MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the number of applications received, disposed of by rejection, and that by sanctioning, and the number pending in each of the years in the Land Mortgage Bank since its inception; and

(b) whether an year-wise statement of applications pending relating to the years of 1108, 1109 and 1110 will be placed on the table with reasons thereof and duration of pendency in each office?

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): Government consider that the time and labour involved in collecting the information required, will not be commensurate with the possible advantages to be gained thereby.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know the number of applications received by the Land Mortgage Bank during all these years?

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): 1839.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know the number rejected?

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): 460.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know the number of applications sanctioned?

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): 846.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know the number pending disposal?

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): 533.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know the reasons for the pendency of such a large number of applications in the Bank?

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): It is difficult to find out the reason in each case. The applications are pending in various offices such as those of the Tahsildar, the Assistant Peishkar, the Division Peishkars, the Sub-Registrar, the Legal Adviser and the Bank itself. We have to collect all the applications if the reason is to be found out. That is why the answer has been given that the time and labour involved in collecting the information required will not be commensurate with the advantages to be gained thereby.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government see that hereafter the applications are disposed of as early as possible?

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): Certainly.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kallulam I): What is the average length of time taken for the disposal of an application?

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): I have not got the information.

Power-House at Pallivasal.

73. *MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolan): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether the present Power-House at Pallivasal has been inspected by any Engineer from outside the State;

(b) if so, who were they and what necessitated their inspection; and

(c) whether they have submitted any report on their inspection?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government):

(a) Yes.

(b) Signor Marcello and Major Howard. Signor Marcello's visit was to advise Government on the designs of the Head Works of the Pallivasal Hydro-Electric Project. Major Howard's visit was to advise Government on certain technical aspects of the works connected with the Project.

(c) Yes.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolan): May I know whether any other Engineer was consulted when the headworks were started?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): No, Sir.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): May I know how the work was begun without consulting any expert Engineer on the subject?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): No other expert Engineer was consulted.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): What was the nature of the advice sought for by Government from these Engineers?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): There were certain special problems connected with this work. One, for example, was whether there was necessity for a decantation chamber to deal with the accumulation of silt.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): May I know whether the advice given by Major Howard was on the same subject?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Major Howard was consulted in regard to the scheme generally and not on any particular aspect of it.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): May I know whether the reports submitted by them contained the advice sought for by Government?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Certainly.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): May I know whether these reports will be published?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): They are treated as confidential.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): May I know whether Major Howard recommended the transfer of the civil section of the work?

PRESIDENT: The official member has already answered that the report is confidential. To take it bit by bit and ask whether the civil section was transferred as a result of the advice etc., would be really to destroy the confidential character of the information.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilacankod): May I know whether, according to Major Howard's report, there was any necessity for the alteration of the plant?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): The contents of the report are confidential.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Torala): May I know whether the Engineers were given any remuneration?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): The Italian Engineer was given Rs. 12,500; and Major Howard was given a bonus of Rs. 2,000; and the Madras Government were given his pay and allowances for the week he spent in Travancore.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether it was because Government thought that one of them was not competent enough to deal with the question that they sought the opinion of both?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): As I said, Sir, the Italian Engineer was consulted in regard to a particular problem, while Major Howard was called in to report about certain technical aspects of the scheme generally.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Did the Government think that one of them was not competent to deal with both the questions?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): After consulting the Italian Engineer, Government consulted Major Howard also.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): May I know whether it was as a result of this advice that they thought that the work will be finished this year?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): I do not know whether the completion of the work has much to do with the advice tendered by them.

MR. EDAVANATT S. PADMANABHA MENON (Sheriala I): May I know how long it will take to complete the scheme?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): It will be completed in 8 to 10 months if all goes well.

Expenditure on the Pallivasal Hydro-Electric Scheme.

74. * MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicoolam): With reference to the answer to question No. 240 answered at the last session (on 7th August 1936), will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the causes of the slip and the nature of the protective work carried on;

(b) whether the investigation referred to therein is over;

(c) whether the estimate referred to therein has been prepared; and

(d) if so, what is the additional expenditure that has been incurred?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government):

(a) The causes of the slip are still under investigation. The necessary protective works will be carried out as soon as the investigation is completed.

(b) to (d) In view of the answer to part (a) these questions do not arise.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicoolam): May I know whether the slip has affected the Power House?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): The slip is two hundred feet away from the Power House.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicoolam): May I know how long the investigation of the causes of the slip has been going on?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): For about three or four months now.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todappuzha cum Devicolum): May I know whether the Electrical Department itself is carrying on the investigation or any other department is doing it?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): The Civil Engineering Department is, I believe, carrying on the investigation.

Acting Graduate Teachers.

75. * MR. V. K. VELAPPAN NAIR (Vaikam): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the number of acting graduate men teachers in the Gazetted staff of the Education Department who entered service as early as 1101 M. E. and who have put in six or more years of service before 31-10-1111;

(b) the number of vacancies that occurred in the said cadre in the Department from 1101 to the close of 1110;

(c) how many of these vacancies have been filled;

(d) whether preference was given to acting men;

(e) if so, how many of them were confirmed; and

(f) whether fresh hands were entertained in service overlooking the claims of these acting men?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction):

(a) 14.

(b) 93.

(c) 64.

(d) Yes.

(e) 45.

(f) Yes.

MR. V. K. VELAPPAN NAIR (Vaikam): With reference to the answer to part (a), may I know why these 14 teachers were not confirmed while there were 93 vacancies?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Acting teachers were confirmed, in accordance with their rank in the seniority list.

MR. V. K. VELAPPAN NAIR (Vaikam): I understand from the answer to part (a) that there are 14 acting teachers at present. I should like to know why they were not confirmed.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Because there were no more permanent vacancies at the time when the others were confirmed.

MR. V. K. VELAPPAN NAIR (Vaikam): My question is whether the Government will be pleased to state the number of acting graduate teachers who had put in more than six years' service?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): That question has already been answered. A good number of teachers are now acting for various reasons. In the first place there was some uncertainty about the seniority list. The Education Reforms Committee had recommended the abolition of the list. Government were in two minds about that question, whether they should abolish the list or modify it. Subsequently the Standardisation Scheme came in.

[Mr. C. V. Chandrasekharan.]

Then the G. O. on recruitment to the Public Service laid down another principle and Government ordered that all appointments should be regarded as provisional. Owing to a conjuncture of such circumstances a good number of people with considerable acting service remained unconfirmed. But the matter is now receiving attention.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know in answer to part (f) the number of fresh hands who were entertained in service over-looking the claims of acting hands?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): About 19.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know the reasons for that?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): In some cases it was due to retrenchment. Owing to retrenchment in the Colleges, people who were retrenched had to be provided for in the schools. In other cases it was due to superior academic qualifications.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kallulam I): May I know whether any raw-men are included in the number 19?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): The honourable member must explain what he means by raw-men?

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kallulam I): Besides those who were transferred from Colleges the member said that some hands were newly entertained. I want to know the number of fresh men so entertained?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): A few men with superior qualifications, mostly western, were preferred to acting men.

Cultivation of Tobacco in Travancore.

76. *MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether they have passed the rules regarding the question of cultivation of tobacco in Travancore; and

(b) if the answer to part (a) is in the negative, the reasons for the same?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner):

(a) No.

(b) Draft Rules for regulating the cultivation of tobacco are under the consideration of Government.

Private School Teachers.

77. *MR. KAINIKKARA M. PADMANABHA PILLAI (Changanacherry I): Will the Government be pleased to place on the table a statement showing the number of private school teachers holding rights to each of the various communities recognised in the matter of recruitment to Public Service?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Government consider that the time and labour involved in collecting the information, asked for by the member, are out of all proportion to its possible utility.

MR. KAINIKKARA M. PADMANABHA PILLAI (Changanachery I): May I know whether after receiving the same question during the last Budget Session the Director of Public Instruction attempted to gather information on the subject from his subordinates?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): No, Sir, I do not recollect having done that.

MR. KAINIKKARA M. PADMANABHA PILLAI (Changanachery I): May I know whether it was without the knowledge of the Director of Public Instruction the Divisional Inspectors and their assistants wrote to the managers calling for information on this question and sending them to the Director?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): If my memory serves me right, I do not remember to have done anything of the kind. But an inquiry may have been made by the Divisional Inspectors.

MR. KAINIKKARA M. PADMANABHA PILLAI (Changanachery I): May I know from the Director what was the result of the enquiry made through his subordinates?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Presumably, the enquiry if it was started was not proceeded with.

MR. KAINIKKARA M. PADMANABHA PILLAI (Changanachery I): May I know whether the Director of Public Instruction got any replies from the Divisional Inspectors on this matter?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Sir—

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I rise to a point of order.

PRESIDENT: Order, order. Let the Director of Public Instruction finish the answer.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): As I said, Sir, we have not collected any definite information. And the Government consider that the time and labour involved in collecting the information asked for by the member are out of all proportion to its possible utility.

MR. KAINIKKARA M. PADMANABHA PILLAI (Changanachery I): My question is whether the Director attempted to collect information on this matter from his subordinates?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I have already said that I do not remember to have done so. There is no point in pursuing the same question.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): When the member put a question to the Director of Public Instruction the point of order I wanted to raise was this. May I know whether we are permitted to put questions to any departmental head as such or whether to the member representing Government?

PRESIDENT: Slight technical irregularities may perhaps be excused.

Sale of Toddy.

78. *MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): With reference to the statement on page 19 of the Administration Report of the Excise Department for 1110 that the toddy yielded from the licensed trees is estimated at 10,178,070 gallons (ten millions one hundred and seventy-eight thousand and seventy), will the Government be pleased to state the total sale price of this toddy?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): The total price of 10,178,070 gallons of toddy will amount to Rs. 85,43,045 calculated on the basis of 18 chs. per Imperial gallon, the minimum price fixed in the notice of sale of toddy shops.

Export of Cocoanuts.

79. *MR. T. K. ALEXANDER (Kunnapal I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the number of cocoanuts exported through the Quilon and Kundara Railway customs in 1110 and 1111; and

(b) the duty realised for the same at these customs houses in each of these years?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): (a) & (b) The information required by the member is placed on the table.

MR. T. K. ALEXANDER (Kunnapal I): May I know from Government whether they have tried to ascertain the reason for the abnormal export of cocoanuts through the Quilon and Kundara Railway Stations?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Probably there is great demand for the same.

MR. T. K. ALEXANDER (Kunnapal I): May I know who was responsible for such demand? Was there any private agency who took up orders in the matter?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): The merchants exporting cocoanuts.

MR. T. K. ALEXANDER (Kunnapal I): May I know whether there is any reduction in Railway freight?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): I have no information.

Introduction of compulsory Primary education.

80. *MR. M. MAHOMED HANEEF (Nominated): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether they have received repeated representations regarding the introduction of compulsory primary education in the State; and

(b) if the answer to part (a) is in the affirmative, whether they will be pleased to state the nature of the action taken on the same?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction):

(a) Yes.

(b) It is considered that the time is not yet ripe for the introduction of compulsory primary education in the State.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tondai): May I have an idea from the Government as to the circumstances which prompted them to say that the time is not ripe for the introduction of compulsory primary education in the State?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): That the department should have plenty of funds is one of the most important desiderata.

V. P. School for Muslims at Todupuzha.

81 *MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Dericolam): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether the Muslims of Todupuzha had applied for a separate V. P. School for Muslims at Todupuzha; and

(b) if so, when and what action has been taken on it?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction):

(a) Yes.

(b) There were two applications—one on 11-11-1106 and the other on 15-12-1109.

The Division Inspector of Schools, Muvattupuzha, has been asked to report whether the Muslims are prepared to run a school under private management.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Dericolam): May I know the date on which the Divisional Inspector was called upon to report?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): About four months ago.

Importation of Petrol, Kerosene oil and Crude oil.

82. *MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing the quantity of (a) petrol (b) kerosene oil and (c) crude oil imported into the State during each of the last five years?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): A statement showing the quantity of petrol and kerosene oil imported into the State during each of the past five years is laid on the table. Statistics of imports of crude oil are not available.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): May I know from the member, why there is great difference in the figures of imports during 1110 and the other two previous years in respect of petrol and kerosene?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): I am not in a position to explain the disparity for those figures. The statistics collected are what is given.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): May I know the agency that collects these figures?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Customs officers.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): May I know the reason for the great difference in respect of kerosene between the figures in 1109 and 1110 and the figures of two previous years?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): I am not in a position to give the reasons. The figures are given as per the statistics collected. There might have been larger imports, perhaps for re-export.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): May I know whether the member is satisfied that there is some defect in respect of the agency that collects statistics?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): I do not contend that the arrangement is perfect. As for that matter we are going to introduce a new system by which accurate statistics can be collected.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): May I know whether these are dutiable articles?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): No.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum - Rural): May I know whether any import duty was levied in respect of these articles?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): None in Travancore.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): In British India?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Yes.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): May I know whether of these articles are imported through Travancore ports, any duty is levied?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Only for direct importation from foreign countries.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): May I know whether these are dutiable articles if they come direct from foreign countries?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Yes.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): May I know from Government whether they get any contribution from the duty levied by the Government of India.

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): We get a contribution from the petrol fund.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): May I know whether any separate forms are maintained for the collection of statistics?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Yes.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamuttitta): May I know, whether the contributions rise or fall in proportion to the quantity imported into Travancore?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): I claim notice.

RAO SAHIB MAHA KAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): May I know what is the new arrangement that the member said in regard to the collection of statistics?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): The Government propose to depute an officer to important British Indian custom houses for training in the collection and compilation of statistics.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): Sir, before proceeding to the next item in the agenda I wish to make statement in respect of interpellations. For this session, I find, from the list of questions admitted by the President, as many as 414 questions for answers. Till now only 85 questions have been answered. Sir under the Rules and Standing Orders the first hour of every day is to be devoted to answering questions. It will be seen that during this week practically the questions were finished within half an hour and the questions set down for the day were finished in the record time of five minutes yesterday. The House will remember that fact quite well. Anyhow, there is great disparity between the number of questions admitted and the number of answers that were supplied till now. I need not say that this is a very important privilege, viz., the right of interpellations conferred upon the members. I am sorry to say that that privilege is being denied. I fear that.....

PRESIDENT: The honourable member means thereby "minimised".

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): Yes, Sir. Probably the Government may say that answers for some of the questions were not obtained within time. Sir, under the Rules, 12 days' notice is allowed for the sending of interpellations to Government and I am sure that answers for almost all the questions could be easily obtained by communication from all the mofussil places, because almost all the places in the State are within reach of 3 days' communication by aanchal. So far as offices in Trivandrum are concerned almost all the offices are supplied with telephone connections. Considering all these circumstances, answers to questions could be obtained early enough. From the list of interpellations I find, many of them are such that answers for them could be obtained without communicating to mofussil offices. But even then the head offices are situated in the town of Trivandrum. Under these circumstances I request you, Sir, to see, that this subject of interpellations and answers is given its due weight.

PRESIDENT: Before I make a statement I should like to hear the Chief Secretary.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Sir, it is true that it has been possible to answer only about 15 questions on an average daily during the last few days and I must say that the Government are doing their best to collect answers and include as many questions as possible in the agenda for each day. The matter is not so easy as my friend Mr. Pacode Narayana Pillai makes out. Most of the questions have to be sent to the heads of departments who have to refer them to their subordinates. Take for instance a question relating to the Land Revenue Department. It has to filter down from the Revenue Commissioner to the Division Peishkar, to the Assistant Peishkar, to the Tahsildar and finally to the Proverthickaz before answers could be obtained and so it does take some time. But I must say that the Government are putting all possible pressure upon the heads of departments by sending them reminders almost every day and asking them to send in their answers promptly. As I have already said every possible effort is being made to answer as many questions as possible. But I may say that though only about 15 questions a day have been answered during the last few days, I think it is possible to answer for the next few days on an average from 25 to 30 questions daily as we have now received sufficient answers.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): According to the Rules questions have to be sent 12 clear days before the date of the meeting. May I know whether the consideration of probable delay in getting the answers ready by a lot of correspondence etc., did not weigh with the Government when they fixed the number of days by such a rule?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): That is the minimum number of days for the notice. I repeat that Government are doing all that is possible to expedite the answering of questions and from next day onwards more questions will be answered.

PRESIDENT: I fully realise that the right of interpellations is a valuable privilege exercisable by the members of the legislature. At the same time the members of the legislature will also see that the various departments, both in the metropolis and in the districts, should have sufficient time in order to answer the questions thoroughly and precisely. To insist upon too short a time may mean that the answers may take a non-committal or inconclusive form. Therefore it is necessary to reconcile all these things. Care will be taken hereafter that the exercise of the privilege will not be curtailed or minimised in any manner.

THE TRAVANCORE ANCIENT MONUMENTS PRESERVATION BILL.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I propose to move the third reading of the Travancore Ancient Monuments Preservation Bill. Before I make the motion I wish to move a few amendments which are more or less of a verbal character.

My first amendment is as follows:—

In Clause 7, sub-clause (5)

(a) for the word "be" occurring between "shall" and "prepared" substitute the words "not lie if not",

(b) for the word "the" occurring before the word "Dewan" substitute the word "Our" and

(c) for the word "prescribed" substitute the word "said"

"The Clause as passed yesterday will read thus:—

"An appeal under sub-section (3), shall be preferred within sixty days of the date of service of the copy of the order under sub-section (4) except where he satisfies the Dewan that he had sufficient cause for not preferring the appeal within the prescribed period".

As amended the Clause will read thus:

"An appeal under sub-section (3), shall not lie if not preferred within sixty days of the date of service of the copy of the order under sub-section (4) except where he satisfies Our Dewan that he had sufficient cause for not preferring the appeal within the said period".

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

PRESIDENT: This is only a verbal amendment. It has been moved and seconded. In Clause 7, sub-clause (5), the following amendments be made:—

- (a) for the word "be" occurring between "shall" and "preferred" substitute the words "not lie if not",
- (b) for the word "the" occurring before the word "Dewan" substitute the word "Our", and
- (c) for the word "prescribed" substitute the word "said".

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and carried.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I beg to move as follows:—

'In Clause 19, sub-clause (5)

(a) for the words "be preferred before the expiry of" substitute the words "not lie if not preferred within",

(b) for the word "the" occurring before the word "Dewan" substitute the word "Our" and

(c) for the word "prescribed" substitute the word "said"

The Clause as it now stands reads thus:—

"An appeal shall be preferred before the expiry of sixty days from the date of service of the copy of the order under sub-section (4) unless the appellant satisfies the Dewan that he had sufficient cause for not preferring the appeal within the prescribed period".

As amended the Clause will read thus:—

"An appeal shall not lie if not preferred within sixty days from the date of service of the copy of the order under sub-section (4) unless the appellant satisfies Our Dewan that he had sufficient cause for not preferring the appeal within the said period".

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

PRESIDENT: Moved and seconded —

In Clause 19, sub-clause (5)

(a) for the words "be preferred before the expiry of" substitute the words "not lie if not preferred within",

(b) for the word "the" occurring before the word "Dewan" substitute the word "Our", and

(c) for the word "prescribed" substitute the word "said"

That also is purely a verbal amendment.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and carried.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I now beg to move that the Travancore Ancient Monuments Preservation Bill, as now amended, be finally passed

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

PRESIDENT: Moved and seconded that the Travancore Ancient Monuments Preservation, Bill as now amended be passed.

The motion was carried and the Bill was passed into law.

THE TRAVANCORE CO-OPERATIVE SOCIETIES BILL.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Before moving for the passing of the Travancore Co-operative Societies Bill I beg to move as follows:—

In Clause 1, sub-clause (1) substitute the figure 1112 for the figure 111.

Mr. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

PRESIDENT: It has been moved and seconded that in Clause 1, sub-clause (1), the figure 1112 substituted for the figure 111.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and carried.

Mr. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I beg to move that the Bill as now amended be passed.

Mr. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

The motion was put to the vote of the House and carried and the Bill was passed.

THE TRAVANCORE TRADE UNIONS BILL.—(contd.)

Clause 14.

Mr. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Yesterday I have moved that in Clause 14, the sub-clause (2) be delete. By moving that amendment what I wanted to achieve was to restore the Bill to its original position as it was introduced by Government and as it exists in British India and elsewhere. I wish to point out that the amendment that was made in the Select Committee was a very strange amendment and I also contend that the Select Committee had gone beyond its powers and against the principles enunciated in the Bill as shown in the statement of objects and reasons. Yesterday I was not able to lay my finger on the exact wording in the statement of objects and reasons, wherein it has been stated as a matter of principle that this Bill or this legislative measure is a purely permissive one. Against that principle of the Bill being purely permissive now what is sought to be enacted is to make it compulsory for the Unions to be registered and to put a penalty upon all organisations that do not get themselves registered. I wish to refer to the exact portion of the statement of objects and reasons, as it appears. It is stated:—

"The legal position of Trade Unions which do not register, whatever it is, will be unaffected by this measure. In other words, the measure is purely permissive."

There is a clear assurance given by the Law Member. It is in the face of this assurance and in accordance with this Principle that this House accepted the general principle of the Bill and sent it on to the Select Committee. I contend that the Select Committee was not competent to go beyond this clear direction and make it compulsory for all Trade Unions to get themselves registered if they wanted to exist. I further contend that according to the Preamble of the Bill this is a Bill to provide for the registration of Trade Unions; "to provide for" and not to compel, "and in certain respects to define the law relating to registered Trade Unions in Travancore". Both these objects have been violated. It is not a provision for the registration of Trade Unions but it is a restriction on the existence of any organisation by workers without getting themselves registered that has been enacted. By an amendment to Clause 30 (1) it has been incorporated:—

"Whoever in contravention of the provisions of Section 14, sub-section (2), forms any Trade Union or takes any part in the functions of any Trade Union shall for every such act be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees."

[Mr. K. Kunjukrishna Pillai.]

That is a clear provision dealing not with registered Trade Unions but with those that have not been registered. This is a point that I raised at the time of the Select Committee sittings. But the point was overruled. I wish to submit to this House and to you, Sir, that this must be considered to be in excess of the powers conferred upon the Select Committee by this House. A similar question arose in the Legislative Assembly during the discussion of the Trade Unions Bill and the question was decided as to whether the decision of the Chairman of the Select Committee was final. It has been ruled that the Chairman of the Select Committee is not the final authority and that it has to be decided by the President or whoever presides in the open session of the House. I am referring to page 380, Volume VII of the Legislative Assembly Proceedings.

PRESIDENT: In regard to what Union?

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): In regard to Trade Unions. May I say one word, Sir. I have contended—I do not wish to contend anything else—that the question whether an amendment is outside the scope of the Bill or not is a matter for decision by anybody but you, Sir. That is my whole point. I say that is a decision for you entirely, but I do also urge this point for your consideration, namely, that it is not open to a Select Committee to enlarge the scope of a Bill without a direction from the House.

In the legislative Assembly Proceedings it is stated thus:—

“Mr. R. K. Shanmukham Chetty: With reference to the point raised by the honourable the Home Member, I should like to know from you, Sir, whether it is within the scope of the Chair to say whether a Bill as it has emerged from the Select Committee has gone beyond the original scope of the Bill. My contention is that if an amendment is made by a Select Committee which goes beyond the principles of the Bill, it is for the Chairman of the Select Committee to rule that out of order and not for the Chair.

Mr. President: The final decision in a case of that kind always rests with the Chair here in this House. The matter has been sufficiently discussed and I will put the question now”.

It has been finally ruled that the ultimate decision regarding a question of this kind rests with the Chairman of the Assembly in the open session and not with the Chairman of the Select Committee. Sir, I contend that this alteration clearly goes beyond the principle enunciated in the Bill and the scope of the Bill as seen from the Preamble. First of all it not merely provides for the registration of Trade Unions but it restricts and compels that there should be no organisation of labourers if it could not get itself registered. Secondly, it is intended only to legislate for registered Trade Unions. This Bill goes beyond that and imposes penalties in regard to Trade Unions which have not been registered. Thus the scope is extended and provides penalty for Trade Unions that have not been registered. I will go to the merits of the Bill only if it is necessary. If you rule that the provision is in excess of the powers of the Select Committee I need not take the time of the House in discussing the merits of the amendments. Therefore I await your ruling.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I quite agree that the President is the final authority. But the question to be decided is whether the amended provision is within the scope of the Bill or not. That is a matter of opinion. The Chairman of the Select committee, Mr. T. K. Velu Pillai, apparently thought that it was within the scope of the Bill. He is an experienced Chairman and his opinion is worthy of consideration. If I may say so, I also am of the same opinion. If the provision is within the scope of the Bill, it is in order.

PRESIDENT: The point raised is an important one; but I had been warned of the possibility of the point being raised and I am armed with the necessary authority. It will be observed that the honourable member in raising the question before the House stated that the Law Member, in the course of his remarks on the Bill, referred to certain matters and stated in the course of those remarks that the Bill would be permissive. Now the speeches made by the spokesman of the Bill are important in the matter of the scope and character of the Bill. But that should not be treated as conclusive or decisive. The prime criterion in that decision is the object of the Bill as indicated in the terms of the Bill itself. Now turning to the Bill itself it will be seen from the Preamble which is as follows:— "Whereas it is expedient to provide for the registration of Trade Unions and in certain respects to define the law relating to registered Trade Unions in Travancore". The object was to provide for registration. The question whether that provision for registration would be universally applicable or applicable only to certain categories of Trade Unions is therefore not foreign to the purpose of the Bill as adumbrated by the Bill itself. It is true that great attention should be paid to the manner in which the Bill is presented to the House. I may add that turning to the analogies we find in May's Parliamentary Practice, page 404, the following :

"Amendments may be made in every part of the bill, whether in the preamble, the clauses, or the schedules; clauses may be omitted, and new clauses and schedules added; though no amendments can be moved to the granting or enacting words of bills for granting aids or supplies to the Crown, or to the enacting words of other bills. Those words are part of the frame work of the bill and are never submitted to the committee.

An amendment must be coherent and consistent with the context of the bill; and when a proposed amendment had been so amended as to form an incoherent question, the chairman stated that if no further amendment were proposed, he should proceed with the question which next arose upon the clause".

Now the test therefore as laid down in Parliament is that the amendment should be coherent and consistent with the context of the Bill. Judged by that test, although it is perfectly true that it goes beyond the statement made by the Law Member in presenting the Bill to the House, I hold that this amendment is coherent and consistent with the context. Therefore I rule that the proceedings of the Select Committee have not been ultra vires of the Select Committee.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Then I proceed to the merits of my amendment which seeks to take away the provision incorporated at the Select Committee stage into this Bill. It need only be pointed out that if my amendment for the deletion of this provision is not accepted, in Travancore no Trade Unions can exist unless they are registered. If somebody of workers is not competent enough or able to get themselves registered, then they will be denied the ordinary, that is, the elementary right of combining themselves to put forward their grievances. Sir, it is the infringement of a fundamental right enjoyed by every section of the people of the State. This amendment seeks to do away with that right in the case of labourers employed in factories or in any industrial concerns. I do not think much argument is necessary to point out the iniquitous nature of this restriction. Sir, one can understand if certain privileges were conferred by the Bill only on registered Trade Unions, which are willing to accept the responsibilities and restrictions imposed by it. But an association of people who are not willing to get themselves registered and who are not keen on getting the benefit conferred upon them by this Bill should not be compelled to get themselves registered. And if any body of people gather together to ventilate their grievances, that should not be visited with a penalty of Rs. 500. In British India the fight was the other way. The proceedings of the legislatures there, will make it clear. In British India what the non-officials wanted was that even to those Trade Unions which were not willing to get themselves registered the benefits of the Bill should be conferred. That was of course vetoed and the arguments advanced by the Government Members who were responsible for the Bill were that he who is not willing to take the responsibility of registration should not claim for the privileges conferred by the Bill. Well, Sir, that argument, one can understand. But it is very difficult to understand the position taken by the sponsors of this amendment in this Bill which says "Even though you are not keen on getting the benefits conferred by this Bill you shall not exist unless you are registered. You must register if you want to exist. You should get yourselves registered or else you should not combine yourselves." That is a very serious restriction imposed on a poor ordinary citizen, imposed on industrial labourers and people who form Trade Unions.

Sir, by the proviso to this sub-clause a term of 3 months is given for an association to get itself registered after which it will have no legal existence. The serious nature of the effects of this amendment will have to be comprehended when it disposes of this amendment. I wish to point out that there are very many Trade Unions or Labour Associations functioning in the State. I do not say many of them will not be willing to register themselves. There are small associations of workmen who are employed in small industries and whose number will not be great and there may be difficulty to provide for the necessary audit and other obligations imposed upon by this Bill and who may have nothing by way of funds to insist on any such demands but may be allowed to combine together with a view to express their grievances.

Sir, every other association in the State is allowed to function without this penalty of punishment even if it is not registered. There are communal organisations, religious organisations, and various other types of organisations that are allowed to function without any restriction; and I cannot see for a moment what is it that makes it obligatory on the part of labourers to register their associations and that unless they register their associations they should not be allowed to work and that if they work they will be visited with a punishment which may range up to Rs. 500 fine. This is a very important matter so far as the rights of labourers are concerned. I know Sir, that it may be said that it is in the interests of labour to make this compulsion and say that the labourers are ignorant people and if they combine and form associations they may easily fall a prey to exploitation and their funds may be swindled if sufficient safeguards are not provided; and so they must be compelled to get the benefit of registration. This argument is in favour of registering other associations as well. If there was such a law, then, I can understand. Labour in Travancore cannot be said to be less enlightened than labour in British India. As a matter of fact a labourer here knows his rights much better than his brother in British India with regard to money or any other privileges. In British India they did not think it necessary to put this provision in their legislation. We are trying to bring this legislation in conformity with the legislation in British India. Sir, I repeat with emphasis that this will be an unnecessary restriction on the rights of the people.

(At this stage the Deputy President took the Chair.)

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): May I know from the member how many Trade Associations are now functioning in Travancore?

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I have not got the statistics.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Approximately?

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I know of only 4 or 5 associations working in the State now. But my knowledge is limited. I know an association in Quilon and a few working in Alleppey. But Sir, associations may crop up in the near future. Labour is advancing. The country will advance industrially. Labour associations will become necessary in the very near future. Sir, we must all bear in mind that this Bill is one to provide for the existing circumstances as well as for the immediate future which may bring in important alterations in the industrial condition of the State. It has been stated that in the Cashew Nut Industry alone about 40,000 labourers are employed. That is the figure given by the employers themselves. If you take other industries also into account you will see that there is a very large number of industrial labourers in Travancore and it is fast increasing.

Mr. K. Kunjkrishna Pillai.]

It is not merely on the basis of expediency that I put forward this amendment. Sir, I ask the question seriously. What is the justification in denying the right to combine for labour when every other section of the population is given that right? What is wrong with labour? Do you think that a labourer is one who does not know his interests or responsibilities? There are other organisations of people who are more liable to be deceived. But such organisations are allowed to combine themselves without going through the formality of getting themselves registered.

MR. K. C. KARUNAKARAN (Nominated): May I know from the member whether the compulsion in the legislation would not apply to the employers as well?

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): It is very clear from the terms of the Bill. Sir, the volume of opinion from labour organisations and those who are interested in labour show that this compulsion should be taken away. Because if the employers are willing to have a chain round their neck, it does not necessarily follow that labourers also should be willing to do that. Moreover, there will be no difficulty so far as employers are concerned, for registration. The only labour organ "Thozhilali" in a leading article has appealed that this provision should be deleted. The labour association met at Quilon and passed resolutions that this restriction should be taken away.

MR. P. S. MAHOMED (Co-opted): ആ മീറ്റിംഗിൽ അദ്ധ്യക്ഷനായിരുന്നവരിൽ ഒരുവർ തന്നെയാണോ?

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Yes, I presided over that conference. I directed them in their deliberations, to get this restriction taken away from the provisions of the Bill as it affects the elementary right of labourers.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Whether Mr. Kunjkrishna Pillai was the person who presided over that meeting is not very necessary for the progress of the debate.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, so far as the employers are concerned, they have got sufficient funds and they have got the ability to get themselves registered. Some small labour organisations may have to combine themselves occasionally only. For that they should not go through all the formalities of registration incurring heavy expenditure and troubles. They may combine to ventilate a particular grievance only. This right is denied to them by this clause in the Bill.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumvengad): May I know from the member whether a Trade Union has to pay fees for getting itself registered?

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): That is determined later on when the Bill becomes law. But under any circumstances, they will have to incur expenditure. I am speaking of an association which is not in a position to go through the formalities on account of sheer inability. Such an association, in my humble opinion, should not be denied the ordinary privileges enjoyed by every other section of the society.

MR. K. C. KARUNAKARAN (Nominated): May I know whether compulsory registration would not safeguard the funds of such Unions?

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, the benefits conferred by the legislation on Trade Unions are very clearly seen from the provisions. It does not require an answer from me that the Trade Unions if they get themselves registered would get various benefits. What I submit is that a body of people who are not capable of discharging their obligations and to take up the responsibility are proposed under the Bill to get themselves registered. Why should they be compelled by enacting that "you must get yourselves registered?" How can that be justified? Why should an association be denied the right to function occasionally? I again ask what is wrong with labour peculiarly in Travancore? Why should this spoon-feeding be considered necessary so far as labour in Travancore is concerned? Sir, it is not by suppressing the organisation of labour specially organised among labourers to focus their opinions and ventilate their grievances that the interests of labour are to be safeguarded. So much for the contention that this provision is for the benefit of labour. Registration can, no doubt, benefit well-organised Trade Unions. But they may be very few in number and the majority of the Trade Unions that may come into existence will be handicapped by the provision in the Bill. Moreover, Sir, this provision will make this legislation unnecessarily restrictive and make us the laughing stock of the world.

Sir, there is no parallel to this anywhere. I hope the House will have no hesitation in throwing out this Clause and make it as it was when it was sent to the Select Committee. Whatever be the technical point of view Sir, I submit that the House will take notice of the fact that the Select Committee should have given greater consideration to the clear direction from this House. The House was assured not by speech but by a printed statement in very clear terms that the Bill is going to be only permissive. With these few words I move my amendment and request that this sub-clause may be deleted.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): I second the motion. In seconding it, Sir, I may be permitted to speak a few words now, as otherwise I may not get an opportunity afterwards. Sir, when this Bill was introduced it was not introduced with the object of hampering the progress and development of labour in this country. It was not introduced as a single Bill but along with a group of other Bills relating to the preservation and growth of liberty of labour. Labour we thought was sought to be protected by the enactment of this legislation as a preliminary to the proposals made by Government for the purpose of protecting labour organisations in the country, thereby giving an impetus to the industry in the State. Therefore, this Bill was brought along with the Workmen's Compensation Act, Trade Disputes Act and Trade Unions Act. The Select Committee passed this Bill with the object of affording protection to labour. It would appear later on that some provisions underwent certain changes. In the Preamble also that is stated in as follows :—

"Whereas it is expedient to provide for the registration of Trade Unions and is certain respects to define the law relating to registered Trade Unions in Travancore ;"

It is clearly stated that the object of the Bill is to provide for registration and not to compel registration. Let us see whether there is any similar provisions in any of the analogous enactments elsewhere. The Trade Unions Bill was enacted in England in the year 1871 when Parliament thought it fit to protect labour. But they did not bring the Bill with a similar provision saying that no Trade Unions can be formed without getting themselves registered. But there it was stated clearly that if a Trade Union comes within the scope of the Bill it would be protected from prosecution from civil and criminal courts. That was the inducement offered to the labourers in order that they might seek the protection of the law. The enactment then did not think of prosecuting any person who might discharge or might be deemed discharging the functions of Trade Unions. The British Indian Trade Unions Act of 1926, the progenitor of the present Bill, does not contain any provision similar to clause 14(b) or the penal provision which follows in its wake. Let us look into the penal Clauses in the Bill. Clause 30 sub-clause (1) reads thus :—

"Whoever in contravention of the provisions of Section 14, sub-section (3) forms any Trade Union or takes any part in the functions of any Trade Union shall for every such act be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees."

Now, what are the functions of the Trade Unions? They are contained in Clauses 6 and 15. It is very clear that some of the functions of Trade Unions are very innocent and most of them are also absolutely necessary. It is said "the compensation of members for loss arising from trade disputes." Now we need not take into account big Trade Unions. Let us take the case of 5 or 10 labourers employed in a factory joining together for the purpose of mutual help and claiming recognition of the rights to make contributions to disabled workmen or to unemployed workmen and such other remunerative help of a domestic nature. To say that this association should also be registered on pain of payment of a fine up to Rs. 500 by each member is beyond the comprehension of any sensible labour legislation. Sir, I pointed out a specific case of 10 persons joining together legitimately in a scheme which is consistent with the elementary objects and functions of Trade Unions. Sir, are we not preventing the growth of labour institutions in the country rather than helping it if such associations are brought under the restriction contemplated in the Clause? Would any person employed in a small factory hereafter ask his master "I want more wages" or any other concessions? Would any man come forward to support him? This Clause will be an effective check on the natural claims and demands of labour. Why these quarantine rules and sick-bed regulations for Trade Unions? What is the function of the Trade Unions but to keep up the scale of wages and to arbitrate so that capital and labour may go hand in hand for the good of the State.

Now, Sir, let us take the case of the labourers employed in a factory. Suppose, under really hard conditions, they claim enhanced wages, or that the number of hours of work shall be reduced. Let us take it that they meet together for the purpose. All that their employer, the factory owner, the capitalist, has to do to prevent them is to phone up the Police Inspector and tell him 'Here are a dozen fellows doing the functions of a Trade Union under the Trade Unions Regulation; they have not registered themselves into a Trade Union; they must be hauled up.' Sir, a more deadly provision cannot be thought of. I can understand such a provision in a country where the labour organisations have become Terrorist Unions and the public interest demands that they shall be annihilated or kept under control. If we had such a situation here, certainly we should have a punitive provision, a restrictive enactment, to enable the Government to keep the labourers under control. But, we do not have any such problem now in Travancore. This provision is therefore unnecessary and out of place.

I challenge the Law Member, Sir, to point out any enactment in British India, in any Indian State or in England, where there is such a compulsory provision. Why should such wisdom dawn upon us alone in Travancore? Sir, there must be some reason why such a provision has not been enacted anywhere else. Is there any special reason why we should have it here? The Select Committee report does not throw any light on the matter. One is at a loss to find out why this curious provision was inserted by the Select Committee.

I would also submit, Sir, that we would be going a bit out of the way in retaining this provision in the Bill. The presence of it in this Bill and the absence of it in every other Trade Union enactment, makes it very conspicuous. It will lead the people outside to think why we in Travancore have chosen to enact such a provision. If a few people want to meet together for their common ends, let them do it. Why stand in their way? If they do not get their associations registered, they would not be entitled to any of the benefits of this measure. They would not get any protection. Anybody could prosecute them, could sue them. No one would render them any assistance. No one would co-operate with them. Why should we say that no Trade Union shall exist in this country unless it is registered? Let us not say so.

With these words, I support the amendment.

(At this stage the President took the Chair.)

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, when I introduced this Bill, it was my idea to make the registration purely permissive; and left to myself, I would have let it stand like that. However the matter was very carefully considered by the Select Committee. I am not privileged or entitled to refer to what actually took place there. But I may say that this provision has been incorporated in view of the opinion of the majority in the Select Committee.

Sir, on the merits perhaps, there are two sides to the question. Let me make it clear that when I advert to both the sides of the question, I am not either supporting the amendment or opposing it.

[Mr. Kayalam Paramesvaran Pillai,]

I am quite content to leave the matter entirely in the hands of the House. In Travancore, Sir, there are not many trade combinations yet. We are not trying to take hold of the situation at a very early stage. If we had a number of trade unions actually working in the country, and if we now provide that if they want to function they must all get themselves registered, that would be a substantially restrictive provision. Mr. Kunjakrishna Pillai the mover of the amendment himself admitted that there are only 4 or 5 associations now in the country.

MR. K. KUNJAKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): What I said was that there were only 4 or 5 associations so far as I knew; and I supplemented that statement by saying that I knew of labour conditions only in Quilon and in Alleppey.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Śīkar Vakil): Yes, Sir; but I would attach some value to his knowledge of these matters. Even when I introduced the Bill I quoted in support a resolution passed at a meeting presided over by the honourable member. The assertion has been made to-day also that he was presiding over an important labour meeting. I do not for a moment doubt his knowledge in these matters.

Anyhow, Sir, it is a fact that we have not got many associations yet. That is one factor. Again, those who represent labour in this House seem to be in favour of a provision for compulsory registration of these associations. It must also be remembered that in the future these Trade Unions will have to play a very important part in settling differences between labour and employer, so that it is only desirable that all such associations are brought under control as early as possible even in their infancy, if I may so put it, and for that reason are compelled to get themselves registered and are thereby given a recognised status, and attendant privileges. It is only then that they will turn to right lines and achieve their ends. That is one side of the question.

I can very well understand, Sir, the argument put forward by Mr. Kunjakrishna Pillai and Mr. Puthupalli Krishna Pillai that people must not be deprived of their elementary right of meeting together for common purposes. Mr. Puthupalli Krishna Pillai went to the extent of suggesting that even if the labourers asked for more wages, they would be liable to punishment under this Bill, unless they had previously registered themselves into a Trade Union as provided by in the Bill. I do not agree that that follows at all. If that was his only fear he could have proposed a suitable amendment to the provision which he now seeks to delete. There is no doubt however, Sir, that theoretically, the provision is objectionable; and such objection did weigh with me when I introduced the Bill. This is the other side of the question.

Now, Sir, the point therefore, for the consideration of the House, is whether this provision for compulsory registration will really hamper the growth of trade associations in the country or the growth of healthy labour organisations in the country. If the House thinks that it will, then they must accept the amendment. If on the other hand they consider that this provision will only tend to give a recognised status and all the attendant benefits the House must throw out the amendment.

So far as the Government are concerned, they propose to remain neutral on the question.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Is the Law Member in a position to point out a similar provision in any other similar enactment?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vaki): No, Sir. I may however add that the Royal Commission on labour seems to suggest that it would be far better to have some such provision. They suggest that an association which objects to get itself registered cannot be a bona fide association. We are not of course bound by their opinion. As I said, I am merely putting both the sides of the question.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Urban): Apart from the theoretical considerations, does the Law Member think that this provision is likely to lead to any practical disadvantage to the labouring classes.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vaki): So far as I can see, there is none. I am waiting for enlightenment from the House.

MR. K. C. KARUNAKARAN (Nominated): I rise to offer a few remarks on this important question. When the honourable the Law Member asked the leave of the House to introduce this labour legislation, I fought very vehemently on this point, namely, that this measure should be a compulsory one and should not be merely permissive. In the statement of objects and reasons, although the Law Member said that this was a purely permissive measure, he has also said—

"But in view of the important privileges..... conferred upon the registered Trade Unions by this measure, and in view of the disabilities of unregistered Trade Unions..... labour and trade in Travancore will find it to their advantage to register themselves under this measure in spite of certain obligations imposed upon them by reason of such registration."

That shows, Sir, that the Law Member recognises the fact that these Unions stand to benefit greatly by getting themselves registered, by subjecting themselves to some kind of control. My friends, especially Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai, said—he even challenged the Law Member—that no other similar enactment contained a provision like this. Mr. Puthupalli Krishna Pillai also challenged the Law Member and asked him to point out a similar provision in any other legislation relating to Trade Unions. Even on the last occasion when the Bill was before the House, I pointed out that, although the British Indian enactment was purely permissive, the British and the Dominion legislations were compulsory. It is on that basis that I said, when the Law Member introduced this Bill, that this important change should be made in the Select Committee, and the Select Committee should have powers wide enough to do that. That was the idea with which the Select Committee approached this problem and, by a vast majority, introduced this provision.

This House will admit, Sir, that Alleppey is the most important industrial and commercial centre in Travancore. We, in Alleppey, have some experience, during the last 12 or 16 years, of unregistered Trade Unions. It was as a result of such experience that even on the last occasion I pleaded on the floor of this House for the compulsory registration of these associations. Sir, the very fact that the Travancore Labour Association which came into existence about 15 years ago still remains unregistered even though there are facilities for registration under the Joint Stock Companies Regulation, will go to show that these labour associations will always like to work without any control from Government or any other recognised bodies.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I ask whether the member is aware that the labour association applied for registration and the Government refused it?

MR. K. C. KARUNAKARAN (Nominated): I know that they applied for registration about 18 months ago and the Government refused it on the ground that the Trade Unions Regulation will be coming into force very soon.

Even a superficial study of the history of the Travancore Labour Association will show that the elements at the bottom of these associations will always fight against any control by anybody. Sir, as long as outside elements are not wiped out there will be no safety and peace in the industrial areas. I am prepared to accept this permissive principle with regard to the formation and organisation of Trade Unions provided the Law Member can guarantee that the outside element will be completely cut down. As long as we allow at least five or ten per cent. of outside element to go and guide the work of these associations, it will be a very dangerous thing for the industrial areas particularly and for the whole of Travancore generally. My experience during the last ten years with the "Thoshitali" and other publications carried on by the Travancore Labour Association is that they are very dangerous elements. There must be a statute for the compulsory registration of these Trade Unions. My friend Mr. Janardhanan Pillai has given notice of an amendment to Section 21 in which he says that the outside element should not be more than 25 per cent. If this House can accept that amendment then I do not want to stand in the way of the amendment of Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai. He expects that great good will come to the Trade Unions if outside elements are admitted. The present unregistered labour associations are really platforms to the so-called leaders. Sir, I am not opposing or supporting the amendment of Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai. I only wanted to say these few words in the belief that if this amendment is passed, the House will carefully tackle the amendment of my friend Mr. Janardhanan Pillai.

MR. J. W. TOLSON (Travancore Planters): Sir, I have very great sympathy with the amendment moved by the honourable member Mr. K. Kunjukrishna Pillai and I would not like to see the Trade Union movement in Travancore delayed or prevented through this Clause being passed by the House.

This House must judge and if it considers that this Clause is one which may injure Trade Unions then I hope that they will pass the amendment.

Travancore wishes to attract industry and for the benefit of trade, healthy Trade Unions are necessary. Trade Unions will survive in Travancore inspite of any control exercised by Government; they are necessary and of vital importance.

There is one thing I will ask the Trade Union leaders to remember and that is that differences can be very easily got over if they discuss the question with the employers instead of causing unnecessary strikes of benefit to no one.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilarankod): Is it the member's view that for the purpose of a bargain a registered Union is in a better position than an unregistered Union?

MR. J. W. TOLSON (Travancore Planters): A registered Union is an incorporate body whereas an unregistered Union has no recognition.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): May I ask the honourable member whether he thinks it necessary to penalise an unregistered Union?

MR. J. W. TOLSON (Travancore Planters): In my opinion a Trade Union must be formed according to the Rules and Regulation. The Trade Unions are there not only for their own interest but also for the benefit of members.

MR. M. L. JANARDHANAN PILLAI (Co-opted): Sir, I rise to oppose the motion. In doing so, I wish to tell the House that at a joint sitting of the Travancore Chamber of Commerce and the Alleppey Chamber of Commerce at which representatives of European interests were also present, a resolution was passed to the effect that I should represent to this House that the registration of Trade Unions must be made compulsory or else the Regulation will have but little value and the work-people will be victimised and exploited by non-registered unions. I think I am right in voicing the opinion of these two chambers of commerce which certainly represent the bulk of the trades and industries in this State. Travancore is not in an advanced industrial condition. It is therefore my view that all industrial legislations should be carried on with considerable care. After all what does this Bill aim at? The Bill is telling the workers in so many words 'Look here, you can organise on certain lines, we will tell you how to do that, and we will also give you certain privileges, provided you come within the provisions of certain Rules and Regulations'. Nobody can be against that. By all means we the employers are prepared to do our best for the workmen; only, we want them to be responsible bodies.

[Mr. M. L. Janardhanan Pillai,]

The question I ask is where is the objection against registration when the employers are themselves earnest in ameliorating the condition of the workers. I have heard it said in this House that this Bill will make it impossible for half a dozen people to join together for their legitimate pursuits and for ventilating their grievances and so on. I would ask the indulgence of this House to read the definition of the term "Trade Union".

"Trade Union" means any combination, whether temporary or permanent, formed primarily for the purpose of regulating the relations between workmen and employers or between workmen and workmen or between employers and employers, or for imposing restrictive conditions on the conduct of any trade or business.

I ask, Sir, whether it is possible for any organisation in this country to impose such restrictive conditions on the conduct of any trade or business.

That is the main function of the Trade Unions and that is why the employers say that we should not leave these Trade Unions into the hands of people who have their own axes to grind, and who do not want to take up responsibilities. It is quite easy for any man who has no stake in the country, who has no stake in commerce and industries, to get together a number of men, organise them into an unregistered Union and create any amount of trouble and dissolve it the next day and yet be outside the ambit of the Regulation. Considerable stress was often made on Clause 17 viz., that if any unregistered Trade Unions do any acts which would cause damages it is open to employers to claim damages from them through the civil courts. What I ask the House is, is that possible? Suppose one man takes it into his head purely for his own personal and selfish reasons to organise a Trade Union, only in name and comes to factories and incites a number of workmen to strike without sufficient reason, and creates any amount of trouble and loss to the owner of a business, and if it happens to be a unregistered Union, I ask, should the owner of the factory go to a law court to get his damages? Is it conducive to trade? Is it conducive to the commercial and industrial prosperity of this country? It has often been said that both here and elsewhere and in the various speeches made by the Dewan that discipline is the essential requisite for the successful carrying on of industrialisation of a country. What does this registration mean? It means merely this viz., the employer is quite willing to accept an institution which is registered, which is disciplined, which is subject to control and supervision by Government. What is important is that the employers do not want to give importance to an unregistered Union and allow it to do all havoc to trade and industry. It is quite possible for a Trade Union to appear to-day and disappear the next day. It is for that reason I oppose this amendment. All the European firms represented in the Travancore Chamber of Commerce, all the Indians represented in the Alleppey Chamber of Commerce and all sensible and responsible commercial opinion is unanimous in thinking that unless the Unions are registered, they will do harm to the prosperity and progress of the country.

Therefore I would appeal to this House in the interests of the country, in the interests of the industrialisation of this country, to see that the amendment is thrown out, especially when 16 members of the Select Committee had agreed to registration.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Urban): Sir, I should like to say a few words in this connection in defence of the position taken by the Select Committee and also to impress upon the House the importance of accepting the existing provision in this Bill. In other words I oppose the amendment. Sir, so far as I have been able to hear I learn that the chief objection to this Clause in the Bill is rested upon the ground that by passing this law in the present form we are making inroads on the sacred rights of individuals. I put a question to the Law Member whether apart from those theoretical considerations there is any disadvantage to labourers because of the provision that Trade Unions should be registered. The Law Member's answer to the point did not enlighten me. Sir, I certainly respect the rights of individuals in civilised countries. Perhaps in no other State in India is the right of the individual more protected than in Travancore. But the trend of modern legislation in all countries appears to be to enable society to regulate its own affairs. Even in America where the people have the greatest freedom in political and social matters, every day the laws passed by the Congress makes inroads upon the rights of individuals. They are subjected to two systems of laws, the State law and the Federal law. The State legislature and the Federal legislature vie with one another in imposing conditions on the action of individuals, in order to advance the interests of society. If any of the speeches made in the House to-day had pointed out that this Regulation for Trade Unions will prejudice the labourers I certainly would not have taken the stand that I now am doing. But not a whisper was heard (Mr. K. Kunjkrishna Pillai: I question that.)

PRESIDENT: Order, order.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Urban): Apart from statements of principles of individual rights I did not hear any speech which explained, in which manner and, to what extent, the labourers would suffer. I affirm that once more. Sir, I do not want to take the House through the chapters of world history but I think it necessary to say this. In the time of the revolution in France when everybody wanted to get his own rights they brought about a new constitution. You find that every revolution brought a new change of laws. The laws changed from day to day and the so-called liberty of the subject suffered more under that regime than under that of despotic monarchies which ruled in France. I am not going to proceed in this strain. But let me make a reference to the Law Member's speech at the time when the Trade Unions Bill was introduced. This is what he says:—

"In fact, the provision for these immunities is an important provision in this Bill to which I would draw the attention of the honourable members. That is contained in Clauses 17 and 18. Clause 17 deals with one of the immunities that a Trade Union will secure if it gets itself registered".

[Sadasya Thilaka T. K. Velu Pillai.]

Then the details are set forth:—

"In other words it is laid down that any agreement in restraint of trade or any incitement to break contracts may be resorted to by a Trade Union, provided it is registered. Otherwise it will be liable to penalties under the law".

The Trade Unions will have to so shape their conduct occasionally in a manner which would be in restraint of trade. The object of the Law Member seems to have been at any rate to make it possible for them to get the advantage. Therefore, the Regulation of Trade Unions, to my mind, conveys the idea that the Government, in order to help the labourers, have placed this Bill before the House. Without regulation the object of the Government will be frustrated. Mr. Tolson made a speech to which I listened with very great attention. He did not commit himself one way or the other. As I understood his speech,—Mr. Tolson who possesses very great experience in the organisation of business, who knows the condition of labour,—Mr. Tolson was not against regulation. Now the State must be benefited by an organised and enlightened opinion of these Trade Unions. If a Trade Union, has no local habitation and a name, if a Trade Union is of an ephemeral character, if it is brought into existence to day and dissolved to-morrow, if the members of that society merely collect some money and spend it among themselves as they please, the poor labourers who are suffering from a combination of adverse circumstances will be greatly prejudiced. In this House, Sir, very often various Bills have been passed with a restriction on so-called individual rights. The case of so-called individual rights in its absolute sense has gone for ever. Take for instance the Chitty Regulation. The foreman of a chitty is not entitled to conduct business even though he has got enough subscribers at his disposal. Take again the Life Insurance Regulation. There was a time when in this country insurance societies grew like mushrooms. They produced a spectacular effect. If a man got any price the company used to collect a large concourse of people, get an important man to preside over the function and give away the prizes so that it may produce a spectacular effect. I am sure no member of this House will take exception to what I say namely, that, in respect of all insurance societies, the legislature had to effectively intervene. Take again the Co-operative Societies Bill. It is very fresh in our memory. My friends in this House, many of them, advanced the argument that in order to prevent the exploitation of individuals by wicked persons in the managing committee interference of a drastic character was necessary. The principle of that Section 47 prevailed, viz., that the Registrar must be given power to regulate the conduct of affairs. If that is so, so long as the other side has not been able to say that these labourers will be prejudiced I do not see any reason why I should take a different view of the question from what I did take in the Select Committee along with others. If Government think that labourers should be helped, the best thing will be to help them in the proper way, and to tell them what their interests are. Let us see what are the facts. The facts have been mentioned on both sides. I am not contesting those facts. The ordinary labourer is not able to help himself without an association. That association must be made strong enough and good enough to function for all practical purposes. The Regulation does not mean prohibition. My friend who took the opposite view at the commencement of his speech referred to the penal provision in this Regulation. If there is a law passed, there should be a sanction behind it. Who is the man that is going to be punished? Only he who does anything in furtherance of things against an association which is not registered. Is registration a costly business? Then I can understand the opposite view. But it has not been proved to be so. Registration is a provision of law according to which a society should function. Considering this question in this light, believing that in the best interests of the labourer a Regulation of this character is very necessary, I oppose the amendment.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): May I know what in the opinion of the member is the reason why a similar penalty is not imposed in other legislatures?

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Urban): My answer is plain. I may also say that it is patriotic. It is this. Various things are done in Travancore before other States do them. We have a continuity of enlightenment. Take the temple entry question.

The House rose for lunch at 1—1 p. m. and met again at 2 p. m. with the Deputy President in the Chair.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): Sir, I rise to oppose the amendment moved by the honourable member Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai. This aspect of the question was very anxiously considered by the Select Committee, and the existing provision was accepted by an overwhelming majority. I find no reason to change my view. It will be seen from Clauses 15 and 16 of the Bill for what purposes the funds can be collected and spent by the Trade Unions. There are two kinds of funds, namely general funds and separate funds for political purposes. Clause 15 defines the objects for which the general funds may be used and Clause 16 defines the constitution of separate funds by registered Trade Unions for political purposes. The expenditure of the two kinds of funds is also controlled by express provisions in the Bill. Therefore we can hope that such funds of the Trade Unions will be safe and spent only for legitimate purposes. But this control and supervision can be exercised only if the Trade Unions are registered under the Regulation. I would ask the mover of the amendment if some Trade Unions are allowed to exist without getting themselves registered, who will exercise the control and the supervision of the funds collected by those Trade Unions? There will be constant misappropriation, mismanagement and misuse of the funds. It is of course detrimental to the interest of the State and to the interest of such Trade Unions and at times it will be difficult even for the Government to maintain law and order in the country. If any Trade Union is allowed to exist unregistered it can collect funds in the name of the Union for defeating the object of the Government to maintain law and order in the country. I am aware of such instances. And are we to allow such Trade Unions to go on in that manner any further. Then there is another aspect to be considered. The State owes a duty to the public generally and a section of the public particularly, to safeguard their interest in every way and manner possible. When any unregistered Trade Union collects funds, is it not the duty of the Government to see that it is properly spent and only for legitimate purposes?

[Mr. T. P. Velayudhan Pillai.]

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I cannot hear you.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): If the Trade Unions collect funds is it not the duty of the Government to see that it is properly spent and for lawful purposes?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Allow me to say this. I am not looking at any member. I am looking to the skies and making this observation. The member is making his speech at the top of his voice. Yet I am unable to hear him because of distraction caused to the progress of his voice through other voices.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): How can that be done without bringing all the Trade Unions under the provisions of the Regulation? The amendment, if carried, will certainly frustrate all these legitimate objects. If this House is going to give concession to certain Trade Unions that exist without being registered, I am sure that it will give room for unhealthy competition between registered and unregistered Trade Unions. This kind of unhealthy competition, I am sure, will lead to complete ruin and dissolution of the registered Trade Unions. Hence I maintain that all Trade Unions must be compelled to take out registration and no Trade Union should be allowed to function unless it is registered. So, I oppose the amendment.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know from the member whether as a result of the existence of the law without compulsion of registration from 1926 in British India the Trade Union movement in British India has been dissolved or distracted?

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): I am not just now concerned with what happens in British India.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: He is only asking for information. If you know it you may say.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): I am not aware.

MR. S. CHATTANATHA KARAYALAR (Shencotta): Sir, I oppose the amendment moved by my friend Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai. In opposing this amendment I am not prompted by any desire to hamper the formation or growth of Trade Unions. I only desire that healthy and well conducted Trade Unions must grow and there should be no room for any haphazard growth of Trade Unions.

Having made this assurance, I shall touch only upon certain aspects that have not been touched upon by other members.

First of all, it was taken for granted by the honourable mover of the amendment that it is the essential right of all persons to combine for common purposes and that it is inequitable to place any restrictions upon such right of combination. But the right of combination involved in Trade Unionism stands on a different footing from the right of combination for other purposes. The legal position of Trade Unions has not been accepted as unassailable or unquestionable. This is referred to in the report of the Royal Commission on Labour in India. I shall just refer to the relevant passage in that report. On page 318 of the report they say:

"At an early stage, the movement was threatened with the penalties to which, in the absence of a protecting statute, certain Trade Union activities are exposed under English common law. Following a suit against the leaders of the Madras Labour Union in 1920, the Legislative Assembly in 1921 adopted a resolution in favour of legislation for the registration and protection of Trade Unions. Five years were to elapse before a law was passed...."

It follows from this that the legal position of Trade Unions was not unquestionable until it was made clear by the Act of the Government of India of 1926. Likewise, the legal position of Trade Unions has to be settled here by special enactment. So the argument of the honourable member that it is inequitable to impose restrictions on the right to form Trade Unions falls to the ground. The right has to be granted by statute.

Coming to the merits of the matter, the provision for compulsory registration was objected to on the ground that it involves obligations which legitimate organisations may not be able to comply with. I am of opinion that registration does not involve any obligations which cannot be easily complied with. On this point also, the Royal Commission on Labour has expressed itself in clear terms. At page 325 of the Report, they say:

"As the law stands at present, registration generally involves no obligations that a bona fide Union should not be willing to undertake. It necessitates a regular constitution, a periodical audit, the composition of the executive so that a majority may be workers, and the separation of political funds, which can be collected only from those members who are willing to contribute. In return for compliance with these provisions, the Union receives definite advantages. There is, therefore, a presumption that a Union which declines to register is not a bona fide organisation. Similarly the fact of registration creates a presumption in favour of the genuineness of the Union."

It follows from this observation that registration involves no obligations which a bona fide Union should not willingly undertake.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know whether the Royal Commission on labour in their recommendation regarding the management of the companies has proposed the provision of such a compulsory legislation?

MR. S. CHATTANATHA KARAYALAR (Shencotta) : I am not concerned with that. The passage that I have read out indicates clearly the lines on which they would recommend a revision of the existing Act in British India.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I) : May I know whether they have made any specific recommendations with regard to the way in which the Trade Union legislation has to be made so far as British India is concerned?

MR. S. CHATTNATHA KARAYALAR (Shencotta) : If the member reads the report carefully, he will find that the recommendations are scattered throughout the report and not summed up anywhere. All the same, they have used language which makes their position very clear on this point. My point is that we should legislate for the development and growth of only healthy Trade Unions and should not in any way stimulate the growth of mushroom Unions. That is the point that I want to emphasise. It was argued here by certain members that these restrictions would hamper the growth of Trade Unions. On the other hand, I am of opinion that if we stimulate the growth of Trade Unions without any restrictions whatever, that would develop ever so many irresponsible organisations without any control whatsoever and such haphazard growth would tend to hamper the growth of healthy Unions. This point has been lost sight of by Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai. It will be seen from the recommendations of the Royal Commission on Labour that the legal position of unregistered Unions is not unquestionable and in order to give a legal status to the Unions and to encourage the growth of healthy Trade Unions, it is necessary to place some restrictions upon the formation of such Unions. Registration of Trade Unions seems therefore to me to be absolutely essential and must be compelled by law.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I) : I rise to oppose the amendment. It would be plainly seen on a careful study of the Bill that any legislator who is interested in any trade or in any employer, or labourer, would be gratified to see that this Bill embodies all the provisions that are necessary for the healthy progress and development of trade and industry through well constituted organisations. The interest of thousands of labourers ought to be the main perspective through which disinterested legislators ought to view the question, when he discusses the provisions contained in the Bill. I ask the mover of the amendment whether he could find in the whole Bill a single Clause, which is not conducive to the best interest of the poor labourer. The very Preamble has been provided giving as wide a scope as possible by which the employer and the employee are allowed to enter themselves into a single corporation if they so desire for their mutual advantage.

The amendment proposed is not in any way conducive to the healthy growth and development of the corporation, either of the employees themselves or of the employer and the employee or of the employers themselves.

Sir, the main controlling Clause in the Bill I should think relates to the control of funds. This is a very important provision for the safety of a society, because the funds which the Trade Unions collect ought to be saved for the purpose of the common good of that corporation and nothing else. This is all the more important with regard to the funds of Trade Unions because they are collected from the people who with very great difficulty subscribe their share at the sacrifice sometimes of a meal and who suffer much for getting even one meal a day. It is from what they earn after hard work and labour that they contribute, and if that amount is not properly controlled by authorities, by people to whom the labourers look forward for their salvation, I ask wherein lies the guarantee for their advancement? There is no restriction even in regard to collection of funds for political purposes, for all lawful and constitutional agitations. The provision for separate funds for their political purposes can be utilised by them for the purpose of elections, for sending their candidates to legislatures. For advancement of their interest through means of constitutional agitation, provision is made which can be used to the best and real advantage of the workmen. Then, I ask wherein lies the necessity for giving a free hand to anyone under whatever conditions and terms for the formation of these Unions. Thus if a Trade Union is not registered what will happen is this. A Trade Union may be formed mostly comprising of poor illiterate labourers but led and controlled by a few persons who may not be connected with any trade at all. They may frame their own bye-laws and do with the funds according to what they deem proper and sometimes for purposes quite alien to the purpose and object of the Unions but to the selfish interest of the promoters of the Unions. We heard here high-sounding words and advocacy for principles such as penalisation of civic rights and penalisation of right of corporate working and all the rest of it. Is it not and should it not be made liable for penalisation if the misappropriation of the funds of such Trade Unions takes place directly or indirectly? What is it that is provided here when a registry is made compulsory or demanded as a compulsory factor for the working of the Trade Union as an organisation? Compulsory registration demands that there shall be no misappropriation of funds. If the funds are properly controlled it will be conducive to the well-being of the members for whose advancement such corporate bodies have been found. If there is any penalisation involved in compulsory registration I would say that we provide that to penalise misappropriation, and to penalise the working of corporations for purposes other than for what they are intended. People who are not in any way interested in trade and industry and in whom there may be only a very distant interest as regards trade or industry but may have predominant interest in other directions for the achievement of which they may conveniently exploit Trade Unions, may really find a handicap in this provision for compulsory registration. Sir, Clause 21 refers to the proportion which the non-traders or non-industrialists may occupy among the office-bearers of the Trade Unions. It is a very important Clause.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): May I know whether if a Union functions without registry it would affect the possibility of agitations?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I am not able to find any specific meaning in the word "agitation".

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): The honourable member says he is able to answer.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I am not prepared to allow it, because the word "agitation" is not capable of any specific meaning in this connection. If you modify your question, I shall.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Let me pass on. Sir, if the Trade Unions want to get their grievances redressed by means of agitation.....

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: So, the agitation is for redressing grievances?

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Yes.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): They can do so as members of the Union for attaining their lawful objects. Agitators who are not directly concerned with trade and industry should not take this law as a cloak and adopt it for the purposes which are alien to the interest of labourers and to the immediate objects of the Unions. Even looking from that stand-point I think it is not fair to give free scope for non-traders and non-labourers, who call themselves as leading Trade Unionists and friends of labour and pose themselves as pseudo industrialists and pseudo thorakilalis to enter in those fields where their interests are but little and where their superficial knowledge of business and of the relationship between the employers and employees may work to the disadvantage of the industry. Sir, I think that Clause 21 is the most important Section inasmuch as it serves to minimise or restrict such unwholesome elements from getting into the industrial or Trade Unions out of all proportion. For business men and real industrialists it is entirely necessary that they should be given all facilities to work for the welfare of labourers under their charge. Safeguards should be provided for keeping away persons with haphazard and superficial information as regard industry and trade from Trade Unions. If they come in large numbers they will create mischief which may very often go to spoil the cause of well meaning Trade Unions. I was wondering to-day when my friend Mr. Kottoor Kunjkrishna Pillai told us that it was hard to realise fee for registration of Trade Unions, for registration necessarily involved a levy of fee also. Yesterday when some of us advocated on behalf of co-operative societies, for free auditing to be conducted by the department, he was telling us that it was disgraceful on the part of the society and derogatory to the self-respect of its members to ask for it. I am much surprised to find that such a change of vision has been made possible with my friend within the short span of twenty-four hours.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The honourable member is not concerned with the reason why Mr. Kottoor Kunjukrishna Pillai took such a view with regard to the Co-operative Societies Bill. Now you say that he has changed his view. These reasons are not relevant. A man is quite entitled to give his reasoning (Laughter).

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): One other matter needs pointing out here. That relates to the necessity for laxity of Government control that my friend advocates with regard to this Bill, as against the Co-operative Societies Bill for which he has been yesterday advocating that no amount of spoon-feeding would be too much. He says to-day that we should not very often approach the Government with the request of "spoon-feeding". I am surprised that when he finds spoon-feeding quite essential in the case of co-operative societies which have stood the test of quarter of a century and which consist of more educated members, he demands complete license for the formation and working of Trade Unions. What is it that we demand from the Government? We demand of them no favour, no kindness but we only want ourselves, I mean our Trade Unions, to be brought under discipline. That is all what we require. On the registered unions the Government are conferring privileges and rights. Especially Clause 17 which gives immunities in certain cases of suits is indeed a very wholesome and laudable provision. If we are entitled to get privileges why not we submit ourselves to certain control also? What is the control after all that is meant by this Clause which my friend wants to delete from the Bill? It is only a provision for compulsory registration of Unions. With these words I oppose the amendment.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, I support the amendment. Sir, I do it not in the capacity of a champion of the labourers or of the employers. With a dispassionate view I have studied this subject and I have to come to the conclusion that the acceptance of this provision 14 (2) is most harmful for the promotion of the Trade Unions. This Bill is intended to help the formation of the Trade Unions and to protect and advance their interests. The labour movement is only in its infant stage and the Government or the House by this legislation, could not and shall not stifle the movement. Sir, in order to understand the evil results of this provision, we have to look into this provision along with Clause 30 (1) in the Bill. If we are to take into consideration Clause 14 (2) of this Bill along with Clause 30 (1) of this Bill, then you can come to the conclusion that it is not possible to form Trade Unions at all hereafter. Because, Sir, Clause 14 (2), reads like this:—

"No Trade Union shall be formed or shall function unless it is registered under the provisions of this Regulation ;

Provided that in the case of Trade Unions existing on the date of the commencement of this Regulation, such Trade Unions may function :—
a period of three months from such date "

[Mr. S. J. Nair.]

Sir, in order to form an association or a Union as a preliminary step a few people will have to gather together. They will have to discuss the subject; they will have to frame certain rules; they will have to elect the office bearers and then they will have to collect funds and apply for registration. The preliminary steps must be gone into only after the formation of the Union. But now under Section 14 (2) the very formation of the Union is penalised. Not only that, for the formation of the Union the poor labourers have no technical knowledge. They have to bring or invite some one else. Those gentlemen who go in to help in the formation of these Unions will also be penalised.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The honourable member appears to be not quite relevant. If a number of people join together that does not become a Union.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I was saying, that for taking preliminary steps for the formation of a Trade Union they must assemble together. Now by this Clause in the Bill we are putting the cart before the horse (Laughter). I do not understand the relevancy of the provision under Clause 14 (2). Suppose the proviso under Clause 14 (2) was worded like this:—

Provided in the case of the Trade Unions formed after the date of the commencement of this Regulation, such Trade Unions may function for a period of three months from such date before they are registered under the provisions of this Regulation.

If there is such a proviso permitting the formation of the Trade Union any Union can be formed and even registered here. Clause 14 (2) really penalises the very formation of the Trade Unions. That is why I support the amendment.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): One question.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Mr. Elenkath had sufficient time to ask questions. Mr. S. J. Nair may now go on.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, under the existing circumstances the present Section as it stands is nothing but prohibition of the formation of Trade Unions. Perhaps as a result of the amendment moved by Mr. Kottoor Kunjukrishna Pillai, the Law Member has come to the conclusion that the existing provisions prevent the formation of Unions. So far as the labourers in this State are concerned let us see what they say about this provision in the Bill. The labourers through their organ known as "Thozilali" comments upon this provision in the Bill as follows:—

പൊതുജനങ്ങളിൽ നിക്ഷിപ്തമായ പെരുമാറ്റംകാരത്തെ നിരോധിക്കുകയെന്നുണ്ടാകും. ഈ സ്വാതന്ത്ര്യം മറ്റൊരാളാവുന്നതിനുള്ളതിലേ എല്ലാ പ്രകാരം ഉള്ളതാണ്. തൊഴിലാളികൾക്കു ഈ സ്വാതന്ത്ര്യം അനുവദിക്കപ്പെടുന്ന നിയമം പാസ്സാക്കുന്നതിൽ അനൗദ്വിഷ്ടിരിക്കുന്ന അനൗദ്വിഷ്ടം ആക്ഷേപമാകാം. രജിസ്റ്റർ ചെയ്യുന്ന സംഘങ്ങൾക്കു ചില പ്രത്യേകാവകാശങ്ങളും സ്വാതന്ത്ര്യങ്ങളും ലഭിക്കണമെന്നു പറയുകയല്ല, രജിസ്റ്റർ ചെയ്യുന്ന സംഘങ്ങൾ പ്രവർത്തിച്ചുകൊണ്ടിരിക്കുന്നതു നീതികരിക്കത്തക്കതല്ല. ഈ ബില്ലിന്റെ ഉദ്ദേശ്യത്തിനനുസരിച്ചു വിവരിക്കാമെന്നാണ്. സംഘങ്ങൾ രജിസ്റ്റർ ചെയ്യുന്നതിനു സൗകര്യം കൊടുക്കുന്നതിനു മാത്രമാണ് ഈ ബില്ലു കൊണ്ടുവരപ്പെട്ടിട്ടുള്ളത്."

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I cannot permit long quotations.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Only two sentences more, Sir.

"ഈ വ്യവസ്ഥ ഇന്ദ്രിഷ് ഇൻഡ്യൻ നിയമത്തിൽ ഇല്ലാത്ത. സിലക്ട് ചെയ്തവർക്കുണ്ടെങ്കിൽ ഭേദഗതി പാസ്സാക്കുന്നപക്ഷം ആയതു തൊഴിലാളികളുടെ അവകാശങ്ങളെ ധ്വംസനം ചെയ്യുന്നതിനുള്ള ഒരുപാധം എന്തിനുള്ളതെന്നുള്ളതിൽ അങ്ങൾക്കു യാതൊരു സംശയവുമില്ല."

MR. P. S. MAHOMED (Cotyed): അതു ഏതു തീയതിയിലെ പേപ്പറാണെന്നു പറയാമോ?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): 4th Vrischikam 1112.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): പത്രാധിപർ ആണോ?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): പത്രാധിപരാകണമെന്നു ഇതിൽക്കു അന്നില്ല.

[C] Sir, excuse me for having spoken in Malayalam. I do not find. I must refer to.....

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: All these are irrelevant. You proceed.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I can assure the House that the Thoshkhalai Newspaper is the only organ of the labourers. Such being the case, much weight must be given to the opinion expressed in the paper.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): May I know whether it is a registered paper?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): It is a registered paper.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I wish the right of questioning will be exercised with due circumspection.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, it will be evident from Clause 14 (2) as well as Clause 30 (1) of the Bill that if Clause 14 (2) is permitted to remain in this Bill it will stifle the labour movement by prohibiting the formation of all sorts of Trade Unions in the State. It will directly affect the very formation of Trade Unions hereafter. I support the amendment.

MR. EDAVANATT S. PADMANABHA MENON (Shertala I): Sir, I oppose the amendment, even at the risk of being misunderstood by my friends. I had nothing to do with capitalists. If I had anything to do with any organisation at Alleppey it was with the labour organisation. I don't claim any intimate knowledge of labour conditions but I know the general working of some labour organisations.

Sir, Travancore is still pre-eminently agricultural in occupation. The condition of British India where very many mills exist side by side, employing thousands of labourers, is not obtained here. In recent years there has been in this State a wide gulf created between capital and labour.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Is there no country in the world where that gulf is not created?

MR. EDAVANATT S. PADMANABHA MENON (Shertala I): All over the world it is so. It is all a question of degree. In Alleppey and Shertala unnecessary estrangements between capital and labour have often dislocated trade. After all, would this compulsory registration be a real hardship and injustice to the labourers? It will provide certain status and privileges and responsibilities to labourers. They could now organise and discipline themselves. Along with the same, there is a co-existing responsibility also in the matter. According to certain Clauses in the Bill any labour organisation after registration must keep accounts, must render accounts of the funds they collect and there should be annual auditing. For the privileges conferred, there are these, corresponding duties also. Take for instance a big firm doing business either in Quilon or in Alleppey, which has invested a lakh of rupees and which employs 500 or 600 labourers. If 95 per cent. of the labourers of that factory form themselves into a labour organisation registered according to this Bill and if 5 per cent. of the labourers keep away and form themselves into a voluntary organisation and try to influence and play upon the credulity of the majority, then incalculable mischief can be done for industry and commerce in this State.

Irresponsible people might exploit labour for their own selfish and personal ends. Again labour is often exploited by interested persons for political purposes and recent experiences are yet fresh in our memory.

My friend Mr. K. Kunjukrishna Pillai mainly dwelt upon the fact that this compulsory registration will constitute a violation of the inherent rights of citizens to voluntarily combine and work for the welfare of their fellow citizens. As the learned Deputy President remarked during the discussion of this Clause, when we take into consideration the particular provision, we see that for the most efficient working, for the betterment and for the ultimate good of the associations, we have to accept certain rules. For the collective representation, the representation of the grievances in a cogent and effective way to the capitalists, and to the public and every constituted authority in this State, the organisations of labour should be registered under the statute and worked accordingly. Then in the long run it will conduce to the betterment of labour. With these remarks, I oppose the amendment.

MR. P. S. എനിക്ക് ഇനി മറ്റൊരു സംഗതി ഇരു സഭയുടെ തുടങ്ങിയ കൊണ്ടുവരണമെന്നായിട്ടുണ്ട്. അതായത് രജിസ്റ്റർ ചെയ്തതും ചെയ്യാത്തതുമായ സംഘങ്ങളാകാമെന്ന വരുമ്പോൾ തൊഴിലാളികളുടെയും മുതലാളികളുടെയും കേൾക്കുന്ന മുന്നിറങ്ങി പ്രവർത്തിക്കുന്നവർക്ക് പല പല വൈഷമ്യങ്ങളുമുണ്ടാകും. ചുരുക്കത്തിൽ രജിസ്റ്റർ ചെയ്തിട്ടുള്ള സംഘങ്ങൾക്ക് ഒന്നും ചെയ്യുവാൻ സാധിക്കുകയില്ല. അസോസിയേഷൻ ചില ബേബർ വെറും പേപ്പറിൽ മാത്രമേ ഉള്ളൂ. ചിലർക്ക് ബേബർ റീഡർ ആകാൻ സൗകര്യമുണ്ടാക്കി കൊടുക്കുന്നവണ്ണം മാത്രമുള്ള ഒരു നിയമം തിരുവിതാംകൂറിൽ പാസ്സാക്കുന്നത് രാജ്യത്തിനും, തൊഴിലാളികൾക്കും മുതലാളികൾക്കും ആപത്താണ്.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Maalikkara) : ഭയിഡ് യൂണിയൻ സ് രജിസ്റ്റർ ചെയ്താൽ അങ്ങിനെ ആക്കം ലീഡറുകാൻ സാധിക്കുകയില്ലെന്നാണോ മെമ്പറുടെ അഭിപ്രായം?

MR. P. S. MAHOMED (Co-opted) : ആകാം. പക്ഷെ രജിസ്റ്റർ ചെയ്ത ഒരു യൂണിയനാണെങ്കിൽ ലേബർ ലീഡർക്കു ചില ഉത്തരവാദിത്വങ്ങളൊക്കെയുണ്ടാകാം.

MR. PUTHUPALLY S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II) : രജിസ്റ്റർ ചെയ്ത കഴിഞ്ഞാൽ ലേബർ ലീഡർസിനു കൂടുതൽ സ്വാതന്ത്ര്യങ്ങളുണ്ടാകുമെന്നു മെമ്പർക്കറിയാമോ?

MR. P. S. MAHOMED (Co-opted) : രജിസ്റ്റർ ചെയ്യാതെയിരുന്നാൽചീത്ത സംഗതികൾ ചെയ്യുവാൻ കൂടുതൽ സ്വാതന്ത്ര്യമുണ്ടാകും.

MR. PUTHUPALLY S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II) : നല്ലതു ചെയ്ത വാനുള്ള സ്വാതന്ത്ര്യവും ഉണ്ടെന്നു മെമ്പർക്കറിയാമോ?

MR. P. S. MAHOMED (Co-opted) : അതിനെപ്പറ്റി ഞാൻ പറയുവാൻ പോകയാണ്. രജിസ്റ്റർ ചെയ്താലും ചെയ്തില്ലെങ്കിലും നമ്മുടെ യാനുള്ള സ്വാതന്ത്ര്യമുണ്ട്. എന്നാൽ നിന്മ ചെയ്യുവാനുള്ള സ്വാതന്ത്ര്യം രജിസ്റ്റർ ചെയ്യാത്ത സംഘങ്ങൾക്കുള്ളതുപോലെ തന്നെ രജിസ്റ്റർ ചെയ്ത സംഘങ്ങൾക്കു കാണുകയില്ല.

ഇതിന്നും പുറമെ രജിസ്റ്റർ ചെയ്ത സംഘങ്ങളുടെ ഫണ്ടു മുൻവിനിയോഗം ചെയ്യാൻ സാധിക്കുകയില്ല.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): I rise to a point of order. We are not discussing the general principles now.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: While thanking Mr. Varughese for the goodness with which he pointed out that, I do not think that it is very necessary now.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Sir, I rise to support the amendment. To me it appears that the whole opposition to this amendment is based on a misconception, a very unfortunate misconception. Let us see how the idea of labour legislation originated. The demand was made by the few existing organisations in the State. We should not ignore that fact. We heard a good deal about the way in which labour association funds are being mismanaged, labourers are being exploited, and so on. We must not forget the fact that these very associations against which these charges are being made, made a demand for labour legislation. So we may take it that when this Bill is passed into law these associations will get themselves registered in order that they may enjoy the benefit conferred upon them by this law. It is to provide facilities for these Trade Unions to get themselves registered in order so enjoy the benefits accruing therefrom that this Bill has been introduced. Let us not overlook that fact. There has not been a demand so far as I know for a law prohibiting the formation or the working of the labour associations that are not registered. Let us pass this Bill. Let us see how the associations are working. Let us see whether labourers are being exploited. Let us see whether any trouble will arise if there is no compulsory registration. It will then be time for us to provide for compulsory registration. In the absence of such a demand I fail to see why we should confuse one demand with the other.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): May I ask whether labourers will get the benefits of this legislation if they are not registered?

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Sir, that is just what I say. The labour associations will naturally get themselves registered under the law and will then get the benefits that this Bill seeks to confer on them.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): My question is whether without registering themselves they will get the benefits?

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Such of them as desire to get the benefits of the law will get themselves registered. And such of them who do not want these benefits or who are not able to get themselves registered may not do so. After a time when associations find that registration is beneficial they will naturally get themselves registered. But the question now is whether we should penalise associations that are not registered. That is the only point for consideration now. To me it appears that a case has by no means been made out to prohibit a voluntary association of workmen being formed for common benefit without registration. The position has been made very difficult and rather delicate I should say by even the representative of labour advocating compulsory registration. I little thought, Sir, that difficulties would go to this length in respect of this Bill. (Laughter.) Of course everybody, both capitalist and labour representatives, advocated compulsory registration for the benefit of labourers. Now, Sir, are labourers after all so helpless? That is why I said the situation has not arisen in which the labourers ought to be protected to that length.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know from the member when he expects that such a situation will arise?

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): I do not expect that such a situation will arise. What I said was that if such a situation arises then we will deal with it. The situation has not arisen now.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): I want to put a question. Without giving facilities for the Government to control the organisation how is it possible to know whether an unregistered Union will be benefited?

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Sir, that question is irrelevant, pointless, and meaningless.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The honourable member is not right in saying that the question is irrelevant and meaningless. That is a point for the chair to consider. Of course I understand the spirit in which the honourable member said that; he did not mean any reflection upon anybody. If he has any answer to give he may give that.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Since the question has been put, I will answer that. The question is how can we know that a society is not working well unless it is scrutinised according to law. My answer is that the majority of labour associations will get themselves registered if registration is found to be beneficial. There may be a few here and there who may not get themselves registered. In the case of those societies, if their members do not want registration, then nobody need trouble about them. If a large number of labour associations of that class are found to exist and the labourers are subjected to exploitation, a situation will arise for the legislature to intervene. If such a situation arises, we will then intervene. But, for the sake of a few associations here and there that do not get themselves registered, are we to provide for compulsory registration? Let them remain unregistered. Let me ask what we did in the case of Provident

[Mr. A. Thanu Pillai.]

Insurance Societies. At first the legislature did not intervene. When a large number of societies came into being the legislature rightly intervened. In a similar manner let us see whether the necessity arises for the legislature to intervene.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Is it the opinion of the member that the legislature should interfere only when there is a dead-lock?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: That does not arise.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trisandrum-Bural): When it is generally felt that a situation had arisen, then only the legislature should interfere. The amendment of Mr. Konjukrishna Pillai is necessary, and I think we can pass this Clause without those two sub-clauses. With these words, I support the amendment.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): In supporting the amendment I wish to say a few words. The definition of the word "Trade Union" is very comprehensive and it covers a society formed with few men just for the purpose of ventilating their grievances. I quite agree with my friend Mr. Thanu Pillai that the time has not yet come to make such a legislation. Why should we be so very anxious, when there is no need for it? I am told that there are only very few associations of the kind in Travancore. We are not in the know of having come across pseudo associations having for their objects to conduct agitations in an undesirable manner. Unless there is strong proof that such associations are likely to do mischief no necessity for registration arises. Why we should go in for a legislation anticipating some difficulties I cannot understand. Every opportunity should be given to all the associations whether registered or not to ventilate their grievances.

(At this stage the President took the Chair).

Let us wait and see whether there are unnecessary and undesirable associations and then we will find out the necessity for providing a suitable provision. Whenever we pass a legislative measure we have to give our assent after examining both sides of the question. In this case also we have to look into the other side of the question. We should not see only the rich man's point of view and legislate for his benefit. Opportunity should be given to the labourers to conduct their associations and to ventilate their grievances if any and thus enable them to get their remedies. It is very easy to say that you can form associations and register them. But registration requires money and what will the poor labourers do. Even for the formation of the associations they may not have enough money; they may have to appear before the Registrar and these are very difficult and expensive things for them. Unless we know that a large number of unregistered associations are working in the State and we are satisfied that their works should be controlled for the advancement of orderly trade and industry it will not be just and proper on the part of the legislature to introduce compulsion in the matter.

Hence I support the amendment.

MR. K. JANARDANA KAMATH (Commerce and Industry, North): I oppose the amendment and in doing so I wish to speak a few words as I represent commerce and industry and I feel bound to do so.

Well, whatever may be the arguments or reasons advanced by my friends in supporting the amendment, there can be no dispute regarding the fact that a corporate body or Union can work properly only in case there is some control or check on it. In the interest of members themselves of any Trade Union, it is desirable that the Union should be registered and that the registering authority is invested with the powers of supervision and control over the Unions.

If on the other hand perfect liberty is given to workmen and employers to form themselves into a Union at any moment and to dissolve the Union at any moment there will be wide scope for mismanagement of the Union affairs and misuse of Union funds. If registration of Trade Unions is made compulsory the Registrar will be able to control and supervise the management of their affairs and the use of Union funds.

In the interest of unions themselves and for a proper working I think registration of Trade Unions should be made compulsory and so I oppose the amendment.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): I support the amendment. In the first place in British India the Trade Unions Bill was passed in 1926. Though 12 years have elapsed, they have not thought it fit to amend the law making the registration compulsory. I do not see any reason why we should hasten to pass a law different from the British Indian Act. Mr. Thanu Pillai said that no case has been made out for compulsory registration of an association without seeing how it works. I agree with him.

The objection that has been raised by the supporters of compulsory registration of labour associations is that it will prevent Unions from misbehaving. I do not see why a Union organised for the good of the members should misbehave. The very object of the organisation is to work for the betterment of the labourers. Such associations are generally under the control of leaders who are usually men of character. It will be their duty to see that the associations work for the good of the members.

Associations are started for the spreading of ideas as to their rights and privileges among the labour population. As it is difficult to form an association in strict conformity with all the provisions of the Regulation, this object cannot be secured. Compulsory registration would also render it difficult to form associations with some of the objects enumerated in Section 15 of the Bill. With these words, I support the amendment.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): I oppose the amendment. The mover of the amendment advanced two sorts of arguments. One is that there is no such provision in British India and outside India. My friend Mr. Karunakaran who knows the conditions of labour both in the Continent and Dominions abroad has met that question to the satisfaction of all the members in this House and I hope that answer will satisfy the mover. So far as conditions of labour in British India are concerned our learned Deputy President has sufficiently answered the mover's objections. It is admitted on all hands that Travancore is a very enlightened country and it is in its onward progress. I can even say that our country takes the lead in important matters.

[Mr. P. C. Kuriyan.]

Trade Unions are associations formed for the purpose of bettering the lot of labourers. There are two parties to the labour legislation, namely, labourer and capitalist. The co-opted members who represent the cause of labour and capital are agreed that Trade Unions shall be registered bodies and I do not know for whom we are going to make a change. I think we need only incorporate provisions on which labour and capital are agreed. My friend Mr. Thanu Pillai in his summing up, stated that this Bill was brought at the instance of the labourers and so most of them will voluntarily come for registering their associations even without such a provision in the Bill. If that is so, is it not better to make a provision for compulsory registration? Why should we allow societies to grow to-day and disappear tomorrow? If by registration the labourers would be benefited why not make such a provision? Why should a man be allowed to have his own way? I cannot understand that. If labour and capital combine, it will have its effect on the industrialisation of the country.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know whether he realises that Trade Unions can be formed of employers?

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Yes. Then the question of individual liberty to which my friend Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai referred remains. I think the objection of my friend is at best only a technical one, for all legislations involve some restriction on individual liberty. I think as society advances and new privileges are granted to us our responsibilities and obligations too increase correspondingly. If my friend seriously objected to the Bill on this ground he could have very well opposed the Bill instead of blowing hot and cold in the same breath. According to him he wants a Bill to provide for the registration of Trade Unions and at the same time to have provisions there in for the non-registration of the Trade Unions also. So to pass such a legislation will be like building a strong fortress and leaving one of the gates open for the enemy to enter.

Moreover in the case of labour, it is not a mere right to combine amongst them. Every combination amongst them is likely to affect the interest of the capitalist who has invested his money in the concern. With these words I support the amendment.

MR. CHANGANACHERY K. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Kunnattur cum Pattanapuram): Sir, I support this amendment. In doing so I do not deny that the amendment has been opposed by the representative of the labourers. He claims to have had long, intimate and practical knowledge of the working of the Labour Associations and with that background opposes the amendment before the House. Now, Sir, to me it is not a matter of expediency but a matter of principle. What is the object of this legislation? In the statement of objects and reasons it is stated that the essential object of this Bill is to safeguard the progress of industry in the State. To improve the condition of labour the right of combination is essential. But, Sir, this Bill as amended by the Select Committee has taken away a very valuable right as it makes all unregistered Trade Unions illegal and any person taking any part in any such Union liable to punishment. I ask what is the justification or reason for the restriction or withdrawal of this existing right. I find absolutely no rhyme or reason for this. It has been asked what is the harm? The harm is that a fundamental right of a citizen is sought to be interfered with. I would ask the honourable member who put that question what harm would arise if the rule is extended in its application to other associations such as the Bar Associations. Would he approve of such a step? No, Sir. The question is not as to what harm will be done but what justification is there for interfering with a right now enjoyed by the citizens of the State. The right of association is an elementary right of citizenship and good grounds should be shown for taking it away. Therefore, I submit that, the argument that no harm would be done by restricting the existing right would not hold good. No argument has been advanced why this right should be taken away. We do not find a similar provision in the British Indian Labour Legislation. Why should we impose a restriction which is not found in British India, upon our labouring classes? We ought to lead in extending and not restricting their rights. (Hear, hear.) Travancore has never taken the lead in any retrograde or reactionary legislation. Therefore I say that there is no reason for including this provision in the Bill. I think the amendment is quite in order and I support it.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): Sir, I support the amendment. The effect of registration of a Trade Union is that it gets a corporate existence. One of the beneficial results of registration is its immunity from criminal and civil liability in certain cases. No doubt there are some duties attached to the privileges conferred on these registered Trade Unions. But I do not see any reason why a Trade Union should be compelled to be registered even if it does not want any of the privileges of a registered Trade Union. You may not give any of the privileges to an unregistered Trade Union but why should it be compelled to take them even if they do not want it.

In the British Indian Act there is no provision for compulsory registration. It was said that compulsory registration is to benefit labour. Even in England, where the labour movement has advanced more than in any other country, there is no compulsory registration. In the Act of 1913 there is no provision for compulsory registration. There the Trade Union is not a creation of the statute. It existed under the common law and it still exists under it. The only difference there between the two is that the privileges of a registered Trade Union will not be given to the unregistered ones. But here we see the strange provision of compulsory registration. In British India when the similar enactment was discussed in the Legislative Assembly several of the non-official members tried to extend the immunities given to registered Trade Unions to unregistered ones. But strangely, we go the opposite way.

The main argument advanced by the honourable members who opposed the amendment is that it is more advantageous to the labourers,

[Mr. R. Sivaraman Nair.]

But I ask, Sir, who is to say that? Does not the labourer know what is best for him? Does he not know what is food and what is poison to him? Mr. S. J. Nair was reading from the labourers' only paper here, I mean the 'Thozhilali' that they do not want such a provision and that it is against their interests. Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai was telling us that the labourers of Quilon in their annual meeting has passed a resolution that it is not to benefit them that the provision for compulsory registration is included in this Bill. Thus when the labourers say that they do not want such a provision and that it will not be beneficial to them, how can one here say "No, it is for your benefit. You do not know what is and what is not good for you". Anyhow Sir, I am not presumptuous enough to think like that. If the labourers do not want it, we shall not include it.

It was suggested here that the labourers do not know what is and what is not beneficial to them and that they are so ignorant that they may be led to any view their so called leaders choose. In short it was suggested that the views expressed in their paper and the resolution passed at Quilon need not be counted at all, for the ignorant labourers had been led to that by the writer of the article and the gentleman who presided over the meeting. Sir, I do not believe that. I do not believe that the labourers are so ignorant as to be led into anything. I do not believe that the labourers are so foolish as to be incapable of knowing what is good for them.

Sir, the Law Member said that registration will involve only little or no expense. He suggested also that there are now only a few Trade Unions and as such there will not be much hardship. Sir, this is not merely a question of expense or hardship alone. So far as the labourer is concerned it is a matter of right. Why should he be treated distinctly from others? Why should he not have the same rights and privileges as other people? If lawyers and doctors can have their own Unions without registration, why not the labourers? Why should their liberty alone be restricted? As I said before there is no such provision in British India. Are not our labourers more advanced in education and political consciousness than the labourers of British India? Then why should such a restriction be imposed here?

It was argued by some who opposed the amendment that there will be great mismanagement and misappropriation of Unions if Unions are not registered. There can be no mismanagement merely because the Union is not registered. If there are misappropriations there is the Penal Code. People who misappropriate can very well be proceeded under the Penal Code or the Criminal Procedure Code as the case may be. Can there be no case of misappropriation merely because a Union is registered? Are there not misappropriations in limited companies though there is the provision for annual audit? Are there not cases of misappropriation in the case of co-operative societies though there is the annual official audit? Sir, the argument that there will be misappropriation and mismanagement if Unions are not registered is on the face of it quite hollow.

Sir, another argument, advanced against the amendment was that if funds are left free in their hands they may squander it away. This argument is quite far fetched and untrue. They may commit mistakes but for that reason you may not tie their hands. Give them liberty. They will learn by experience.

Sir, the arguments urged against the amendment do not justify the imposition of compulsory registration on Trade Unions.

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): I support the amendment. My friend Mr. M. L. Janardanan Pillai, at the beginning of his speech, said that Travancore is not an industrially advanced country and that attempts at legislations must be made very carefully. I stress that point in order to support this amendment. Sir, as we see, Travancore is not advanced in any industrial enterprises. We should see as many industrial organisations and labour employers' associations spring up as possible and we should see that everything is done to the proper growth and development of industrial labour. Sir, if we adopt this provision, that is, Clause 14, it will prohibit the formation of labour associations and associations of a like nature. In this Clause it is stated that the existing Trade Unions are required only to get themselves registered after a period of three months. I ask why is that allowance given to the existing Trade Unions. Is it not necessary to give some period for labour associations which are to be formed in future? Is it not necessary that some period is allowed to them before registration? Is it not necessary to conduct these associations and to study their working and to learn whether they would continue or not? I ask, before this is done, is it fair, Sir, to compel the Unions to get themselves registered under this Regulation? I could have understood the position if a period of experiment has been given to the Trade Unions which are hereafter to be formed.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know from the member whether it is the maximum period fixed?

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): Three months period is only given to the existing Trade Unions. My submission is that at least a period of three months ought to have been given to the Trade Unions which are to be formed after the Regulation from the date of their organization to the date of registration.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know from the member whether there is any objection that the existing Trade Unions should be given any time to get themselves registered?

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): Sir, what I was saying was that some time should be allowed for the associations which are to be formed hereafter. That is to say they must have sufficient time to come to the conclusion whether they should continue by getting themselves registered under the Regulation. If that has been granted I could have understood the purpose of the Clause. Now it stands without any meaning. Then, Sir, my honourable friend Mr. K. C.

[Mr. S. Nilakanta Pillai.]

Karunakaran referred to the statement of objects of this Bill and he said that it is only permissive. Sir, I also refer to the same which is as follows :—

"The legal position of Trade Unions which do not register whatever it is will be unaffected by this measure. In other words, the measure is purely permissive. But in view of the important privileges and immunities conferred upon registered Trade Unions by this measure and in view of the disability under which unregistered Trade Unions may labour, all Trade Unions will find it to their advantage to register themselves under this measure in spite of certain obligations imposed upon them by reason of such registration."

Sir, by this it is seen that certain amenities have been granted by this legislation. If that be the case, the associations which are to be formed hereafter will of their own accord undertake registration. If that is the object of the Bill, why should Clause 14 be insisted. If amenities and privileges are made as attractive as possible, all associations will voluntarily take up registration. With these words I support the amendment.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I) : Sir, I wish to draw the attention of the House to only one point. I do not wish to make an elaborate reply to the speeches made on my amendment. This is the definition of the word "Trade Unions" given in the Bill. "Trade Union" means "any combination, whether temporary or permanent formed primarily for the purpose of regulating the relations between workmen and employers, or between workmen and workmen or between employers and employers &c." The point that I wish to stress is that these Trade Unions can be associated for temporary purposes as well as permanent. I wish to stress the point that it may be an organisation for regulating the relation between workmen and workmen only. In Chapter III Clause 15 (f) it is stated as follows :—

"allowances to members or their dependants on account of death, old age, sickness accidents or unemployment of such members".

Now let us turn to Clause 30 sub-clause (1) "Whoever in contravention of the provisions of Section 14, sub-section (2) forms any Trade Union or takes any part in the functions of any Trade Union shall for every such act be punishable with a fine which may extend to five hundred rupees." Suppose a Trade Union in contravention of the provisions of Section 14, sub-section (2), takes part in a religious function or ceremony or for the purpose of giving insurance facilities or in any such objects for which the Trade Union is formed. Sir, I ask in all seriousness whether by any stretch of imagination or reason could one think of asking these associations also to get themselves registered or else to punish them? They have nothing to do with trade disputes. Even then would you ask these associations to have the necessity of going through the formalities of registration? Sir, I want to know whether this House would like to penalise such Trade Unions. That is a point to be seriously considered. I consider that, when my honourable friend Mr. K. C. Karunakaran made a speech which was being punctuated with the approval of the labour member, he made some statements which cannot be allowed to go unchallenged.

I challenge him Sir, to show any analogous enactment anywhere else in the world. Having gone through the enactments in England, I don't find any such provision there. The honourable member made a misstatement. I challenge the member to point out an analogous provision in any legislation in the world.

PRESIDENT : Order, Order.

MR. K. C. KARUNAKARAN (Nominated): I never said anything about the penal clause.

MR. K. KUNJAKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Another argument which was advanced by some of the members was that all this was for the good of labour. I think that it is for labour to judge what is good for them. As a matter of fact we must also realise that labour is not so backward in Travancore as to have such compulsory protection. Another argument which was put forward by the Law Member was that in Travancore there are very few Trade Unions working. In England Sir, in the year 1871 when Trade Union Law was first enacted there were only very few Trade Unions. The Trade Union Law was enacted and Trade Unions were formed, Sir, those who say that the Bill is very beneficial to labour, really condemn the Bill, when they insist on the provision for compulsory registration. Why should there be any compulsion if the Bill is so very beneficial? Why not they leave labour organisations to their free choice? With these words, I commend my amendment for the acceptance of the House.

Sir, the point that we have to note is that even in British India, till the year 1929, we find that only 87 Trade Unions were registered. There are real difficulties for the registration of a Union, which my revered friend did not take into consideration. For certain organisations it is really difficult to go through the formalities of this registration. In the big Continent of India till the year 1929, you find that it was possible to register only 87 Trade Unions. Yet there are other Trade Unions functioning and they are a majority. These have not been destroyed because there was no compulsion. When this is the case in British India there will be greater difficulties in Travancore for registration.

I asked my friend Mr. Karayalar, whether there is any recommendation that there should be a provision for compulsory registration made by the Royal Commission on Labour. He then said that the recommendations of the Commission were scattered throughout the report and that they are not collected together in the form of recommendations. That is not correct. It is wrong. The recommendations of the Royal Commission on Labour on Trade Unions are not 257 to 265. These are the recommendations by the Royal Commission on Labour. Not a word is said in this connection to the effect that for the benefit of labour compulsory registration must be insisted upon. I refer the member to Appendix I, page 518, wherein he will see the recommendations regarding Trade Unions. These are the recommendations and there is nothing in favour of compulsory registration. I commend my amendment for the acceptance of the House.

The amendment was put to vote and lost.

MR. K. KUNJAKRISHNA PILLAI (Chelva): I demand a poll.

A poll was taken and the House divided as follows:—

PRESIDENT: For 18, against 34 and neutral 15. The amendment is lost.

Clause 14 was put to the vote of the House and carried.
The Clause was added to the Bill.

Clause 15.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): I move:—

"In Clause 15, sub-clause (i), substitute the following for the present sub-clause (k):—

"Any other objects not inconsistent with the objects laid down in the constitution of the Union"

Sir, Clause 15 relates to the objects on which the general funds of a Trade Union may be spent. Sub-clause (A) says that Government have power to give some more objects to particular Unions subject to the conditions imposed by the Government. I want to take away from the Government the power to impose such conditions. I want an express provision in the Bill that funds may be utilised for any objects not inconsistent with any objects laid down in the constitution of the Union. We are not aware how and what things will weigh with the Government in imposing the conditions.

The Bill only defines the primary objects of the Trade Unions. Besides that there may be secondary objects. I would have no prohibition or condition restricting any such secondary objects.

The English legislation makes no such restriction. That legislation makes it clear that a Trade Union besides its primary objects may have secondary objects. In England if a combination has, as its statutory objects other than statutory objects within the meaning of the Act, it shall not prevent the combination being a Trade Union under the Act. If that be so, why should there be a restriction here?

Suppose the members of a Union want to work for the promotion of art. They may start some group for painting and may want to promote art in the country. Another may want to establish a gymnasium for the physical culture of its members. Why should there be a restriction for such objects? Why should Government impose any conditions?

It may be said that a Trade Union in a moment of enthusiasm may spend away their whole funds. It is absolutely groundless. They may commit mistakes, but that is no reason why we should tie their hands.

I want to take away from the Government the power to notify any condition that they choose to impose.

(At this stage the Deputy President took the Chair.)

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, I second the amendment. It is a very modest amendment and there is an indication in the recommendations of the Royal Commission on Labour, for enhancing the scope of the working of the Trade Unions. The Royal Commission have recommended the necessity for allowing Trade Unions the freedom to form co-operative societies and such other functions necessary for labour. I think there can be no serious objection to a change of this kind. Moreover there is the safeguard that money should not be spent for any objects inconsistent with the constitution of the Union. Under these circumstances, I think that this amendment should be accepted by this House.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I oppose this amendment. Because the English Act has been quoted, I may mention that the provision in the Bill is exactly as the Indian Act. Section 15, of the Indian Trade Union Act reads thus:—

"The general funds of a registered Trade Union shall not be spent on other subjects than the following, namely:—

(a) the payment of salaries, allowances and expenses to officers of the Trade Union; and so on.

By legislation considerable privileges are given to Trade Unions, and it is the desire of the legislature, as I conceive it, that these Trade Unions should utilise their funds for proper purposes. If they want to study music or if they want a gymnasium they are at liberty to have it, but only they should not use the general Trade Union funds for it. They can even train men for fighting, we cannot object. But if the Trade Unions should be encouraged by legislature it is the duty of the legislature to see that their funds are utilised for proper legitimate purposes. I may say that Clause (j) gives some further scope. It reads thus:—

(j) "The payment, in furtherance of any of the objects on which the general funds of the Trade Union may be spent, of contributions to any cause intended to benefit workmen in general, provided that the expenditure in respect of such contributions in any financial year shall not at any time during that year be in excess of one-fourth of the combined total of the gross income which has up to that time accrued to the general funds of the Trade Union during that year and of the balance at the credit of those funds at the commencement of that year".

Mr. Sivaraman Nair wants to give wider scope and proposes to add objects "not inconsistent with the object". This is very wide if not vague and such a power cannot be given to Trade Unions. Probably, it may be all right in places like England, where they know what is inconsistent and what is not. Here these Unions are set in the infancy stage, and we must try to educate them on proper Trade Union lines. Therefore it seems to me that the Clause as it stands is quite right. I oppose the amendment.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and lost.

The question that Clause 15 stand part of the Bill was then put to vote and carried.

The Clause was added to the Bill.

Clause 16.

The question that Clause 16 stand part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The Clause was added to the Bill.

Clause 17.

Mr. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): I move the following amendment.

In Clause 17, sub-clause (1), lines 3 and 4, omit the words "to which a member of a Trade Union is a party."

Sir, this Clause is the only beneficial provision in the whole Bill. It gives immunity to the actions of the Trade Unions or its agents or its members under certain circumstances. Under the Clause as it stands, if any act is done in furtherance of a trade dispute that will be immune. The immunity will extend also to a case where a member of a Trade Union is involved in a trade dispute. It will not entitle members or officers of other Trade Unions to take part in the trade dispute and they will have no immunity. By my amendment I propose to include others also. Sir, labour as we know can succeed only if they stand united. Many of the labourers are without money and influence. They have not got sufficient strength to fight against big capitalists. If they want to win their case it will only be by means of Unions. The members and officers of a Trade Union will be able to act on behalf of the Trade Union and immunity against civil action will be given only to those persons. Suppose there are two Trade Unions in the same mill where two hundred coolies are working. If there is a trade dispute between one of the Trade Unions and the employer, the other Trade Union will not be able to take part in that act and no immunity will extend to those persons. Sir, we know that, as a matter of fact, the conditions of labour in one factory will be dependent very much upon the conditions of labour in another factory. The conditions of labour at Quilon will depend upon the conditions of labour at Alleppey. Suppose the wages of labourers in one mill in one place are reduced. Naturally the owner of the neighbouring mill will also reduce the wages in his mill.

Mr. M. L. JANARDANAN PILLAI (Co-opted): If both the mills at both the places reduce the wages at the same time what will be the position?

Mr. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): If both the mills in both the places reduce the wages, surely all can join. In that case there will be immunity to both the Trade Unions. But if there is only a dispute in one particular mill and the officer of another Union comes and joins it he will be liable. Immunity will not be extended to such people. I want that the immunity should be extended to such persons. Sir, it is vitally necessary for the promotion of Trade Unionism that all Trade Unions must co-operate with each other. If the Trade Unions are shut up in water-tight compartments they will not be able to exert that influence which we want them to exert. Hence there must be sufficient provision to allow all their Unions to co-operate with one another in their trade disputes. Hence my amendment.

Mr. P. S. MAHOMED (Co-opted): I second it.

Mr. M. L. JANARDANAN PILLAI (Co-opted): I oppose it. In my humble opinion this is a very mischievous principle. Immunity is provided for workmen who do certain acts in furtherance of a trade dispute to which a member of a Trade Union is a party. The acceptance of the present amendment will mean that if there are two Trade Unions in a place and one Trade Union alone has got a legitimate grievance against an employer, the other Trade Union which has no such grievance can also join it and yet will be free from the consequences of such a combination. The framers of this Bill deliberately and carefully provided against such a contingency. I can understand one Trade Union having a complaint trying to get that remedied. But it is against all accepted canons of Trade Union principles that another Trade Union which has no grievance should join the other Trade Union in its dispute. I therefore oppose the amendment strongly.

MR. PUTHUPALLY S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quiten II): Sir, I beg to support the amendment. In doing so I have to point out a very serious incongruity which would otherwise be contained in the enactment. No doubt, this provision as it stands has a virtue of its own, in that it is the same as the one found in the British Indian enactment. We have got the authority of British India for the continuance of this provision. Now, Sir, Trade Unions were claiming privileges for helping other Trade Unions in the cause of labour. For instance where a strike or walk-out is organised in one place, it is open to Trade Unions in other places to contribute funds or to help it in other ways. This House by enacting Clause 15 (j) has to some extent conceded this privilege. The privilege of interfering or helping other Trade Unions in other places has to some extent been recognised. If workmen in one locality find it necessary to help workmen in some other locality with funds, then the workmen in the former locality can contribute funds which will enable the latter to carry on the strike or to continue the agitation whenever a dispute takes place between the employer and the employed. When the strike commences the labourers may be without money. They will have to get funds from elsewhere. For that purpose, after considerable fight in the Indian Legislative Assembly, this provision was inserted. In the Assembly the fight was for greater power but the Assembly gave only a limited power. Under Clause 15 (j) one Trade Union is entitled to contribute funds to another Trade Union which is carrying on a strike, even though that Trade Union has absolutely nothing in common with the fight carried on by the other Trade Union. The only common link between these Trade Unions is that they exist for the preservation and maintenance of the rights and privileges of labour. The problems affecting these two institutions may be different. Nevertheless, as both these institutions exist for an identical purpose, the Clause allows for one-fourth of the gross income being contributed in the furtherance of labour. If that is allowed then immunity must be given to those Trade Unions even though they contribute only funds. If immunity is not granted then, it will mean that although a Trade Union can exercise all the powers conferred upon it under Clause 15, sub-clauses (a) to (j), it cannot exercise the power conferred under sub-clause (j) because if it contributes funds and creates trouble, it will not get immunity. Clause 17 (1) says that "no suit or other legal proceeding shall be maintainable in any civil court against any registered Trade Union or any officer or member thereof in respect of any act done in contemplation or furtherance of a trade dispute to which a member of the Trade Union is a party." Immunity is granted only if an act is done in contemplation or furtherance of a trade dispute to which a member of the Trade Union is a party. That is a condition precedent for granting exemption. Now we are conferring powers upon Trade Unions and allowing them to spend money on other Trade Union for certain purposes. Then you must also enact the limits within which that may be done. Otherwise it will lead to an anomaly. This Clause does not appear to have been noticed at the time it was passed in British India. Now, my submission is that when you confer certain powers and privileges and legalise certain activities, then immunity will have to be given not only to a few but to the whole of the activities. Otherwise they will not be sufficiently protected. "Any act done" is what is protected. Contribution of funds to some other Unions is an act. You need not harangue the employers, but you can make a substantial money contribution. That is an act done. If no member of this Trade Union is a party to that dispute, what will follow? You do not get any exemption. You will be liable for having induced persons to activities in restraint of trade, business or employment. You will be liable for having interfered with the rights of some other person. My view is that Clause 15 (i) is inadequate. Clause 15 (j) read with Clause 17 (1) leads to an inconsistency. I cannot think that the legislature at any time thought that such an act should not be penalised. I therefore support this amendment.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon D): I rise to support the amendment which contains a very sound principle which will be recognised by everybody. The amendment recognises the fact that has been now well-acknowledged throughout the world, namely, that labour organisations of all kinds should stand united and should have facilities for common action. When this matter was discussed in the Legislative Assembly, Sir R. K. Shanmukham Chetti who was then a member, gave a homely example in support of the facilities for giving the right of helping other Trade Unions. He said that if you find your neighbour's house on fire you should not be compelled to keep quiet. You must have the right of extinguishing that fire not merely for the purpose of helping your neighbour but also in your own interests. The same principle will apply in the case of Trade Unions as well. If they do not act conjointly for the purpose of establishing their rights very little headway can be made in the cause of labour. If Trade Unionism and labour rights have been recognised in the world at present it is because of this facility. We find that there cannot be anything common between labour organisations in Britain and India. Yet they help each other and sympathise in each others difficulties. You find as a matter of fact that for every one of the activities for the furtherance of labour movement, sympathy is extended by other countries and the movement is fostered. Such a freedom for the purpose of conserving the interests of a particular section of society is only a natural and elementary right that is sought for. And this amendment seeks nothing more than that. If you recognise the principle that labour all over is one and united, then this amendment should be accepted.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I oppose the amendment. First of all let me express my thanks to Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai for referring to the Indian Legislative Assembly in which, although a certain member tried for such an amendment, he did not succeed.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): Since the member is thanking Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai, is he supporting the amendment?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I am thanking him because he drew the attention of this House to the proceedings of the Indian Legislative Assembly which vetoed such an amendment. The Indian Legislative Assembly knows its business very well, and it rejected that amendment.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, is not the statement 'that the Indian Legislative Assembly knows its business' an aspersion on this Assembly?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: If anybody says that A is an intelligent man, it does not mean that B is a fool. I think the words used by the Law Member are parliamentary.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, after saying that the Indian Assembly knows its business I was going to say that this House also knows its business and would therefore similarly reject the amendment.

Let me thank Mr. Puthupalli Krishna Pillai also for trying to point out that there is some incongruity or anomaly between this provision and Clause 15 (j). I wish however to tell the House that there is no such anomaly or incongruity. A careful perusal of Clause 17 will show that it refers to certain acts which ordinarily are offences or wrongs, such as an act that induces another person to break a contract of employment or again an interference with the business or trade of some other person. Clause 17 aims at permitting such acts. Now the amendment seeks to extend the protection. What the House has to consider is why should this protection be extended. The first condition to make an act not penal is that it must be in furtherance of some object of the Trade Union. Clause 15 (j) says that a Trade Union shall not contribute more than one-fourth of its income to certain purposes. Now what Clause 17 refers to does not refer to that but refers to two acts which would be offences. Contribution of funds is not an offence. Therefore there is no inconsistency between the two Clauses. The one deals with two acts which are offences and the other deals with what are not offences.

Clause 17 seeks to protect a person who does certain acts. The reason for this protection is that it is one of the privileges conferred on registered Trade Unions. The question is why should this protection be extended to a person who does what is otherwise an illegal act, not for his own purpose but for another man's purpose.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : The question before the House is—

In Clause 17, sub-clause (1), lines 3 and 4, omit the words "to which a member of a Trade Union is a party".

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and lost.

The question that Clause 17 stand part of the Bill was then put to vote and carried.

The Clause was added to the Bill.

Clauses 18, 19 and 20.

The question that Clauses 18, 19 and 20 do stand part of the Bill was then put to vote and carried.

The Clauses were added to the Bill.

Clause 21.

MR. M. L. JANARDANAN PILLAI (Co-opted) : I move the following amendment:—

In Clause 21, line 1, for the word "two-thirds" substitute the word "three-fourths".

Sir, this is the mandate I have from the Chamber of Commerce.

"As regards the percentage of non-members on the executive, Section 21 provides that not less than one-half of the Officers of every registered Trade Union should be persons actually engaged or employed in an industry with which the Trade Union is connected. Although this is the provision in the Indian Trade Unions Act also, considering the circumstances in Travancore, and the possibility of misusing the Trade Unions for political propaganda, we think that not less than 75 per cent. of the total number of Officers should be persons actually employed in an industry with which a Trade Union is connected."

That is why I have moved this amendment. Earlier in the day the honourable member Mr. Kottar Kunjukrishna Pillai said that labour in Travancore is not so backward as to be guided by any outsider. That is exactly my position too. Labour in Travancore knows its interests very well. It has been sufficiently outspoken and noisy. It has its own organisation. This Bill provides to give them all the facilities that are required in furtherance of the cause they have at heart. If that is so, I cannot understand why three-fourths of the officers of the movement should not be their own people. I object to any outsider taking part in the working of Trade Unions. But there is a general feeling that after all some outsiders may be allowed to pilot the affairs of labourers in the early stages of their working. If the outsiders that come in are really useful and good people and if they really take care of the interests of labour it does not matter what the proportion is. One good leader helping and guiding a Trade Union is sufficient to help the labourers. But are there really useful people? No. They come there to serve their own ends, to use the Unions for their own purposes. Any number of leaders may come in and work for labourers and yet may not produce sufficient beneficial results. As I said, one good leader is good enough to better the movement. But in actual practice good leaders are not coming forward. There is no meaning merely in increasing the number of outsiders.

[Mr. M. L. Janardanan Pillai.]

After all, Sir, the position appears to me to be this. The labourer may have his own grievances. He may have differences of opinion with his employer. It will be easier for the employers and labourers to come to an understanding between themselves. Each one will be able to understand the other's difficulties and there would be the spirit of give and take. All the world over whether it is in Trade Unions or in other walks of life or in political agitations, it is found that it is always the outsider who has no interest at stake that comes in and creates all unnecessary trouble. Even when there is an honest effort on the part of an employer and employee to effect a compromise, the outsider interferes in the matter and upsets the whole arrangement. All that is due to the fact that it is not a paying proposition to the outsider to get things amicably settled. The longer the dispute is carried on, the better it is for the outsider who is neither a labourer nor an employer. I will support my position by reading out a relevant passage from Whitley Commission Report:

Page 328.

"A few of these (traders) have interested themselves in the movement in order to secure private and personal ends".

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Will the member please read that once more? There a statement is made that some of them have interested themselves—

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Is it open to the honourable member to read a portion of the passage and misrepresent facts?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I cannot ask the member to read out the passage that the other members want.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Is it fair and proper to read out part of a sentence and make the House understand in a different way? Will the member please read the next sentence below that?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The member is quite within his rights to read out passages relevant for his purpose.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): But, is it fair I ask—

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: If he refuses to read any particular passage—

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): But can the member give a wrong impression to the House? Is it fair I ask?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The House has to take its chances. It is open to the member to read or not.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Is it fair, Sir?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I do not think it is necessary for me to express an opinion on that. But a member is entitled to read a particular passage to support his view.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): On a point of order. Can the member read a passage which the other members do not want and yet draw an adverse inference?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: It is no point of order.

MR. M. L. JANARDANAN PILLAI (Co-opted): At the same time, as many of the present leaders would be the first to recognise, the man drawn from outside the world of labour is handicapped in more than one direction. He has seldom a complete knowledge of the technical details of the industry to which his work is related, and cannot hope to meet the employer on equal terms in this respect.

Therefore, I say, when there are sufficient safeguards for the interests of labour, when a labourer feels aggrieved and the employer finds a chance of compromising the trouble, my practical experience is that the outsider comes in and interferes and sees that the employee is kept away from the employer. The outsider makes matters so hard for these two sets of people that to arrive at an amiable understanding is an impossibility. It is therefore that I move this amendment.

One more point and I have done. Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai said that labour in Travancore is not backward as not to know its real interests. When this Bill was taken up, representatives of labour wrote leading articles in the newspapers and distributed them even among members. The labour representative is here. He is watching the progress of this Bill. He is doing all that is needed to safeguard the interests of labour.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Where is the representative?

MR. M. L. JANARDANAN PILLAI (Co-opted): In the gallery, Sir.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: We are not concerned with persons in the gallery.

MR. M. L. JANARDANAN PILLAI (Co-opted): Apart from that, Travancore labour is well represented in the existing Trade Unions of the country. A Union though not registered under any Regulation, has its own newspaper, has as its members a number of men who are well educated, who as I said on a former occasion even compose excellent poetry in Malayalam and even deliver lectures—if such a Union can take care of itself, why not keep it out of the clutches of outsiders and thus see that no unnecessary trouble is caused to the organisation itself, and that no trouble is created between the employer and the employee. With these words I commend my amendment for the consideration of this House.

MR. K. C. KARUNAKARAN (Nominated): I support the amendment.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal): In view of the number of cases given in the answer, may I know the reason for not converting the out-post at Vamanapuram into a charging station?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): There are not many cases justifying the conversion of the out-post into a charging station.

The Karipoor trace.

84. *MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal): Will the Government be pleased to state:

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): For want of funds.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether an estimate was prepared for the construction of the bridge at the time when the work of the road was begun?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): The road was constructed under a separate estimate. Sanction has been given for the construction of the bridge and we are awaiting allotment of funds.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know the reason for not getting sanction for the bridge also when the sanction for the road was obtained?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings, and Irrigation): It was considered that the road should be improved first and the bridge built afterwards.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the temporary bridge exists there at present?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): No.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the Government are aware that due to the absence of at least a temporary bridge there, the passengers are put to serious difficulties?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): It is quite possible.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether there is any proposal at present for the construction of the bridge?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner):

(a) The answer is in the negative.

(b) In view of the answer to part (a) this does not arise.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): May I know whether the Government are aware that minute sub-division of agricultural holdings of Nayar and Ezhava communities has led to fragmentation of agricultural holdings?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): Yes, Sir.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): May I know whether the fragmentation of holdings will affect the agricultural industry in the State?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): There is no information that any paddy land has been left without cultivation.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkura II): May I know whether the Government are aware that the quantity of rice imported into the State has been steadily mounting up from 1110 onwards?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): I have not got the figures with me now to give a specific answer to it.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedunungad): May I know from Government whether they are aware that as a result of the fragmentation of holdings people have begun to convert paddy lands into garden lands?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): That process has been going on for a very long time, even before the enactment of the Nayar and Ezhava Regulations.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedunungad): May I know what steps Government have taken to prevent the conversion of paddy lands into garden lands?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): That is a matter which involves an important question of policy whether an uneconomical holding should not be converted into an economical holding.

Change of list month.

86 *MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether the question of changing the date for payment of tax for Medappu Panja lands from 15th Edavam to 15th Mithunam has been considered by the Government after the last Budget Session of the Assembly; and

|      | Rs.   | Ch. | C. |

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): The bulk of the arrears accumulated during the biennial contract 1106 and 1107.

PRESIDENT: Will the honourable member please raise his voice a little louder ?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): The bulk of the arrears accumulated during the contract for the years 1106 and 1107.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): My question as to how it accumulated is not answered.

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): In 1105, before the commencement of the economic depression, the shops were disposed of for very high rentals. Most of the contractors defaulted. Therefore the shops had to be reauctioned for lower rentals and the loss by resale is now sought to be recovered as arrears of revenue.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know whether any concessions were given to those contractors?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): For those who conducted the shops without default concessions were granted during both the years.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know the reason for the abnormal fall in collection during the years 1107, 1108 and 1109?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): It was possible to collect only so much. Proceedings are in various stages of progress for the collection of arrears.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know whether the Government have considered the necessity of giving help to these contractors in view of the economic depression?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Help was given to deserving contractors. The other question has not been considered.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know whether the Government have considered the necessity of writing off any of these amounts?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): If anything is found to be irrecoverable that will be written off.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): With reference to answer to part (c) it is stated that "there is no minimum standard of financial stability fixed for an abkari contractor" and with reference to part (d) it is stated that it is Proverthiars who certify to the stability of the toddy shop contractor. I wish to know on what basis they make the recommendations.

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): On the tax paying capacity which would show how much property they hold.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know whether the fact that a small amount is due to the Government from these contractors indicate that they are not stable?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): In most cases their properties are found to be heavily encumbered.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether the Government have ascertained whether the contractors are solvent to realise the arrears due to Government?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Even before the contract is given the solvency of the contractors is ascertained through the Proverthiars.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): May I know whether the defaulting shop contractors were admitted to take part in the auction for the years 1109 and 1110?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): There is an express provision that no defaulter will be admitted to the auction hall.

Misappropriation of Money by Official Receivers.

90. *MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): With reference to the answers given to question No. 14 of the 8th Session of the 1st Assembly on the 28th July 1936, and also with reference to the specific answer given to part (i) of the question, that the Government have ordered that the loss sustained should be recovered from the Official Receiver concerned, will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) what action has been taken by them to recover the amount from the Official Receiver concerned;

(b) who is the Official Receiver;

(c) what is he now;

(d) whether the whole amount has actually been recovered;

(e) if the answer to part (d) is in the affirmative, when and how was it recovered;

(f) if the answer to part (d) is in the negative, why the amount has not yet been recovered; and

(g) with reference to answer to part (j) of the question that the Official Receiver reported that he had not received any rent, whether the Trivandrum District Court, under which he was the Official Receiver has enquired into the veracity of the report?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a), (b) and (c). As a result of a representation put in by Mr. N. Raghava Aiyar, M. A., M. L., who was the then Official Receiver and who is now the District Munsiff at Quilon, the High Court have been requested to have an enquiry conducted so as to fix the responsibility for the amount in question on the person concerned.

(d), (e), (f) and (g). In view of answer to (a), (b) and (c) these do not arise.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): With reference to answer to part (c) it was answered ".....the Government have ordered that the loss sustained should be recovered from the Official Receiver concerned" and the present answer is ".....the High Court have been requested to have an enquiry conducted so as to fix the responsibility for the amount in question on the person concerned." May I know from Government how they had come to the conclusion on a former occasion that the Official Receiver should deposit the amount?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): On the basis of the records then available.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know the reason why the Government have revised their former order and ordered the High Court to make the necessary investigation and put the responsibility upon them?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Because of a representation put in by the officer concerned for a revision of the order.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the Account Officer has audited the accounts in the District Court with reference to the Official Receiver's records?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Yes, I think so.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether he has found out any misappropriation so far as the Official Receiver's accounts are concerned?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): It was found that the rent for a certain period was not collected.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know who is responsible for the assets of the party after it is taken possession of by the Receiver?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The Official Receiver.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know why in the present case the Official Receiver was not ordered to deposit the amount that he has appropriated?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): He has put in a representation to say that he has not misappropriated the amount and that the responsibility rests with somebody else. On that representation Government have ordered a fresh enquiry.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): May I know to what year this misappropriation relates?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I believe it relates to 1909.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): May I know the reason for the delay in disposing of the matter?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The Account Officer inspected the account and found out that the amount was not collected. The explanation of the Official Receiver was called for, and the District Judge enquired into the matter and reported to Government. On the basis of the District Judge's report Government ordered that the amount should be recovered from the Official Receiver. Then the Official Receiver put in a representation saying that he was not responsible for the money. The High Court was therefore asked to conduct a fresh enquiry.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): May I know when the District Judge submitted his report?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Some two or three years ago. I am not able to give the exact date now.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the Official Receiver has admitted before the District Judge at any time that he wants time to deposit the amount?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I claim notice. I have no information.

MR. A. EASWARA PILLAI (Kethulamali): May I know the amount of the money misappropriated?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): As far as possible convenient dates will be fixed.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know from the member whether he is aware that by the 12th of Medom the winter season begins in Malabar?

(c) how many non-official Presidents have been successively elected in the Municipality; and

(d) On the 9th Meenom 1102.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA Dr. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): It was found some years ago that there were serious irregularities in the management of the Municipality and so Government decided to appoint an official President. Now most of the irregularities have been removed and the question whether the Municipality should be given the right of electing a non-official President is under the consideration of Government.

Non-Departmental Anchal Officer.

(b) the action taken on the same?

Mr. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): (a) Yes.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know what must be the nature of the guarantee for an Anchal Office?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ay. Secretary to Government): An amount of Rs. 250 must be deposited for the pay of the master and runner; and a building with furniture, free of rent, should ordinarily be provided.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know from Government whether the Land Revenue Department has been supplied with any sketches and plans?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I cannot supply that information now.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know whether Government are aware that delay is due to the failure to supply those sketches?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): The delay is due to nothing of that sort. Government have ordered that the question of constructing the road should lie over.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): On the 23rd July 1935.

MR. KAINIKKARA M. PADMANABHA PILLAI (Changanacherry I): May I know whether the exact amount was ascertained after the budget was sanctioned?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): The whole question was fully discussed at the Budget Session. I may refer the honourable member to my speech on the token cut.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): A * statement furnishing the information is laid on the table.

Acting Graduate Teachers.

101. *MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether there are about a dozen graduates recruited as teachers in the year 1101 still acting in the graduate scale;

(b) whether they were not receiving Rs. 50 as salary till the Standardisation G. O., dated 18.4.1935;

(c) whether after the above G. O. their pay has been reduced to Rs. 40 only;

(d) whether graduates entertained in the undergraduate scale subsequent to the recruitment referred to above were subsequently confirmed and promoted to graduate scale; and

(e) if so, why the cases of the teachers in the graduate scale were not taken into consideration when undergraduates were promoted?

(d) No.

(e) This does not arise in view of answer to (d).

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): May I know from Government whether graduates are entertained in the under-graduate scale?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Yes, Sir.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): May I know whether they were subsequently promoted in the higher scale?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): That has been answered in part (d).

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): May I submit, Sir, that part (d) does not answer that. My question is whether under-graduates were promoted in graduate scale?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Yes, Sir.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): May I know from the member whether they were confirmed in graduate scale?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Not in recent years.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): May I know, Sir, after 1101, any under-graduate was promoted in the graduate scale and has been confirmed in that scale?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): That is answered in part (d).

Recruitment of graduate teachers.

102. *MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the names of graduates who are recruited in 1101 in the graduate scale as teachers and who are still acting with their qualification and rank or distinction, if any; and

(b) the names and qualifications of graduates entertained in the graduate scale since 1101 and subsequently promoted to the graduate scale?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction):

(a) A statement furnishing the information asked for is placed on the table.

(b) The question is not understood.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): May I know, Sir, whether any graduate has been confirmed in the graduate scale after 1101?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I claim notice.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): Sir, a mistake has arisen in the question part (b) viz. "the names and qualifications of graduates entertained.....?" But it ought to be "names and qualifications of under-graduates entertained in the under-graduate scale"? Sir, can I correct that question and put it?

PRESIDENT : By all means.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum) : May I know whether undergraduates were promoted in the graduate scale and have been confirmed in that scale?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction) : I am not able to follow the honourable member's question. I claim notice, Sir.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum) : May I know whether after 1101, any graduate was promoted in the graduate scale and has been confirmed in that scale?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction) : I claim notice.

Untrained teachers in Management Schools.

103. *MR. N. K. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara I) : Will the Government be pleased to state :

(a) whether untrained teachers in management schools with less than two years' service have been ordered to be relieved; and

(b) if the answer to part (a) is in the affirmative, whether they will be pleased to furnish detailed information regarding the matter?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction) :

(a) and (b). Instructions have been issued to the Divisional Inspectors and the Inspectress of Girls' Schools to the effect that ordinarily the appointments of untrained V. S. L. C. holders of less than two years' teaching experience, as teachers in private schools, should not be approved.

MR. N. K. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara I) : May I know from Government whether the present order was necessitated as a result of the recommendation of the Public Service Commissioner?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction) : No, Sir. This refers to untrained teachers in schools run by private managements. The Public Service Commissioner has nothing to do with appointments in those schools.

Cases of theft and burglary.

104. *MR. N. K. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara I) : Will the Government be pleased to state :

(a) how many cases of theft and burglary have been reported from places within the jurisdiction of the Neyyattinkara Police in 1109, 1110 and 1111 (till 24-11-1111) respectively;

(b) how many cases are still undetected :

(c) how many charge-sheeted; and

(d) how many have ended in conviction?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police) : (a), (b), (c) and (d). A statement<sup>1</sup> containing the required information is laid on the table.

MR. N. K. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara I) : Sir, it is answered that in 1109 "two cases are still remaining undetected". May I know whether any explanation of the officer connected with detection was called for?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYENGAR (Commissioner of Police): It is not a matter in which.....

PRESIDENT: The honourable member will raise his voice.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYENGAR (Commissioner of Police): Here, there are cases detected and undetected. On the whole, the work of the officer is not bad and no explanation was asked for.

Revenue auctions for arrears of tax.

105 *MR. N. K. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara I): (a) Will the Government be pleased to state the number of revenue auctions for arrears of tax in the Neyyattinkara taluk in each of the years 1110 and 1111 (till 24-11-1111)?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a list showing the extent of each of the properties sold and the arrears of tax and the amount for which each of them was sold?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner):

(a) 87 and 269 during 1110 and 1111 respectively (up to the end of 24-11-1111).

(b) A list* containing the information for the year 1111 is laid on the table. The details in respect of all the auctions conducted in 1110 cannot be ascertained correctly because most of the sales conducted during that year were cancelled in pursuance of G. O. R. O. C. No. 4343/35/Rev, dated 2-10-35.

MR. N. K. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara I): May I know from the member why there was an abnormal rise in the arrears of tax during 1111?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): Because more people failed to pay their tax.

Lands sold for arrears of revenue.

106 *MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): With reference to the Chirayinkil taluk, will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the extent of lands sold in auction for the purpose of recovering the revenue of the State or the arrears thereof during the years 1110 and 1111 up to date (31-11-1111);

(b) the total amount of tax for which the revenue sales were conducted during these years; and

(c) the amount realised by selling movables?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner):

(a) 1110 ... 15 acres 40 cents.

1111 up to 31-11-1111 ... 26 acres 26 cents.

(b) 1110—Rs. 538-14-5

1111—Rs. 1243-20-0

(c) 1110—Rs. 17-13-9

1111—Rs. 12- 7-6.

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): May I know from Government why there was a great difference in the sums realised under arrears in 1110 and 1111?

*Vide Appendix V pages 491 to 490

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): They are not the amounts realised. It is the amount of arrears. It is the total amount of tax and not the amount realised.

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): It is stated as the total amount of tax for which revenue sales were conducted. May I know, Sir, what is this difference due to?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): In the first place the amounts shown under item (b) are not amounts realised. They are the amounts of arrears. The difference was due to the fact that there were more arrears in 1111 than in 1110.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): With regard to answer to part (a) may I know out of this 26 acres how many acres were paddy and how many were garden lands?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): Five acres and thirteen cents were paddy lands and the rest were garden lands.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know the accurate price that paddy lands fetched in auction?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): It is a matter for calculation. For two acres and ten cents the value realised was Rs. 200 and chuckrams 12.

Teachers in Management Vernacular Schools.

107 MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether there is a circular issued by them or by the Director of Public Instruction to the effect that Vernacular School Leaving Certificate holders should not be appointed as teachers in Management Vernacular Schools;

(b) if so, will it bind the V. S. L. C. holders who have obtained or applied for license; and

(c) whether the managements have been instructed by the department to disband teachers who have not got two years' service?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction):

(a), (b) and (c) Instructions have been issued to the Divisional Inspectors and the Inspectress of Girls' Schools to the effect that ordinarily the appointments of untrained V. S. L. C. holders of less than two years' teaching experience, as teachers in private schools, should not be approved.

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): Sir, may I know whether the circular will affect those who have obtained license or who have applied for license?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): If better qualified teachers are available, they will be certainly preferred to untrained V. S. L. C. holders who may hold the license.

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): May I know whether the teachers are required to pay for the license?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction):
Yes.

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): Why then does Government now come forward and say that they would not be allowed to teach in schools after they have issued licence on payment of a certain amount?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I would invite the member's attention to the word "ordinarily" in the answer.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): Does the circular apply only to the appointments to be made in future?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): It will not apply to teachers who have already obtained exemption.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know whether it applies to the appointment of teachers who have passed the V. S. L. C.?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): If such teachers are not experienced and if better qualified men are available they will be preferred. If the Divisional Inspector finds that there are better qualified persons available, he advises managements to appoint the better qualified men.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether it affects those were in service before two years before this circular was issued?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): No, Sir.

THE TRAVANCORE TRADE UNIONS BILL.

PRESIDENT: The House will now resume consideration of the Travancore Trade Unions Bill proceed with the discussion of the following amendment moved by Mr. M. L. Janardhanan Pillai to Clause 21 of the Bill :—

"in Clause 21, line 1, for the word 'two-thirds' substitute the word 'three-fourths'".

MR. P. S. "The endeavour to dictate to Unions on the subject of their officers or leaders is equally shortsighted and unwise. We have referred to the great difficulties confronting the movement, which make the employment of a proportion of outsiders inevitable. In some cases victimisation, and more frequently the fear of it, gives an additional value to the outsider. The claim to be allowed to deal only with "One's own men" is frequently little more than an endeavour to secure that the case of the man shall be presented by persons who are not likely to prove assertive. In every country much of the active work of Trade Unions, particularly in their relations with employers, is carried on by persons whose livelihood does not depend on the employers' will. We recognise, as do outsiders themselves, the weakness of the position of persons who have no direct experience of industry. But this again is mainly a question for the Unions themselves, and we shall deal with it in that connection".

അതുകൊണ്ട് പ്രയോശനം കൊടുക്കുന്ന വിഷയത്തിൽ വെളിയിലുള്ളവരുടെ സാക്ഷ്യം എത്ര എന്ന നിശ്ചയിക്കുമ്പോൾ അതു തീരെ കുറഞ്ഞുപോകാതിരിക്കാൻ ശ്രദ്ധിക്കേണ്ടതു നമ്മുടെ മുതൽവെണ്ണം.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I) : വെളിയിൽനിന്നും വരുന്നവരുടെ പ്രവേശനത്തെ ഭയന്നാണോ രജിസ്ട്രേഷൻ നിർബന്ധിതമാക്കണമെന്നു പറയുന്നതു്.

MR. P. S. MAHOMED (Co-opted): അല്ല. സംഘങ്ങളെ കെ കാൽക്കുക തയോടുള്ള പ്രവർത്തിക്കുന്നതിനുള്ള ഒരു അനുമതിയും തിരുവിതാംകൂറിൽ ഉണ്ടായിരിക്കണമെന്നുള്ള ആഗ്രഹംകൊണ്ടാണ് രജിസ്ട്രേഷൻ നിർബന്ധിതമാക്കണമെന്നു പറയുന്നത്.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Sir, I rise to support the amendment. When we deal with these several Bills connected with labour legislation we shall not forget one fact. That is, the position of capital in this country. Sir, it has been represented on the floor of the House that the condition of labour in this country and elsewhere is deplorable. But what about the state of capital in this country? That is the point I wish to emphasise. After all, excepting a few factories owned by Europeans and a few big capitalists, we should say that generally the position of capital in this country is equally deplorable, if not worse.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know whether the honourable member realises that the Trade Union Act applies both to employers as well as labourers?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): That is exactly my point. But there is a feeling in this House that labour requires more encouragement, more protection than capital. It is to that feeling that I want to draw the attention of the House. Sir, our country entered into the field of industry only very recently. As such, both capital and labour should be protected from the same standard, if not on unequal basis. On account of our inability to provide funds to finance big industrial concerns, we are inviting foreign capital into our country, so that the balance of protection should be on the side of the capitalists. If only capital is well protected we can attract foreign capital. It should be a serious question before all the members of this Legislature.

With regard to the proportion of fixing outsiders in Trade Unions, personally, I do not think there is any necessity of having outsiders in any Trade Union at all. But considering the fact that Trade Unions are in their infancy and are only going to come up and that there are not very many experienced labourers to form themselves into Unions we can allow a certain proportion, and I contend that that proportion should only be just what is necessary to guide them in the proper line.

Sir, it has been pointed out more than once on the floor of this House, that it is often the outside elements that create disturbance and brings about conflicts between the employer and the labourers. The so called leaders and politicians often interfere in trade disputes uninvited and stand in the way of any settlement. Sir, had we not a living example of this kind in our discussion with regard to the registration of Trade Unions yesterday? I could not understand the position of certain members when they seemed to fight very vehemently for labour interest even when the representative for labour was satisfied with the necessity of registration. To me, Sir, it appeared that either Government went wrong in co-opting the proper member to represent labour or that the member so appointed betrayed the cause entrusted to his care. It has been pointed out very clearly that we have in this House, nominated by the Government, accredited representatives both of labour and of capital. Now, in a point on which such representatives of labour and capital are agreed, we find others coming in to champion the cause, of labour.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I ask the member whether we are here legislating or arbitrating?

MR. K. M. KURIAK<sup>OS</sup>E (Muvattupuzha II): That is exactly my point. We do not need any arbitration, since the parties themselves are agreed. We have to take an impartial view of the question. There is no need for outsiders to come in and create any disturbance. I too therefore think that the maximum percentage of outsiders might be fixed at 25. I therefore support the amendment.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I rise to oppose the amendment moved by Mr. Janardanan Pillai. I agree that there is nothing wrong in the principle involved in the amendment; because my friend Mr. Janardhanan Pillai himself concedes that there is necessity, at any rate for some time to come, for the outside element, so far as labour in Travancore is concerned. I may point out to the House that even in British India, according to the law now in force, even after the recommendations of the Royal Commission on Labour, outsiders are allowed to hold 50 per cent. of the offices in labour associations. My friend Mr. Janardhanan Pillai quoted with approval my statement that labour in Travancore was more educated and contented and that therefore there was less necessity for the outside element in labour organisations here. I did say, Sir, that labour in Travancore was more educated. But education in arts does not mean education in organisation which is the important factor here. Travancore is as yet new to labour organisations, and to negotiations between labour and capital interests. Once we grant that it is that kind of education that we require, I am sure it will be admitted that the Trade Unions in British India which have been working for the last 10 years and more, are in a better position in this respect than we here who cannot boast of any such organisation for any period.

Another point that I wish to submit in this connection is this. If I remember right, this proportion of two thirds was suggested before the Select Committee by the representative of the employer himself.

MR. M. L. JANARDANAN PILLAI (Co-opted): May I remind the member that it was Mr. P. S. Mahomed who suggested that proportion of two-thirds, and not I.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I stand corrected, Sir; but my friend was also in the Select Committee, and it was open to him to have moved for three-fourths instead of two-thirds even in the Select Committee. He did not do that.

PRESIDENT: Proceedings before the Select Committee need not be referred to.

MR. M. L. JANARDANAN PILLAI (Co-opted): A word of explanation, Sir. When I signed the Select Committee report, I distinctly stated there that I was signing subject to the amendments to be moved by me here.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): For a moment, I am not contesting the right of the member to move amendments. After all it does not make much difference whether it is two-thirds or three-fourths, because the principle is going to be the same.

Sir, my friend read out a portion from the Report of the Royal Commission on Labour, but more significantly he omitted to read certain other portions of the Report. It is stated at page 328 of that report.

"A few of these have interested themselves in the movement in order to secure private and personal ends."

That sentence alone was quoted by my friend. He did not care to read even the very next line. Obviously, he must have had his own reasons. The very next sentence runs thus:—

"The majority, however, are actuated by an earnest desire to assist labour. The work involving much toil and many discouragements, is nearly always unpaid, and brings more criticism than thanks. Our survey of the position will, we hope, show sufficiently clearly how necessary the assistance of these men has been in the past."

MR. M. L. JANARDANAN PILLAI (Co-opted): May I ask whether that commendable reference there, to the outsider, does not relate to British India?

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): This report, it is very well known, refers only to British India and not to any Indian State. That is obvious on the face of it. But if my friend can quote with approval a portion of the report which also refers only to British India, and apply it to Travancore, I fail to see the justification, the fairness or the reasonableness of my friend putting me this question when I am just quoting the further sentence to disabuse the misapprehension created by his quoting partly and suppressing greatly which, I must say, is very unfair even in controversy.

My friend, the labour member, also read certain portions from the report to show that the Royal Commission recognised the need for outside element for leading Trade Unions. He stated as one of the reasons for the outside element that those who are actually employed under the capitalists will not be assertive enough, will not be independent enough if they care for their job, to talk on equal terms with the employer. It was under such circumstances that outside element was considered to be absolutely necessary.

My friends have been saying so much about the interference, in Travancore, by outsiders with regard to labour organisation. So far as I know, Sir, in Travancore, not even 2 per cent. in the executive of the labour organisations here are outsiders. In fact there are not sufficient men coming forward to interest themselves in this thankless and difficult task. It has been stated that the outsider has created all sorts of difficulties in Travancore. That is quite opposed to facts. Sir, all the members of this House bemoan the loss of Mr. Lampard of blessed memory, who was a member of this House and with whose firm in Quilon, I had something to do in connection with labour troubles there. Sir, had he been alive, I am sure he would have testified to the fact that outsiders have always been of help to the employer and have been able to bring about concord between the employer and the employee. There might have been occasions—I do not deny that—when political leaders might have created trouble and stirred up bad blood. But, such things happen every where and are not peculiar to Travancore. As the Royal Commission itself has pointed out, in British India also there have been such occasions. But that is no reason why we should fight against the principle of admitting the outsider altogether.

I do not think, Sir that this amendment is necessary, especially in view of the recommendation of the Royal Commission on Labour. They said that their recommendations must be put into effect only three years after the publication of the report; because, they thought that the law then in force had not been tried sufficiently long. Three years have now gone; yet the Trade Union law there, has not been changed. Here, we have gone a step in advance in restricting the percentage of outsiders to one-third.

Apart from that, I think the amendment is innocuous. It is not of any great use either to the employer or to the employee. I think we ought to keep in conformity with the legislation in British India as far as possible, and therefore hope that the proportion suggested by the Royal Commission will be accepted by my friend, the representative of the employers as well.

I do not think it is necessary to answer the point raised by Mr. Kuriakose.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): What does the member mean by 'outsider'? Does he refer to persons outside the movement, or persons who do not belong to Travancore?

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon 1): The word 'outsider' has got a meaning when you use it in connection with this matter; it refers to those who are not connected with any industry or labour organisation.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Trevala): I support the amendment. In the first place I do not understand why this amendment must be so seriously objected to, while after all the difference between two-thirds, as provided in the Clause as it is, and three-fourths, as suggested by the amendment, is only one-twelfth. I was wondering why there must be so much debate on this small difference when everybody is agreed as to the principle involved in the matter.

As far as I have been able to follow the debate, the arguments for the objection have been hung mainly on the report of the Royal Commission, in respect of the proportion that they have suggested. It has also been suggested that, in Travancore, labour organisation is in its infancy. To my mind, Sir, this question involves two principles, one is whether it is in the interests of labour that outside element is admitted, and the other is whether labour should be given the choice in the matter.

In regard to the first, it has been argued that because labour was in its infancy here, outside element must be admitted in order to guide labour in the country. If that is all that is wanted, why not be satisfied with half-a-dozen leaders? All that the movement needs, I suppose, are five or six selfless workers who are really interested in the movement. Therefore, I do not see why there should be more than ten per cent. in any event. In our schools, Sir, we provide only one teacher for every 45 pupils. Therefore, certainly, we should be satisfied with one leader, one guide, for every ten labourers. Why should there be this two-thirds provided for in the Clause as it is, or even the three-fourths as suggested by the amendment? After all, Sir, we have not got much of labour organisations in Travancore. We have it only in a few towns like Alleppey and Quilon. It is therefore quite enough if we have a leader or two for each one of these places. Only we should have really selfless and patriotic men, other than some of those busy-bodies who unnecessarily poke themselves into these organisations for objects of their own and create mischief and unrest among labour. In British India labour organisations cover a very wide field of activity so much so that it may be possible to cover them by more number of officers than here. As a matter of fact, we do not find such patriotic men coming forward for this kind of work, to help and guide labour.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): Does the member realise that the provision now under discussion relates to the proportion among the officers of those organisations and not among the general members of such organisations?

MR. M. SIVATHANU PILLAI (Tovata): Yes. Officers must be few. What is the meaning in multiplying the number of officers? As it has been already pointed out, labour in Travancore is not only literate but also highly educated. Our labourers are able to differentiate between what is good for them and what is bad. It is therefore better that we restrict the proportion of outside element as much as possible. With these words, I strongly support the amendment.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Having heard both sides of the question, I am inclined to accept the amendment. The outsider seems to be viewed with some kind of suspicion by the employer interests. The employer does seem to be a bit ticklish about the outsider coming in. I may say that the presence of the outsider is necessary for guidance, inspiration and enlightenment. Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai, who, we all know, interests himself much about labour conditions in Travancore, just now said that at present there was not even 2 per cent. of outsider element in the labour organisations. We have also heard him say that Travancore labour is more educated than elsewhere. He also added that there was nothing objectionable in the principle involved in the amendment. In the light of these facts, since the employer seems to look at the outsider with some suspicion, I am rather inclined to accept the amendment. The outsider is needed, as I said, for inspiration, enlightenment and initiative only. But the effective judgment must always be with the insider. If the House is agreeable to that, I hope the amendment may be accepted.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and carried.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I beg to move the following amendment:—

"In line 3, for the word 'industry' substitute the word 'business'"

It seems to me, Sir, that it would be more correct and uniform to put the word 'business' instead of 'industry'. Hence the amendment.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Tricandrum—Kural): The word 'industry' occurs in Clause 6 (c). That has not been changed. Why this change here alone?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): We are here dealing with "outsider" and "insider". I thought it would be more in conformity with the definition of "Trade Union" if we put "business" instead of "industry" here. I leave it entirely to the House.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and carried.

Clause 21, as amended, was then put to vote and carried.

The Clause as amended was added to the Bill.

Clauses 22 to 29.

The question that Clauses 22 to 29 do stand part of the Bill was then put to vote and carried.

The Clauses were added to the Bill.

Clause 30.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I beg to move the following amendment:

"For sub-clause (1) substitute the following, namely:—

30 (1) Whoever forms any Trade Union in contravention of the provisions of Section 14, sub-section (2), or takes any part in the functions of any Trade Union so formed knowing or having reason to believe that it has been so formed shall for every such act be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees."

This amendment does not seek to carry out anything more than what is already contained in sub-clause (1). I must say, Sir, that I am thankful to the House for their criticism of this Clause when debating on another point. Those criticisms led me to study this Clause more carefully and it seems to me that this amended provision would be better.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and carried.

The question that Clause 30, as amended, do stand part of the Bill was then put to vote and carried.

The Clause as amended was added to the Bill.

Clauses 31 and 32.

The question that Clauses 31 and 32 do stand part of the Bill, was then put to vote and carried.

The Clauses were added to the Bill.

Preamble.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I beg to move that —

The word 'compel' be substituted for the words 'provide for' in line 1 of the Preamble.

I submit, Sir, that the word 'compel' will more correctly express the idea of the provisions of the Bill than the words 'provide for'. The Preamble ought to state clearly and unambiguously what the purpose of the Bill is. That is all the object of my amendment.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): I second the amendment.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I oppose the amendment, Sir. If the Bill had contained only Clause 14 (2), I could have very well understood my friend's amendment and I would have thanked him for it, and accepted it. But the Bill contains thirty-two Clauses which do much more than compel, as my friend would put it. I am quite sure that Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai has nothing in his mind against the ruling of the Chair, which ruled that the expression "provide" in the Preamble would cover "compel".

I may however add, Sir, that the expression 'provide for' is more comprehensive and more correct. It includes compulsion also.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, there is no use in trying to confuse the issues. This Bill is intended to provide for the compulsion of every Trade Union to get itself registered. There is no use in saying that there are other provisions also in the Bill. If the Bill contains other provisions there are also other portions of the Preamble which relate to such provisions of the Bill. I now seek to amend only that portion of the Preamble which relates to the provisions regarding the registration of Trade Unions. And, such a provision in the Bill is nothing but compulsion. Therefore it is I say that the Preamble would be giving an accurate idea of the provision in the Bill only if we substitute the word 'compel' for the words 'provide for'.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Is the member in order, Sir, in making this speech now?

PRESIDENT He was in order in moving the amendment; and I have given him the right to reply.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I do not for a moment deny that the words 'provide for' include compulsion also. But what is the harm in putting the most accurate expression? Why should you fight shy of it? You are providing a penalty for an association functioning without registration. You are therefore compelling every association to get itself registered. Why not the Preamble also make that clear. Why should you feel funky about it? There is no such thing as my questioning the ruling of the Chair. Absolutely nothing of the kind. The Law Member must not fight shy of indicating clearly and definitely what has been done. The Government and the Law Member must take upon themselves the responsibility for what has been done, and must not hesitate to use the most accurate expression in the Preamble.

PRESIDENT: I think the honourable member means thereby that the House must not fight shy of it.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Yes, Sir, and the Law Member also should not induce the House to fight shy of putting the proper word in the Preamble. They must make bold to accept the conclusion to which they have committed themselves. They must have the courage of their convictions and if they have it, the proper word for putting in the Preamble to this Bill is "compel" instead of "provide for." I am also helping the labourers by putting that word, because they will easily know what this Bill is.

PRESIDENT: Moved and seconded that the word "compel" be substituted for "provide for" in line 1 in the Preamble of the Trade Unions Bill.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and lost.

The question that the Preamble do stand part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The Preamble was added to the Bill.

TITLE.

The Title was put to vote and carried.

The Title was added to the Bill.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I have some amendments to move in the third reading of the Bill. With the permission of the House and the Chair I beg to move that the third reading of the Bill be taken up now.

PRESIDENT: If the sense of the House is that the third reading could be proceeded with now, the Law Member may move the motion.

(The House agreed.)

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I beg to make the following amendment:—

"In Clause 11, sub-clause (3), for the words "recovered as if they had been awarded in an appeal under the said Code", substitute the words "recoverable by any Civil Court directed by the High Court as if they were payable under a decree of such Civil Court".

I move this amendment in order to make clear as to which authority should recover the costs. No definite provision is laid down in the Bill in respect of this matter. In Civil Courts when the original case is tried by the subordinate courts such courts will execute the order of the appellate authority. In this Bill there is no such subordinate court. I should say that I thank Mr. Thanu Pillai for having drawn my attention to this aspect of it. I trust that the House will accept the amendment.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

PRESIDENT: The question before the House is that in Clause 11, sub-clause (3) for the words "recovered as if they had been awarded in an appeal under the said Code", substitute the words "recoverable by any Civil Court directed by the High Court as if they were payable under a decree of such Civil Court."

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and carried.

Mr. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I beg to move that the Bill as amended be passed into law.

Mr. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

PRESIDENT: The motion before the House is that the Bill be passed into law.

Mr. A. S. DAMODARAM ASAN (Member): On a point of order. After the third reading, the Bill, has to pass through another stage so that it may begin its operation? Therefore may I submit that the Bill be passed is the correct procedure to be adopted.

PRESIDENT: Yes.

The motion before the House is that the Bill as amended be passed.

The motion was carried and the Bill was passed.

THE TRAVANCORE LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANIES BILL.

Mr. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I beg to present the report of the Select Committee on the Travancore Life Assurance Companies Bill and beg to move that the Bill as reported be taken into consideration.

Mr. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

The motion was carried.

Clauses 1 to 3.

The question that Clauses 1 to 3 do stand part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The Clauses were added to the Bill.

[At this stage the Deputy President occupied the Chair.]

Clause 4.

Mr. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): I beg to move:—

"In Clause 4, sub-clause (2) line 6, substitute "ten" for "twenty-five". Clause 4 relates to deposit that an Insurance Company has to make, to start with. In the case of Companies that are functioning from the commencement of this Regulation they must make a deposit of Rs. 25,000. This process of depositing must continue till the deposited sum comes to Rs. 2 lakhs. In British India when the Bill was first introduced there was a great protest from the public and the Select Committee found it necessary to reduce Rs. 1 lakh to Rs. 25,000. Sir, in Travancore the conditions are much worse than in British India. In British India there may be a good number of capitalists who may be able to make such big deposits and start the business of life assurance. In Travancore there are very few capitalists and even those few are very shy of beginning such concern. There are small Companies here which will find it difficult to make such a big deposit. Though a Company may be small it may be carrying on its business very well. It may get the confidence of its clients. It is possible that a Company may be doing its business most scientifically even though it is a small Company. Will those small Companies be able to make such a big deposit? I submit they will not. Are such Companies to be closed simply because they happen to be small? I am aware that the security of policy holders is the primary concern of the Life Assurance Companies. Yet I ask whether it is not sufficient that they be asked to make further deposits year by year and thus reach a sum of Rs. 2 lakhs. My only point is that the first, that is, the initial deposit should be reduced to Rs. 10,000. I do not say that its further deposits should be reduced.

We must remember in this connection that Companies registered in British India but which have their branches here have to make no initial deposit here. They will have only to get a declaration. Our small Companies will have to compete with the big British Indian Companies.

MR. S. CHATTANATHA KARAYALAR (Sheikotta): Are there foreign Companies that are registered in Travancore apart from the branches of them?

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): I am sorry, I did not hear the honourable member.

The only question is whether initial deposits to be made by our Companies should be Rs. 25,000 or Rs. 10,000. I do not want to make a further reduction in their deposits. My point is that their initial deposits should be Rs. 10,000, but further deposits may be as is provided for in the Clause, till the amount is Rs. 2 lakhs.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I second it.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I oppose the amendment. Mr. Sivaraman Nair has already pointed out that the provision in the British Indian Act which lays down that the Companies should deposit a sum of Rs. 25,000. His plea is that, in Travancore, these Companies should be allowed to start on a reduced amount as initial deposit. I entirely disagree. The Life Assurance Companies must be more solvent than any other Companies because they have to deal with men's affairs after they are dead and gone. It is the bounden duty of the Legislature to see that Life Assurance Companies are placed on a very solvent condition from the very start. If a Company is registered in Travancore it may not have sufficient scope in Travancore for its proper working. It has to go to British India and elsewhere and work there. In that case if the British Indian people come to know that the initial deposit of those Companies is smaller in Travancore, they may think that the Company is not in such a solvent condition as the Companies of British India.

[Mr. Kayalam Paramasvaran Pillai.]

British Government may not also recognise the Travancore Companies as fit to work in British India. For this reason also we have to follow the same rule as in British India.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The question before the House is that in Clause 4, sub-clause 1, line 6, substitute "ten" for "twenty-five".

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and lost.

The question that Clause 4 stand part of the Bill, was put to vote and carried.

The Clause was added to the Bill.

Clause 5.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): I move the following amendment:—

"In Clause 5 before the explanation insert the following:

The Life Assurance Fund of every Life Assurance Company shall be invested in Government securities as defined by Travancore Government Securities Regulation, III of 1929 or in such other securities as notified in Our Government Gazette."

Section 5 relates to the separation of the life fund. When Life Assurance Companies are also transacting other business than life assurance they are to have a separate fund called the life fund. My amendment says that such life fund must be invested in Travancore Government securities or such other securities so notified in the Travancore Government Gazette.

The Law Member stated when he opposed my previous amendment that the security of the policy holder is the primary concern of the Life Assurance Companies. I concede that. That is why I have proposed this amendment. In British India when this Section was incorporated in the Bill there was a great difference of opinion about this. In the Select Committee there was a minute of dissent. Some members of the Committee held that there must be greater security in India than elsewhere for the policy holders. The minute of dissent reads thus:

"We are of opinion that in view of the circumstances of this country, it is not desirable that Insurance Companies should have unrestricted freedom in the matter of investment of funds. The protection of the interests of the policy holders is of paramount importance, and in our opinion, as in that of several local Governments and qualified persons, the Bill does not provide adequate safeguard for this purpose. We consider it necessary that the law should expressly lay down that the greater portion of Insurance Fund should be invested in one or more of the securities specified in S. of 20 of the Indian Trusts Act."

Sir, when the British Indian Bill of 1912 was circulated to the different Provincial Governments, most of them expressed the opinion that the security of the policy holder in India required greater protection than elsewhere. All the chambers of commerce in British India were also of the same opinion. They all were of opinion that some sort of restriction should be made in the investment of funds.

Under the Section we find an unrestricted right of the management to invest their funds in any manner they choose. They may invest it in commerce or any other speculative concern. The question is whether we should allow that.

The money invested in a Life Assurance Company is in the nature of trust money. The Company holds that money in trust for the policyholders or their nominees to be paid to them whenever the contingency insured against occurs. It will be a poor consolation to him then to say that the money is invested in trade or some such concern. There must be ready money. It is safer to make a provision restricting the power of investing this trust money in whatever concern they choose.

To me it appears that simple and uninformed as the bulk of the assured are, it is the duty of the Government to see that they are not made the dupes of speculators and cheats. It may be said with great force that under the peculiar circumstances in this country the Assurance Fund should not be invested in any except undoubtedly good and safe securities. We are aware that assurance business and insurance are exotic in Travancore and over and above the ignorance which prevails among the masses, there is even amongst the educated class a total lack of knowledge on the subject. Hence the greater need of investment of life funds in only safe securities.

Publicity will not be of much use to the ignorant policyholder. The Government—slow as we know its movements are—may step in but it may be after the mischief has been done.

To me it appears, Sir, that the policy-holders in Travancore require greater protection than in British India or in England. Hence my amendment.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): I second the amendment. In doing so I beg to submit that the Life Insurance Act is now being reconsidered by the British Indian Government. The present Bill is drawn up on the lines of the British Indian Act which will soon be amended. Sub-clause (d) of Clause 40 of the Bill is a new Clause introduced by the Select Committee. It says:—

"provided that any portion of the investments of any Life Assurance Company carrying on business within Travancore shall be in such securities as may be notified by Our Government in that behalf in Our Government Gazette."

This provision to some extent provides for the amendment now proposed. No doubt the amendment now proposed is more extensive in its scope. From what I read about the new changes proposed to be brought about in the British Indian Act, I find that it is something like the one contained in this amendment.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I oppose this amendment. Mr. Krishna Pillai rightly pointed to an important provision made by the Select Committee which may be availed of to compel that portions of the investments of a Life Insurance Company shall be in Travancore. To that extent I agree with the sentiments expressed both by the mover and seconder of the amendment. But I cannot accept the amendment. The amendment is—

"The whole of the Life Assurance Fund of Travancore Companies should be invested in Travancore and the Companies having head office outside Travancore but carrying on business in Travancore should invest in Travancore from their Life Fund not less than the share of their business in Travancore."

[Mr. Kayalam Paramesvaran Pillai.]

If the whole thing is inserted thus, wherefrom money is to come when an insured man dies. Money must be available for paying the claims. If not the fundamental object of Life Insurance will be defeated. For that simple reason this amendment cannot be accepted.

Apart from that objection to this amendment, we can, no doubt, agree that the investment of such funds as are available, must be in certain specified securities. But to say that it must be in Travancore may be objectionable as well as impracticable. If we make such an enactment there may be retaliation from other quarters. Moreover there will not be people for investment from outside Travancore. There is no guarantee of Travancore securities being available. Therefore it is best to make a provision to give power to the Government to frame appropriate rules.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): I do not press the motion. The motion by leave was withdrawn.

The question that Clause 5 stand part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The Clause was added to the Bill.

Clauses 6 to 41.

The question that Clauses 6 to 41 stand part of the Bill was then put to vote and carried.

Title.

The question that the Title do stand the Bill was put to vote and carried.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): As no amendment has been carried, I beg to move that the Bill be passed.

The motion was put to vote and carried.

The Bill was passed.

THE TRAVANCORE CIVIL COURTS' POWERS (AMENDMENT) BILL.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I beg to move that the Travancore Civil Courts' Powers (Amendment) Bill be continued.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAM (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I oppose it.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): This motion is made under the proviso to Standing Order 4. It reads thus:—

"Provided that, if the member in charge of a Bill makes no motion in regard to the same during two complete sessions, the Bill shall lapse, unless the Assembly, on a motion by that member, in any future session of the same assembly, makes a special order for the continuance of the Bill."

Sir, I am bound to explain to the House why this Bill was not proceeded with till now. The Bill was introduced in 1933 and was referred to a Select Committee on 21-11-1933. The Select Committee reported on 15-11-1934. The report of the Select Committee was presented to this House on 24th January 1935, that is immediately after the submission of the report. On that occasion the report was merely presented and no further motion was made. That was not the usual procedure regarding Bills. Ordinarily, when the report is presented, a motion is made that the Bill as reported may be taken into consideration by the House. In this case, it was not done. The reason was this. The Bill was based on certain recommendations of the Law's Delays Commissioner, which recommendations were sought to be implemented by the Bill. These recommendations had also the approval of the High Court. On the strength of all this, the Bill was introduced, and was in the usual course referred to a Select Committee. The Select Committee, as may be seen from their report, practically turned down all the provisions. The Committee upheld only one provision which was not very useful and they deleted all the rest. And thus the very purpose of the Bill was defeated. In these circumstances, the question was what course I should adopt. Even though the Bill was rejected by the Select Committee I might have moved amendments for the consideration of this House. But having regard to the fact that the Bill originated immediately from the High Court, Government had to consult the High Court again. This took time. There was one particular reason why the High Court had to be consulted.

The report of the Select Committee says in paragraph 2:

"Having regard to the intimate bearing of these provisions on the working of the Courts and the repercussions that these provisions, if accepted, may have on the administration of justice in the State, the Committee issued an invitation under Standing Order No. 35 (4) to Mr. Joseph Taliath, Chief Justice, requesting the presence of either himself or any of his brother judges at the sittings of the Committee so that the Committee may be in a position to elicit material facts and views touching the proposed provisions, the working of the Courts in these directions at present and the effect of the provisions or any modification of the provision, if accepted, on the work of the Courts and, in short, to tell the Committee the Judiciary's view on these matters. The Law Member was able, no doubt, to supply the Committee with the Government's views and he represented the Judicial Department's view too, as known to him. But the Committee thought that before they can take the responsibility of recommending the acceptance of the provisions of the Bill, it was their duty to ascertain the view of gentlemen occupying the highest grade in the Judiciary. The Judges of the High Court, however, did not respond to the invitation. The Committee had not, in the circumstances, the benefit of their views".

Thus it will be seen that the Committee felt that the views of the High Court were denied to them. Naturally therefore I felt it to be my duty to place if possible before this House the views of the High Court. On being consulted Mr. Joseph Taliath sent at first a memorandum to Government expressing his views, printed copies of which have been circulated. Subsequently the High Court as a body considered the matter and sent a memorandum which also has been printed and copies circulated to members of the House. The defect which may be said to have operated in respect of the progress of the Bill is thus sought to be rectified by the supply of the considered views of the High Court. It will be seen that the most serious objection raised was in regard to the enhancement of the small cause jurisdiction of Munsiffs. On this the High Court has said they are not very particular in changing the existing provision. Thus the High Court has met the Committee half way in this matter and this will be taken to be a substantial gain by all those who opposed the Bill. They have also agreed that appeals against some decisions of Munsiff's Courts may lie to the High Court. The opponents of the Bill have gained two points at any rate, and the delay has not been fruitless and is therefore excusable. It is reasonable therefore for the House to allow the continuance of the Bill.

PRESIDENT: Moved and seconded under Standing Order 4 that special orders for the continuance of the Bill be given.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): I oppose this motion, Sir, and I move that the Bill be recommitted to the Select Committee.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Padi): It is quite open to the member to make this motion, but it must come after the Bill is ordered to be continued.

MR. POTTAYIL S. KRISHNA PANICKAR (Shertala II): Sir I oppose the motion. In opposing I may say a few words. The Law's Delays Commissioner was appointed by Government by the order of 3rd April 1930 and the Commissioner submitted his report on 30th Tulam 1107 basing his observation on the figures then available. Soon after the report was submitted by the Law's Delays Commissioner both the High Court and the Government examined the proposals contained therein and a Bill was drafted and published in the Government Gazette and was introduced into this House for consideration. The principle underlying the Bill was that some method should be adopted to obviate the delay in disposing of cases, and accepting that principle, the Bill was introduced in the Assembly and was referred to a Select Committee. The Select Committee turned down all the proposals contained in the Bill except one, i. e., that the pecuniary jurisdiction of the lower courts should be raised to Rs. 2,500. Sir, most of the proposals contained in the Bill were mentioned in the recommendation of the Law's Delays Commissioner. Those provisions if enacted would only be conducive to reduce the number of cases of appeals which come to the High Court. Sir, after the Select Committee had submitted this report in the year 1934 the conditions then prevailing have altered considerably and were different from the conditions that prevail now. In order to obviate the delay in the disposal of cases in the High Court, Government have appointed two more Judges in the High Court. Sir, as I have already submitted, the statistics collected by the Commissioner were of cases pending during the years from 1100 to 1106. Sir, the reason why such a great number of appeals and suits were pending in the High Court and the courts subordinate thereto was that immediately after the passing of the Nair, Ezhava and Vellala Regulations many suits for partition were filed, most of which have since been disposed of. The other day we passed a Bill which provided that money suits should be referred to Conciliation Boards: not only suits but execution of decrees as well. So it is not at all likely, Sir, that more suits would be coming in hereafter in the various grades of courts in the land. It is not at all likely that there will be a rush in the courts. Sir, to me at any rate it is obvious that for a solution of this problem a little more care should be bestowed on the choice of persons to preside over these courts. Now at any rate it is not the opportune moment for us to consider a Bill which has been turned down by the Select Committee and as such I oppose the motion.

PRESIDENT: It has been moved by the Law Member and duly seconded.

The motion was put to vote and carried.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I beg now to move that the Bill as reported by the Select Committee be taken into consideration.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

The House adjourned for lunch at 1 p. m. and met again at 2 p. m., with the President in the chair.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): Sir I rise to move that this Bill be re-committed to the Select Committee, be sent back to that same Committee for a fuller consideration of the various facts and figures. The Law Member explained the unfavourable circumstances under which the Select Committee was obliged to work. I wish to add one fact to what he has stated. The ground on which the Honourable High Court raised their objections was that they did not think it was proper for them to have any share in the actual work of legislation. We find that with regard to the Agricultural Debtors' Bill and also with regard to this Bill, the opinion of the High

[Sadasya Tilaka T. K. Velu Pillai.]

Court had been asked. They were called upon to express their opinion with regard to these two Bills and the High Court did give their opinion.

The mistake that the High court committed in this case was a fundamental one. The Committee thought that the presence of the learned Chief Justice or one learned Judge of the High Court was necessary because, for a very long time there had been an impression in this House that the Judiciary was not doing their work properly. It was thought that if the right type of men were appointed, the higher Judiciary may do more work. I refer to a sentence or two in the speech of Mr. P. K. Narayana Pillai, a member of this House. He said in August 1933, that the causes which had been dealt with by the Law's Delays Commission seemed to call for further consideration as regards the personnel of the court and the efficiency of the Bar and the bench. He also said that the inspection of the courts was only a routine inspection of the registers preserved in the courts. The Administration Report (Proceedings, dated the 17th February 1933,) records that the "Government are constrained to observe that the work of the Munsiffs has been deteriorating and they look to the High Court to take the necessary action with a view to improve the situation". It is again recorded that "Government also regret that they were not able to record satisfaction of the work of District and Session Judges," and Mr. Pattom Thannu Pillai asked, "are not the Government convinced that the High Court feel that they are not in a position to improve the situation. He observed that Government ought to take action on the report of the the Law's Delays Commissioner and the recommendation of the High Court relating thereto.

Statements like these were made elsewhere as well. I do not want to detail them. Considering the volume of feeling and opinion on this matter the Select Committee, which was appointed by this House to consider this question, thought that, if there was an exchange of views, it was possible to understand what the arguments of the High Court were on each of these questions. The High Court are the body most interested in the proper administration of justice. The Bill seems to have secured their approval, so that it was for them to facilitate the work of the Select Committee. I submit, Sir, that this was not done and the Select Committee was therefore obliged to consider the Bill without the valuable information which could have been given by the High Court. The High Court, no doubt, deputed the Registrar. Sir, the Registrar could only bring figures and possibly certain definite views expressed by the Judges. The expressed opinion of the Judges would probably undergo a revision when the Select Committee put their point of view to them. The difficulty arose because the High Court would not help us.

There was a Memorandum prepared by the High Court Vakils' Association, the premier association of its kind in Travancore. They expressed themselves clearly against most of the provisions of the Bill and they gave elaborate reasons so that the best thing to test the accuracy, the correctness of these opinions would have been to put points to the High Court Judges and to get explanations, amplifications and corrections on them. If that was done the Select Committee would have been able to do its duties properly. I give one or two examples. I may mention that the enhancement of small cause jurisdiction of the Munsiffs was a debatable point. The Law's Delays Commissioner admitted that there was a large volume of opinion against it. The Vakils' Memorandum examined the figures and said that the small cause jurisdiction of the Munsiffs should not be enhanced. They also quoted a dictum from a judgement of Mr. Justice Teliath that the "the power of revision of the High Court was quite inadequate to combat the danger of summary power arbitrarily exercised by the Munsiffs". With regard to the jurisdiction over the original suits, the Vakils' Memorandum pointed out that only 282 suits of the value of over 2,000 rupees were filed every year, of which only 60 were over Rs. 5,000. Considering the circumstances that the number of original suits above a certain value was so small, the Memorandum said that ordinarily a District Judge or an additional Judge would get only two cases a month. Considering the importance of the body which gave this information and considering also the strong opinion expressed in various platforms and in this House, we thought that if there was any strong point in the suggestions made by the High Court, we should consider them carefully.

I also wish to mention in this connection that the Select Committee was not able to record proper findings and to make a proper report, so that, this House has been deprived of the benefit which the Select Committee could have given if facilities were offered. Now, we find that the Select Committee's opinion was forwarded to the High Court, and in the opening sentence of the Memorandum the High Court say that the Select Committee turned down some of the Clauses of this Bill. Why did the Select Committee turn down the Clauses? Because the Judges would not come and give us their views. There is no Legislature in any part of the world where instead of the Select Committee, the opinion of the High Court is adopted. The High Court considered the report of the Law's Delays Commissioner. A Bill was drafted accordingly and introduced into this House by the Law Member. The High Court are now furnishing further directions for the Law Member to follow.

Making the law, is the business of this House and of the Select Committee which it appoints. The business of the High Court is to interpret the law and to decide cases. I subscribe to the view that there must be judicial independence. But that is in regard to the decision of cases. If this House wants to interfere with the action of the judiciary in the control and disposal of cases, I certainly think the High Court must allow that.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): May I know whether there is any instance in which a Judge of the High Court has been asked to appear before the Select Committee?

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban):
Where? In Travancore?

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): In Travancore.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): Sir, precedents there cannot be in this, because for years and years together the Chief Justice of the High Court was an honourable member of the Legislative Council. The question of comparative prestige does not arise. Afterwards there were not many legislative enactments in which we had to seek the opinion of the High Court as in the case of this Bill. I may point out to Mr. Ulloor that in the House of Lords there was a debate touching this matter. Two years ago, in December 1934, the point arose in the House of Lords between the Lord Chancellor and the Lord Chief Justice. It is interesting to note that Lord Hewart, that champion of judicial independence, did not question the right of the Lords to interest themselves in the working of the courts. His objections to the Supreme Court Amendment Bill was that the Lord Chancellor moved the second reading of the Bill without showing him the draft. Here, Sir, such a complaint cannot be levelled against the Legislature. The Select Committee desired to consult the High Court and invited the Judges. But the Judges refused to come and give their opinions. They declined the chances of an open dignified discussion. The High Court are the party most interested in working down the arrears, but they would not afford the necessary facilities for testing the correctness of their recommendations. The learned Lord Chief Justice did not refuse to represent his views. On the other hand his complaint was that it was done behind his back. It was laid down that while the Legislature cannot interfere in the actual decision of cases, the procedure of courts, the way in which the business of the court is conducted, is a matter which comes within the right of every Legislature. This House might very well remember that year after year, at the time of the budget discussion, we have been giving suggestions for the proper conduct of the Judicial Department including the High Court and the High Court were taking our suggestions into consideration. In this case it is not a question of a Judge appearing before the Select Committee as though he was a witness in the technical sense. The Select Committee desired to obtain the views of the High Court in order to discharge its duties efficiently. The High Court would not respond. Now, the House will realise what has happened. Instead of the Select Committee considering the views of the High Court, that tribunal has sat in judgment over the decisions of the Select Committee. The process of legislation has been violated so that if this House proceeds further with this Bill, it would mean that instead of the Select Committee's Report the High Court's recommendations have to be depended upon. So far as the general business of the Court is concerned, I have already stated that we have a right to interfere. The Government are above the High Court in the administrative capacity and they will have to issue a direction to the High Court to help the Select Committee. I submit this respectfully for the consideration of the House. If this is the case no Select Committee would be able to do any work. To-morrow the Select Committee may invite the Darbar Physician or the Chief Engineer. Those officers may follow the example of the High Court. The Superintendent of Archaeology and the Anechal Superintendent will follow suit. Rule 35, Clause 4, says distinctly that the Select Committee may call persons before it and ascertain their views to see that laws are properly passed after understanding all the facts. No exemption is made in the case of any officer and no exemption exists in the case of the Judges of the High Court. It is quite wrong on the part of any officer to refuse to come.

MR N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): May I know whether the High Court have sent a reply?

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): Yes. The Ag. Chief Justice replied to the effect that they should have nothing to do with matters of legislation.

But, Sir, the High Court were prepared to express their views on the Agricultural Relief Bill and other measures, before this House. It is the Memorandum which they have sent to Government on the Civil Courts Bill, which had been printed and circulated by Government among the members of this House. It is that Memorandum which this House is asked to consider. I maintain, Sir, that in these circumstances, the ground alleged by the learned Ag. Chief Justice for refusing to comply with the Select Committee's invitation, is clearly unsustainable.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilankod): Is it not a contempt of the privileges of this House?

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): If I were in England and if I were speaking in the House of Commons, I should have immediately answered that it was a contempt; but, here though the rule is enacted there is no sanction attached to it. I considered whether any action could be taken under the Criminal Law, when persons refuse to attend the meeting of the Select Committee to which they were asked to come. But there are difficult questions connected with it, as for example, whether a letter sent by the Chairman of the Select Committee desiring the attendance of an officer amounts to the act of a public servant.

PRESIDENT The House is not considering the sanction imposed on the High Court.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): I shall drop that line of argument. I may submit for the consideration of the House that in order to see that work is done properly, in order to give proper facilities to the Select Committee to do its work, the learned Ag. Chief Justice or any other Judge of the High Court could have given suggestions, which could have been examined by the Select Committee. But, the Committee was denied the chance of doing that.

I object to the procedure now proposed to be followed by the House.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): When the Honourable High Court replied that they would not send one of the Honourable Judges of the High Court, did the President of the Select Committee report the matter to the Dewan?

MR. SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): I did not, because I did not want to drag the Dewan in this matter, especially since I knew that it would come up before this House.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): Was it brought to the notice of the President of the Assembly?

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): I do not know whether I shall be justified in disclosing what happened as a consequence of the reply of the High Court.

PRESIDENT: It is for the honourable member to regulate his own method of debate.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): Therefore, for the protection of the rights of this House, I suggest that this Bill may be sent back to the Select Committee so that the views of the High Court may be once more examined. With these words I move that the Bill be recommitted.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): Is there any guarantee that, if the Bill was recommitted, the High Court Judges would attend the Select Committee?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedunagard): I second the motion made by the honourable member Mr. T. K. Velu Pillai. Sir, when the Select Committee sent up an invitation to the Chief Justice of the High Court, and requested him to be present at the Select Committee meeting and to help the Committee with his suggestions and views on this Bill, or at least to send one of his colleagues to the meeting, he was not good enough, kind enough, courteous enough, to accede to our request, while, as a matter of fact, under Standing Order No. 35(4), we were entitled to have their assistance. Meanwhile, at the instance of their Honours the Judges of the High Court, their views on this Bill have been printed in the shape of a Memorandum and circulated to the members of this House. If their Honours, as they have stated in their reply to our invitation, really thought that they have nothing to do with the Legislature, I do not see why they should have thought it fit or necessary to give us this Memorandum.

Sir, they say in the first paragraph of their Memorandum—

“.....the unsatisfactory condition of the pendency of cases will continue and will become more acute in course of time. The only other alternative is for the Government to appoint more officers to the various grades of Courts.”

Even if we appoint one Munsiff for each pakuthi and a District Judge for each taluk, even if we go on multiplying the number of Judges in the High Court, the question of law's delays will not be solved in this State unless the fundamental mistake in the matter of recruitment to the judiciary is rectified. Sir, judicial officers must never be recruited on the principle of communal representation. Having adopted the principle of communal representation in the matter of recruitment in the judiciary, the merit, ability and efficiency of the judiciary have considerably deteriorated in recent times. It is high time that communal considerations are done away with in the matter of recruitments of judicial officers in the State. With these words, I support the motion for the recommitment of the Bill to the former Select Committee.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Sir, I also oppose the motion, and I do so for some weighty reasons. First of all, Mr. Vela Pillai did not answer the question put to him by Mr. Thann Pillai. Mr. Thann Pillai asked whether there was any guarantee that, if the Bill was re-committed, the Chief Justice or any of the other Judges of the High Court would attend the meeting of the Select Committee. That is a question on which none of us can give a definite assurance. Therefore, no useful purpose would be served by our recommitting the Bill to the Select Committee.

Secondly, when the High Court refused to accede to the invitation extended to them by the Select Committee, the President of the Select Committee should have addressed the Government on the matter. That has not been done. In that respect, they have failed in their duty. They have not done all that they could have done in the matter. We could have known whether after all it would be possible to get a Judge of the High Court to sit at the Select Committee.

PRESIDENT: It is nobody's case that the Judges of the High Court were asked to sit with the members of the Select Committee.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Further, the honourable High Court has furnished us with a memorandum on the Civil Courts Powers Bill. Their views we have in that memorandum. There is therefore no need now to examine any of the Judges of the High Court on the matter. The House can deal with the Bill straightway.

With these words, I oppose the motion.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, the views of the High Court have been printed and circulated to the members of this House. If the House really thinks that any useful purpose would be served by the Bill being re-committed, I have no objection whatsoever. But I must make it absolutely clear that I do not agree with certain observations made by some of the honourable members in support of the proposal. That apart, if the House thinks that any useful purpose would be served by the Bill being re-committed, certainly Government have no objection.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): I oppose this motion. So far as I have been able to understand, my friend Mr. Vela Pillai has made this motion in the hope that it would be possible for the Select Committee to get the Chief Justice or one of other Judges of the High Court to attend the meeting of the Select Committee when this Bill is discussed there. I do not think that would be possible at all, especially since we have been given copies of the Memorandum of the High Court on this Bill. Now, having gone through the Memorandum, I fail to see what purpose would be served by the Select Committee discussing this Memorandum in the presence of a Judge of the

[Mr. A. Thanu Pillai.]

High Court. This Memorandum has been in our hands, and everyone of us must have read it. For my part, I do not think any useful purpose would be served by the Bill being recommitted.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (No. 10 minutes): I also rise to oppose the motion. It was argued that one of the Judges of the High Court should be present at the meeting of the Select Committee when this Bill is being considered. Even assuming, for argument's sake, that one of the Judges of the High Court will be present at a future sitting of the Select Committee, and that it will be possible for the Select Committee to persuade that Judge to change his views on the Bill, where is the guarantee that the other Judges of the High Court will also change their views accordingly? Therefore, absolutely no purpose will thus be served by one of the Judges attending any meeting of the Select Committee.

Further, all that the High Court have to say on this Bill is now before us in this Memorandum, and we have simply to proceed with the consideration of the various provisions of the Bill, together with the views of the High Court expressed in their Memorandum.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankudi): Sir, I rise to oppose the motion for the recommitment of the Bill, but I do it with some reservations. It will be seen, from the original Bill as compared or contrasted with the Bill as it has emerged from the Select Committee, that the parties concerned—whoever they may be—I am not casting any reflection on any particular individual—have lost their temper at one stage or another. It is stated that a request was made to the High Court that one of the Judges should be pleased to attend the meetings of the Select Committee and give the Committee the benefit of his suggestions and views, and that, somehow or other, that request was turned down, and out of a spirit of mischief, as it were.....

PRESIDENT: Order, order.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankudi): The result is that some of the important provisions that found a place in the original Bill have been left out. The Select Committee have particularly marked out the High Court Judges; that is clear from their Report. Because, one of the objects in bringing a measure like this was to give some relief to the High Court where, during the last many years, arrears have been accumulating. We find that in the Bill as it has been revised by the Select Committee, the provisions intended to give the High Court the much-needed relief, are conspicuously absent. Therefore, it is clear that at some stage or other the parties concerned have lost their temper.

The measure has now been placed before us for our consideration and the Memorandum containing the views of the High Court is also before us. Why should the Bill be recommitted and allowed to hang fire any more? The Memorandum, it is seen, has been published by their Honours, two Chief Justices of the High Court. At page 11 of the Memorandum, it is stated:

"Judged by any test, the position at the present day is one of extreme gravity and urgency."

Sir, the matter being so very urgent it is not at all proper that this House should recommit the Bill for the deliberation of another Select Committee and waste more time over it. Sir, let us forget the past. Let us make the best out of a bad bargain. I would submit that in order to get the benefit of the weighty advice and valuable assistance of the High Court, one of the Judges of the High Court or the Chief Justice, might be co-opted as a member of this House for the consideration of this Bill so that he would give us the advice that we stand in need of. With these observations, I oppose the motion.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): Sir, I also oppose the motion. It might be said that the High Court were not correct in refusing to comply with the requisition of the Select Committee. My opinion is that the High Court had sufficient reasons for not complying with that requisition. The High Court must be above all controversies. The Judges of the High Court are to expound and interpret the laws of the land as passed by this Legislature. If they happen to take part in the proceedings for passing enactments they will not be able to interpret law independently. Therefore I do not think there can be any criticism against the High Court in refusing the requisition of the Select Committee. They have given a Memorandum giving their views. It is open to the members to read that Memorandum and come to a decision.

If the motion for recommittal is passed we shall only revert to the previous position. The High Court are not likely to change their views. But there is urgent necessity for clearing arrears in all the courts. So the sooner we pass this Bill, the better.

MR. P. CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI (Commerce and Industry, South): Sir I oppose the motion for recommittal for the simple reason that we members of the Legislature are experts in the art of legislation, whereas the Judges are merely critics of the laws passed by us. As members of the House, who are lawyers practising in the courts will remember, statutes passed by the Legislature are sometimes criticised by the court as defective. That shows that they are always occupying the position of critics. We are more like doctors; they are merely undertakers.

PRESIDENT: The honourable member may perhaps diagnose the cause.

MR. P. CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI (Commerce and Industry, South): I mean legislation itself. That shows that it is not always an advantage to have Judges sitting with us when we are actually taking up legislation. Not only in India but also in England Judges are always finding fault with the wording of the statutes passed by the Legislatures. If we drag them in here also they will be more destructive critics. Therefore the best thing is to keep them where they are and let us ourselves go on with this business because as I said we are experts in legislation.

PRESIDENT: Before the discussion proceeds further, I think I may mention to the House that according to parliamentary and legislative procedure, there is no objection to a Select Committee requesting the Chief Justice or any Judge to be present at and to help, the Select Committee with their advice and guidance in matters appertaining to legislation. There is no objection to that. Therefore, the discussion need not hereafter range round the question of any privilege on the one side or any refusal on the other side. The debate may be continued on the merits of the motion as apart from these matters. In other words, if the Select Committee of this House or of the other House desires the attendance of the Chief Justice or any Judge for the purpose of helping them or guiding them in the course of their deliberations, there is no objection to the Judges attending.

Does any honourable member wish to address the House? (No member rose in his seat.)

The question that the Travancore Civil Courts Powers (Amendment) Bill be recommitted to the Select Committee was then put to vote and carried.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, before we pass on to the next business I have to make another motion on this Bill. One member of the Select Committee, Mr. P. K. Narayana Pillai, is not able to attend it. I would therefore propose that Mr. Thanu Pillai be added.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Has Mr. Narayana Pillai sent in his resignation or expressed his inability to attend?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): No, he has not. I would make the motion that Mr. Thanu Pillai be added to the Select Committee.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second the motion.

The motion was put to vote and carried.

[At this stage the Deputy President took the Chair].

THE TRAVANCORE IDENTIFICATION OF PRISONERS BILL.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I rise to introduce a Bill to authorise the taking of measurements and photographs of convicts and others entitled "The Travancore Identification of Prisoners Bill" and beg to move that the Bill be read in the Assembly.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second the motion.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I shall now briefly explain the principles of the Bill. The object of this Bill is to provide legal authority for the taking of photographs, finger impressions, foot-prints and measurements of persons convicted of, or arrested in connection with certain offences. The value of the scientific use of finger impressions and photographs as agents in the detection of crimes and the identification of criminals is well-known; and the value, for the same purpose, of all anthropometric measurements has also been recognised. The existing system by which the Police take finger impressions, photographs, etc., of criminals and suspected criminals is void of legal sanction; and it has been brought to the notice of Government that the Police are handicapped thereby. This Bill is accordingly proposed, and it is drawn on the lines of the British Indian statute on the subject.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangudi): Sir, I oppose the motion for the introduction of the Bill. The Bill is mischievous and insulting. It is said that the Bill wants to give legal sanction for the taking of photographs, finger prints and measurements of not only convicted persons but also of persons who have not been convicted, but merely arrested.

Any person and every person is likely to be arrested by the Police for any imaginary crime. When a crime is investigated and found by a court of law that the man is innocent the man will be honourably acquitted. But this Bill gives a free hand to the Police, and very wide powers to them, which they are sure to abuse at any moment.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): What is the harm in giving the Police power to take the measurements of persons and foot prints?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangudi): Taking of measurements of body and of foot prints is really insulting. As a result of this Bill this Legislature is indirectly permitting honourable citizens to be insulted. No man's honour would be safe. As for that matter no man's life would be safe. Suppose an honourable and innocent person is caught by the Police and ordered to lie down for taking foot prints and measurements (Laughter) and he refuses to allow the Police taking such measurements. I am sure the Police will torture him.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): Is it in the man's lying down the question of insult arises?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangudi): Yes.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I think the expression "lie down" may be avoided, because, so far as I have heard I did not hear the Law Member using that expression. Mr. S. J. Nair will cease to say such things because it is irrelevant.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangudi): For the consideration of the House I submit that this Bill gives legal authority for taking photographs, finger impressions, foot prints and measurements of persons etc. How is it possible to take measurements of persons if a Police officer takes it into his head to take the measurements in a particular manner? That is why I suggested any person, any innocent person will be insulted. Therefore I strongly oppose the principle of the Bill being affirmed.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vaki): I can assure my friend Mr. S. J. Nair that he need not entertain any apprehensions in the directions imagined by him. No doubt the measurements of a person may have to be taken even before he is convicted. But that will be done only on justifiable grounds and every measurement so taken will be given back to him if he is not convicted.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumungad): May I know what purpose is served by compelling a person to lie down and take measurements?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): We will get the measurements for being used for evidentiary and other purposes.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The motion before the House is that the general principle of the Bill be affirmed.

The principle was affirmed.

The Secretary to the Sri Mulam Assembly read the title of the Bill as "The Travancore Identification of Prisoners Bill."

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I beg to move that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of—

Messrs.

T. K. Velu Pillai.

V. T. Chacko.

Mahomed Haneef.

A. Thanu Pillai.

K. C. Abraham.

T. T. Kesavan Sastru.

T. Krishna Pillai.

M. K. Janardhana Kammath.

Edavanatt S. Padmanabha Menon.

Antony George.

K. Madhavan.

The Committee is to report within four months.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

The motion was put to vote and carried.

THE TRAVANCORE BAR COUNCIL BILL.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I rise to introduce the Travancore Bar Council Bill and beg to move that the Bill be read in the Assembly.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, this is a Bill in which Mr. S. J. Nair will be interested and I am sure if the principle of the Bill is accepted he will give the benefit of his advice to the Select Committee. One of the proposals of the Law's Delays Commissioner was that a measure on the lines of the Indian Bar Councils Act should be introduced here. He suggested that with a view to convert the members of the legal profession in Travancore into an autonomous body with powers to control and regulate their conduct and to look after the interests of the profession generally the enactment of a law on the lines of the Indian Bar Councils Act would be desirable. The High Court have agreed to the recommendation of the Law's Delays Commissioner. This Bill is accordingly proposed, and it is drawn generally on the lines of the Indian enactment.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, the Bill as it is framed is not at all satisfactory. The Bill ignores the existence of several lawyers, second grade pleaders as well as District Court pleaders who are not advocates of the High Court. According to the report of the Law's Delays Commissioner it is seen that there are in Travancore in all 1,772 lawyers. Of these, 286 are vakils on the rolls of the High Court; 478 are graduates-in-law practising before District Courts; 81 first grade pleaders practising in District Courts; and 927 Munsiff's Court Vakils. This Bill ignores the existence of the rights and privileges of 478 graduates-in-law practising before the District Courts and 81 first grade pleaders practising in District Courts and 927 Munsiff's Court Vakils. This Bill wants to give certain privileges only to 286 Vakils out of a total number of 1,772 vakils in the State. Under the Bar Councils Act of Bombay, the Indian Bar Councils Act of 1926—under Section 15 of the Act there is a provision for giving chances to other vakils who are not advocates to take sannads and set up practice in High Courts. There is no such provision in this Bill. There is no extension of such a privilege here. If this Bill is accepted as it is presented before this House the rights of several vakils would be denied. Only vakils who are in a small minority amongst the lawyers in the State and who are practising in the High Court would be protected. If the Law Member is prepared to make the necessary amendments in the stage of the Select Committee, I would affirm the principle of the Bill.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): I wish to add a few words in support of the motion moved by the Law Member. The principle of the Bill may be affirmed by this House. My only submission is that it may be referred to a Select Committee with the distinct and clear understanding that the Select Committee should be competent to effect any change in the Bill in consideration of all aspects of the question. The Select Committee should be given unfettered discretion to include the pleaders also in the scope and operation of the Bill with regard to their rights and privileges. With this observation I support the principle of the Bill being affirmed.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The question before the House is that the principle of the Bill be affirmed in the light of the observations made.

The motion was put to vote and carried.

The Secretary to the Sri Mulam Assembly then read the title of the Bill as "THE TRAVANCORE BAR COUNCIL BILL."

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I beg to move that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of — Messrs.—

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

The motion was put to vote and carried.

THE TRAVANCORE WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION BILL.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I rise to introduce the Travancore Workmen's Compensation Bill and beg to move that the Bill be read in the Assembly.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, the essential object of this Bill is to provide for the payment, by the employer to his workmen, of compensation for injury by accident arising in the course of the employment. Such accidents, generally speaking, occur in what may be called hazardous occupations. The number of workmen in such occupations, whether in factories or otherwise, is on the increase and is likely to continue to increase. In British India and most other civilized countries there is special legislation for the payment of such compensation. In British India, an Act was passed for the purpose in 1923, namely, the Workmen's Compensation Act. Recently, as a result of inquiry made into labour conditions in India by a Royal Commission, that Act underwent substantial changes by Act XV of 1933. It is considered desirable that a law similar to that now in force in British India should be enacted in Travancore also for workmen's compensation. This Bill is drawn closely on the lines of the enactment in British India.

A workman who sustains injury by accident in the course of his employment has, under the ordinary law, a remedy by civil suit for damages against his employer in the Civil Court. But there are some disadvantages, so far as the workman is concerned, in seeking remedy in this manner. Firstly, he must have money to file his suit; and he will have to seek expert advice for filing the suit which also may cost him money. Again the damages that may be awarded by a Civil Court has to be assessed by the court on an estimate of what the damages would be in the circumstances of each case and in the nature of things such estimate cannot but be conjectural. Over and above all these there are two special disadvantages, so far as the workman is concerned, in seeking a remedy through the Civil Court; and, that consists in two defences which the employer may raise. One is the defence of "common employment" by which an employer can plead that the accident was due to the default of a fellow workman and the other defence is the defence of "assumed risk" by which an employer is not liable for injury caused to workmen through the ordinary risks of employment, and a workman is presumed to have assumed risks which were apparent when he entered upon his occupation. Such defences, which may very well be raised and easily proved by the employer, will leave the workman entirely without any relief.

In the Act in force in British India and in the Bill now proposed, these disadvantages do not exist. The two defences referred to cannot be raised, because Clause 3 of the Bill lays down that if personal injury, whether resulting in death or resulting in disablement, total or partial or permanent or temporary, is caused to a workman by accident arising out of and in the course of his employment, his employer shall be liable to pay compensation in accordance with the provisions of this measure. In regard to the damages or the amount of compensation, it is definitely fixed by the Bill, and scarcely anything is left for conjecture in the matter of determining the amount of compensation. Clauses 4 to 7 of the Bill deal with this amount of compensation. Clauses 4 and 5 read with Schedules I and IV will enable anybody to determine the amount of compensation very easily and definitely. In fact, it is a special feature of this Bill, and of the Indian Act, that extreme precision is aimed at in fixing the scales of compensation awardable. It may be that such attempt at precision may be considered to be creating an extreme rigidity in the law, but none-the-less it proves to be of great advantage to the workman who has to get compensation. The Whitley Commission also has been of this view.

Then, in regard to the machinery by which the compensation has to be fixed and ordered to be given, what is proposed by the Bill, and laid down by the Indian Act, is the appointment of Commissioners by Government; the Commissioner will proceed in a more or less summary manner to determine the questions that may arise between the employer and the employee in this matter. The provisions for the Commissioners, their functions and their procedure are contained in

[Mr. Kayulam Paramesvaran Pillai.]

Clauses 2-4 to 33 of the Bill. If the workman himself will not go to the Civil Court, the jurisdiction of the Civil Court to interfere in the matter of this compensation is entirely barred. See Clause 3 (3) and Clause 22 (2). As the employer himself has no occasion to go to a court, and in any event as the workman can take steps under the proposed measure, the Civil Court is practically out of court and cannot intervene. The decision of the Commissioner will generally be final but in some limited cases involving questions of law, an appeal will lie to the High Court. See Clause 34. The Commissioner will collect the compensation amounts and see to their proper distribution. See Clauses 36 and 8. In regard to the workmen who can claim the benefit of this provision, it is not all workmen who can do so. Those who can are detailed in Clause 2 (1) (a) read with Schedule 2. And in the list of workmen, all workmen employed in what may be called hazardous occupation are included; perhaps, there are also workmen whose occupation may not be considered to be quite so hazardous. However, provision is made in Clause 2 (3) to enable Government to bring other class of workmen within the purview of this measure by a notification. Thus, practically, almost all classes of workmen may be brought in.

We have already introduced certain labour Bills such as the Trade Unions Bill, the Factories Bill, and the Trade Disputes Bill. This is only a company measure by which the workmen can get compensation for injury while in work and the employer also will be freed from a prolonged trouble in a Civil Court. I trust this measure will prove beneficial to both the parties.

MR. M. L. JANARDHANAN PILLAI (Co-opted): Sir, with regard to the Workmen's Compensation Bill ordinarily I should have chosen merely to state that I accept the principles on behalf of the employers. But experience in the past has proved that unless I now make certain points clear, difficulties are likely to arise in the Select Committee stage. Therefore I would request the indulgence of the House to allow me to make a few remarks on certain provisions of this Bill.

As I have often said I have been authorised by both the Chambers of Commerce in which European and Indian interests are represented to make these observations known to this House. In regard to this Bill it is now decided to include in its scope only industrial workers. But casual labour of all kinds is, I believe, excluded from its scope. I am referring to this particular aspect, because it may be known to some of the honourable members that some years back in the Kuttanad area when pumping was in full swing one boiler actually burst killing half a dozen people, and they were employed only for one week at that particular time to attend to the boiler. If nothing had happened they would have returned to the town and they would not have had any further work during that season. So, such casual labour also should be included in the provisions of this Bill so that those benefits may be available to them.

In the inclusion of various diseases some diseases which are particular to some industries on the west coast, particularly such as anthrax, tetanus and hydrophobia are omitted from the list. I think they also ought to be included.

In Clause 3 (1) if personal injury is caused to workmen by accident 'arising out of and in the course of' employment, his employer is compelled to pay compensation. This is a very vague term. The phrase "arising out of and in the course of" may lead to many difficulties subsequently. Therefore this vague term should not be allowed to stand in the Bill.

Under Clause 10 the claims of compensation in case of accidents have to be instituted within six months of the date of the occurrence.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I wish to make it clear to the member that it is not necessary under the law to raise every point in detail which may hereafter have to be raised in the Select Committee. I say so because Mr. Janardhanan Pillai began his speech with a preface. The general principle of the Bill alone is before the House now. So the details may be considered in the Select Committee even though all those details are not placed before the House now.

MR. M. L. JANARDHANAN PILLAI (Co-opted): I am satisfied. I only desire that all these should be discussed in the Select Committee. My only fear is that it may be raised in the Select Committee that the general principles of the Bill were accepted and that no mention was made then in regard to such points.

One thing more I would like to place before the House, and that is a very serious matter. We have no Insurance Companies covering risks under the Workmen's Compensation Scheme. I mean that there are no Insurance Companies registered in Travancore dealing with this class of risk. The position is this. At present there are a number of factories in Travancore and it is likely that a few more may come into existence very shortly. The method used in fixing the insurance premia is to calculate the total wages paid in a factory during one year and charging premia thereon. That means a very large amount will have to be paid by each factory to the Insurance Companies and after all only one or two cases alone might occur. So a large amount of premia which is collected from this source in Travancore are sure to go out of Travancore without any benefit to any company registered in Travancore. Therefore I take this opportunity to request the Government to amend their State Insurance Scheme so as to bring Workmen's Compensation Relief also under its provisions so that large sums may not be lost to Travancore. With these observations I accept the principles of the Bill.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quintan I): I also rise to support the principle of the Bill. I have great pleasure in doing so. I believe the chief object of the Workmen's Compensation Legislation is not merely to give the worker compensation when accidents occur and make it possible for him to realise the compensation from the employer easily. Of course there is that fact and that there is need for that help will be acknowledged by everybody. There are a number of accidents that are occurring in factories and yet in many cases compensation is not paid. I myself had occasion to come across several cases and I have found that the workmen are not willing or able to proceed through the ordinary course of law for getting compensation. Therefore such a protection is necessary, though that may be a very big consideration and a sufficient consideration for the acceptance of the principles of this Bill. I consider there is yet another important factor which not merely affects the labourer but the prosperity of the industry as well and hence the prosperity of the State as a whole. I mean this, Sir. For making industry more attractive and less risky you do want to attract labour especially in a country like India where the labouring classes are not labouring classes permanently. In India labourers go to a factory and they earn sufficient to purchase a small plot of ground and as soon as they have done this they go back to their villages and settle down and take to the profession of agriculture. So what I was saying was, so as to retain a body of skilled labour in a country where industrialisation progresses rapidly it is highly necessary to make the industries attractive, less irksome and less risky. Considering that point of view as well, I have great pleasure in supporting the principles of this measure. As the labour representative pointed out there is not much distinction between hazardous labour and non-hazardous labour for the purpose of giving compensation. Whatever may be the kind of industry in which a worker is engaged, whatever may be the causes of death or permanent loss of limb, the suffering to his family is equal and intense and there is full justification in giving compensation irrespective of the nature or the duty. Sir, that is common ground. But with regard to another point, I find that the Royal Commission on Labour has pointed out certain objections in including all kinds of labour within the scope of this act. Sir, I consider that from a practical point of view. They are real and substantial objections. The Royal Commission says that it will be better to restrict the scope of the Bill that relief should be given to those people to whom it can be substantially and effectively given. The Workmen's Compensation law can be worked effectively, only with the aid of Trade Union Organisation. Sir, only on the working of Trade Unions, the Workmen's Compensation Act can be effectively brought into operation. It is on the organisation of Trade Unions that provisions against danger and the question of compensation can be properly secured on the strength of these Unions. I consider that of all these labour legislations the Trade Union Legislation is the basic legislation of labour. With these observations, I have great pleasure in supporting this Bill.

[Mr. K. Kanjakrishna Pillai.]

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The question before the House is whether the principle of this Bill be affirmed.

The principle of the Bill was affirmed by the House.

The Secretary then read the title of the Bill as "The Travancore Workmen's Compensation Bill."

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I beg to move that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the following persons:—

The Committee is to report within four months.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Does the House agree?

MR. T. T. KESAVAN SASTRI (Nominated): Sir, may I suggest the name of Mr. John Joseph also to be included?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I have no objection.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Mr. John Joseph is also included. Does the House Agree?

Mr. John Joseph was also included as a member to the Select Committee with the consent of the House.

THE TRAVANCORE FOREST REGULATION (AMENDMENT) BILL.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkur Vaki): Sir, I rise to introduce the Travancore Forest Regulation (Amendment) Bill and beg to move that the Bill be read in the Assembly.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkur Vaki): I do not propose to make any long speech. Section 47 A of the existing Regulation empowers a Forest Officer to release an arrested person on his executing a bond for his appearance. But it does not empower the officer to demand any surety for his appearance. It has been found that it is not always safe to release a person on his bond alone; and for empowering a Forest Officer to demand sureties for appearance, this Bill is proposed.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedunangad): Sir I oppose the principle of the Bill. The Bill consists of only one section in the Forest Regulation. At the outset it may appear to be very innocent; but when we look into the question very carefully we can know that if this amendment is carried the Legislature would be doing a great harm to the freedom of the citizens in the State. Sir, offences under the Forest Regulation are only offences against the revenue of the State.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Does the member say that the Forest Regulation is an offence?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedunangad): No, Sir, what I meant was offences under Forest Regulation. Further, the offences under Forest Regulation are all bailable offences. Well, the present Bill, if amended, will bring out an anomaly. Suppose a passenger from Trivandrum to Shencotta travels in a bus; the road passes through an area of Reserved Forest. Some accident takes place for the bus and it is detained in a particular place inside the Reserve Forest. Then the passenger is compelled to alight standing on the road. Imagine that on both sides of the road are forest reserves. The passenger out of curiosity plucks out a turmeric plant. Under the Forest Regulation it is an offence. The person who commits the alleged offence may not be accompanied by any of his friends. The Forest Officer has got the power to arrest him. A guard or a peon can do so. He is immediately arrested; and then how is it possible for him to get one or two sureties. He would be dragged along to a Police Station or guards' station. A person who is arrested by a forest officer when he commits any offence in a forest area until and unless he provides security will not be let on bail. Think what will be the fate of that person. My submission is that this Bill which would appear to be quite innocent at the outset is capable of doing much mischief. With these observations, I oppose the principle of the Bill.

The principle of the Bill was put to the vote and affirmed by the House.

[Mr. S. J. Nair.]

The Secretary then read the title of the Bill as The Travancore Forest Regulation (Amendment) Bill.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): As there is only a single Clause in the Bill it need not be referred to a Select Committee.

THE TRAVANCORE MEDICAL REGISTRATION BILL.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, this Bill was introduced in the Assembly in May 1935, but unfortunately owing to other work the debate on it was not concluded.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: At that time, was anybody in possession of the House?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Mr. P. K. Narayana Pillai was speaking last and he is not here to-day.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Opinion I): May I know whether it is proposed to continue the old Bill?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: There is a particular rule with regard to that. You will help me by letting me know the rule.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): May I suggest to you Sir, that any member can speak on the Bill with your permission?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Let us see if the law allows it.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mararikara): Sir, on page 17 of the Assembly Manual, paragraph 80, says: "On the termination of a Session, all pending notices shall lapse."

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: But a Bill introduced by Government does not lapse.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): It has already been introduced.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Sir, I wish to make one observation. I support the principle of the Bill. Nevertheless, I shall remind this House of one point. This Regulation is to safeguard people from the malpractices by unlicensed medical practitioners in the allopathy system of treatment. When we consider this question, one fact should be borne in mind. On whom are the mofussil people now dependent for their medical aid? Sir, this question of supplying medical aid to rural areas had been dealt with in almost all the budget sessions of this Assembly; various representations have been made, yet people in the mofussil areas are now badly in need of medical aid. This is a factor which should engage the serious attention of Government. For medical aid these people in the rural areas depend upon these so called quack doctors and many of the members are aware that these quacks are sometimes more useful than the qualified doctors.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : By qualified doctors does the member mean doctors with a degree?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II) : Yes, Sir. There are several cases in which these quacks have successfully dealt with many cases in rural areas, where many qualified doctors have failed, so that, if the Regulation is strictly enforced, many a man will be without medical aid. Before enforcing this Regulation, I request Government to do all that is possible to extend medical aid to rural areas.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : The member will be in order if he makes observations upon the Bill. After the Bill is enacted the Government may or may not enforce it.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II) : Anyhow, there is a provision as stated in the objects and reasons, by which any man, although he is not a degree-holder, if he gets a certificate from the Medical Council appointed to issue certificates, can practise. But the only thing is that this Council should not be very strict in granting certificates to these so-called quacks who are at present very useful to society in several instances. With these observations I support the principle of the Bill.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : There is one difficulty. Are you pressing the claims of these quacks on the admission that they are quacks?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II) : Not exactly. What I wish to point out is that, in the matter of granting license by the Medical Council, there should be a liberal attitude.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : Is it that license may be given to people who have no degree? I am unable to follow your line of argument.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II) : People even without qualifications or degrees are permitted to appear before the Council and undergo a test. The Council should take into consideration the real utility of their services to rural population and, although not degree-holders, should be very liberal in their treatment, till provisions for rural medical aid are more adequately met.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad) : I oppose the principle of the Bill. Generally, recourse to legislative enactments shall be had only, if the State finds that there is real danger. Well, Sir, so far as the medical practitioner's history in Travancore is concerned, we do not find any danger accruing out of the presence of the various medical practitioners in the State. If at all there is any danger that danger is from the medical practitioners in some Government hospitals in the State and not from the private practitioners.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : I fear that is not relevant.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad) : This Bill is intended for two purposes. Firstly, for the registration of the really qualified men and secondly for penalising the unauthorised practitioners. Clause 13 of this Bill mentions the persons who may be registered and the Schedule of the Bill gives out qualifications for registration. So far as the qualifications given in the Schedule are concerned, I know, as a matter of fact, that there exist so many successful medical practitioners in the

[Mr. S. J. Nair.]

Mission Hospitals in the State. They are more successful than the most successful medical officers in the State service.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): The honourable member has already spoken on this motion. (Laughter).

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I suppose that is correct.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Fakhil): Yes, it is correct.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I am thankful to the Director of Public Instruction for having informed the House that Mr. S. J. Nair has spoken already. I think that nothing need be said so far as Mr. S. J. Nair's speech is concerned. He seems to have spoken several months ago. One of the members adverted to that question and the House found that he had spoken. I presume that Mr. S. J. Nair rose to speak without remembering that he had already spoken.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, I wish to know whether I have spoken.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Fakhil): Yes.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Tricavulam-II): May I know whether Mr. S. J. Nair's speech to-day will find a place in the Proceedings?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Such matters may be left to the President to decide. Mr. S. J. Nair, I may mention this. In trying to speak the member must find out for himself whether he has already spoken on this motion. Months have intervened....

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedunyangal): One word. I heard the Law Member informing the House that even those members who have already spoken can be permitted to speak.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Mr. S. J. Nair was under a mistake. The Law Member never said that.

SRIMATI T. NARAYANI AMMA (Nominated): Sir, in supporting the principle of this Bill I wish to make one suggestion. I do not know why the scope of the Bill should not be made more comprehensive, by including within its ambit the Ayurvedic medical practitioners also. As it is, the scope of the Bill is confined to those practising the Allopathic system of medicine and surgery. Ayurveda has also come to stay in Travancore and the number of Ayurvedic medical practitioners also is on the increase. The Government themselves have in various ways recognised the importance of Ayurveda and they could not be unaware of the fact that among the Ayurvedic medical practitioners, there are a large number of quacks who do a lot of mischief by unauthorised practices. It is therefore highly necessary that in regard to Ayurvedic medical practitioners also, legislation should step in to prevent unauthorised practitioners. I am of opinion that the scope of the Bill should be extended by including Ayurvedic medical practitioners among the "Medical practitioners." With these words I support the principle of the Bill.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I may now reply to the debate. I know, that here is a feeling in this House that provision ought to be made for the control of the Ayurvedic medical practitioners. I quite appreciate that. But I fear that this Bill cannot help in the matter. The standards that are proposed in this Bill may not be quite applicable to the Ayurvedic doctors. The matter may however be considered separately.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): May I know whether the measure is applicable to Sidha Vaidhyans?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): No. I fear the real thing is that there should be some accepted standard with reference to which control should be exercised. In the Western system there is some standard. It may not be possible to have a standard in the case of Sidha Vaidhyans, so far as I can think of.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The question before the House is that the principle of the Bill be affirmed.

The principle of the Bill was by consent of the House affirmed.

The Secretary then read the title of the Bill as "The Travancore Medical Registration Bill."

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I move that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the following members.—

Mr. T. K. Velu Pillai
 „ T. P. Velayudhan Pillai
 „ K. M. Krishnan
 „ N. E. Varughese
 „ K. A. Narayana Pillai
 „ P. Chidambaram Pillai
 „ T. K. Alexander
 „ V. Ramakrishna Panicker
 „ K. R. Elenkath
 „ K. Madhavan
 „ K. P. Krishna Menon
 „ A. S. Damodaran Asan
 „ K. M. Kuriakose
 „ Abdul Rahiman Sahib and Srimati T. Narayani Amma.

The Committee is to report within four months.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Is it seconded?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Yes. I second it.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The Select Committee thus constituted will report within four months.

THE TRAVANCORE SURVEY AND BOUNDARIES
REGULATION (AMENDMENT) BILL.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): The next item in the agenda is the Travancore Survey and Boundaries Regulation (Amendment) Bill, which comes for further consideration.

This Bill was passed by the Sri Chitra State Council and I moved for the consideration of that Bill in the Assembly in May 1935. The motion for consideration was passed and the various Clauses have now to be taken up separately. So, the amendments may now be moved.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : I find that Mr. A. S. Damodaran Asan has proposed an amendment to Clause I.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikura): It will be convenient if the amendment is taken up to-morrow.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : Does the House agree ?

The House agreed.

The House adjourned at 3.45 P. M to meet again at 11 o' clock next day.

P. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI,

103. *MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): With reference to the answer given on the 16th April 1930, to question No. 216 (b), that an estimate for the work of the repair for the flood damages caused to the paddy fields in Maruttoor ela on the western side of the Maruttoor palam near the 7th mile-stone on the M. C. Road, Karakulam pakkuthi, is under scrutiny by the Division Officer, Irrigation Division, will the Government be pleased to state :

- (a) whether the scrutiny of the estimate is completed ;
- (b) if the answer to part (a) is in the affirmative, the amount of the estimate ;

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad) : May I know whether the damages to the Maruttoor ela were caused by the floods of 1108 ?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation) : I think so.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know why the repair was delayed so long?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) No. The service is suspended during the monsoon.

(b) 20th April 1936; owing to the monsoon.

(c) No, except the contribution paid by Government to the Company.

Mr. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): May I know the amount of contribution?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Rs. 20,000, a year.

(d) The District Magistrate's opinion thereon has been obtained and it is under consideration.

Encroachments on Kozhikodu Canal.

111. * MR. E. K. KUNJURAMAN (Nominated): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) what actions or steps they have taken to protect the Kozhikodu Canal from the encroachments of the people in the neighbourhood to lessen the width of the above canal which has resulted in want of sufficient room to drain away the waters of the punchas of the Aramula pakuthi in response to the queries I have made in the last sessions of this Assembly;

(b) what action has been taken by the Land Revenue Department to prevent such encroachments;

(c) if they have taken any action as required in part (b), how many encroachment cases have been taken by them;

(d) what steps have been taken in the matter to make the canal wider and deeper and to take upon themselves the responsibility of protecting the canal from such encroachments;

(f) if so, when they have done it and what is the nature of the estimate?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): (a) Action was taken against the encroachers under the provisions of the Land Conservancy Regulation and the encroachments evicted.

(b) The Revenue subordinates detect encroachments whenever they occur.

(c) Two encroachment cases were taken.

(d) The Chief Engineer has received an estimate for widening and deepening the todu.

(e) Yes.

(f) On 28-8-'36. It is proposed to grade and deepen the todu where it is narrow and silted up, to construct masonry cross-bar with necessary side walls and to provide D. R. pitching and flooring wherever necessary.

Maintenance of roads.

112. * MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether they are aware of the most unsatisfactory condition of the following roads:—

(i) the Trivandrum-Kattakada road via Malayinkil;

(ii) the Nalukettu-Tirupuram road;

(iii) the Nemom-Oorutampalam road; and

(b) the maintenance grant for each of these roads?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): (a) They are in good condition, except the portion from Kundankadavu to the 6th mile Kottoor road, a length of 4 miles of the Trivandrum—Kattakada road.

[Mr. G. B. E. Truscott.]

(b) 1st road—Rs. 2,046.

2nd road—Rs. 120.

3rd road—Rs. 144.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): For how long has this road been in such bad condition?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I am sorry I cannot give a definite answer.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): Has the Government or the Chief Engineer received petitions from the people, last year as well as this year, that due to the bad condition of the road vehicle traffic had to be completely stopped?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Petitions have been received; but I do not know whether vehicle traffic has been completely stopped.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): Out of the grant for the work, what is the amount that was actually expended last year?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I claim notice.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): Has any action been taken against the officers responsible for keeping the road in such bad condition?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): It is not the fault of the officers. There is heavy traffic on the road, and the maintenance grant is not sufficient to keep the road in such a condition as one would wish.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): Are the Government aware that this is the only road from Kattakada to Trivandrum and that, when this road is not available, the people are forced to adopt a circuitous and costly route if they want to come to Trivandrum?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I think the honourable member is correct in that statement.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): When was the matter brought to the notice of the Government?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I believe, in November 1935.

Supply of Polkuwaravu Forms.

118. * MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) how many Polkuwaravu "A" forms (L. R. form No. 350) were supplied in 1112 M. E., for the use of the pakuthi enicheries in Nedumangad and Chirayinkil taluks; and

(b) whether they are aware that in the absence of the above forms, the lists of voters for the Sri Mulam Assembly and the State Council could not be prepared and completed?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): (a) 2610 and 2837 Polkuwaravu A forms were supplied for use in the Nedumangad and Chirayinkil taluks, respectively, in 1112 M. E.

(b) No.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know the number of Pokkuravaru cases for which the forms have been prepared by the pakuthi officers in Nedumangad and Chirayinkil in connection with the ensuing general elections?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): I claim notice.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Is it possible to prepare the lists of voters unless the Pokkuravaru cases are disposed of and the forms are got ready?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): No doubt, the forms are necessary.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Have papers been supplied for the preparation of the manuscript copies of the forms?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): Yes.

Preparation of the Voters' Lists.

114. *MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government be pleased to state:

- (a) whether the list of puttadars is incomplete;
- (b) what has become of the deceased puttadars;

- (d) whether they are aware that invariably the putta stands for the name of deceased persons?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner):

- (a) The answer is in the affirmative.
- (b) The question is vague.
- (c) Yes.
- (d) No.

The Vamanapuram Camp-shed.

115. *MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government be pleased to state:

- (a) whether they are aware that there was a camp-shed in Vamanapuram;
- (b) whether the camp-shed was handed over to the Medical Department to put up the District Dispensary at Vamanapuram since the camp-shed was left unused for several years;
- (c) whether they have found that there was no necessity for a camp-shed at Vamanapuram;
- (d) when was the camp-shed handed over to the Medical Department; and
- (e) how many travellers have occupied the camp-shed for five years from the date of its surrender to the Medical Department?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): (a) Yes.

(b) Yes.

(c) Yes.

(d) On 22-9-1108 M. E.

(e) No travellers can have occupied it since its surrender, being a Dispensary.

The Kallara-Aruvipuram trace.

116. *MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government be pleased to state:

- (a) the total distance of the trace;
- (b) whether they are aware that the people have surrendered land free of compensation to the full width of 22 feet for the conversion of the trace into a road;
- (c) whether they are aware that the people have done earth-work in cutting the road by removing all sorts of encroachments, such as sheds, buildings, fruit-bearing trees, etc;
- (d) whether they are aware that the amount of Rs. 1,000 allotted for the conversion of the trace for 1111 M. E. was not expended and it lapsed; and
- (e) whether they are aware that there is an allotment of Rs. 1,000 for 1112 M. E. for the conversion of the trace?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): (a) About 7 miles.

(b) No.

(c) No.

(d) Yes.

(e) Yes.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the owners of the lands adjoining the trace have not already written to the Government as well as to the P. W. D. that they have surrendered their lands free of compensation?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): We have not yet received the written statement of the owners to that effect.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I have to correct the member, Sir. The honourable member for Nedumangad has himself submitted such consent of the owners concerned, to the Government as well as to the P. W. D.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): The titles and signatures have to be verified by the Land Revenue Department.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Has the Land Revenue Department been furnished with those papers for verification?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I think so.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): When?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I claim notice.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Is the member in a position to state definitely that the Land Revenue Department has been addressed about the acquisition of the lands?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I said 'I think so'; I cannot be more definite. I may say, Sir, that there is no hurry about it, because the ryots have done practically nothing towards the improvement of the road as laid down in the Ryots' Roads Rules.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal): Have not the ryots removed all encroachments by removing sheds and buildings, and have they not also removed even the fruit-bearing trees standing on the road?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Yes: But not the roots of the trees.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal): Have not the people submitted petitions to the Government that they are not able and are not in a position, to do all that is laid down in the Ryots' Roads Rules, and that therefore the Government should be pleased to improve the trace at their own expense?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Yes.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal): May I know what action has been taken on those petitions?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Government have ordered that the Ryots' Roads Rules have to be carried out.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal): Is not that order too hard on the poor people of the locality?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): It is a matter of opinion.

Receipts from the Central Prison.

117. *MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the details of the receipts by "jail maintenance and garden produce, etc." as shown in the statement No. XIII Financial, annexed to the Administration Report of the Central Prison Department for the year 1110; and

(b) whether they have considered the ways and means for enhancing the receipts under this head?

RAO BHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government):

|                                                                                                             | Rs.   | Ch. | C. |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|-----|----|
| (a) (1) Value of convict-labour employed in maintenance works of jail buildings ...                         | 358   | 22  | 8  |
| (2) Receipts from jail gardens ...                                                                          | 819   | 0   | 2  |
| (3) Washing charges realised from Jail Warder staff and auction sale proceeds of unserviceable articles ... | 322   | 25  | 13 |
|                                                                                                             | 1,540 | 20  | 7  |

(b) It is reported that there is no scope for the expansion of garden cultivation in the Central Prison compound.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): What is the total area of Government land in the possession of the Superintendent of the Central Prison?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): It is about 50 or 60 acres; I cannot give the exact area.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): What is the area under garden cultivation?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I claim notice.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): That is the area under grass cultivation?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I claim notice.

Jenmikaram Settlement.

118. * MR. T. S. JAYANTAN NAMBOOTIRI (Travancore Jenmies, North): Will the Government be pleased to state the number of cases for jenmikaram settlement yet (till 13-3-1112) undecided in each of the taluks of the State?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner):

A taluk-war * statement containing the information is placed on the table.

MR. T. S. JAYANTAN NAMBOOTIRI (Travancore Jenmies, North): May I know the reason for the long delay in the disposal of these cases in some taluks?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): Most of the pending cases are those that have been remanded by the Peishkars for further enquiry. In some cases fresh enquiries had to be made. In a few cases the Devaswoms have asked for more time to file cases.

Recovery of Jenmikaram dues.

119. * MR. T. S. JAYANTAN NAMBOOTIRI (Travancore Jenmies North): Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a taluk-war statement of the number of applications under Section 26 A of the Jenrai and Kudiyan Regulation, for the recovery of Jenmikaram dues for 1103, 1109 and 1110, left undisposed of till now (13-3-1112)?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner):

A † statement by taluks furnishing the information is placed on the table.

MR. T. S. JAYANTAN NAMBOOTIRI (Travancore Jenmies, North): May I know why jenmikaram cases of even 1108 have not been disposed of yet?

* Vide Appendix I—page 473.

† Vide Appendix II—page 474.

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): In some cases, the jemmis did not remit the process fees. In some cases they did not turn up on notice.

Settlement of Jemmikaram cases.

12). * MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

- (a) what exactly is the cubical capacity of the Agrasala para;
- (b) the number of jemnikaram cases settled according to the above measure and otherwise;
- (c) who was responsible for the mistake; and
- (d) whether representations were made by the honourable member for Muvattupuzha II before the Government and the Land Revenue Commissioner in connection with the above and, if so, what action was taken on the same?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner):

(a) The Agrasala para is ordinarily presumed to be a measure of 640 cubic inches.

(b) The number cannot be easily ascertained.

(c) Nobody can be said to have committed any mistake since the jemnikaram cases were decided as per the terms of the Kanom deeds or other evidence produced by the parties.

(d) Yes, Government allowed extension of time till the end of the year 1111 to the parties to put in revision petitions to the Land Revenue Commissioner and State Jemmikaram Settlement Officer and to get the grievances, if any, in the decision of the cases redressed.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know whether when the work of Jemmikaram Settlement was begun, instructions were given to the taluk authorities as to the capacity of the Agrasala para?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): A copy of the opinion expressed by the Government Law Department was sent to all the Taluk Offices.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Was it sent when the work was begun?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): No; the question came up only very much later.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): What was the necessity to do it subsequently?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): We received some petitions from the Kudiyans that the Jemmikaram officers were treating the Agrasala para as being equal to the standard para.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): It is stated in the answer to part (a) that the Agrasala para is ordinarily presumed to be 640 cubic inches. What are the special or extraordinary circumstances under which its capacity is taken to be otherwise?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): The word 'ordinarily' has been used there because it has not been possible to say with certainty what the cubic contents of the para is. In ordinary parlance it is considered to be 640 cubic inches.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Have not the Government come to a decision on the matter yet?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): The present decision is that, ordinarily, the Agrasala para is presumed to be 640 cubic inches.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): It is stated in the answer to part (d) that extension of time was allowed till the end of 1911 to the parties to put in revision petitions to the Land Revenue Commissioner. May I know whether it was stated in the representations which led to such extension of time that the Government should take the initiative in the matter of deciding the cases?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): Yes.

MR. T. S. JAYANTAN NAMBOOTIRI (Travancore Jenuies, North): What is the basis for the presumption that the Agrasala para is 640 cubic inches?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): Records were examined; and there were also some court decisions to that effect.

MR. T. S. JAYANTAN NAMBOOTIRI (Travancore Jenuies, North): Is there any Government order to the effect that the Agrasala para is equal to the standard para?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): I claim notice.

MR. V. RAMAKRISHNA PANICKAR (Karthikapalli II): Are there not High Court decisions to that effect?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): I believe there is a conflict of rulings. I am not quite sure.

MR. P. C. NARAYANAN BHATTATIRIPAD (Travancore Jenuies, South): പറയെ സംബന്ധിച്ച് ജന്മിമാരിൽനിന്നും വല്ല പരാതിയും കിട്ടിയിട്ടുണ്ടോ?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): ഉണ്ട്.

MR. P. C. NARAYANAN BHATTATIRIPAD (Travancore Jenuies, South): പറയുടെ തക്കത്തെ സംബന്ധിച്ച് വല്ല രീതിമാറലും ഉണ്ടായിട്ടുണ്ടോ?

MR. K. RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Whenever Government consider that it is necessary to appoint a special prosecutor in a case, they do so.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA Dr. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): They are all with the Government. MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Government consider that the time and labour involved in the collection of the information asked for by the member are out of all proportion to its possible utility.

MR. N. K. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara I): May I know whether Government are at least in a position to tell me whether the amount collected as fines has been on the increase from year to year during the above period?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Sir, this question has been asked and answered so often on the floor of this House that I do not know what satisfaction the honourable member derives from asking me to repeat the answer. Two years ago Government introduced certain rules restricting the admission to the intermediate and B. A. classes. For the B. A. classes the rules were that any applicant who had made more than three attempts, to pass the Intermediate examination should not be admitted. For the Intermediate, in addition to the three attempts rule there was the standard in regard to marks. On account of these rules some applicants were refused admission.

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): May I know whether it is with a view to help the management of private colleges that these rules were passed?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Certainly not, Sir.

(b) whether the consumer's expenditure will be limited to the electrification within his compound walls, all other expenses being incurred by the Electric Department?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): (a) The rates for the supply of power for domestic consumers for lights and fans have been reduced from 6 annas to 5 annas per unit with effect from the 1st of Chingam 1112. The rates for small power installations have been revised as follows with effect from 28-7-1936:—

(i) Small installations up to 10 H. P. requiring power intermittently and consuming less than 12,000 units per annum—3 annas per unit.

(ii) For installations consuming above 12,000 units per annum—a flat rate of 1½ annas per unit.

(b) The consumer has to pay, in addition to his installation charges, the cost of all service connections beyond 50 feet from the nearest supply main. The cost of meter boards, cut-outs, etc. is borne by the Department in all cases.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know the reason for not permitting the consumer's expenditure in the matter of electrification being limited to the compound walls?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): The only concession is in respect of fifty feet from the nearest supply main it has nothing to do with the compound walls.

Legislative Business.

THE TRIVANDRUM CITY MUNICIPAL BILL.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I beg to move that Mr. G. Narayanan Tampi be added to the Select Committee appointed to consider the Trivandrum City Municipal Bill. Mr. Venkitakrishna Aiyah was the President of the Municipal Council and he was co-opted as a member of this House and was also a member of the Select Committee. But he has now gone to another place. Mr. Narayanan Tampi is the President now and I therefore move that his name be added to the Select Committee.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

The motion was carried.

THE TRAVANCORE INCOME TAX REGULATION (AMENDMENT) BILL.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I rise to introduce a Bill further to amend the Travancore Income Tax Regulation, VIII of 1096, as amended by Regulation, V of 1100, and beg to move that the Bill be read in the Assembly.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, this Bill proposes various amendments to the Income Tax Regulation as it now stands.

MR. S. CHATTANATHA KARAYALAR (Shencotta): I rise to a point of order. This Bill, although it has been published and circulated, is supposed to contain certain important schedules. One of the schedules has not been printed in the copy made available to us. We are handicapped by that.

PRESIDENT: The Secretary says that the Bill has been circulated properly. I shall give you my copy if your copy of the Bill does not contain all the schedules.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): This Bill proposes various detailed amendments to the different Sections of the Income Tax Regulation as it now stands. It is scarcely necessary for me to explain all these amendments. They are all detailed in the notes on Clauses attached to the Bill. However, there are one or two points which I may specifically refer to for the information of the House.

The most important of the proposals in the Bill is to impose a super-tax on incomes above a certain level. That is contained in schedule III. It contains the rates of super-tax and also the taxable limits. It will be noticed that generally speaking super-tax is proposed to be imposed on incomes above Rs. 50,000. Super-tax is an additional income tax levied over and above the ordinary income tax levied under the other provisions of the Regulation. It is levied on corporations, Hindu undivided families and individuals. The minimum rate of super-tax proposed is 1 ch. in the rupee and the maximum is chs. 6 cash 4 in the rupee. The various gradations in the rate are mentioned in the schedule which may be perused.

Another important change proposed is the increase in the rate of income tax in regard to the higher income. In regard to incomes above Rs. 15,000 an increase is made in the rate of income tax. Formerly, the rate was Chs. 2 in the rupee and now it is Chs. 2 cash 12. The general principle observed in this matter is to enhance the tax on higher incomes and to levy an additional tax or super-tax on still higher incomes.

On more than one occasion, the honourable members of the Legislature have suggested that income tax should be levied with greater effect and the rate of income tax should be increased in the case of those who get higher incomes. When this Bill was prepared the suggestions of the members were borne in mind.

Another important change that is proposed is in regard to the definition of "agricultural income". It is known to the House that agricultural income is free from income tax. That is based on the principle that the land out of which agricultural income is raised is already paying a tax to Government. But there are lands that do not pay any tax to Government. In regard to such lands, agricultural income derived therefrom should rightly be subject to income tax. The definition of agricultural income is such that income arising out of land whether subject to land-tax or not is agricultural income. This definition is sought to be restricted. If the land does not pay any tax, then income from such a land should not come in the category of agricultural income.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the honourable member mention the case of lands that do not pay tax to Government?

MR. KAYALAM PARAVESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): The Edavagai lands, for example.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I beg to offer a few remarks in this connection. No doubt, land-tax is being levied on lands. It is a very antiquated system. In many of the civilized countries the system of payment of land-tax does not exist. Other taxes have taken the place of land-tax.

PRESIDENT: The honourable member may perhaps specify such a civilized country?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Germany is one instance of a civilized country. Even in Ceylon no land-tax is levied on cocoanut gardens. In ancient days there was no sort of income for the State to maintain its chief or leader or ruler and his retinue, except this land-tax. As a result of the advancement in civilisation, the State has begun to secure other sources of income such as customs duty, income tax and such other things. In recent times as a result of big fall in the price of agricultural products, the agriculturist class are not able to pay land-tax. It will be better in the interests of the agricultural policy as well as development of agriculture that land-tax is abolished and in its place income tax is simplified and levied as a result of the income derived from lands. The necessary provision may be made in the Bill. In doing so the burden of tax would fall easily and equitably on all; the taxation would be imperceptible, and no one would unnecessarily be burdened with heavy taxation. The absolutely poor and the bona fide incapable person would not be compelled to unjustly shoulder the responsibility of paying tax. Whereas tax could be levied upon all those who have got income, whether agricultural or otherwise, the State would in no way suffer in the matter of getting revenue.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): The Law Member has now brought before the House a Bill, the necessity for which was felt from a long time past by all honourable members of this House. In regard to Clause 2 we had occasion to comment on the necessity for the provision when the Edavagai and the Jenuni and Kudiyan Regulations were under discussion. For a very long time the Edavagais were enjoying immunities of various kinds. Government were compelled to incur expenditure on the administration of justice, for preservation of law and order in those territories, even though they were not contributing anything for these purposes. Whereas, the poor land-owner has been paying for these things even more than what he could pay. It is highly gratifying to note that the Government have now recognised this fact.

[Mr. Puthupalli S. Krishna Pillai.]

The other point to which I should refer is about the provision to impose a super-tax on individuals and corporations deriving an income of over Rs. 50,000 a year. It is several years since such a provision was incorporated in the Income Tax Act in British India and properly worked out. It does not stand to reason why individuals who amass large incomes be exempted from contributing a fair percentage of their large income by way of additional tax to enable the Government to carry on the administration more efficiently and properly. We have been clamouring for a reduction of land-tax every year consequent on the failure of crops and fall in the price of agricultural products. We have several times brought to the notice of Government these factors as an occasion for reduction of land-tax. The Government have been from time to time making reductions and meeting expenditure from other revenues. Persons who get large income should make contributions on behalf of less fortunate people for the successful carrying on of the administration of the State. This system has been in vogue in British India from a very long time and has been a success. Even though there were certain objections from capitalists these objections have now died out. So far as Travancore is concerned that provision yet remains to be considered. I find, on a comparison of schedule III printed in the Bill with the provision in the British Indian Act, that a large concession has been made in Travancore in regard to super-tax. I am not in a position to understand why in the case of imposition of a super-tax any Government should show such indulgence towards big capitalists and concerns that amass large fortunes.

PRESIDENT: Just to enable persons in Travancore to be on better terms than in British India.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Anyway, I am unable to understand it. Why should the Government make a difference between the person who gets an income of Rs. fifty thousand per year here and a like person in British India? A person who gets an income of Rs. 3,000 a year in Travancore will be the lord amongst the 50 lakhs of our people. He will be a bigger person than the British Indian Mittadar with 30,000 a year. I am against giving any sort of concessions to persons who have enormous wealth. I am unable to understand the logic of giving a concession to Travancore capitalists.

A comparative study of the schedules discloses the difference that where as the British Indian capitalist pays 1 anna, our Travancore friend pays only 1 cb. This becomes more marked when we come to the last item. The difference is between 6 as. and 6 chs.

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): Does the member know that these rates will not be practically applied in our State? In our State such individuals and companies are practically nil.

MR. PUTMUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Whatever it is, when there is a possibility in Travancore I do not see why the rates followed in British India should not be applied here. Who knows the potential capacity of any member in this House or of any business-man in this country? The position taken up by the Land Revenue Commissioner is not entirely correct, for the same difference is maintained even in the case of corporations. In regard to the rates, suppose a bank with its registered office in British India carries on banking through its branch established in this State. We shall be collecting tax at the rate of 1 ch. only and for a similar amount tax at the rate of 1 anna will be paid by its head office in British India. The saving made in our State will go to swell the dividend of the shareholders. The British Indian shareholders are benefited at the expense of the State.

Therefore, I submit that the provision contained in regard to this matter should be brought into line with the provision contained in British India. In regard to super-tax no distinction can be made. In regard to the others there is every justification for making a distinction. Of course in the new schedule, items 4 to 10, some variations have been made. Perhaps it may be that it may not affect a large class of people because ordinarily the tax payer, the average man, does not pay income tax on more than Rs. 15,000. But to the other class of people, probably, it may work some hardship. But their number will be small. The other alterations that I find in the Bill are not very material. They are only changes which have become necessary as a result of the High Court decisions or as a result of the difficulties experienced in the working of the existing provisions. They are not very material. The only material alteration in the Bill is with regard to Section 19 A A (1). That provision does not empower levying of income tax on any person who has been making an income in the State during the past financial year also. When I read this provision I was struck with the paucity of a provision empowering the Income Tax Collectors to levy income tax on persons who come to Travancore, start some business and make profits during two or three months and then leave the State. I am referring to the cinematograph companies. I do not think Clause 19 A A is applicable to them. That aspect of the matter must be borne in mind. I remember a few instances in which this was conspicuously felt. At Quilon some cinematograph companies, who started business and made a lot of money during the course of some 3 months, left the town without any warning. Neither the Municipality nor the Income Tax Collector could get any amount from them out of the huge profits that they made within those two or three months. I would like the Income Tax Collectors to be armed with more effective powers to deal with such cases. Most of the alterations made in the Bill are verbal. I would only earnestly submit that this Bill be passed into law as soon as possible because the absence of these provisions has caused loss to the State in various respects. With these words I support the principle of the Bill.

MR. S. CHATTANATHA KARAYALAR (Shencotta): Sir, I also rise to support the main principle of the Bill.

PRESIDENT: Has the honourable member got a correct copy of the Bill?

MR. S. CHATTANATHA KARAYALAR (Shencotta): Yes, Sir. Just now, I have got a copy.

[Mr. S. Chattanatha Karayalar.]

The object of the Amendment Bill before the House is to bring the law of income tax in Travancore substantially into line with the law in British India. The main changes proposed in the Bill are to enhance the rate of tax on incomes of Rs. 15,000 and above and also to impose super-tax on incomes above Rs. 50,000. No objection can be taken to the principle of the Bill.

In regard to the super-tax, I would like to make one suggestion. In British India there is provision made in the Act for giving relief to the assesses in respect of marginal incomes. Although there is no specific provision in the Act itself, the Governor-General-in-Council is empowered under Section 69 of the Act to give relief in such cases and he does give relief in this direction in exercise of the power vested in him. I would, therefore, suggest that a similar provision be made in this Bill for affording relief in the case of marginal incomes. Coming now to the several Clauses of the Bill, Clause 2 of the Bill says :—

"Income, profits and gains accruing or arising without Travancore to a person resident in Travancore shall, if they are received in or brought into Travancore, be deemed to have accrued or arisen in Travancore and to be income, profits and gains of the year in which they are so received or brought, notwithstanding the fact that they did not so accrue or arise in that year."

There is a corresponding provision in the British Indian Act also to which there are two provisos. While the Law Member has incorporated the first proviso in the Bill, he has omitted the second proviso. I think he has deliberately omitted the second proviso. I shall read out the second proviso in the British Indian Act. It runs thus :

"Provided further that nothing in this sub-section shall apply to income from agriculture arising or accruing in a State in India from land for which any annual payment in money or in kind is made to the State."

So in British India provision is made for exempting income from agriculture in respect of land in a State for which tax is paid to that particular State. I would suggest that income arising out of land situated in British India and for which tax is paid there must be exempted from income tax in Travancore. I want a provision to this effect to be made so that our law may come into line with the British Indian enactment. Otherwise it may lead to some difficulty. Possibly also, it may lead to retaliation on the part of the British Indian Government.

My next suggestion is with regard to Clause 13. A new Section 19 AA (1) is proposed to be incorporated in the Regulation. That reads thus :—

"When it appears to the Collector that any person may leave Travancore during the current year or shortly after its expiry and that he has no present intention of returning, the Collector may proceed to assess him on his total income for the period from the expiry of the last previous year for which he has been assessed to the probable date of his departure from Travancore".

There is no objection to the retention of the substance of the Clause. But I fear it may, in actual working, work hardship on persons from outside having business in Travancore. I wish to point out that if it appears to the Collector that a person may leave Travancore, the Collector may proceed under this Clause. I ask Sir, whether this is a safe and reliable provision. What I am suggesting is that a suitable change in the wording should be adopted so that it may not work hardship. As the Clause stands, it is liable to be abused and may lead to hardship.

My next suggestion is with regard to the new Clause 15. The new Clause proposes to levy income tax on the income accrued to a deceased person, in the name of the administrator or the executor of such person. There is a corresponding provision in the British Indian enactment also. I have no objection to the principle contained in the Clause. While the new Clause provides for the levy and collection of income tax in such cases, there is no provision in the Bill for giving relief by way of appeal or revision to the executor or administrator. The right of appeal, the right to get the assessment rectified, the right to move for revision are expressly granted only to the assessee and are obviously not available to the legal representative. I shall here refer to the definition of the word "assessee". 'Assessee' means a person by whom income tax is payable. It does not include the legal representative of the assessee. In effect, therefore, the administrator or other legal representative will be liable to income tax under this Clause, but he will not have the right of appeal, the right of revision or the right to get a mistake rectified under the provisions of this Bill. I want that a suitable provision should be made so that the right of appeal and other rights may be available to such representative persons as well. With these general observations I support the principle of the Bill.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Urban): I also wish to add a few words.

PRESIDENT: The honourable member's voice is unusually low to-day.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Urban): I was just beginning. (Laughter.) The advocacy of the interests of large classes will generally be entertained in favour in the modern world and the advocacy of the rights of minorities will very often meet with different treatment.

So, I do not feel that the way is very smooth when I say that I have a few words in defence of the rights of certain sections of people who are very small in number but very important in the economy of the State. From time to time the sovereigns of Travancore have recognised the immunity of certain persons and certain classes of property from the incidence of taxation. An undertaking is given by all the ruling Maharajas whether in this century or in former centuries. These prerogatives ought to be entitled to great consideration at the hands of the Legislature. Sir, the Edavagals and the Jenmis and others of the like category are considerable in number in the State. But they are represented very inadequately in the Legislature. And it cannot be denied that for generations they have kept alive the torch of enlightenment in the country. If any reform is to be made in legislation, by way of remedying an evil, their views must also be ascertained. But, as a matter of propriety, especially the rights of the small number of voters should also be taken into consideration. I think this House should consider the question in a spirit of generosity, in a spirit of true loyalty. The ruling sovereigns of Travancore have recognised the rights of these minorities for some reason or other. Therefore, accepting that these reasons which weighed with them were conducive to the welfare of the State I say that their rights should not be disturbed. In Travancore, legislation was making certain changes in the law regarding the holdings of Jenmis. In 1041, there was a Royal Proclamation, in 1071, there was the Jenmi and Kudiyan Regulation and later the amendment of the Jenmi and Kudiyan Regulation. Sir, all those were confiscations of the rights of these Jenmis. But they could be upheld as being of advantage to the majority of the population and thus they can be justified. But here in this case to take money from the pockets of these few who are obliged to maintain various institutions, religious, charitable, and such like—that, Sir, would not be fair. Sir, these people who are numerically small are left to smart under the law. Another suggestion put forward in favour of the Bill was that when this Bill goes to the Select Committee and get these provisions passed, the amount of money the Government exchequer will get from these collections will be very considerable.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): May I know from the member whether it was ever the intention of the previous Maharajas that any of us should pay the incometax?

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Urban): The only sober answer that I could give.....

PRESIDENT: I have not the least doubt about your sobriety.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Urban): I am one of those who believe that the intelligence and intentions of Our Maharajas are sacred and so I am not going to answer that question. Sir, my point is only this. You must see whether there is any commensurate advantage to those who are taxed. If the advantages are great this is a matter to be considered. Sir, now with regard to the super-tax in Travancore, whatever may be the optimistic views of my honourable friends who spoke for the provision, I am rather pessimistic. Sir, in Madras and other Provinces because a man makes from legal profession Rs. 30,000 a month. There such kinds of taxes are imposed. But here instead of Rs. 30,000, Rs. 2,000 is the maximum. So there is difference between conditions in Travancore and British India. I may say that I am not for raising taxation. Super-tax is excellent in principle. But I want to put this before the House that this aspect of the question may not be referred to the Select Committee to be determined.

Mr. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Sir, I want to take notice of one point in connection with this Bill. The House will remember of a cut motion moved by Mr. Kainikara Padmanabha Pillai during the last session of the Assembly to the effect that land-tax should be fixed in accordance with the income derived from land. The majority of the people of the State, if such criterion is applied, will escape to pay any tax; because 90% of them are agriculturists working under a loss and unable to pay any tax. The heavy agrarian indebtedness from time immemorial will bear witness to this fact. On the other hand, the people who are really able to pay any tax to Government are the traders and merchants. That being the case the new Bill was long over-due. In schedule I A the minimum fixed for paying income tax is Rs. 2,000. Sir, if a comparison of the incomes derived from the majority of the agriculturists and that of the traders is made, it would be quite clear that this fixing of Rs. 2,000 as minimum is rather too high. I am of opinion that this standard can be still lowered and the minimum taxable income can be fixed as Rs. 1,000. There is ample justification for this. I don't wish to say that the rate of tax should be as high as 10 cash in the rupee. The House would be justified in fixing a tax on this amount of Rs. 1,000 at 5 cash in the rupee. This is a time when we are trying to find out new sources of income in order to meet our increasing demands. Our land revenue as it stands at present is the maximum and has become almost inelastic. As such, income tax is the only way open to us. All civilised countries are now depending on this source of revenue. Let us also fall in line with other countries. With these words I support the Bill.

Mr. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, I also rise to support the principle of this Bill. It would be conceded that the Bill has not been brought one moment too early. I think, Sir, by the delay that has been caused in giving effect to a legislation of this kind the State has lost, I must say, a substantial amount by this time. This substantial loss to our exchequer has been the gain to other Governments. We have incurred a great loss, it is true, but we are trying to rectify it. My only appeal to the House is to bring into effect this legislation as early as possible. I would even suggest that a Select Committee which goes into the question should do so at once and even the second reading can be finished without delay. Sir, it has been suggested that there is a question of minority and majority, and standing for the rights of the minority and standing for the rights of the majority. But I refuse to believe that there is any such question here except the question of the interests of the State. Sir, it should not be considered that any enlightened citizen of the State will consider the imposition of a tax for the maintenance of the State and for providing the amenities of life, to be a punishment. No citizen who has got a civic sense would feel like that. It has been pointed out as though we are going to tax all Jenmom lands. Sir, it is a misapprehension. We want the lands belonging to Jenmies which are free-holds and which do not pay any revenue or local rate, as is pointed out in Clause 2, which come under non-agricultural incomes to be assessed. Only the free-hold land comes under that. Whatever that be, I may be permitted to point out that one-third of the property of whole State belongs to the Jemmies and some of them are free-hold lands. And they have been escaping the payment of any tax till now. Sir, if we look to the intention of the Maharajas of old and conclude that, because under the conditions then obtaining, some persons were exempted from paying land-tax, they must be excluded from any tax in the future—that will be a strange conclusion, a ridiculous conclusion. But my contention how can the progressive needs of civilized administration be met without new sources of revenue. Sir, that is a responsibility which this House will take upon itself, and it is their duty to consider it seriously. I cannot think of a more justifiable tax than the taxes which are proposed in this Bill. Some people think that the super-tax may not fetch much, and why should we introduce it. They say that the gain to the State treasury will be very limited. Why should it be so? The resources it is likely to lead are bound to expand. Why should we be so very pessimistic? They say that super-tax is to be levied on companies which earn large profits. The mining companies and other companies in the State make enormous profits. I think that Travancore is already in a position to impose tax on various kinds of companies and firms that are realising substantial profits. Now they are going scot free on a nominal tax, which would be considered quite ridiculous if we only tried to look into that. The question is not whether it is going to be a small gain or otherwise. The resources of our State stand in need of replenishment. We have always been demanding from the Government various concessions for the agriculturists and the tax-payers of our land and we have been asking Government to spend more and more for the development of roads and communications and other things. It is to be pointed out, that we must also help Government in the realisation of income taxes for the expenditure on nation-building activities as well. We find that the first income tax in India was introduced in 1860 and that was necessitated on account of the trade depression and the financial circumstances of the Government of India after the mutiny, and the question of enhancing it was made after the last world war. The question again was financial necessity. Sir, the question of financial necessity has to be considered very seriously and it ought not to be confused by unenlightened sentimentality. In fact, there is no question of minority and majority arising in this connection. Only those who are able to pay, only people who have a sufficient margin of profit are asked to pay to the State. Enlightened citizens, will welcome it as has been suggested by my friend Mr. Karayalar. I made special reference to Mr. Karayalar, because he is a man who according to me enjoys a taxable income.

MR. S. CHATTANATHA KARAYALAR (Shencotta): Is the member in order, to refer to the income of the other members?

PRESIDENT: Order, order.

I presume the honourable member intended it as a compliment. (Laughter).

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I was very glad to find that he accepted the principles of this Bill and I felt that was the attitude that all people who might be subjected to the provisions of this Bill had to take. Those provisions, again, can be modified in such a way that there may not be evasion. That is the question that we should consider carefully at the Select Committee stage. The possibility of evasion has to be prevented against as much as possible. I have very great pleasure in supporting the principle of the Bill. I also make a request that Government may take up this matter as urgent and will see that a Select Committee may be left in charge of this Bill and that the Bill may be brought up as early as possible. Even before this Council came, a proposal was made by Mr. V. Subba Aiyar, who was the nominated Deputy-President, to levy some kind of tax on jentao lands. He laid emphasis on all these and wanted Government to make some measure to bring under the control of Government such lands which pay no taxes.

RAO BHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): I rise to explain one or two points discussed during the course of the debate. The first point is about the rate of the super-tax. The super-tax here was pitched on a lower level than the rate obtaining in British India, with a view to attract foreign capitalists in British India and elsewhere and to induce them to invest their capital in Travancore for industrial and commercial purposes. We want to offer a substantial inducement for them to do so. For some more years, I think, foreign capital will be necessary for the complete exploitation of the industrial and commercial possibilities of Travancore. Government deliberately intended to offer a substantial inducement to them to invest their capital in Travancore. It is for that purpose that the rate is proposed to be fixed somewhat lower than the rate prevalent in British India or Mysore or elsewhere. That explains the object of the lower rates of super-tax, proposed.

MR. S. CHATTANATHA KARAYALAR (Shercoffa): May I know whether the rate is intended only as a temporary measure?

RAO BHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): Not as a temporary measure. There is however nothing to prevent the rates being increased later on, if found necessary.

So, that is the reason why Government have fixed the rates of the super-tax lower than those in British India.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Does the member argue that, if we are to raise the rates as in British India, it will not be so attractive as it is now.

RAO BHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): If a man has got to pay a lower tax, it is only natural that he will invest his capital in Travancore rather than say in British Malabar, so that Travancore will get the benefit of his investment.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): If that is the object, Sir, why not we do away with the super-tax altogether.

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): Sir, because we want money for revenue purposes. This is the first time that we are introducing super-tax in Travancore. Later on, we would know whether experience would justify the increase of this rate. If the financial position requires it, Government will not hesitate to increase the rates.

I have got only to meet the point raised by Mr. S. J. Nair. He said that the land revenue must be abolished altogether and that the rates should be so revised as to get the same revenue from the new Income Tax Bill. Sir, this is not practically possible. We get forty lakhs by way of land revenue. By no stretch of imagination, can we think of revising the income-tax rates to secure the same yield. Moreover, a resolution to this effect was ruled out during the budget discussion.

Then I shall proceed to notice some of the points raised by Mr. T. K. Velu Pillai. The point is, we want to relieve the burden on the poor people, and to tax only the rich people. We have even dropped the middle class people from the scope of this Bill.

MR. CHANGANACHERY K. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Kennattur cum Pattanapuram): May I know whether at present the income tax of Jenmi and Edavagai lands is exempted from the tax?

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): I believe under the present law it is not taxable. The income derived from that land is not taxable as income tax. Probably the Income Tax Commissioner, when he rises to reply will refer to this point.

(At this stage the President left the House and the Deputy President took the Chair.)

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chiraginkil I): I may also say that the income tax law of our State stands very badly in need of revision. The defects in the income tax law of our State and the very bad need for effecting suitable modifications in the law have been brought home to this House by very many honourable members. I take it that this Bill is a response on the part of Government to satisfy the demands made by this House. Sir, the various amendments proposed in this Bill really explore new sources of income tax. To that extent I may say that this Bill has been able to satisfy some of the demands made.

Sir, we have also been complaining about the defective method adopted by income tax authorities in the matter of assessing and collecting income tax. This complaint has been completely ignored by the authorities in framing this Bill. On account of the defective method in the procedure adopted by the department in the collection of the income tax the assesses are put to serious hardship and inconvenience. In a large number of cases the appellate and revisional authorities had to interfere with and set aside the decisions of subordinate officers. I am fortified in my views by the Administration Report for the year 1110. Often they resort to summary procedure, so much so that it so happens that persons who are not to be assessed are assessed to income tax and persons who have assessable income are not assessed. This should engage the attention of this House and I may say that this matter is well worth looking into when this Bill goes to the Select Committee. I suggest that suitable provisions may be incorporated in this Bill to regularise or to make systematic the law and procedure in regard to the assessment and collection of taxes. With the above reservation I support the principle of the Bill.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I also rise to support the principle of the Bill. I had no intention of speaking upon this Bill until I heard the learned Financial Secretary. Sir, the reason that he has urged for reducing the rate of super-tax is that it is only then that we would be able to attract foreign capital into our country. Sir, I am one of those who think that the tax must be in proportion to the income; and the tax-payer must be willing to pay the tax to meet the expenditure of the State. According to me there is absolutely no ground for showing any manner of concession with regard to the levy of income-tax or super-tax. Super-tax is a very legitimate form of taxation. Sir, the Financial Secretary has told us that super-tax has been fixed at a lower rate here than in British India with the idea of encouraging the industrial activities of foreigners here. I could have very well understood that argument if the provision had been made available to the industrialists of Travancore.

RAO SANIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): Does that not follow?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Sir, the idea of the Financial Secretary seems to be that we should attract foreign capital by this reduced rate of super-tax, and that after they have come and invested their capital here, some years later, the rate of super-tax must be increased.

MR. P. CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI (Commerce and Industry, South): Why not levy this tax from outsiders alone?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): There is no harm in levying the tax uniformly from all people. My point is this. The Financial Secretary suggested that we should now attract foreign capital and later on enhance the rate of super-tax. If it is the rate of income-tax and super-tax that really controls the question of foreign capital coming in here, we should have had a good lot of foreign capital already in the country since we do not have any super-tax at all now. I wish to make it clear that the present Bill need not be supported on the ground that it is going to attract foreign capital.

With these words, I support the principle of the Bill.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): Sir, I welcome the introduction of this Bill. But I would suggest that we should not rush it through in any haste. The Bill seems to have been published in the Gazette only some days back. (Cries of louder, please.) Many of us are not even in possession of copies of the Bill.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : Mr. Varughese has made an allegation which I consider important. Will the Government Benches enlighten the House on the point?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Copies of the Bill were supplied in due course as per the rules others had got it.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : I think the Chief Secretary's words are conclusive on the point.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): I may assert that I got a copy of the Bill only to-day.

MR. K. KUNJAKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Did he not get the copy of the Gazette to which he referred?

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): I did not, because it was sent to my native place.

The Bill contains very important provisions. It is therefore very necessary that all the members of this House are given sufficient time and opportunity to express their opinions on the various provisions of the Bill. It has been stated that the Bill has been drafted on the lines of the British Indian Act. Conditions in British India differ materially from conditions here. Therefore, the fact that this Bill has been framed on the lines of the law in force in British India cannot be a reason why the Bill can be rushed through in haste. As it is, if the Bill is referred to a Select Committee now, the opinions and criticisms of all the members of this House may not be available for the Select Committee.

There is also another aspect of the matter. Sir, Travancore is a land of charity. The motto of our Royal House is 'Charity our household divinity.' Sir, we are all proud of that. Therefore, in introducing any measure involving taxation of the people, we must be very cautious. That is another reason why I say that some more time should be given, to the public and to the members of this House, to consider the various provisions of this Bill more carefully and to express their views. I would suggest therefore that the Bill need be referred to a Select Committee only at another session of this House.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : I fear Mr. Varughese is irrelevant. The question of the Bill being referred to a Select Committee is not now before the House. We are now at the question that the principle of the Bill be affirmed.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): I have nothing more to add, Sir.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolan): I also rise to support the principle of the Bill. Mr. Varughese and some others seem to think that the Bill contains provisions which make very drastic changes in the present Regulation. On a closer study of the Bill it will be seen that there is not one provision in the Bill which is unnecessary. We have been clamouring in this House that land-tax must be substituted by income tax. My friend Mr. Kainikkara Padmanabha Pillai on two former occasions moved resolutions to this effect.

Therefore, a Bill to amend the Income Tax Regulation is quite welcome. And the various clauses of the Bill are very practical and quite necessary.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): May I know whether the principle of land-tax.....

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I did not hear a word of what you have said; please repeat the question louder.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): May I know whether the principle of land-tax has in any way been interfered with by this Bill?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: That question need not be answered.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Davicolum): Sir, it has been the practice on the part of many people to evade payment of income tax somehow or other. The present Bill seeks to change the word 'taxable' into 'total'. The word 'taxable' has been mainly responsible for the evasion of payment of income tax. That change is therefore a very important and a very wholesome change.

There are also very many other important and useful changes.

Clause 19 AA is another very important provision. It is now the practice on the part of F. W. D. contractors, and others, many of them outsiders, to come here, make huge profits and run away to British India just at the time of assessment, because, under the existing law, assessment cannot be made till the financial year is over. That has been prevented by Clause 19 AA.

Again Clause 19 BB is also a very important provision. Under the present law, it is not possible to assess the income of a deceased person. Provision has been made in Clause 19 BB to assess the executor or the legal representative of a deceased person to income tax on the income of the deceased person and realise the same from the assets of the deceased.

I have a suggestion to make in this connection, Sir. Income tax will be a Federal subject and if Travancore enters into Federation, then my question will be very useful. The practice on the part of all business men is to keep their accounts in British currency, Rs. as. ps. My suggestion is that, for purposes of income tax, the Government also may adopt that currency. It will also be useful for according relief from double taxation.

Sir, this Bill has been long over-due. In the sister State of Cochin, where an Income Tax Regulation was passed only about two years ago and amended recently, they have already constituted a separate Income Tax Department. I would suggest that our Government also might consider the desirability of doing that.

With those words, I support the principle of the Bill.

MR. CHANGANACHERY K. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Kumattur cum Pattanzuram): I also fully support the principle of the Bill. It was generally assumed in the discussion that the income derived from jenmom properties by the jenmies, and the income of the Edavagais are exempt from the payment of income tax. I think it is a wrong assumption. My friend Mr. Jayantan Nambootiri tells me.....

[Changanachery K. Paramesvaran Pillai.]

(The member then had a short personal conversation with Mr. Jayatilak Nambootiri.)

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I object to one member taking instructions from another in the open House.

MR. CHANGANACHERY K. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Kunnathur cum Pattanampana): He told me that income-tax was being levied from Jenmie. I say that they are not exempt from income tax even to-day.

But the present Bill is contemplated to tax another class of people, namely, the tenants of jenmis, because their income will not hereafter come within the definition of agricultural income. But even that fact will not deter me from supporting this measure because what is now sought is not the assessment of these lands to land revenue but their tenants to income tax. This will affect only tenants who make more than Rs. 2,000 a year. I do not see any reason why they should not be taxed. I therefore support the measure.

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): Sir, this measure has, it appears, received almost universal support.

Sir, our income tax law is based on the 1918 enactment of British India. That Act has undergone several changes while we have only had one amending Regulation. After we passed the Income Tax Regulation of 1936 and the amending Regulation of 1100, a large number of amendments have been carried in British India. One of the objects of this Bill is to bring our Regulation also into line with the Act in British India and with the Regulations in force in Mysore and Cochin. In the working of our Regulation, several ambiguities and defects in wording have been noticed. One of the objects of this Bill is to remedy those defects and clear those ambiguities.

Another object is, as has been stated by the Law Member and the Financial Secretary, to increase our revenue. I believe the House will be interested to know from me the objects and reasons of some of the more important amendments. The alteration in the definition of agricultural income has been referred to. As stated by Mr. Changanachery Paramesvaran Pillai, the effect of it will be to bring under taxation the agricultural income of tenants of Edavagais and other non-tax-paying lands. He is right when he says that the tenants of Edavagais will have to pay income tax when their income is above Rs. 2,000.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Tiruvandrum-Rural): May I ask whether it is not a hardship to charge the agricultural income of tenants who pay tax to the Edavagais though not to the Sirkar?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): The point is that they do not pay any tax to the State. They may be paying some tax to the Edavagais. The amendment will bring in the income of such tenants also under the provisions of the Income Tax Regulation.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): Are they not contributing to the revenues of the State by other means?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): They are not contributing more than the other subjects of the State and they are not contributing anything to the State as land revenue.

MR. K. P. KRISHNA MENON (Parur): May I know whether Government are not assessing Edavagais to income tax?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): No, not on the lands held by tenants.

I am glad that the majority of the members of the House are agreeable to the assessment of such income.

Another important change is the provision made to bring under assessment incomes below Rs. 2,000 when the total income exceeds the limit. According to the present Section 14 and the schedule appended to the Regulation, if a man, with a total income of Rs. 2,050, is paying a premium on insurance and his taxable income falls below Rs. 2,000 thereby, he is not liable to assessment. We propose by this Bill to tax such people also. That is to say, even if a man's income falls below Rs. 2,000 because of certain permissible deductions, he will not be exempt from taxation.

There are certain other minor changes in the Bill in favour of the assessesees. There is a small change in Clause 23. At present Clause 23 permits the Chief Revenue Authority to revise an order of a subordinate authority only if there is an assessment proceeding before that authority. Now we propose to drop the words 'assessment proceeding' so that any case can be brought in revision before the Chief Revenue Authority.

Apart from all these small changes, the most important changes are in the schedule and in the levy of super-tax. I believe the House will be interested to know the amount of extra revenue we expect to derive by these changes. It will be noted that no increase is proposed in respect of incomes below Rs. 15,000. The increase is on a graduated scale on incomes above Rs. 15,000.

The principle on which we have omitted lower incomes is that the revision will not give us any substantial revenue, while at the same time it will cause hardship to the poor assessesees. The limit of Rs. 2,000 was reduced in British India for a short period but was restored later on. In Mysore, the limit is Rs. 2,400 and in Cochin it is Rs. 2,000. If you bring in for assessment incomes between Rs. 1,000 and Rs. 2,000 a large number of petty traders will be assessed but that will not give any considerable addition to our revenue. I made a calculation some time ago and I find that we may not get more than Rs. 10,000, if the limit is reduced to Rs. 1,000.

Profits, according to the Income Tax Regulation, are not the actual book profits. Certain items of expenditure are not allowed by the income tax law. So, it will be found that in certain cases though the accounts might have closed with a loss, the concern will be assessable by the addition of certain items of expenditure which are not allowable deductions. Hence in the case of smaller assessesees, it will be a great hardship if we reduce the limit below Rs. 2,000.

[Mr. K. George.]

The extra income which we may get by the revision of the rates is not very large. I have made a rough calculation—it may not be quite accurate but from the figures I have at present, I find we might get from individuals Rs. 18,000 and from companies Rs. 1 lakh and from firms Rs. 27,000, i. e. on the whole about Rs. 1'40 lakhs.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): What is the present figure?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): The present figure is in the neighbourhood of Rs. 6 lakhs. The extra income is not very big but it is something worth having. We are not raising it from poor people but only from people who are really able to pay.

Another change I want to mention here is about the assessment of companies. Formerly, the limit of Rs. 2,000 applied to companies as well. But by the present amendment, whatever be the minimum income, a company as well as a registered firm will have to pay income tax. That is in accordance with the provisions of the law elsewhere. Of course the individual assessee who are shareholders of the companies or members of the firms are eligible to get refunds on their respective incomes. So there will be very little hardship.

The House adjourned for lunch at 1 P. M. and met again at 2 P. M. with the Deputy President in the Chair.

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): The last point I have to refer to is about the proposal to levy super-tax. The principle of levying super-tax on large incomes above Rs. 50,000 has been generally accepted. But the question has been asked why we have fixed a lower rate than in British India. In British India the super-tax rate on companies is one anna in the rupee for every excess over Rs. 50,000. Here it is one chukram. We have also proposed graduated rate of super-tax from individuals, undivided Hindu families and unregistered firms. So far as these latter class of people are concerned I do not expect there would be any case of assessable income in Travancore. But in the case of companies there will be a few which will come under super-tax.

One important reason which weighed with the Government in not imposing the same rate as in British India was this. In the case of companies, which alone would be liable to super-tax, we have by the revision of the schedule increased the ordinary rate of income tax by fifty per cent. At present the companies pay income tax only at the rate of chs. 2 in the rupee, but in the revised schedule it has been raised to chs. 3 per rupee. In addition to that, an imposition of super-tax at the British Indian rate all at once would be an undue burden. Further, although there is super-tax in British India and Mysore, the Cochin State, which recently increased the ordinary income tax rate under the schedule has not imposed super-tax. Taking all these things into consideration, Government thought that it would not be advisable to impose the higher rate of income tax and super-tax prevailing in British India. I may mention that the amount of income that we may expect from super-tax would not be very much. According to present calculations it would roughly come to half a lakh. I expect that about Rs. 5,000 may be realised from individuals and Rs. 45,000 from companies. This is the present estimate so far as super-tax is concerned.

MR. S. CHATTANATHA KARAYALAR (Shencotta): May I know from the member what extra cost will be necessary for the collection of this tax?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): The present staff will be able to cope with the work.

MR. S. CHATTANATHA KARAYALAR (Shencotta): What about the grant of relief to people who get a marginal income?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): There is such an arrangement in British India. But that is a matter which I think may be considered at the Select Committee.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know whether the jennmikaram now collected by Government on behalf of jennmis will come under the present law for assessment?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): I must examine that question. It is not free from doubt, because jennmikaram is a new kind of receipt by the Jennmis. The question is whether it is rent or revenue derived from land which pays tax to Government.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): May I know whether the existing law can affect the Edavagai in respect of their income?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): Incomes derived from the thanathu lands cannot be assessed; but incomes that a tenant gets from the property of edavagai can be assessed.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): May I know why the income derived from an Edavagai is excluded under the present law?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income-tax Commissioner): The present law exempts all incomes from land used for agriculture whether they pay revenue to Government or not.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): In respect of Edavagai incomes, may I know whether it is considered as income derived by agriculture or as rent under Section 2, clause (1)?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): The difference would be this. So far as the Edavagai Chief is concerned, if he cultivates the land and gets an income from it, that is not subject to assessment. If he gives the land to a tenant and gets rent, then that income is assessable.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know whether the member is aware of a decision by the honourable High Court in the case in which the Edavagai Chief was one of the parties, that all incomes derived from the free-hold land are liable to assessment according to the Income Tax Regulation?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income-Tax Commissioner): I am not aware.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): Sir, the change sought to be made in the Bill by the definition of agricultural income does not appear to me beyond controversy. Hitherto, any income derived from any land in Travancore by agriculture was exempted from payment of income tax. Now in the clause in Section 2, the change proposed to be made is "such lands as is referred to in clause.....and is situate in Travancore" be substituted for the words "lands in Travancore". This change in the definition leads to this result. The land-holders in the Edavagai who have hitherto been exempt from payment of income tax in respect of their income from their holdings in those Edavagais, are hereafter going to be assessed in case their income is above Rs. 2,000. To me it appears that it will be a very inequitable arrangement. If we proceed purely on the basis that income from any land which is not subject to land-tax, that is tax to Sirkar, should be exempt, then it is all right. What is the basis of that exemption that is what we have to consider? In the case of pandara-pattom land, the land-holder, whatever may be his income, is exempted from payment of any tax so long as he holds land subject to Sirkar assessment. Now, Sir, in Edavagai the holder is in possession of lands not because of any peculiar circumstances beyond the pure fact that he happens to be an inhabitant and owner of land in such Edavagai. When once he is under an obligation to pay rent—you may call it whatever name—in fact we know it is the rent due to the Edavagai Chief. That rent takes the place of Sirkar tax in the case of pandurapatton lands. If it is the object of the Legislature not to encumber the agriculturist with too heavy burdens, in other words, if it is the object of the Legislature to see that the agriculturist is not subjected to a burden which he may not bear, that is to say, if he pays land-tax in respect of holdings, he should not be burdened with another tax at the same time. If that is the object and if that is rooted in the desire to help the agriculturist to carry on his livelihood, to carry on his agriculture and earn a living by agriculture, then, I submit that it is for the serious consideration of the House whether it is desirable that the the Edavagai tenant should again be assessed to income tax. I see no justification for that course. Of course I can understand the fact that the tenants of an Edavagai are not contributing anything to the State coffers. But that is due to peculiar circumstances. They are contributing to the coffers of somebody in the place of the Sirkar. That is a fact which could not be ignored. Naturally we should assess those that are in receipt of rent from these land-holders. There must be some equitable arrangement by which the income from Edavagais may contribute a portion to State coffers. That is another matter. But so long as it is not possible and practicable owing to peculiar circumstances—because, the Edavagai chiefs are the proprietors of lands in Edavagis and are entitled to receive rent that would otherwise have gone to the Sirkar—so long as that is the position, I think that we should think twice before we think of subjecting these tenants to double taxation in the manner sought to be done by a change in the income tax law. Therefore I think the Select Committee should certainly consider this matter in detail and give up the idea if it is objectionable. It should not be taken that because we approve of the general scheme of the amending Bill the power of the Select Committee is concluded. The Select Committee must be in a position to reopen the question because it is an all-important point. This is not the first time I understand such a matter is being considered by the Legislature. The same question was considered once before and that position was given up. Because justice was on the side of the tenant. I can understand that a fairly good income may come to the State coffers if this is adopted. There may be rubber estates and other valuable estates in areas where land is not subject to Sirkar assessment. But that is another matter. There may be proprietors of rubber estates who do not pay to the State coffers as much as they ought to. But the Legislature must devise suitable remedies to get over that situation. And, if it is equitable to compel them to pay to the State coffers we must devise appropriate means. This would involve a large number of ordinary tenants in difficulties to which the Legislature will not be justified. So this is one of the points that I wanted to place for the consideration of the House.

As for the super-tax, of course it is a means of adding to the State revenue without doing any substantial harm to anybody. As for the statement of the Financial Secretary that it was to draw capital from outside that the rate was reduced from what is obtained elsewhere, I must certainly disclaim all association with him. He made the statement that we have succeeded in drawing enough capital and so we thought of reducing the rates. I never expected such a statement from the Government member. The non-official side dissociate from that view taken by him.

The Bill deals with a number of matters relating to procedure. All that will have to be gone into in detail in the Select Committee. Several matters may have to be accepted, several modified and several even rejected. For instance, in regard to appeals I find one provision where in it is stated that in case the assessee was not able to furnish the method method of his income there will not be any appeal at all.

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): There is a provision under which he can get remittance from the Collector.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Tricandrum—Rural): Under the existing Regulation an appeal is provided for if the Collector refuses it. Under the proposed law there is no provision like that. That is a great hardship. I am not going to deal with that in detail. I think sufficient and proper changes will have to be made. Those are matters of detail. With these words I support the principle of the Bill.

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): Sir, after going through the Bill I was in a doubt as to whether the tenants of Edavagai will be assessed to income tax over and above the tax that they have to pay. Mr. Changanachery Paramesvaran Pillai made pointed reference to that in his speech and after hearing the speech of the Land Revenue Commissioner the fact is made clear that Clause II will enable the Government to assess the tenants of Edavagai to income tax over and above the tax that they have to pay to the Chief. Sir, this, I submit, is a great hardship and not fair. In the case of owners of Pandaravaga lands they have to pay only one tax. They are not assessed to income tax if their income comes to Rs. 2,000 or exceeds that. I take very serious objection to this provision in the capacity of the representative of one of the Edavagais, viz., Kilimanur. I object to the Bill to the extent that it seeks to impose income tax on the tenants of Edavagai. I think the Select Committee which is going to be formed must consider this aspect of the matter very seriously and so alter the Clause as not to assess the tenants of Edavagai to income tax.

I also take objection to Clause 16 which says that the right of appeal shall not be available to those who fail to comply with the preliminary notice of assessment. Sometimes it may be that certain people may not be aware of the notice. I know certain instances where the assesses were not informed of the preliminary notice. When the assesses came to know of the assessment they preferred appeals against the orders of the Tahsildar and their appeals were allowed; and it is not fair to take away the right of appeal. If Clause 16 is allowed to stand it will work great hardship. So, I take objection to it. I generally support the principle of the Bill.

MR. T. S. JAYANTAN NAMBOOTIRI (Travancore Jenuies, North):

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Sir, I support the principle of the Bill. (cries of louder, please). I appeal to the House that I am not well.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : If the member is agreeable I am prepared to advise that he is not bound to speak.

Mr. P. C. KURIYAN (Kot'ayam I) : Sir, I welcome this amending Bill and while supporting the general principles of the Bill I wish to speak a few words about the treatment the Edavagai tenants are going to get by this Bill. Sir, it is an accepted principle of this State not to assess income from land and if this principle is to be departed from, there must be very strong reasons for doing so. It has been argued that as Edavagai tenants are not paying any tax to the Sirkar, it is only fair that they also should be made to contribute their quota to the State coffers. It may be a fact that they are not really paying anything direct to the Sirkar, but the fact cannot be overlooked that they are really paying rent or tax to their Jenmi or Edavagai chief as the case may be, and it should also be borne in mind that if they are paying tax only to the Edavagais and not to the Chief they do not do so at their own instance. If anybody is responsible for their so doing it is the State and State alone, and it is not for the State to turn round and tell them that because you are not paying us tax directly we are going to tax even at the sacrifice of some of the well established canons of taxation. Moreover, though they are Edavagai tenants, they are also like any one else, citizens of Travancore and bonafide subjects of His Highness the Maharaja and as such they are also entitled to get the sort of treatment as any other citizen of this State.

Sir, if it is an attempt to make the rubber and tea plantations pay a portion of their income to the State, it should be achieved by entirely different methods. We could bring a Bill for that purpose affecting all the plantations in the State whether they were Edavagai lands or not. With these words I resume my seat.

Mr. R. RAMAN PILLAI (Changanachery cum Peermede II) : May I know why rubber and tea are to be considered separately from other matters?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : He takes a particular view.

Mr. R. RAMAN PILLAI (Changanachery cum Peermede II) : I wish to know the reason if he is prepared to do so.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : If he is prepared he can say that. He is not prepared.

Mr. R. RAMAN PILLAI (Changanachery cum Peermede II) : Sir, I support the principles of the Bill. In order to avoid repetition I may say that I support entirely Mr. Krishna Pillai with regard to super-tax and Mr. Thanu Pillai as regards income tax on Edavagai properties. As regards the honourable member for Trivandrum Municipality who said that Jenmis should not be taxed, I am sorry to say that I disagree with him.

Mr. K. PADMANABHAN (Ghirayinkul I) : May I know the name of the member who represents the Trivandrum Municipality?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : That does not arise. (Laughter). Each member of this House has got a duty to the member representing a particular constituency.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, the Bill has received a large volume of support and I do not think it is necessary to detain the House with attempting to reply to any of the criticisms made on it. If the House accept the principle of the Bill, a Committee may examine it in detail.

The question that the principle of the Bill be affirmed was then put and carried.

The Secretary to the Assembly then read the title of the Bill as "A Bill further to amend the Travancore Income Tax Regulation, VIII of 1096, as amended by Regulation, V of 1100."

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I move that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of—

Messrs :

1. T. K. Velu Pillai
2. A. Thanu Pillai
3. A. Rengaswami Aiyar
4. K. C. Karunakaran.
5. Antony George
6. J. W. Tolson
7. Pottayil, S. Krishna Panicker
8. K. M. Kuriakose
9. S. J. Nair
10. A. S. Damodaran Asan
11. T. P. Velayudhan Pillai
12. K. Mahomed
13. Menatheri N. Kesava Panicker
14. S. Chattanatha Karayalar
15. Narayanan Bhattatiripad and
16. John Joseph

The Committee is to report within four months.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

MR. R. RAMAN PILLAI (Changanachery cum Peermade): I suggest that a member representing the Jenmis may also be included.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedunangad): I propose that Mr. Jayanthan Nambootiripad may also be included.

MR. S. CHATTANATHA KARAYALAR (Shencotta): I second it.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I have already got the names of 16 members. I cannot have more. It may be put to the vote of the House.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedunangad): Then I do not press it.

The motion, by leave, was withdrawn. The motion of Mr. Kayalam Paramesvaran Pillai was then put and carried.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESSE (Tiruvalla I): Sir, I move that somebody to represent the tenants of an Edavagi is also added.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : I rule that what Mr. Varughese says is quite out of order, for while it is open to every member of the House to propose any individual member, a vague suggestion that a member representing somebody is no motion before the House. Mr. Varughese is so entirely out of order.

THE TRAVANCORE SURVEY AND BOUNDARIES REGULATION (AMENDMENT) BILL.

Clause I.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara) : Sir, I beg to move the following amendment:—

"In Clause I, sub-clause (1) "1112" may be substituted for "1110" "
Sir, this Bill was passed in the Sri Chitra State Council in 1110 and was expected that it will become law also in 1110. That is why it is called Travancore Survey and Boundaries Regulation (Amendment) Bill of 1110. Now we are in 1112 and so it is only right that the short title should agree to the date in which the Regulation was passed.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I) : I second the motion. The motion was carried.

Clause I as amended was added to the Bill.

Clause II.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara) : Sir, I beg to move the following amendment:—

"In Clause II, under Section 34 (2) delete the portion beginning with "but" in line 4 and ending with "Survey mark" in line 6 and insert the words "where such mark or object has been proved to be erected or placed by the accused" between the words "and" and "recover" in line 8.

The object of this Amendment Bill is to have a provision for punishing persons who erect any counterfeit survey mark and to give power to courts to remove such survey marks. For that, it is stated that a prosecution may be launched by a complaint by the Tahsildar or by a complaint filed with the sanction of the Tahsildar. In sub-clause I it is stated that "whoever erects or places any mark or object which is not a survey mark intending or knowing it to be likely that such mark or object may be understood or believed to be a survey mark shall, on conviction, be punishable with fine which may extend to one hundred rupees." In order to convict the accused there must be an act accompanied with intention or knowledge. If the act is not accompanied by intention or knowledge there is no offence. Sub-clause (2) provides for cases in which the accused is not convicted. The accused will be acquitted in cases in which the act is not proved to be intentional and also in cases in which there is no proof even as regards the act against the accused. Even in those cases sub-clause (2) says that power must be left with the court to remove such survey mark and recover the cost from the accused. My objection to the Clause as it stands is this. The first part of my amendment relates to the deletion of the portion beginning with "but" and closing with "survey mark" and it will be found that under the present Bill even though the court finds that there is a counterfeit survey mark it can remove or order the removal only if it is proved that that mark was erected or placed by anybody with the intention or belief that it was likely to be understood as a real survey mark. So the court has to come to the conclusion, before ordering the removal, that that mark was erected or placed by somebody other than the accused and that it was with the intention or knowledge that it would be understood as a real survey mark. But the power to remove a survey mark must be vested in the court and a court need only see whether counterfeit survey marks were standing so as to mislead the boundaries and they will have to take the evidence from the owners of adjacent lands. So, whenever a counterfeit survey mark is found to be such by the court and where the court thinks the removal of the same is necessary in the interest of the owners of the property, the court must have ample powers to remove the same whether any intention or knowledge existed in the mind of anybody. Hence I am submitting that that portion must be deleted.

With regard to the second part of the amendment, I have suggested the words "where such mark or object has been proved to be erected or placed by the accused" between the words "and" and "recover". If the Clause is allowed to stand as in the Bill the accused will be bound to pay the cost of removing the survey stone even if it was not erected or placed by him. If the court comes to the conclusion that he is innocent of the whole charge there is no reason why the charges or cost should be recovered from that accused. So I have stated that cost is to be recovered from the accused only if it is proved that the survey mark was erected or placed by the accused himself. Sir, if my amendment is accepted, it would so change the Clause as it stands as to save the accused from the liability for the wrong acts of a different person. With these words I move the amendment for the consideration of the House.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad). In supporting the amendment I might say that in sub-Clause (2) it is stated that the court can order the removal of a survey mark but the court will have to enter an additional finding that it was erected by somebody with the knowledge and belief that it was a survey mark. Therefore the second finding that the particular mark was placed with the intention or knowledge that it was a real survey mark has to be made. Suppose the court finds that the mark is not a real survey mark but it was placed without any particular intention or knowledge. If the court finds that though the mark was placed there without the intention of being taken to be a survey mark, it will be taken as a survey mark, even then the court cannot remove it, though there is a finding that the mark is not a real one. I think, Sir, even in cases where with particular intention or knowledge a real survey mark was removed power is given to the court to put and remove the counterfeit survey marks. The court is given power to recover the charges even if he is found innocent. If anyone is convicted of an offence he may be asked to give the cost or compensation. Otherwise there is no necessity to ask him; and to do so is unreasonable, untenable and unjust.

MR. R. RAMAN PILLAI (Changanachery cum Peermade II): I support the amendment. I believe Sir, that the framer of the Bill made this Clause and the Upper House passed the same with the belief that there is a presumption that the boundary marks are correctly made.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The reason which weighed with the members of the other House is not a matter for this House.

MR. R. RAMAN PILLAI (Changanachery cum Peermade II): Sir, the survey marks are faulty. The surveyor is faulty (the chain is faulty, the pointer is faulty and the scale is faulty). I will explain and I will bring home to each and every member that all these instruments are faulty. From my own experience I know that these are faulty. The scale may have been very well made but becomes useless by daily using the dividers. The point of the dividers also become blunt. The chain becomes daily longer and longer.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Palki): On a point of order. Is this relevant to the motion before the House?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The position of the survey stones is a relevant matter.

MR. R. RAMAN PILLAI (Changanachery cum Peermade II): I say this in order to show that the accused should not be punished unless it was proved that he planted the counterfeit mark.

I say that the papers, wherein the marks are found, are entirely incorrect. These papers cannot in the least be relied on. It must be proved that the accused intentionally made or planted a counterfeit mark. I had to survey a plot of about 7 000 acres. While I was doing so, I had to do the work of a Theodolite Surveyor. I found that there were seven boundary marks without any angular or side measurements and also five angular and side measurements without any boundary stones. What is that due to? The only reason is that the surveyors did not do the work properly. They were doing the work sitting on a two-storied bungalow. Perhaps, they might have done the work during the hottest part of the day.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: All those are irrelevant.

MR. R. RAMAN PILLAI (Changanachery cum Peermade II): Sir, these records cannot be relied on and the accused cannot be punished unless it is shown that he intentionally planted the counterfeit mark. With these words I support Mr. Asan's amendment.

MR. PUTHUZZALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): There are not many people in the State who do not own a small plot of ground and therefore this piece of legislation, it must be understood, is one which will affect the majority of the people in this State, and the provision under discussion becomes all the more important because of that. I regret, Sir, to observe that this provision has been ill-conceived and that it offends against all accepted principles of legislation. Sir, when a civil court is invested with powers to direct the defendant to do a particular act, it can exercise the power only when it finds that the defendant has by omission or commission made some invasion of the petty rights. In the absence of such finding, the court has no power over the defendant. When the plaintiff's suit is dismissed, no order is granted to the plaintiff for taking out any compulsory process against the defendant. It is a plain rule which we know fully well. Now the jurisdiction of a criminal court is equally limited if not more. It continues to exercise jurisdiction over an individual only so long as he is suspected of some criminal act or so long as he is found to be a criminal. When once he is admitted or found to be innocent, the criminal court has no power to impose any restriction on him. When a prosecution is lodged and if it is found that the prosecution has been a malicious one, the criminal court is invested with the power to direct that the accused be compensated. If the prosecution is found to be true and the accused is guilty, the criminal court is authorised to impose a fine on him. In certain cases, out of the fine thus imposed a portion can be given to the complainant. When it is found that the accused is innocent and that the complaint would not stand, what is the jurisdiction that the criminal court has over the actions of the accused or over the accused himself?

Let us see the provision contained in this Bill. The last portion says, "The court may cause the mark or object to be removed and recover the cost of the removal from the accused", whether the accused be convicted or not, i. e., even when the accused is found to be innocent.

It enables the court to impose a fine upon a person who is not guilty. Now, the expenses are said to be recoverable from a person who is not found to have done anything. Probably the word 'fine' relates only to the method of realisation of the cost. If I am found to be innocent, could it be said that the court may be empowered to direct the recovery of the cost from me? Is there any law, in any civilized country, which enables one to impose penalty on his innocent neighbour? Has a criminal court been authorised to penalise an innocent man? We have enacted several statutes, good, bad and indifferent. Not one of these can claim absurdity so conspicuous as the one contained in this Bill.

There is another, and a more obvious mistake. It is stated "In any case of prosecution started under the foregoing provision, the court may, whether the accused be convicted or not, order the mark or object to be removed if the court is satisfied that it is not a real survey mark."

The court may "order" the mark or object to be removed. Order whom? Order the Head Clerk of the court or any person walking along the road?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Any person who may obey the orders of the court.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Every person in this country is bound to obey the order of a duly constituted court and no exemption is granted in favour of any individual. When it does not say whom, it may order anybody. It may be to remove a stone found in some honourable member's boundary. If I do not obey it, who shall pay the penalty. The accused? (Laughter.) "Whether the accused be convicted or not order the mark or object to be removed, if the court is satisfied that it is not a real survey mark, but was erected or placed by anybody intending or knowing it to be likely that such mark or object may be understood or believed to be a survey mark and in case the mark or the object is not removed accordingly, the court may cause the mark or object to be removed and recover the cost of the removal from the accused." Anybody including the complainant or a neighbouring mischief maker! Can anything be more ridiculous than this? Is there any power which could be invested in a court of law enabling it to compel a person who is found to be innocent, to incur expense and compensate for an act of any one in the world? Is there any power invested in this Legislature to penalise innocent men? I can understand if it were said that a particular person might be ordered to do it; and if in case he did not, the court might remove it. There is sense in that. According to this Bill the court is competent to punish an innocent man and I submit I must be exempted from this (Laughter). If this House will not take any other thing into consideration, it must at least take note of my grievances.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The personal grievance of a particular member is not quite relevant.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Question II): I was only pointing to the general grievance which was common to me, and I was submitting that what was a grievance to me was a grievance to every one because, I have very few grievances. (Hear, hear). I therefore submit that this Section is ill-conceived, ill-drafted, improper and contrary to the accepted canons of legislation. It is a matter which curtails the rights and liberties of individual citizens and it is calculated to penalise innocent men. Mr. Damodaran Asan's amendment may, to a certain extent, remedy these defects. But still, there will be the vagueness about the individual whom the court may "order" to remove the stone. For my part, I am prepared to take the best of a bad bargain. This Section is for our consideration now. It should not be said hereafter that we did not understand, that we did not fully comprehend the implication of this Section. Anybody might be ordered to-morrow, even though he might be innocent. My submission is that, however good it may be to the land-owner, however convenient to the draftsman, it is always a trouble to the innocent and to the landless, and to this House it will be an everlasting disgrace. With these words I support the amendment.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Sir, I rise to support the first part, that is with regard to the omission, and to oppose the second part.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The amendment cannot be split up like that.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Fakhir): Sir, if you call upon me to...

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Seeing that Mr. Elenkath is not able to support or oppose the Bill, it is better to ask the Law Member.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): The question that arises is very simple. I shall not take any notice of the flights of imagination indulged in by some in this House. On the amendment, I am prepared to accept the first part of it. With regard to the second part too, I have no serious opposition. I will merely place before the House the real position as it stands.

The provision as it is in the Bill vests in the courts a discretion. The Court may order a stone to be removed but the court is not bound to do it in every case. It is presumed that the court will exercise the discretion properly. The provision further says that it should be left to the court to decide in which cases the accused should be asked to pay the costs of the removal of the stones. The idea is to confer on the court complete discretion in the matter.

Now, Mr. Asan, in the second part of his amendment, wants to limit the discretion of the court. He says that the court should ask the accused to bear the cost of removal of the stones only if it has been proved that the stone was planted by or at the instance of the accused. No doubt, there is a principle in what Mr. Asan says. But, even the provision as it is based on a principle. It is this. If a stone is found planted in A's property, the presumption is that it has been so planted by or at the instance of A. I would point out to Mr. Asan that, proof, especially in criminal cases, means strict proof which may not be forthcoming in every case. Still, it may be that the accused should rightly bear the cost of the removal of the stone because, say, there is good room for suspicion against him and the stone is found in his land. It is expected that the Court will exercise a sound discretion in every case. There is no reason to think that the court will act arbitrarily and it may not be possible to lay down a rule of general application. That is why the court is proposed to be given a discretion in the matter of asking the accused to pay the cost of removal of the stones. In civil cases, even where the plaintiff has won the case, in some instances the plaintiff is not allowed his cost of suit, and it happens that he is even asked to pay the costs of the defendant in some cases. Similarly, in criminal trespass, although the accused may be found not guilty, he may be forcibly evicted from a land. Therefore, it is not always a question of real guilt in the matter of charging the costs. In the present case it is also a question of public policy. If the court has reasons to think that the accused might have been responsible for the act, although proof in the strict legal sense might not be available, he might be asked to pay the cost. I do not see anything wrong in such discretion being vested in the courts. But, if the House is not prepared to trust the court with such discretion, which perhaps is wise, the House may accept the second part also of Mr. Asan's amendment.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: So, you do not accept the amendment?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I accept the first part of the amendment. In regard to the second part of the amendment I do not oppose. I merely wanted to explain the actual position, and I have done it.

MR. K. C. ABRAHAM (Kottayam II). Apart from the question of practicability, is it meant as a principle of the Bill that every land-owner should, as a matter of duty, maintain the boundary marks as they are?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): No, not under this Bill. There is another law for it.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I shall split up the amendment into two parts and put them to vote one after another.

The first part of the amendment was put to vote and carried.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Before I put the second part of the amendment to the vote of the House, I wish to say a few words. The point is whether, when a person is found to be not guilty, he could be made to pay the expenses incurred in the removal of the stones as ordered by the courts. The Law Member's explanation, in support of the provision now sought to be amended, is that, though under the strict principles of criminal law different views may be taken on this question, as a matter of public convenience, it will be good to have the provision in the Bill, especially because—as I understood him—it is not likely that a stone would have been planted in a person's compound except with his knowledge.

The second part of the amendment was put to vote and carried.

The question that the Clause, as amended, stand part of the Bill was then put to vote and carried.

The Clause as amended was added to the Bill.

Preamble and Title

The question that the Preamble and the Title stand part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The Preamble and Title were added to the Bill.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): The Bill has been long before the House, and I trust that the House will not have any objection to have the third reading of the Bill even now. With your permission, Sir, I move that the Bill be passed.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

The motion was put to vote and carried.

The Bill was passed.

The House adjourned at 2-10 P. M.

138. *MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Will the Government be pleased to state :

(a) when the following three schools in Erapuramkara, Mazhuvannoor pakuthi, Kunnatnad taluk, were started ;

(i) St. Paul's Primary School ;

(ii) St. Thomas Primary School ;

(iii) Saraswathivilasam Primary School ;

(b) the distance between these three schools ;

(c) whether the St. Thomas Primary School was started by the Manager at the instigation of the department ;

(d) whether objection was raised by anybody before sanction was given to start the Saraswathivilasam Primary School ; if so, by whom ;

(e) who was the officer directly responsible for recommending the sanction for the Saraswathivilasam Primary School ;

(f) what is the strength in Class IV of the Vernacular Middle School at Kunnakurudy ; and

(g) what is the distance between <sup>2</sup>/<sub>2</sub> the Saraswathivilasam School and Kunnakurudy V. M. School ?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction) :

(a) St. Paul's Primary School, Airapuram ... 21-10-1098.

St. Thomas ... 27-12-1099.

Saraswathivilasam ... 2-10-1102.

[Mr. C. V. Chandrasekharan].

(b) Airapuram St. Paul's Primary School to Airapuram St. Thomas Primary School  $1\frac{1}{2}$  miles.

Airapuram Saraswathivilasam Primary School is 6 furlongs to the south of St. Paul's Primary School and about a mile to the north-west of the St. Thomas Primary School.

(c) Yes.

(d) Yes; by the managers of the Airapuram St. Thomas Primary School and the Airapuram St. Paul's Primary School and also by the Assistant Inspector of Schools, Alwaye.

(e) Sry. Bhagirathi Amma, Assistant Inspectress, District VI (old) Alwaye.

(f) 22.

(g) 1 mile 4 furlongs.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Will the Government be pleased to say whether in recommending sanction for the Saraswathivilasam Primary School the Assistant Inspectress had stated that the distance between the two Primary schools is less than three miles?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): No, Sir.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know whether the same Assistant Inspectress refused to sanction the school now occupied by the St. Thomas Primary school on the ground that it is very near the old school?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): The Assistant Inspectress has no power to refuse applications. The Director of Public Instruction rejected the earlier applications.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): On what grounds?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): It happened about 15 years ago. At that time the Director might have thought that the management was not satisfactory or that another school was not necessary in the locality.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know whether one of the reasons is that it is very close to the old school existing there?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): No, Sir. That reason would not have arisen as the Saraswathivilasam Primary School is a girls' school and the other two schools are boys' schools.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know whether in refusing the applications it was considered that the girls' school may very well be accommodated in the old school?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): No, Sir. It was because the Director was satisfied that there was not sufficient accommodation in the other two schools that the third school was sanctioned.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know why in view of the objection raised by the Boys' Department the school was sanctioned?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): The Boys' Department cannot dictate to the Director. He looks into all the aspects of the matter before sanctioning a new school.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know whether the grant for the St. Paul's Primary School was withheld because this school was sanctioned?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): It was withheld for some time but it was subsequently restored.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know whether it is proper to sanction the fourth class in the Saraswathivilasam Primary School in view of the fact that the Malayalam Middle School at Kunnakurudy has only a strength of 22 students in the fourth class and that it is close to the other school?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): All relevant points will be carefully considered before the fourth class is sanctioned.

Fort Government Hospital.

139. *MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): Will the Government be pleased to state whether there is restriction in the Government Hospital within the Fort at Trivandrum in regard to the admission of non-caste Hindus as in-patients?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): Yes; but steps will be taken to remove the restriction.

MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): How long will it take to have the restriction removed?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): It is a question for future action.

Treatment of Tuberculosis patients.

140. *MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): Will the Government be pleased to state whether they have considered the advisability of temporary buildings being put up in commercial localities for the treatment of patients suffering from tuberculosis until the proposed sanatorium in South Travancore is opened?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): The answer is in the negative.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): My original question was about temporary buildings being put up in convenient localities; but it has been printed as commercial localities.

PRESIDENT: I was myself surprised at that question. I have now perused the original copy of the question sent by the member. I think the mistake that was made is a justifiable mistake. I hope the honourable member will not think that I am unduly criticising his handwriting.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): May I know whether the Government are aware that tuberculosis patients are on the increase year after year?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): We have no direct information.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): May I know whether the Government have bestowed their attention to the danger the public are put to by allowing tuberculosis patients to mix freely with the public?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): Yes.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): May I know at what stage the scheme for the opening of a tuberculosis sanatorium in South Travancore stands?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): The site has not been finally decided upon. That will be done in another month.

The Kallara-Aruvipuram Trace.

141. *MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) what has become of the petition presented to them by the citizens of Nedumangad taluk on 14-10-'36 at the instance of their member for the Assembly, requesting the Government that the above trace be converted into an ordinary cartable road by changing the condition that it must be improved under the "Ryots Roads Rules";

(b) how long since the subject of the conversion of the trace is being brought to the notice of the authorities concerned;

(c) how many memorials the people have submitted, how many letters the member for the Assembly has addressed and how many questions the member has put regarding the importance of the trace and the need for converting the trace into a cartable road;

(d) whether they are aware that Rs. 1,000 was allotted in the Budget for 1111 M. E. and Rs. 1,000 in the current year's Budget for the conversion of the trace into a road;

(e) whether they are aware that the people have surrendered free of compensation land to the width of 22 ft. as was required by the department;

(f) whether they are aware that the people at their cost have removed all sorts of obstructions in the trace by removing the huts and buildings and cutting down and removing the jungle wood and several fruit-bearing trees such as jack trees, cocoanuts and arecanut palms etc.; and

(g) whether they are aware that the Public Works Department has already informed them that the trace be converted into an ordinary road at the instance of the Government?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): (a) The petition is under the consideration of Government.

(b) About 8 years.

(c) 1 memorial, 15 letters and 21 interpellations.

(d) Yes.

(e) No, except setting back fences, kayalas, etc.

(f) No.

(g) No.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): With reference to part (b) of the question, may I know what action Government took during the past eight years?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Government have decided that the Kallara-Aruvipuram trace should be constructed as a ryots road under the Ryots Roads Rules.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the people have not made representations to Government to the effect that the above trace should be converted into an ordinary cart road under the Ryots' Roads Rules.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): That is so, Sir.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether Government will be pleased to consider that memorial favourably?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Government have considered that question and decided that the road be constructed as a ryots' road under the Ryots Roads Rules.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the people have not removed all sorts of obstructions on that road?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): The people have cut down the trees which composed of useful wood mostly and left the stumps and roots. Those obstructions have not been cleared.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I ask with reference to the answer to part (c) of the question, till what date were one memorial, 15 letters and 21 interpellations received?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Till the date of this interpellation I believe.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Was this interpellation included in the calculation?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I do not think so.

The Kallara-Aruvipuram Trace.

142. * MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) how many petitions the people have submitted and how many questions the honourable member of the Assembly for Nedumangad taluk has put for converting the Kallara-Aruvipuram trace into an ordinary cartable road; and

(b) what action the Government have taken upon the petitions of the people and of the member and the questions of the member?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation):

(a) 15 petitions and 21 interpellations.

[Mr. G. B. E. Truscott.]

(b) A sum of Rs. 1,000 has been provided in the Budget for 1112 M. E. for the conversion of the trace into a cart road. The work will be taken up when the interested ryots surrender the full width of 22 ft. of land and do the whole earthwork as per alignment given by the P. W. D. as per the Ryots Roads Rules.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): The numbers mentioned in answer to part (c) of the previous question and part (a) of this question vary from each other. May I know which figure is correct?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I do not think the difference is material.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): From the number and nature of the petitions may I know whether Government have understood that the trace is important enough to be converted into a cartable road.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): It seems to indicate that one who cries loudest thinks he has every justification for having a trace which is of purely local importance converted into a road in priority of others.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, I take great objection to the words 'one who cries loudest'. That is a reflection upon the honourable members of this House.

PRESIDENT: I take it that the expression 'cry' was used in a purely parliamentary sense and refers to the strenuousness with which honourable members have tried to have their grievances remedied.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether Government have considered the question because of the strenuous attempt on the part of the members and the public in making representations after representations about the necessity for converting the road into a cartable road?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Government have considered the question.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether Government judge the importance of a road by the number of interpellations and memorials received or by other means?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): By other means.

Honorary Medical Officers in Government Hospitals

143 * MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether they are aware of the decision of the Government of Madras to appoint Honorary Medical Officers in all Government hospitals and dispensaries which had a daily average attendance of 100 or more patients; and

(b) whether they have considered this question, and if so, its decision in the matter?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician):

(a) In 1929, the Government of Madras decided to appoint Honorary Surgeons and Physicians to all Government hospitals alone.

(b) Yes. This scheme was first tried in the General Hospital and has recently been extended to some of the other important hospitals in the State.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know whether in the order of the Government of Madras they have stated that honorary medical officers will be appointed to dispensaries with a daily average attendance of more than 100 patients?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): I accept the member's statement.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know whether Government consider it desirable to adopt this course in Travancore also?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): That is a question of future action. I may however say that the scheme is at the moment in an experimental stage. We will have to judge this question only if the experiment succeeds.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know the number of hospitals in which the experiment has been tried?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): In four hospitals.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know whether the rights and duties devolving upon these honorary surgeons are the same as those devolving upon other surgeons?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): They are subject to the same disciplinary control but there are certain restrictions, such as for instance, they cannot attend to police cases or carry out post mortem examinations.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Is there any penalty for not doing any of their duties according to the directions of the head of the institution?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): The penalty will be that they will be relieved of their position.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know whether these honorary medical officers will be entitled to any preferential claims when appointments are made in the Government service?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): They will have claims according to the work they turn out in the course of their honorary duties.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Is there any limit to the number of persons to be entertained in a hospital as honorary medical officers?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): Yes.

Rural Medical Relief Scheme.

144. *MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether they are aware of the inauguration by the Government of Madras in 1924 of the Rural Medical Relief Scheme by which grant-in-aid is given to the private allopathic dispensaries conducted by qualified medical practitioners in rural areas;

(b) whether any such recommendation was made to the Government by the Travancore Medical Board; and

(c) the action, if any, taken by them on such recommendation?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician):

(a) Yes.

(b) Yes.

(c) Government considered the scheme and ordered its postponement for better times.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know the date on which the Travancore Medical Board made its recommendation to the Government?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): I am afraid I cannot give that information now. But I may say that Government finally decided against the scheme mentioned in part (c) on the 3rd April 1933.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla II): May I know the reason for arriving at such a conclusion?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): They are chiefly financial.

Touring of Officers.

145. *MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether they are aware of an order recently issued by the Punjab Government to their District Officers, that in future instead of motor cars they must use horses for circuiting in different parts of the District so that they may get themselves more acquainted with the people and their needs;

(b) if the answer to part (a) is in the affirmative, whether they have considered the desirability of adopting the principle involved in the said order; and

(c) if the answer to part (a) is in the negative, whether they would consider the desirability of accepting the principle involved in the said order?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government):

(a) Government have no information.

(b) & (c) In view of the answer to part (a) these do not arise.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know whether they would consider it necessary or desirable to ask the District Officers to use horses for circuiting in different parts of the District so that they may get acquainted with the people?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I doubt whether it is feasible or advantageous to insist upon the District Officers using horses for touring.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla II): May I ask whether Government will ascertain if the Punjab Government have issued such an order?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I do not think it necessary to do so.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): May I know whether the system of giving horse allowance was in vogue in Travancore at any time?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Yes, some officers were at one time given an allowance for maintaining horses.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): May I know why that system was stopped?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Since the advent of the motor cars it is found more advantageous to travel in them. By travelling in a motor car one has to spend less time in actual journeys and can devote more time to work. On the other hand if one goes about riding or in a conveyance like a bullock cart most of the time will be spent in travelling and very little in actual work.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): Do the Government think that the subordinate executive officers are competent to own motor cars?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): They can keep motor cycles or even push cycles.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): Are the Government aware that there were definite rules issued on the subject of touring of District Officers at the time of Dewans, the honourable Rama Aiyangar and Rama Rao?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Yes, but those rules were republished quite recently for the information of the officers.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): But do those rules require the District Officers to tour according to those rules, staying at particular places, at particular times? Do those rules exist even now?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Those rules are now in existence and they are being observed as far as possible.

MR. K. R. NARAYANA AIYAR (Director of Agriculture and Fisheries):

(a) Yes.

(b) Segregation of infected animals, proper burial of carcasses of animals which die of this disease, disinfection of stalls in which diseased animals are housed and serum alone method of inoculation are the preventive measures adopted by the Department. Symptomatic treatment of the infected animals is also followed.

(c) No. But the Department has found by investigation that inoculation with goat virus is a better remedy for this disease.

Improvement of Goat breeding in Travancore

147. *MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(c) Yes.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know, in view of the answer to part (b), whether the Government will take steps to increase the number of hands in the Dispensary at Chengannur?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): It is not the intention of Government to form a Hospital at Chengannur because the hospitals at Tiruvalla and Kozhencherry are in close proximity to Chengannur.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): My question is not for the establishment of the hospital at a more convenient place at Chengannur. In view of the fact that the number of out-patients in Chengannur dispensary is 409 when compared to other hospitals, may I know whether Government will be pleased to take steps to increase the number of hands in the present dispensary?

Will the Government be pleased to explain the cause of the difference in the yield?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): The difference in the yield in the Sri Sankara Allom and the Puthallom Factory during 1110, was due to the difference in the interest and earnestness on the part of the respective licensees.

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): From the Manakudi lake as well as from brine pits inside the factory.

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner) : Details are not available. The Assistant Excise Commissioner reports that it was partly due to the adjustment for the work done in 1105 and partly due to the work undertaken in that year itself.

MR. G. NILAKANTAM (Nominated) : May I know whether this extra expenditure is due to the fact that the still is an old one?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner) : It is a fact that it is an old still.

DEMANDS FOR SUPPLEMENTARY GRANTS.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

PRESIDENT: The House will now proceed to the next item of business.

Mr. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Sir, I rise to move for a grant not exceeding Rs. 56,860 for (1) acquisition of land for the construction of Customs House, godowns and wharves in connection with the opening of the Port at Neendakara to the extent of Rs. 4,980, and (2) for the construction of permanent buildings for the Leper Colony at Noornad to the extent of Rs. 51,880. The Excise Commissioner will explain the reason for the demand of Rs. 4,980 required for the completion of the construction of customs house, godowns and wharves in connection with the opening of a Port at Neendakara and I will confine myself to the grant for the Leper Colony at Noornad.

Government have sanctioned altogether for the Leper Colony at Noornad, 3 estimates aggregating to Rs. 3,28,900 against which an expenditure of Rs. 2,07,189 has been incurred up to the end of the year 1111. The difference between the estimated amount and the expenditure so far incurred is Rs. 1,21,711. Of this Rs. 24,230 is required for payment of works that were in progress last year for which there is a budget provision of Rs. 20,000 in the current year and the remaining Rs. 21,500 is for works yet to be started in addition to the completion of the water supply arrangements which alone requires Rs. 26,150. When those works are completed the patients can be admitted to the hospital. I do not think there is any necessity to explain the demand further. I have given all the relevant figures and I hope the House will agree with me that it is desirable to admit the patients into the permanent buildings as early as possible.

Mr. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): Is there not a port at Quilon?

PRESIDENT: Order, order. I take it that the honourable member's question relates to item No. 1.

Mr. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): Yes, Sir.

PRESIDENT: The honourable member will perhaps wait until the Excise Commissioner has spoken.

Mr. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Demands are often made.....

PRESIDENT: Will the honourable member please raise his voice a little louder?

Mr. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Demands are often made by firms interested in the landing of goods at or near Quilon for permission to land heavy materials through the Neendakara Port. First of all the Electrical Engineer wanted to land some heavy machinery at Neendakara and then the A. D. Cotton Mills wanted to land an engine for their mills through Neendakara. Messrs Pierce, Leslie & Company also asked for permission to land coal at Neendakara. As such demands are made, the Government propose to open a port at Neendakara as distinct from the one at Quilon and construct customs house, godowns and wharves there. It is for that purpose that this demand is made. The demand now relates to the compensation to be paid for the acquisition of land for that purpose on the northern side of the Neendakara Bar, to the east of the bridge. I move that the House may grant the demand.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Madhilaka): May I know whether these demands were not complied with all this time?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): In two instances we had to grant special sanction due to the absence of a regular port.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know when that special sanction was given?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): One was in March 1935 and the other some time afterwards, in October 1935.

RAO SAHIB MAHA KAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): Has no estimate been prepared for Neendakara being converted into a port?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): No estimate has been prepared. Now the demand is only for compensation for the acquisition of lands.

RAO SAHIB MAHA KAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): Has the member no idea as to the extent of the expenditure that the scheme would involve?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): I am not in a position to give any definite information now.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamitta): Is this demand likely to necessitate a permanent customs house there?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): It is more godowns and wharves that are necessary now for the landing of goods. No permanent staff for a customs house is in contemplation at present.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know the articles that could be landed at the Neendakara Port?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Heavy machinery and coal have been already landed at Neendakara. It is more convenient to land these articles through Neendakara for further transport through the backwaters.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum--Rural): May I know the total cost for opening the Port at Neendakara?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): The total cost has not been estimated.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum--Rural): Cannot the member give at least an approximate amount of the total cost?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): I am not in a position to give it now.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum--Rural): Am I to take it that Government have embarked upon this scheme without any idea as to the total cost?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Of course it is not going to be a very costly thing. That is all that I can say now.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): I wish to know whether it would cost Rs. ten lakhs, one lakh or one thousand? The expression "very costly" may be interpreted in different ways by different people. I wish to know what the Government means by that?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): On the assurance of the Chief Engineer I can say that it would not cost more than the cost for the construction of the building.

PRESIDENT: It is open to the Chief Engineer to speak if he is so inclined.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): At present the anchorage has been completed by the Survey Department. Boundary pillars demarcating the port have been built, and the only thing necessary at present is land for the building of the customs house and the wharves. Large expenditure would be necessary only when the Neendakara Port is more largely used.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): I wish to know the total cost for the works now under contemplation?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Rs. 4,980.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): That is not what I want. I want to know the total cost for the completion of the whole scheme?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): This expenditure is for land for the construction of buildings in the port. The other will depend mainly on how the port is used by the shippers.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): What is the anticipation of Government in regard to that?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): It is anticipated that the Neendakara Port will be used by interested parties.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the customs house and the godowns are to be constructed before the opening of the port or subsequent to the opening?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I don't know whether a port is going to be opened. Now the attempt is that facilities should be given for boats to come into the port and to land their cargo.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, it is stated in the Demand "in connection with the opening of a port at Neendakara.....". In the absence of a port why should the customs house and godowns be erected?

PRESIDENT: I take it that the honourable members have got notice of these demands.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Is there not a difference between a Port and a Harbour? Sir, all these questions are put to know whether it is the intention of Government to have a port or a harbour at Quilon?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Only a port is going to be opened at Neendakara.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Is there not even now a port at Quilon for which no extraordinary expenditure was incurred?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Sir, may I just point out to the House that Neendakara has not yet been declared a port. For that purpose a notification will be published. The demand is for the acquisition of land. After the land is acquired, buildings will have to be constructed, and when all that is done a notification will be published declaring Neendakara as a Port.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Is there any idea of declaring Neendakara a Port?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Yes, that is why the demand is made.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvallur III): May I know what was the urgent necessity for moving a supplementary grant?

PRESIDENT: It is open to the President of this Assembly to speak on any motion, and having regard to the questions which have been put on the motion and a number of misconceptions which must have arisen, I propose to say a few words on these matters. In connection with the Pallivasal Scheme some heavy goods will have to be imported. The landing of these goods cannot be adequately handled at Al'ceppey. On the whole the demand has been great that facilities should be made at Neendakara for the landing of heavy cargo. In order to make Neendakara suitable for this purpose preliminary estimates of expenses are necessary and in order to meet that contingency I take that this supplemental grant is moved.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Sir, I oppose the demand. The first item of the demand s. c., for Rs. 4,910 is objected on two grounds. One is that it should not be brought forward as a supplementary demand. The question of the goods to be got down at Neendakara for the purpose of the Pallivasal Scheme is not a new one. The Boundary pillar was erected a few years before and an allotment was sanctioned for the same. And at that time there was this necessity of having a customs house etc., but it was not brought to the notice of this House. Probably some more goods will have to be landed for Pallivasal works; but there is no ground why a necessity that has not been felt on a previous occasion should be felt now. With regard to the goods for Pallivasal, there is no difficulty of ascertaining the value of goods without a special customs house. The other ground stated by the Excise Commissioner was that there was a demand from two companies for making landing facilities at Neendakara. It is not stated as to when the demands from these companies came to Government. He said that the Peirce Leslie Company and the A. D. Cotton Mills at Quilon had applied to Government for this in the year 1935. This does not establish the necessity to have a permanent customs house or a godown at Neendakara. These kinds of demands will arise only occasionally. If the Government want to oblige a particular firm.....

PRESIDENT : I take it that the honourable member is reconciled to all these goods going to Cochin if landing facilities are not given at Neendakara.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Marattikara) : Yes, Sir. This ground was brought forward when the goods for Pallivasal works were sought to be landed at Neendakara. But I do not fear that either the two firms or a larger number of firms at Quilon will prefer to have goods landed at Cochin and have them carried through more costly conveyances to Quilon than meet a small expenditure for landing goods at Quilon. I do not fear, Sir, that such a contingency would happen. But we are only concerned with the sanction of Rs. 4,980 for a permanent customs house. And we are not told as to the exact quantity of goods that are to be annually landed at Neendakara. I am not sure whether in the 4,980 rupees is included the pay of the staff as well. That has not been mentioned. It is stated "it is for the acquisition of lands etc." Then for the additional staff there will be further demands made from the Excise Commissioner during the next meeting of the Assembly. Sir, I am of opinion that when a supplementary demand is made there must be a special reason which did not exist at the time when the General Budget was introduced. Nothing of that sort has happened here. With regard to the next item of demand also, there was absolutely no justification for not including it in the General Budget. Large funds were set apart in the same for other purposes and the Government should have known that the amount was not sufficient for completing the same. The only reason that I could find for not including such a big amount under Leper Colony in the General Budget is to see that the budget should appear to be a surplus one or that the Government did not want to bring down the surplus sum under the budget.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I) : Sir, I wish to offer a few remarks on this motion for supplementary grants. Sir, nobody for a moment doubts the necessity and the utility of this scheme. I don't think any serious objection is raised on that ground. We should see that these ports are developed as far as possible and as soon as possible and we must have more of them. And it has also to be taken into consideration that if heavy machinery allowed to be landed in Neendakara through the water route it may be a more advantageous and cheaper mode of transport to Pallivasal. I remember the Electrical Engineer explaining it to the House showing what substantial gain could be got if it is possible to land machinery in or near Neendakara. Because some firms also want to land their machinery for their use it cannot be taken that we should not incur an expenditure because they are private firms. Sir, affirming that facility for carrying on all businesses should be given I will have to make a few remarks on the manner in which these demands are presented to the House. The House has taken a consistent view with regard to the development of our ports and have claimed that they ought to be developed as soon as possible. But, Sir, it may be said that the income that we derive by way of customs at Quilon Port or from ports north of Quilon is not wholly ours: we only get a share that is allotted to us. It may be asked then why should we incur more expenditure. That is a fact. But it is not merely the customs dues that we must take into consideration. Our prime consideration must be the development of the industries, commerce and other adjuncts of a progressive State. So, there cannot be any valid objection on the merits with regard to the development of this scheme.

With regard to the Noornad Leper Colony the question arose as to what was the necessity for this additional expenditure at this time of the year. I was able to understand that the additional expenditure became necessary on account of the fact that at first Government thought of completing the scheme bit by bit and afterwards they found it impossible to do so and they wanted to finish it as a whole. So they have demanded for a supplementary grant. The Government is quite right in demanding it, as we all know that they cannot take all the lepers and leave them without protection. Moreover, workmen refuse to go into the Colony when people affected with the disease are brought into the Colony. I can understand that it is a reasonable ground. But I do consider that there is some technical objection with regard to the way in which supplementary grants are made. I do not understand what prevented Government from bringing it forward during the regular budget session. Sir, in the Standing Orders rule 77 states thus:—

- (1) An estimate shall be presented to the Assembly and the Council for a supplementary or additional grant when:—
  - (a) the amount voted in the budget of a grant for which the vote of the legislature is necessary is found to be insufficient for the purpose of the current year,
  - (b) a need arises during the current year for expenditure, for which the vote of the legislature is necessary upon some new service not contemplated in the budget for that year.
- (2) An estimate may be presented to the Assembly and the Council for an additional or supplementary grant in respect of any demand to which the Assembly or the Council has previously refused its assent or in respect of an amount which the Assembly has refused.
- (3) Supplementary or additional estimates shall be dealt with by the Assembly and the Council in the same way as if they were demands for grants.

Sir, under what head do these items come and why were they not presented in the usual course? What were the special difficulties which prevented the Government from bringing it out as a regular demand? An explanation is due from the Government member who brings forward a supplementary grant. This House has been a bit lax in the matter of allowing supplementary grants. I consider that the present demand will be allowed by the House on the merits of the scheme. Some feeling remains in this House that no adequate explanation has been given by the member as to why it was brought forward as a supplementary grant. Under what head provided for the demand under supplementary grants does this come? I think that my friend

[Mr. K. Kunjukrishna Pillai.]

Mr. Asan was pressing this point. I take that this view point is a correct one that is to be taken if this House has to exercise its proper control over the expenditure of funds by Government. But on the merits of the schema, I have nothing to say against the demand, except that some explanation ought to be given why this was not brought forward earlier since it has been admitted by the Excise Commissioner himself that the proposal came as early as 1935. The Electrical Department also made it known to them that they wanted to have facilities to land the machinery at Neendakara sufficiently early. It has also come to the notice of the Excise Commissioner that other firms wanted to get facilities. In the face of these statements, one would think that the Government member who brought forward the demand was not aware of the rules regarding supplementary grants. I request that as far as possible, supplementary grants have to be brought in strictly under the rules and even when it has become absolutely necessary to put forward supplementary grants, Government members should be asked to give the reasons, so that we may feel sure that they are at least aware of the rules relating to supplementary grants.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Urban): I am not against declaring Neendakara as a port nor am I against the construction of a Customs House at Neendakara, for it is well known that without customs house, the revenue cannot be collected and smuggling cannot be prevented. But I propose to say a few words, because on previous occasions, in regard to the construction of Public Works, mistakes of a serious character have been made, that the Government have to be very careful in pushing such kinds of work. The distance between the Port of Quilon and the Port of Neendakara is only three or four miles. Quilon was a port for centuries and centuries and Neendakara was also not unimportant. Sir, for the last 70 or 80 years, the Government have been neglecting their chances of developing our own ports. Not merely that. The A. V. M. canal was constructed between Trivandrum and Colachel with the idea of giving communication between Colachel and Trivandrum, and with the idea of improving the Colachel Port. Sir, it is unfortunate to note that even that portion of the canal which had been opened with a flourish of trumpets as a patriotic duty by one of the great sovereigns of Travancore, that canal which couples the glorious names of the Maharajas with the still more glorious name of Queen Victoria, that canal which had been opened on the authority and assurance of the Travancore Government, is now neglected.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon 1): Sir, it has been proved that during discussions on supplementary demands general policy cannot be discussed. I am afraid the discussion deals with the general policy.

PRESIDENT: I take it that in the case of a much experienced member of the Assembly all these should be regarded as introductory to the discussion. (Laughter).

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Urban) :

am very thankful. I certainly know the law on the subject and I would be the last man to do anything not allowed by law. My point was only this, that before proceeding with this work, Government ought to be satisfied that it is a workable proposition which would confer benefit on the people.

The fact that the distance between Quilon and Neendakara is only four miles raises an important issue. Are we to have both the ports? Are we to improve both of them? They are questions connected with this supplementary grant. My only object in saying this before this House is that Government should be careful. They must consult real experts. There are specialists for every purpose. There is a specialist for looking to customs, the Excise Commissioner. There is a specialist in the Engineering Department. That is Mr. Truscott. But to co-ordinate these things, these various points of view, there is no organisation. Government have necessarily to sit in judgment over all these questions. No doubt, the experience of Government is great, but no Government has a mastery of all subjects. Therefore we have to be more careful. Things are often done without sufficient data, without correct knowledge. There are ports in Travancore but hitherto there are no proper charts prepared. So, if you embark on these schemes, I say, it should only be after a co-ordination of ideas. It should not be like two persons joining together to translate a piece of English into Malayalam; one of them not knowing English and the other not understanding Malayalam. I therefore submit that this House should take into consideration the prospects of the ports before you make a grant for the construction of a customs house.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II) : Sir, it is very much regretted that an important question like this should have given room for so much discussion and so much misunderstanding. When we are discussing the question of making Neendakara a port, we are trying to bring in the A. V. M. canal and the history of the Colachel Port. The question is whether this House shall vote for the demand now made of five thousand and odd rupees for the construction of a port at Neendakara and for affording further facilities for working it as a proper port. In the first place I understand that my learned friend Mr. Damodaran Asan has opposed it on principle and not on merits. I cannot conceive of any member of this House opposing the proposal on the merits. Quilon, they say is a port and the Government say now that Neendakara must also be made a port. Why should Neendakara be made a port when we have already a port at Quilon? This question, if properly answered would remove all doubts on the matter in question. Any person who is acquainted with Quilon can understand the necessity of a port at Neendakara. The development of the Quilon Port was considered by Government along with the opening of a port at Neendakara. These schemes were being investigated from a very long time past. Many have visited the places and enquired into the matter. They have all decided that Neendakara affords better facilities for a developing port. For developing the Quilon Port, a pucca pier has to be constructed at enormous cost. The difficulty is for goods to be taken from the ships to the land across the high waves. Several accidents, resulting in loss of life and loss of property are the common features of the loading and unloading at Quilon. But Neendakara Port has its calm waters and has its larger facilities. Instead of spending a large sum of money for developing the Quilon Port, Government think it proper that Neendakara Port should be improved with a smaller investment resulting in greater advantage. Let alone the general question of employment for the unemployed. The place around Neendakara would become commercially more valuable and better prospects may be given to the people.

I do not plead that this must be the defence for the proposal. Now Neendakara has other prospects. A port is not a port for unloading. It is a port from where goods also may be loaded. Look at the development we have been having recently in regard to the monazite and ilmenite manufacture. Because of this work near Neendakara price of land has gone up very much. A large number of people are doing work in the various factories. Applications are being made every month for the issue of fresh license. These indicate that Neendakara unlike Quilon port area, has a future as a manufacturing centre. Now I understand that these heavy materials are being taken in Vallams across the troublesome breakers to the ships and the shippers find it highly inconvenient and risky. The cost of transport is also heavy. If on the other hand the Neendakara Port is improved, transport will become easier, less risky and less costly. It will naturally result in an increase in export which implies larger production and larger employment of labour. It means additional revenue to the State. Not only Quilon or Karunagapalli, but even Colachel also will be interested in the development of a Port at Neendakara. There is no question of Central and South Travancore in this matter.

And after all what is the demand? It is only 5,000 rupees. Thousands and thousands of rupees are being spent on various other works. I am not surprised at Mr. Asan opposing the demand because he did it on principle and not because he had anything to say against it on the merits of the question. He is always opposed to a demand which is not brought forward in time. On principle I too support his view. Sir, Government have been considering this question for some time. Unfortunately it was not possible for arriving at a decision when the budget for this year was prepared. A decision could be arrived at only by Chingam this year. On that ground should we wait for another 11 months till the next year's budget is got ready? Personally, Sir, I would wish that all such matters are brought in at the Budget Session; because then this matter would not have attracted the attention of the honourable members here and would have been carried without any difficulty whatsoever. We all know, Sir, that during the Budget Session item after item is being passed en bloc. Then Colachel would not have evoked feelings of patriotism in some members and Neendakara would not have evoked patriotism in another. It is a matter which has been engaging the attention of Government for a very long time. The decision was made only recently and the demand at present is proper. I therefore support the supplementary demand.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangudi): I rise to support both the items of this supplementary demand. It has been stated by some of my friends that this demand was not in order since it could have been thought of even at the budget time. Rule 77 (b) says: that an item of expenditure for a new service which could not have been contemplated at budget time could be brought in as a Supplementary Demand. And the Chief Secretary has just now told us that the Government propose—they have not yet done it; it is only a proposal—to declare Neendakara also as a port. Certainly the Government have come to that decision only after the budget for the year was passed. The demand is quite in order.

As regards the utility of Neendakara as a port, I can assure the House, from my own personal experience as a layman, that Neendakara would be the best port in Travancore. Long before Travancore entered the Cochin Harbour scheme, during the time of the late Maharaja, the Government of Travancore had this idea of developing Neendakara as a port. Unfortunately, for some reason or other, that proposal fell through; and now Travancore has entered into the Cochin Harbour Scheme. I can assure this House that Neendakara would be useful not only for the people around there and for this State as a whole, but also for the whole of South India if a port is started there. It would be a much better port than even the Cochin Harbour. The facilities now available at Alleppey and Quilon are not at all attractive to big shipping firms. It is therefore very necessary that Neendakara is developed into a port as early as possible. I am sure it would indirectly help the industrial and commercial regeneration of the State.

With regard to the second item of the demand, Mr. Truscott has informed us that the work has already been completed and that the contractor has to be paid. This House is bound to see that such payments are made in time.

With these words, I support both the items of the demand.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): I request that I may be given just one minute to make a personal explanation in order to clear a misunderstanding. I never said anything against the construction of a Customs House or other buildings, or the development of the Neendakara port. I only said that in declaring Neendakara as a port, it should be borne in mind.....

PRESIDENT: Such assurances are hardly necessary from the Deputy President of this House.

Mr. P. CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI (Commerce and Industry, South): As the President of the South Travancore Chamber of Commerce, I am in full agreement with the views expressed by my honourable friend Mr. T. K. Velu Pillai as regards the Colachel Harbour. It is perfectly true that that harbour has been starved for years together while practically all the resources of the State have been spent on the mud-bank of Alleppey which has proved very costly and after all a failure.

But, Sir, it is not on that ground that I oppose the demand. My point is this. We do not know exactly what the development of this port would cost us on the whole. That is the ground on which I oppose the demand. A Singapore basin may be started at Neendakara, and it may ultimately prove to be a very costly scheme and perhaps also a bad failure.

PRESIDENT : So far as I can see, there is no idea of developing a submarine base at Neendakara.

MR. P. CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI (Commerce and Industry, South) :

Sir, what troubles me most is this. Why should we think of developing a port without having any idea about the total cost involved? Why should we make a post-mortem estimate (Laughter.) of such works? Therefore, Sir, I would, on a question of financial principle, oppose the demand.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III) : I wish to speak a few words on the first part of the demand. I have not yet decided whether to vote for or against this demand. It is clear from the statement made by the Chair that the object of this grant is to afford better facilities for the landing of some heavy goods needed for the Pallivasal scheme. There is no doubt that, if there is real necessity for that even now, the demand should be granted. Personally I think that, although the need for such facilities might have existed at the time the Pallivasal works were commenced and were in progress, there is no reason to suppose that the authorities in charge of the works would have waited so long for this. We have not been told that the necessity exists even now. I do not think the Department could have waited so long. They must have somehow managed to land the goods that they required. Unless there is actual necessity even now, I am not for granting this demand. I request the Chair to direct some responsible officer to furnish this House with the information as regards the present necessity for this item of expenditure.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated) : I rise to support the motion for this supplementary grant. I must say that the information furnished by the official benches on this subject has not been adequate. Under the first item, the amount of Rs. 4,000 and odd now asked for is intended for the acquisition of land for the construction of certain buildings which will inevitably lead in future to further expenditure. It was therefore that I asked the Government member in charge of the demand what the actual cost of the erection of the Customs House, godowns and wharves would be on the whole.

The Government member was not in a position to furnish that information, although it could have been easily ascertained. I beg to suggest that, in future at least, when such demands are brought before this House, the Government members concerned would come prepared with an idea of the entire cost of the scheme and other particulars, as otherwise, it would not be possible for us to help them with our votes. All the same, I think that the cost, in this instance, may not be very heavy, and therefore, I am willing to support this portion of the demand.

From what I know of Neendakara and Quilon, I may say that Neendakara is a place of growing importance; and if it is declared as a port it will be of use not only to the people of Neendakara but of the State as a whole.

There has not been much of opposition as regards the second item included in this demand. I think that item has also to be granted.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavakkod): I have very great pleasure in supporting both the items of this demand. It has been the tradition of this House not to refuse a grant of this nature, especially one intended for the development of our ports. There is no question of any parochial or local patriotism in such matters. There is no such thing as Neendakara patriotism or Colachel patriotism. Sir, that great soldier-statesman, Raja Kesavadas, was a native of South Travancore and he was the maker of modern Alleppey. It was he who developed the Alleppey port. It is not in the blood of any Travancorean, whether he belongs to Parur or to Cape Comorin or to Karunagapalli or to Shencotta, to stand in the way of the development of our ports. That has always been the desire of every patriotic Travancorean to whichever caste or community he might belong. There is, therefore, no use in side-tracking the issue by referring to local patriotism.

Sir, this is a very important question. In considering the development and maintenance of our ports, we have always to bear in mind the commitments that we have already made and also the possibility of our joining the Federation of India. Sir, we are parties to the Cochin Harbour Agreement. Neendakara, we must remember, is within the pooling zone, as it were, of the Cochin Harbour scheme. Fortunately for us, we have ports south of Quilon also; and they are outside the pooling area of the Cochin Harbour scheme. Colachel and Srimulapuram are two good ports in South Travancore. It has been ascertained that Srimulapuram is nearer Colombo than Tuticorin; and Colombo, as we all know, is in the trade route of the world. It should always be the aim and endeavour of our Government to develop these ports in South Travancore. My friend Mr. Puthupally Krishna Pillai referred to the monazite, ilmenite and zircon factories working in the neighbourhood of Neendakara. Certainly those factories, must be given shipping facilities, as the monazite factories near Colachel should be given shipping facilities there.

PRESIDENT: Some time ago, when certain question was put regarding the relevancy of the observations of a previous speaker, I referred to those remarks as being introductory. The remarks of the honourable member now in possession of the House, I may mention, can hardly be regarded as introductory. It is the Neendakara port that is now under discussion before the House.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): I submit, Sir, that it would be worth our while to develop the Neendakara port, especially because it would facilitate the landing of heavy goods needed for the Pallivasal scheme. There is no harm in our taking advantage of this immediate need and spending this small amount for the development of the Neendakara port. With regard to the other item, viz., the construction of additional buildings for the Noornad leper colony it is a matter that has cropped up in the course of the current financial year. I find from the current year's budget that Rs. 20,000 has been allotted for this purpose. But the Chief Engineer has found that in the course of the year it is better and more convenient to take up all the buildings at once. For, if temporary sheds are put up where the leper patients are housed, the contractor will find it difficult to proceed with the work later on. So it was quite proper on the part of the Government to take up the completion of all the buildings for housing the leper patients at the same time. I was a member, Sir, of the Finance Committee before which this item was placed. The whole matter was discussed with the Government member and it is only after that that the item was granted by the Committee.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Piravandram-Jural): Sir, it may be a very good thing to open a port at Neendakara. But we must not overlook the fact that we are dealing with the question in its financial aspect. I do not mean to say that the Travancore Government will not be able to spend Rs. 50,000 or Rs. 1 lakh for a scheme of this kind. But I maintain that when Government place before this House a new scheme of this kind they must be in a position to tell the House what approximately is the cost of this scheme. I asked for this information repeatedly of the official member. But there was no answer. The official side merely stated that the expenditure will not be large. Is it an answer? Am I to be satisfied with such an answer when we are discussing a scheme of this kind? I expect Government to give me a satisfactory answer when they want this House to consider this matter. This is not an insignificant matter.

It has been stated in this House that there has been a demand for opening this port for some time. What has Government been doing all this time? They were not willing to place this matter at the time of the budget. They have waited so long and yet they could not say what the approximate cost will be. Therefore I must oppose this demand for the port. By that I should not be taken to say that I am against the opening of the port. It is not so. There are other considerations why I oppose this item. Apart from the consideration of the proximity of the Quilon port, I oppose this demand on the financial aspect of it.

In regard to the leper colony at Noornad I am at a loss to understand why this supplementary demand was made now. I am sorry I was not able to hear the Chief Engineer distinctly. I think he told this House that the money has already been spent and the building has already been completed. If so, I am prepared to support it. If not, I hope that more particulars will be given so that I may be persuaded to support this demand. But as things stand at present I have to oppose it.

Mr. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Sir, while supporting the motion I cannot but make a few observations on the way in which the demand has been made and the reasons advanced both by the official members and the members on this side of the House. I only want to deal with the question of the development of Neendakara into a port. It seems to me that Neendakara, compared with Quilon, has greater facilities and if properly developed it will become an important port in Central Travancore. Apart from that consideration, I cannot agree with the view expressed by one of the members that because one or two monazite factories have begun to work there, we should give facilities for them to export monazite and that because there is the Pallivasal Hydro-Electric Scheme and materials have to be imported, we must give the company that imports them a port nearby. Sir, if we are to give facilities to one or two companies for shipment and unloading by giving each one a port by spending Government money, there will be no end of it and no justification for it. Sir, the monazite in Manavalakurichi is exported through Colachel port which is as distant from it not more from the factory than Quilon is from Neendakara. What I say is that this consideration should not weigh with us in launching on a scheme involving heavy expenditure. As far as the particular scheme is concerned I agree to it because I am strongly of opinion that Neendakara will be a better port than Quilon. But before launching on such schemes in future the Government must consider their commitments in other directions. My view is that Government should afford port facilities south of Quilon as far as possible, because the customs revenue received from ports north of Quilon is not going to affect us materially under the terms of the Cochin Harbour agreement. If Quilon and Alleppey were the only ports brought within the pool of the Cochin Harbour revenue, then I would have advocated the development of Neendakara with much more vehemence and greater pleasure. But that is not so. Government will do well therefore to bestow greater attention on the development of ports south of Quilon, as for example Trivandrum, Vizhinjam, Colachel and Leepuram.

Mr. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): I wish to oppose item I of the demand. In doing so I wish to bring to the notice of Government the reply given by them in answer to an interpellation this morning that the price of copra ranges from Rs. 50 to Rs. 105. I wish to assure the House that the price of copra has never been above Rs. 50. If that is the kind of estimate for the Neendakara port, then I cannot support the demand. As Mr. Veta Pillai and Mr. Thannu

[Mr. P. C. Kuriyan]

Pillai have stated I should have more details before I support this scheme. Sir, we have heard a good deal about the Pallivasal Hydro-Electric Scheme. From what I have heard I am forced to express that there is good ground for the fear in the country about the success of the Pallivasal Scheme. There is also a fear about the success of the Rubber Factory.

PRESIDENT: Order, order. I rule that all references relating to the rubber factory and the possibilities of the Pallivasal Scheme are not germane to the question before the House.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): With these words I oppose the demand.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Sir, I wish to say a few words. I wish to know whether the Neendakara port is to be treated in the same way as the Manakudi port, the Sree Mulpuram port, the Munambam port and the Trivandrum port. If it is to be treated like the Manakudi port, I wish to know the necessity for godowns, wharves, &c., If I am furnished with information on these points I shall be able to pronounce an opinion on these two subjects.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I little expected that there would be so much criticism and discussion on the demand relating to the Neendakara Port. Sir, the idea of declaring Neendakara a port started when the Electrical Engineer reported to Government the necessity of having wharves at Neendakara for the landing of heavy machinery required for the Pallivasal Scheme. On receipt of the report of the Electrical Engineer Government took the matter up with the Marine Survey Department of the Government of India. The anchorage at Neendakara had to be surveyed before Government could decide whether it would be possible to declare Neendakara a port. Though the Electrical Engineer wanted facilities for importing heavy machinery earlier than the Marine Department could finish the survey, it was not possible to do so. That was the reason why Government were not able to provide for this item in the budget for the current year.

The question was asked whether the necessity for landing the machinery for the Pallivasal Scheme still continues. I may say it does. Though some machinery were imported through Cochin, more machinery have yet to be got down and it will be to our advantage if we could import them through Neendakara.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I ask whether goods are not being got down through Neendakara till now?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): They are being got down through Cochin because facilities for landing do not exist at Neendakara.

Again, machinery have to be got down for the ceramic factory at Kundara. If facilities are not provided at Neendakara machinery will have to be imported through Cochin.

There seems to be some misconception as to how the amount will be spent. The amount is required for the acquisition of lands for the construction of customs house, godowns and wharves.

The machinery will be brought by the steamer. The steamer itself will not go into the backwater direct. The machinery will be transhipped from the steamer into barges which will go through the Neendakara bar into the backwater. Some wharves are necessary for unloading the machinery from the barges. It is proposed to provide these in the backwater. The wharves will be constructed within the Neendakara lake and near its shores. It is also proposed to construct customs house and godowns after acquiring the necessary lands. The necessity for the construction of the customs house and godowns will arise not because Government want to import their own machinery. When once facilities are provided for importing machinery for Government purposes the same facilities can be made available to private firms also for the import and export of their goods.

A few miles north of Neendakara there is a place called Kozhitottam which is now a port. At present ilminite which is being collected and stored at Neendakara is being shipped from Kozhitottam. If Neendakara and Kozhitottam are combined into one port, ilminite collected and stored at Neendakara need not be taken all the way to Kozhitottam, but can be shipped straight from there. Facilities have therefore to be provided not only for the import of heavy machinery but also for the export of ilminite and other products, and for this purpose Neendakara should be declared a port. As I explained a little while ago, before Neendakara could be declared a port a notification has to appear in the Gazette. The question whether Neendakara should be declared a port independent of Kozhitottam or the two places could be a combined port is under consideration. Before anything is done in this direction the necessary facilities must be provided for loading and unloading goods. Once the place is declared a port anybody could import and export goods and then the necessity for collecting import and export duties will arise. Unless we have a customs house and customs officers, the payment of duty could be evaded.

Then the question was asked, how much the development of Neendakara as a port would cost ultimately. I must say that an accurate estimate has not been prepared. The honourable members can realise from what I have said that the idea is not to bring the steamers right into the backwater and build huge wharves or anything of the kind for that purpose. The proposal is only to build small wharves so that goods can be unloaded from barges. The goods will be transhipped from the steamers into barges which will have to go into the backwater through the Neendakara bar. It is only for unloading the goods from the barges that the construction of wharves is necessary.

MR. P. CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI (Commerce and Industry, South): May I know whether the Chambers of Commerce were consulted in this matter?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): No, Sir. Originally the idea was to import heavy machinery for the Pallivasal Scheme. Now there is necessity for importing machinery for the Ceramic factory, and ilminite and other articles produced in the State could also be exported. I may inform the House that Government are not going to invest lakhs and lakhs of Rupees for the development of this port. Now the idea is only to have small wharves. Government do not propose to incur heavy expenditure at present. But ultimately if it is found to be a paying concern the question of investing more money on further development may be considered.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mararikara): May I know whether the masonry and other building works at Neendakara have been completed?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): No, Sir. The difficulty in making provision in the budget for the current year was due to the non-receipt of the report of the Marine Survey Department of the Government of India on the survey they had conducted.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): May I know when the construction of customs house and godowns will be proceeded with?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): After the acquisition of lands, construction will be started.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Is it to take place long after the acquisition of lands?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): No, as early as possible.

PRESIDENT: The question before the House is that a sum of rupees not exceeding 50,800 be granted under Public Works Department for -

- (1) Acquisition of lands for the construction of customs house, godown and wharves in connection with the opening of a port at Neendakara Rs. 4,980.
- (2) The completion of the construction of permanent building for the leper colony at Nooranad—Rs. 51,880.

The motion was put to the vote of the House and carried.

The grant was made.

PRESIDENT: Order, order. I thought that the discussion may not take very long and so I did not intend to prescribe any time limit. But considering the time spent on the first item of the grant and considering the fact that there are some more items as well as the report of the Public Accounts Committee for discussion, the House will agree with me in thinking that a time limit of 10 minutes be laid down, to every speaker.

GENERAL ADMINISTRATION EXCLUDING FINANCIAL SECRETARIAT, ACCOUNT OFFICE AND LEGISLATIVE BODIES.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA Dr. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Sir, I beg to move for a grant not exceeding Rs. 5,164 for the Public Service Commissioner's Office. The demand consists of a number of items. I shall explain the necessity for these items one by one. There is a provision of Rs. 2,000 in the budget of the current year under examination charges. The honourable members know that an examination has already been held. The expenditure has exceeded the amount provided by Rs. 100. The expenditure incurred so far is about Rs. 2,100 and the Public Service Commissioner says that it may be necessary to hold some more examinations in the course of this year. There is no provision for meeting the examination charges if they are to be held. The examination that was held recently was for the recruitment of English-knowing clerks. A sufficient number of candidates sat for this examination and the required number of eligibles has been secured. I understand that the examinations for the recruitment of Malayalam-knowing clerks and typists may have to be held again as there were not a sufficient number of candidates for those examinations. There is also a proposal to institute a Civil Service examination for recruitment to the higher division of service, i.e., for posts carrying a pay of Rs. 150 and above. If this examination is to be held this year, provision has to be made for the necessary examination charges. On the whole an additional allotment of Rs. 2,000 is proposed under this head for the current year.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangudi): May I know whether there is an advisory body or board to help the Public Service Commissioner?

PRESIDENT: I think it might be useful if the honourable member is allowed to finish his speech. It may be that some of the questions to be put by the honourable members may themselves be answered in the course of his remarks.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA Dr. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): A sum of Rs. 500 is required for the purchase and repair of furniture. This is a necessary item. There is a provision of Rs. 500 in the budget of the current year. The honourable members will remember that towards the end of last year an additional staff was sanctioned. Now also it is proposed to sanction some additional hands and it is necessary to provide funds for the purchase of furniture for this additional staff. Therefore a sum of Rs. 500 is provided for this purpose. I may also point out that this amount which will be spent by the Public Service Commissioner will be credited to the P. W. D. Workshops, from where the articles will be purchased.

A sum of Rs. 150 is necessary for the pay of menials. The Commissioner was till recently holding his office in the Government bungalow where he is living. There is an annexe attached to his bungalow where his office was housed. As this building was found to be insufficient, the office has now been shifted to rented buildings near the Union Club. There is one watchman on Rs. 6 at present but the office is held in two buildings. With one watchman it is not possible to watch both the buildings and it is therefore proposed to appoint an additional watchman on Rs. 9 per mensem and a sweeper on Rs. 4 per mensem. For these two items an additional sum of Rs. 150 is required for the current year.

The next item is for the maintenance of the electric installation. When the office was held in the Commissioner's bungalow there were enough fans and lights. But in the rented buildings there are not sufficient fans and lights and some additional expenditure has to be incurred for providing them. For this purpose a sum of Rs. 500 has to be sanctioned.

Lastly, a sum of Rs. 1,314 has to be provided for the entertainment of additional staff for a period of three months. The honourable members will remember that even last year when the Commissioner asked for a large increase in his staff the Government examined the proposal and allowed only a portion of the staff asked for. Even then he said that the staff was not sufficient to cope with the increasing work in his office. Since only a limited additional staff was sanctioned and since examinations had to be held early this year the staff sanctioned was not able to cope with the ordinary work in his office. There were about 15,000 applications for various appointments. All these have to be sorted out and examined, those containing defects have to be eliminated and the rest posted in the register. This requires laborious work which will take up the whole time of a number of clerks. Since the whole staff asked for by the Commissioner last year was not sanctioned, the ordinary staff available had to attend to the examination work that was held in Chingam last and the work of sorting out, examining and arranging the applications fell into arrears. The Commissioner therefore applied for a few additional hands to clear off the arrears. The Government were convinced of the necessity and accordingly sanctioned an additional staff consisting of 1 clerk on Rs. 75-100, 2 clerks on Rs. 40-70, 9 clerks on Rs. 25-40, a typist on Rs. 25, an attender on Rs. 15 and 2 peons on Rs. 9-11 for a period of three months to work off the arrears. It is to pay this staff that a sum of Rs. 1,314 has been included in the supplementary demand.

RAO SAHIB MAHADEVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): Has the amount incurred on the last item been expended?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The sanction for appointing this staff was given on 25-11-36. Some of them might have already been engaged. Whether they have been paid or not and whether the payment has to be regularised by sanctioning this additional grant, has to be verified. These are the various items that constitute this demand for the office of the Public Service Commissioner. The honourable members will appreciate the necessity for all these items which I have tried to explain as fully as possible.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): In connection with the examination charges, may I know whether the Government do not derive any income by way of application fees?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Yes. The exact amount is not known. But I understand that up to the end of 1111 a sum of about Rs. 19,000 was received as application fees.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know who conducts the examination?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The examiners appointed by the Public Service Commissioner in consultation with the Director of Public Instruction.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Who prepares the question papers?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The examiners?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether there is any separate body of examiners for the purpose.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): No, Sir. They are appointed according to necessity.

PRESIDENT: Before adjourning for lunch I wish to say that though I regard the business on which the House is going to proceed and the discussion on the Public Accounts Committee also as of very great importance, the House will not think I will be guilty, if I will not be able to preside over the sittings in this House to-day or the next day to the extent that I would wish. The Lothian Committee is commencing its work on Sunday and my absence from the sittings of the House, I hope, will not be understood by the honourable members as due to want of deference on my part.

The House adjourned at 1-2 P. M. and met again at 2 P. M. with the Deputy President in the Chair.

MR. POTTAYIL S. KRISHNA PANICKAR (Shertaks II): I am sorry I have to oppose this supplementary demand in connection with the Public Service Commissioner's office. My complaint is in regard to that particular item of the demand under establishment. During the time of the budget the staff in the Public Service Commissioner's office including the Manager was enhanced by six hands, originally as a temporary measure, and an additional staff of seven hands by way of clerks and typists was allowed to continue. At the same time including the mochees and the attender he has got 16 peons. It is over and above this staff that the Public Service Commissioner is now coming forward with a demand for an additional establishment of as many as 12 clerks, 1 typist, 1 attender and 2 peons. From the nature of the work that the Public Service Commissioner is called upon to carry in his office and considering the number of hands already sanctioned for that office this additional demand for 13 hands by way of clerks and typists is very exorbitant and unnecessary. When the Finance Committee met, the Public Service Commissioner also was present, and when interviewed, from the explanation that he gave we have been able to gather that these clerks are to be appointed only for a period of three months temporarily and they are intended to supplement the existing staff in the department. He expressly told us that he had no idea of creating a separate section in his office. I directly put a question to him as to the necessity of this different grades of clerks.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: You are directly putting a question to me.

MR. POTTAYIL S. KRISHNA PANICKAR (Shertala II): No, Sir. I directly put him a question and the answer that he gave was that the staff is only intended to be supplemented. He could not give me a convincing answer as to the necessity of these different grades of clerks. Considering the nature of the work that he is called upon to do in his office it is not necessary that there should be a clerk on Rs. 75—100, and 2 on Rs. 40—70. Even according to the original allotment of staff there is one Manager, a clerk on Rs. 75—100, and as though as a temporary measure there are 2 clerks on Rs. 40—70 and 5 clerks on Rs. 25—40. It was stated by the Chief Secretary that these additional clerks are necessary in order to tabulate the applications that the Public Service Commissioner has received and to keep a correct record of them. I cannot understand why all these hands are necessary to do this work. I, on my part, cannot allow this huge staff even though as a temporary measure. We have been told that these clerks have already been appointed. We are still in the dark as to how they were appointed, where from they were recruited, who made the recruitments and such other things. I understand that there is a lot of complaint even with regard to the appointments made by the Commissioner. Even the Commissioner has violated the rules that have been.....

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The policy of appointments to the staff of the Public Service Commissioner, the caste-war representation and such other things are not relevant under this motion.

MR. POTTAYIL S. KRISHNA PANICKAR (Shertala II): I have stated that I do not make any complaint against the appointment on the basis of caste. But there are certain other fundamental principles to be borne in mind in the matter of recruitment and those principles seem to have been violated by the Commissioner.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: In the honourable member's speech there were words to that effect.

MR. POTTAYIL S. KRISHNA PANICKAR (Shertala II): So in my view the additional hands now asked for are unnecessary and need not be sanctioned.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedunangad): I oppose the demand. The time is come for this House to closely and carefully examine as well as scrutinise the works of the Public Service Commissioner. It is stated that one examination was held some time back and one or two more examinations are to be held under the auspice of the Public Service Commissioner for the matter of recruitment and that about Rs. 2,000 must be given for the sake of the examination already held. We do not know who set the question papers, whether there is any Board of Examiners for the purpose, who conducted these examinations and in what manner and method they were held. This House as well as the public are quite in the dark so far as these examinations are concerned.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: You can make it clear that the House is not convinced with the necessity for the grant. But you cannot discuss about the way in which the examination was conducted by the Public Service Commissioner.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedunangad): It has been stated by the Chief Secretary on behalf of the Government that this grant covers Rs. 2,000 under examination charges. What I submit is that we do not know the nature of the examination conducted, who set the question papers and such other things. The question papers were far from satisfactory. There was no sort of examination worth the name. It was conducted in a haphazard manner and in an irresponsible method. Such examinations are held at the instance of the Public Service Commissioner in the name of recruitment. We do not know why and how such examinations are held. We do not see any justification why this demand must be supported by this House. It is stated that some additional staff must be appointed in his office. The appointment of the Public Service Commissioner himself was as a result of constant agitation on the part of the public as well as this House due to various irregularities on the part of the Heads of Departments, who had the power for recruitment. In the matter of recruitment proper communal justice as well as personal justice should be resorted to. But what is the method and the manner in which that Commissioner makes recruitment in his own office? A stenographer getting Rs. 25 is promoted to Rs. 75 to 100 scale. Sometimes a peon will be promoted as a clerk. There are certain rules laid down by the Government with regard to recruitment to the Public Service. The Commissioner himself has violated the very same rules. We have got various instances.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: All these things are not covered by the motion. Here the simple issue is whether the demand should be granted for certain stated specific purposes which have been explained by the Chief Secretary. I hope the honourable member would confine to that.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): The honourable member has been pointing out the case of a typist on Rs. 25 being promoted to Rs. 75—100 scale and so on. I wish to know from the member whether these are only figures of speech or actual facts.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Actual facts, Sir. In answer to an interpellation given on the floor of this House about this serious injustice .....

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): Is the member aware that the Public Service Commissioner has nothing to do whatsoever with promotions in any department?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): It is not a promotion. It was an appointment that he made in his own office. The stenographer who was getting Rs 25 was promoted, rather appointed to Rs. 75—100 scale in his office, when he had to appoint a fresh hand on Rs. 75—100.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I wish the honourable member will distinctly understand—the House will forgive me if I repeat it but I think it is necessary—that the simple issue is whether the work got or to be got from an additional staff is necessary or not. I did not hear Mr. S. J. Nair saying that there is not enough work. All these considerations are therefore immaterial. They need not be discussed.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): The Chief Secretary has stated that a sum of Rs. 5,164 is required towards the salary of the additional staff. We do not know why an additional staff must be maintained in his office. When proper justice is not done to the existing staff there is no necessity for engaging an additional staff, so that he can make appointments as he pleases.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I shall be obliged to call Mr. S. J. Nair to order in an effective manner.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittai): Is it the opinion of the member that if this demand is sanctioned the Public Service Commissioner will misuse it?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): It will be “കാക്കിന്റെ കയ്യിൽ കൊടുത്ത പുലയപൊലെ like”—giving a good flower garland in the hands of a monkey—to quote a Malayalam proverb. So I request the members of this House that not even a single pie out of this demand that has been brought to this House for additional staff to the Public Service Commissioner's office shall be granted.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): I rise to support the demand. On a previous occasion also there was a hot discussion on this subject. Sir, the appointment of the Public Service Commissioner is a new incident in the history of our State. The appointment itself was made under very extraordinary and pressing circumstances and the success of the work of the Public Service Commissioner depends upon the expedition with which he could carry it out. When a similar supplementary demand was brought forward last time it was stated by the Chief Secretary that perhaps this amount might not be sufficient and the House would have to vote upon another supplementary demand and it is as a result of that this demand is now brought forward. There was no idea as to the volume of work that he will have to turn out. Now we are told that he has to dispose of 15,000 applications. We can imagine what a troublesome work it will be unless he is provided with proper staff. Therefore the only question for consideration is whether the present staff is sufficient to deal with the situation as explained by the Chief Secretary. Delay in the work and want of proper attention in disposing the applications will result in great injustice and inconvenience.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the applications are disposed of by the staff of the Public Service Commissioner or by the Commissioner himself?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: That question need not be answered.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): The Public Service Commissioner will be able to do proper work only with the help of a competent staff. Sir, by giving the grant we are not incurring any loss, because we have an additional item of gain to the exchequer by way of application fees. Considering all these facts I hope this House will not take objection to vote for the grant.

MR. V. RAMAKRISHNA PANICKAR (Kartikapalli II): Sir, I rise to support the motion for the demand. I had no idea of speaking on this motion until I heard speeches opposing it. Last year also, Sir, there was an opposition from this part of the House probably on the ground that efficient work had not been turned out by the Commissioner. Of course reports tell us that good work is being done by the department. Several sets of rules were framed by the Public Service Commissioner and he has prepared and issued several circulars. Information has to be obtained from several heads of departments as to appointments under them and as to the powers of each appointing authority. We all know an examination was conducted, at which several thousands were examined. The result was published. In connection with that a huge amount of work had to be attended to by the staff. Of course, being a new department, Government sanction has to be obtained in regard to the business that has to be transacted in the office. The Public Service Commissioner has to give replies to Government references also. Various types of forms had to be prepared by him and he had to make arrangements for their sale. Sir, all these are items of work to be attended to by the clerical staff. Then, there is the estimate of vacancies that may occur in all departments, so that appointments may be recommended by the Commissioner. There are about 20 to 25 appointments in the lower division. Applications pour in daily for appointments. These applications have to be scrutinised by responsible clerks and then they have to be registered in the appropriate registers. A good deal of correspondence has to be attended to in connection with these applications. Even copies have to be kept in proper files by the clerks where the original documents are to be returned. Sir, there is plenty of work in the office and therefore more hands are absolutely necessary. Then there are the selection lists which have also to be prepared. About 200 and odd appointments are to be made in the intermediate division. The selection lists will have to be made according to the rules of rotation. That has also to be done by responsible clerks. The House will be able to know the magnitude of work that has to be transacted in the office when they know that about 200 different registers have to be kept in the office. Sir, I totally agree with the Chief Secretary in saying that the items of expenditure detailed in the demand are very necessary and they must be granted. With these observations, I support the motion.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): Sir, I oppose the motion for the demand. I oppose it on the ground that there are no sufficient materials for me to decide the question on its merit. The only estimate supplied to the House, Sir, is a bare statement in a paper that a sum of Rs. 5,164 is necessary for the Public Service Commissioner's Office. Sir, by an estimate I understand that all the necessary details should be supplied so as to enable us to come to a correct decision. The only information on this matter was the speech made by the leader of the House.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Were no other items clearly explained?

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): After hearing a speech from the leader of the House I closely followed the speech made by Mr. Panickar.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Tilavankod): May I know, Sir, who is the leader of the House?

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): The Chief Secretary to Government. Sir, Mr. Panickar is a representative of this House.....

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The honourable member should understand that there is more than one Panickar in the House.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): Sir, I refer to Mr. Pottayil S. Krishna Panickar. He is a member of the Finance Committee which went into this question. He was elected as a member of the Financial Committee by this House. He tells us now that he was not convinced by the arguments supplied by the Public Service Commissioner. When a representative of this House who had the opportunity to discuss the matter with the officer for whom the grant is being made, was not convinced, I do not know how we can be convinced by the barren speech made by the official member. Sir, now I am left in the dark and do not know to decide one way or the other. But taking the views of our representative in the Finance Committee as reasonable, I am of opinion that the demand is not quite necessary. With these words I oppose the motion.

MR. EDAVANATT S. PADMANABHA MENON (Shertala I): Sir, I rise to oppose the motion. I am of opinion that the Government have no business to sanction any amount in anticipation of sanction from this House. Sir, I ask whether any extraordinary situation has arisen in the case of this department, for the Government to sanction anything without the sanction of this House. Another thing is that this House was not informed of the details of the work in the office for which this demand is made. Now 13 clerks including a typist, 13 peons and 2 daffadars are already working in the office of the Public Service Commissioner. The Chief Secretary has stated that about 15,000 applications were received in the office and to cope with this large number of applications additional hands were needed. And it is stated on behalf of Government that these temporary hands were employed only for a specific purpose for a certain limited period. But, I have strong doubts that when they are once employed some reason will be brought forward by Government to retain them. Then, regarding the item of amount that has been sought to be sanctioned by this House i. e., the expenditure incurred in connection with the Public Service Examination. The details for this item of expenditure are not given. We do not know whether the examination was conducted on communal basis and whether the same principle was adopted in the choice of examiners. All these relevant details, however, were not given to the House.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: That will depend upon Government proceedings on the subject. Government direct that such and such persons should be chosen as examiners according to the principle of communal representation. The Public Service Commissioner can do only what the rules approved by Government dictate. Unless those rules are corrected what Mr. Menon states is not correct.

MR. EDAVANATT S. PADMANABHA MENON (Sheriala I): Sir, I am presenting only the relevant facts that may go to help to form a decision by this House. One item of the demand happens to be for the expenditures incurred for conducting an examination. Where are the relevant details to show that the expenditure is a justifiable one?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I rule that the communal representation in the appointment of examiners has nothing to do with this question.

MR. EDAVANATT S. PADMANABHA MENON (Sheriala I): Sir, apart from communal representation there are other relevant details which the House has a right to know. The House should know about the number of subjects on which the pupils were examined, the efficiency of the board of examiners, the particular methods of conducting the examinations and the number of centres fixed throughout the State. Sir, these are facts which should be presented to the House so that the public may have confidence in the system adopted by the Commissioner and these relevant facts are also useful for the House to arrive at a right decision. The Chief Secretary has stated that in anticipation of the sanction of this House Government sanctioned on 25-9-1936 a new staff for the Public Service Commissioner. But we do not know whether there was any real congestion of work during that particular period, and if so, whether that pressure still continues to justify a further increase of hands.

Sir, the Chief Secretary to Government has stated in the course of his speech that anticipating the sanction of this House, sanction was accorded on 25-9-36 for these temporary hands to be appointed in the Public Service Commissioner's Office. On whose discretion are these additional hands to be entertained? How far and how long? These are facts which are not answered. Regarding the appointment of the staff in the Public Service Commissioner's Office there is a lot of heart burning and misunderstanding. Rightly or wrongly the principles of fair play that are being followed and adopted in other departments of the State are not strictly adhered to. It is up to the Government bench to dispel these fears and to place all relevant facts. Under these circumstances, Sir, I request this House to vote against the demand.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I also wish to make a few remarks on this demand. The main portion of the demand is necessitated on account of the examination already conducted and on account of examinations that are to be conducted. It is said that the additional staff is now needed because the existing staff has been asked to do the work relating to the last examination. Rs. 2,000 is asked for examination charges, that is for examinations that are to be conducted in future. With regard to the examination that has been already held, Sir, according to me satisfactory work has not been turned out by the staff of the Public Service Commissioner. If satisfactory work has not been turned out by the staff, I do not think much time would have been taken up by them for that kind of work, so that there was no necessity to postpone their normal work. The Chief Secretary has stated that about 15,000 applications have been received in the Office of the Public Service Commissioner. That only means that a sort of anxiety has been created in 15,000 breasts after sending up the applications with the necessary fees. After sending up the application the applicants are entitled to know as to what has become of their applications. The candidates who have appeared for the examination are entitled to know the result of the examinations. The numbers of the candidates who have passed the examinations have been recently published in the Government Gazette. Their numbers and community to which they belong were published in the Government Gazette. With regard to that, I have no complaint. With regard to those who have not passed, are they not entitled to know as to the subjects in which they have failed?

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Sir, the Public Service Commissioner held a selective test and may I know whether there is anything like a subject in which any candidate could fail?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): There are a large number of subjects in which the candidates are examined. I cannot classify them now.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, may I know whether it is reasonable to publish all the details regarding 18,000 pupils who appeared for the examination?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Nobody said that 18,000 pupils had appeared. Only 15,000 pupils sent in their applications and all those applications were not from those who wanted to appear for examinations.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum - Rural): May I know whether it was stated that sufficient number of pupils were not forthcoming with regard to the vernacular portion?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): With regard to these candidates from whom the examination fees were levied, a duty was cast upon the Public Service Commissioner to publish the result of all the candidates.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Is it Mr. Asan's view that the Public Service Commissioner is bound to inform the candidates of the subjects in which they failed without the candidates asking for it?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Yes, that is my decision. He must publish it in the Government Gazette. If it is not possible he must inform the candidates individually. I do not think that there can be any difficulty to intimate the candidates concerned the result of their examination. That is usually done. I am not asking the Public Service Commissioner to do anything impossible. All that he has done is to publish the number of the candidates who have already appeared. I think that procedure was quite possible.

With regard to the examiners, I do not want the Government or the Public Service Commissioner to disclose the names of the examiners before the examinations are conducted, or before the papers are valued because they must have some rest. I say this not as a reflection upon those who are appearing for the examination. Anyhow it is better and safer not to disclose the names of the examiners before the results are announced.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: We are concerned with the quantity of the work and not with the general policy of the Government.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): A point was raised that with regard to the conduct of the examinations that there would not be sufficient confidence in such examinations because so many details were being withheld. If these examinations are to generate any confidence.....

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: We are not concerned with that.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I may point out one fact. If they are not prepared to give us sufficient details to satisfy the public that these examinations are properly conducted, we have to throw out this demand. So, what I beg to submit is that I do not think that there is any necessity to appoint any additional bands for doing arrears of work, with regard to examinations that have already been held. I may also mention this, that if Government have already allowed the Public Service Commissioner to make the appointment, I protest against that act as well. There is absolutely no reason why extraordinary steps should have been taken. If that step has already been taken, the Government need not have resorted to the procedure of coming to this House with a supplementary demand. There is another provision which enables the Government to sanction expenditure which has to be incurred in emergent cases. But this is not an emergent case. This is a case which could wait till the sanction of this House is obtained and if any obligation has been cast upon the Government by sanctioning the appointment before getting the sanction of this House, I cannot approve of such a course. With these words I resume my seat.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): As has been stated here already, I too like to get some more information regarding this demand. As for the examination, if I understand the Chief Secretary aright, I should think there can be no justification for entertaining more clerks. One examination has already been held. This is the main examination for the Public Service Commissioner to hold. That is for the clerkships on the lowest grade of English-knowing clerks and the results have been published. I do not quite agree with my friend Mr. Asan in thinking that the numbers of all the candidates should be published and the subjects in which they failed should also be mentioned. It is a competitive examination and I only think that the numbers of the candidates who have succeeded need be given. Nobody is interested to know the subjects in which a candidate has failed. He is only interested to know whether he is included in the pass lists. I do not think that the pages of the Gazette should be wasted by publishing all these fifteen thousand names. Anyhow the examination has been held and about 300 to 500 vacancies are anticipated and the requisite number published.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): Is it not necessary to publish the communities of candidates also?

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): Seeing that the whole thing proceeds on a communal basis one may be interested in knowing the community to which the candidates belong. Personally I like to know how the results stand, apart from the artificial standards. I do not think any interest will be served by publishing the names. With regard to the examination in which the Malayalam-knowing clerks were required I am surprised to hear that a sufficient number of applications have not been received. After all, we are not entertaining very many Malayalam-knowing clerks in other departments than the Registration. How the number falls short of the anticipated number of vacancies, I fail to see. The Government have made this elaborate machinery. Even though fifteen thousand applications are received no applications from the Malayalam-knowing candidates are received. When the vacancies in favour of English-knowing clerks are 300, the vacancies with regard to Malayalam-knowing clerks are only 30 or 40. So a small examination is what is necessary. What further examination is to be held? As for the civil service examination, I do not think the number there, can go up to 1000. It may be somewhere about 100 or 200. It must be a very small thing. So the examination conducted on their behalf cannot give much work to the Commissioner's Office. If these clerks were attending to the work of the examination, now, since the examination work is over, the clerks can carry on the routine work. Apart from these examinations, what volume of work can possibly be in this office? The Chief Secretary has completely failed in making out a case for appointing more clerks. I hear that these clerks have already been entertained and if the Government have done so they have made a serious mistake. They will do well to disband these clerks.

In regard to furniture, if new clerks are not to be sanctioned, new furniture also need not be sanctioned.

Then there is the question of about Rs. 150 for menials. That is a very small matter.

There is also an item of Rs. 500 for electric installation. The office is now being held in a private house. If so, what is the arrangement under which Rs. 400 of public money is to be spent on a private building? Whether it will be refunded by the owner at the termination of the lease or whether it would be adjusted towards the rent, all that has not been made clear to us.

On the whole, Sir, I do not think a case has been made out for the demand being granted.

RAO BAHADUR RAJASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The discussion, so far as I could see, has been mainly on two items, namely, additional staff and examination charges.

As regards the additional staff, I thought I had made out a case. I am sorry to find that some honourable members on the other side think that I did not. Sir, the point that I urged was that, on account of the examination held in Chingam 1112, the normal work of the staff of the Public Service Commissioner's office was held up and fell into arrears. The arrears have to be cleared, and the earlier it is done the better, so that there may not be further accumulation of arrears. I said that there were about 15,000 applications. They were not all for appointments in the intermediate or the higher divisions of service. A large majority of them were for appointments in the lower division, such as peons and menials and such other appointments on a pay of less than Rs. 20 a month. The House will realise that, in regard to these appointments, there is no examination to be held; only the applications have got to be scrutinised and arranged according to community, acting service, &c. According to the Recruitment Rules, a communal rotation has to be followed in recruitment to the lower division and in the case of the applicants who had acted, that fact also has to be taken note of. Thus there is a very large volume of work to be done in dealing with such applications.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): In the case of applicants for these posts, seeing that their number is very large, is there any possibility of intimating them early that there is no chance of their being entertained within a reasonable time, and that they need not wait?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): That can be done only some time hence. It involves a lot of preliminary work.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): If there is to be no examination for recruitment to the lowest grade... ..

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I do not hear a word of what the honourable member says.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): If there is to be no examination for recruitment to the lowest grade, what is the principle that will be followed in the recruitment to that grade?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I am sorry I have no time to explain in detail the rules on the subject. I would simply request the honourable member to read the rules which were published in the Gazette.

Sir, about 15,000 applications have got to be sorted, scrutinised and arranged. On account of the holding of the examination, the staff of the office could not find time to attend to this work, with the result that it has fallen into arrears. Therefore, the additional staff now asked for is absolutely necessary; and it is going to be engaged only for three months, just to clear the arrears.

Now let us suppose that, as suggested by some honourable members, this additional staff is not sanctioned. What is going to be the result? All these 15,000 applications will remain unexamined, and the applicants will be denied the chance of entering Government service. Unless these applications are scrutinised and arranged, it will not be possible to recruit any of the applicants. All the 15,000 unfortunate candidates will be denied the privilege of getting into service.

MR. A. THAMU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): What is the usual work of the normal staff, Sir?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): But for the fact that on account of the examination the normal work had fallen into arrears, it would have been attended to by the existing staff. The honourable member knows that if arrears accumulate in Courts, they have to be cleared by the appointment of temporary Judges and Munsiffs.

MR. A. THAMU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): But there is this difference fresh cases are being filed every day, whereas in the case of the office of the Public Service Commissioner, it stops with the 15,000 applications that have been received already. I do not think fresh applications are pouring in.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Here also, applications are still coming in. Anyhow, the present arrears have to be cleared.

Sir, after all, this small additional staff is required only for a period of three months. Some honourable members have stated that the period has not been mentioned. I thought I made it very clear that the additional staff was required for a period of three months only.

I may add, Sir—I do not want to hide facts—that Government have issued orders that the Public Service Commissioner may appoint these additional hands according to necessity. It may be that he does not want all the twelve men immediately.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know whether the appointment of clerks and menials in the office of the Public Service Commissioner are also subject to the Public Service Rules?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Certainly.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): What is the necessity for appointing different grades of clerks?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): If the honourable member will have patience, I will come to that point. I am not being allowed to continue.

MR. POTTAYIL KRISHNA PAICKAR, a member of the Finance Committee, told us that he examined the Public Service Commissioner at the meeting of the committee but was not satisfied that a case had been made out for this demand. I thought, Sir, that he too was satisfied. Anyhow, the majority of the members of the Finance Committee were satisfied with the answers given by the Public Service Commissioner and, that is why this demand has come up to this House.

Sir, in regard to the difference in the grades of clerks to be recruited temporarily, I have to point out that it is necessary to have different grades, because it is not the same kind of work that all these twelve hands are going to do. For every 5 or 6 clerks on Rs. 25-40, a higher grade clerk is required to examine, scrutinise and supervise their work. It is for this purpose that a few hands in higher grades are provided. For nine clerks on Rs. 25-40, it is proposed to appoint only two on Rs. 40-70 and one on Rs. 75-100.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know whether, in sanctioning this temporary staff, the Government have directed the Public Service Commissioner to recruit such hands from any particular office of the Government?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Government suggested to the Commissioner that it would be advisable to select a few hands with Secretariat experience; but Government did not make it obligatory on the part of the Commissioner to do so. It was left to his discretion to recruit fresh hands or choose men from any department.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know whether some of the appointments made by the Public Service Commissioner have been objected to by the Account Officer?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I have no information.

MR. EDAVANATT S. PADMANABHA MENON (Shertala I): May I know whether the Public Service Commissioner has already appointed three of these clerks?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I think so.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinilil): Has he given double acting promotions to some of the hands in his office?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I do not think so. Sir, I know there is some misunderstanding about some of the appointments made by the Public Service Commissioner. Mr. S. J. Nair also referred to some appointments made by the Commissioner. As Dr. Simpson made it clear by a question, the Public Service Commissioner is concerned with and is responsible for only initial recruitment. No kind of promotion comes within his province. The Heads of Departments have got certain powers of appointment and the appointments and promotions which are beyond the powers of departmental heads are always sanctioned by the Government. In the particular case referred to by Mr. S. J. Nair, it was the Government that sanctioned the promotion, and they did so because they were convinced of the justice of the case.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I ask whether in the case alluded to by the Chief Secretary, the case in which a stenographer on Rs 25 or so was promoted as a clerk on Rs. 75-100, the Government considered that it was not irregular?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Government would not have sanctioned it if they had considered it irregular.

In regard to initial recruitment, I can say definitely and boldly that the Public Service Commissioner strictly follows the Recruitment Rules. Some honourable members seem to be under the misapprehension that since the Commissioner has drafted the rules it is open to him not to adhere to them. Sir, although he has framed the rules, it is the Government that has sanctioned them, and the Public Service Commissioner is bound by the rules passed by Government.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum--Rural): Are not the other officers bound by those rules?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Yes, but the imputation has been made that the Public Service Commissioner has not adhered to the rules.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The Chief Secretary has stated that the Public Service Commissioner is bound by the rules. The question whether other officers are bound by them or not is not relevant. It need not be answered.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Another point that has been raised in the discussion is about the examination. I am glad that some honourable members have answered the points raised by some others. Sir, the examinations held by the Public Service Commissioner are competitive examinations, and wherever competitive examinations are held, only the names or numbers of those who come out successful are published. Nowhere are particulars of those who fail are published. Take, for instance, the Civil Service Examination or the Public Service Examination held in Madras.

The results of those who have passed are alone published and not of those who have failed. It is neither advisable nor necessary to publish the results of the large number of candidates who have failed along with the results of those who have passed.

Regarding the selection of examiners, Government have given directions to the Public Service Commissioner that he must select them in consultation with the Director of Public Instruction. I must say that the question of communal representation in the case of examiners has not been considered. If communal representation is to be taken into consideration in such matters also I do not know where it will end.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): I want to know whether examiners are appointed in the same way as examiners are appointed for other examinations?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The question is vague.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): May I know whether there is any case of complaint that the name of any examiner was known to any candidate?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I have already said that these questions are not relevant to the motion before the House.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): No, Sir. No examiner's name was known to any candidate. If the examiners' names are known to candidates the examiners will have no peace of mind.

In such matters we must leave it to the responsible officer concerned to select the best men available in consultation with the head of the Education Department. I think these are all the points raised by the members.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): I wish to know whether any examination is to be held in the near future for the selection of English-knowing clerks.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I do not think that any examination will be held in the near future for recruiting English-knowing clerks. An examination may be necessary for Malayalam-knowing clerks as also for typists.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Has not the typists' examination been held already and the results published?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Yes, but the Commissioner thinks that sufficient candidates have not come forward and that it is not possible to fill the probable vacancies with those already selected.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): May I know the probable number of vacancies that may arise in the next few months in the cadre of Malayalam-knowing clerks and typists?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I have no definite information.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Will any examination on a large scale be conducted in the next few months?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA Dr. M. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): It may not be necessary to hold an examination for English-knowing clerks but it is necessary to hold an examination for Malayalam-knowing clerks and typists and for recruitment to the civil service.

Mr. A. Thanu Pillai said that there will be very few candidates for the civil service. I may say that though the number of candidates may be few the remuneration to be paid to the examiners will be high and probably examiners from outside the State may also have to be engaged.

The grant was then put to vote and carried.

The demand was made.

PORTS.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA Dr. M. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Sir, I move for a grant not exceeding Rs. 11,998 under ports. This is required for the maintenance of the dredger which Government have purchased for dredging the Alleppey Port. Honourable members will probably remember that a sum of Rs. 1,10 lalhs was sanctioned in 1111 for the purchase of a dredger. The dredger was ordered and it came out towards the end of 1111. About two-thirds of the amount was paid and the remaining one-third could not be paid because the dredger was not assembled and tested. This has since been done and the payment has been completed. I may also mention in this connection that the firm who supplied the dredger demanded payment immediately and Government paid them about Rs. 35,000. The sum asked for now is not for that purpose. This is intended to cover the establishment and maintenance charges during the current year.

My friend Mr. Damodaran Asan will surely put the question: "How is it that this expenditure was not foreseen when the budget was framed?" My answer is that when the dredger was purchased Government did not know what maintenance charges and staff would be required. This could be known only after the dredger was put in working order. It was therefore not possible to make provision in the regular budget and so Government have come to this House now with a supplementary demand.

It is proposed to appoint a dredging master on Rs. 70, a driver on Rs. 60, an engine driver on Rs. 30, an engine oilman on Rs. 15, a main engine driver on Rs. 30, a main engine oilman on Rs. 15 and four lascars on Rs. 15 each. The total expenditure for the establishment comes to Rs. 2,240. For the maintenance of the dredger including insurance a sum of Rs. 8,126 is required and for working expenses Rs. 1,632 is required. All told, the total expenditure comes to Rs. 11,998. I hope the House will pass this demand.

The demand was put to vote and carried.

The grant was made.

AGRICULTURE AND FISHERIES.

MR. K. R. NARAYANA AIYAR (Director of Agriculture and Fisheries): Sir, I rise to move for a grant not exceeding Rs. 3,500 in connection with the research scheme on the root diseases of the cocoanut palm in South India financed by the Imperial Council of Agricultural Research. The Government of Travancore prepared a detailed scheme for the investigation of the root diseases of the cocoanut palm and applied to the Imperial Council for a grant from their funds to the extent of Rs. 92,880 spread over a period of three years. The scheme was accepted by the Council with certain modifications suggested by a Technical Committee which examined it. As a first step in the investigation the Council has sanctioned a sum of Rs. 25,600 spread over a period of three years. The Imperial Council has agreed to provide for the salary and travelling allowances of the Plant Pathologist and his staff to be appointed for the purpose and also for contingent expenditure to the extent of Rs. 500. In accordance with this scheme the Travancore Government have to provide the expert laboratory accommodation with the necessary equipment, supply of books and periodicals and also for a contingent expenditure of Rs. 500 for carrying on field experiments in affected gardens.

The reason why this demand was not brought in the regular budget session of the Assembly is that the details of the scheme were finally accepted only in the middle of September last and the Imperial Council provided for funds only very recently.

In view of the fact that the results of the investigations are likely to confer lasting benefit to Travancore and in view of the fact that the lion's share of the financial burden of the investigation is borne by the Imperial Council, I request that the House will be pleased to sanction this demand.

The demand was put to vote and carried.

The grant was made.

REPORT OF THE PUBLIC ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The next item of business is the presentation and discussion of the Report of the Public Accounts Committee. Honourable members can speak on the Report generally and the member who has given notice of a resolution can make a speech in support of that resolution also.

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): Sir, I beg to move that the Report of the Public Accounts Committee on the Audit and Appropriation Report for 1110 submitted by the Account Officer be taken into consideration.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): Sir, the resolution which I move for the acceptance of this House is as follows:—

"In order to prevent the unjustifiable transfer of allotments as stated in paragraph 14 of the Report, this Assembly recommends to Government the creation of a P. W. D. Reserve Fund consisting of the unspent budget allotments for any year so that the amounts may be spent for the same work in the subsequent year or years as the case may be."

[Mr. T. P. Velayudhan Pillai.]

Sir, before entering into the discussion on the merits of the resolution itself, I wish to make a few general observations about the Report. For the purpose of obtaining supplementary grants the Government appear to have treated certain items of new expenditure as "new services". For instance, the opening of a special survey class and the printing of five hundred copies of the wall map of Travancore are included in the category of "new services". Sir, this is highly objectionable because these items of expenditure could have waited till the regular budget session of the legislature.

My second objection relates to the authorisation of expenditure by the Dewan in cases of emergency under Section 32 of the Travancore Legislative Reforms Regulation. I am constrained to submit that this power is being exercised even for purposes which do not strictly come within the objects intended by the Regulation. I shall mention one instance. The Dewan has certified the amount necessary for the reorganisation of the C. I. D. branch of the Police. I do not at present impeach the necessity for such a reorganisation. My only objection is that this matter could have very well been placed before the Legislature and its sanction obtained. The course of action adopted by Government is highly objectionable.

Now coming to my resolution I must say that the Government are bound to maintain continuity of policy in the different branches of the same department at least. Sir, the P. W. D. and the Minor Irrigation Department are two branches of the same department. In the Minor Irrigation branch of the department the creation of a reserve fund is allowed under the proceedings passed by the Government. So I submit that at least to maintain continuity of policy the creation of a general P. W. D. reserve fund consisting of all the unspent budget allotments for every year is necessary. This House has been impressing on the attention of Government the necessity for the creation of a separate P. W. D. reserve fund by means of resolutions and cut motions. In answer to an interpellation of mine, the Chief Engineer on behalf of Government stated on the floor of the House that the creation of a P. W. D. Reserve fund is against all budgetary rules. So far as I am aware it is not at all against any rule or procedure. The Government may be aware, I believe, that they include in the budget, provision for certain works, as a result of repeated representations made by the public. On account of want of sanctioned estimate or the acquisition of land or for some other reasons of the like nature the department may not be able to carry out its work during the course of the year for which a provision is made in the budget. Instances are not few where there was no provision for some works in the subsequent year. This is indeed very hard and disappointing to the public. I therefore think it is highly necessary to constitute a general P. W. D. reserve fund. Moreover as is seen from para 14 of the Report it is necessary to prevent unjustifiable transfer of allotted provisions. Under these circumstances I commend the resolution for the unanimous acceptance of the House.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESSE (Tiruvalla I) : May I know whether it is the member's idea to create a reserve fund with the unspent balance of the budget amount or a special allotment is to be created for this purpose?

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III) : The resolution I have just marked is clear on the point. For the information of the member I shall say once again what it contains. Reserve fund consisting of the unspent budget allotments for any year so that the amounts may be spent for the same work in the subsequent year or years as the case may be, may be created.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural) : What is the harm in having the amount that is unspent being provided in the budget of the coming year?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : So far as Mr. Varughese's question is concerned I think the answer was in the resolution and the honourable member gave the answer. With regard to Mr. Thanu Pillai's question it is a matter for argument. It is not an answer to be elicited by a question.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural) : I wanted to know what difference it substantially makes and what advantage there is in that.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : Now, the discussion may go on.

MR. M. K. JANARDANA KAMATH (Commerce and Industry, North) : The object of the resolution is I think evidently to prevent the diversion of allotments made for the P. W. D. and to see that the allotments made in the budget for a definite purpose are utilised for that particular purpose only. We know that it is often after a good deal of discussion in this House and after the House is convinced of the necessity of any particular work that an allotment is made. If on account of any reason the work is not commenced by the department before the end of the year the amount allotted lapses. In my opinion it is always better to reserve the allotment for the purpose for which it was intended and use it whenever it is possible for the department to carry out the work. To attain this object the creation of a reserve fund is necessary consisting of unspent allotments for any year. If this course is adopted, I think that it will be an inducement to the Public Works Department to carry out the work as early as possible. For these reasons I support the resolution.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I) : In seconding the resolution, I wish to stress the need for such a resolution and to offer a few remarks on the Report of the Public Accounts Committee. It is a well-known fact that on account of the general neglect and delay in the acquisition of necessary lands, some important P. W. D. works are left incomplete. It is a pity that some important works whose progress are urgently needed and without the completion of which no use will be served even by the work already executed, are left out for want of sanction in the next year's budget. The resolution of Mr. Velayudhan Pillai serves a wholesome purpose inasmuch as the department can proceed with important works for which money had once been allotted but that are left incomplete even without a new provision being made in the subsequent budget.

The Report in general contains useful information. There is considerable reduction as regards the disparity in the forecast of the budget both in regard to the original demand, the supplementary demands and also in regard to expenditure sanctioned under Section 32 of the Regulation. There was a substantial reduction in the total expenditure authorised during the year as compared with that for the previous year; the amounts being Rs. 2,59,882 only during 1110 against Rs. 5,26,853 during 1109. There are considerable improvements in other directions also as in the supplementary and authorised expenditure.

In regard to one point I cannot but observe that the Government have been very cruel to the poor ryots and that relates to the treatment accorded to the agriculturists who suffer for want of irrigational facilities. In regard to minor irrigation works we have been complaining that sufficient allotments are not being made from year to year, that there is a considerable reduction in the allotment from one year to another and even in the allotment which is made sufficient funds are not being spent and larger and larger amounts are made to lapse year after year. Coming to the year under review out of an allotment of Rs. 2 lakhs for protective irrigation works the amount actually spent was Rs. 1,22,000. The unexpended balance to the extent of Rs. 78,000 has been transferred to the irrigation fund. When the reason was enquired into by the members of the Committee the Chairman said that the works could not be executed as the estimates were not ready and necessary lands were not acquired. These reasons seem to be trivial. The delay was due even according to the reasons advanced by the Chair to the neglect of officers. Necessary protective measures ought to have been adopted by them in time, to prevent loss to cultivators. As a result of the negligence on the part of the officers in this direction the cultivation has been delayed and that has affected the agriculturists to an intense degree. If the department had been alert in doing the required thing at the proper time such hardship and loss could have been avoided.

Another point I wish to bring to the notice of the House is in regard to misappropriation and defalcation. In respect of those offences our Government are meeting out punishments in some cases and letting off some officers concerned in particular cases. When it is a misappropriation of about Rs. 100 or so and sometimes of less amounts by Proverthicars and Accountants such low-paid and subordinate officers are suspended, sometimes dismissed, and in many cases the amounts misappropriated realised from their salaries as it ought to be. In regard to the defalcation in a first grade college, I mean the Science College, the Government have easily disposed of the matter by saying that the amount has been sanctioned to be written off. In this case the amount of defalcation comes to more than Rs. 10,000. It is very clear from the Report that it is a very huge amount and that it is the largest amount of defalcation reported in it. The Government ought to have taken this House and the Committee into its confidence by giving the reasons for writing off this amount, as to who was responsible for this amount being misappropriated, and as to how there was no other means to dispose of it other than by writing it off.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Was that written off during the current year?

Mr. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): It is stated in the year's Report under discussion that the amount has been sanctioned to be written off when pointing out the action taken on the previous year's defalcations. It may be that the Government might have enquired into the matter and found it quite appropriate to write it off. But what I ask is, why not the members of this Assembly be informed of the particular reason or reasons for the amount being written off, especially in view of the fact that this is the biggest amount that we come across in misappropriation in this Report and in recent years. To me it appears that what the Government have done in this matter is highly objectionable and open to serious misgivings and reasonable criticism.

Sir, now, in the matter of doing away with defalcations and misappropriations it seems that the Government, after due deliberations, have found out some means by which they could sufficiently and effectively check it. Some mention of it is made in the Report. It reads thus:—

"The necessity for devising measures to prevent defalcations as far as possible in future and for discovering them at the earliest stage, was discussed. The Chairman stated that a conference was held at Bhaktivilas for the above purpose and that the proposals of the conference had been taken note of by the Government".

Is it not up to the House and to the Public Accounts Committee who were helping the Government by their advice and deliberations to get informations about the deliberations that took place at Bhaktivilas and the decisions arrived at?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Is it the member's opinion that with regard to every action taken by Government a full report should be supplied to the House?

Mr. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): My point is that before a decision was arrived at at the Conference held at Bhaktivilas, it was up to and proper for the Government to take into confidence the Public Accounts Committee which has discussed the same question before and which is to help the Government in such matters and try to get their advice in regard to the matter.

Sir when we discuss the report of the Public Accounts Committee of an year we generally go back to the report of the Committee for the previous year or years, and see what action was taken by Government on the recommendations made by the Committee or Committees, that sat in those years. I refer especially to the Committee of 1108 of which I had the privilege to be a member and which I distinctly remember had made recommendations regarding many of which the Government have taken no adequate action and have easily disposed of saying that they do not find their way to accept them at present. The only recommendation they have accepted is that with regard to initial appointments in grades other than the lowest to which the Committee recommended should be made only after obtaining the previous sanction of the Government. All the other recommendations such as the separation of the customs from the excise or entrusting an Assistant Excise Commissioner with the charge of customs throughout the State have all been disposed of saying that the Government do not at present feel the necessity to deal with them. They did not care to give the reasons for not giving effect to the recommendations. My point is that it is the duty of the Government to inform the next Committee as to what steps in regard to each of the recommendations made by the previous Committee have been taken. Only if such a procedure is adopted will there be progressive and useful working of the Committee made possible and any purpose served. With these few remarks I support the proposition before the House and request the Government to take into account the few observations that I have made.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): I have been a member of the Public Accounts Committee the report of which is under consideration, (louder please) and I am glad to inform the House that the official members have spared no pains to furnish us with all available information, and when satisfactory answers were wanting, strong assurances of better control and care in future were unhesitatingly given to us. The Public Accounts Committee has the privilege of conducting a post mortem examination of the total expenditure side of the Government revenue in a particular year, but, Sir, the practical utility of this Committee has been whittled down by the Government because most of the recommendations made by the Committee are seldom put into practice. On a perusal of the recommendations made by the Committee it will be found that the strongest objections were raised against the authorisation of grants made by Government under Section 32, obtaining unnecessary supplementary grants, and making innumerable transfers, surrenders and lapses by departmental heads.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I must call your attention to one point. A supplementary grant when once made by the House shows that it is not unnecessary. The member's point is that supplementary grants are asked for under certain circumstances. I want to make it clear.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): By unnecessary supplementary grants I mean supplementary grants demanded by departmental heads and sanctioned by this House but were found unnecessary later on and were not spent accordingly. A statement of such unnecessary supplementary grants asked for and not spent is given in the Report. It is regrettable to note, Sir, that the Government despite the aversion expressed by this House and also the assurance given by the Dewan-Chairman, has been invoking Section 32 to meet expenditure which was not emergent or necessary. As to the supplementary grants, the less said the better. They were uniformly demanded when the actual expenditure was shorter than the original allotment. This is but a clear indication that our Finance Department is not able to forecast correctly the needs of the several departments of the State. A painful consequence of this sort of budgeting is that the legitimate activities of some of the important and useful departments are being curtailed to find funds for the extravagant expenditure of other departments. This practice should not be allowed. I submit therefore, Sir, that the recommendations made by the various Committees must be accepted and, as far as possible, put into practice without delay and thereby enhance the utility of the Public Accounts Committee.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): The resolution before the House raises a very important point with regard to the policy to be followed in the preparation of the budget. The necessity for such a resolution arises out of the fact that invariably every year we see several allotments under different budget heads lapse. The reason advanced by the Government members, especially in the case of the P. W. D., are chiefly that the estimate is not prepared or if the estimate is prepared it is not sanctioned by the Government and so on. These are the two reasons advanced by the P. W. D. in justification to meet the questions put to the Chief Engineer. According to the wording of the resolution if any allotment lapses it is to be reserved as a separate fund. Whether it is possible or not and whether it is in accordance with the accepted canons of budget making to have a separate fund is a question to be left to the Financial Secretary. To meet this contingency I am making two suggestions. Government should deal severely with the officers responsible for the lapse of funds. Unless for sufficient reasons, if it is due to negligence, the officers should be severely dealt with. No pains should be spared in punishing them. Secondly, if any allotment lapses then during the framing of the next budget that allotment should find the first place under that particular heading. It should be an accepted principle and must be strictly adhered to. In that case there is no necessity for creating a separate fund. If the Financial Secretary can assure the House that hereafter this principle will be adhered to, I do not think there is any necessity to support the resolution before the House. I shall therefore reserve my vote till I hear the Financial Secretary on that point.

From the various interpellations put before this House it will be seen that the question of Minor Irrigation has engaged the attention of the representatives of the people. It is a very serious matter affecting the whole of Travancore. It is rather pitiful that the Minor Irrigation Department is not functioning properly. From the budget it would be clear that every year a fair amount is set apart under that head, but very little work is done. I can not attribute this entirely to the negligence of the officers. It is partly due to the difficulty in complying with the rules and conditions laid down under the Minor Irrigation Regulation. There was a committee appointed to look into this question, as long ago 1930 or so, and they made certain recommendations to effect some changes in the existing rules.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: These are ideas that could be discussed during the general discussion of the budget.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): I shall be very brief. Government have dealt with these questions and sanctioned one or two recommendations leaving aside the rest for further consideration. It is on account of that that this complaint is raised against the Minor Irrigation Department. I think the officers cannot execute their work properly because the Rules and Regulations have been so framed that it is very difficult to comply with them.

In spite of the earnest attention on the part of those officers I find, Sir, they could not execute the work properly because of the Rules and Regulations which have been framed and it was very difficult to comply with all the conditions put down there. I earnestly implore Government members to consider this question very seriously. It is a matter in which the whole public of Travancore are interested and this question should engage the earliest attention of Government. With these observations I resume my seat.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): Sir, I rise to support the resolution of my honourable friend Mr. T. P. Velayudhan Pillai. I support it from a rural man's point of view. Sir, the inhabitants of towns may not be very anxious to have a resolution like this passed. Their needs are generally attended to and supplied without any difficulty, without even any agitation. The officers residing in big towns will take upon themselves to carry out those works for the sake of their amenities. There is a volume of discontent in the country that the needs of the rural areas are not satisfactorily attended to by the Government. And at the same time the larger portion of the revenue of the State is spent for the needs and amenities of the inhabitants of towns.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: That is absolutely irrelevant, for the resolution does not make a difference between towns and the country.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): Sir, I was pointing out that my chief reason for supporting the resolution before the House is, that it is the rural parts that are benefited by this resolution.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know whether the resolution refers to rural matters at all?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The resolution is to prevent the unjustifiable transfer of allotments. The resolution has been clearly expressed as such. Therefore Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai's question is entirely out of order.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, a word of personal explanation. I wanted to know whether anything is stated in the resolution which shows a conflict of interest between town and rural needs as shown by the member. As far as I am able to understand the question was for providing the balance of fund for the next year's use irrespective of the fact that it is served in a rural area or a town area.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: As the Chair has already asked Mr. Varughese not to consider the point raised by Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai, there is no necessity for Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai to ask any question on that.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, I have got a.....

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: No more personal explanations.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): Generally these transfers of allotment are made in works connected with the rural areas. For works connected with the needs of towns such transfers are not generally resorted to. Sir, I will explain my position by quoting one instance. As a result of agitation for a long period as to the necessity for a bridge in my taluk, a bridge at Poovanakadavu in the village of Mallappally, administrative sanction was obtained in the year 1932 and an amount of Rs. 10,000 was allotted in the budget for 1933. Only an amount of Rs. 27 was spent from that allotment in that year and the balance of the grant lapsed. Sir, neither in the year 1934 nor in the year 1935 was any sum allotted for the construction of that bridge.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Mr. Varughese must understand that in this House generally we speak in Malabar year.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Is it the member's view that the actual wants of the people were not looked after?

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): Yes.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: That question is also unnecessary.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): Many interpellations were put in this House in connection with this subject. But the answers from Government were "No funds. Wait till the economic conditions improve."

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The history of that particular work is not relevant to the further discussion unless the absence of a reserve fund is connected with that.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): If there had been a reserve fund as is contemplated by the resolution surely neither the Government nor the head of the department could dare to give such answers nor could they try to give preference to another work which is not even sanctioned. Sir, it is highly necessary to maintain the sanctity of administrative sanctions. It is after much consideration Government sanction a particular work and they spent a certain amount on that work. After one or two years the department says that there is no fund or that the work is not so very necessary as certain other works. Such an attitude on the part of the Government goes to their discredit. It violates the sanctity of administrative sanctions. Sir, to avoid all these misapprehensions and to maintain the prestige of Government, it is highly necessary that there should be a fund, a special fund to carry on the work once started till it is completed. With these words I support the resolution.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): Sir, I have gone through the Report of the Public Accounts Committee. The conclusions that they have reached are somewhat striking. I see an undesirable gap existing between a particular grant and the actual expenditure incurred. This topic engaged the attention of the honourable members of the Committee and they have dealt with that in their Report. Sir, it will be seen from the figures published on page 3 of the Report that there is a very wide gap between the original grant and the final expenditure. As an illustration of this, I may be permitted to refer to the three departments, viz., Education, P. W. D. and Medical, Public Health and Sanitation. It will be seen further that for the Education Department there was an original grant of Rs. 4,064,579. Finding that this amount was not quite sufficient for the department Government came forward with a supplementary demand for Rs. 38,644. So, the total sum allotted for the year 1110 for the Education Department comes to Rs. 46,43,223.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Is the honourable member aware that a supplementary grant has to be moved whenever a new service is to be provided?

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): I am aware of that fact, Sir, and that is the usual explanation given. But my point is this: When there was an original grant, if the department had any definite plan beforehand in the course of the year, there should not have been a demand for a supplementary grant.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Sir, I am afraid that the honourable member has not answered my question.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The honourable member has answered that and he has said that he knows something more.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): May I know whether he is aware of the rules?

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): Yes, Sir, I have already answered that question. I am fully aware of the rules and also the explanation given for such state of affairs.

The next department that is very prominent for this characteristic is the P. W. D. Sir, there, we find an original demand of Rs. 86,01,726. Not being satisfied with this.....

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): I want to know from the member whether he would justify the position of the Director of Public Instruction if he has spent from the amount allotted.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: That is not a legitimate matter for a question. Leave him to his argument.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): So far as the Education department is concerned, instead of a supplementary demand we find a saving.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether a supplementary grant would not be moved where there is money in any other items in the department?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: It is a hypothetical question. I consider that that question need not be answered.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): So, Sir, we find a saving of 18,190 rupees for the P. W. D. and for the Medical Department we find a saving of 53,250 rupees. Especially with regard to departments which exist for meeting the social needs of the population, namely, Education, Public Works and Sanitation, it is very unsatisfactory to show a saving at the end of the year.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Is it the honourable member's view then that they should spend the whole amount? Suppose, an estimate was prepared for Rs. 33,000 and when tenders were called for, one was submitted for Rs. 22,000. Does it mean that this contractor, who submitted that tender should be asked "no, our estimate is for Rs. 33,000 and we have to spend the whole amount. So, you must do the job for 33,000"?

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): In calling for tenders the department did not do things with sufficient forethought. With regard to the resolution.....

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): Sir, does the honourable member realise that the saving in the department arises out of the special charges which cannot be anticipated, such as leave to departmental officers?

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): I am not concerned with the item under which saving is effected. My only point is that generally it is not desirable to show a saving like that. With regard to the resolution moved by my friend Mr. T. P. Velayudhan Pillai, the resolution is already accepted.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Does the member support or oppose?

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): I support the resolution, Sir.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): I would like to make some observations in respect of the resolution moved by Mr. Velayudhan Pillai. Though Mr. Velayudhan Pillai's resolution does not specifically refer to rural needs, I take it that when he tabled this resolution, he had rural needs uppermost in his mind. Complaints regarding incomplete works and also rural needs mostly relate to the P. W. D. This is evident from the large number of questions which the Chief Engineer is called upon to answer here. Sir, it is with the greatest difficulty that we the representatives of the rural parts bring home to the Government the various dire needs of the rural places. If a particular road has to be constructed in a locality, it is only after repeated demands that Government pay some attention to the matter. After having obtained the sanction for the work we have to cry for the budget allotment. Even if we manage to obtain the budget allotment for the work in a certain year, it so happens that the work is not taken up in the same year itself. If the work is not taken up, the amount which has been allotted for the work lapses. Well, if the work has to be taken up again, we have to move the authorities again by the same circumlocation process. It is for the purpose of saving this trouble that Mr. Velayudhan Pillai has tabled this resolution. I believe that this resolution will be supported by one and all on the non-official side.

[Mr. K. Padmanabhan.]

Sir, in this connection, as has been referred to by my friend Mr. Varughese, I would also like to bring home to Government certain rural needs of my taluq. But I don't wish to do it now especially in view of the fact that the needs of my taluq are too well known to the Government and the Chief Engineer.

Turning to the report of the Public Accounts Committee, I would just call the attention of the House to one aspect of it, namely the sanctioning of expenditure under Section 32. Sir, Section 32 is intended only for emergent cases. There is no doubt about that. However, there are repeated complaints from the non-official side that the Government often resort to this reserve provision in the Regulation. Sir, the Dewan-President gave a sort of undertaking before the former Committee to the effect that as far as possible the Standing Finance Committee would be consulted before expenditure is incurred under Section 32.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : I would make one observation. In mentioning the President's name, the honourable member may mention him as the President. The Regulation makes a difference between the Dewan-President and the President.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I) : May I know whether in the case of the Public Accounts Committee the term used is not the Chairman?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : Yes.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I) : I believe that the Chairman made that undertaking on behalf of Government. Well, in this year's report, the Chairman has gone back upon the original undertaking and he says in an evasive way that Section 32 has been resorted to only in very emergent cases.

Sir, I ask what is the harm in summoning the Finance Committee and consulting it. After all, that Committee consists only of a few members and even in urgent matters, it is convenient to consult the Committee.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I) : I oppose the resolution moved by my friend Mr. T. P. Velayudhan Pillai. Budgeting, as I understand it, is an estimate of the income and expenditure for the year under contemplation and not for all time as the resolution moved by the honourable friend would suggest. We should have the liberty to review every year our plans and adjust our finances accordingly. If there is any amount earmarked for any work in any year as unspent, it can as well be included in the next year's budget if the urgency of the works so requires.

Then I ask one question why this partiality for the P. W. D. alone. If a fund as the one my friend suggests is to be created, we will have to create educational, agricultural and medical funds. So, the budget thus prepared will be a budget for years to come and not a budget for the coming year.

Then again, another honourable member was referring to the difficulty the members of the Legislature were feeling in the matter of demands being granted and administrative sanction being obtained for particular works. I fear they are not the normal duties of the members of legislature. Representatives of the people might at best draw the attention of the Government to the need for particular works, and I fear by going beyond that they are abusing their privileges. Moreover this House has once turned down the principles of this resolution by not granting the demand moved by the Chief Engineer for preparing a priority list of the roads, canals and bridges to be constructed in the State. With these words I oppose the resolution.

MR. S. CHATTANATHA KARAYALAR (Shenacotta): Sir, I wish to make some general observations on the Report of the Public Accounts Committee on the Audit and Appropriation Report of 1110. The main functions of the Committee are laid down in the Audit and Appropriation Report. They are to examine the Report and to bring to the notice of the Legislature any irregularities that may be found in regard to the appropriation of grants and also misappropriations and defalcations and other irregularities that may be found out in the Audit Report.

Sir, I take it that it is as a result of the work of the Public Accounts Committee during the last few years and as a result of the control exercised by them in regard to the appropriation of grants, that a closer approximation of the total expenditure to the total grant has been attained during 1110 than during 1109. While during 1109 the divergence between grant and expenditure was Rs. 10.83 lakhs it is only Rs 1.50 lakhs in 1110.

This is a very gratifying result.

In regard to the total expenditure under voted grants, I find from page 37 of the Audit and Appropriation Report that while the total final grant is only Rs. 42 lakhs, the total expenditure is Rs. 43.5 lakhs. There is an excess of approximately Rs. 1.5 lakhs over the total final grant of Rs. 42 lakhs. Sir, the total final grant is composed of three items, namely, the original grant made by this House at the Budget Session, the supplementary grants also sanctioned by this House, and the grants sanctioned by the Government under Section 32 of Regulation II of 1108. Adding together the grants under these three items, for the year to which this Report relates, we get only Rs. 42 lakhs, whereas the total expenditure comes to Rs. 43.5 lakhs. I fail to see how the excess expenditure of Rs. 1.5 lakhs can be accounted for. I am at a loss to know under what authority such extra expenditure was incurred or spent. So far, I have not been able to get an explanation for that from the Report of the Public Accounts Committee or from the Audit and Appropriation Report or from the Government. I would like to have an explanation from the Government Bench as in regard to this excess expenditure of Rs. 1.5 lakhs.

Coming to the audit side of the report, I wish to make one or two suggestions. The Audit Report discloses a number of defalcations and misappropriations and some other irregularities. These defalcations and misappropriations occur mostly in the Land Revenue Department. In the previous years' report also several instances of such defalcations and misappropriations were given. The common features of these defalcations are wrong totalling of the figures by the Proverthikars or the Accountants, crediting in the Government accounts amounts smaller than those actually received, leaving the duplicates blank or tearing away the originals and keeping only the counterfoils with wrong entries. A glaring instance is afforded by item No. 11 in which during the Jamabandi inspection, an Assistant Peishkar discovered that for a very long time a Proverthikar had been misappropriating Government money by not crediting in the accounts amounts for which he had granted receipts. The total amount misappropriated by him comes to Rs. 400 and odd. There is also another glaring instance in item No. 16. An Accountant misappropriated a sum of Rs. 16-8-2 by not crediting in the accounts amounts collected by him, leaving blank the counterfoil of the tax receipt book and tearing off the original.

It is regrettable that, in spite of the checks imposed by the Government audit and the punishments meted out, these defalcations and misappropriations continue to be committed. I therefore suggest, in all seriousness, that the punishments meted out to the delinquents are not sufficiently deterrent. Sir, suspension for a short period which is the punishment in most cases is not likely to produce a deterrent effect. It is the duty of the Government to evolve a scheme for the effective prevention of such malpractices and defalcations of public money. This is a very serious matter requiring the earnest attention of the Government.

As regards the resolution moved by Mr. T. P. Velayudhan Pillai, I am opposed to it on principle. It goes against the fundamental principle of budgeting. There is also another reason behind my opposition. During the discussion of the Demand for the Public Works Department at the Budget Session, a cut motion, designed to accept the principle involved in this resolution, was brought forward; and that was thrown out by this House. This House will therefore stultify itself, if it should accept this resolution. I therefore oppose the resolution.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, I wish to make a few observations on what I would call the workings of three P's, in the State, viz., the Public Works Department, the Protective Irrigation, and the Protector of Depressed Classes. (Laughter).

With regard to the first P, viz., the P. W. D., the needs of the mofussil population in the matter of opening new roads are not being attended to properly.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: You are on the verge of irrelevancy, Mr. S. J. Nair. (Laughter).

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): The Audit and Appropriation Report discloses the fact that there has been an increase under P. W. D. tolls. In spite of such an increase, the roads are not being properly maintained.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: What has all this to do with the Audit and Appropriation Report? These are topics for budget discussion. Please make them relevant. I would then have no objection.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): At page 13 of the Audit and Appropriation Report, we find that there has been an increase of about Rs. 1½ lakhs under receipts from P. W. D. tolls due to keen competition at the auction of these toll gates. Within the Nedumangad Taluk itself, two separate P. W. D. toll gates have been established so that even for going from one part of the taluk to another every vehicle has to pay two P. W. D. tolls. For example, take.....

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Unless I look upon relevancy with a magnifying glass, I do not think you would be relevant in the observations that you are making.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Let us take as an example the Vempayam-Nedumangad road. Before a vehicle runs for twelve miles, along this road, it will have to pay two tolls.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Please drop such instances and proceed with your argument.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Yes, Sir.

A word in support of the resolution moved by Mr. T. P. Velayudhan Pillai. I know, Sir, that continuously for a period of eight years, representations were made to this House and to the Government for the conversion of Kallara-Aruvipuram trace into a road. Memorials after memorials were submitted. The representative of the people of Nedumangad put interpellation after interpellation urging the need and necessity of converting the Kallara-Aruvipuram trace into a road. (Laughter.) Last year, there was a provision of Rs. 1,000 in the budget for that purpose; but not a pie was spent. This year also there is a similar allotment in the Budget.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: That reference to the trace would be quite relevant if the member is in a position to inform the House that the road was sanctioned and yet nothing was done.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): There was an allotment in the budget for converting the trace into a road. (Mr. G. B. E. Truscott: Question.) I challenge the Chief Engineer. If he will kindly go through the pages of the budget, it will be evident that there was an allotment of Rs. 1,000 for this purpose.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The best evidence will be the budget itself. Has the member got it?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, copies of the budget have been circulated to all the members of this House, including the Chief Engineer. It must be in the possession of the honourable member also. If he will kindly refer to the budget, he will find that his statement—he challenged me—is wrong and the statement made by the honourable member for Nedumangad is correct. (Laughter.)

[Mr. S. J. Nair.]

Sir, not a pie out of the one thousand rupees allotted for the conversion of the Kallura-Aruvipuram trace into a cart-road was spent last year. If the amount had been set apart as a reserve fund, it would now have amounted to Rs. 2,000. (Laughter). I therefore heartily support the resolution moved by Mr. T. P. Velayudhan Pillai.

In regard to the second P, Protective Irrigation, for instance, it is stated at page 21 of the Audit and Appropriation Report as follows:—

"The allotment provided for works and maintenance excluding the allotment transferred from Irrigation Fund was Rs. 2 lakhs. The actual expenditure incurred during the year amounted only to Rs. 1'22 lakhs. The unexpended balance of Rs. '78 of a lakh was therefore transferred to Irrigation Fund under Debt Heads."

Sir, what is the fun and meaning in not expending the fund properly and transferring it. If we scrutinize the question of spending, it would be evident that it was purely towards the salary of officers in the Irrigation Department and not for the purpose of any original work, or for the improvement and advancement of the existing Irrigation works. This department, Sir, is being run as a matter of show.

In regard to the 3rd P, namely the working of the "Protector of Depressed Classes" a sad tale has to be told. Out of Rs. 10,000 provided for in the budget for the amelioration of the depressed classes only a sum of Rs. 4,115 was spent during the year and that perhaps purely for the salary of the Protector, in order to protect himself.

What I submit is that this department also is being run as a matter of show.

MR. N. K. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara I): Sir, I heartily support the resolution of Mr. Velayudhan Pillai. With regard to the Report under discussion, I am glad to say at the very outset that it discloses a better state of affairs than the Report we had the privilege of considering last year. Sir, it is gratifying to note that the Governments now seem to have begun to give some weight to the views of the non-official members of the Committee. For instance we see that there has been an appreciable increase under savings of grants this year. That shows that there is noticeable improvement in the forecasts as compared with last year. I submit that there is still much scope for improvement, and better results can certainly be achieved if stringent instructions are issued to departmental heads. Those officers who make reckless requests for additional grants should not be allowed to do so and they should be clearly told that they would be doing so on pain of certain punishment. Sir, I have a word to say in respect of the exercise of Section 32. Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai, one of the members of the Public Accounts Committee, seems to have suggested in the Committee that before any amount is sanctioned under Section 32 the members of the Finance Committee may be consulted. The Chair condescended to make a compromise by agreeing that in future a list of the items sanctioned under Section 32 would be placed before the Finance Committee.

I ask in all humility what earthly benefit we are going to derive by such a procedure. In this connection I may be permitted to place the following passage in the Report before the House:—

"Under the rules, of course, the Finance Committee need not be consulted. It would also not be practicable or necessary to summon the Committee merely for the purpose of consulting it about these cases. It was therefore decided to continue the present practice of consulting it whenever possible".

Sir, I am sure honourable members on this side of the House will take strong exception to the statement that such consultation is not necessary. As regards the statement that it is not practicable I ask how can it be said that it is not practicable. The Finance Committee can be summoned at two days' notice, Sir, wherever the members may be stationed. In these days when locomotion is so easy and rapid there can be no force in saying that it is not practicable to summon the Finance Committee. Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai seems also to have urged the point that it is a rule which is obtaining in other Legislatures in British India as well to which the Chairman expressed the view that it is not so. If such a practice is not being followed in other Legislatures I ask what is there to prevent us from giving a lead and going ahead of them. Have we not in other matters of far-reaching consequences very recently gone far in advance of them? I ask what is the harm and where is the difficulty in consulting the Finance Committee even when there is necessity for action under Section 32.

In regard to defalcations I have to say that there has been no improvement this year also. Last year the Land Revenue Commissioner stated in the Public Accounts Committee that he had some new scheme in hand to prevent defalcations in respect of his department. The present report does not disclose any such idea or scheme under the contemplation of Government. With these observations I support the resolution.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, I wish to offer a few remarks on the resolution before the House as well as on the report of the Public Accounts Committee. Sir, it has been stated that expenditure might become necessary in emergent cases under Section 32. In every Legislature there is such a provision for expenditure. That is granted. I understand that there is a practice existing in British India that ordinarily except in very exceptional cases Government would take care to consult the Finance Committee before they incur an expenditure under Section 32, although they have obviously got the power to incur expenditure without consulting the Finance Committee or anybody else. Technically that is so. So I suggested to the Chair that whenever possible they must by way of courtesy at least consult the Finance Committee and satisfy them about the emergent nature of the expenditure which made them invoke the aid of Section 32. The President said that that might not always be possible. He said that such items of expenditure as might have to be met by the application of Section 32 will be placed before the Finance Committee in the form of a statement. My friend Mr. Krishna Pillai asked what use there can be of such a procedure. I also thought at first when this suggestion was made that there is no practical use of such a procedure. On further consideration, however, I thought that there is some little use of such a concession. The statement laid on the table of the House does not give us an opportunity of discussing the items of expenditure whereas when the statement is presented to the representatives of the Assembly and the Council in the Finance Committee, the members of that committee get an opportunity of expressing their opinions to the head of the administration straight, 'such and such expenditure is not an emergent matter and you have done wrong in authorising the same'. Though the expenditure cannot be rectified, the fact remains that the criticism will form a check in a way to further expenditure under Section 32. I thought that something was better than nothing and I accepted the proposal of the Dewan as the best under the circumstances.

Sir, another point was raised, that is about the excess expenditure on various departments. I can very well realise that it is not possible to approximate to such an extent as to make the budget demand and the actual expenditure identical. But such disparity in expenditure and estimate should not be allowed. The savings effected from the original budget demand may not be transferred from one demand to another or from one minor head to another. Encouragement seems to have been given by Government to the other procedure. I do not think that departmental heads bring forward supplementary demands as a sort of financial subterfuge or short cut. Those who do so come with an honest motion before the House. We must accept that view because the House gets an opportunity of expressing its opinion on the supplementary demand. But if you say that the departmental heads must meet new expenditure from savings under the original demand I think they will only be too glad to do so as they need not undergo the ordeal of a supplementary demand being granted by the House after discussion. Sir, this House by asking for such a procedure will be unwittingly surrendering its power of financial control. I will not therefore deprecate the practice of moving for supplementary demands. On the other hand I will certainly find fault for over-estimating. That is a legitimate criticism which we can level against departmental heads. That is the way of controlling expenditure under various departments.

Sir, I wish to add only one word with regard to the work of the Public Accounts Committee. The control by the Public Accounts Committee can become real and effective only when we are able to have an independent audit officer for the State to present to us in all detail and impartially the expenditure incurred by the various departments including the Account Office. Sir, without that it is not possible to exercise an effective control over the expenditure of Government.

I can very well sympathise with the resolution of Mr. Velayudhan Pillai, though I cannot agree with the principle contained in the motion. Sir, we find that various items of expenditure have been incurred for incomplete roads which serve no purpose. The money spent on which has served no one and the roads themselves are lying idle.

Year by year allotments are made, but no expenditure is incurred and the work is not completed and nobody is benefited. I am afraid that the device suggested by my friend will not be able to cope with the situation. Unless Government make a comprehensive scheme for the completion of incomplete roads and provides money for them, it cannot be realised. My one criticism against the resolution is that it is ineffective to achieve the object which the honourable member has in view. Moreover, as my friend Mr. Chattanatha Karayalar pointed out, I am also opposed to the resolution because it is opposed to all principles of budgeting. If the Government are precluded from making any allotment taking into account the unspent balance remaining, new, important works which may become necessary will not be supplied with funds.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tirunelveli III) : May I know whether the member is aware of such a course in the Minor Irrigation Department?

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I) : Yes. That is exactly the reason why I do not approve of it. The minor irrigation fund accumulates there and the work is not progressing. Consequently nobody is benefited. Therefore, what is the use of that fund? We have a small portion of the Government finances accumulated and remaining unspent to the benefit of none. Sir, I appreciate the real difficulty which prompted my friend to bring forward this resolution. Only if Government make up their mind to tackle this question of pushing forward the incomplete works under a comprehensive scheme where the works to be completed are to be well arranged in the order of urgency, the solution aimed at can be attained. None of these short cuts will be able to effect the object that is in view. With these words I oppose the resolution.

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II) : I wish to offer a few words in this connection. At page 20 of the Audit and Appropriation Report it is said thus :—

"The savings under the head of Rs. 48 of a lakh were mainly under salaries of the Provincial staff of teachers of English Schools and under Vernacular School education. The savings under the latter were due to the decrease in the number of departmental Vernacular schools as a result of the abolition of certain overlapping schools, amalgamation of some Boys' and Girls' Schools and the closure of a few schools the buildings of which were in a dangerous condition."

There are a large number of schools that are housed in rented and dilapidated buildings. If a member of the House puts a question to the official member for improving the condition of buildings, the reply is that the matter is under correspondence or that the matter is under consideration or that the necessary lands are being acquired and so forth. Such excuses are commonly put forward by the official benches. This morning, to an interpellation of mine regarding the Nagaroor Primary School the answer was that the construction of the building can be proceeded with by the P. W. D. when funds become available. In this connection I ask, whether the Director of Public Instruction cannot divert these amounts for the construction, maintenance and repair of the Vernacular School buildings.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : What has that to do with the resolution ?

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II) : It has every relation to the questions under consideration.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : Is it not plain to me also ?

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II) : Then Sir, what I submit is that such appropriation of amounts is misappropriation itself. Funds are required for the acquisition of lands for putting up vernacular school buildings ; funds are not available for the proper maintenance of vernacular schools. When this is the condition, is it proper, Sir, to appropriate the funds allotted for vernacular education ? I am constrained to observe that the Government and the Director of Public Instruction are taking a step-motherly attitude in the matter of vernacular education.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : All that has nothing to do with the resolution before the House.

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II) : The sum allotted for expenses in connection with primary education and construction of school buildings ought not to have been diverted towards the payment of teachers.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : Notwithstanding the explanation, I consider that to be quite irrelevant.

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II) : I am sorry, Sir, that the Chair does not see the relevancy of my discussion. With these words, Sir, I support the resolution.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara) : I also support the resolution. Since the time is very limited I have only to make one observation. In regard to the Audit and Appropriation Report, I must say that it is quite unsatisfactory. For the Quilon-Trivandrum railway we have invested Rs. 56 lakhs and for the Quilon-Shencotta railway, we have guaranteed a certain minimum percentage of interest. With regard to the audit of the same, there is absolutely no reference in the report. It might be said that the Travancore Government do not audit the accounts. But we get the accounts audited by the Government of India. Why not the Travancore Government incorporate the same in this report so that, we all might know how these accounts stand ? This is a matter in which the interests of Travancore are very large.

With regard to the new services my point is this. In the Public Accounts Committee Report I find that Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai has raised a point that the opening of survey class and the printing of wall maps do not come under the heading "new services." It also appears that the Committee has by a majority passed that they are "new services." A wrong decision even by a Public Accounts Committee should not be accepted by this House. I am of opinion that these can never be considered as "new services." We cannot say that since these items are not included in the general budget they are new services. New services are those that could not have been contemplated at the time of the general budget.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : Is there any statutory interpretation like that ?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): There is no such definition. But Rule 77 says—

"An estimate shall be presented to the Assembly and the Council for a supplementary or additional grant when a need arises during the current year for expenditure for which the vote of the Legislature is necessary upon some new service not contemplated in the budget for that year."

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: But "service" is not defined.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Whatever that be, my submission is that these cannot be considered as "new services" on the ground that they are new items of expenditure.

Then with regard to excess expenditure, Mr. Karayalar drew the attention of the House that the excess expenditure of Rs. 49,000 could on no account be justified. I fully agree with him and I expect a satisfactory explanation from the Financial Secretary on this point. I have one more point to say and I shall not take up more than a minute.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The difficulty arises in this way. The honourable members desire to speak at the close of the debate. We have just five minutes more for the official member and the mover to speak in reply. Therefore Mr. Asan will understand the circumstances under which I am unable to give him more time.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I may explain, Sir.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: No. The official member will now speak.

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): Sir, as I have only a few minutes at my disposal, I shall briefly deal with the points brought forward by various speakers. What the resolution says is this:

"In order to prevent the unjustifiable transfer of allotments as stated in paragraph 14 of the Report .....

The resolution refers thus merely to Protective Irrigation Works. In regard to Protective Irrigation, there is already a reserve fund for irrigation purposes. We are allotting Rs. 2 lakhs each year to that fund. The amount in that reserve outstanding at the end of 1110 is about Rs. 6 lakhs. The mere fact of setting up a separate reserve fund, has not been successful in achieving the object aimed at by the mover. Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai referred to that matter and I agree with him. The object in view cannot be achieved by the multiplication of funds like this.

RAO SANIB MAHA KAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): Is it not due to the fact that adequate work has not been turned out by the Irrigation department?

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): May be. But the public have not suffered on account of the lack of setting up of such reserve funds. There is already a reserve fund for irrigation and the object has not been achieved.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): The fact that that fund has not been of real use may I know whether it is not due to the inefficiency of the department or Government—whatever that be?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : The Financial Secretary need not answer that.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara) : Does not the member know that the Chair has got the discretion to give more time?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : That question is absolutely irrelevant. The member is presumed to know the rules.

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government) : Then we have a road fund. There is a sum of Rs. 1,12,000 built up out of the contributions by the Government of India from the petrol duty. Therefore we have already two funds. The resolution now urges Government to create a third fund. Let us see what are the facts in the case. I see on a close examination of the figures, there is nothing to carry forward.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : May I know whether the Financial Secretary opposes or supports the resolution?

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government) : I oppose the resolution. The expenditure under P. W. D. for the years 1107, 1108, 1109 and 1110 are Rs. 26 lakhs, Rs. 28.58 lakhs, Rs. 34.43 lakhs and 39.65 lakhs respectively. So then there is nothing to carry forward even if we accept the resolution.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural) : In regard to excess expenditure, may I know whether that expenditure was incurred by the head of the department with Government sanction or not?

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government) : Such expenditure was incurred with the Government sanction. There is no provision in the statute in regard to the sanction necessary for such expenditure.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : Do you press your motion, Mr. T. P. Velayudhan Pillai?

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III) : Yes, Sir.

The resolution was put to vote and lost.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : The House will now adjourn to meet again to-morrow at 11 o'clock.

The House adjourned at 5-1 P. M.

P. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI,
Secretary to the Sri Mulam Assembly.

(d) the basis under which the said nomination or recommendation was made?

KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) In cases falling within Rules 38 (4) and 46 of the Public Service Recruitment Rules, medical officers have been appointed to report to the Public Service Commissioner as to the health of candidates for recruitment. In other cases Rule 12 leaves to the discretion of the appointing authorities the mode in which they ascertain the health of candidates recruited.

(b) The medical officers are doctors, not being below the rank of Deputy Surgeon, in charge of, or deputed by the medical officer in charge of the General Hospital, Trivandrum, and each District Hospital in the State.

(c) & (d) In view of the answer to part (b) above, these do not arise.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know how many medical officers have been appointed for examining the candidates for recruitment?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The Public Service Commissioner will indent upon the services of as many medical officers as are necessary to examine the candidates. There is no fixed number.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know how the medical officers are to be selected?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Sir, it is stated in the answer—

“The medical officers are doctors, not being below the rank of Deputy Surgeon, in charge of, or deputed by the medical officer in charge of the General Hospital, Trivandrum, and each District Hospital in the State.”

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Are the candidates levied any fees for the examination?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): No, Sir.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Are the medical officers given any special allowance for the purpose?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): No, Sir.

Communal rotation for recruitment to Public Service.

175. *MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government be pleased to state:

- (a) how the order of communal rotation in the matter of appointments in the Intermediate and Lower Divisions has been arrived at;
- (b) who fixed the communal rotation; and
- (c) for how many years to come the existing communal rotation would last?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) There is no communal rotation for recruitments to the Intermediate Division. The communal rotation for recruitments to the Lower Division was decided after due consideration of all the relevant materials.

(b) Government.

(c) By G. O. R. Dis. No. 893/Genl., dated 25th June 1935 paragraph 20, Government have ordered that the new system of recruitment will be worked for three years tentatively at the end of which the position will be reviewed by Government in the light of the conditions then existing.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): In the answer to part (a) of the question it is stated "There is no communal rotation for recruitments to the Intermediate Division". May I know out of the 55 vacancies how many Nairs are selected in the Intermediate Division?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Recruitment to the Intermediate Division is on the following lines:—60 per cent of the appointments are given to the best candidates and the remaining 40 per cent to members of the inadequately represented communities on the results of the selection test combined with preference.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether that preference alluded to by the member is made on communal representation or not?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Preference is determined by the inadequacy of representation in Government service.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): With reference to the answer to part (c) of the question may I know how the communal rotation has been arrived at with regard to the Lower Division?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): It is explained in the G. O. on recruitment.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know how the principle of rotation has been arrived at by the Government?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Government considered all aspects of the question and fixed the basis of communal rotation in recruitment to the Lower Division.

Recruitment to the Public Service.

176. *MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the number of candidates that appeared for the examination held recently by the Public Service Commissioner for purposes of recruitment to the public service;

(b) the number of vacancies that were to be filled up with the successful candidates in that examination;

(c) whether the names and rank of the successful candidates who were to be selected and the names or hall ticket numbers of those who were not selected with the subjects in which they have failed were published; and

(d) the principle accepted for the apportionment of the 30 per cent. of the bonus marks for acting service, inadequate representation, etc.?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a), (b), and (c). This information is contained in the Public Service Department Sheets of the Government Gazette dated the 13th October 1936 and 20th October 1936.

(d) No marks are given for inadequate representation. The principle accepted for the apportionment of the 30 per cent. of the total marks for acting service and other matters stated in Rule 30 (2) of the Public Service Recruitment Rules is also stated there.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): With reference to answer to part (d) what are the conditions under which the candidate will be entitled to get the 30 per cent. of the marks?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): 30 per cent of the marks are apportioned to four subjects; (1) acting-service, (2) special qualifications, (3) backwardness of the community and (4) result of the interview.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Is the 30 per cent equally distributed for the items mentioned?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): No, Sir. These marks are distributed by the Public Service Commissioner in a manner which he deems just.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, the member said that for inadequately represented communities special marks will be given. Now it is said in the answer that "No marks are given for inadequate representation."

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I said "backwardness of the community" and not "inadequacy of representation"

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Am I to understand that for the written examination only 70 per cent of the total number of marks are allotted?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Yes, Sir.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): As for the 30 per cent of marks, is it distributed in any proportion for the various matters of representation, acting service and low literacy?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): No such rule has been laid down and it is not possible to do so. In some cases an interview may not be necessary in which case 30 per cent of the marks will be distributed among the remaining three items. In some other cases special qualifications may be more important and more marks may have to be allotted to it than to other subjects. It is not therefore possible to lay down any hard and fast rule for the distribution of the 30 per cent. marks.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): To take a specific case, suppose there are two candidates one with one year's service and the other with two years' acting service. May I know in their case, how the 30 per cent marks will be distributed?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): 30 per cent of the marks are not intended for acting service alone. If the man with two years' acting service gets a certain number of marks another man with one year's service will get half that number if other things are equal.

Selection Test by the Public Service Commissioner.

177. *MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): With reference to the selection test lately conducted by the Public Service Commissioner for the selection of candidates for appointments as clerks on Rs. 20-25, will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) how the special marks referred to in paragraph 14 of the G. O. R. Dis. No. 893/Genl., dated 25th June 1935 were allotted for previous approved acting service, etc., mentioned in that paragraph; and

(b) will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a community-war statement of the 510 candidates who would have succeeded as a result of the examination held irrespective of the special marks?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) The principle of allotment of marks is stated in Rule 80 (2) (b) of the Public Service Recruitment Rules. The actual allotment in each case is confidential.

(b) This does not arise in view of the latter part of the answer to (a).

Temporary Munsiff's Court at Nedumangad.

178. *MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) what action they have taken to confirm the Temporary Munsiff's Court at Nedumangad;

(b) what is the nature of the report recently submitted by the Special Officer, in respect of the confirmation of the Court;

[Mr. S. J. Nair.]

(c) whether they are aware that the people of the taluk, when they presented addresses to the former Dewans Mr. T. Austin and Nawab Sir M. Habibulla, they have pointed out that the existing jurisdiction of the Court shall not be changed and the Court be confirmed; and

(d) what objection there is in granting a Munsiff-Magistrate's Court?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) The file at present and in the preceding years does not justify the Court being made permanent.

(b) No report has been submitted.

(c) Government have no information.

(d) Past experience has shown that one officer cannot cope with both civil and criminal work.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether a special officer was appointed some time back with regard to settling the question of the confirmation of courts and the starting of new ones?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): A special officer was appointed but not for these purposes.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether Mr. P. N. Padmanabha Pillai was not appointed for that purpose?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I said that a special officer was appointed, but not for the specific purposes mentioned by the member.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether this special officer has gone into this question and submitted a report?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): He examined the various recommendations of the Laws Delays Commissioner and submitted a report to the High Court. It has not yet come to the Government.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the Government have directed the High Court to enquire into the question of the confirmation of the Munsiff's Court at Nedumangad?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The High Court was consulted on several occasions about the confirmation of the Munsiff's Court at Nedumangad. But the High Court always stated that the file in that court did not justify its confirmation.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): With reference to answer to part (d) it is stated "past experience has shown that one officer cannot cope with both civil and criminal work". May I know whether Government have considered the feasibility of it in recent times?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): When past experience is that, I do not think that there is any necessity to consider it again.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation):

| (a) Year. | Amount allotted for the minor irrigation works in Neyyattinkara Taluk. |
|-----------|------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1109      | Rs 11,660                                                              |
| 1110      | Rs 16,518                                                              |

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Usually by contractors.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): May I know whether any action is taken against the contractors for not doing the works properly and in time?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): No action is called for.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): With reference to item No. 4 in the appendix, may I know why only 82 rupees was spent when the estimated amount was Rs. 1790?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Both are taxies.

The K. D. H. P. Company.

196. *MR. T. K. ALEXANDER (Kunnathnad I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): These lands were sold in auction and the figures show the amount that we realised in auction.

MR. T. T. KESAVAN SASTRI (Nominated): അതിൽനിന്നും എത്ര ഏക്കർ സ്ഥലം അധഃകൃതർക്ക് പതിച്ചുകൊടുത്തിട്ടുണ്ട്?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): ആ സ്ഥലത്തുനിന്നും അധഃകൃതർക്ക് പതിച്ചുകൊടുത്തിട്ടില്ല. കുറെ സ്ഥലം അധഃകൃതർക്ക് പതിച്ചുകൊടുക്കുന്ന നിരന്തര ചാലിക്കുന്നുണ്ട്.

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): I believe so.

Remission of tax in Nanjind.

198. *MR. S. THIRAVIAM NADAR (Agasthiparam): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether they have considered the question of complete remission of tax in Nanjind for tharivu fields;

[Mr. S. Thiraviam Nadar.]

(b) if so, what is the result of the consideration; and

(c) if the result is refusal of complete remission what were the grounds that weighed with Government for refusal?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner):

(a) Yes.

(b) The remission was not sanctioned.

(c) The lands are not entitled to fallow remission under the Remission Rules. Government had already granted a general remission of 18½ per cent. tax including water cess and irrigation assessment.

MR. S. THIRAVIAM NADAR (Agasivaram): With regard to the answer to part (c) may I know whether Government refused to supply water?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): They did not refuse to supply water.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): May I know the extent of tharivu land?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): I claim notice.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): Was water tax realised?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): Yes.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): How was water tax realised when Government did not supply water?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): It was realised because it was due.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): What was the result of the deputation that waited on the Dewan with regard to this?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): That is given in the answer.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): Was part remission granted?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): They are entitled to a general remission of 18½ per cent.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): Is the member aware that resolutions were passed in this House that remission rules should be so modified?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): There was a discussion on that subject and Government had to consider many other points and the matter is under consideration with Government.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): May I know whether it was on account of a Government notification to the effect that the water will not be supplied within the commanded area that most of the lands were left fallow by the ryots during the Kanni crop of 1111?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): It would have been foolish to cultivate the land when there is no water. The Government notification was to the effect that the water will not be sufficient for the purpose of cultivation. That was only an intimation to the ryots that it would be risky to undertake cultivation.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): May I know that but for the notification the ryots would have cultivated?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): Yes, perhaps, and lost heavily.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): May I know whether it is not the duty of Government to treat these lands as karivu lands?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): No, they were not karivu lands but they were left fallow.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): May I know whether fallow remissions are given due to the fact that Government expect that the Kodayar Project would never fail to supply water?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): Yes, that must have been one of the reasons.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): In view of the fact that Government had issued a notification to the effect that there was no sufficiency of water, what was the special reason for Government to refuse fallow remissions to such lands which were left uncultivated?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income-tax Commissioner): I have given my answer and I don't think I can add anything more.

Ag. Director of Public Instruction.

199. *MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicoolam): With reference to the answer to question No. 237 (347) answered on the 7th August 1936 at the last session, will the Government be pleased to place on the table copies of the orders on the defalcation in the College of Science referred to in that answer?

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicoolam): May I know from Government what led to the decision that the money misappropriated may not be recovered?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Government examined the whole question and came to the conclusion that there was no justification to recover the amount from the officers concerned.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicoolam): May I know the reasons which weighed with Government to think that there was no justification?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): As I said Government examined the whole question, obtained explanations of the officers, scrutinised them and as a result, they came to the conclusion that there was no justification to recover the amount from the officers.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): Was this treated as a special case or a general one?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The same rule will apply to all cases.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): May I know whether the writer of the College is the custodian of the amount collected as fees?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): He collects the fees and remits the amount into the Treasury.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know from Government whether there was annual auditing of the College Accounts?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I do not know whether audit was being conducted annually.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the writer of the College has been prosecuted and punished?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): He was prosecuted and punished for theft and burglary.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. (b) He has considerable experience in design and construction of hydro electric works.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): May I know whether the Chief Engineer has great experience in civil and hydro-electric engineering?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): He has got experience in civil and hydro-electric works.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): In which Department has he greater experience?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): He has sufficient experience in civil engineering to be the Chief Engineer of the P. W. D.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): That not my question.

In what Section of the Department has he greater experience?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I claim notice.

PRESIDENT: I suppose the honourable member can look into the Civil List of Madras Government.

Bridge over the Neyyar at Mandapatunkudavu.

201. *MR. N. K. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara I): Will the Government be pleased to state with reference to the necessity for a bridge over the Neyyar at Mandapatunkudavu in Ottasekharanagalam pakuthi which was the subject matter of question No. 45 answered in the Sri Chitra State Council on 18-6-1110 and published on page 126 of the State Council Proceedings (Vol. IV, No. 4):

(a) whether the construction of the bridge was left to wait until the three traces leading to it are made fit for cart traffic;

(b) whether the three traces referred to have been made fit for cart traffic; and

(c) if the answer to part (b) is in the affirmative, what is the delay in starting the construction of the bridge?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): (a) Yes.

(b) Only two traces have been made fit for cart traffic.

(c) A rough estimate has been called for by the Chief Engineer for the construction of the bridge.

MR. N. K. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara I): May I know from the Government whether these three traces have been made fit for cart traffic?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Two of them have been improved. I have called for a rough estimate for the construction of the bridge.

Registry of lands to the Depressed Classes.

202. *MR. N. K. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the total area of land available for registry to the depressed classes in 1108, 1109 and 1110, respectively; and

(b) the total area registered to them in each of these years?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): A * statement containing the information is laid on the table.

MR. N. K. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara I): May I know why during the years 1108, 1109 and 1110 more than 15,000 acres have been made available for registration and yet there has been such decline in the area actually registered?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): The total area ear-marked was 15,634 acres. As to the variations of the figures it is due to several reasons. They might have applied for occupied lands, for lands which might have been already registered, and then there might not have been sufficient applicants.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kabulam I): I know there are cases where the applications for registry of land within the area allotted have been refused to the depressed classes.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Is the total land available for registration represented by these figures?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): I believe so.

MR. CHANGANACHERY K. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Kunnattur cum Pattanapuram): May I know how long these acres have been pending registry?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): Several years.

MR. CHANGANACHERY K. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Kunnattur cum Pattanapuram): What is the delay in getting them registered?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): It depends upon circumstances.

MR. M. K. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara I): May I know whether it is because there has been no application that the registry is so small?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): In many places, the applications are not forthcoming, because they do not like the land.

MR. M. K. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara I): May I know whether most of the lands have been stated to be unfit on account of rocks found in them?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): No. Some places are rocky but there is a large number of good tracts.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): Is the area so far earmarked as totalled up in this answer already registered?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): The answer gives the registry for the respective years.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): I want to know the total area registered?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): I am unable to give the answer.

MR. PACODE A. MARYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): May I know whether the fitness of the lands was considered at the time of the ear-marking?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): The Tahsildars were asked to select the lands and they were ear-marked in that way.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the lands held out for the purpose of registry to the depressed classes lie in out of the way places?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): In some cases they are out of the way and in some, they are rocky. But there are also good tracts.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): If the ear-marked lands lie in out of the way places will it not be inconvenient for the depressed classes to occupy them?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): It is a matter of opinion.

MR. T. T. KESAVAN SASTRI (Nominated) : എതു ഇനത്തിലാണ് പതിച്ചു കൊടുത്തിട്ടുള്ളത്?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner) : ഇനം എന്ത് പറഞ്ഞതു മനസ്സിലായില്ല.

MR. T. T. KESAVAN SASTRI (Nominated) : തറവില തടിയില മുതലായത് ഇഴകാക്കിയിട്ടാണോ അതല്ല ഭാഗമായിട്ടാണോ പതിച്ചുകൊടുത്തിട്ടുള്ളത്?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner) : ഭാഗപതിവ് ആയിരിക്കണം.

Sinking of a well at Kottappuram.

203. * MR. N. K. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara I) : Will the Government be pleased to state :

(b) if the answer to part (a) is in the affirmative, the amount so far (till 24-11-1111) spent on it ; and

(b) Rs. 148.

(c) No.

(a) whether the Chief Engineer has received the estimate from the Division Officer ; and

(b) if so, the action taken by the Chief Engineer on receiving the estimate?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation) : (a) Yes.

[Mr. G. B. E. Truscott.]

(b) He submitted the estimate to Government for sanction. But the Government have instructed the Chief Engineer to move for administrative sanction when there is a prospect of finding the necessary funds for the work.

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): May I know when the Chief Engineer submitted the estimate to Government for sanction?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads Buildings and Irrigation): Rs. 5,650.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal): May I know whether there is any prospect of finding the necessary funds in the near future?

206. *MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): With reference to the Kallambalam Karettu road, will the Government be pleased to state whether there is any provision in the budget allotments for this year (1111) for the construction of the bridge across the Koduvazhamnoor river?

* Vide Appendix VI—page 633 and 634.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I must claim notice.

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): With regard to the answer to part (d) may I know whether the Government are aware that the inhabitants of Chirayinkil pakuthi have sent representations to the Chief Engineer last year with regard to the necessity of investigating and improving the tanks in the pakuthi?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): No preference is shown on the ground that a subordinate has passed the Revenue Test earlier than his senior if at the time the vacancy occurs in the higher grade the latter has passed the test.

Accidents on the Main Road.

210. *MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government be pleased to state the number of accidents that took place on the Main Road from the Museum to the East Fort, Trivandrum, during 1108, 1109, 1110, 1111 and 1112 M. E. (till 16-3-1112)?

Motor fares of Service Buses.

211. *MR. N. K. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara I): Will Government be pleased to state with reference to the rates of fare fixed by the owners of service buses plying for hire in the Trivandrum—Quilon line and the Trivandrum—Nagercoil line:

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): In the Trivandrum-Quilon road there is the road-rail competition. That is the reason why passenger fare is very much reduced in that road. There is no such competition between Trivandrum and Nagercoil.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Would it not be possible to remove this inequality in the matter of fares when the Government takes up the motor traffic?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Well, it may be possible.

MR. A. EASWARA PILLAI (Kalkulam II): May I know with regard to the traffic between Trivandrum and Nagercoil whether any monopoly is given to two Companies?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): There must be; else the buses will not run.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): May I know whether bus traffic is heavier on the M. S. road or on the Trivandrum-Quilon road?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): I have no idea at present for his immediate reply.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): With regard to the Trivandrum—Nagercoil line, has not competition been made impossible on account of the timings granted for the various buses?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): I could not hear or understand the question. I would therefore request the member to repeat it a bit louder.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): This is the first time I hear that complaint being raised against me.

PRESIDENT: Accidents occur. (Laughter.)

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): I wish to know whether competition has not been made impossible on account of the timings granted for the various buses.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Which is the route that the honourable member is referring to?

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): I could not hear the honourable member. (Laughter.)

PRESIDENT: The honourable member will raise his voice.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): I want to know which line the honourable member is referring to.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): The Trivandrum—Nagercoil line.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): There is no competition at all in that line.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): How many owners are now running buses in that line?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): About 35 owners.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): May I know whether, in a large number of cases, applications, for G. permits to run buses in this line, were refused?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Yes.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): Why?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): There was no necessity for additional service.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): Who is to decide that?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): The Officer in charge of traffic administration.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): Were there not complaints against such Officer?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): The complaints were suitably answered.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): What I want to know is whether there were complaints.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): There were.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): May I know the number of such complaints received last year and the year before last?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): I claim notice as to that number.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kaikulam I): May I know whether particular days are set apart for the buses owned by one company?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): To avoid unnecessary rivalry, in the interests of the convenience of the passengers, that arrangement has been made.

LEGISLATIVE BUSINESS.

THE TRAVANCORE HINDU WIDOWS'
REMARRIAGE BILL.

SRIMATI T. NARAYANI AMMA (Nominated): I rise to introduce the Travancore Hindu Widows' Remarriage Bill. Copies of the Bill, together with a Statement of Objects and Reasons, have been circulated among the members. I beg to move that the Bill be read in the Assembly.

MISS HEPPZIBAH GANASIKAMONY (Nominated): I Second it.

SRIMATI T. NARAYANI AMMA (Nominated): I shall now briefly explain the principles underlying the Bill. The object of the Bill, as stated in the Statement of Objects and Reasons, is to remove all legal obstacles against the remarriage of Hindu widows in Travancore. I am emphatically of opinion, Sir, that though in Travancore, the proportion of widows to the total number of females is less than in other parts of India, it is large enough to merit notice. According to the Census Report, there are 119 widows for every 1000 women as against 155 in India. The comparatively low proportion of widows in Travancore, is, no doubt due to the fact that widow remarriage is not prohibited among the bulk of the population in this State. But there are several communities among whom early marriage is common and widow remarriage is prohibited. Whether the number of such widows in those communities is small or large, the ban on the remarriage of widows is undoubtedly a source of considerable social evil. In the Statement of Objects and Reasons, I have quoted the views of the Census Commissioner for India. It is with the object of preventing such social evils and bettering, by a purely permissive legislation, the lot of many a young widow, that my Bill is drafted.

The Bill is generally on the lines of Act XV of 1856. But I have made a slight change. By Section 2 of Act XV of 1856, the remarriage of a Hindu widow brings about her civil death so far as her deceased husband's estate is concerned. That, I consider, is a very harsh provision and I have dropped it in my Bill,—a change which, as I have said in my Statement of Objects and Reasons, accords both with reason and the law of our State.

In conclusion I wish to emphasise the fact that the Bill is a purely permissive measure the aim being the removal of legal obstacle to the remarriage of Hindu widows in Travancore, and the legitimising of the children born of such wedlock. It does not at all affect the freedom of any woman who, after the death of her husband, chooses to remain a widow.

Under these circumstances, I fully trust that the House will unanimously support the principle of the Bill.

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): What is the community to which the large number of widows in the country belong?

SRIMATI T. NARAYANI AMMA (Nominated): Brahmins.

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): May I know whether there has been any demand from the Brahmin community for a Bill of this kind?

SRIMATI T. NARAYANI AMMA (Nominated): Yes, Sir.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know the number of widows in the State? (Laughter.)

SRIMATI T. NARAYANI AMMA (Nominated): The honourable member may refer to the Census Report. (Continued Laughter.)

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, I oppose the principle of this Bill. I shall not be misunderstood by the honourable members of this House, or by anybody outside, while I stand up and oppose the principle of this Bill. I am against child marriage; and I am also for the introduction and encouragement of widow remarriage. But my point is that this Bill has been introduced in this House only as a result of mere imitation.

In Travancore, Sir, the major Hindu communities are the Nayar community and the Ezhava community. So far as these two communities are concerned, there is no restriction against widow remarriage; and widow remarriage is taking place daily as a result of custom or usage. There is absolutely no bar against the widows of the Ezhava and the Nair communities getting remarried.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): May I know whether there is not an odium attached to widow remarriage even in those communities?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Absolutely none. I can assure the honourable member about that.

The other important Hindu community is the Vellala community. So far as the Vellalas who reside in Central Travancore, especially in the Nedumangad and the Chirayinkil taluks—I have personal knowledge about them—widow remarriage among them is taking place daily. (Laughter.) I know instances.

Mr. S. J. Nair.

Ms. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): May I know the number of widows in the Chirayinkil taluk?

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): My friend may refer to the Census Report. (Laughter.)

Ms. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilwankod): Is the honourable member referring to Makkavashi or to Marumakkavashi Vellalas?

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I am referring to the Makkavashi as well as to the Marumakkavashi Vellalas in the Nedumangad taluk.

With regard to the Kshatriyas, Sir, there is absolutely no bar against widow remarriage.

Coming to the Brahmins, even amongst them, widow remarriage does take place in certain places.

Ms. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): Where?

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Among Pottis, who are Malayali Brahmins. Sir, they are very orthodox and conservative Brahmins. I know of instances of widow remarriage among the Malayali Brahmins. Not only that the enlightened and modern educated leaders and ladies in the community support, approve and advocate the widow remarriage amongst them, and even without any law they conduct widow remarriages without much opposition.

PRESIDENT: Although we all know the readiness and resourcefulness of Mr. S. J. Nair, I think, it would be conducive to the convenience of debate if even he is not embarrassed with a multiplicity of questions. (Laughter.)

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, my point is that there is only a microscopic minority, which can be counted on our fingers ends amongst whom there is a ban against widow remarriage. Among the vast majority of Hindu communities in Travancore, widow remarriage has been in vogue from time immemorial. There is, therefore, no necessity for this Bill. Legislative enactment would be justified only when any evil practice or custom is in the increase and not when it is in the decrease. Now the civil bar against remarriage of widows in the Hindu community is slowly and steadily dying out. In course of time, as a result of the advancement of modern theories and thought on the question of marriage, the prevailing evil that is slowly dying out would completely vanish for the good of the country and of the community amongst whom the evil exists.

Further Sir, if we have a legislation of this kind in our Statute Book, what will the people outside think of the conditions here? It is true that the prohibition of widow remarriage is recognised as a social evil. The people outside will think that that evil is so widespread in Travancore as to necessitate a legislation of this sort. But as a matter of fact we all know, Sir, that, in Travancore and in Malabar, there is absolutely no bar against widow remarriage, so far as the vast majority of the people in the Hindu society are concerned.

And then, Sir, there must be men to marry all these widows. (Continued laughter.) Sir, I shall explain my position. Among the Malayali Brahmins, in each family, only the eldest male member can marry from his own community so that most of the women in that community remain perpetual maidens. So, when there are not enough men to marry even these maidens, certainly it will not be possible to get men to marry these widows. (Laughter.)

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Is it the duty of this House to find husbands for widows?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Am I to answer it, Sir?

PRESIDENT: If he chooses, he can answer any question.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): My humble opinion is that that question is not relevant to my present point; therefore I refrain from answering it.

Sir, Let me quote some figures from the report of the Travancore Census of 1931. Out of 6,17,939 persons in the State between 10 and 15 years of age, there are only, 585 widowed persons, widows and widowers together.

PRESIDENT: The honourable member will realise that it is the Hindu Widows' Remarriage Bill that is now before the House, and not any Bill about the widowers.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I will come to that, Sir.

Out of 6,17,939 persons in the State, belonging to all communities and races and religion, there are only 585 widowed persons. Out of this seventy six are males and 509 are females. This number includes all widows and widowers in the State, irrespective of caste and religion whereas the number of Hindu widows in this would be comparatively, very few.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Jg. Director of Public Instruction): If the figures given by the honourable member is correct I should like to know how he can assert that widow marriages are taking place daily.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): This number, 585, is out of a total population of 6 lakhs. It is a matter of inference. Otherwise the number of widows would have mounted up in their numerical strength in the Census Report.

With regard to persons between 15 and 20, the total population is 8 lakhs. Out of this, the number of widowed persons is 6212, consisting of 1123 males and 5089 females. So, Sir, the figures and the existing custom among the major Hindu community in the State do not warrant the bringing in of a Bill of this kind.

Not only that; this Bill is an insult to the enlightenment of the major Hindu community of the State. This will not serve any purpose to them. For we know that widowers number only about 1123 between the ages of 15 and 20. Why do they remain widowers? Not that they were not able to get wives. Wives they can get at any time. The trouble is not in the scarcity of women or in the difficulty of getting proper and suitable wives. The trouble and difficulty lies elsewhere. Due to various reasons, chiefly economic, they were not able to marry again. Because marriage begets not only children but exacting burden and responsibility. The ordinary man is incapable of shouldering this heavy burden and hence the reluctance to marry and the presence of maidens and widows. Such being the case what good would come out of passing such a legislation as this? We could not compel all the males to get themselves married. If this Bill had been passed in Germany today I can understand it.

MR. N. ABDUR RAHMAN SAHIB (Nominated): Is not this legislation permissive?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Yes, it is so. This would be simply adding one more law to our Statute Book. It may not serve any useful purpose. Even though I agree with the principle of abolishing the most sinful custom of preventing widows from re-marrying, since this Bill is not warranted by the conditions in Travancore, I oppose it.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, I rise to support the principle of the Bill. My honourable friend, Mr. S. J. Nair, quoted figures from the census report of 1931 and said that there is only a small number of widows and that widow remarriage is allowed among the major Hindu Communities in the State and that therefore there is no necessity for such a legislation here and that it is derogatory to the good name of the State to introduce this Bill. He also pointed out that even if remarriage of widows is allowed there may not be sufficient number of men to marry widows.

Sir, when I heard Mr. S. J. Nair, I thought he was blowing hot and cold in the same breath. For he applauded the fact that there is no restriction on widow remarriage generally, and that widows are being "married every day" in the Nedumangad and Chirayinkil taluks. If that be the case I cannot understand why he is arguing against the small number of widows getting the freedom to marry. From the very testimony given by Mr. Nair, it will be clear that the small number of widows might get their husbands if a law like this is passed removing the ban. He need not be anxious about that.

The question is an important one. The question is, 'are you going to keep up an infringement on the freedom of marriage of any set of people who are competent to marry?' That is the question that has to be considered. If that question is considered, then nobody will seriously contest the reasonableness of the proposition that everybody should have the liberty to contract a marriage if he or she so desires. Mr. Nair quoted certain figures and from these figures one thing was very clear. The number of widowers was very small. Why is it? It is because most of the men had the freedom to marry again even though they became widowers. What is asked for in this Bill is only to give the same liberty and freedom to women as well. I do not think, Mr. Nair who boasts on the liberty of widow marriage with regard to the major communities will, on principle, object to the giving of freedom to a small set of people? The removal of a restriction becomes justifiable not because of the number of people that have to be satisfied but because of the intrinsic merit of giving freedom to everyone. Is it a proper thing? That is the only question to ask. Sir, we are not at present concerned with the availability of husbands for widows. The Bill does not ask for precipitating the marriage of widows; it only asks for removing the ban on the marriage of widows. Why cannot you do that? Let them compete in the marriage market with other women. I do not think Mr. Nair will seriously object to that. I was not able to find any substantial reason brought forward against the principle of this Bill.

The Statement of Objects and Reasons shows that the Bill follows very closely the British Indian Act XV of 1856. The only improvement is with regard to Clause 5 which is a reasonable one and in accordance with the rulings of our High Court. The various clauses can be considered in the Select Committee and necessary changes can be adopted if a case is made out for any change.

The only question for consideration is, whatever be the number of those persons, whether the ban on them for remarriage should be removed or not. I do not think any civilised person will come forward to oppose this beneficent measure, the principle of which has been applauded by every civilised human being and every reformer in India. I hope this House will unanimously accept the principles of this Bill.

MR. P. CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI (Commerce and Industry, South):

Sir, I wish to—

PRESIDENT: Will the honourable member kindly speak up?

MR. P. CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI (Commerce and Industry, South): As one belonging to a community to which this ban applies, I may be permitted to point out that there are two classes of Vellalas in this State known as the Makkathayee Vellalas and the Marumakkathayee Vellalas. In order to remove any misapprehension which might prevail among anybody, I may be permitted to say that the honourable lady who brought this Bill belongs to a community where there is no ban on the marriage of widows. As a matter of fact widow marriage was in existence among Nanjinad Vellalas even before the Vellala Regulation came into force. It is for the benefit of the people of the small minority community to which I belong that this Bill has been introduced. I do not think that anybody in an enlightend country like Travancore will oppose this Bill.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum - Rural): I wish to put a question to the member. According to the existing law the widow will be entitled only to the possession of property as a limited owner. Does the member want her to possess only that right?

MR. P. CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI (Commerce and Industry, South): I will go further and say that she must be given the fullest right.

MR. A. EASWARA PILLAI (Kalkulam II): Sir, I support the principle of the Bill. I welcome this piece of social legislation and thank the honourable lady member for introducing this Bill in Travancore though late. As pointed out by Mr. Chidambaram Pillai there are very many communities among whom this ban exists in Travancore. I belong to one of those communities wherein early marriage is compulsory and widow remarriage is not prevalent. Social reformers find it extremely difficult since there is no legal sanction for the remarriage of widows. Being a permissive measure I don't think that there will be any opposition to this bill to remove legal obstacles and the legitimising of the issues born after remarriage.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Sir, I rise to support the principles of this Bill. The only member who opposed the Bill, I mean Mr. S. Nair, has not pointed out any valid objection to the introduction of such a valuable measure. The question was raised by a member whether there is any demand from the Brahmin community for such a Bill. Sir, to me it seems that if there is any community which needs the benefits of such a bill it is the Brahmin community more than any other; for it is in that community that pre-puberty marriage are made compulsory. We find in the community widows of the ages of 12, 13 and 15. Is it not cruel to compel such innocent children, as I would call them, to refrain from marriage in the real sense of the word and spend all their lives in the monotony of unmarried or widowed solitude.

My friend, Mr. S. J. Nair, feared that this measure is intended to effect a revolution in this country. He said he would not be surprised if such a measure is passed in Germany or in Italy.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I never feared that there will be any sort of revolution. All that I said was that such a Bill is quite unnecessary for our State.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): I fear that my friend seems to have forgotten that this Bill is but a piece of permissive legislation. This measure will only take away the ban on the widows who remarry by removing all legal disabilities which they are at present subject to. There have been instances where parents have given their widowed daughters in marriage against unpleasant opposition. In South Travancore I know a leading member of the Chetti community who dared to give his widowed daughter in marriage to a decent and well-to-do young man in spite of public opinion. He did it in the face of social ostracism. I only want that such marriages should be legalised.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether that prominent Chetti survived that social ostracism or not?

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): He did survive it. He got support from the people among whom he lived and the younger generation of his own community, although the members of his community in general did not support him. I think that some of the clauses in the Bill needs alterations and improvements. There are a few objectionable clauses also, but I do not propose to speak on them now. The select committee can discuss the Bill in detail and come to a satisfactory conclusion in respect of those clauses. With these words, I support the general principles underlying the Bill.

Mr. CHANGANACHERY K. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Pattanamparam cum Kunnattur): I have very great pleasure in supporting the motion before the House. Mr. S. J. Nair in opposing the principle of the Bill stated that such a Bill is quite unnecessary. Mr. S. J. Nair's reason is that remarriage of widows is very common in Travancore. If that statement is true it is all the more necessary that such marriages should be legalised by a legislative enactment. It is a misnomer to call the marriages at present as marriages. They are not marriages but concubinage. These remarriages should be legalised, for otherwise the children born of such marriages will be illegitimate and no legal rights would flow from such marriages. I would therefore for the very reason on which Mr. S. J. Nair opposed the motion, support it.

Another reason pointed out in this connection was that the number of people who would be affected by this law is very small. I submit that is no reason at all for opposing a measure of the kind. The other day this Assembly passed a law for the Kshatriyas of Travancore. They number only about 700. That being the case, even though the number that will be affected is few, legislation, if necessary may be undertaken. Even if their number is few it is the bounden duty of the Legislature to pass a law which is beneficent and necessary. There is a similar law in British India and I do not see why we also should not follow the example of British India in this respect. For these reasons I heartily support the principle of the Bill.

Mr. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): Sir, I also support the principle of the Bill. The status of Hindu widows in societies and the incidence of the widows' estate in Hindu law are the main topics that confront the Hindu lawyers. Many of the enlightened Hindu lawyers and social reformers have made certain inroads into the orthodox conception of the Hindu widows' estate.

According to the old lawyers there were three ways in which a Hindu widow was to end her life or spend her after-life as the case may be. The first stage was in relation to satis, i. e., cremation of wife with the dead husband. For a very long time this cruel practice was in vogue. Later on it was made penal and completely abolished. Then the next stage of a Hindu widow is to lead the life of an ascetic. She is to spend her life in asceticism. It is that practise which prevails in the higher circles of a Hindu society. In the lower strata of the society remarriage is allowed. Some of the law writers in Hindu Law have allowed remarriage. One of the writers Narada has imposed five conditions in regard to the remarriage. If the whereabouts of a husband are not heard of for some time or if the husband is alleged to be dead or if he becomes impotent and things of the kind, even the most orthodox view of the Hindu Law is that such a female can resort to remarriage. Hindu remarriage is not against even the orthodox principles of the Hindu Law.

[Mr. R. Sivaraman Nair.]

There is the question of divesting the property of the estate of a widow when she gets herself remarried. That is one of the changes made in the Bill. In British India the rule that is prevalent is that as soon as a widow gets herself remarried she will lose all her interest in her first husband's property. She ceases to have a right of maintenance under the Hindu Law. Some of the High Courts in British India have held that the interest of the widow in an estate of the deceased husband will cease as soon as she remarries. This is the trend of decisions of the majority of the High Courts in British India. In Madras from I Madras onwards this is the trend of the decisions. It goes on the analogy that a wife is the part and parcel of the husband and so when the husband is dead, the wife that is living gets a right in the estate of the deceased husband; but soon after remarriage she ceases to be a 'part' of the deceased husband and then she loses all her rights in the estate of the deceased man. This is the course of reasoning in I Madras. But our High Court has dissented from this view. Our High Court after reviewing the British Indian cases refused to follow the I Madras case and the other British Indian cases as they are against the principles of justice and equity. The variation in this respect made by the mover of the Bill is not at variance with the rulings in our High Court, though the British Indian law is different. Nor is it against the principles of justice and equity. With these observations I support the principle of this Bill.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Sir, I am at one with all my friends who supported the principle of the Bill. It should not be forgotten that there are special attractions so far as the present Bill is concerned. The Widow Re-marriage Act of 1856 has been in operation in British India for the last 80 years. The mover of the Bill herself stated that in spite of the Bill the percentage of widows obtaining in British India is more than the percentage of widows obtaining in this country. Why is it that the Widows Re-marriage Act of 1856 has not been able to check the growth in the number of the widows in British India? Why is it that the orthodox Hindus have not taken to the privileges conferred by this course of legislation that was enacted so early as 1856? It must be because that legislation contained some inherent defects. Of course in the first place it gives liberty to the individual to enter into marital alliance. But it does not deprive the evil effects that follow from such a union. The property that is vested in the widow after her husband's death is automatically taken away the moment she gets herself remarried. As Mr. Changanachery Parameswaran Pillai pointed out if such marriages are not legalised they will be called concubinage. The mover concedes that even in spite of the existence of the Act the widow's position has not improved to any appreciable extent. We are of course ahead of the times. We are liberal-minded in the matter of conferring privileges and liberties on individuals. We are ready to remove the disabilities wherever they exist.

But I am afraid the mover of the Bill has not kept in view certain principles which the Bill would come into conflict with. I would like to point out one or two instances of that. In the matter of giving individual liberty in marriage to widows no civilized person will raise any reasonable objection. Clause 1 is unobjectionable. I have to say a word about Clause 4.

Clause 4 reads thus :

"A widow who has not completed her sixteenth year and whose previous marriage has not been consummated shall not re-marry without the consent of her guardian, vis., her father, her mother, or her next male relative.

The consent of the guardian shall be presumed until the contrary is proved.

In the case of a widow who has completed her 16th year, or whose previous marriage has been consummated, her own consent shall be sufficient to constitute her remarriage lawful and valid."

I submit that this Clause makes a large innovation in the law of guardianship because the mover says that when a widow who has not completed her sixteenth year marries even without the consent of the guardian the presumption is that the marriage is with the consent. That, I submit, cannot be permitted. Any presumption accorded by law shall be when we deal with the case of girls of mature age.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): If the marriage takes place, is it not accepted as a fact accomplished?

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Yes, in the case of persons who are legally able to contract a marriage. If it is made applicable in the case of a widow who has completed her 16th year, then I can understand that. Ordinarily when does a girl attain puberty? I find from the Census Commissioner's report and from books dealing with sexual science that the ordinary age is 12. If therefore a girl who has been married much earlier than 12 and the husband dies a few months after consummation, say in her 12th year, it would appear that the mover of the Bill wants to confer liberty on the girl to contract a second marriage. Does it not go against the rights and privileges enjoyed by the guardians who are responsible for the maintenance and education of these girls. The mere fact that the parents granted permission for her to consummate the marriage appears to confer upon her the right to enter into any sort of marriage. No country has recognised the effect of consummation as a right to enter into a legal marriage contract. I submit, it will certainly inflict some of the fundamental principles recognised by this State. We find that the age of marriage under the Nayar Regulation, the Ezhava Regulation, the Vellala Regulation and the Christian Succession Regulation is fixed at 16. The consummation has never been treated as conferring a right upon a girl to enter into any matrimonial alliance.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Then with whose consent should such a girl marry?

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): She may marry with anybody's consent. The fact of consummation should not confer upon her the right to enter into a marriage.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): According to the member who is the guardian that shall give such right? Is it her father, mother, brothers or anybody else?

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): I did not consider that question in the aspect in which the learned Law Member has considered it. In the Bill it is stated, "her father, her mother, or her next male relative." Naturally it is the father who is considered to be the legal guardian of the daughter. In the absence of the father, it is the mother, then the next male relative and so on. I am not concerned with the class entitled to guardianship. But I am concerned with the right of the girl who has been able to consummate to enter into a marriage relation. The law relating to marriage of an unmarried girl should be made applicable to the case of a marriage of a widow. The other distinction should not be made. The age of consent should be the same. Otherwise it would bring in great disaster in the family and parents will be put to great difficulties.

The next inroad the learned mover seeks to make is this. The Hindu widow is put on a parallel with the life insurance institutions. Under a life insurance scheme there is no objection in one individual insuring his life in ever so many other life insurance companies so that when death takes place the accumulated amount would devolve upon the beneficiaries. Let us read Clause 5. "No right or interest which any widow may have in her deceased husband's property by way of maintenance....." Let us stop there. Under the ordinary law even if she does not live in the family she gets maintenance. Here what happens is this. A dies leaving a young Hindu widow. She is entitled to maintenance from her late husband's property separate or ancestral. Suppose she enters into marriage relation with another man. She has got the resources of her new husband as well as the properties of the old husband. Suppose she goes on at this rate (Laughter). There is nothing disabling her from doing so. In a way it revolutionizes the Hindu Law governing Hindu families. Even though she is living with her new husband she is entitled to claim maintenance from her late husband's family. In all systems of law a wife is entitled to be maintained by the husband with whom she is living. A change like the one sought to be introduced by this Bill, I submit, is highly objectionable. When a widow is remarried I can understand that the property vested in her should not be divested. But the right for maintenance is a very different thing and should not be allowed. We should not attempt to so revolutionize the Hindu law as to make this suggestion unacceptable to the majority of the Hindus. Of course if it relates to past maintenance then there can be no dispute.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether the Nair widow is not entitled to the property of her deceased husband?

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): It is by way of inheritance that she gets a share.

Therefore this Clause might require a considerable alteration.

In regard to other Clauses there cannot be much objection. As has been stated here this Bill is introduced by a member belonging to a community not affected by the provisions relating to widow marriage and probably it may be the reason why the member has not been able to forecast the serious objections with regard to a provision like this. As I submitted, as regards Clauses 1 and 2 there cannot be any objection. If radical changes are not made with regard to Clauses 4 to 6, I fear this Bill will meet with serious objection. With these words I support the principle of the Bill.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): I do not wish to be behind other non-official members of this House in giving my support to the principle underlying this Bill. (Hear, hear). The question, to my mind, is one which has to be examined not from the point of view of the men affected, but from the point of view of the women affected, (Hear, hear) and it appears to me that the lady member who has brought this Bill before this House must have done so, after carefully considering their views to which she has presumably better access than others. The miserable condition of some widows under existing arrangements is one that calls for sympathy and succour. That attitude of mind must have actuated her to bring a Bill like this before this House. Sir, no doubt we must expect a certain amount of opposition from certain quarters. But if the opinion of the women for whose amelioration this Bill is brought is ascertained I doubt very much whether they would oppose it.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): May I know whether the All India Women's Conference has not passed resolutions supporting this?

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): Yes, that is why I said so. Educated women throughout India are advocating this measure in no uncertain voice.

As regard the details, there is very great force in the observations made by Mr. Puthupalli Krishna Pillai that Clauses 4 and 5 will have to be very carefully considered at the Select Committee stage. Of course, I can speak a great deal in support of the principle from many whereabouts, but it is not necessary as there is practically no opposition. With these words I strongly support the principle of the Bill.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): Sir, I am in favour of this piece of legislation for the benefit of men as well as of women. Mr. S. Paramesvara Aiyar asked us to look at this question from a woman's point of view. But man's cause is woman's also. I am glad to find that there is little or nothing in the way of opposition for a legislation of this character. If we had been living before Ram Mohan Roys' time and that of others of his school some opposition might have been natural. So far as I have been able to see there is a great necessity for a Bill like this. I wanted to speak Sir, a little earlier, but I was waiting to see what the trend of opinion is, not because I was unwilling to express my own views but because I thought by listening to others I could get a clearer view of the issue before the House. Two points were suggested by Mr. Puthupalli Krishna Pillai and I agree with him.

[Sadasya Tilaka T. K. Velu Pillai.]

The question of consummation, when it is raised to the pedestal of an issue in a court of law, will have very grave consequences. I wish that may be let alone. And with regard to the proofs required, that will necessitate examinations of a very inconvenient character. The second point is with regard to the estate of the widow. That is an even more important aspect. A man leaves his property to his wife and children. He does so impelled by the urge of love as well as by the urge of a sacred duty. A man leaves his name to his family to be continued as long as that family exists in this world. According to the Hindu Law the duty of a wife to a husband is not entirely devoid of a religious or social character. It is not merely a legal status. So that, though we are living in times when "śradha" is looked down upon, still, we find that was the basis according to which devolution of property was regulated in India. If A succeeds to the property of B there is some assurance that certain ceremonies and religious duties imposed by the Law and Custom should be complied with by A. Suppose a husband dies leaving his properties by will to his wife. The House ought to consider the question whether the deceased entertained the idea that his wife would take another husband and help that husband with the money that he has left her.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know how we can ascertain these expectations?

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): That is a very easy question to answer. Ordinarily a person who belongs to a decent society can be subject to only certain conceptions which the society holds except in cases of certain ill-educated and indecent individuals. If for the reason B lives with A and if in deference to love and other marital relationships the property goes to her she might be permitted to carry out those acts. All that I mean in this connection, is that the question needs examination. With these observations on these two points I support the principle of the Bill.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): Sir, I am in perfect agreement with the principle of the Bill. The honourable members who preceded me said that this is a very necessary piece of legislation. The arguments of the only dissentient member have been met by my predecessors. Sir, I am particularly glad to hear Mr. Paramesvara Aiyar, who is the only non-official Brahmin now present.....(No. No.)

PRESIDENT: Order. Order.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): May I know why the honourable member is particular about me?

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): Out of consideration Sir.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I remind the honourable member that there is another Brahmin non-official member, Mr. Sambasiva Aiyar.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): He is not present. Sir, to continue what I was saying, the question of a widow's life estate after her remarriage is an interesting one. Certain honourable members who preceded me hold that the provisions relating to the conditions of the life estate after the remarriage are not quite acceptable. Well, that is a matter which requires a careful consideration in all its aspects. Sir, this piece of legislation in my humble view is a boon particularly to that class of widows who have not yet attained puberty. In all communities where there is a ban against remarriages, I believe marriage takes place before the attainment of puberty. So much so, among this class of widows we find a good many who have not attained puberty. In the case of such young girls just to give them an opportunity of knowing what exactly a married life is, this Bill is really a boon. In that respect I must say that this Bill goes a long way in improving the morale of the women folk. Sir, with these observations, I heartily support the principle of the Bill.

(At this stage the President left the Hall and the Deputy President occupied the Chair.)

MR. V. RAMAKRISHNA PANICKAR (Kartikapalli I): Sir, I rise to support the principle of the Bill. There is no doubt that the provisions contained in the Bill are of a healthy nature and are calculated to improve and develop the condition of Hindu widows in the State. Though it is not conducive to any advantage of those communities which recognise remarriages it is of immense benefit to those communities which forbid remarriages by custom or religion. Of course, I may candidly confess that my community along with that of the mover of the Bill is not in any way benefited by the Bill. I am proud to state that my community has been enjoying this privilege from time immemorial. Of course so far as this Bill is concerned, there can be no serious opposition from any quarter.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know which is the honourable member's community?

MR. V. RAMAKRISHNA PANICKAR (Kartikapalli I): The same as that of the honourable member himself. Sir, if there can be any opposition at all it can only be from Brahmin and other Panji Sudras.

Sir, this is a very healthy measure and as such it will do much good to the communities which are forbidden to conduct remarriages. I know several instances in which young Hindu girls have lost their husbands. I know there are even child widows in the State. To think that these young girls will indeed be relieved of their suffering, is really joyful and it will be a great boon to them. I must say if this Bill is passed into law it will be a great asset to the statute book of Travancore. With these words I support the Bill.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The House will now adjourn and meet again at 2 o'clock.

The House adjourned at 1 P. M., and met again at 2 P. M., with the Deputy President in the Chair.

MR. K. M. KRISHNAN (Ambalapuzha I): അതും അറിയാം.

ഇപ്പോൾ വിധവാവിവാഹത്തിന് നിയമ പ്രാബല്യമില്ലാത്തതുകൊണ്ട് ബാല്യം മുതലുള്ള വിധവകളായി കഴിഞ്ഞുകൂടേണ്ടിവരുന്ന അനേകം സ്ത്രീകൾ ഉണ്ട്. എന്നുള്ള സംഗതിയും വിന്യസിക്കത്തക്കതല്ല. അതു മരിച്ചുപോയാൽ അന്താവിന് പുനശ്ചിവാഹം ചെയ്യാൻ അവകൾക്കുണ്ട്. എന്നാൽ അതു പ്രയോജനകരമായതല്ല. ഒരു കന്യകയെത്തന്നെ വേണമെന്നു വെച്ചിരിക്കുന്നതുകൊണ്ട് നാല്പത്തോ അൻപതോ വയസ്സ് പ്രായമായ ഒരു പുരുഷൻ പത്തോ പന്ത്രണ്ടോ വയസ്സുള്ള ഒരു പെൺകുട്ടിയെ വിവാഹം ചെയ്യേണ്ടിവരുന്നു. മരണം ഒഴിച്ചുകൂടാൻ പാടില്ലാത്ത ഒന്നാണല്ലോ. അൻപതോ അൻപത്തിയഞ്ചോ വയസ്സിൽ വിവാഹം ചെയ്യുന്ന പുരുഷൻ ഒരുപക്ഷെ ഉടൻതന്നെ മരിച്ചുപോയി എന്നു വരാം. അങ്ങിനെ വരുമ്പോൾ അയാളുടെ വിധവയായ പത്തോ പന്ത്രണ്ടോ വയസ്സുള്ള പെൺകുട്ടിക്കു ഇന്നത്തെ നടപ്പനുസരിച്ച വിവാഹം ചെയ്യുവാൻ നിവൃത്തിയായിട്ടില്ല. ഇങ്ങനെയുള്ള സംഗതികളുടെ പരിഹാരത്തിന് ഈ ബിൽ പര്യാപ്തമായി രീതികളാണു്.

ഇതിന്നു പുറമെ സാമ്പർഗ്ഗികപരമായ ഒരു വശം കൂടി ഈ ബില്ലിനുണ്ട്. വൈയദ്യം വന്നശേഷം സ്വാഭാവിദ്യയും കൊണ്ടു മരണം പുരുഷസംസ്കൃതിയായി കണ്ടുവെക്കുന്നതും സ്വസ്ഥമായതിന്നു മാഹിത്വം വരുത്താൻ ഇടയുണ്ട്. ഈ ബില്ലു നിയമമായാൽ അങ്ങിനെയുള്ള മാഹിത്വം കണ്ടുവെക്കുന്നതും സ്വസ്ഥമായതിന്നു നീണ്ടുനിൽക്കുന്നു. അതിനാൽ ഈ നിയമം എത്രയും വേഗത്തിൽ നടപ്പിലാക്കി വിധവാവിവാഹം അനുവദിച്ചിട്ടില്ലാത്ത സമുദായങ്ങളുടെ അവശതകളെ പരിഹരിക്കണമെന്നാണ് എന്റെ അപേക്ഷ.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Privandrum—Rural) Sir, I also support the principle of this Bill. I thought there will be no voice against it until I heard Mr. Boattatiripad who told us that the Nambootiris are against such a measure. I am not sure how far the opinion of any particular community has been ascertained in respect of this proposal. But, Sir, it may be taken generally that there may not be any serious opposition to legislation allowing widows to re-marry. If there is any considerable volume of opinion against widow re-marriage in any particular community, such as the Nambootiris, I think provision ought to be made exempting such community.

I then wish to refer to Clause 5. I think that it does not appear to be such a simple matter as it is taken up by some of my friends. It has been suggested that there is absolutely no harm in allowing a widow to enjoy all the rights of her deceased husband's property, even after her remarriage. My friend Mr. Puthupalli Krishna Pillai took the view that in the case of the right of maintenance there is some difficulty and that it should not be allowed. I want to ascertain particularly the views of such communities as are going to be affected and I was able to get the information of only one of them definitely, I mean my friend Mr. Chidambaram Pillai. He took the view that a widow may be given full right over her husband's property. We are not pushing this legislation to that extent. So far as this is concerned, the question at present is whether in the case of a widow who remarries, her limited estate should be allowed to continue to be vested in her or not.

MR. P. CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI (Commerce and Industry, South): She should continue to enjoy it.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): That is exactly my difficulty. I do not admit one way or other, Mr. Paramesvara Aiyar was not prepared to say anything. He said that the matter requires consideration.

In the case of a widow who remarries and who is in possession of a limited estate, if the property is vested in her absolutely without any reversion or right for any other, there will be no difficulty. But in the case of widow's estate that is not in her possession there is some difficulty.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): We must say whether the estate will continue or whether the rights will divert. That is the provision that we ought to make.

MR. P. CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI (Commerce and Industry, South): What difficulty is then in the widow continuing possession of the estate?

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Suppose a widow is in possession of a limited estate. She is burdened with family obligations. There might be minor daughters who should be given in marriage. She re-marries and now she is under the control of a person who probably may be one who is disinterested in the affairs of the family. The young daughter should be given in marriage. The expenditure has to be got from estates which are now in the possession of a stranger. Now what guarantee is there that the affairs of the marriage will be properly conducted. It is a practical difficulty which we should not lose sight of, even when we are looking theoretically at this question. Is it right that the responsibility of the family should be vested with one who is under the control of some stranger? Now there are difficulties of this kind.

Other difficulties also crop up. It is said that it was not advisable to allow the widow to enjoy the belongings of her husband. I do not go so far. If these women have been serving their husband's will they may enjoy his assets after his death. I do not quarrel with that. How can she be in possession of an estate when her husband is changed? The matter has to be gone into by the Select Committee. They have to take evidence.

We ought to ascertain the views of the members of the community; the leading men of the community have to be examined. We would be acting in the dark if we omit to do that. Therefore, if the Bill is referred to a Select Committee, the Committee should take evidence of the communities concerned.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II) : Does the member think that this Bill, if passed into law, will affect the Malabar Brahmin community?

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural) : As it is, I do not see why it should not.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II) : In that case, what would happen to the remarried widows of that community who, under the existing law, become members of the tarwad of the husband?

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural) : There is that difficulty also. As I said, there is that difficulty in the case of the Tamil Brahmins also; perhaps the difficulty is greater in the case of the Malayali Brahmins. If the Nambootiris, for instance, do not want this Bill to apply to them, I would even suggest that we ought to exclude them. We ought not to legislate where there is absolutely no demand, although the legislation that we have in view may be equitable and fair on abstract principles.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : A large number of members have spoken in support of the Bill. I wish to give a chance to those who desire to oppose it.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I) : As a member of the Christian Community, may I speak on this Bill, Sir?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : Mr. Varughese has the right.

Whether particular members oppose or support the principle of the Bill is a matter in which I am indifferent. I merely want to give an opportunity to members who want to oppose the principle of the Bill.

Mr. Varughese may now speak.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I) : As a member of the Christian community, I have great pleasure in supporting the principle of the Bill. We can more or less imagine the position of a young widow who is not permitted to remarry although she may have the desire. I am not in a position to trace the origin of the custom prohibiting the remarriage of widows. It may be very remote. The present custom may have the sanction of ages. Still, according to the opinion now current throughout the world, at any rate throughout India, one can gauge that there is a strong conjoint opinion on the part of the educated section of the affected community towards the total removal of this prohibition of widow remarriage. As such, I have great pleasure in welcoming this Bill.

As suggested by Mr. Thanu Pillai, Clause 5 of the Bill requires a thorough examination. I am sure, that Clause will provoke severe criticism. As a member of the Christian community, I am against that provision. The moment a widow remarries, she ceases to have any connection whatever with the family of her deceased husband. As such it is nothing but right to divest her of all interest in her former husband's family the moment she remarries. The provision therefore requires careful consideration. We can do justice to the Clause only after obtaining the evidence of those interested. With these observations I support the principle of the Bill.

MR. S. CHATTANATHA KARAYALAR (Shencotta): Sir, I support the principle of the Bill in so far as it seeks to remove the legal obstacle in the way of the remarriage of widows, and also seeks to legitimise the children born of such remarriages.

Sir, this Bill is supposed to be drafted on the lines of the British Indian Act, XV of 1856. Although it closely follows that Act, it has made a violent departure in one respect, namely, in the matter of the widow's right of maintenance from the deceased husband's estate and her rights over such estate. Under the British Indian Act, whatever right she might have acquired over the estate of her deceased husband she is divested of, immediately after remarriage. Sir, this provision must have been put in the British Indian Act for very good reasons. Therefore, we must think twice before we deviate from it. Sir, the provision in the present Bill, that the remarriage of a widow shall not divest her of her rights over her former husband's estate, is a very undesirable provision and may probably lead to disastrous consequences. It may even be an incentive to the commission of serious crimes, such as murder. It will encourage a tendency in the widow to accumulate wealth by unfair and unscrupulous means. It will promote a tendency in her to be unscrupulous in that matter. I leave it here to the imagination of the honourable members of this House to picture to themselves what the state of affairs would be if this provision in the Bill is passed as it is. It is sure to develop a very unwholesome tendency in the widow to the serious detriment of the society.

In this connection, it would be relevant, Sir, to refer to the British Indian Act. Under Section 7 of that Act, if the remarrying widow happens to be a minor, she has to obtain the consent of her deceased husband's father or paternal grandfather or brother before she remarries. The House will note that it is the consent of her deceased husband's relations, and not the consent of her own father or grandfather, that has to be obtained before she remarries. Sir, this provision is closely connected with the provision which lays down that, on her remarrying, she would be divested of all her rights over the estate of her former husband.

Sir, in the present Bill, it is provided that a minor widow, who seeks to remarry should obtain the consent of her own father or grandfather. This is a very significant deviation from the British Indian Act. I would suggest that, if we provide that the widow shall not be divested of her rights over her deceased husband's estate if she remarries, we should make it a condition that, if she is a minor, she should obtain the consent of the senior male member of the family of her deceased husband.

Sir, the British Indian enactment has been intended to apply to a very large section of the population in British India, whereas this Bill is going to affect only a very small section of the public here. Therefore, we shall be acting very safely if we follow the British Indian Act in every respect. That Act has been in force there for nearly 80 years.

[Mr. S. Chattanatha Karayalar.]

still the necessity has not been felt so far to amend it in any respect. It is therefore desirable that we follow it, without making any change in it.

Sir, Mr. Thanu Pillai, while speaking on the Bill referred to certain other aspects of the widow's estate, namely, that it might be subject to obligations which she could not be compelled to discharge under the provisions of this Bill. He has dealt with it at sufficient length, and I do not want to dilate upon it except to say that the provision in the Bill will lead to complications in the enforcement of the obligations.

Sir, if this Bill is referred to a Select Committee, the provision regarding the devolution of property will have to be considered very carefully. The opinion of the communities concerned will have to be ascertained. The provision should be recast, if necessary, on the lines of such opinion. With these observations, I support the principle of the Bill.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, in this measure as in all social legislation Government will take an attitude of neutrality unless in some future stage of this Bill they are called upon to intervene.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum Rural): Why not the Government make up their mind definitely even now?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I do not think that it is legitimate on the part of the non-official members to ask Government to make up their mind sooner than they can do. This is a matter in which they can act according to their own discretion.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I rise to speak more for the purpose of explaining to the House certain implications of the Bill which the House must bear in mind when they divide on this measure. The fundamental principles of the Bill, namely, the withdrawing of obstacles in the way of the marriage of widows is what is covered by the corresponding act in British India. On this point it must be remembered that the proposed legislation is to apply to those who follow the Hindu Law. Those who follow the Hindu Law, namely, the Tamil Brahmins and the Tamil non-Brahmins, form part of a larger society in South India who follow a similar law there. They have also marital intercourse with those in Travancore. If a law to carry out this principle is in operation in British India the House may very well take the view that there is no reason why a similar law should not operate on those who are here and who form but a part of the larger society residing in British India.

MR. P. CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI (Commerce and Industry, South): May I ask why for eighty years the Government of Travancore kept silent over this question?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Mr. Thanu Pillai will perhaps answer that question.

What I want to say is that when this House divides on this motion they must not forget that they are trying to provide a legislation which is similar to the one in operation in British India for the past eighty years.

Sir, the Nambootiris will perhaps have to be kept apart. It is a serious matter whether the Nambootiris should or should not be brought within the scope of this Bill. Mr. Bhattathiripad told us that some attempt is being made in British India to apply this law to the Nambootiris. It is perhaps a moot point whether they are governed by Hindu Law as modified by the Marumakathayam system or by the Marumakathayam law as modified by the Hindu system. Anyhow I think I will be quite right in saying that they do not form part of the large Brahmin community which occupies Travancore and the adjoining British Districts. Further, recently we enacted a law for Nambootiris covering their social rights and we did not think of including this provision in that law. A view may perhaps be taken that to provide them with this law would in any event be a premature step. However, the question of the applicability of this Bill to the Nambootiris is an important point and the committee must consider it carefully. Now I come to the provisions in Clauses 4 and 5 of the Bill. The precise provisions of these Clauses need not weigh with the House very much in accepting or rejecting the fundamental principle of the Bill. Ordinarily when a Hindu woman is married she goes into the guardianship of her husband. If she marries after the death of her husband she will go into the guardianship of her next husband. If we postulate that a widow shall not remarry without the consent of her guardian she must necessarily marry with the consent of her husband's relations. Perhaps that condition will never be fulfilled. I think that, that was perhaps in the mind of Srimati Narayani Amma when she framed Clause 4. Even though a married woman is under the legal guardianship of her husband, she is under the natural guardianship of her father and mother until the consummation of the marriage. Therefore, perhaps, Srimati Narayani Amma has provided for the consent of the father and mother. Marriage should be perfectly valid even though the legal guardian has not consented to it, that, I think, is the idea underlying that Clause.

In Clause 5 certain changes are proposed which certainly jar with the notions of Hindu Law. Students of Hindu Law cannot conceive that those who go out of the deceased husband's family can still retain any right in that family, particularly the right to be maintained out of that family. According to Hindu Law conception the marriage of a Hindu woman means that she merges in the family of the husband. How can she be conceived of as going into another family and yet retaining rights in the first husband's family? That certainly is an anomaly having regard to Hindu Law conceptions. But this Bill is proposed with a view to social justice. If the principle of a widow marrying again is accepted, then, a view may be taken that it will be in consonance with justice that whatever right she has in her first husband's family will go with her. A different view also may be taken. I may perhaps make a sporting remark, in reply to Mr. S. J. Nair's remark: why not she take with her this right to maintenance from the first husband's family so that she may readily find a new husband who need only go and live with her. (Laughter.) I quite grant that some of the principles underlying the Bill are revolutionary. But the most revolutionary conception is the conception of a Hindu widow marrying again. If you can reconcile yourselves with that, there is nothing else which it is difficult to reconcile with. There is nothing in this Bill which is more revolutionary than the idea of a widow marrying again. The removal of legal obstacles to a second marriage will, I am sure be acceptable to the House generally. But the inclusion of Nambootiris within the purview of the Bill will of course require considerable thought. I am sure that a Select Committee will look into all aspects very carefully.

SRIMATI T. NARAYANI AMMA (Nominated): I am glad to find that the principle of the Bill is supported by almost all the honourable members. Sir, it was after consulting various members, both men and women of various communities who will be affected by this Bill, if it is passed into law, that I made myself bold to introduce this measure. Sir, there was not even a single word of opposition. All that they wanted, was to make this a permissive measure. As the Law Member said we are now concerned mainly with the principles of the Bill and if that is accepted, whatever defects that may be found in Clauses 4, 5, or 6 can be rectified during the committee stage. I therefore, again request the House to support the principle of the Bill.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The question is that the general principle of the Bill be affirmed.

The general principle of the Bill was affirmed.

The Secretary to the Sri Mulam Assembly then read the title of the Bill:—"The Travancore Hindu Widows' Remarriage Bill."

SRIMATI T. NARAYANI AMMA (Nominated): Sir, I beg to move that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the following members:—

Messrs: T. K. Velu Pillai.
Rao Sahib Mahakavi S. Paramesvara Iyer.
Miss. Hepzibah Gnanasikamoney.
P. Chidambaram Pillai.

K. Padmanabhan.
K. Kunjukrishna Pillai.
K. R. Elepkath.
A. Easwara Pillai (Kalkulam II).
N. E. Varughese.
T. T. Kesavan Sastri.
P. C. Narayana Bhattatiripad.
T. P. Velayudhan Pillai.
M. Sivatanu Pillai.
S. Chattanatha Karayalar.
Kayalam Parameswaran Pillai,
T. Narayani Amma.

MISS. HEPIZBAH GNANASIKAMONI (Nominated): I second it.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The Committee will report within four months.

THE TRAVANCORE KAMMALA BILL.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Sir, I beg to move that the Travancore Kammla Bill be taken up for consideration. Copies of the Bill have been circulated to the members long ago. The details of the Bill have been dealt with in the statement of Objects and Reasons.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): I second it.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): I will now proceed to make a few observations on the details of the Bill.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Chirion I): Before we proceed, Sir, I wish to make one observation. Certain papers and memorandum and copies of certain speeches have been put on our tables by somebody, by whom we do not know. I wish to know whether it was done by Government or whether any authorised agency has put these bunch of papers. I may also say that these contain highly defamatory statements concerning the member who introduces this Bill and makes vile and unscrupulous allegations against him. I wish to know whether it is right that such things containing unauthorised publications be circulated here.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai has raised a point of considerable importance and I asked the Secretary of the Assembly on the matter. He tells me that the Government have not placed those papers on the table. With regard to the circulation of papers in this House I hope it will be understood and also acted upon that unless some responsible person acts in a responsible manner, such circulation must not be allowed. For, it will lead to complications of a serious character. The principle itself is wrong. This House is not a kind of no man's land where anybody can do anything he likes. I trust that sufficient care will be taken to prevent irresponsible circulation of papers in this House.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): The Kammalas in Travancore are divided into two sections, the Pandi Kammalas and the Malayala Kammalas. This is seen from the Census Report, Page 373. The Malayala Kammalas are divided into 10 sections, consisting of denominations detailed on page 152 of the Census Report Vol. II. The Bill is intended for these classes of people. The Malayala Kammalas number over 1,96,000 and the Tamil Kammalas about 13,000. The desire of the community for a Bill of the kind was felt for a very long time. In the year 1103 when Mr. K. Neelakantan Achari a well-known Sanskrit scholar, author and foremost member of the community became the member of the Sri Mulam Popular Assembly, he brought forward a Bill of this kind and asked the permission of Government to introduce his Bill to regulate marriage, succession &c. of the Kammalas. Then the Dewan-President ordered that the community should organise itself and bring forward a Bill and that Government would do the needful. Unfortunately since no member of the community had the opportunity of acting according to the instructions of the Dewan and bring forward a Bill, being the first member of the Community nominated to this Assembly I took up this question. After consulting the leading members of the community and after having made several researches in the matter I drafted a Bill of the kind, and asked for the permission of Government to introduce this Bill. This Bill was submitted some two years ago. Considerable opposition was made in regard to this Bill. The Government referred the matter to the Division Peishkars. They enquired into the matter and have submitted a report to say that such a Bill is very necessary.

Though the Kammalas are makthuyees and are supposed to be governed by the Mithakshara law in regard to their marriage and inheritance, their law of inheritance has been so changed by custom that they do not practically follow the Mithakshara law. For instance to establish the validity of marriage, the custom called Kudisaiyippu (കുടൈപ്പു) has to be proved. In the absence of such proof, no children of the married woman can inherit the self acquired or ancestral property of their father.

In my own family a dispute arose, as to succession, which went on for 14 years. My father claimed through the female line and the opposite party through the male line. My father unfortunately happened to be in the wrong. (Laughter).

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: While recognising the justice with which the mover of the Bill has referred to his father I may say that the details of the transactions in the mover's family are not relevant. Of course a passing reference may be made.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): All that I intended to say was that there was and is no recognised law.

The court presumes that they should be governed by the Mithakshara law, but the custom is different. The existing custom allows divorce, widow marriage and remarriage. Unfortunately the custom is abused as there is no restriction by law. One of the objects of the Bill is to restrict divorcees. A First Class Magistrate in a maintenance suit wrote a judgment in which he remarked "The Kammalas can marry and divorce as they please".

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Have they not appealed to the High Court?

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): All these cases ended in the middle stage because the parties were too poor to take them to the High Court?

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): Was it a civil or a criminal suit?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: That question is irrelevant.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): According to strict custom a marriage between a Tamil Kammala and a Malayala Kammala or a marriage between the members of some of the subsections is not allowed. If that is done they become out castes. In Quilon there are families of such out castes.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I wish to ask you a question. Is the distinction between a Malayala Kammala and a Tamil Kammala etymological or linguistic?

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): They now differ in manners, culture, custom and language. It is said they originally descended from the same stock.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AYYAR (Nominated): Are there not families in which one member takes to the occupation of goldsmith, another silversmith, another blacksmith and still another to the occupation of masonry?

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): In olden days each section of the community readily stuck on to the profession of their fathers, but nowadays usufructure are not observed and each one pursues the profession for which there is demand.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether there are not instances in which a Malayalam speaking Kammala has become Tamil speaking Kammala and vice versa?

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): I am not aware. Some, however, pretend to be what they are not.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Torala): Are there many pretenders like that?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: That question is more humorous than substantial.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): I want to make these marriages, either between a Tamil speaking Kammala and a Malayalam speaking Kammala or between one section of the Kammalas with another section, valid.

Mr. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Are they invalid then?

Mr. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Parties to such marriages are now out caste.

Mr. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know whether in the case of a marriage between a Pandya Kammala and a Malayala Kammala which member of the two communities is excommunicated?

Mr. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Both are excommunicated.

Mr. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovola): May I know which community is bigger, whether the Pandya Kammala or the Malayala Kammala?

Mr. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): The Pandya Kammala thinks he is bigger while the Malayalam Kammala thinks he is bigger.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): Are there not cases of Malayalam speaking Kammala families having gone and settled down in Nagercoil side and become Tamil speaking Kammalas and some Tamil speaking Kammala families gone to north Travancore and become Malayalam speaking Kammalas?

Mr. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Not to my knowledge I have got 45 years' intimate knowledge of the two communities.

Recently the Madras Government in an order has stated that the Kammalas of Malabar and Tamil countries are two different communities.

Mr. K. R. ELENKATH (Kattikulam I): May I know whether it is the intention of the member to have a cleavage between the communities or a combined community?

Mr. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Now the universal idea is that all men should be of one community whether it be Brahmin, Paraya or Pulaya.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Will the member please proceed with his arguments?

Mr. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Is there Kammalas outside Travancore?

Mr. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Yes.

Mr. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): May I know whether there are Christian Kammalas?

Mr. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Yes.

Mr. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): May I know whether there are Pandya Kammalas who can speak Malayalam?

Mr. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Yes, not only Malayalam but Tamil also. Brahmins can speak Malayalam. Even Europeans can speak Malayalam.

DEPUTY DEPUTY: Those surprising answers are not necessary.

Mr. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): May I know whether the member is willing to delete the word "Malayalam"?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: That question does not arise now.

Mr. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): I said polygamy exists in the community. This makes succession difficult. For instance in an important family in Quilon which followed polygamy one of the fathers of the children died (continued Laughter) and the remaining father disowned the children.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I shall give you an opportunity to correct yourself.

Mr. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): So they could not claim the property which they were entitled to.

Mr. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinilli II): May I know the object of the member in excluding the Tamil Kammalas from the operation of the Bill?

Mr. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): That is because they want to stand aloof.

With the Kammalas generally there is no distinction between self acquired and ancestral properties. The sons can dispose of the properties as they please. But unfortunately two years ago there was a judgment to the contrary. That complicated matters. So we want a definite law as to whether there should be distinction between ancestral property or not.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know what the member meant when he said that one of the fathers died, a man having two fathers? Is it the member's opinion that he.....

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: We have travelled far away from that. Mr. Nilakantan will proceed.

Mr. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): In some places the properties go to sons and in other places they go to sons and daughters. There is no uniformity. In Mayanad and other places as soon as a man dies, sons and daughters divide their father's property ignoring the claims of all others. That is another system of dividing the properties.

Then, Sir, according to the Mithakshara Law, the widow has only a limited right on the property of her husband. In some cases as soon as a man dies she goes out empty handed. Another defect in the existing custom is that, even if a daughter is married and if she continues to live in her father's house, she is also entitled to a portion of the father's property. All these are stated to show that Kammalas are not governed by the Mithakshara law but by custom.

Now Sir, I come to that provision of the Bill where I have not included the Tamil Kammalas. Sir I have known them for the last 15 years intimately. None of them expressed a desire to come into line with the Malayala Kammalas. If they should only show a gesture or willingness to associate with us I shall be most glad. They are conservatives and they do not want to be moved away from their conservative groove. In Madras, there was a proposal that Tamil Kammalas and the Andhra Kammalas should dine together. But the Andhra Kammalas strongly protested and threatened to break away from the joint association.

Mr. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): When was that?

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Last year.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): Do the Malayala Kammalas wear any holy thread?

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Some people who are fond of reforms wear. But people like myself do not wear holy thread at all.

MR. EDAVANATT S. PADMANABHA MENON (Shertola I): Do you invest these holy threads to the members of your community.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): No.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): Is there any rule to the effect that holy thread should be worn in certain religious ceremonies in connection with architectural works in temples?

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): The sastras say that holy thread is physically and mentally sanctifying and that it should be borne only on occasions of purity as when we make images of deities. It is therefore that we wear it when we make images of deities and perform religious or domestic ceremonies.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Is it not very difficult to distinguish Malayala Kammalas who wear holy thread from Tamil Kammalas?

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): If imitation succeeds; but language will declare the difference.

Then Sir, coming to the next Section I may say that this Section will apply to Malayalam speaking Kammalas only. Why this Section is included, is made clear in the statement of Objects and Reasons. Malayalam speaking means those Kammalas whose mother tongue is Malayalam. The Malayala Kammalas have their own customs and manners. In the Sastras they follow, in the conception of art they follow, and in the artistic taste they show in making images, there is fundamental difference between a Malayala and a Tamil Kammala.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I think we have had enough about that.

This Bill is intended for the Malayala Kammalas. The Tamil Kammalas do not show any desire to have a Bill. They say that the provisions under the Mithakshara Law will be sufficient to their purpose.

Then about marriage and right of succession, we, like the Nairs and the Ezhavas, used to celebrate our marriages by giving cloth.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAW ASAN (Mavelikara): How do the other Kammalas celebrate their marriages?

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): In the same way, they have adopted the Brahminical ways of tying talis.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): May I know whether the Malayalam speaking Kammalas marry Tamil speaking Kammala girls?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Order. That part of the subject, has been dealt with in sufficient detail and considerable fulness. The only point remaining is the provisions of the Bill in relation to the principle underlying the Bill itself. The question of the difference between the Malayala and the Tamil Kammalas has been sufficiently threshed out. No doubt, there is no time limit, specially so called, with regard to speeches, yet I would insist on strict relevancy in the speeches.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): The Sections 3 to 8 provide the ways in which marriages can be performed and dissolved.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedunangad): May I know whether it is the intention of the Section in the Bill that compensation be insisted upon?

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Divorce is now cheap and I want to make it as dear as possible.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know from the member what is the maximum fixed by way of compensation?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: It is a matter of detail and is not to be considered in this stage.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Then coming to the Sections dealing with maintenance, Sections 10, 11 and 12 provide ample provisions for this. The provisions will read very drastic but they will stabilise the existing practice.

The Nair Bill and other Bills passed in recent times have done away with the rights of joint property, and they have recognised the individual rights. Chapter IV deals with succession and it makes no distinction between an ancestral or any other property. The relevant Section reads thus:—

"No person shall on any ground of disability be excluded from inheritance or from a share of the joint family property on partition".

Then Clause 18 reads:—

"No lineal descendant of any Kammala shall acquire by birth any interest in the property inherited or acquired by such Kammala".

I think, Sir, this is a provision which is absolutely necessary to prevent litigation and to find the means of developing individual resourcefulness. With these words I commend the Bill to the consideration of the House.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): May I know from the member that among Kammalas different customs prevail in different taluks of the State?

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): That is why this Bill is brought forward.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-operative): സർ, ഈ മമ്മാളാമിളിനെ സംബന്ധിച്ച സമുദായത്തിന്റെ അഭിപ്രായം മേഖലപ്പട്ടണുനത്തിനായി എന്റെ ഒരു പ്രതിനിധിയായി ഈ മമ്മാസഭയിൽ നാമിരുന്നതായതിൽ എനിക്ക് അതേ അനുകൂലമായ കൃതജ്ഞതയെ അറിയിക്കുകയും ഇവിടെ ആദ്യമായി പ്രകാശിപ്പിച്ചുകൊള്ളുന്നു.

MR. E. K. KUNJU RAMAN (Nominated): മെമ്പർ രമിഴ് കർമ്മാളന്മാരോ മലയാളകർമ്മാളന്മാരോ?

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted): ഞാൻ ഇപ്പോൾ മലയാളം സംസാരിക്കുന്ന കർമ്മാളനായി അറിയപ്പെടുന്നുവെങ്കിലും മുൻകാലങ്ങളിലുള്ള നടപടികളും എഴുത്തുകളുകളും കൊണ്ടു എന്റെ പൂർവ്വികന്മാർ തമിഴ് സംസാരിച്ചിരുന്ന കർമ്മാളരായിരുന്നു എന്നാണു കാണുന്നത്.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: നാട്ടുകാരുടെ സമ്മതംകൂടാതെ കൊണ്ടുവന്നു എന്നു പറയാം. അല്ലാതെ നാട്ടുകാരെ വരുത്തും അറിയിക്കാതെ കബളിപ്പിച്ചു ഒരു ബിൽ ഈ സഭയിൽ കൊണ്ടുവന്നു എന്നു പറയുന്നതു ശരിയല്ല.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Member of the House II): എല്ലാ അംഗങ്ങളിലുമുള്ള കർമ്മാളരുടെ അഭിപ്രായം അറിയുവാൻ ഗവണ്മെന്റിൽനിന്നും വേണ്ടനടപടി നടത്തി എന്നുള്ളവിധം മെമ്പർക്കറിയാമോ?

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted): അറിയാം. ഒരു സമുദായത്തിന്റെ സംഗതി ആ സമുദായത്തിൽപെട്ട ആളുകൾക്കേ കൂടുതലായി അറിയാവൂ എന്നുള്ളതുകൊണ്ടു ഇതിനെ സംബന്ധിച്ച സംസാരിക്കാൻ എറിക്കു കൂടുതൽ സമയം അനുവദിക്കാൻ ആദ്യമേ അപേക്ഷിച്ചു കൊള്ളുന്നു.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III) : എല്ലാകൊള്ളാമെന്നും ഈ ബില്ലിന്റെ വ്യാപ്തിയിലുൾപ്പെടുത്തുന്നതിൽ വിരോധമില്ലെന്നു ഈ ബിൽ പ്രയോജനവാദത്തെ സമ്മതിച്ചിരിക്കുന്ന സ്ഥിതിയിൽ ബില്ലിന്റെ മൂലതലത്തോടു യോജിക്കുന്നതിൽ വിരോധമുണ്ടോ?

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted) : സർ, ഞാൻ എന്റെ അഭിപ്രായം മുഴുവനും പറഞ്ഞുകൊള്ളട്ടെ. എറിക്കു പ്രധാനമായി പറയാനുള്ളത് കർമ്മാളരുടെയീടയിലുള്ള ഭാഷാഭൂതസംസ്ഥാന കാര്യമായി പരിഗണിക്കാൻ പാടില്ലെന്നാണ്. ഈ രാജ്യത്തു മലയാള ഭാഷ പ്രചാരപ്രചാരമാകുന്നതിനുമുമ്പു വേദാന്തഭാഷയായിരുന്നു ഉണ്ടായിരുന്നതെന്ന സംഗതി നമുക്കെല്ലാവർക്കും അറിയാം. അപ്പോഴപ്പോഴുള്ള ആവശ്യം പ്രമാണിച്ചു പല നാടുകളിൽനിന്നും പെരുമാക്കുന്നതോടും മഹാരാജാക്കന്മാരോടും വരുത്തപ്പെട്ടവരാണ് കർമ്മാളർ എന്നു ചർച്ച പറയുന്നുണ്ട്. ഇങ്ങനെ പല ദേശങ്ങളിൽ നിന്നും വന്ന പെരുമാക്കിയിട്ടുള്ള രണ്ടു കൽ ലക്ഷം കർമ്മാളർ ഭാരത പ്രദേശങ്ങളിൽ താമസിച്ചു അവിടെയെത്തുവാൻ ഭാഷാഭേദം കാരണമായി സ്വീകരിക്കുന്നതിന് നിർബന്ധിതരായിത്തീർന്നു എന്നുള്ള പരമാർത്ഥം ഇവിടെ പറയേണ്ടതായിട്ടുണ്ട്. ഇപ്പോൾത്തന്നെ ഭരണപരമായ വർഷത്തിനുമുമ്പു നാഗർകോവിലിൽനിന്നും മറ്റേതിരുവിതാംകൂറിൽ താമസം ഉറപ്പിച്ചു അഞ്ചാറു കർമ്മാളുകൾക്കു മേൽ മലയാളം കടന്നുവന്നതായി സ്വീകരിച്ചിട്ടുണ്ട് എന്നു പ്രത്യേകമായി കാണാവുന്നതാണ്. അതുപോലെത്തന്നെ വടക്കൻപാറൂർ നിന്നും രണ്ടു മൂന്നു കടന്നുവന്നതായി നാഗർകോവിലിൽ വന്ന സ്ഥിരതാമസം ഉറപ്പിച്ചിട്ട് മറ്റു പല പട്ടണങ്ങളുമായി; അവരുടെ ഭാഷ തമിഴായി തീർന്നിരിക്കുന്നു. ചില ഭാഗങ്ങളിൽ തമിഴ് മലയാളവും കലർന്ന സംസാരിക്കുന്ന കർമ്മാളരുണ്ട്. കർമ്മാളർ വിദ്യാഭ്യാസം ധനസ്ഥിതി ഇവയിൽ വളരെ പിന്നോക്കം തീർന്നു കൂടെ സമുദായമായതുകൊണ്ട് അവിടെയുള്ള ഭാഷ സ്വീകരിക്കുന്നതിന് അവർ നിർബന്ധിതരായിത്തീർന്നു. നാഗർകോവിലിൽനിന്നും തിരുവനന്തപുരത്തേക്കു വരുമ്പോൾ ഭാഷ മാറുന്നു. അവിടെ നിന്നു വടക്കോട്ടു വടക്കോട്ടു ചെല്ലുമ്പോൾ ഭാഷയുടെ ഊണവും പാശവും പ്രത്യേകമായിട്ടാണു കാണുന്നത്.

ഒറ്റ സമുദായമായി അറിയപ്പെടുന്നവരാണ് കർമ്മാളർ എന്നുള്ളതിന് പല ലക്ഷ്യങ്ങളുമുണ്ട്. ഇവർ വളരെ വളരെ കാലങ്ങൾക്കുമുമ്പു

മുരുട്ടു തന്നെ സാമൂഹിക സംരംഭങ്ങളിലേപ്പെട്ടു പല സമ്മേളനങ്ങളിൽ നടത്തിയിട്ടുണ്ട്. ൧൯൨൫ ഡിസംബർ ൩൧-ാംനം ഒക്കിണതിരുവിതാംകൂറിൽ (നാഗർകോവിലിൽ) കമ്മാളരുടെ ഒരു കാൺഫറൻസുകൂടി പ്രമേയങ്ങൾ പാസാക്കിയിട്ടുള്ളതു ഗവണ്മെന്റിന്മേൽ സമർപ്പിച്ചത് ൧൯൩൩ ജനുവരിയിലാണ്. ഇവിടെയുള്ള കർമ്മാളരുടെ സാമൂഹികമായ അഭിവൃദ്ധിയെ ഉദ്ദേശിച്ചുള്ള കാൺഫറൻസ് നടന്നുവരികയാണ്. കഴിഞ്ഞയാണ്ടിൽ തന്നെ ഈ ബില്ലിന്റെ ഭരണഘാട്ടിൽ വച്ചു മി. ഇ. സുബ്രഹ്മണ്യമ്പുരയിൽ ഉദ്ഘാടനം ചെയ്യപ്പെട്ട ഒരു കർമ്മാള മഹാജന കാൺഫറൻസ് നടത്തുകയുണ്ടായി. ആ കാൺഫറൻസിലെ നിരന്തരങ്ങളും ഈ ബില്ലിനെ സംബന്ധിച്ചുള്ള വിപരീതാഭിപ്രായങ്ങളും പാസ്സാക്കി ഗവണ്മെന്റിൽ സമർപ്പിച്ചിട്ടുണ്ട്. ഈ നാട്ടിലുള്ള വിശ്വകർമ്മജനങ്ങളും ഒരു പരമ്പരയിലുള്ളവരെന്നും അവർ തമ്മിൽ അതിവ്യത്യാസമില്ലെന്നും, ബില്ലിൽ അവരെ രണ്ടായി പിരിക്കുന്നതു ശരിയല്ലെന്നും കാണിച്ചു ഗവണ്മെന്റിന്മേൽ കാൺഫറൻസിന്റെ പ്രൊപ്പോസിഷൻ സംഭാവനയായിട്ടുണ്ട്.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): തിരുവനന്തപുരത്തുകൂടിയ കാൺഫറൻസുകളിന്നെ തമിഴ് കമ്മാളരുടെ ഒരു മീറ്റിംഗ് ഉണ്ടായിരുന്നതായി മെമ്പർക്കറിയാമോ?

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Opposition): ഒന്നാമതായി ഇവിടത്തെ കർമ്മാളർ ഒരു പരമ്പരയുണ്ടെന്നുള്ളതിൽ താഴെ പറയുന്ന പ്രമാണങ്ങൾ സാക്ഷ്യംവഹിക്കുന്നു. ൧൯൦൨-ലെ സെൻസ്സസ് റിപ്പോർട്ട് ൧-ാം ഭാഗം ൨൩-ാം വാഗ്ഗം ൨൭-ാം വശത്തു കാണുന്നതിങ്ങനെയാണ്—

"At Trikkariyur in Muvattupuzha Taluk where it is said Parasurama was last seen by mortal eye, the writer was interested to see Kammalas having the identical dress and jewellery of Tamil Brahmins of the Simartha Perumaliam." ഇതിൽനിന്നും ഇന്നു ചടക്കുതീരുവിതാംകൂറിലുള്ള വിശ്വകർമ്മജനരുടെ വേഷവും ഭരണവും ഇന്നത്തെപ്പോലെയാണെന്നു എന്നു കാണാം. ഇന്നും അവർ മലയാളം സംസാരിക്കുന്നവരും, മലയാളവേഷത്തിൽ കാണപ്പെടുന്നവരും ആണ്. ൧൯൩൧-ലെ സെൻസ്സസ് റിപ്പോർട്ടിൽ—

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: തമിഴ് സംസാരിക്കുന്ന കമ്മാളർ, മലയാളം സംസാരിക്കുന്ന കമ്മാളർ എന്ന വ്യത്യാസം ആ ചത്രമില്ലെന്നാണ് മി. ആശായിയുടെ അഭിപ്രായം. അതിനോടനുബന്ധിക്കുന്ന പല രേഖകളുമുണ്ടെന്നു ഈ സഭാസമക്ഷം പ്രസ്താവിച്ചു കഴിഞ്ഞു. ആ രേഖകൾ ഏതെല്ലാമാണ്, അതിൽ ഏതെല്ലാ മൂണ് വിശദം സെന്റക്കളാണ്, എ

[Deputy President.]

തെല്ലാമാണ് വിശ്വസിക്കാൻ പാടില്ലാത്തതു് എന്നുള്ള ഒരു ചർച്ച ഈ സന്ദർഭത്തിൽ ആവശ്യമില്ല. അതിനാൽ ഈ ബില്ലിലെ വ്യവസ്ഥകളെപ്പറ്റി പറയുന്നതു നന്നായിരിക്കും.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted) : സർ; തമിഴ് കർമ്മാളരും മലയാള കർമ്മാളരും ഒന്നല്ല എന്നു ബഹുമാനപ്പെട്ട മെമ്പർ പ്രസ്താവിച്ചു. അതു ശരിയല്ല; കർമ്മാളരെല്ലാം ഒന്നാണ് എന്നു ഈ ന്യായം ധരിപ്പിക്കേണ്ട ആവശ്യമുണ്ടെന്നു വിചാരിച്ചാണു് ഞാൻ ഈ ഭാരതങ്ങളെല്ലാം പറഞ്ഞതു്. അതുകൊണ്ടു് ആ സംഗതിയെപ്പറ്റി പ്രതിപാദിക്കാൻ ഈ സഭ എനിക്കു കാര്യം സമയം അനുവദിക്കണമെന്നു അപേക്ഷിക്കുന്നു.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : അധ്യക്ഷരുള്ള രേഖകൾ എന്തെല്ലാമാണെന്നുള്ള വിവരം മാത്രം പറയണം.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted) : രണ്ടാമതായി ൧൯൩൧-ലെ സെൻസസ്സു് റിപ്പോർട്ടിൽ ഉൾപ്പെടെയും ഒന്നാംഭാഗം ൩൭൩-ാംവശത്തു കാണുന്നതു് ഇങ്ങനെയാണു് :—

"Mr. M. Srinivasa Iyengar says, 'The Kammalas of Malabar and the Famil districts must have descended from the same stock of Naga-Dravidian artisans mentioned in early Tamil literature and inscriptions'."

ഇതിൽനിന്നും ഇവിടത്തെയും തമിഴുനാട്ടിലേയും കർമ്മാളരെല്ലാം തന്നെ ഒരു പരമ്പരയിൽ നിന്നുൽഭുതമായിട്ടുള്ളവരാണെന്നു തെളിയുന്നു. മൂന്നാമതായി ഇതുക്കുടനെ ടി സെൻസസ് റിപ്പോർട്ടിൽതന്നെ ഇങ്ങനെയും കാണുന്നു :—

"There is a tradition to the effect that one of the Perumals who ruled over Kerala pressed a Kammalan to marry a woman of the washerman's caste, which he refused to do. The Kammalas then went away in disgust to Ceylon and refused to return in spite of repeated entreaties; but at last some Kammalas were sent back to Kerala by the Raja king of Ceylon."

ഇതിൽനിന്നും കർമ്മാളർ പെരുമാണികൾപോലതു് അന്യഭേദങ്ങളിൽനിന്നും വന്നിട്ടുള്ളവരാണെന്നും അവർ ജാത്യരീതിമാനത്തെ നശിപ്പിക്കണവല്ലായിരുന്നു എന്നും കാണാവുന്നതാണു്.

നാലാമതായി തിരുവല്ലാക്ഷേത്രത്തിലെ സ്ഥലപുരാണത്തിൽ കാണുന്നതു് ഇങ്ങനെയാണു്. "തിരുവല്ലായിലെ ശില്പി വറ്റുക്കാർ തമിഴുനാട്ടുകളിൽ നിന്നും കുടിയേറ്റപ്പെർത്തവരാണു്. ഇപ്പോഴും അവർ തമിഴുകൾക്കു് ആചാരവും രീതിയും ഏകദേശം അനുഷ്ഠിച്ചുവരുന്നു. തമിഴർ ധരിക്കുന്ന ചുവന്നതൊ കറുത്തതൊക്കെയു നീണ്ടവസ്ത്രവും തമിഴ്

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: കുടുംബവും പറഞ്ഞാൽമതി. മുഴുവനും വായിക്കട്ടെ.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted) : വിശ്വകർമ്മജൻ ഏല്പാം ഒരു സ്വദേശിയമാണെന്നു തെളിയിക്കുന്നതിനുവേണ്ടി ഈ രേഖകളെല്ലാം എടുത്തു ചൂണ്ടിക്കാണിക്കുന്നതാണ്. അതിനാൽ കർമ്മാലയം ഇടയിൽ വ്യത്യസ്തമാണെന്നു മി. നീലകണ്ഠൻ പറഞ്ഞ അഭിപ്രായം ശരിയല്ല.

ഇനി ബില്ലിനെ സംബന്ധിച്ച ചുരുക്കപ്പറയുകയാണെങ്കിൽ...

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: അതുപോലുള്ള പ്രമാണങ്ങളെങ്കിൽ അതെന്താണെന്നു പറയാം. ദീർഘമായിട്ടു പറയരുതെന്നുള്ളു.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted) : അഞ്ചാമതായി ശ്രീപത്മനാഭസ്വാമിക്ഷേത്രത്തിലെ പള്ളിവില്ലവയ്പു മുതലായ സ്ഥാനമാനം കിട്ടിയവർക്കുതന്നെ തമിഴുകർമ്മാലയം ഇന്നത്തെ മലയാളം സംസാരിക്കുന്ന കർമ്മാലയം ആയ കുടുംബപരമ്പരക്കു കിട്ടിയിട്ടുള്ള ഒരനീട്ട്. “സ്ഥാനമാനത്തിന്നു തിരുവെഴുത്തഴിയിവകക്കു അനുവൃണവുമാത്രം ശ്രീരാമസ്വാമി മഠംകൊണ്ടു ഇടവരംസം ൨-ാംനമ്പർ വട്ടിയുക്കുവ് അധികാരത്തിൽ തലമുത്തു പുതുവീട്ടുവിളാകുംപുരയിടത്തിൽ കണ്ണാളൻ അനന്തപത്മനാഭൻ കണ്ടു്. മതിലകത്തു പള്ളിവില്ലവയ്പ് ഉൾപ്പെട്ട സ്ഥാനമാനം തന്നെയാണു നിന്റെ തക്കപ്പൻ മാതേവൻ അനന്തപത്മനാഭൻ കഴിഞ്ഞു പോയതിനാൽ അവൻ നടന്നുവന്നതിൽവണ്ണം മതിലകത്തു പള്ളിവില്ലവയ്പുപുറപ്പെട്ട സ്ഥാനമാനത്തിന്നും അതുപോലെ അട്ടക്കുളം തൊട്ടി

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Sir,—

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction): I rise to a point of order. The Chief Engineer is not in his seat.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I must take very serious notice of a point raised by a very important member of the House. If the Chief Engineer does anything as a member of the House from a place not his seat, I shall be obliged to take note of that then. It does not matter that he is not in his seat now.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): On a point of explanation, Sir.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: No explanation is necessary. I do not allow any explanation, because though the Chief Engineer was not in his seat he was not making any speech.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): I want to know whether the four chairs in the last row of the official gallery of the House form part of the House.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Mr. Thanu Pillai evidently thinks that an answer to his question is going to augment the value of the decision that may be given by the Chair.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Sir, I have very great pleasure in supporting the principle underlying this Bill. There seems to be a difference of opinion in the matter between the mover of the Bill and Mr. Velu Achari who thinks that the Bill is purposely intended to divide the community into two sections.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Let us have a calmer atmosphere.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Mr. Velu Achari in opposing the principle of the Bill said that the motive underlying this Bill was to bring a cleavage in a community which was hitherto enjoying the benefits of one community. But no such thing is mentioned in the statement of Objects and Reasons of this Bill.

Sir, Mr. Nilakantan has very well explained that there is a notable difference between the customs and manners existing in the two sections of the community, namely, the Tamil-speaking and the Malayalam-speaking sections. He has even stated that he has no objection if 'any section of the Tamil-speaking community so desires they may also be included by adding a provision to that effect.' It is therefore not his intention to bring about any cleavage in the society.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Clerk Vakil): Is the member suggesting that the Bill may be amended so as to include the Tamil-speaking Kammalas also within it?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): I think such a charge can be made.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): May I know whether it is not open to this House and the Select Committee to introduce any change in the Preamble of the Bill?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): That is what I was going to say. We have done so in connection with several other Bills. The only objection Mr. Velu Achari took was that 'this word' bring about a cleavage, but Mr. Nilakantan assured us that there was no intention to bring about a cleavage. To me, Sir, it appears that the whole difference arises out of that unfortunate word 'speaking'. It would have been better if that word was omitted and instead of 'Malayalam-speaking Kammalas' insert 'Malayala Kammalas'. Language is no sure criterion to judge the difference in determining the two sections to apply the law.

With regard to the necessity for such a Bill Mr. Velu Achari is in perfect agreement with Mr. Nilakantan. Besides, we members of other communities also feel the necessity for a Bill relating to Kammalas. Coming from the northernmost extremity of Travancore, I must say that the necessity for such a Bill is keenly felt there where there are a good number of Kammalas. In the absence of any uniform and well established custom among the Kammalas, we feel it very difficult to have any dealings with this community. They also feel the same difficulty. We cannot safely buy a property from a Kammala nor can a Kammala buy a property from us. There are no decided cases as yet, and as Mr. Nilakantan said, there is no possibility of any Kammala going to the High Court and getting a decision in the matter owing to his poverty. Almost all cases and disputes are decided by some person of the locality. There are different customs prevailing in the same part of the country. Hence there cannot be any difference of opinion about the necessity for the Bill.

The chief difference of opinion seems to be about Chapter IV of the Bill relating to intestate succession. Mr. Nilakantan has adopted a principle to which the Hindu community in general and the Christian community from ancient times have agreed. Individual partition has become an accepted principle of the Nair community. Mr. Nilakantan has accepted that principle in framing this chapter. It is quite in line with current thought. If Mr. Velu Achari is opposed to that provision the Tamil section is at perfect liberty to adopt their law and keep out of the purview of this Bill. In spite of certain defects with regard to details, which can easily be amended in the sub-committee, on the whole, the Bill is a very satisfactory measure. In the absence of any law, or uniform custom this will be a boon to the Kammalas as well as the other communities in the State. With these words I recommend the Bill to the acceptance of the House.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, I support the principle of the Bill. The Kammala community is an important community in the State. It is not possible to ignore their claims. They have contributed much towards art and architecture in the State. It has already been stated by the able mover of the Bill as well as Mr. Velu Achari that there is much difference amongst themselves,—difference in language, customs, manners, crafts, trade, occupation, marriage, dissolution, inheritance, wearing of sacred thread, adoption of the tuft of hair in front and back etc.—and it has already been admitted by Mr. Velu Achari that there is discord amidst concord. Mr. Velu Achari has been opposing not the principle of the Bill but only certain portions of it on the ground that concord amidst discord must be brought about among the Malayalam and Tamil-speaking Kammalas. That is a matter that must be looked into by the Select Committee. The mover has stated that he has no objection to include the Tamil-speaking people if they want to come in.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): May I know whether there is any difference between the Tamil-speaking Kammalas and Tamilian Kammalas?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Neelumangad): Tamilian Kammalas do not come under this Bill. The Tamilian Kammalas are in Pandya side and not in Travancore. That is my view.

With regard to the principle of the Bill, I do not quite agree with the framer that compensation should be given for divorce. No doubt compensation may be given where the party applying for divorce is the husband. There must be freedom for divorce. The need for absolute freedom for divorce for both the parties is the order of the day.

Again, the mover of the Bill says that he wants to provide equal rights for women. But he has not done so in the provisions of the Bill. I refer to Clauses 23, 24 and 30. Therein he ignores the equal rights of women with that of men in the matter of rights over properties. So I find that he has not attempted to safeguard the rights of women with regard to inheritance. With these few observations, I support the principle of the Bill.

MR. EDAVANATT S. PADMANABHAN MENDON (Sherkala I): Sir, while supporting the main principle of the Bill I wish to offer a few observations regarding the exclusion of Tamil-speaking Kammalas from the purview of the Bill. Sir, I had occasion to know the general feeling among the Kammalas of northern Travancore a few weeks ago, as I had to preside over their conference which was held at Shertala.

The public opinion among the Kammala community seems to be that there is no real distinction between the Tamil-speaking Kammalas and the Malayalam-speaking Kammalas. According to the present customs there are certain barriers regarding marriages, interdining etc. Still they firmly believe that they come from one original stock with the same culture and tradition. In these days when social coherence and solidarity accounts so much for political and social progress, the community desires that they never shall be bifurcated. That seems to be the prevailing opinion that I was able to gather from the Kammalas of North Travancore.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): May I know whether the conference in which the honourable member took part, consisted of Tamil and Malayalam-speaking Kammalas or only one section of the Kammalas?

MR. EDAVANATT S. PADMANABHAN MENDON (Sherkala I): The distinction sought to be drawn on language seems to me to be bad. The contemplated Bill itself came in for a lot of discussion. About 17 taluks were represented in that conference and that included Malayalam and Tamil Kammalas. As to the real representative nature of those organisations I cannot vouchsafe. That is why I cautiously put it that the prevailing opinion in the community seems to be that the Bill should not divide them. It is for the Select Committee to examine those matters. Whether it is a matter which will do them harm, or whether the clamour that all those communities should be included as one community based on common culture, are points that could be decided by the Select Committee.

Coming to the various provisions contained in the Bill I wish to say one word.

According to Census Report the Kammalas of the State number on the aggregate 2,08,441.

They group themselves into 11 sub-divisions.

|                |        |
|----------------|--------|
| Asari          | 99,091 |
| Chayakurup     | 249    |
| Chempukotty    | 376    |
| Kallachari     | 15,109 |
| Kannan         | 4,025  |
| Kollan         | 23,724 |
| Pandi Kammalan | 13,381 |
| Chilpachari    | 1,372  |
| Thatchan       | 4,303  |
| Thattan        | 30,355 |
| Vellkurup      | 2,078  |

It is seen from these figures that nearly half of this community lives in Central and North Travancore.

My friend Mr. Nilakantan proposes to make a law affecting all these sections except the Pandi Kammalas. The first chapter in the Bill deals with the definition. This Bill shall apply to all Malayalam-speaking Kammalas domiciled in Travancore and to such Kammalas whether so domiciled or not, as have, or shall have marital relations with Malayalam-speaking Kammalas, so much so, the Tamil-speaking Kammalas are excluded from the purview of this Bill. That is the real difficulty. When once the sponsor of the Bill wants to make a law relating to marriage, succession and adoption in the Kammalas, it should be a general law applicable to all the Kammalas. In these days of social justice the legal rights of the Tamil-speaking Kammalas who come into intimate touch with the Malayalam-speaking Kammalas should certainly be considered. How the Tamil-speaking Kammala section can be excluded is a matter of serious concern. There is also another aspect. Even the Select Committee, I think, cannot change the Preamble of the Bill so as to include the Tamil-speaking Kammalas because my own fear is that special sanction of the Government will have to be obtained.

Relating to the provision for marriage and its dissolution it is more or less based on the existing law where talikettu is made as the main outward sign affecting marital relations. Marriage itself is sought to be dissolved by death, mutual consent and dissolution. Those are three modes of dissolution quite acceptable and in vogue.

As Mr. S. J. Nair pointed out, regarding the compensation clause the amount fixed seems to be prohibitive and the whole subject must be scrutinized.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir the Government will keep an open mind in this matter. I wish however to make one observation in this connection. I heard that the opposition to the Bill was based on the ground that there are two communities among Kammalas, the Malayalam speaking and the Tamil speaking Kammalas and that the effect of this Bill will be to drive a wedge between the two communities. From what I have been able to gather, that seems to be the chief reason on which the Bill is opposed. It was suggested in reply that the Tamils may be added to the Bill. In view of this, I may say, that it may not be possible to do so. I must give the warning that perhaps the rules and standing orders may not allow a provision to include the Tamil portion later on. It is neither for the House nor for me to say that the Tamil speaking community could be included by an amendment. When the amendment is moved, the time would come and the Chair may rule it out. Some body may raise the point at that time and the Chair will decide it. We cannot say now what the decision will be. It is quite open to the Chair to say that the Tamil speaking Kammalas do not come and cannot be brought within this Bill. The Preamble of the Bill, it must be noted, says "whereas it is expedient to define and amend the law relating to marriage, succession and adoption of the Malayalam speaking Kammalas." Again, in the operation clause it says that it shall apply to all Malayalam speaking Kammalas. So then both in the Preamble and in the operation clause it is said that the Bill shall apply to Malayalam speaking Kammalas. It may be considered very necessary that the community to be affected must come within the Preamble and the operation clause. This is a social legislation, and the Tamil speaking community at large must know from the very outset that they are likely to be brought within the purview of this legislation. It is quite open for the presiding authority to take the view that in view of the Preamble and the operation clause of this Bill the Tamil speaking Kammalas cannot be brought in by an amendment. I am not dogmatizing on that point. Those who oppose the Bill on the ground that a wedge is driven between the Tamil speaking and the Malayalam speaking Kammalas should consider this aspect of the matter also. All that I need say is that they run the risk of the Tamil speaking community not being included even though the mover of the Bill may be quite agreeable. When once the Bill comes to the Assembly the mover has no control over it nor any honourable member. That should be borne in mind. I merely point out one aspect of the question without committing myself to any position.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): Sir, in regard to what the Law Member has said I would only refer to the statement of Objects and Reasons wherein the mover himself has said that if any section of the Tamil speaking community so desires, they may also be included by adding a provision to that effect. So it cannot be said that the Tamil speaking community had absolutely no notice that this legislation might be passed affecting them. In that view I hope that in case the Select Committee is inclined to consider the question of bringing the Tamil speaking Kammalas also within the purview of the Bill there may not be any serious obstacle.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Does not the member know that Mr. Velu Achari has been co-opted as a member to represent the Tamil speaking Kammala?

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): I know as much about that as my friend. Neither more nor less. What I have been able to know of him is that he is not a Tamil speaking Kammala. He is a Malayalam speaking Kammala much in the same way as I am a Malayalam speaking Nair.

In regard to the changes sought to be introduced in the Bill I wish to make one observation and that relates to Chapter 4 which deals with intestate succession. A good deal of change is sought to be made by the mover of the Bill. He wants to change the very basis of the law that now controls them. That is to say, the basis of the Mithakshara law is taken away and he seeks to introduce provisions which to my mind appear to be quite alien to the basis and structure of that system of law. In doing so I would like to examine broadly the provisions relating to intestate succession in order to see whether justice is sought to be done to men and women alike. Sir, he has been, I should submit very unjust to the Kammala woman especially, the Kammala daughter. I ask Mr. Nilakantan what sin she has committed? Why he should think of depriving her of all rights to property and rights to maintenance that she even now enjoys? Under the existing law a Kammala daughter has a right to maintenance out of the estates of the family in which she is born. Out of the estates of her father even after his death so long as she is a minor at any rate she gets a right for maintenance. By this Bill the ancestral as well as the self-acquired property of a man at the first instance descends to his sons and male children by his sons and also to the widow or widows. The daughter is totally excluded. Where is she to go? What is to be her support after the father's death? Even if she is married into another family, under the existing law by the fact of marriage she acquires certain rights in respect of the property of her husband, at any rate the ancestral property of her husband. Even that is taken away. I shall read Clause 16 of the Bill which reads as:—

"No person shall by marriage acquire any interest in the property of the person whom he or she marries nor become incapable of doing any act in respect of his or her own property which he or she could have done if unmarried".

[Mr. A. Thanu Pillai]

So the woman when she is married, does not get any property at all, if she does not get anything from her father. Why should she be made to suffer like that is not known to me. Under the existing law the daughter succeeds to the property of her father in case the father does not leave any sons or a widow. After all, the sons, widows, mother's brothers, brother's children all these come. The daughter is totally discarded. I wonder what she has committed of late to incur this punishment. So this matter has to be considered very seriously. Not only the daughter but all heirs by female side are excluded. The daughter and her issues are almost totally excluded. That is the effect of the provision. That is a matter that has to be carefully considered. I think the daughter should be installed in her due place. These are general observations with regard to the Bill. The provisions relating to intestate succession has to be very substantially modified. Even under the Mithakshara law, if the mother dies it is the daughter that succeeds. There also, the daughter is excluded as against the sons and other relations. So I think there is something which has totally clouded the vision of the mover in respect of the daughter. That mistake has to be rectified. I hope the Select Committee will examine all these provisions and make suitable amendments.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I) : I would like to make a few observations with regard to this Bill. There is a good deal of misunderstanding among the Kammalas in general about its provisions. I have been able to gather that from my own observations. Probably that might be because the mover himself has sought to introduce the Bill into this House without ascertaining the views of the Kammalas in general. However, after he gave notice of this Bill to Government naturally the Kammalas began to think about that and being convinced of the necessity of a legislation of this kind they have been able to evolve a sort of agreement in this matter. Mr. Velu Achari's observation on this Bill, I believe, will enable us to clarify the position to a considerable extent. From his speech we understand that the only complaint of the so-called oppositionists seems to be that this Bill is intended only for a particular section of the Kammalas. If the other section namely the Tamil speaking section is brought within the ambit there seems to be no real objection from any quarters. Certain provisions with regard to the dissolution of marriage and intestate succession may bring radical changes in the existing custom prevailing in the different sections. If suitable amendments could be introduced with regard to these provisions, this Bill could very well be enacted into law. That is a matter which could conveniently be entrusted to a Select Committee.

The point raised by the Law Member is a very important one. This House seems to be of the opinion that the legislation on the lines indicated in the Bill is necessary and it is also unanimous in the view that the legislation should embrace the two sections of the Kammala community. In view of the fact that there is an overwhelming opinion in the House that a legislation is necessary, the only question that has to be considered is whether the President who is going to guide the deliberations can allow suitable changes. I do not think that any President will be so stiff.....

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Comments on what the President may do are irrelevant.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkul I): That need not be a proposition to debar us from proceeding with this legislation. I would commend the general principle of this Bill to the acceptance of the House and suggest that it may be referred to a Select Committee.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: It has been pointed out by the Law Member and one or two other members that there will be difficulty in including the Tamil speaking Kammalas also, because of the nature of the Preamble of the Bill as framed by the mover. No doubt, there has been considerable opinion in this House that the Malayalam speaking and Tamil speaking Kammalas must come within its purview. The House has to be very careful that what they do is in pursuance of law and practice. If a thing is proposed in a manner not warranted by the Preamble, the Chairman of the Select Committee, whoever he be, will have to exercise his mind on the question and decide whether such changes shall be allowed to be discussed in the Select Committee. Even if a favourable ruling is given, which itself is problematical, the Bill in its subsequent stages will have to come to this House at its second reading. What the Chair will do on that occasion is equally beyond our forecast now. This must be borne in mind if the House, the mover, or anybody else is anxious to include the Tamil speaking Kammalas also within the scope of the Bill and due and proper action has to be taken. I give this warning.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Sir, I would offer a few remarks on some of the Clauses as well as the Preamble of the Bill. When Mr. Nilakantan sought permission for the introduction of this Bill I objected to permission being granted to its introduction. I was of opinion that it would be against the general sense of the Kammala community as a whole, if we bring forward a bill excluding altogether the Tamil section of the Kammalas from its operation. It is of course said among the Objects and Reasons:—

"If however, any section of the Tamil speaking community so desires they may also be included by adding a provision to that effect."

But that clearly shows that neither we, the members of this House nor the Select Committee has the power to include a provision by which we could bring them within the ambit of this legislation unless there is a demand in unambiguous terms from that section of the Kammalas whom this Bill as it is, is not intended to affect. We will not be competent therefore to insert such a provision in the Bill even if we wish so,

[Mr. K. R. Elenkath.]

Now, I am not very much concerned with the original stock from which the two sections of the community came. If we are to go into the question of the origin of races and communities, we will have to trace back to the origin of the human race, as from Adam and Eve and advocate for one law to govern all humanity as regards marriage, dissolution, inheritance, succession etc. The only question that now confronts us is whether as it is at the present day found by custom and practice, there is any fundamental difference between the two sections of the community called the Tamil Kammalas and the Malayala Kammalas and whether it is possible or not under the present circumstances to bring them under one law. The mover himself has said that there are Tamil Kammalas in Malayalam speaking areas who speak Malayalam, and Malayala Kammalas in Tamil speaking territories who speak Tamil. We know there are intermarriages between them. We know also that there are intermarriages between the Pandi Kammalas and the Travancore Kammalas. There are also, as the member himself has said, many pretenders who pass from the one section for the other.

There are again some Kammalas who as Mr. Nalakantan himself has admitted wear thread and others who do not wear thread according to their pleasure. Under these complexing circumstances and with such indefinite issues before us, we cannot for a moment think of accepting the Bill as it is. From the general trend of opinion expressed here, it is seen that this House is in favour of making the legislation applicable to both the sections of the Kammalas. If that is conceded many fundamental changes will have to be made in the various clauses of the Bill. The Tamil speaking Kammalas are very much in favour of some stringent clauses which the mover does not anticipate here. He himself has admitted that among one section viz., the Malayala Kammalas dissolution of marriage is a very easy matter. They can dissolve marriages as easily as possible and whenever they please. Among the Tamil speaking or Tamil Kammalas marriages are held to be sacred and dissolution is disallowed. We have therefore, when we are legislating with a view to bring both these sections together, to make drastic changes in the Clauses relating to dissolution of marriages.

Then, Sir, with regard to the maximum compensation to be paid in the case of dissolution of marriage I ask why should Rs. 500 in the case of the husband and Rs. 200 in the case of the wife be fixed by a provision in the Bill? Is it not for the court to fix it, after examining the circumstances of each case? According to the Bill even without looking into the grounds for the dissolution, the maximum has been fixed. I ask why such a maximum should be fixed at all? In cases where the dissolution is made unavoidable the amount may be reduced and in cases where one party is very rich and dissolution could have been avoided why not enhance the amount so that the other party who may not much wish for dissolution but may be coerced to agree to it be benefitted materially? Why should we make a restriction as regards compensation to benefit the rich man to the disadvantage of the unwilling partner who as I said may be coerced to give consent for dissolution? Then with regard to the point raised by Mr. A. Thanu Pillai, I hold that the treatment accorded to women especially the daughter is cruel and quite objectionable.

MR. A. EASWARA PILLAI (Kottarakara): But is there not stated in Clause 27 "On the death of a Kammala male leaving him surviving none of the heirs mentioned in Sections 22, 24, 25 and 26 but only his daughter or daughters and the lineal male descendants of deceased daughters they shall take the whole property left undisposed of by him at his death".

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): My point is that here the daughter comes very much below other persons who ought not to get precedence over the daughter. For example priority is given to more distant relations by Clause 26 which says "On the death of a Kammala male leaving him surviving none of the heirs mentioned in Sections 22, 24, and 25, but only his brother or brothers and the lineal male descendants of deceased brothers they shall take the whole property left undisposed of by him at his death.". Thus the daughter inherits the property only if there are neither brothers nor lineal male descendants of deceased brothers. See how inequitable it is to exclude one's own issue—I mean the daughter—and give preference to one who is not directly descended from the owner of the property—I mean the brothers' descendants—There are again other objectionable Clauses also which need to be amended. Therefore, if it is the general wish of this House to pass this legislation with such modifications as to include the whole community within the ambit of the Bill, it would be well advised to ask the mover of this Bill to bring in another piece of legislation remedying all the defects contained in this Bill.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): Sir, the service of Kammalas are indispensable to our country which mainly depend upon agriculture; and a law governing their succession and marital relationship is very desirable for the Kammala community and it is long overdue. For the last 20 or 25 years the law relating to succession and marital relations of several communities in the State were seriously taken into consideration and laws were promulgated accordingly for them. In all those Regulations, Government took upon themselves the responsibility of formulating laws relating to succession and other things. In this case I think that Government were rather tired of the matter.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Every word of what you say is irrelevant. We are now only concerned with the principle of the Bill.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): Sir, I am only developing my arguments that there are no substantial materials before the House whether the principle enunciated in the Bill is just and sufficient as to meet the needs and desires of this particular community. An official enquiry ought to have been made and Government ought to have taken upon themselves the responsibility of ascertaining the views of the leading members of this community which the Government shirk to do.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Mr. Varughese, has made himself quite relevant.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): And as such, I bring to the notice of this House that there are no official material before the House to know what the requirements of this important community are, what changes they require in the existing customs, what are their evil effects and how they affect the community as a whole. The information that we have at present is not authenticated properly. We are forced to believe what Mr. Nilakantan has informed us, and he obtained the information after consulting only certain members of the community. What I say is that there is another section of the community which is not served in any way by the provisions of this Bill. My friend Mr. Nilakantan wants, as stated in the Preamble, to confine those provisions only to Malayalam-speaking Kammalas. But I will be the last man to associate myself to a bill that will bifurcate an important community in the State. As has been pointed out by the Law Member, it seems that there are very important technical objections which would make it doubtful whether this Assembly or the Select Committee would be able to go on with the further consideration of the Bill. Unless that is assured, the work that would be done by the Select Committee will not fruitify and so I ask what is the benefit of wasting our energy in this matter.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Is it not open to the Select Committee to collect further evidence in the matter by taking evidence from competent members of the community?

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): It is open to them. But I doubt whether it is possible or feasible for the Select Committee to ascertain the views of the members of this community as a whole. They may summon a few witnesses as would be chosen by the mover or some other members of the Select Committee. But is that the way to ascertain the view of the community as a whole.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know whether the member is aware that Government have already made a preliminary enquiry in the matter?

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): They might have, but the results of that enquiry are not before us. The members of the Select Committee have now nothing to base their conclusions upon. To a question put to Mr. Nilakantan by me, he answered that different customs prevail among the community in the different taluks of the State. Has the honourable member made any attempt to reconcile those different views and opinions in formulating the provisions in the Bill. I think he has done nothing of that sort. Sir, I know that there are diametrically opposite views in the questions of inheritance and succession among these Kammalas even in a single locality. So it is highly necessary that we must have an official record, a thoroughly scrutinised record to base our conclusions upon.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know what the member means by an official enquiry?

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): An official enquiry means an enquiry conducted under Government auspices, under their control and supervision. That is, a valid enquiry, an enquiry the findings of which will have some authoritative weight.

Another point which I object to is the inclusion of Kallassaris among Kammalas. Sir, I beg to submit, that the Kallassaris are entirely different from the other Kammalas. They do not intermarry. In certain places, males may associate but the females would not. They are a totally different community basing their origins on different traces. So to include those persons also among the Kammalas is quite objectionable. Hence, under these circumstances, I am at a loss to decide either way.....

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Does the member say that Government have gone wrong to include them as Kammalas?

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): If the so-called Kallassaris, as I know them, are included as Kammalas, I am certain that Government have gone wrong. Now, Sir, I am at a loss to decide either way. I have not got sufficient materials before me to get convinced that the provisions are quite adequate to meet the desires and necessities of the community. It is not enough that Mr. Nilakantan vouchsafes their soundness; and it is not enough that my other friend, the co-opted member, to say that he is willing to agree to the principle of Bill, provided, the Tamil speaking Kammalas are also included. By reading the whole Bill and after hearing the speech of the honourable member Mr. Nilakantan, it seems that some confusion is brought in the matter. My honourable friend is inconsistent in his views. He has no definite ideas in his mind. The question whether he is right in permitting himself to allow the Tamil speaking Kammalas to come under the scope of the Bill is not definite to him.

Under these circumstances and in the face of these difficulties and technicalities it is better for my honourable friend to withdraw the Bill and substitute another in a more comprehensive manner after ascertaining the views of all those who are likely to be affected by this Bill.

I think it will be better for my friend to withdraw the Bill and substitute another bill in a more comprehensive manner, after ascertaining the views of both of these sub-divisions. Their views should be obtained officially if possible. After that, if another Bill is introduced it will serve the needs of the community. As it is, I am under a dilemma and I am not representing any opinion either to support or oppose this Bill.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): I am rather nervous to take one side or other.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I think there will be time to get over your nervousness, because the House will now adjourn and meet again at 11 o'clock tomorrow.

The House adjourned at 5-3 P. M.

NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government be pleased to state the names of undergraduate clerks who became graduates in 1108, 1109 and 1110 in the Huzur Office, the Account Office and the Land Revenue Department, their date of confirmation, the total service and the pay on 1-10-1111?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government):

| K. C. Chacko                    | ... | 1-6-1108              | 3              | 4  | 0  | Rs. 30            |
| Account Office.          |     |                       |                |    |    |                   |
| T. Narayana Aiyar               | ... | 28-5-1108             | 6              | 1  | 15 | Rs. 30            |
| C. O. Kesavan                   | ..  | 1-1-1106              | 7              | 6  | 0  | Rs. 30            |
| Land Revenue Department. |     |                       |                |    |    |                   |
| P. N. Madhavan Nair.            | ... | 10-8-1108             | 3              | 10 | 20 | Rs. 22            |
| K. K. Ramachandra Kaimal        |     | 1-7-1104              | 13             | 7  | 0  | Rs. 22            |

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): With reference to the answer given in this House that in the Huzur Office a clerk was confirmed on 1-6-1108 with a total service of 3 years and 4 months and that in the Account Office one clerk (the second name in the list) was confirmed on 1-1-1106 with a total service of 7 years and 6 months and that they get Rs. 30 each and that in the Land Revenue Department one Mr. Kaimal was confirmed long before the others were confirmed and that he gets only Rs. 22, may I know the reason for such disparity between their pay?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Sir, in the Huzur Office and in the Account Office, the scale of pay of the lowest grade of clerks is Rs. 25 to 40. These clerks were confirmed on Rs. 25 and received regular increments in the scale of Rs. 25-40. But in the Land Revenue Department the lowest scale of pay is, I believe, Rs. 20 to 25 and in the usual course the clerk there might have got only Rs. 22. I must say I have not enquired into the details.

Mr. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether the claims of these persons have been considered along with the appointment of fresh graduate clerks?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Yes, they must have been considered.

Agency for sale of Rubber goods.

213. *Mr. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvallu II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(f) what all work is done by the agents to sell the goods; and

(g) the value of goods sold by them?

Mr. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): (a) Yes.

(b) One is a Company and the other Mr. Kanji Dwarakadas, Travancore Trade Agent, Bombay.

(c) The South India Corporation, Ltd., Mattanchery, Cochin, is the name of the Company. The Directors are (1) The Hon'ble Rajah Sir Annamalai Chettiar of Chettinad Et, LL. D., Director and Chairman, Board of Directors; (2) Kumararajah M. A. Muthiah Chettiar of Chettinad (3) Mr. M. R. M. Ramanathan Chettiar; (4) Mr. S. V. N. (e) 20 per cent. commission on the list prices with territorial right for commission for all sales in the areas specified in the agreement. Cash security of Rs. 5,000 has been taken from the South India Corporation, Ltd.

(f) Canvassing of orders, advertisement work, appointment of sub-agents, etc.

(g) Goods to the value of Rs. 10,442.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Thiruvalla II): May I know whether there is any agency appointed for Travancore?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): No, Sir.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Thiruvalla II): May I know whether the price lists have been published?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): The lists have not been published.

MR. K. P. KRISHNA MENON (Parur): May I know the reasons why a price list was not published before the work was begun?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): The list is being prepared.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): May I know whether Mr. Kanj Dwaraka Das is a full-time officer?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): Yes.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): May I know whether an additional commission is given for him to attend to the work of selling the rubber products?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): According to his terms of agreement he is to receive a certain amount of commission.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): May I know whether this additional work entrusted to him will not injuriously affect his other work as the Trade Agent for Travancore?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): Sir, his work is to canvass orders for all Travancore goods.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): May I know from the Government whether there is not a rule that an officer should not enter into any work other than the work for which he is appointed?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): Yes, he has been appointed for this.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedunangad): May I know whether there is any show-room erected for exhibiting the products?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): There is a small room attached to the Rubber Factory.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedunangad): May I know whether it is located in an out of the way place and whether it is not necessary that it should be located in an important section of the town?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): Some of the articles are exhibited in the town.

MR. S. PADMANABHA MENON (Shertala I): May I know the commission that the sole agent receives?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): Whoever makes the sale of the articles the sole agent gets the commission. In a territory which is allotted to a particular agent even though the sales may be effected by other persons the sole agent is entitled to a commission.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know whether this commission is from the 20 per cent. allotted?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): Yes.

Newly sanctioned Vernacular Schools.

214. *MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

The Rubber Factory.

215. *MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether the Dewan, the Chief Secretary to Government or the Director of Industries visited the Travancore Rubber Factory since its opening; and

(b) if the answer to part (a) is in the affirmative, the dates of such visits?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): (a) Yes.

(b) The Dewan visited the Factory on 6-11-1936. The dates of the visits of the other officers have not been recorded.

Pallivasal Hydro-Electric Scheme.

216. *MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): Will the Government be pleased to state whether the work in the Tunnel Section of the Pallivasal Hydro-Electric Scheme has been completed?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): No.

MR. EDAVANATT S. PADMANABHA MENON (Shertala I): May I know from the Government whether there is anything really wrong with regard to the Power House at Pallivasal?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): A similar question was answered two days ago and I then stated that there was nothing wrong with the Power House. Two generating sets have been installed in it and if there is any the least subsidence or settlement of the foundations of the Power House, it can easily be detected by means of the micro-metre feeler gauge. After the heavy rains of October last, it was discovered that there was a slip on an adjacent hill slope 200 feet away from the site of the Power House. In order to find out whether at any time the foundations of the Power House would be affected, trial borings are now being taken and it appears hard rock has been struck about 15 to 20 feet below. Some protective works will be carried out to ensure perfect safety and that may be sufficient.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittla): Is it the member's opinion that everything is quite alright with regard to the Power House?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Certainly, so far as the information now with Government goes.

Supply of cloth to the Forest Department.

217. *MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether the Department of Industries had any contract with the Forest Department for the supply of cloth in 1911; and

(b) if the answer to part (a) is in the affirmative, whether it has been executed?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): (a) and (b) An order for the supply of 31 pieces of turban cloth for foresters and 240 pieces for guards was received by the Textile Expert and executed in the Central Technological Institute.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalur II): May I know whether the Forest Department approved all the supplies?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): They have approved all the supplies except 34 pieces of cloth.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know the reason why the 34 pieces were declined by the Forest Department?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): The yarn used in the making of these pieces was not uniformly coloured.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know whether the Industrial Department had received instructions with regard to the quality to be supplied?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): Yes.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Why then these difficulties arose?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): It was rainy season and the yarn did not get dried. Moreover they required it early. Out of the 200 and odd pieces supplied only 34 pieces were found to be defective.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know what the Department is going to do with these 34 pieces?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): They are being re-dried and given to other departments.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know whether there is any other department which can make use of this?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): They have already been supplied to another department.

The Kallara Public Market.

218. *MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the date on which the Kallara public market was established, the date on which the acquisition of land for the same was completed and the date on which it was declared as a public market;

(b) whether Kallara market is within a radius of 3 miles from the Pangode market; and

(c) whether it is a fact that the present Kallara public market is an inconvenient location, that the lessee of this market as well as that of Pangode market complains about incurred loss?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner):

(a) The Kallara public market was established on 2-1-1112. The land acquisition proceedings have not been completed. The site was declared as a public market as per notification published in the Government Gazette dated the 29th September 1936.

(b) Yes.

(c) The answer is in the negative.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know, with regard to the answer to part (b), whether there is any rule that a public market should be located only beyond a certain distance from another market?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): There is no rule.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Is it the member's opinion that there is no rule regulating the distance between two markets?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): There is no rule. But notice should be issued to the neighbouring markets to enable them to raise objections if there are any.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the location of the former Kailara market was much more convenient than the present one?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): No.

Maintenance of roads in the Nedumangad Taluk.

219. MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) what was the amount of the annual maintenance allotment of the branch roads in the Nedumangad taluk in the years 1105, 1106, 1107, 1108, 1109, 1110, and 1111 respectively;

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): With reference to the answer to part (d), may I know whether the road is useful for cart traffic and for pedestrians?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): The answer says it is.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): The answer says that it is usable. I want to know whether it is useful.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Carts and pedestrians are using it: therefore it must be useful.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Are the Government aware that it is on account of the absence of any other road that the people are compelled to make this road usable by carts and pedestrians?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): That question by the honourable member makes it clear that the road is useful.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): If the road is useful why is it that it is not being maintained properly?

Mr. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): It is maintained by the Devaswom Department, I believe.

Mr. K. M. KRISHNAN (Ambalapuzha II): May I know whether the same kind of work has to be attended to year after year?

Mr. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I believe so.

Mr. K. M. KRISHNAN (Ambalapuzha II): If so, why is it that the expenditure varies from year to year?

Mr. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): More silt might have accumulated in a certain year, and of course, it would cost more to be removed.

Mr. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittu): Has any progress been made in the construction of this canal, since 1105?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): No.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): That is a question of future action, Sir.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): Has the land necessary for the canal been acquired?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): It is rather a complicated question. I can say that the lands already taken over by the P. W. D. are included in the compensation charges. I cannot say whether the whole of the land necessary has been acquired; certainly they are not with the P. W. D. yet.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mooladhara): Is the canal useful for boat traffic?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Yes.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know why, after having expended such a large sum of money, the question is sought to be left as a complicated one, as has been answered by the Chief Engineer?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I said that the complication was regarding the acquisition of the land and the payment of compensation for such land. The question of completing the canal has been under consideration for a long time; and there are parties for and against it as the honourable member must have heard on the floor of this House.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): May I know whether Government propose to complete the canal?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): It is a question of future action.

MR. M. SIVATHANU PILLAI (Torsh): May I know whether the expenditure incurred on the canal so far is commensurate with its usefulness?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): If I am to give my personal opinion I should say no.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): May I know whether Government consider it worthwhile to complete the work?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I do not think Government consider it worthwhile at present to complete the work.

MR. K. M. KRISHNAN (Ambalapuzha II): May I know whether it is the doctor or the compounder who examines the animals?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Either the doctor or the compounder. The compounder will examine the minor cases.

MR. K. M. KRISHNAN (Ambalapuzha II): May I know whether in spite of the presence of the doctor, the compounders alone examine the animals?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): In those cases, it might be quite enough if the compounder examines them.

MR. K. M. KRISHNAN (Ambalapuzha II): May I know whether there is any rule prohibiting veterinary officers from going outside and examining cases?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): They are also expected to go outside and examine cases.

MR. K. M. KRISHNAN (Ambalapuzha II): May I know whether doctors are refusing to go outside and attend cases?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Government are not aware.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittu): Do the rules allow these doctors to attend on human cases?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): The rules do not say anything in the matter. If a human patient prefers to be treated by a veterinary doctor, I do not believe there is any law preventing such a choice.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): (a) Yes.

(b) No instance of any judicial officer having failed to satisfy the dictum has come to the notice of the Government or of the High Court.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know whether the High Court or the Government have taken any steps to find out whether there are such judicial officers as do not satisfy the dictum?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): No steps have been taken. But I do not admit that there are such judicial officers.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know whether Government are aware that any judicial officer is heavily involved in debt and is paying a large portion of his salary towards that?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA Dr. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) & (b) In the Judicial Department officers are, as a rule, retired when they attain their 55th year of age. Mr. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether the extensions were given on the recommendation of the subordinate officers ?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA Dr. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I claim notice. I have not got the details connected with all the forty-eight officers who have been granted extension of service.

Mr. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): In fixing the period of retirement at sixty, may I know whether Government consider that the ministerial officers in the Judicial Department have less work requiring mental strength than the ministerial employees in other departments ?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA Dr. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): This rule applied to the ministerial staff not only of the Judicial Department but of all departments.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the age of retirement of judicial officers has been extended from fifty-five to fifty-seven ?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA Dr. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I have already answered 'no'!

Mr. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): May I know whether extensions are given because of paucity of men ?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA Dr. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): No, Sir. There is a plethora of men.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): Then on what principle are extensions given?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): When ministerial officers are physically and mentally fit extensions are given to them.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Yes.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): May I know from the Government whether the Government are realising water-tax from that?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Probably they are.

242. *MR. K. P. KRISHNA MENON (Parur): Will the Government be pleased to state whether it is true that Mr. Helen keeps the manufacture of rubber goods an absolute secret, carrying out all the operations behind closed doors?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): No.

MR. K. P. KRISHNA MENON (Parur): May I know from Government whether the subordinates of the Rubber Factory have been able to produce rubber manufactured goods?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): The subordinates of the Rubber Factory are put in charge of different sections of work in the factory and they are interested in manufacturing rubber goods.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittia): May I know from Government whether there is any secrecy at all kept as regards the manufacture of rubber goods in the Rubber Factory?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): The subordinates in the Rubber Factory are being gradually taught the process for the manufacture of rubber.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittia): May I know whether in the agreement between Mr. Helen and the Government there is any condition to say that the secret of the manufacture should not be taught to the subordinates?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): There is no such condition.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittai): May I know whether there was any occasion when Mr. Helen took any objection to the teaching of the process of manufacture of rubber goods to the subordinates of the department?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): There was no such occasion.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittai): Do Government think it profitable to see that Travancoreans are trained under Mr. Helen in regard to the manufacture of rubber goods?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): It is a matter of opinion.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittai): May I know whether any attempt has been made by Government to see that Travancoreans are taught the manufacture of rubber goods by Mr. Helen?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): I do not understand the question.

LEGISLATIVE BUSINESS.

THE TRAVANCORE KAMMALA BILL--(contd.)

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Sir, yesterday I began with saying that I was a little nervous in taking one view or the other in the matter as I was given to understand that there were two views taken by the two sections of the community one represented by Mr. Nilakantan and the other by Mr. Velu Achari. But having solved the principle of the Bill I think both are agreed that there is a distinction and that the Kammalas in Travancore have no definite uniform law for themselves and both are agreed as to the necessity for a legislation. (At this stage the Deputy President took the Chair). The chief argument of Mr. Velu Achari is that there is no distinction between the Malayalam speaking and the Tamil speaking Kammalas. Both of them are agreed that there are small sections in the community following different customs. So, on that question both are agreed that there is real need for a legislation. I think the Bill now brought forward by the mover will meet with the grievances of the community and redress them. I hope necessary changes will be made in the Select Committee.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): I think there is a misunderstanding on the part of the honourable members of the House in respect of the scope of the Bill. I do say that I support the Bill in so far as it has got a restricted scope in that it is made applicable only to Malayalam speaking Kammalas. In this connection I wish to emphasise this point. The Bill refers to the Malayalam speaking Kammalas and it is rightly so. The mover himself says in the Statement of Objects and Reasons of the Bill that in case the Tamil speaking Kammalas who are desirous of coming under the provisions of the Bill the choice must be given to them. That itself will show that the mover is quite clear about the scope of the Bill and that he does not include them (namely the so called Tamil speaking Kammalas). My friend Mr. Velu Achari who has been co-opted for this Bill, apart from his personal reference in respect of the honourable member the mover which this House should unhesitatingly condemn, took very strong objection to the limited scope of the Bill because it does not cover the so-called Tamil speaking Kammalas as well. I do not know and I have yet to learn whether there is such a community as Tamil speaking Kammalas as opposed to Malayalam speaking Kammalas. I do not find that there is any community as the Malayalam speaking Kammala community or the Tamil speaking Kammala community; but I have heard of Malayala Kammalas and Tamil Kammalas. Not only there is among them difference in the language; but also they belong to different and distinct section, so much so each exists as one community. There are two communities of Kammalas as the Nanjanad Vellala and the Syva Vellala of the Vellala community. All the same it is the Vellala community having two sections with different customs, different laws of inheritance and different laws relating to marriage. It has been suggested by a member of this House that it is like the Malayala Brahmmins and the Tamil
